SANTA ANNA HIGH SCHOOL OPENING

SUPERINTENDENT, TWELVE TEACHERS AND ABOUT 375 PUPILS BEGIN YEARS EDUCATIONAL WORK

As per schedule the Santa Anna public schools were opened last Monday morning with the entire faculty and about 350 pupils present. Other pupils have come in during the week bringing the enrollment for the first week up to about 375.

Very nearly every seat in the chapel of the new school building was occupied when Prof. Jones called order and announced the beginning of another year's school work.

After a song and invocation short but appreciative addresses were made by Bros. J. D. Allen, J. M. Youree and H. F. Brooks.

Prof. Jones then announced to the school that the old order of splitting the grades in two would be done away with, except in the lower grades. Hereafter there will be no mid-term promotions. Prof. Jones gives as his reason for this change the fact that it takes three or four weeks to get the school in working order after the classes have been broken up for these half-grade promotions.

The twelve teachers were assigned work as follows:

- Low first, Mrs. J. M. Youree.
- High first, Miss Biddle Smith.
- Second, Miss Nell Ramsauer.
- Third, Miss Daisy Robins.
- Fourth, Miss Ethel McKnight.
- Fifth, Miss Mary Jones.
- Sixth, Mrs. Putman.
- Seventh, Miss Era Weaver.
- Eighth, Miss Connie Erwin.
- Ninth, Miss Stella McDaniel.
- Tenth, Miss Edna McDaniel.

Miss Helen Woody has the overflow from the fourth and fifth grades.

Prof. Jones expressed himself as well pleased with prospects for this year. The attendance is a little larger than it was at the beginning last year, an exceptionally fine corps of thoroughly experienced teachers has been employed and there is every reason to believe that this will be one of the most successful years in the history of the school.

THE STATE CAPITOL

Those who are accustomed to think of Texas only as a country of magnificent distances and to regard the people as primitive in their pursuits should visit the state capitol at Austin and view this splendid triumph in architecture, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries Association. It is the largest state capitol in the United States and approaches the national capitol in area and excels it in grandeur. It is the seventh largest building in the world. It was built exclusively from Texas materials and stands as a magnificent monument to the matchless and varied resources of our great state. To erect this building the state gave the contractors a block of counties equal in area to the grant which King James gave to the Earl of Warwick in 1630 to establish a colony in America and which is now the state of Connecticut. A description of the building follows:

The capitol building measures 600 feet from east to west; from north to south it measures 287 feet; from the ground to the top of the dome 313 feet; the Texas capitol is 6 feet higher than the national capitol, the latter being only 307 feet; the outside of the Texas capitol is built of finest red granite secured from the quarries in Burnett county, Texas; the quality and beauty of the material are equal to any in the world; wainscoting in the capitol is of oak, cherry, walnut, pine, ash, cedar and mahogany; the total length of the wainscoting is eight miles; the building alone covers three acres, the floor space in the building covering 20 acres; the capitol was built by a Chicago firm of contractors who received 3,000,000 acres of Panhandle land for compensation; construction was begun on the building in 1882 and was completed in 1886; in the grounds of the capitol there are 22 acres, 4 acres of walks and 4 acres of drives; among the attractions of the grounds at our state capitol are artificial lakes, plants and flowers of all kinds, monuments of Confederate soldiers, the Alamo, Firemen and the Texas Rangers.

FORMER SANTA ANNA MAN PAYS CONSCIENCE MONEY

A year or two ago a man was pretty well known in Santa Anna and was known to a number of people about town. There is nothing especially interesting in this part of the man's life as this sort of thing happens semi-occasionally in most communities.

With what patience they must have mastered the creditors of this particular delinquent waited for him, but he came.

Recently, at a meeting of the community where he was converted and this man, S. J. Pieratt received a check for $10 in part payment of the man owed him, with a pronouncement that more would follow. Also, L. W. Hummel received a check for $5 and Long a check for $5, from the same party. Mr. Pieratt says the man has at least $20 of religion, which is more than some church members have.

