45th Division Fights With Fifth Army

By NOLAND NORGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 26 (AP) — The American 45th Division, once part of the Seventh army of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr. in Sicily, has been in action with the Fifth Army in Italy, it was announced today as Allied units beat off enemy counterattacks along a generally unchanged front.

The impact of the "fighting 45th," one of the most colorful divisions in the American army, helped roll back the German tide when the Salerno bridgehead appeared likely to be overrun in the early critical period after the first landing, it was disclosed.

The division, made up largely of troops from Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico with a sprinkling from a number of eastern and more than 1,000 southwest Indians is rated in army circles as one of the toughest and hardest hitting outfits under the flag. It made its battle debut in an amphibious assault against Sicily after only a brief pause in North Africa.

The German air force joined ground forces in determined attacks yesterday against British Eighth army forces now securely entrenched in the bridgehead carved from the winter defense line across the flooded Sangro near Italy's Adriatic shore.

The Nazi planes made passes at temporary bridges across the flooded stream. Allied planes hopped at the enemy just back of the line.

Despite the daylong enemy onslaughts the Eighth army troops improved their positions, it was announced officially.

Thanksgiving Day activity on the Fifth Army front on the western half of the line was limited to two violent 15-minute artillery bombardments against targets behind the enemy's lines as well as normal patrolling.

In support of the ground forces, Allied aircraft destroyed motor transport and enemy guns in the Pescara-Lanciano sector along the coast just above the bridgehead while Mitchell bombers ranged farther up the shore to attack the port of Ancona. Heavy bombers were grounded by generally unfavorable weather.

Although enemy reports had mentioned British thrusts with tanks toward the hills commanding the bridgehead, which yesterday was reported nearly a mile and a half deep, official announcements today gave no information on any further advance.

Plans Made To Destroy Berlin

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP) — How much bombing will it take to destroy Berlin?
The RAF said today any estimates of the necessary bomb tonnage were dubious and it was prepared to use any amount as long as Berlin remained as worthwhile a target as it is now.

It took about 11,000 long (2,240-pound) tons to devastate Hamburg. Berlin is over twice as big as Hamburg in both area and population. Therefore, mathematically more than 20,000 tons would be required for Berlin's destruction.

On the other hand, the only estimate of damage in Berlin from the 12,000 tons dropped so far this year is that "one quarter" of the German capital has been destroyed (this estimate came from a Swedish source). On that basis, complete destruction of the city would require about 50,000 tons.

But an RAF commentator noted that 400 well-placed bomb-tons might do as much damage as a thousand tons placed less advantageously.

Jap Reverses Pile Up In The Pacific Area

Tokyo Radio Tells Of Allied Air Raid 650 Miles From Japan

By The Associated Press
Reverses piled up today for the Japanese in the central Pacific, the Solomons, China and the Pacific-ocean lanes, and Radio-Tokyo told of an Allied air attack within 650 miles of Japan itself.

American submarines, whittling away at enemy shipping, have sunk nine more Japanese vessels, the navy announced in Washington. This brought to 505 the number of Nipponese ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by U.S. underwater fighters.

The enemy lost 46 planes in air battles with fighters from only one of several American aircraft carrier units now in the Gilbert-Marshall sector, and possibly a fifth warship was sunk in the Thanksgiving Day engagement in northern Solomons waters.

American bombers followed up the conquest of the Japs' Gilbert Islands, halfway between the Solomons and Hawaii, with heavy raids on Jaluit, chief enemy air base in the Marshalls where the United States may strike next.

Victorious American marines and soldiers mopped up the remnants of enemy resistance in the Gilberts while construction units went to work on air bases for new blows at Japan's island holdings.

A Chinese communique announced the encirclement of a strong enemy force which had advanced to the outskirts of Changteh in northern Hunan province. The defenders said they had killed more than 5,000 Japanese soldiers in bitter fighting.

The Tokyo radio broadcast that approximately 20 Allied planes, presumably from bases within China, raided Shichiku port city on the northwest coast of Formosa, some 100 miles north of the Philippines and a little more than 650 miles southwest of the Japanese homeland's southernmost island.

Coal Contract Is Discussed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — For the first time in history, soft coal operators and union leaders met to discuss a contract.

The seven coal producers associations have expressed a willingness to pay the same weekly wage, $57.06, that is embodied in the Ickes-Lewis working agreement covering the period of government operation but oppose computing the wage in a manner that would pay for underground travel time as a part of the working day.

The southern group represents more than 125,000,000 tons annually, and Lewis was reported to have made this group's inclusion a condition of signing a contract.

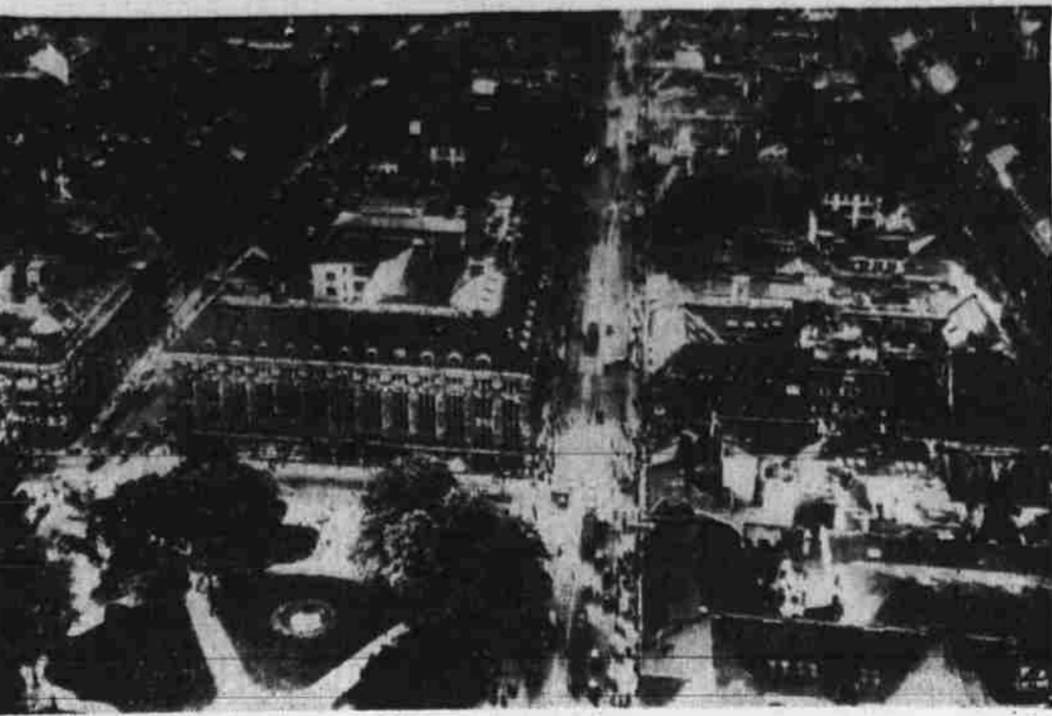

Ickes is sponsoring the current wage negotiations, after stating that he will restore the mines to their owners when a contract is worked out to insure peace in the coal fields.

