Several From Here Attend Stock Show

We can account for about 60 people from Santa Anna who attended the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth over the week-end. We do not know whether or not we got the names of all, but among those we saw while in Fort Worth were Dr. R. R. Lovelady and family, Rex Golston and family, Mrs. L. O. Garrett and party of five, J. M. Binion and about twenty of his agricultural class in the Santa Anna High School, and Calvin Campbell and party were there. One party were Wavne Durham, Floyd Blair, Everett Kirkpatrick, Scott Wallace and Jim Bob Gregg. Several others attended during the week.

Sunday was a record day at the Stock Show and exposition. The entire seating capacity for both the afternoon and evening performances were sold out long before time for them to begin. Some of the parties from here stayed over for the Monday shows.

The rodeo is thrilling and full of action this year and people who enjoy good rodeo sports with plenty of action and thrills are getting their moneys worth. The writer did not have the time of opportunity to see all the attractions, but they were said to be great.

Copass is different. You will be thrilled when you hear him since he makes the Bible a new book and God a present living reality. Let me urge you to begin praying for a mighty work of grace during these days. We invite all the people of different faiths and of no faiths to come with us during these days.

DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL AND B. T. S. CONVENTION

The Santa Anna News is in receipt of a copy of the program for the 16th District Sunday School and B. T. S. convention, in session at the Coggin Avenue Baptist church in Brownwood this week.

We would publish the entire program, but it would be out of date by the time the paper reaches the public. The convention is in session Thursday and Friday of this week.

C. P. Petty attended a district meeting of undertakers in Wichita Falls last week. The trend of the meeting was to study the code and the legal phases of the undertaking work.

W. W. Beard Celebrates 84th Birthday

Honoring his grandfather, W. W. Beard, who celebrated his 84th birthday, Mr. C. H. Jenkins entertained twenty guests Sunday with a dinner party at his home, 205 West Avenue D, Sweetwater, Texas.

Mr. Beard was born near the Red River in DeSoto Parish, La. With his parents he came to Texas when a small boy and settled in Hunt county. He later moved to Brown county where he lived until two months ago when he moved to Roscoe to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. T. W. Jenkins.

The long table arranged for the dinner was beautifully decorated with pink flowers and greenery, and held a three-tiered pink cake with green candles. Place cards in the delicate shades marked the places of each guest.

Besides the honoree, guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Absher, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jenkins and daughter, Margaret, J. H. Absher, Jr., all of Roscoe; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bettis and daughter Mary Ann, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Absher, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Caudle and daughter, Leota Jane, Mrs. C. H. ## Dr. J. W. Hunt, President of McMurry, Dies

Dr. J. W. Hunt, founder and president of McMurry College at Abilene, a splendid institution of higher learning, being a school dominated by the M. E. church South, passed away at his home in Abilene Monday evening.

The following sketches of the colorful life of Dr. Hunt were clipped from the Abilene Morning News, Tuesday morning.

Dr. James Winford Hunt, founder and president of McMurry College, died at his Sayles boulevard home here last night shortly after 8 o'clock.

His passing removes from the ranks of Southern Methodism one of its most illustrious leaders, a man who brought to his 11-year career as a college president a remarkable background, colored and enriched by experiences as cowboy, frontiers editor, circuit rider and pastor. He would have been 59 years old, next July 9.

Death of Dr. Hunt resulted from a heart involvement of several months duration, which was complicated Saturday by an apoplectic stroke. He was removed to his home early last week from a local sanitarium, where he went a few weeks ago upon advice of physicians with hope that a complete rest might improve his condition.

Follows Bishop McMurry

Twice during the first quarter of 1934, death has cast its shadow over McMurry college. Bishop W. F. McMurry, for whom the school was named and the bishop who was most influential in helping Dr. Hunt secure approval for his plans to establish the West Texas school, died on January 17, in St. Louis. It was at the school's memorial service for him, on Thursday morning, January 18, that Dr. Hunt last spoke to McMurry students. The following day he was ordered to bed.