The prevailing price yesterday was 13:15, though some were sold for more and some for less.

RUSHING WORK ON ITS CUT-OFF

SANTA FE BUILDING FINE RAILROAD FROM COLEMAN, TEXAS, TO TEXICO, N. M.

The Santa Fe cut-off which is being constructed from Coleman, Texas, to Texico, N. M., is being completed, according to officials of the Santa Fe in this city. Trainloads of steel and ties are being rushed to the scene of tracklaying near Sweetwater. In the construction of this line only the heaviest of steel is being used and the most substantial of ties. Every tie has two tie plates and eight spikes. Temporary wooden bridges put in by the system on this line just before the track was laid are being removed and modern reinforced concrete structures are taking their places.

Nearly all of the proposed depots have been completed from Coleman to View City, and a gang of linemen are now stringing telegraph wires along the line.

This line when completed will cut the distance between Galveston and San Francisco some 300 miles and open up one of the richest trade territories in the state to Galveston merchants and

MAKING AN EXCUSE OF HARD TIMES

Money is not going to be as plentiful in Coleman county this fall and winter as it is when crops are good. It is evident now that quite a few people will not be able to meet their debts as they had planned. Some will make the shortness of the cotton crop an excuse for not paying even as much of their indebtedness as they could pay, thereby impairing their credit and injuring themselves. Fortunately these are in the minority. The great majority will pay every cent of their indebtedness possible, thus enabling their creditors to pass the money on and on to others, until presently a part of it will come back to themselves to be used again. The man who frankly and fairly does the best by his creditors that it is possible to do under the circumstances will get through any kind of hard times without embarrassment to himself or to them.

A man recently said to a prominent merchant of Santa Anna: "I had the money and could have paid you my entire account in 1907, but things looked so bad I thought probably I might need the money myself." It is just this brand of selfishness that makes hard times harder and panics more panicky. The merchant in question was literally forced to carry this debt twelve months longer than he had agreed to do. This was doing the merchant a great injustice in order to secure for himself a very doubtful advantage. In this instance the merchant was able to carry the debt, but many a man has gone bankrupt because those whom he had trusted did not pay even what they could have paid.

Merit never comes through good luck and a noble character is never molded through chance.

THAT DEPOSITORY ARTICLE

It may seem to an outsider that a newspaper man ought always to be able to express himself so plainly that no one could misconstrue his meaning, but every editor, no matter how careful he is and no matter how good his intentions are will occasionally have his words misconstrued even by his friends.

In an article in last week's paper the News showed how the school board was making a clear saving of $150 per annum in handling the school funds. We thought this commendable so we said: "This is pretty good economy the school board has adopted." We meant this as a compliment to the board. Imagine then our surprise when a member of the board accused us of speaking these words in irony and as a criticism of the action of the board. He is a friend of the News and wouldn't have accused us of this if he hadn't really thought the article was written in a spirit of criticism. He was kind enough to accept our word when we explained that the sentence was written in commendation and not in irony, or with any thought of irony.

In another feature of the same article, however, we really did another man an injustice. We stated that last year was the first year that the school funds drew interest, when as a matter of fact Mr. W. R. Kelley kept the funds the year before and paid five per cent interest on them, and received no salary for his work. We knew this at the time we wrote the article but somehow it slipped our mind. All we can say in extenuation of this injustice to Mr. Kelley is that it was wholly unintentional and that we regret it more than anyone else does.

The Sells-Forepaugh circus and menagerie will show in Brownwood October 18. The little fellows can get more fun to the square minute of time spent in a circus than anywhere else under the sun. They never forget the thrill of the chariot race or the lion's roar.

A REMARKABLE RECORD

On another page of this paper our readers will find a review of the work of the Campbell administration, outlining briefly the more important legislation passed since Gov. Campbell has been in office. The laws passed during this administration have been severely criticized by some of the city dailies—who, by the way, usually stand closer to the big corporations than they do to the people—and by men whose unholy grafts have been disturbed by this legislation. In addition, quite a good many honest people have been led by the city press to believe that the financial interests of the state were being injured and that foreign capital was being driven away by Gov. Campbell's administration. In view of the wonderful industrial and educational progress the state has made in the last four years it is strange that any man could be led to accept such an idea.

