L. Emet Walker Appointed

The honorable County Commissioners' Court in its regular monthly session January 12 accepted the resignation of Fred Henderson as county clerk, effective January 28, 1920, and appointed L. Emet Walker as clerk to serve out the unexpired term; and directed that he enter into bond in the sum of $8,000 as required by law.

The court directed that the sum of $300 per month for five months be allowed to S. H. Gilliland, tax assessor, beginning January 1, 1920, for clerical work, taking assessments, making out tax rolls, etc., and that scrip issue on the common fund be referred.

The court ordered that county clerk issue scrip on R. and B. fund to pay the Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron Co., the sum of $1950 in payment of warrant No. 2 for $1500 and accrued interest.

The court approved the bond of W. E. Dickerson as county road engineer in sum of $2500 with Brooke Smith of Brown county as surety.—Democrat-Voice.

BIG ACREAGE TO BE DRILLED BY JUNE 1

A. L. Irish and H. P. Klausner, independent oil operators of San Francisco, have blocked acreage in the western part of the county and are under contract to begin drilling by June 1st.

The acreage involved is the McCord lands and is included in the following surveys: J. W. Meek 159, Jacob Rinard 319, J. H. Gibson 19.

Contract Calls for 3600 Feet.
The contract and forfeit money, which is now on deposit in a Coleman bank, calls for operations to begin not later than June 1, 1920, standard rig and depth of 3600 feet is specified. Mr. Klausner will be in charge of the operations here.

Lucas Showing 5 Million Gas.
Jordan et al, operating on the Lucas tract in the Santa Anna field, is showing from five to six million cubic feet of gas in 1919. The drill is reported two or three feet in the sand.

Gulf's Russell Showing.
The Gulf Company's Russell No. 3, just over the line in Runnels county, had a good showing of oil at 1870 and a second showing around 2000. The oil and gas stratas in Russell No. 3 are reported as being about 75 feet deeper than in Russell No. 1, 1800 feet to the southwest.

Local Drilling Notes.
Gulf States Company, Babington tract, cleaning up to start operations.

Roth et al, Overall drilling 600.

Jim Ned Co., Dibrell, shut down for fishing tool.

Simms Company, Dibrell 2, running 15-inch casing at 500.

Simms Company, Dibrell 1, on pump, reporting making 10 barrels.

Texas-Arizona, Adams, under-reaming to set 8-inch casing.

Texas Company, Love, resumed drilling at 1840 after being shut down for crew.

Dodwell and Teatsorth, Candler, resumed fishing.

This paper has no report on other wells drilling in Coleman county. Wet weather and impassable roads has made scouting difficult if not impossible.

AT METHODIST CHURCH

My text last Sunday morning was: "Shall not the judge of all the earth do right?" In asking for the text I said that I would prove "that the judge of all the earth will do right." Had you read the book of Genesis you must have caught the words of the text.

To promote Bible reading: If you will find in the Bible where in speaking of the nature of Christ it is said: "He took upon himself the nature of man, sin excepted." The first one giving me this text will receive a five dollar check. One person has said that they would be ready Sunday morning January 25th to get the check. All invited.

Josephus Lee, Pastor, Methodist Church, Santa Anna.

Tom Jenkins left Wednesday evening for Sipe Springs to work in the oil fields. The family will remain here.

SANTA ANNA SAND ATTRACTS NORTHERN MEN

Utilization of the natural gas of the Eastland and Stephens County oil fields as fuel for industries that may be operated in the gas fields is attracting attention now, and there are several persons in Eastland interested in establishing such industries. One of the industries that the natural gas fields always attracts is in a fair way to be represented both in Ranger and at Frankell. This is the glass-making business. The natural gas here is ideal fuel and there are deposits of sand suitable for glass making within easy reach of the field. The glass sand at Santa Anna is already being employed in several places where gas is available for fuel and it has proven to be admirable for the purpose.

H. A. Wick of Pittsburgh, Pa., is the latest Eastern capitalist to look into the glass factory situation in these fields. He has been in Ranger and along the line of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad for a week looking into the gas supply and is eminently well pleased with it. He will return to Pittsburgh in a few days to get his capital together for building a large glass bottle factory either at Ranger or Frankell.—Dallas News.

Do not fail to pay your Santa Anna Independent School Tax before February 1st, 1920.

The School board employed the writer to assess and collect the tax for Santa Anna Independent School District this year and you find me at my office.

TOOLS FISHED FROM OLD TEST NEAR SAN ANGELO

San Angelo—Interest in Tom Green County's possibilities of ultimately securing oil in paying quantities was revived Saturday when it was announced that tools had been fished from the San Angelo Oil and Gas Company's well on the John Harris place, three miles north of town, and that drilling would commence soon at 2465 feet. The well was temporarily abandoned at this depth in 1917 and the Ranger Investment and Development Company assumed charge on December 1 under a contract to drill to 2750 feet or sink a new hole to that level. Four and one-quarter inch casing must be set, the water must be shut off and the hole reamed out before drilling can start. Gas started in small volume two years ago is still showing and is considered a good indication.