Dr. Hunt's last sermon was delivered on the preceding Sunday, January 14, at the St. Paul Methodist church, where he twice served as pastor. The sermon was considered by many who heard him as his greatest. His subject, "The Pioneer Preacher," was built up largely from reminiscences, many drawn from his own life and experiences in West Texas—as a Quaker lad, a cowboy of the Plains, frontier newspaper editor, circuit rider and Methodist church and school builder.

Born on Reservation
One of nine children, James Winford Hunt was born July 9, 1875, on the Kaw reservation, Indian territory, where his father, Dr. William Hunt, a United States physician, had been sent to minister to the Kaw, Osage, Nezperes and Ponkaw tribes of Indians.

At the age of five years, he moved with his parents to Estacado, in what is now Crosby county, the family becoming a part of the colony of Friends—Quakers—who founded and built the town. He was reared there, and in 1893 was graduated from the Central Plains college, the Estacado school established by the Quakers and the first Plains' venture in higher education.

Printer, Editor
As a boy of 17, Dr. Hunt went to Denver to learn the printers trade. However, he was there only a short time, for it was the great panic year, 1893, and repeal of the Sherman silver act closed every mine in Colorado. He drifted back to the Plains, went to work for Roley C. Burns, foreman of the Iowa cattle company ranch in Lubbock county, and shortly afterward bought the Texan Press of Estacado. He then acquired the Leader at Lubbock, combined them and edited and published the Press-Leader. Petitioned by residents of Plainview, he moved his plant there and restored the name of the Texan Press.

Loss of his parents in 1903—his mother had long prayed for him to be a preacher—turned J. W. Hunt to his final work—the ministry. He sold his Plainview plant, and as a circuit rider covered six counties north of the Canadian river for two years. In 1906, he was licensed by the Methodist church to preach at Plainview, and succeeded Dr. Hunt, R. J. Duggins.

Mrs. Mattie Harper Is Honoree At Party

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Mattie Harper joined heart and hand in an effort to honor and entertain her on her birthday, March twelfth.

Mrs. H. W. Kingsbery was hostess on this occasion, and was graciously assisted by Mesdames Marietta Kirkpatrick, Allison Weaver, Ema Poe Ratliff, Fred Turner and Gipson.

The preparations were kept entirely secret and the affair was a complete surprise to the honoree who thoroughly enjoyed every feature of this joyous occasion.

Although Mrs. Harper has reached the 71st mile-post in life, she's as young in heart as any you may find; it is more like 71 turned around! She entered heartily into the amusement of the evening; games which pleased both young and elderly.

A refreshment of angel food cake with ice cream was served, after which the gifts were displayed upon the dining table.

The honoree seemed delighted over each surprise and expressed appreciation in her lovely manner. These gifts, prompted by loving hearts, gladdened the heart of one who has imparted joy and gladness to so many lives along life's pathway.

The occasion was one of genuine pleasure to all who attended, and we wish for the honoree many more like it.

Those present and those who sent greetings and gifts were Mesdames J. J. Kirkpatrick and daughter, Mrs. Taylor of Waltrip, Sealy, Gipson, Basil Gilmore, Norval Wylie, Marietta Kirkpatrick, Bannister, Allison Weaver, Ema Poe Ratliff, Archie Hunter, McGonagill, Ald-edge, W. R. Kelley, L. O. Garrett, Fred Turner, Chas. Oakes, Hough, Kingsbery, Misses Josie Baxter, Elsie Lee and Ruby Harper, and Gwendolyn Oakes, and Mr. Hough.

This tribute by one of Mrs. Harper's friends might express the sentiments of other friends besides the author:

To you, our cheerful friend, to you

We bring today an honor due
To one who meets each day anew
And sees in life a clearer view.
Rare gems you find, a jewel every one;

The moon, the stars, the brilliance of the sun,
The green of grass, the blue of summer skies,

The song of birds; each drop of dew a prize.