Close to 600,000,000 tons of soft coal a year were represented in today's session.

Publisher Dies

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP) — Frederick H. Keefe, 62, publisher and general manager of the Newburgh News and the Beacon News, members of the Frank Gannett group, died today of a heart attack.

For some technical reason the radio here could not pick up the broadcast that had been arranged to bring the men overseas one of the most characteristic and heart-warming of all Thanksgiving sounds—the sound of an excited American voice telling of a big football game.

American Bombs Fall On Germany In Daylight Foray

By GLADWIN HILL
LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—American heavy bombers struck into northwest Germany today, taking up in daylight the massive aerial offensive against the Nazis after the RAF gave Berlin its fourth straight night of bombing and heavily attacked Frankfurt-Am-Main.

The U.S. government did not specify immediately the target of the bombers and their fighter escort, but the Bremen radio went off the air suggesting that much-battered port as an objective.

This was the first operation in a week by a heavy formation from the Eighth Air Force, the 18th heavy Allied attack group from Britain in November and the ninth for the U.S. air force.

In addition to Frankfurt, the German radio said RAF bombers hit Offenbach, leather and chemical goods town six miles east of Frankfurt. Marauding RAF Mosquitos simultaneously struck Berlin.

The twin raids were achieved with small loss. Thirteen British bombers failed to return, compared with 44 the last time Frankfurt was hit on Oct. 22 when expiring Kassel also was smashed in a final blow.

The visit to Berlin meant the Nazi capital had been weakened by bombs on 20 of 25 nights of November.

The Allied air campaign continued today with a force of bombers sweeping across the channel in mid-morning toward the continent. At midday the Bremen radio abruptly ceased broadcasting, the usual forerunner of an air raid alarm.

Although the Mosquitos—twin-engine craft which carry 500-pound bombs—do not pack the wallop of Britain's four-engine bombers they kept the sirens going in distraught Berlin.

These fast bombers fill in bad weather spells when major raids are not feasible, and it was recalled that it was a "Mosquito buildup" which preceded the two heavy assaults Monday and Tuesday and helped fox German defenses.

The attack on Frankfurt, big center of the I. G. Farben-Industrie, international chemical trust, fitted in with three big raids last week on chemical and poison gas component producing factories at Ludwigshafen and Leverkusen.

Frankfurt-Am-Main also has Germany's biggest truck manufacturing works (Opel), its biggest tire works (Dunlop), and is one of the main railroad centers.

Texans In England Listen In Vain For Broadcast Of Texas-Aggie Game

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE
A U. S. ARMY HOSPITAL, England, Nov. 26 (AP)—This Texas-dominated unit of the U. S. army listened hopefully last night for a special Thanksgiving Day broadcast from home that never came—a play-by-play account of the football game between Texas University and Texas Aggies.

For some technical reason the radio here could not pick up the broadcast that had been arranged to bring the men overseas one of the most characteristic and heart-warming of all Thanksgiving sounds—the sound of an excited American voice telling of a big football game.

Nazi Forces Split As Russian Troops Open New Drives

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Red army has captured Gomel and surrounding White Russian territory, completing the separation of Nazi forces of the center and the Ukraine, German broadcasts made known today as a powerful new Soviet offensive smashed gaps in enemy lines north and south of the fallen rail center.

The German communique said Gomel was destroyed before it was evacuated. Five railways radiate from the city of 145,000, last important German stronghold east of the Dnieper river. Two lines lead into Poland, one in the direction of Brest-Litovsk and the other through Minsk to Vilna and Lithuania. Other lines connect Gomel with Moscow, Odessa and Leningrad.

In the crucial defense battle west of Kiev, Moscow dispatches said the Ukrainian army of Gen. Nicolai Vatutin was standing firm and the 13-day old German drive appeared to be weakening. New Nazi attacks were launched near Korosten, however, 45 miles north of Zhitomir.

The Russians, as is their custom, did not immediately confirm the capture of Gomel, which has been invested from three sides for some time. Novo Belista, a suburb of Gomel, has been in Russian hands for more than a week. Gomel, important as a farm machinery, wood and cellulose manufacturing center, is on the lofty west bank of the Sozh river, 35 miles north of its confluence with the Dnieper.

"Recent developments in the fighting in the Gomel area caused the German command to order extensive withdrawals a few days ago, which on the whole were concluded by last night," a DNB dispatch broadcast by Berlin said. "The evacuation of Gomel and the neighboring sectors led to a considerable shortening and improvement of German defensive positions."

The German communique said Russian attacks on the lower Dnieper near Nikolov were "largely repulsed and that heavy fighting continued southwest of Kremenchug."

The new Russian offensive, the 19th mounted since July, blasted a 37-mile gap in German defenses in the area 60 miles north of Gomel and 160 miles from the White Russian capital of Minsk. Advances of 30 miles in three days carried almost to the edge of the upper Dnieper, engulfed 180 villages and accounted for 2,000 slain Germans. Enormous booty and "a large number of prisoners" were captured.

Although the German communique said that "parking lot operators had changed their schedules of prices by dropping minimum rates, such as 15 cents per hour, so that patrons had to pay 30 cents, the rate for two hours, even though they used the lot for less time than two hours."

OPA said it had found for example that "parking lot operators had changed their schedules of prices by dropping minimum rates, such as 15 cents per hour, so that patrons had to pay 30 cents, the rate for two hours, even though they used the lot for less time than two hours."

Party Candidates Not Seen in Senate

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—For the first time in years the senate, historical stamping ground for presidential candidates, may have no formal entries next year for either major party nomination.

Although the clerk calls the names of a dozen potential dark horses every time he lists a quorum, circumstances thus far have kept any senator from publicly declaring that he will be a presidential candidate and may combine to keep all of them in the background.

The democrats, of course, aren't likely to announce anything until they find out what President Roosevelt is going to do about a fourth term, a decision few of them think will be made finally until a few days before the 1944 convention.

Some of the republicans listed as possible candidates come from states where the republican governor is already in the running, and others just chuckle at the idea that they are being mentioned.

At least six republicans are in the dark horse category, including Senators Taft and Burton of Ohio, Vandenberg of Michigan, Revercomb of West Virginia, and Langer and Nye of North Dakota.

Railway Union Heads To Discuss Strategy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Railway union chiefs will meet late next week to discuss strategy in their wage campaign.

Leaders of the 15 nonoperating unions will assemble the results of strike polls they recently conducted, but a spokesman for the group said today the aggregate count may not be announced immediately. It is generally believed the employees voted overwhelmingly for a strike. The nonoperating group at present is seeking approval of a general 8-cent hourly increase by congressional resolution.