County Superintendent

To the Voters of Coleman County:

I desired to announce to the voters of Coleman county that I will be a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction subject to the Democratic Primary.

I consider the office one in which much good can be accomplished, as the greatest heritage that can be given the children of the land is a good education; and the best way to guarantee a good education is to have good schools; and the only way to have good schools throughout the county is to have a Superintendent who has the interest of the children at heart, and has made and is making teaching the profession of a lifetime; and also has the interest of the tax payer at heart, to see that value is received for all money spent. As to my qualification for the office, will state that I have taught in the public schools for 20 years, both in the Rural Schools of Bell County and in the Coleman Public Schools where I have been engaged for the past sixteen years.

I do not consider this office a political office, but one in which good work can be done, yet the people of the county should elect the County Superintendent and I believe the best service could be given by a lady instead of a man as a great part of the teachers of the county are young ladies who need the encouragement and sympathetic help that a man can not give.

I would thank you to consider my candidacy and if found worthy that you will give me your vote and influence.

Respectfully,
(Mrs.) L. Annie Evetts.

A Japanese Prayer.

Holy Zenku, high above,
Teach me all—there is in love,
All of wisdom, all success,
All the world can give to bless.
Knowledge of all human hearts,
Sympathy of all the marts,
How to die and how to live,
Love alone to me can give.

When we cease to play to an audience of one, we either begin playing to the gallery as a whole, which is cheap; or we leave off playing altogether, which is old age and the end of all things.

Melba's First Concert.

From the "British Music," Madam Melba gives an interesting account of her first concert. "I was quite a young girl in Australia, when, notwithstanding the persistent discouragement of my father, who was adverse to the idea of a singers' career for me, I engaged a hall, and sent around a notice to all my friends, saying that I proposed to give an entertainment which I hoped they would patronize. However, unfortunately for me, somebody mentioned the scheme to my father, and he, furious at my enterprise, begged everyone of his acquaintance to uphold his parental authority by ignoring the performance. But even then I wasn't disheartened, and when the day came I drove to the hall, and at the hour announced for the commencement of my concert stepped on to the platform—to find myself face to face with an audience of two. And nobody else came."

The Thursday Thimble Club postponed their meeting on last Thursday, on account of the bad weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baxter entertained with a turkey dinner on Sunday. The table was laden down with wonderfully good eats reminding the guests of the yuletide, as this was really their Christmas dinner. They had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rendleman, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Collier and Mrs. Dick Dillingher of Galveston.

The Woodmen of the World entertained with a reception and supper on last Saturday evening. Early in the evening the Woodmen installed their officers, then the Woodmen Circle, installing theirs directly after. Mr. C. P. Gress delivered a very clever address. All his interest lies in the welfare of our little city, therefore he demands co-operation. Mr. S. J. Pieratt, one of our oldest and well known citizens, also gave an address.

Inspiring Victrola music filled the spacious hall and all attention was soon given over to the long table covered with every eat to be found. Refreshments were served and later every one attended the picture show.

Misses Analou Parker, Inez Marshall, Lucille May and Mr. C. Caffie, formed a party that went to Brownwood Sunday, returning on the late train. They reported the time was crowded with pleasures.

No city or town can prosper permanently without the strong co-operation and support of the people, the paper itself cannot push its interests along all lines. No paper can be strong long without backing and all available support of the home town.

Mr. Jim Gardner of Wichita Falls, is visiting his mother.

Joe Shield of Trickham, was in town last week to meet his sister, who has been visiting several points in New Mexico.

Robt. Stiles left last Monday for Roswell, New Mexico.

Ray Garrett was in Brownwood last week.

Lee Woodward made a short business trip to Brownwood, leaving Sunday night.

Milton Hunter is visiting his mother and his young daughter, who lives with her aunt, Mrs. L. O. Garrett.

Miss Faith Raney spent the week-end in Coleman visiting with different friends.

Mr. Smith, of Coleman, but who was formerly with the Ragsdale Bakery, was in town Saturday and Sunday.

Quite a few of the cotton pickers are leaving the country, although considerable grain and acreage still remain in cotton to be picked.

Mr. Merle Belcher returned Sunday from a business trip to Goldthwaite.

Robert Garrett, who has been attending A. and M. College, has returned and taken a position with the First State Bank. We are glad to see him there for he's business through and through.

Misses Alice Burden and Belle Ryan were spending the week-end at home. Both are attending business school in Brownwood and expect to finish soon.

Quite a number of people were enjoying themselves last Sunday, by taking a walk on the mountain. A nice drive arranged along the rimrock would show ourselves, as well as strangers what a nice town we have.