We are inclined to believe that nine-tenths of those who disapprove of the legislation passed during Mr. Campbell's administration get their opinions second-handed. If, among all these laws, any of our readers can find half a dozen that are objectionable and ought to be repealed we shall be glad to have you write the News pointing out these particular laws and stating why they are objectionable. It is very difficult to make a law that is absolutely perfect and it is more than likely that some of these laws are defective in some particulars but as a whole we consider them the finest lot of laws ever made during any administration in the history of the state. And so far as we are able to see no legitimate business interest has been injured—indeed why should any honest business fear any just law? On the contrary millions of outside money has flowed into the state and has found honest, profitable and safe investment, and tens of thousands of immigrants have found nothing in our laws to deter them from making the Lone Star state their home.

A NEW POLITICAL PARTY

Last week's elections have assured us that a new political party has arisen within the nation. The victories of the insurgents over the stand-pat Republicans in Wisconsin, Michigan and New Hampshire added to the victories previously achieved in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and California are proof sufficient that these so-called "insurgents" have already attained to the proportions of a national party.

These insurgents differ as widely from the old line Republicans as the Democrats do—indeed there are some Democrats who were more in accord with Cannon and Aldrich during the last session of Congress than were the insurgents, who are really in sympathy with many of Mr. Bryan's ideas of government, and who had much rather see the Democrats triumph than their ancient enemies, the stand-pat Republicans.

Mose Henderson, an oldtime darkey who lives at Americus, Georgia, invited a number of local attorneys to a rattlesnake feast Tuesday of this week. Mose insists that there is nothing so juicy and toothsome as a well-cooked rattlesnake and he wanted his white friends to enjoy this savory dish. It is said that many of the older negroes esteem the rattlesnake very highly as an article of diet, claiming that its flesh is even more delicate than fish or chicken. Uncle Mose showed good judgment in inviting the lawyers. He probably knew that if anybody could stand a rattlesnake diet a lawyer could, and it would be no national calamity if a few of them failed to survive.

Two years ago Maine went for Taft by more than thirty thousand majority and elected a solid Republican delegation to Congress. Monday F. W. Plaisted, the Democratic candidate for governor of Maine was elected by about seven thousand majority and three or four Democratic candidates for Congress were elected. This is the first time that Maine has elected a Democratic governor in thirty years. There is every prospect of the next Congress being Democratic by a good majority.

BRIEF REVIEW OF CAMP-BELL ADMINISTRATION

IN SPEECH BEFORE THE LEGISLATURE GOVERNOR CAMPBELL REVIEWS HIS ADMINISTRATION

On invitation of that body, last Friday, Gov. Campbell addressed a joint session of the State Legislature.

For lack of space the News cannot give his speech in full, but the following review of the work accomplished during his administration is of so much historical value that we reproduce it for the benefit of our readers.

Gov. Campbell spoke as follows:

"A brief review of legislation and of the policies enforced during the present administration is probably expected and is deemed appropriate on this occasion. Four years ago I received from the Democracy of this state the nomination for governor. With the nomination went a platform of principles and policies, which not only met my approval, but which represented the heart and conscience of the great toiling and producing masses of our people. I was elected at the general election in November, 1906, and with me was elected a legislature that will, for its useful service and its fidelity to the people, ever be memorable in the history of this great commonwealth.

"Sustained by that great representative body and backed by the loyal Democrats of the state, practically every pledge made by the Democratic party to the people was redeemed. We gave a practical demonstration of the fact that the people can rule when they will, and of the untruth of the statement that platforms were only made to get into office on.

"In a second campaign I was re-elected in November, 1908, upon a platform made and endorsed by the people and every pledge contained in that platform that could be redeemed by legislative enactment and administrative policies, was redeemed in letter and spirit. In carrying the people's will into laws, obstacles were encountered at every step.