That's just a sample of the personnel. Prospects of hearing the broadcast brought out the biggest assembly the officers' club here has seen in some time, and radios were turned on full blast in the hospital wards for the enlisted men.

Fourth Of City Wiped Out By RAF Bombings

By JOHN H. COLBURN
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 26 (AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Tidningen said today it had learned that German officials had admitted a fourth of Berlin was destroyed in the RAF's concentrated attacks Monday and Tuesday nights.

The officials refused for military reasons to specify any wrecked areas, the newspaper said, but two Swedish eyewitnesses, one an engineer and the other a military explosives expert, said damage was largely located in the city's center.

The engineer, Sund Lundquist, an official of the Swedish civilian defense organization, and the explosives expert, Maj. Olof Nordzell, said upon arrival in Sweden:

"Some few houses still are left intact among the ruins. We would say destruction in the center of the city runs between 50 and 100 per cent."

Censored reports received over crippled communication lines from neutral correspondents and accounts from eye-witnesses gave this highlight picture of conditions in Berlin:

No bread or milk for sale Thursday in shops; crowds waiting fruitlessly in front of shops for supplies; thousands of workers laboring night and day to clear the streets and get traffic in operation; many homeless people sleeping at night in the debris-littered streets; firemen so busy they have been unable to dig into ruined air raid shelters for bodies.

Lundquist added: "I would say that in the center of the city about every 10th or 15th building was hit by a bomb and that other buildings around that were damaged by incendiary bombs."

"One thing is certain. Most of the damage was caused by incendiary bombs, at least 90 per cent of all damage being by fire."

Braniff Wants Air Service Into Mexico

DALLAS, Nov. 26 (AP)—Braniff Airways, Inc. announced today it had filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board an application for establishment of air service between Laredo, Tex., and Mexico City.

"The application follows Braniff applications previously filed for routes to Europe, the Caribbean islands and South America," said T. E. Braniff, president. "It is another step in Braniff's long-range program to provide coordinated international air service for the central and southwestern areas of the United States."

The proposed service, originating at Laredo, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo, Nuevo Leon, terminates at Mexico, D. F., and provides for an intermediate stop at Monterrey, Nuevo Leon. The route would add 584 miles to Braniff's present 3,119-mile route.

In commenting on the application, T. E. Braniff pointed out that Laredo is already an established gateway for passengers and cargo to and from the area to be served. "It is the logical gathering point and terminus of such an operation as we propose," said Braniff. "It is easily accessible by air and rail from any portion of the United States."

The application states that the company proposes to operate the most modern multi-engine equipment available which its research indicates is the most feasible for such service.

AAFBS Opens House For AIR-WAC Sun.

The roar of big bombing planes taking off on a mission—the long graceful glide of a bomber swooping in for a landing after its return from the target—trailers loaded with bombs—mechanics working feverishly on airplanes—all the busy hum of a training school for men at war may be seen by prospective AIR-WACs at the Big Spring Bombardier School this coming Sunday, November 28th.

According to Colonel Robert W. Warren, commandant of the school, prospective AIR-WACs may be accompanied by their parents as well as any interested women friends. Captain Arthur Foulkes, the AIR-WAC recruitment officer, expects a large number of interested women to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to visit one of the world's largest bombardier schools and see for themselves how bombardiers are trained to smash the Axis.

"To facilitate the handling of such a large group," said Captain Foulkes, "we are giving everyone a better view of what goes on, we are going to divide the visitors into a number of smaller groups and conduct several tours of the post."

The tours, guided by AIR-WACs and soldiers, will begin shortly after 12:00 noon Sunday and will continue throughout the afternoon. Each tour will include a trip to the recreational centers of the post, the AIR-WACs barracks, mess hall and playground, the Link Trainer and the huge bomber trainer hangars. Guests will also be taken to the line where they may visit the control tower and the giant airplane hangars. They may inspect the bombing planes on the ramp and watch the activities of soldiers and AIR-WACs as they work side by side to keep 'em flying for their Uncle Sam.

Each tour will include a visit to the Officer's Club where refreshments will be served, and will wind up at the Ground School building where the guests will be entertained with a short program and hear an informative talk by Captain Foulkes on "The AIR-WACs' part in this war."

Prospective AIR-WACs and their guests who intend to visit the Big Spring Bombardier School Sunday are urged to use their own cars whenever possible. However, for the benefit of those who are not in a position to do so, army transportation will be provided free of charge. Army vehicles will leave according to this schedule:

Ackerly Pioneer Is Victim Of Death

John William Coleman, one of the developers of the Ackerly community, died suddenly of heart attack Thursday at 9 a. m. in Ackerly. He was 72 years old.

Born in Fort Smith, Ark., on Feb. 10, 1871, he moved his family to Ackerly 17 years ago when it was first put on the market by Paul Ackerly, for whom it was named.

Mr. Coleman at one time operated a picture show and lumber yard there, and at the time of his death continued to operate the Coleman hotel and a general merchandise store. He had been in the Ackerly Methodist church since its establishment and held membership in the Methodist church for 59 years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the Ackerly Methodist church with the Rev. Howard H. Hollowell, Spur, a former pastor at Ackerly, and the Rev. Lloyd Mayhew, Methodist pastor. Burial will be at Ackerly with the Nalley-Reeder Funeral home in charge.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, A. O. Coleman, Los Angeles, Calif., and V. J. Coleman, Ackerly; and one daughter, Mrs. Sadie Willoughby, Oklahoma City. He also leaves five brothers, C. A. Coleman of Wilson, T. A. Coleman of Stamford, S. E. and A. J. Coleman of Lubbock and J. L. W. Coleman of Ackerly; three sisters, Mrs. Birdie Rensison, Jacksboro, Mrs. Ada Jones, Houston, and Mrs. Myrtle Pennington, California; 10 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be J. E. Griffin, P. J. Gregg, J. Fred Dahnke, G. R. Baker, L. M. Brown, T. R. Higgins, George Ray and Carlis White. Friends and neighbors will be considered honorary pallbearers.

Thirty-one per cent of the employees of small-arms industries are women.

USO Program For Thanksgiving Is Well Attended

Instead of planning a special event in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday, USO officials decided to have several informal entertainments for service men and hostesses Thursday, and the idea worked exceptionally well.

Around 200 service men from the Big Spring Bombardier school visited the club during the afternoon and evening, and finger painting, ping pong, table games and group singing of religious hymns were included in the entertainment.

Since it was a cold and rainy afternoon, the group seemed to enjoy the home-like atmosphere of the soldier center, and every hour, they took turns at "refilling the coffee pot."

In the evening the square dance was held with three large rings of dancers participating in the event.

Mrs. Albert Fisher To Entertain Woman's Forum

The Modern Woman's Forum will meet this evening at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Albert Fisher at the Settles hotel for a regular semi-monthly program and business session.

All members are urged to attend.