You've sought the lovely things and pure;

You had a mind to conquer and endure.

When life's unfavored winds had sought to wreck,

You proved to be an able architect;

You smiled and bravely built each day,

Upon the wrecks of yesterday.

Whichever way the wind did blow,

Your heart was brave to have it so.

Although your little craft now sails alone,

We pray a gentle breeze may wait it safely home.

For burdens eased and strength renewed,

We've seen you prove your gratitude.

Now may we, cheerful neighbor—friend,

Claim your warm friendship to the end?

HOME-MAKING II CLASS GIVES TEA

The Home-Making II class gave a tea Friday, March ninth, in the cooking laboratory. Each girl invited her mother and another guest. The motive for the occasion was St. Patrick's color scheme, green and white. The home-making girls sang several songs. The menu consisted of orangebread and pineapple spread sandwiches, peanut cookies, mints, and ice tea. The guests were Mesdames Combs, Lo Shield, L. O. Garrett, Bartlett, Woodward, Watkins, Barnes, home-making II girls, and the hostess, Mary Dellinger.

Supt. Scarborough Is Re-elected for Twelfth Year in Santa Anna Schools

At the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education, March 5, Supt. J. C. Scarborough was re-elected for his twelfth year in the Santa Anna schools. During this interim Santa Anna High School has increased its accrediting with the state department of education from 19 to 23 1-2 credits which places it in the ranks of schools of the first magnitude in Texas for towns the size of Santa Anna.

A new high school building erected during this time and modern in every respect houses a unit which in numbers has doubled in enrollment during this interim. Standards of teaching have been raised greatly, there being no teacher in high school for the past eight years without a degree, and there being only three teachers in the elementary school without degrees, and these are working toward their degrees. All members of the Santa Anna faculty for the past several years have been members of the State Teachers' Association. Methods of teaching and testing have been improved until Santa Anna yields first place, in this particular, to no other school in its class.

During the depression Santa Anna schools have moved right along as though no depression were on. Whereas many other schools closed their doors when funds were not forthcoming with which to pay the teachers, Santa Anna faculty has borne the burden of the financial depression by accepting vouchers and abiding the time until same could be paid. No more loyal and patriotic group in any profession could be found anywhere. When the 1932-33 school year closed the teachers had been paid only 3 months. They remained at their post of duty uncomplainingly. At this writing they have been paid only two months for 1933-1934 term, whereas they have taught almost eight months. Surely no one who works in this manner can be accused of placing monetary considerations first in this profession. All of this was done in view of the fact that salaries were reduced from 6 to 35 per cent.

Along with the election of Supt. Scarborough we elected Mr. J. R. Lock, High School principal; Mr. D. D. Byrne, Elementary school principal; Mrs. D. D. Byrne, Elementary teacher, and Mr. J. M. Binion, Vocational Agriculture teacher in the High School. All of these teachers have taught several years in Santa Anna, and their re-election speaks well not only for them but also for Santa Anna. It has very appropriately been said that the best single index of any community is the length of tenure of its teachers.

Supt. Scarborough and Principal Byrne have Master of Arts degrees in Education—an asset few schools the size of Santa Anna can boast. Other teachers will be elected later.

Birthday Dinner

Mrs. W. W. Cooper was honored with a surprise birthday dinner Sunday, March 11, on her 50th birthday. Special trays were served to Mrs. Cooper and her aged mother, Mrs. L. F. Cundiff of Bangs, whose eighty-third birthday is near at hand.

A beautiful birthday cake with candles occupied the center of the table. It was surrounded by all the good things that make a bountiful dinner.

Mrs. Cooper received several nice presents.

Those present for the happy occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richardson and family of Concho Peak, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Ellis of Pife, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brisson and family of Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rutherford and son of Whom, Mr. and Mrs. George Rutherford and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McMillan and wife, Mrs. Cooper of Rockwood, with several neighbors and friends. Mrs. Cooper had all of her children with her for the enjoyable day. —Contributed.