It is said a number of the young marable men about town are getting quite anxious about Leap Year. Almost a month is gone and no proposals of marriage—we are thinking of making a list in near future so any who have received encouragement, kindly inform us before publishing the list!

Ray Faulkner and E. M. Stein are in Brownwood.

Mr. M. L. McFarland of Brownwood is in town on business.

O. C. Petty of Brownwood has returned and is with the City Garage.

The Santa Anna News has completed printing the wedding announcements for Dewey Pieratt. All that is needed is the date and the girl's name. Get busy girls.

W. E. Webster went to Bangs and Brownwood on business Sunday.

Wood and Coal COOK Stoves

We have just received, direct from the Charter Oak factory, another shipment of coal and wood stoves. Charter Oak Stoves lead the world for quality and the price is no higher than those of many inferior brands. They are more economical in the use of fuel and they last longer. If you have never used a Charter Oak your neighbor has—ask her.

GAS REFLECTORS—We are also in receipt of a few more Rezenor gas reflectors. We can hardly get these fast enough this season to supply the demand. Get yours before they are gone.

SENIORS.

The finals passed as a cyclone might pass a peaceful village and left just about the same destruction behind them. They were all that passed though.

A great commotion was heard out in the hall Monday, and when we rushed out to ascertain the cause, it was only Duaine's shirt and Mabel's shoes coming along.

Nettie is getting very "classy

Several new pupils have been enrolled this week. S. A. H. S. has the largest attendance ever known here.

Seniors will thank all who attended the show Wednesday and SOPHS.

Last week was final exam week and most of us passed this terms work. "Just watch the Sophs work this term."

We welcome Velda and Ruby into the ranks of the "Sophs."

On the 8th of January the L. D. C. Club had a spread in the English room, with Miss Taylor as both guest and chaperon. The boys of our class were supposed to be with us but for some reason they did not show up. We guess they thought it was best not to come. Clifford thinks so at least.

One of our class members heard a junior say: "Why do old maids wear gloves?" "To keep the chaps off," was the reply.

Miss Undine in Caesar class, "Robert read the first line in the first chapter in your book."

One afternoon in history class Mr. Earp sent one of our boys down stairs to get a supply of paper and pencils. In a short time he returned with the paper and pencils and Mr. Earp said, "Well you were gone an awfully long time; what was the trouble?"

"Ah, I had to swipe all the pencils I could find out of that Freshman Department," was the

Cotton Report

There were 30,699 bales of cotton, counting round and half bales, ginned in Coleman county, from the crop of 1919 prior to Jan. 1, 1920, as compared with 762 bales ginned to Jan. 1, 1919. There is quite an acreage still in the field.

Misses Adelle and Corine Edgerton of Coleman, have been visiting friends here. Several parties were given in their honor. Mrs. Fred Turner entertained one evening. Also a few couples gathered one evening at the home of Miss Grace Ewing for a couple of pleasant hours.

The following article is from the pen of Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Department of the Interior, and goes to show what the wonders of petroleum can accomplish. Read it carefully it carries a wonderful amount of thought for all:

As a lubricant, it has become of such universal use that it has been called the barometer of industry, and no doubt after it has ceased to be a popular illuminant or a source of powder it will live invaluable as the thing which lets the wheels go around. Its greatest popularity now arises out of its use in the internal-combustion engine, and of the making of these there is no end.

It draws railroad trains and drives street cars. It pumps water, lifts heavy loads, has taken the place of millions of horses and in 20 years has become a farming, industrial, business, and social necessity. The naval and the merchant ships of fitted and being fitted to use it this country and of England are either under steam boilers as fuel or directly in the Diesel engine. The aeroplane has been made possible by it. It propels that modern juggernaut, the tank. In the air it has no rival, while on land and sea it threatens the supremacy of its rivals whenever it appears. There has been no such magician since the day of Aladdin as this drop of mineral oil. Medicines and dyes and high explosives are distilled from it. No one knows whence it cometh or whither it goeth. Men search for it with the passion of the early Argonauts and the promise now is that nations will yet fight to gain the fitful bed in which it lies.

The "oil spring" which George Washington found in western Virginia and by his last will called to the special consideration of his trustees was the promise of a continental well which last year yielded 356,000,000 barrels.

HOME TOWN FEELING.

It takes a lot of psychology to promote Home Town Feeling and civic loyalty. You may argue about it and show the excellent reasons for it, and then you may not be able to sway the crowd to do anything. But some one may come along with a "Come on, boys," and by the simple contagion of enthusiasm stir up the whole town to do something big.

After all, personal enthusiasm is the biggest factor. Hope and faith are contagious. The man who sees big things ahead for his home town, and who goes ahead with confidence and courage, rarely fails to accomplish big things.