Club Sponsors Dance In Settles Hotel Ballroom

The High Heel Slipper Club entertained with an informal Thanksgiving dance in the ballroom at the Settles hotel Thursday evening, and miniature pilgrims, turkeys and pumpkins which were used in decorations, furthered the chosen motif.

Music for dancing was furnished by nickelodeon, and around 125 persons attended.

Club members and their dates present were Wilda Watts, Donald Crittenden, Muriel Floyd, Kenneth Hult, Luan Wear, Gilt Barnett, Betty Sue Sweeney, John McIntosh, Betty Lou McGinnis, Grady Kelly, Doris Nell Tompkins, G. R. Wheat, Evelyn Arnold, Dopey Anderson, Charleen Pinkston and Eil McComb.

One half of all the atmosphere is below 18,000 feet altitude.

Buffet Supper And Dance To Be Held At Post Sunday

Members of the Women's Club of AAFBS and their husbands are cordially invited to attend a buffet supper and dance which will be held in the officers club at the Big Spring Bombardier School Sunday evening from 6:30 to 12 o'clock.

Thanksgiving Day Is Celebrated In Many Countries

By The Associated Press
It took a war to do it, but America's Thanksgiving Day was celebrated throughout the world. In Chungking, in Italy, in England, in the Balkans, in Jerusalem, India, and in almost every place where American uniforms are found, there was some form of observance. On most of the war fronts, the holiday bird was roasted after trips of thousands of miles by plane and ship. President Roosevelt's Thanksgiving Day proclamation was read wherever servicemen were gathered, and religious services were held where the war permitted. At home those families who had been able to buy turkeys, had the usual holiday dinner. And the war goes on.
The first passenger elevator was installed in New York in 1857.

Illegal Uniform Adorned With Medals

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Police said Louis Botello, 52, booked on suspicion of illegally wearing a uniform, wore these insignia on his army tunic:
Purple Heart, Pacific combat theater, Asiatic service with three stars, defense bar with two stars, World War I ribbon with five stars, Distinguished Service Cross, Croix de Guerre with palms, Belgian, Cuban and Nicaraguan campaign ribbons, amphibious forces, Guadalcanal and Alaska action, sergeant's stripes, and 20 years' service stripes.
Oh, yes—the good conduct ribbon, too!

Germans Dickering For A Surrender

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Reports that Pope Pius XII had undertaken to mediate between Germany and the Allies were coupled with a statement by Senator Downey (D-Calif.) of the military affairs committee today that influential Germans are trying to find a way to surrender.
"Many leaders of Allied governments," Downey said in an interview, "believe a German collapse of some kind can not be delayed long after the Christmas holidays and may, indeed, come about that time."

No Butter Issued For Ration Board Turkey Dinner

DENVER, (AP)—Rationing board employees sat down at headquarters to a donated Thanksgiving dinner, with turkey and all the trimmings—or nearly all.
Nobody remembered to donate the sugar and butter . . . and the board said it couldn't issue special rations.

Slow Accounts Costing City

City Manager B. J. McDaniel appealed Friday to water consumers to aid the city in plugging a fiscal leak that is costing the city from $75 to $100 per month.

He had referred to delinquent, or more properly "slow," water accounts. Following deadline time on Nov. 10 there were no less than 187 of these, he said.

In each case, this calls for a second notice, giving several days to care for the account. For those who still fail to pay, a man from the water department is dispatched to give a final reminder and 24-hour cut-off notice. Of course, this invariably brings results, for as the manager said, "the vast majority of these people have just overlooked prompt payment."

He estimated that it cost the city a minimum of fifty cents for each of these personal calls.

McDaniel spoke also of another city problem—that of water conservation. While virtually all garages have cooperated by refusing to take car washing jobs, there are a scant few who still indulge in this service, he said.

Marines Rout 60 Jap Planes

NEW GEORGIA ISLAND (Delayed)—Marine First Lieutenant Paul L. Pankhurst, 24, of (3428 University Blvd) Dallas, Tex., shot down his first Zero today when he and six other Marine fighter pilots put 60 Japanese planes to flight in the northern Solomons.

"We were on a routine patrol when, suddenly, I saw below me a lot of little specks glinting in the sky. It was my first look at Jap aircraft, and I had plenty to look at—about 60 of them.

"Thinking they might be dive bombers, I started to dive for the middle of the formation. I had just about reached them when I realized the enemy planes were all Zeros. I pulled up in a hurry and tried to come in from the rear instead.

"I found myself on the tail of a Zero and opened up at close range, stalking him as he tried to weave out of my fire. I closed in to point blank range, and let go. The Jap ship exploded in a mass of flames.

"I took a quick look around, and there didn't seem to be anything in the sky except Zeros. I selected a target and opened up, only to find that all but one of my guns were jammed. I fired my one gun into the Jap, but he wouldn't go down and I dove out of the fight.

"I finally got my guns working again, but by this time the Zeros had turned tail for home.

"I joined up with one other Marine Corsair and took out after them. We chased them for nearly 50 miles, but our gas began to run low before we could get within range and we had to turn back."

Besides Lieut. Pankhurst's victory, the Marines shot down five other Zeros in the battle with a probable score of three more. The Marines suffered no losses.

Lieut. Pankhurst enlisted for flight training July 15, 1941, and won his Marine wings July 20, 1942. He was promoted to first lieutenant February 1, 1943. He graduated from Pittsburg, Tex., high school in 1937 and attended the University of Texas. He is the son of Mrs. Wilma Pankhurst of Dallas.

Thanksgiving Day Quiet For Police

Thanksgiving Day, as far as officers are concerned, was a pretty tame affair.

The police docket showed only three arrests for drunkenness through Wednesday evening and Thursday, three Mexicans booked for vagrancy and two youths, picked up on a juvenile complaint previously, were taken into custody again. For those in jail, the day wasn't so much either, for the menu definitely did not include turkey, dressing, giblet gravy and cranberry sauce.

Holiday Deaths Numbered At 107

By The Associated Press
America today counted 107 violent deaths on Thanksgiving Day, with travel restrictions and other war-time factors credited with holding traffic fatalities down to 44 throughout the nation.

The national safety council had estimated that, on the basis of 1942, when conditions were generally the same, 70 persons would meet death in automobile accidents.

In 1941, the last peace-time Thanksgiving, 115 persons were killed in traffic mishaps.

Sixty-three deaths over the current holiday resulted from fires, airplane and train mishaps and other accidents, an Associated Press survey showed.

California reported the highest number of highway deaths, ten, while persons lost their lives by fire in Tennessee and a like number met death when an army bomber crashed in Utah.

Navy Recruiting 'Cruiser' To Drop Anchor In B'Spring

A land-going navy recruiting "cruiser" will drop anchor in Big Spring at 8 a. m. on Dec. 3 in the 300 block on Main street and remain there for three hours before getting underway for Sterling City, CPO Ray Lokey, in charge of advance arrangements for the cruiser, announced here Friday.