Look Out For Deadly Carbon Monoxide

We have seldom heard of a more distressing accident than the death of nine Dartmouth students and their pet dog, as they were sleeping peacefully in their fraternity club house on the college campus.

This is a form of poisoning which is becoming much too common. More than 50,000 persons were killed last year by carbon monoxide.

Many people have the idea that they can always smell the gas in time to open a door or window. And many have met their deaths because they did not realize that the poisonous carbon monoxide which is given off whenever coal or petroleum products are burned, is odorless.

Nobody can smell carbon monoxide. There is no warning but the sudden collapse and speedy death of the victim.

closed space unless there is a door or window wide open; never to enter or sleep in a room or a house unless certain that the furnace flues are properly working and the sleeping room is well ventilated.

If found soon enough after collapse, many victims can be revived by medical means, but this aid seldom comes quickly enough.

How strange that no scientist has invented an alarm clock to squirt the odor of bacon and coffee.

Now that we have a 50-cent (bargain day) dollar, can we expect prices to drift more toward "bargain day" levels?

Hon. Penrose B. Metcalfe of San Angelo, member of the Texas Legislature and candidate for the State Senate of the 25th district, was here this week to place his announcement in this paper and stated he would be back in Santa Anna some future date to make more personal campaign.

Penrose B. Metcalfe Of San Angelo Announces for Senate

SAN ANGELO, Texas, March 13.—In response to numerous petitions and many personal requests from people throughout the district, Penrose B. Metcalfe of San Angelo announced today that he would be a candidate for election to the State Senate from the 25th District which is composed of the following counties: Brown, Coleman, Coke, Comanche, Concho, Irion, Kimble, Gillespie, McCulloch, Mason, Mills, Runnels, Schleicher, Sterling and Tom Green.

Mr. Metcalfe is a ranchman and farmer, born forty years ago in Tom Green County, and has spent his entire life in this section. He is a Democrat and has always voted the party ticket straight. He is a graduate of Texas A & M College, served as a private and officer in the Army Air Service during the World War, and has been actively identified with public affairs for many years.

He is the author of the law for state-wide eradication of the cattle fever tick; the State Livestock Sanitary Code; the amendment to the Constitution authorizing counties to tax University land within their borders; joint author of the present Franchise Tax Law which has recently been upheld by the United States Supreme Court and which means an annual revenue to the state of from $1,500,000.00 to $2,000,000.00; he led the fight for five years to reimburse the farmers for their expenses by reason of pink boll-worm quarantine, this work upon the part of these farmers was a benefit to the entire cotton-growing south; one of the principal sponsors of the Children's Tubercular Hospital that is located at the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium and is the greatest of its kind in this country; secured the passage of the appropriation for the control of the bitterweed on the ranches of West Texas; joint author of the measure which is designed to prevent the transportation of stolen livestock on trucks; wrote the bill which divided the state into congressional districts, thereby securing for West Texas its just number of two new districts and saving the people of the state the cost of an election of three congressmen; large; he was one of the original movers in the House for a material reduction in government expense and assisted in the last legislature when the cost of state government was reduced over $13,000,000.00 for the biennium; he also assisted in passing through the House the measure reorganizing the entire state departmental and bureau structure, and reducing the number from 120 to 19; this would have saved millions yearly to the taxpayers; he assisted in the authorization of the greatest support for the rural schools ever made in the history of the state; he supported the measure which lowered the license fees on farm operated trucks and worked for the measure which passed the House reducing the license fees on passenger cars; he worked for measures designed to give better regulation of public utilities and during the last session helped pass the measure which gave the state and towns the right to regulate utility rates therein; he sponsored d in the House during the last legislature the "Pipe Line Bill" which was the first legislative recognition of the rights of the independent oil operator; he supported the submission of an amendment to the Constitution abolishing the fee system of payment of County officers; while personally he is a total abstainer, he has always been a Democrat politically and as such was one of the authors of the resolution which gave the people the right to vote upon legalizing the sale of beer and also voted to submit the question of repeal of the Texas prohibition amendment to a vote of the people; he is the author of the new gasoline tax law which is designed to eliminate evasions of this tax and is now working so splendidly, recent reports from the Comptroller's Department indicate that this measure will result in the state's receiving annually an additional $5,000,000.00 or more, of which $1,750,000.00 will go to the schools and a like sum for the interest and principal of county road bond indebtedness. Counties of this senatorial district alone will share in this fund for interest to the extent of over $142,000.00 annually.