The people of Santa Anna believe in the future of the town and are willing to work for progress, if active people will take the lead and organize public efforts. Every time you speak with confidence and affection and appreciation of your home town, every time you do something to make it a still better and finer place, you help promote that enthusiasm which is the most essential element in Home Town Feeling.

Home Sweet Home

"Home"—There is no sweeter word, no dearer place in the wide world than Home. The right kind of home is a blessing to the family and to the nation. Many young people would never leave the place they call home, if the real home atmosphere existed.

To make the home a place full of comfort, good cheer, and the most loving memories, it needs more than three square meals a day. There is nothing that will help more to enjoy life and to make your home a better place for all concerned than a Phonograph.

If you do not have a Phonograph, you are going to get one and you'll get it as soon as you realize what it would mean to you, to your family and friends.

Before you purchase your phonograph, however, hear the "Golden-Throated" Claxtonola and you will choose it on account of its many merits.

PRINTSHOP PROBLEMS.

(From the Brownwood Bulletin)
 During the past few days there have been interesting developments in the history of three of the small newspapers published in this county. The Bangs Enterprise, the May Messenger and the Zephyr News, each of which heretofore have been published as an individual enterprise in the three towns of this county, have been acquired by the Mayes Printing Company of this city, publishers of the Bulletin and the Weekly Banner-Bulletin, and in the future each will be published by that company. Under the new arrangement each paper will retain its individual identity and each will continue to serve its own community as heretofore; but the plan of co-operative publication will relieve each paper of much of its share of the heavy burden of expense which heretofore has been one of the bugaboos of the individual publishers, and will enable each paper to serve its own community better than ever before.

There was a time when the publishers of the small town newspaper was one of the most independent men on earth. But as the costs of living have increased, it has been found that the newspaper business is extremely unprofitable in the average town of three or four or even six or eight hundred people, and newspapers in scores of these small towns are finding themselves confronted with problems which are overwhelming many of them.

Robert Garrett, who has been attending A. and M. College, has returned and taken a position, with the First State Bank. We are glad to see him there for his business through and through.

NEEDED TO BREAK RECORDS

Dorothy Evidently Had Far to Go if She Intended to Outshine Her Uncle.

A Hoosier newspaper man recently went to visit his brother's family, consisting of the brother, his wife and two tiny daughters. Now, the uncle's typewriter, which he felt necessary to take with him, and his trunk, were two articles in which the two little girls were much interested. And two-year-old Dorothy watched every chance she could get to examine both. Five-year-old Ruth also was attracted to them, but some way or other had great trouble in telling which was which.

One day Dorothy got to the trunk when it was open. So straightway she began to pull from its depth many articles of uncle's wearing apparel. Just as she was most intent in doing this Ruth happened into the room. "Horrible she ran to her father and uncle. "Oh, daddy," she began, "Dorothy is getting the most awful things out of uncle's typewriter."

Father grinned. "She surely has to be some getter," he remarked meaningly to his brother, "if she can manage to get anything worse out of it than you do."—Indianapolis News.

PRESS AGENT'S CRUELTY.
 The late Tody Hamilton, famous as a circus press agent, once planned a special performance at the winter headquarters of his show. He arranged to feed beer to the animals in their cages and notified the New York newspapers.

Among the reporters was a bibulous veteran known as "Billy." The night before his assignment he had been engaged in a severe bout with John Barleycorn and the next day felt greatly in need of a pick-me-up. As the keepers, under Hamilton's direction, poured gallons of beer into the receptacles for the animals sniffing at it indifferently, Billy became more and more incensed at the waste.

"I can't stand this any longer, Tody," he exclaimed. "For the love of Mike, haven't you got an empty cage for me?"—Everybody's Magazine.

DANISH RAILWAYS.

The principal railways of Denmark are owned and operated by the government. The length of the government roads is 2,103 kilometers (1,307 miles) and that of the several private roads is 2,067 kilometers (1,284 miles). The private companies operate, for the most part, only the short lines, whereas the government operates the main lines and handles the greater part of the business.

Ok—Did you think of that $10 you owe me?

A QUERY QUASHED.

"Anyhow," said Uncle Bill Bottletop, "there's one great question disposed of. Nobody stops you to say, 'Wot'll you have?'"

In his letter of invitation to the men who are to make up the new gathering, president Wilson said the "new representatives should have concern that our industries may be conducted with such regard for justice and fair dealings that the workmen will feel himself induced to put forth his best efforts; that the employer will have an encouraging profit and that the public will not suffer at the hands of either class."

THE VIEW.

"Would you regard the shooting of Americans in Mexico as a casus bellum?"
 "No, sir; I'd regard it as a low-down greaser outrage."

Tom Hurt, the driller on the Schumacher lease, was badly burned on the face and hands on Thursday evening. Mr. Hurt was taken to the hospital and Dr. Sealey reports he is getting along nicely.