"The subsidized newspapers and that miserable brood of hired politicians then infesting this capital opposed the enactment of all good laws and afterward sought and still seek by malignant misrepresentation to mislead the masses of the people in whose interest they were passed.

Let any man call the roll of the splendid legislative achievements entered to the credit of the Democratic party during my administration and who is not proud to belong to a party with such a record?

"We drove the professional lobbyist from our legislative hall—yes, at least from our legislative halls.

"We prohibited insolvent corporations from doing business in Texas.

"We prohibited by an effective law the free pass evil, destroyed its power for harm and paved the way in some future time for reduced passenger and freight rates.

"We drove the bucket-shop gambler from the borders of our state.

"We put a stop to the practice of nepotism, a practice that was impairing the efficiency of the public service everywhere.

"We put the gambler out of business and put out, let it be hoped, forever, the lights in his palace of hell.

"Race track gambling is now prohibited.

"Bootlegging was made a felony.

"A law making the occupation of selling liquor in local option territory a felony put the blind tigers out of business.

"We established a fair system of uniform and just rendition of property for taxation by which an unjust burden was lifted from the shoulders of the honest man with moderate means and the tax-dodgers and corporations made to pay some fair share of taxation.

"The corporation tax law was enacted, including the gross receipts tax law, intangible tax law, franchise tax law, charter fees, permit fee law, and then the increased occupation tax on liquor business, while the occupation tax on all useful occupations was abolished. The property taxpayer and home owners had theretofore paid more than their share of the taxes. The man with a home worth $2,500 paid $5 state ad valorem taxes in 1906 and this year he will pay only $1 for the support of the state government on the same $2,500 house. The tax on the home for state purposes is almost wiped out.

"The State ad valorem taxes collected in 1906 were $2,450,000. And so well has the new system worked that we have to collect only $940,000 State ad valorem taxes this year. The great reduction in taxation against the property of the masses of the people here shown has been made, notwithstanding the fact that the appropriations to be provided for the current fiscal year for the support of the state government exceeded those of 1906, the year before the new system was enacted, by about $500,000, counting the deficiencies that were paid for that period. The values have increased, of course, but the tax rate was reduced under the operation of the new automatic tax law from 20c in 1906 to 12 1-2c in 1907, to 6 1-2c in 1908, to 5c in 1909 and further reduced to 4c on the $100 in 1910. The State school rate was reduced to 16 2-3c and the average county rate reduced from 56c to 43c, a record without parallel, as I believe, in the American Union.

"Confronted as we were on the date of my induction into the office of governor with an estimated deficiency of $300,000, taxes have been reduced, less money has been taken from the people, in proportion to property owned for the support of their state government than ever before, and we have about $1,400,000 in the state treasury to the credit of the general revenue today. An unparalleled impetus has been given to all public improvements and the financial condition of the counties of Texas are in a healthier state than ever before.

"The appropriations to meet the State's requirements which must be provided for the coming fiscal year amounts to approximately $3,700,000, only $940,000 of which must be collected on the tax rolls of the state. More than $175,000,000 of intangible values of railroads go upon the tax rolls this year, by virtue of the new intangible tax law, to assist the people in paying that comparatively small sum. The balance of $2,760,000 comes from other sources not heretofore yielding their just share of the expense of the state government, and largely as a result of the new laws. These intangible values of railroads now yield about $900,000 in county taxes and thus aid in reducing the rate and consequently the tax burden upon the people in the counties, and they swell the state's available school fund about $300,000 annually and general revenue more than $60,000.

"We have been able, too, within this time, by means of these and other wise tax measures, for the first time in our history to insure an average school term of six months throughout the state. This year the state apportioned $1,998,180 more money than was ever furnished by the state to free schools during any year prior to this administration. An average increase of more than twelve dollars per month is being paid the teachers in the public schools and a higher order of efficiency thereby secured. Over $5,000,000 has been opened in new school houses in the last three years.

"An Agricultural Department along the lines advocated by me in the campaign of 1906 was established, and in its general usefulness and commanding importance that department is not surpassed by any department in the state government.