Mr. Metcalfe states that he does not believe in a lengthy platform or in proposing a great number of chimerical ideas, that are impossible of fulfillment, merely for the purpose of vote-getting, but that he points with pardonable pride to his record of years of accomplishment as an indication of his future stand. He intends to work for a further reduction of governmental costs and a decrease in governmental functions. He is opposed to the levy of new and burdensome taxes but favors the better collection of taxes now levied and their reduction through proper economies. He also stands for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden. He has consistently supported the schools throughout his service in the belief that education of the youth is necessary for the proper maintenance of our government. He believes in the conservation of public funds for absolute necessities and to assist our people who are in actual need.

Dr. Hunt— (continued from page one) cessively became pastor at Dumas, Channing, Snyder and St. Paul Methodist church, Abilene.

Stamford President In 1916, Dr. Hunt went into educational work for the first time, accepting the presidency of Stamford college, then the Methodist institution of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference. In 1918, he was returned to St. Paul church here remaining as its pastor until the latter part of 1921. During his last pastorate at St. Paul, Dr. Hunt founded McMurry college. His plans were presented to the Abilene chamber of commerce, and, subsequently, Bishop McMurry was called to St. Paul for a conference of the educational board of the North West Texas conference.

Contract Signed Abilene offered 40 acres of land for a campus, $300,000 in money and free water to the grounds, and it was accepted. On April 21, 1921, the contract, between the city and the church conference, was formally signed here, and on September 19, 1923, McMurry college was opened to students. From that date Dr. Hunt's time was dedicated to building the college, each forward step there an event in his life. In 1925, the school was advanced from a junior college to a first class senior institution awarding bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees. Just this year, McMurry was admitted to membership in the American Association of Colleges and Universities.

Orator, Writer Dr. Hunt, coming from a line of poets and preachers, wrote as well as preached. He was descended from the Rev. Robert Hunt of England, an Episcopal minister who came to America with Captain John Smith. In the family line were also the famous poet, Leigh Hunt, and Helen Hunt Jackson, another American poet. While writing many poems, some of which were published, Dr. Hunt was best known as an orator. He was famous throughout this section for his humor and his majestic flow of words. He had spoken in almost every Methodist church in the Northwest Texas Methodist conference, in many New Mexico churches, and in more than a dozen states. At his death, he left many unfiled engagements to deliver his well-known sermon "Aldrich Trail," and his new sermon, "The Pioneer Preacher." Dr. Hunt was the author of "The Saga of Grandma Rogers," story of a pioneer West Texas woman, published in book form in 1922, and of "Buffalo Days," the experiences of a buffalo hunter as related by J. Wright Moor of Snyder. The latter was published serially in Hollands Magazine last year.

Named Delegate Last November, at Clarendon, Dr. Hunt was named to head the delegation of the Northwest Texas Methodist conference to the general conference of the Southern Methodist church in Dallas, this year. On three previous occasions, he had been a delegate from this conference, and since 1917 had served as editor of the conference journal. He was vice president of the department of schools and colleges of the church board of Christian education at the time of his death.