ORGANIZATION OF FARMERS AND WHAT IT MEANS TO THEM

Profits of Manufacture.—In a recent circular we called your attention to some of the immense profits made by manufacturers out of your cotton. We did this to show our farmers that cotton is selling at about $60 per bale under value, and that Federal influences are exerted to beat down prices. We called your attention to the difference between what the speculators and the Government call a "fair price" as compared to our cost-of-production-and-a-profit price.

Could Pay $1.00 per Pound.—Mr. Wannamaker, President of the American Cotton Association, in the Manufacturers' Record of January 8, 1920, page 102, after investigating the profits of manufacturers, says in part: "The information gained is startling. On one shipment of strict middling cotton that had been sold at 41 cents per pound, the manufactured goods sold for $1.43 per pound. The cost of manufacturing was 22 cents. This left to the manufacturer 80 cents additional profit. He (the manufacturer) frankly stated that he could pay $1.00 per pound for cotton, basis middling, and make a handsome profit."

We will suppose that the above was a 500 pound bale. It brought the farmer $205. It cost 22 cents per pound or $110 per bale to manufacture it into cloth, and it sold at $1.43 per pound or $715 per bale, a profit of $400, between producer and consumer. Some Profit. According to Mr. Wannamaker's statement above the manufacturer could pay $1 per pound for strict middling cotton; in which case the farmer would receive $500 for the bale. Add to this $110 as the cost of manufacturing into cloth, which gives as the total cost to the manufacturer of $610 for the bale, leaving as his net profit $105. At the present price he pays for the bale, his profit is $400. Some Spread.

This Department recently called your attention to the activities of Federal influences to force down the price of cotton to the so-called market price while the Agricultural Department's figures show that this "market price" is from $40 to $60 below cost of production, or from eight to twelve cents below the price for which we are contending, which is 45 cents per pound. Are we asking too much when the manufacturer says that he can pay $1.00 per pound and still make a good profit?

What Has the Government to do with This?—One manufacturer declared: "I frankly acknowledge that we are making enormous and excess profits out of every pound of cotton today, but then we are giving a great part of these profits to the Government, and if the profits were distributed among the host of producers, the Government would not get the benefit of them." Does this make the Government a party to profiteering? Can it be possible that these government Boards are forcing down prices to the producer and up to the consumer to get money to run the Government? Or is it a manufacturer's camouflage to justify profiteering?

Granted that the Government did this as a war measure, if it did it a all. The war is over, the soldiers demobilized and honorably discharged. People no longer talk war. It is charged that when these excess profits are paid into the U. S. Treasury, they are later charged back to the consumer. If this is true, then the consumer pays about $2.50 in increased prices, to get one dollar for the government. In the meantime, who is profiteer-

HONOR BELONGS TO JACKSON

His Statue in Washington Was First of Its Kind to Be Unveiled in United States.

The Jackson statue in Lafayette park, Washington, was the first equestrian statue unveiled in the United States. The famous statue of George III, which the New York patriots pulled down in 1776, was built before there was a United States. The Jackson statue was designed and erected by Clark Mills, a "self-made" sculptor, who started life as a plasterer. He had never seen an equestrian statue before he started work on this one and the appliances for modeling and casting were made by him. The metal in the group is made of cannon captured by Jackson from the British.

The equipoise of the group is perfect and no important balancing rods are used to keep the statue from toppling, an exchange says. Mills claimed that he had so perfectly attained the center of gravity in the work that the group would balance perfectly on the hind feet of the rearing charger. This fact was proved, but when the statue was erected the hind feet of the horse were bolted or otherwise fastened to the base or pedestal to secure it against the possible effects of high winds or other disturbing or mischievous causes.

"Monkey Puzzle" Tree Puts Out Thorns That Discourage All Attempts at Familiarity.

The famous "monkey puzzle" tree, growing in the public gardens of old St. George's, in the Bermudas, is a very fine specimen of a tree not found in temperate zones. This tree is so called because very sharp, long thorns protrude from the trunk, thus making it impossible for even the most adventurous monkey to climb the tree. It is a veritable porcupine among trees. The "monkey puzzle" tree grows to a considerable height and its trunk, so thickly studded with forbidding thorns, makes others, besides monkeys, give it wide berth. Thorns are the natural protection of trees and shrubs, and are one of the factors in the survival of various forms of plant life. The more completely a tree, shrub or vine is thus protected the greater are its chances of propagating its kind and the better able it is to withstand the depredations of animals, because there are few that care to "tackle" an armor of stout thorns.

DOUBLE APPLE.

Good old Dame Nature has given us many wonderful things, and also many freaks. While in a good many cases she has had the help of men who have made a study of social phases of plant life, she can take full credit for a large majority of them. Now, up among the apple orchards of the great Northwest she has added new laurels to her already long list by producing some really remarkable double apples. "Siamese twin" apples, if you please. In one shipment of 900 boxes there were more than a boxful of these curious products of fruitland. The fruit will be exhibited merely as a curiosity.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

STIMULANTS OF MANY KINDS

Almost All Nations Have a Peculiar Intoxicant to Which They Are Unduly Partial.