Manning the cruiser, which has toured every state in the union is a crew of navy recruiters who will accept applications for enlistment in the navy's new ship repair unit, or for general service. Women between ages of 20 and 49 years may secure information regarding enlistment in the WAVES. Accepted male applicants will be sent to the nearest station for final examination, while WAVES applicants will be sent to Dallas for completion of enlistment.

The cruiser unit consists of a large truck towing a four-wheel trailer which is equipped with an office for handling applications, modern living quarters for the crew, etc.

Men enlisted for ship repair units will fix damaged fighting ships at advanced naval bases, or follow in the wake of attacking task forces, in fully equipped repair ships. For draft age men qualifications are very similar to those for Seabee recruitment with carpenters, electricians, riggers, welders, etc. needed. Age limits range from 18 to 50 1/2 years. Those below and above draft age may apply for general service.

Pvt. Johnnie L. Burns, son of Mrs. Nellie Burns of Big Spring, began his military training at the Transportation Corps Replacement Training Center in New Orleans, La., this week. He will receive six weeks of basic military training at the center.

Feed Shortage Move Is Begun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—In a move to relieve shortages of livestock and poultry feed, the house ways and means committee approved today a resolution to suspend for 90 days all duties on importation of wheat, oats, barley, rye, cottonseed, flax and hay.

Committee members said the measure was approved by the war food administration. Most of the duty free imports probably would come from Canada.

The measure, by Rep. Murray (R-Wis.), would provide:

"That notwithstanding the provisions of the tariff act of 1930, the following, when imported into the United States from foreign countries, and when entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, during the period of 90 days beginning with the day following the date of enactment of this joint resolution, to be used as, or as a constituent part of, feed for livestock and poultry, shall be exempt from duty: wheat, oats barley, rye, flax, and cottonseed, hay or products in chief value of one or more of the foregoing or deriv-

Feed Shortage Move Is Begun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—In a move to relieve shortages of livestock and poultry feed, the house ways and means committee approved today a resolution to suspend for 90 days all duties on importation of wheat, oats, barley, rye, cottonseed, flax and hay.

Committee members said the measure was approved by the war food administration. Most of the duty free imports probably would come from Canada.

The measure, by Rep. Murray (R-Wis.), would provide:

"That notwithstanding the provisions of the tariff act of 1930, the following, when imported into the United States from foreign countries, and when entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, during the period of 90 days beginning with the day following the date of enactment of this joint resolution, to be used as, or as a constituent part of, feed for livestock and poultry, shall be exempt from duty: wheat, oats barley, rye, flax, and cottonseed, hay or products in chief value of one or more of the foregoing or deriv-

Morgenthau Will Continue Tax Battle

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau will continue his battle for approximately ten and a half billion dollars in new taxes despite house passage—and indicated senate approval—of a measure trimmed to $2,140,000,000.

He will go before the senate finance committee next week to renew his demands for the heavier revenues which he has said are necessary for footing the war bill and beating down inflation. Although he has avoided comment on the house action in slicing more than $8,000,000,000 from the treasury program, Morgenthau is known to feel that any retreat from the original figure will constitute a serious setback in the administration's hold - the - line fight.

Slayer Of Farm Family Sought

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, O., Nov. 26 (AP)—The slaying of a prominent hog breeder, his wife and daughter officially was termed triple murder today as authorities sought four men for questioning in the bizarre Thanksgiving eve crime.

Dr. E. H. McDonald returned a formal verdict of murder by parties unknown. The bodies of the victims—Elmer McCoy, 59, his wife Forrest, 64, and their daughter Mildred, 22—were found scattered about their farm home yesterday, all shot through the head.

As enforcement officers widened their hunt and tried to put together the scene in which the assassin apparently stalked his victims and shot them mercilessly, Prosecutor John B. Hill expressed the view the crime was motivated by revenge.

"There was no motive except revenge," he asserted. "We are hunting four men."

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Stocks and commodities sought shelter at lower levels today as the record blasting of axis Germany inspired a little more peace-thinking marketwide.

Thoughts of at least temporarily difficult economic adjustments should the Hitlerites unexpectedly blow up overnight brought the trimming of accounts in armament groups and even restricted commitments for stocks that stand to benefit from a sudden ending of the European conflict.

Transfers for the full proceedings were around 600,000 shares.

Prominent on extension of the downturn were the lately strong electric power and light preferences, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, American Distilling, Chrysler, Bethlehem, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Can, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical and Phillu Morris. Utilities, oils, copers and rubbers were narrow.

Brazilian bonds experienced an upward flurry today as a new system of payments on dollar and sterling loans of the republic was announced. At Chicago wheat lost 1 1/4 to 2 1/8 cents a bushel, oats 1 1/4 to 2 and rye 2 1/4 to 2 3/4. Cotton, toward the finish, was off 70 to 95 cents a bale.

Steers Downed By Mustangs 45-6 In Thanksgiving Tilt

Little Towner Leeper proved quite a diagnostician here Thursday afternoon, for he perceived the general weakness of the Big Spring Steers right off and promptly applied the specifics — among them four touchdowns — and another that set up a pass — which helped the Sweetwater Mustangs apply a 45-6 cure to the Steers.

Not all the Mustang damage occurred through the air, however, for no sooner had Sweetwater put its hands on the ball than the Ponies started a 49-yard march to a touch down.

They added one in the second, the fifth one came in the third and two more in the last frame. Big Spring's lone tally came in the third when Dewey Stevenson, who closed out his high school grid career in a flaming fashion rushed back a Mustang kickoff to his own 46. He passed to Cochran for 20 yards and then tossed a 32-yard special to Cook. Cochran then thundered around left end for 14 to put the ball on the five and little Dewey bullied his way over through the center.

Grid Season Comes To Close This Week-end

By JACK HAND NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Football's second wartime season closes in appropriate martial surroundings tomorrow with the servicemen privileged to enjoy two of the year's best bets almost without civilian attendance.

With a few bowl-bound exceptions, teams that didn't close yesterday will store the moleskins for the winter after the weekend. When the Army and Navy meet for the eastern championship, the only folks present will be military academy cadets and the gentry living within 10 miles of West Point.

The Sailors of the Great Lakes Naval Training Station will be the only spectators when the Notre Dame Irishmen try to hurdle their tenth and final obstacle to a national title.

There wasn't any ban on crowds Thanksgiving Day when Philadelphia turned out 60,000 to watch Penn outstrangle Cornell, 20-14. Thirty-two thousand watched Texas qualify for a Cotton Bowl bid and the Southwest crown by whipping Texas Aggies, 27-13.

Over in Houston they may have the best of the day when the Randolph Field Flyers, with Tulsa's Glenn Dodds doing the chucking, meet up with Southwestern Louisiana's great Alvin Dark.

The West Coast has a double feature: Del Monte Pre-Flight and California and the Southern Cal vs. U.C.L.A. spectacle.