Dr. Hunt was twice honored for his service in the field of Christian education. In June, 1927, the doctor of divinity degree was conferred on him at Central college, Fayette, Mo., a Methodist school, where Bishop McMurry was then serving as president. Asbury college at Wilmore, Ky., presented him with the honorary degree of doctor of literature and law, in 1931.

Dr. Hunt's fight against illness was typical of his life. He continued to work for the college and to preach for revival meetings in all sections of the state many months, perhaps, after his condition called for rest, his weakened heart many times giving his family concern. He was aggressive in what ever he undertook, not knowing the meaning of the word "fail." At Dumas, he built a church. He erected and paid for a $25,000 structure at Snyder, and then came to St. Paul and lifted a heavy debt. He spent two years in the financial drive for McMurry's first buildings, and answered with a grin when he was called the "president of the blue-print college," a title by which he became widely known. He was an ardent supporter of the cause of prohibition, engaged actively in the campaign against repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and was a director of the Texas Allied Forces for Prohibition. He was a member of the Masonic lodge and the

Abilene Lions Club Wife, Five Children

On January 18, 1906, J. W. Hunt was married to Miss Mary Anthony, daughter of the late Dr. Samuel W. Anthony of Dumas, a student in the Methodist college at Clarendon whom he met during his rounds as a young circuit rider. The rites were observed in Dumas, in the first church Dr. Hunt ever built. Mrs. Hunt and their three sons and two daughters survive. The children are Anthony Hunt, coach at Odessa high school, Mrs. Elizabeth Webb, assistant to her husband, the Rev. Lance Webb, in educational work at the Trinity Methodist church, Dallas; Julian Hunt, sophomore in McMurry; Margaret Ruth Hunt, junior in Abilene high school, and David Hunt, six years of age.

HOW DOES IT FEEL TO BE A WINNER?

As practically all the Inter-scholastic League tryouts have been completed let us find out how it feels to be a winner.

Ruby Lee Price, winner of the Girls' Junior Declamation, in answer to the question, "How does it feel to be a winner?" replies, "I am rather glad; naturally I am proud."

William Mitchell, winner of Boys Junior Declamation answers, "I feel fine!"

Francine Merritt, winner of Girls Senior Declamation, responds that she doesn't know how she feels.

Rex's answer is suspended over a period of about eighteen hours, (he probably had to sleep over it). He says, "I feel that there are many more difficult stepping stones and the real climbing is beginning."

The two spellers, Bess Inez Shield and May Campbell, gave various replies. Bess, taken by surprise, says, "I'd like to say something cute if it's to appear in the paper," but finally decides that she is unable to express her feelings. May immediately says, "I feel as I do when a girl is given to me."

Armenta Ragsdale, a debater, says, "I don't know; you'll just have to experience winning to know now it feels."

Emma John Blake, a debater also, replies, "I feel happy and good."

Russell Hale, debater, seemed to be amazed with answers. However, he finally answered in this manner: "I can't tell—I'm not very sentimental."

Robert Hunter, debater, answered brightly, "I feel like a cheap drunk."

And Irene Rountree, essayist, says, "I don't think much about it until someone talks about it. Then I feel kinda shy and unnecessary."

League Events Are Practiced in Chapel Friday

Declamation students practiced their speeches in Chapel Friday. The grammar school participants in this event were assessed over to practice also.

Gene Adams as the junior girl declaimer from grammar school, is "A Race That Doesn't Fit In."

Senior girl is Francine Merritt, speaking "A Vision of the Past." Senior boy, Rex Golston, speaks "The Old Faith"

Cast for the "Crossroads Country Store" is Selected

The cast for the "Crossroads Country Store" was selected last week by the dramatic club. This play is a musical comedy showing what happens in the typical "general store." It has characters who act according to the nature of the country people in that community, from the negro who clips crackers from the cracker box to the giggly girl whose young man "put his arm around me five times!"