The betel nut is chewed by at least 50,000,000; an uncleanly habit which is not likely ever to gain much vogue in this country. The leaves of cocoa are chewed by many millions, to whom our more refined and incomparably more deadly indulgence in their alkaloid cocaine, is unknown or inaccessible. Stramonium, offensive as it is to most of us, is used as an intoxicant by millions. The South Sea islanders get howling drunk on kava, which is a fiery liquor brewed from a species of pepper. The big red seeds of the gora, more commonly known in this country as kola nuts, are a favorite intoxicant of the African natives. The amanita muscaria, or fly mushroom, which here is a deadly poison and is the cause every year of numerous cases of serious illness and death to those who mistake it for the edible mushroom, is in Siberia and especially in Kamchatka commonly eaten as an intoxicant, without worse results than those which attend the drinking of whisky.

Nor is this city such in name only; it has all the departments that go to make up a flourishing municipality, and its youthful citizens are trained in all the civic virtues, plus those sterner qualities that come only from direct contact with nature and the solution of problems as they arise. To the English or American reader comparison with the boy scout program, in its original form is inevitable. These youngsters are taught, for example, to go three days honestly without a soldo (we would say a cent) in their pockets; to establish telegraphic communication, to serve as nurses—in short, to become as self-dependent as is consistent with modern progress.

MESS CALL GOT HIM.

The lieutenant was decidedly sleepy and settled down deep in his chair in one of the Indianapolis vaudeville theaters. The summer vaudeville program chugged its weary way onward.

At last the audience was released and soon had left the theater, all except the lieutenant, who was sleeping soundly in the vacant parquet. The leader of the orchestra turned on the cornetist, who played retreat call. Still Morpheus held sway. He blew an Nth power jazz note, still with no effect. Then the cheering notes of mess call sounded forth.

On the first of the culinary "Ta-ta-ta-ra-ra" notes, the weary soldier jumped from the chair, took a look about the theater and proceeded double time to the exit.

The Benefits Gained From Club Work

Why should there be a woman's club in my town and why should I belong to it, are questions frequently asked by women who feel that their time is already full to the brim with household cares and the rearing of their children.

The question arises either from ignorance as to what club work really is, or it is an index to the selfishness or short sightedness of that home. The question when it does not spring from ignorance is equal to asking, "When I am sheltered and protected, why should I care if there are women underfed and overworked and when my own children are healthy and happy, breathing fresh air and living in God's out of doors, why should I care about others children less fortunate, who are shut away from the sunshine and who spend their days amid the deafening roar of factory machinery? Then follows the worn old adage which covers a multitude of selfishness, "Charity begins at home," some people believe also that it ends there.

The benefits of club work are many and varied, but from the selfish viewpoint comes, the best argument of all, that of protecting ourselves and our homes. One can not be charitable to ones own home without making a study of outside conditions. The purity of the food this woman serves to her family depends upon the laws governing its manufacture, yet, she is in all probability ignorant of the fact that the great pure-food law existing in the United States is almost entirely the result of the organized womanhood in this land. Had she given of her time, strength and means she might have eased the burden borne by the few and today she might have been a lifter instead of "leaner", one who lets others bear their burdens of labor and worry and care. The enactment of this law protects her home—but why should this interest her? The sweat-shop garments come into her home loaded with disease germs, her children at school sit beside tubercular children; they drink from the common cup water not fit for use; they eat tartyed candies and buy bottled drinks flavored with poisonous acids and cocaine mixtures, yet she calmly tells us that "Charity begins at home," and asks why she should lend her interest, her name and her labor in aiding the organized workers who are seeking to remedy these evils.

A study of club work will convince the most skeptical that organized womanhood is working for the protection of the individual home, and that every club interest is like an avenue leading back to the home. Every citizen in the land is menaced by the great white plague, which reaches out from the slums like the waters of an overflowing lake creeping with noiseless stealth under the door and flooding in at the windows of mansion as well as cottage. It is a common foe from which we must protect ourselves and selfishly or unselfishly, we must turn back the waters and prevent destruction. An ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure and we can not afford to wait until the water reaches our door sill before acting, else the time for "prevention" will be past and the cure is more than uncertain. Before the waters reach us we must have prepared an outlet for the overflowing lake and this the club women are trying to do in their work for shorter hours of labor, open air schools, public playgrounds, child labor laws, sanitary school buildings and hundreds of like interests which may seem foreign and unnecessary to the woman sitting comfortably in her home deaf to the calls and pleadings of those down by the lakeside—those who by protecting their own homes, are also protecting hers.