Today's Guest Star Joe Miller, Lewiston (Idaho) Tribune: "Perhaps coast football has been in the doldrums this fall, but at least another 'washed up' University of Chicago coach has come out with one of the most potent alphabet soup combinations seen in the west. In 1940 it was Clark Shaughnessy and his Stanford 'T' formation. This year it's Amos Alonzo Stagg and his 'A-A' formation at Pacific, and brother this combination has dealt out plenty of football 'ack-ack' to enemy pigskin aerial bombers."

Schoolboys Go Into Bi-District Play Next Week

By The Associated Press With the lone remaining district muddle due for clarification in today's McAllen-Edinburg game at McAllen, Texas High school football followers turned toward next week's bi-district prospects.

Except for Amarillo, 7-0 victim of Pampa in a stunning District 1 reversal, the favored contenders for the state crown were still in the running when the smoke cleared after a heavy Thanksgiving Day schedule.

Other unbeaten, untied elevens maintained their spotless records, although San Angelo had to come from behind to down Abilene, 13-7, for the District 3 bunting. Highland Park of Dallas trampled Greenville, 47-6, in District 6, and Lufkin rolled over Henederson, 45-0, in District 12.

Of the other teams with perfect backgrounds, Yaleta (El Paso) and Goose Creek were idle, while McAllen risks its record against Edinburg today. Edinburg is undefeated but has been tied.

Unbeaten, once-tied North Side of Fort Worth thumped Pasmal, 33-7, in District 7. Denison, also previously tied, was held to another 7-7 by Sherman, and passed out of the playoff picture, with Sherman taking the District 5 championship.

Vernon bested Electra, 20-7, for the District 2 flag and the right to meet Pampa next week, while Sunset (Dallas) won over Woodrow Wilson, 20-13, in District 8, and will face North Side in the bi-district round.

The District 3 and 4 champs, San Angelo and Yaleta, will square off in a perfect-record battle. Highland Park engages Sherman next week in what will be the second clash this season between these teams.

Soldier's Highly Touted Line Will Have Problems As Middies Heave Passes

By FRANK ECK AP Features Sports Writer WEST POINT, N. Y.—Agn's big line, rated among the tops in the country, will have its work cut out Saturday when it faces Navy here in the 44th meeting between the nation's top service schools.

Besides facing seven stalwart forwards in the Annapolis line, the U. S. Military Academy mules must combat an aerial weapon of 150 pounds in Hal Hamberg, the midshipmen's 5 foot 9 air-minded back from Lonoke, Ark.

Ask any of the 140,000 football fans who saw Army against Pennsylvania and Notre Dame and they'll tell you without batting an eyelash that one thing the West Pointers lack is coordination in combating passes.

Coach Red Blaik has been trying to remedy that big matter in recent practice sessions. It remains for the big game to show whether he has been successful or not.

Looking at the statistics, you find that Army is not even among the country's first 20 teams in passing. Thus, it will be along the ground that the Blaik-Gold and Gray must do most of its maneuvering against the sailors.

Comparative scores against Notre Dame and Penn notwithstanding, Army holds a decided edge on offense and defense. The same holds for rushing. Army, incidentally, averages 197 pounds along the line to Navy's 195.

Among the Army linemen who have been outstanding this season are Tackles Frank Merritt and Joe Stanowicz and End John Hennessey. Merritt has lived up to his pre-season notices, so has the 215-pound Stanowicz who played the full 60 minutes against Notre Dame.

Tackle Battle Coach Blaik was strong for Merritt at the start of the campaign but now Stanowicz has entered the all-America picture. Navy has fine tackles in Don Whitmire, who starred for Alabama in 1942 and made the AP all-America third team, and Ed Sprinkle who, some say, is even better than Whitmire. Saturday's game might be a deciding factor for one of the all-America tackle berths.

Jim White of Notre Dame seems like a certain bet for the other post.

The center of the Army and Navy lines will be something to watch. Both teams have veterans at the snapper-back and guard positions. There's Army's center Cas Myslinski, and Guards Ed Murphy and Al McCorkle who, like Merritt and Hennessey, will be playing their final games for the Cadets.

Myslinski turned in one of the best games of his career against Frank Leahy's invaders from the mid-west when he played 58 minutes without relief.

High School Mates Navy's guards are George Brown and Ben Chase. Both starred for Hoover High in San Diego. Brown is a former Plebe end who was shifted to guard on the 1942 Navy varsity and nobody has been able to get him out of there. They say he's the Middies' fastest lineman. Center Jack Martin of Navy is 6 foot 3 and weighs 205 pounds. He will have a 19-pound advantage over Myslinski, Army's team captain and center who is 5-11.

Stacking up against Hennessey and Bob Mackinnon, Army's ends, will be two Navy veterans, Roe Johnston and Captain Al Chennell. The latter, a hard and fast tackler, is considered one of the nation's best defensive ends.

Patton Case Closed By War Department WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — The war department has temporarily closed the case of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's striking and berating of a shell-shocked army private pending receipt of a report from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in North Africa.

War Secretary Stimson made the announcement yesterday, emphasizing that the department "has full confidence in his (Eisenhower's) fairness, his justice, and his ability to conduct the affairs of his command in the highest interest of his troops and his country."

Texas athletic committee meets today at Austin to discuss with the naval unit commandant the question of accepting an automatic invitation to play in the Cotton Bowl as accorded the conference champion. Texas has a number of naval trainees on its squad.

Meanwhile, Texas A. and M. already has accepted an invitation to play Louisiana State University — team the Aggies defeated early in the season — in Miami's Orange Bowl.

While Texas was beating A. and M. yesterday, Arkansas was suffering one of its worst defeats in history — a 61-0 pasting at the hands of Tulsa.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"You can't imagine, Judge, how much comfort Louise and I got out of reading that report by the Office of War Information on drinking habits in and around Army camps. If you hadn't loaned us your copy we'd still be worrying about our Jim... all because of those silly rumors goin' around."

"I'm mighty glad to hear that, John. As the report says, no Army in American history has been so orderly, so well-behaved, so well-trained. Why, even on pay-night, there's very little drinking done. I was particularly interested in that part which said the Army, with an eye to its own problem, usually prefers to have its camps in wet communities rather than dry communities because wet communities can be regulated. . . . dry communities with their bootleggers can't. It's just more proof that prohibition does not prohibit."

Synthetic Rubber Program Shows U. S. Enterprise

Announcement of the approaching completion of a single plant at Port Neches, Texas, capable of making enough butadiene to produce one-seventh of the entire wartime program of synthetic rubber is good news because it indicates that synthetic rubber production will be stepped up materially.

But the story behind this announcement is also good news because it is an interesting example of American ingenuity and unselfish accomplishment. It is the story of how a great industry turned all its resources and "know how" to a war project with no thought of compensation or profit in return.

When the Japs cut off the supply of natural rubber from the Far East, the United States faced the necessity of building a synthetic rubber industry almost from scratch and of doing it before our stockpile of natural rubber was depleted.