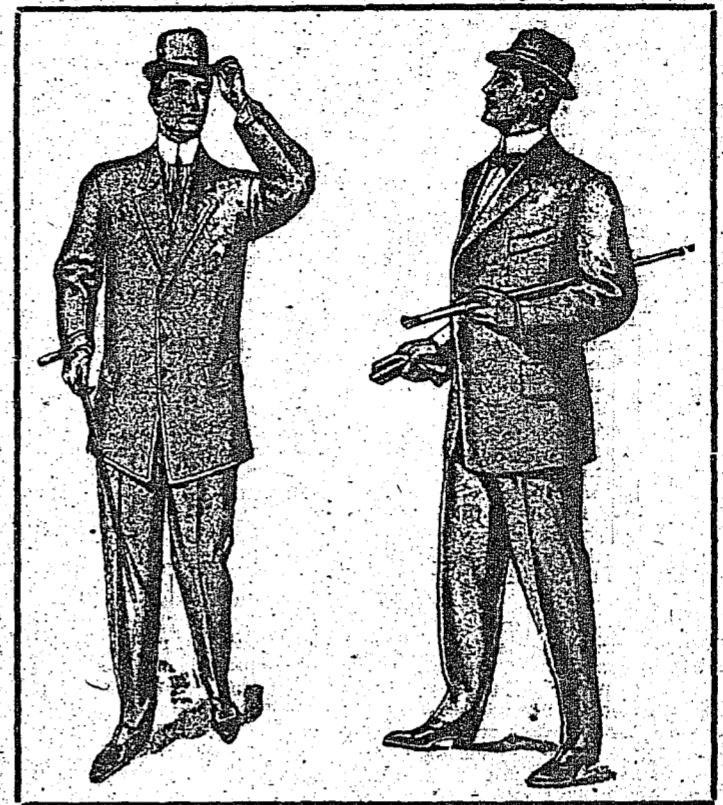

"An effective mine inspection law has been passed, also a law against blacklisting.

"The laws strengthening our anti-trust laws and providing for their enforcement have already borne good fruit. Laws better regulating the liquor traffic and other laws making more effective and more certain the enforcement of the local option law have been enacted.

"Our life insurance laws have been overhauled, and that admirable achievement in useful legislation, the Robertson insurance law, holds millions of dollars in Texas annually to enrich our people which was formerly taken from Texas and Texas people under a system of laws and of business wholly indefensible.

"We have, in obedience to the platform and against much opposition, placed on the statute books of Texas a law guaranteeing deposits in State banks, and I hazard nothing in saying that Texas now has the best bank guaranty law ever devised or enacted.

"At the beginning of this administration there were more than four hundred insane patients confined in the county jails for want of accommodations at the State asylums for the insane. Room was provided and the jails were cleared in 1908 of all the unfortunate insane for the first time in many years, and today there are accommodations for one hundred and fifty white patients. If there is an insane white man or white woman in a jail in Texas it is the fault of the local authorities. There are less than seventy-five negro insane in the county jails at this time, and they have been provided for at the present called session of the legislature.

"The Confederate Soldiers' Home at Austin is today more perfect in all its appointments than ever before. There are about three hundred and eighty soldiers residing at the home, sixty more than under any former administration, and there is room for every applicant now. There is, for the first time in many years, not one on the waiting list. Every applicant has been admitted, and at this beautiful rest for the Confederate soldier, everybody seems contented and happy. It is indeed a happy home."

"I have protected the State's honor and the State's credit, which I have regarded almost as sacred as my own. To do this it became necessary to secure the submission of two constitutional amendments validating certain of her school district bonds and obligations running into the millions. And let it be remembered further that during all this time, notwithstanding the opposition and misrepresentations encountered, some of which came from certain of the well-meaning but misled people, we have grown and prospered as never before in any like period and without a parallel in any land or country.

"Immigration has poured into our State in an unbroken stream. Our State has grown in wealth and new capital has taken residence among us and every dollar of it has been provided with ample safeguards and protection.