This woman hovers tenderly over her daughter who has just come in from school with a blinding headache and with nerves all a tingle, or she sits up at night nursing her son who has worked himself into a fever over the examinations when her help and inspiration given to the woman's club of her town might have prevented the conditions which caused the havoc in her home. She is grieved when the boy uses coarse uncouth language, picked up on the school playground or her daughter confesses to foul impure knowledge but she does not aid the club in its endeavor to secure supervision of the school grounds during school hours nor does she give her voice and vote in urging the educators to instruct children along the lines of personal hygiene in the school course.

Public waterways and irrigation, preservation of the forests and natural resources are questions not worthy her time and yet she is a mother and grandmother. What kind of mother-love is that which will rob a child of its birthright, not even in exchange for the "mess of red pottage," but throw it away through indifference?

The thought that some one else will attend to these things, some one who knows better how to do it, who has time and means to give to this public service and who is willing and able to go ahead, comes as a relief to many a conscientious woman and frees her from the feeling of responsibility. It is true that some are more fitted to manage this work but the few who can must have the support and backing given them by numbers, for public service can be accomplished in no other way. The woman who is not able to give of her time and energies can at least give her name, insignificant as it may be; plain "Mary Jane Snooks" as one of a hundred thousand names at the end of a petition for better public conditions is useful, while simply her moral support and interest through her club may be an incentive to those brave souls who are able and willing to bear the brunt of the battle.

A still more selfish viewpoint of the benefits of club work is yet to be considered, the influence of this work upon the woman herself. She who belongs to a study circle who prepares club programs, who reads books to inform herself upon certain lines of thought for the purpose of discussion, who meets other women with whom she exchanges ideas, who opens her home to club meetings and who gives of herself, and takes of others and who believes that "It is not what we give, but what we share; for the gift without the giver is bare," she it is who enjoys life; she keeps young with her children and enjoys their society, while they find her an inspiration to push ahead into that fullness a companion to her husband instead of his housekeeper, and she is a helpmate instead of a parasite; of her it may be said, "Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all."

No charity does not begin at home, but it duds there, Charity begins in the Universal Brotherhood of Man, the Sisterhood of which is the club spirit.

The Most Welcome Tire That Ever Came to Market

Men Who Appreciate Superlative Values Prefer The Brunswick

In every great tire factory, the chief question is: "How much can we give for the money?" And the product depends on the policy adopted.

Every man who has become acquainted with Brunswick Tires knows that Brunswick standards are again evident. This famous concern—noted as a leader in every line it entered since 1845—has once more proved that its policy is right.

A perfect tire is simply a matter of knowledge and standards and skill. No secrets nor patents prevent making an ideal tire.

But standards come first. For in tire making there is vast room for skimping, for subtle economies, for hidden shortcomings. Makers without the highest standards don't build high-grade tires.

The Brunswick organization of tire makers includes a brilliant staff of technical experts. Not a man among them has spent less than 20 years in handling rubber.

Each is a master of his craft. And the new ideas they bring to the attention of Brunswick directors receive sincere consideration.

Every proved betterment is adopted unanimously.

The Brunswick Tire is a combination of acknowledged features—plus Brunswick standards of manufacture.

The result is a super-tire, the like of which you have never known before. The kind of a tire you will gladly join in welcoming.