The principal ingredient of synthetic rubber is butadiene which can be made either from petroleum engineers developed a new process for making butadiene — one that yields twice as much from a barrel of petroleum as had ever been obtained before and that leaves the remaining refinery gases available for the production of high-octane gasoline and other products. They built a small-scale laboratory model, tested it, and found their theories would work.

Then they, in co-operation with the Government agencies, went ahead with the building of the largest plant in the world for the production of butadiene from petroleum. Meanwhile smaller production units, using the new process, have been placed in operation at other points.

The Port Neches plant, which will begin partial operation in December, will have a capacity of 100,000 tons of butadiene a year, sufficient to make 110,000 tons of synthetic rubber. Adjacent plants, operated by rubber companies, will combine the butadiene with styrene to make synthetic rubber.

Capital Comment - Patman Gives Information On Texas Political Events

By GEORGE STIMPSON

WASHINGTON — "The committee ought to hang a crepe on the door," observed Senator Tom Connally dryly when the senate judicial committee voted 12 to 6 to report out the anti-pol tax bill.

Cong. Wright Patman, of Texas, has just issued his 1944

"Political Calendar for Texas Democratic Primary and General Election." In a prefatory note Wright explains: "Every campaign year for the past 24 years I have prepared for the use of candidates, election officials and other interested parties, a political calendar."

The first item in the 1944 Patman political calendar is: "January 31. Last day to pay poll tax, obtain exemption certificates or otherwise qualify by obtaining voting credentials."

"We Want Willkie—Stopped" seems to be the new Republican campaign slogan.

Jesse Jones's Defense Plant Corp. advanced another $100,000 to the Lone Star Steel Co. at Dallas for further equipment at its Texas plant.

Unionization of federal employees has progressed to a much greater extent than most people realize.

A soldier back from one of the fighting fronts tells me he doubts whether the morale of the troops is improved by the visits of governors, congressmen, Eleanor Roosevelt and other dignitaries. He says most of the men he served with are inclined to pooh-pooh anything that even remotely suggests a patronizing or political attitude toward them.

A Democratic congressman from the South said that political patronage is not what it's cracked up to be. He explained that during his first 12 years in Congress — from 1923 to 1933, when the Republicans were in power — he had no opposition in the primaries. Trouble for him started after the Democrats came into power and he had the say-so about postmasters and the like. Every time a congressman approves a person for postmaster he makes 11 enemies and one ingrate.

The other day a bunch of us were looking at the portrait of former Speaker and Vice President John Garner in the lobby just outside the House chamber. One in the group observed that the portrait, although good, does not do Garner justice. "No wonder," said another. "Jack Garner looks like 17 different men all at once."

We had a little flurry of snow, but it wasn't enough to amount to much. The mercury crowded the freezing point and the air was nipping and eager. Overcoats, many of them smelling strongly of mothballs, showed up all over Washington.

You very seldom see men in overalls around Washington. This is pretty much a white-collar town. A lot of men here wear rubber collars because they change masters so often. Even farmers dress up like government clerks when they come into Washington Saturday night.

Scoopless Tale Of Reporters Is A Scoop

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Seeling will be believing, but Reginald Gardiner, the man who imitates wallpaper, is about to do something sensational. He is playing a news reporter in a movie and (he promises) he will not once yell: (1) "Scoop, chief!" or (2) "Boy-ee! What a headline now!" or (3) "I can see the headline now!" or (4) "I'm going to print it and you're going to like it, see-e-e-o-o-o?"

Mr. Gardiner also promises that not once will he stomp into the office and howl out his managing editor. He will not bounce in and out of scenes wearing a sloppy, turned-up-in-front hat. He will not even play the part as a tipsy, slovenly character, as so many have played reporters before him.

The picture in which the waggish English actor will not do any of these things is "One More Tomorrow." If he avoids doing all of them, it may well be a milestone in movie history.

"Reporters," says Reggie, "are people, too. I know. I've lots of reporter friends. They've been taken to the cleaners, insulted, mistreated, misrepresented and maligned these many years by both the movies and the theater. This sort of thing has got to stop. I will try, in my confused way, to help stop it."

This, Reggie, is a laudable ambition, but I warn you: for your own sake, don't go too far. The movies, you must know, have done such a thorough job with this stock-journalist character that people might not believe you if you go overboard for realism. Take the reporter friend of mine in Hollywood who some years ago went to interview a newly arrived English actress. She for some reason seemed slightly terrified for most of the hour he was in her hotel suite. Toward the end she relaxed a bit. Later, the reporter heard that the lady had told a mutual friend of her experience. "Why," she had exclaimed in amazement, "it turned out that he was—he was a perfect gentleman!"

You see, Reggie, she had seen a lot of Hollywood movies. She expected the reporter to charge in, hat turned up in front of course, sprawl on the davenport, and preemptorily demand a double-Scotch-and-soda.

But you shouldn't let it bother you too much, Reggie. Reporters are about the only professionals left for the movies to use as com-

Method Advanced For Revamping Congress

Washington Daybook—

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — For the first time a step toward streamlining Congress has been taken which the folks on Capitol Hill think has a chance of getting somewhere.

It's the Maloney-Monrone bill, simultaneously introduced in the Senate by Senator Francis Maloney, of Connecticut, and in the House by Rep. A. S. Mike Monrone of Oklahoma.

Briefly it would establish an absolutely bipartisan committee (three Democrats and three Republicans from each side of the Capitol) to study ways and means and suggest legislation for overhauling the creaky congressional machinery. Broadly, the objectives would be to whittle the unwieldy legislative system into an effective legislative instrument and to establish a better working relationship between Congress and the executive departments and bureaus.

Ever since we entered this war there has been growing alarm on the hill at the ineffectiveness of the legislative branch. Frequently, Congress has stumbled over its own big feet and it has been pretty apparent that the reason was because it is wound up in the red tape of outmoded customs, rules and self-regulations.

Nearly every member of the House and Senate has recognized this state of affairs, but every effort to improve it has been tossed into the discard by Congressional leaders who are afraid reorganization would hack off the privileges and prestige they enjoy now.

For example, what members of the Military and Naval Affairs Committees would be willing to see their present rickety box cars made over into tear-drop six-seaters in which only a few of them could ride?

How far in the wrong direction our government has gone is pointed out by Congressman Monrone in the fact that the American people pay only half as much for maintaining Congress, which makes all our laws and is the people's main check on the executive and judicial branches, as they pay for maintaining the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The annual appropriation for Congress, including salaries, clerical hire and all other expenditures is about $13,000,000. This is, Monrone says, no slap at the In-

Bridge

Chapter 5

Trainers, fighters and bombers dived overhead in the late afternoon sun. The sky seemed alive with them.

The block-long building of Melvin Aircraft, glass and tile-fronted and very close to an airport which handled heavy traffic of all types of Army aircraft.

Pete Neil got off the bus and stood a while, looking up at them, while Graham with a cheery, "Good luck!" hurried off toward the plant entrance. Among the many ships in the air, Pete could easily distinguish a pair of Melvin "Menaces."