"During these years more capital has been invested in railways and more miles of railroad have been built than during any four years in the last twenty-five years, and there is at this time under construction and being projected for the current year a still greater railroad mileage. There has been during the last three years a growth and development in commercial, agricultural and manufacturing enterprises without parallel in any like period in our State's history."

ORDINANCE NUMBER NINETEEN.

An ordinance to establish a complete code of Criminal Ordinances for the City of Santa Anna; to define and provide for the punishment of all offenses against the city; and to provide for the suppression and abatement of the same.

CHAPTER ONE

Penal code and code criminal procedure of the city of Santa Anna.

Art. 1. Title one of the penal code of the State of Texas entitled "General Provisions Relating to the Whole Code" and title two entitled "offenses and punishments" are hereby adopted and made to apply to the ordinances of this city in the same manner that they apply to the laws of this state in so far as the same are applicable.

Art. 2. The penal laws of this state in so far as the corporation court has jurisdiction to try offenses committed thereunder are hereby adopted as the penal laws and ordinances of this city, without formally incorporating them at length into the ordinances of this city.

Art. 3. The provisions of the code of criminal procedure relating to the pleading, practice and procedure in courts of the justice of the peace are hereby adopted as the code of criminal procedure for the corporation court of this city in so far as the same are applicable and are not in conflict with the laws of this state, governing the procedure in such corporation court.

CHAPTER TWO.

Offenses affecting the city, its officers and property.

Art. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to deface, mark, scratch, cut or otherwise injure any property belonging to the city of Santa Anna and located within or without the limits of said city. And it shall likewise be unlawful for any person to write, paint or mark upon any building or other property of any kind belonging to the city and located either within or without the limits of said city.

Art. 5. It shall likewise be unlawful for any person to go in bathing or to put his body or any part thereof in the city lake, or to put any other person therein, or to put or assist in putting any animal therein dead or alive, or to put any trash, dirt, filth or refuse or anything else in said lake of any kind whatsoever, unless expressly authorized by the city council, or in the necessary and proper discharge of his duties as an employee of the city.

Art. 6. Any person violating any of the provisions of the two preceding articles or committing any offense denounced in either of them shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Art. 7. Should any person, when called upon by the city marshal, to render his taxes either poll, ad valorem or occupation or any other tax due the city, refuse to do so or refuse to answer any question propounded to him by the marshal relating thereto or refuse to make the affidavit relating thereto as required by the ordinances of the city, he shall be fined in any sum not less than five nor more than one hundred dollars.

Art. 8. Any person who shall pursue or follow any occupation, calling or profession or do any act taxed by the ordinances of this city without first paying such tax and obtaining a license therefor, shall be fined in any sum not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars for each offense; provided that any person prosecuted under this article shall have such prosecution dismissed at any time by paying all costs accrued and paying all taxes due upon the occupation, calling or profession for the non-payment of the tax on which the prosecution was instituted.

CHAPTER THREE.

Offenses against the peace.

Art. 9. All property, lots, blocks, streets, alleys, right of way, track or other places or property included within the following limits shall be and constitute the fire limits of the city of Santa Anna, to wit: Beginning at the southeast corner of block No. 14, thence east along the south lines of blocks 13, 12, 11 and 10 to the southeast corner of said block 10; thence south to the northeast corner block No. 27, thence east 340 feet to the east line of block No. 2 of Pearson's addition, thence south to the south line of the G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co. right of way, thence west along the said south line of said right of way to a point on same immediately north of the northeast corner of block 45; thence south to the northeast corner of block 48; thence west along the north lines of blocks 48, 47, 46, 45 to the northeast corner of block No. 50; thence north along the east lines of blocks No. 41, 32 and 23 to the southeast corner of block No. 14 the place of beginning. Any person who shall explode, fire or set off or cause to be fired, exploded or set off any fire cracker, roman candle, anvil, torpedo or other combustible package of any kind or build or cause to be built any bonfire within the fire limits of this city as described above shall be fined in any sum not less than one nor more than twenty-five dollars.