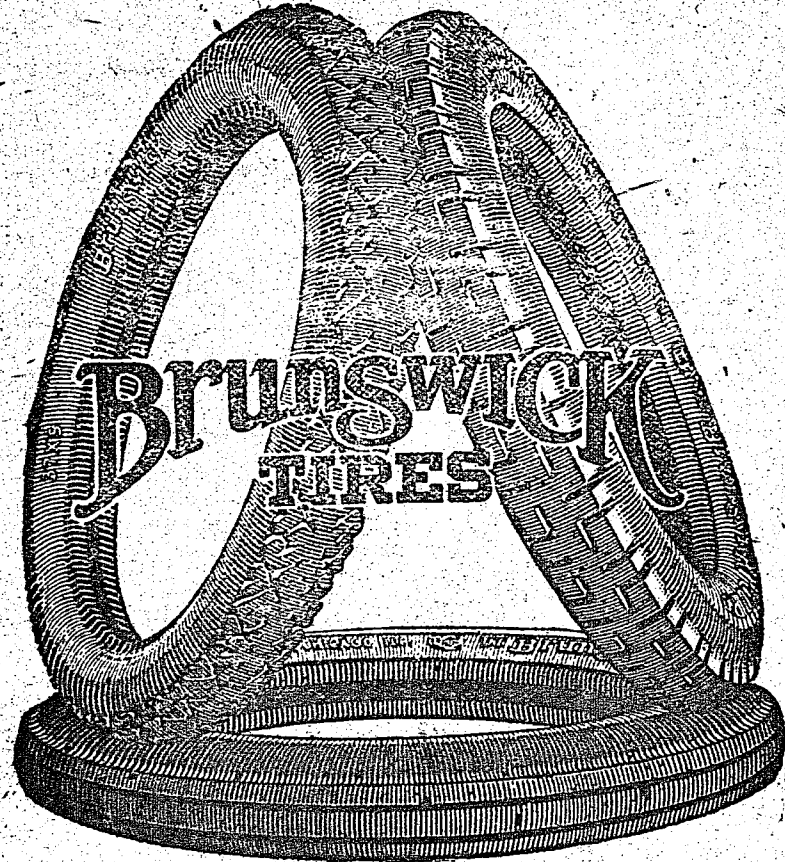

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Try ONE Brunswick. We promise a surprise. And we feel certain that you will want ALL Brunswicks.

Then good tires will have a new meaning to you.

per cent fail in business between the ages of 40 and 50? That ninety-five per cent have no money at the age of 60? We have been very successful in getting men out of the eighty-five, the ninety-two and the ninety-five per cent class. Let us increase your salary. We have been marvelously successful in raising salaries, as is conclusively proven in our catalogue by the letters from former students. The business world wants thinkers and doers. There's a famine of high priced men today; there are thousands of men worth a thousand dollars a year, but only a few worth ten thousand a year. Be the latter kind of a man, you can if you will. We know that a man is not worth much from the chin down, selling muscle, but as high as a hundred thousand dollars a year from the chin up, selling brains. Be a chin upper and sell brains; but remember you must get them before you can sell them. Take our thorough, practical courses of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Cotton Classing, Business Finance and Telegraphy, learn how to think, to remember, to imagine and act. We can teach you and will therefore greatly increase your usefulness throughout life.

Our large catalogue is free for the asking. Fill in and mail the following blank at once.

HAD IT EVER OCCURRED TO YOU.

You do just four things; you think, you remember, you imagine, you act. When you learn to think better, remember better, imagine better or act better, you increase your efficiency, and, therefore, your income. Perhaps you are very successful now, but of how much benefit will a practical business education be to you. You will agree with us that to violate a part of the laws of business means partial failure, and to violate all the laws means complete failure. You are also aware that to observe part of the laws of business means partial success, and to observe all the laws means complete success. Our aim is to help you observe a higher per cent of the laws of business success. The late Prof. James of Harvard declared that the average man uses only ten per cent of his brain power. Suppose you are twice as capable as the average man? Even that would mean you are only twenty per cent of your maximum possibilities. The purpose of our course is to produce a greater efficiency with less effort. Did you ever stop to think that eighty-five per cent of the men of this country are earning only $18 per week or less? that ninety-two

READ OUR NOVEL PLAN

Who is Your Business Partner?
Your Investment Now---Your Dividend Later

Refinery in the Desdemona Oil Field. Your investments and your profits. All refineries outside the oil field pay 25 to 40 cents per barrel as pipeline charges. We don't. We save you that 126 per cent. No worthless wildcat leases. No dry holes. No speculation. Safe, legitimate investment. Stock at par.

Let your brain act. Your money work, take the following facts---

$1000.00 invested in the Texas Company (Hogg-Swain Syndicate) 17 years ago, has paid 17 dividends and today that $1000.00 is worth $13,000,000.00; $100.00 is worth $1,300,000.00.

$1000.00 invested in the Humble Refining Co., besides paying many times your money back is worth $200,000.00. $100.00 is worth $20,000.00.

These figures but reflect what many other refineries are doing.

The Golden Rod Oil and Refining Co., in the Burkburnett field, operating a 1000-barrel plant, declared a 100% dividend the first 75 days. This plant has been operating since June 10, 1919.

The Ohio Fuel and Oil Stockholders were paid 224% last year. Wichita Refining Company's stockholders were paid 294% last year.

Who will be your partner?

Well-known bankers and successful business men. Well known oil and refining men who have made a success. These successful business men offer to take you in as a business partner, and help you make money on your idle capital that is now paying you no interest. Read our plan.

Our Plan.

We will sell the first $100,000.00 at par value of $1.00 per share and build the first 1000 barrel unit by March 1920 and begin operation and paying dividends every 90 days from date of operation (only paying dividends on stock sold). Then raise the stock to no less than $1.25 per share.

The second issue of $100,000.00 will be sold at not less than $1.25 per share and the second unit built, making 2000 barrels in operation and the same method will be continued until our stock is raised to $2.00 per share and our refinery built to 6000 barrels.

To our friends or prospectives who expect to buy our stock at par, would ask that you see our representatives. Only be a few days until our first 100,000 sold and stock advanced.

Owing to the small capitalization and large capacity; no promotion stock; no wild cat leases; the unusual location and enormous dividends and the many others virtues of the Desdemona Refinery, the short campaign in the sale of our stock has been a remarkable success.