Those who have parts in this amusing play are Bob Coon, Max Price, Samuel Everett, Billy Baxter, Rex Golston, John David Harper, Holland Cheaney, Winston Hall, Gladys Creamer, Era Hill, Anita Kirkpatrick, Beth Barnes, Mary Dellinger, Francine Merritt, Marilyn Baxter, and Rhea Boardman. Also, there is a chorus of eighteen boys and girls. There are several songs and dance numbers.

Methodist Church

An open forum is a feature of the evening services. The first fifteen minutes of the services Sunday evening will be devoted to a discussion of the subject, "Shall we have a city park?" Last Sunday evening we discussed the church bell. The Young People's division, under the direction of Mrs. Tom Hays, Jr., will have charge of the services Sunday evening at 7:30. A splendid devotional program on the subject of Faith has been planned and will be conducted entirely by the young people. The message will be brought in song and story. The purpose of this service is to stimulate interest in the young people's work and to encourage its support by the young people and the adults. At the morning hour, 11 o'clock, the pastor will preach, using as a subject, "The Value of the Soul." The message will be illustrated by a story of a violin with a fifth string. AN APPEAL FOR DISCARDED CLOTHING

The management of the local CWA welfare work is very much in need of more clothing. If you have clothing you have discarded that has any value at all, please call Mrs. J. R. Gipson or bring it to town. Several families are in dire need of clothing and we feel that the clothing can be supplied if those who have discarded garments will only turn them in. This is very important.

The Speeder

(By T. A. Burke) The speeder is a chiseler of the worst type. In gambling with his own safety he endangers the lives of other users of the highway.

Somehow he fails to realize that the faster he travels the greater is the likelihood of accident. Also he fails to grasp the idea that the seriousness of potential injury is dependent largely on the speed at which he is traveling.

It doesn't take a mathematical expert to figure out that the higher the speed the worse the accident. Speeding may not be the leading cause of death and injury on our highways, but it certainly is one of the chief causes.

Just keep in mind that a car crashing into a stone wall at sixty miles an hour has the same destitute power that it would have if driven right off the top of a ten-story building. A smash like that will dig your grave and tuck you in it every time. -Liberty.

When Is A Man Old?

In Shakespeare's time a man was old at forty. Sir Walter Scott at forty-five, bemoaned the fact that he was an old man. Dr. Samuel Johnson once remarked that at thirty-five a man reached his peak and after that his course must be downward, and William James, the psychologist, said that most men are "old fogies at twenty-five."

He was right. Most men at twenty-five have accumulated prejudices that they call "principles" and closed their minds to new ideas. They have ceased to grow.

The minute a man ceases to grow, that minute he begins to be old. On the other hand, the really great men never grow old.

Bismark, who died at eighty-three, did his greatest work after he was seventy. Titian, the painter, lived to be ninety-nine, printing right up to the end. Edison, nearing ninety, was still at work when death caught up with him. Laplace, the astronomer, at seventy-eight died crying, "What we know is nothing; what we do not know is immense."

PARENT TEACHERS ASSOCIATION PROGRAM AT WAGON

Last Friday night the Parent-Teachers Association at Wagon presented a most interesting program to the school patrons. Dialogues, readings, songs, and other forms of entertainment were enjoyed to the utmost by those who are interested in the attainments of the student body.

One feature of the program was the explanation of the new school laws which affect schools in the class including Wagon, by Mr. Homer Schultz, superintendent.

Plans were also made to organize a basket-ball team of "out-siders" and secure games for them. This will furnish the much needed amusement for many who will otherwise find some idle time on their hands.

The teachers and students are working hard this year to standardize their school, and the progress they have made is enviable.

District Attorney C. L. South of Coleman, candidate for Congress in the newly created 21st district, was a pleasant caller at the News office last week after had been closed and the editor was ready to leave town. Judge South wants to be the first Congressman from the 21st district, and he has our permission. Personally, the editor thinks Judge South would make a splendid addition to the lower house in Washington, and we would like to see him elected to the important place.