Those are the ships I'll be helping to build, he thought, and a feeling of elation swept through him.

Pete hurried toward the personnel entrance. As he neared the gate he saw a group of workers carrying tool boxes, some larger, most of them smaller than his own box. They were new employes, like himself. As he drew closer, he saw some of the men set their boxes on the gravel path and stop to watch a pair of men who seemed to be having an argument.

Pete hurried forward. A large young man with anger in his eyes was shaking a slim youth by the shoulders. The small one was Graham.

"Listen, squirt!" the big man said. "This is the last time I'm gonna ask you for the two bucks you owe me. Either you pay me quick, or I take it out of your hide here and now!"

"But I ain't got it on me," Graham protested. "I'll give it to you tomorrow, sure."

The big man sneered, face red. "Like hell you will. This is where I get me two bucks worth of hide." He drew back a big fist.

Pete rushed forward and grabbed the big man's wrist. With a lightning-like motion he doubled the man's arm backward and held it just above the small of his back at the same time pinning the man's left arm to his side. "Just a minute," he said quietly.

"Lemme go!" the big man yelled. "What you think you're doing?"

"Right now," Pete smiled calmly. "I'm holding a lousy bum who was taking advantage of a little guy."

"Lemme go!" the big man yelled again.

"Gladly," Pete said. He released his grip suddenly on the man's arms and stepped back. The man stood, white faced, rubbing his wrists. "You slipped up on me from behind," he sneered.

"Okay," Pete said. "Now, I'm in front of you."

"Some other time," the other said. "The Guard's coming and besides I'm late for work."

"Alibis," Pete came back. "Guys like you are always full of alibis." He pulled his bill-fold from his pocket, extracted two dollars and handed them to the big man. "This pays Graham off," he said. "And don't ever let me hear about you jumping on him again. I'm onto bums like you, so I won't worry about what you are going to do to me, which will be exactly nothing."

The big man turned sullenly and hurried into the plant.

"Thanks, Pete," Graham said. "That's a lot."

"You'd better hustle," Graham

"You'll be late."

"Okay."

Pete picked up his tool box and walked into the plant through the wide steel doors. Inside, the Guard looked at his pass, inspected his box and directed him to the personnel representative.

As Pete walked through the plant on his way to Final Assembly with the personnel man, his first impression was that of a seemingly endless mass of whirring, chattering machinery. They called this a small plant. He wondered what a large plant would be like.

He passed a row of mammoth hydraulic presses, which towered almost to the ceiling and was amazed at the skill of the operators who always drew their hands from underneath at the crucial moment of each stroke.

As he walked along, he heard men's voices and girls' voices in animated snatches of conversation.

"You gotta date the foreman to get anywhere in this department . . ."

"I told him if he came in my department again, I'd bounce a rawhide mallet off his head!"

"You oughta heard the new guy tell old 'Big Boy' where to head in . . . there he goes, now . . ."

Pete passed stockrooms and saw metal shelves loaded with millions of parts: rivets, screws and bolts. Reaching the end of Final Assembly where the ships took form and shape, men were riveting the gleaming aluminum skin onto the skeleton framework of the fuselage at the lower end of the long line.

Further up, men and girls were installing elevators, fins and rudders while others rigged control cables, threading them through plastic pulleys.

Pete shook hands with Tim Brandon, the tall wiry foreman who glanced at his papers. "College man," he said. "Auto mechanic. Well, you'll fit in here okay. It won't take you long to learn to do things our way. Aircraft work isn't hard to do, but it's careful work . . . has to be. It isn't like automobile work. If something isn't right on a ship, it means a crack-up. See what I mean?"

"I do," Pete answered soberly. "I understand perfectly."

Nine Die In Texas Holiday Accidents

By The Associated Press

At least nine persons died in Thanksgiving holiday accidents in Texas.

Five men died yesterday when a B-24 on its maiden flight crashed and burned a mile and a half southwest of the Fort Worth plant of Consolidated Vultee where it had been assembled.

Killed were: Graydon Evans, pilot, who went to Fort Worth a month ago from the firm's Elizabeth City, N. C., division; William R. Choice, co-pilot, from Brownsville, who had been at Fort Worth since May; C. M. Luttrell, Arlington, flight engineer; Gratten Ralph, Fort Worth, radio operator; Charles Echols, Minneapolis, who was supervising adjustment of new equipment. Crew Chief R. Z. Looney of Fort Worth was thrown clear of the wreckage and received critical injuries.

Three San Angelo high school students, John Fox, Luther Walters, and Leroy Mathison were injured fatally Thanksgiving eve in the collision of an automobile and switch engine.

Jack McMurray of Norman, Okla., was struck by a freight train and injured fatally at Dallas early yesterday.

The first school of veterinary medicine was established in Lyons, France, in 1761.

Navy Cross Honors Deceased Marine

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP) — Private William F. Richey, U.S.M.C., son of Mrs. Mandy Mongullo, Murphysboro, Ill., has been awarded the Navy Cross posthumously for "extraordinary heroism" in action against the enemy in the Solomon on November 23, 1942, the Marine Corps announced today.

In the action which cost his life, Richey volunteered with two comrades to dislodge enemy machine guns which held up the advance of his unit. Rushing through a hail of machine gun and sniper fire to an advantageous position, the 18-year-old marine risked his life twice to destroy the two enemy machine-gun nests with hand grenades. He was killed while returning to safety with a captured machine gun.

Born at Hurst, Ill., Richey enlisted at Dallas, Tex., in October, 1941. His decorations, which include the Purple Heart and the First Marine Division, will be received by his father, Ole A. Richey, 709 Line St., Tyler, Tex.

men of the church throughout the United States in observing the annual corporate communion Sunday.

Service of Holy Communion will be held at 8:30 a. m. and will be followed immediately by breakfast in the Parish House. The rector, the Rev. R. J. Snell, will be the officiant at the service. All men of the church are urged to attend.

Allies Strike At Shinchiku

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Approximately 20 Allied planes yesterday raided Shinchiku on the island of Formosa, the Tokyo radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the U. S. Foreign intelligence service.

Three of the planes were shot down by Japanese naval fighters, the broadcast added.

Prisoner Caught Near Greenwood

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 26 (AP) — A German prisoner of war, 24-year-old Hans Schulz, was captured while walking along the Shreveport - Marshall, Texas, highway near Greenwood, state police reported.

Schulz escaped the Ruston prisoner of war camp Wednesday. He was seen on the highway yesterday by Motorcycle Patrolman James Freeman. The latter thought Schulz was a hitch-hiker soldier and merely stopped out of curiosity. The prisoner was wearing a U. S. army field jacket and overseas cap, taken from a soldier on duty at the camp.

When the hitch-hiker replied to him in German and held out his German army "dog tag," Freeman took him in custody.

Schulz was returned to the Ruston camp last night.