Art. 10. Any person who shall in this city disturb or molest people assembled or do any act calculated to disturb people assembled together for any legitimate or lawful purpose, by riotous or disorderly conduct, or by rude or indecent behavior, or by profane or obscene language, or by throwing any missile, or by loud cries or other noises of any kind whatsoever or howsoever produced with the intent to annoy, harass, vex or otherwise interfere with such meeting or the people composing the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction therefor shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars; provided that this article shall not apply to disturbances of religious worship as defined in Art. 193 penal code.

Art. 11. If any person shall go into or near any public place or private house and make or cause to be made any loud noises of any kind whatsoever in any other manner than that mentioned in Art. 334 of the penal code, in a manner calculated to disturb the inhabitants of such public place or private house he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Art. 12. Any prostitute who shall in this city ply or seek to ply her vocation shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars.

CHAPTER FOUR.

Offenses affecting the streets, alleys and sidewalks.

Art. 13. Any person who shall in this city obstruct any street, alley or sidewalk by erecting or putting any fence, box, wagon, buggy or other obstruction therein or on or along the same in such manner as to interfere with the full and free use of such street or any part of the same shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars. Provided that this article shall not prohibit the putting in of platform scales if same are put in upon the written permission of the city council and under its direction.

Art. 14. Any person owning or having in charge any horse or male hitched to a vehicle, who shall leave same standing upon the streets or alleys of this city hitched to any such vehicle, unless the same is left in charge of some person over the age of ten years shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Art. 15. If any person in this city shall deposit or cause to be deposited in front of, in the rear of or along the side of any premises owned or controlled by him, or at any other place whatsoever off of his own premises any trash, sweepings, paper, tin or other refuse or rubbish whatsoever without immediately removing or removing same he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Art. 16. If any person in this city liable under the law or under the ordinances of this city to work upon the public roads, streets, avenues or alleys of this city shall wilfully fail or refuse to attend either in person or by substitute when duly summoned by the city marshal as provided by the ordinances of this city, and shall fail on or before the day for which he is summoned to work to pay to the marshal the sum of one dollar for each day for which he is so summoned to work, or if having attended he shall fail or refuse to perform any duty required of him by law or by the ordinances of this city or shall refuse to obey the reasonable commands of the marshal in regard to such work, he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

Art. 17. If any person shall own or keep any hog or hogs within the fire limits of this city he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars and every day of keeping such hog or hogs shall constitute a separate offense.

Art. 18. If any person shall own or keep any hog or hogs in this city at any place whatsoever outside of the fire limits of this city, without first having obtained a permit from the City Health Physician he shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars; and no such permit shall be valid unless it shall describe the place where such hog is to be kept and the smallest enclosure in which it may be kept. And any person keeping any such hog in any manner or place otherwise than provided in such permit shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Art. 19. Any person who shall keep any hog pen or hog or other filthy place in this city without abating or cleaning up the same within three days after being ordered by the city council to do so shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Art. 20. Any person in this city who shall fail to clean out any privy, sink or other such place at least once every two months removing all filth and excreta shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Art. 21. Any person who shall slaughter or permit or cause to be slaughtered in this city any cattle, hog or sheep for market shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

CHAPTER FIVE.

Miscellaneous provisions.

Art. 22. It shall be unlawful for any person under the age of twenty one years to loiter, sit or stand about or upon any of the public streets or alleys of this city away from his place of business or his home after 9 o'clock p. m. standard time, unless he shall be engaged upon some business or errand, or be going to or returning therefrom or going to returning from some public meeting or place of lawful amusement, worship or instruction. And any person guilty of violating the provisions of this article shall be fined in any sum not exceeding ten dollars.

Sametime since a customer of ours bought a pair of shoes from a merchant giving a check for them, and noting on check that it was for shoes. The merchant in the rush overlooked the check, so charged the customer with the shoes and later sent him a notice that he owed him for the shoes. Our customer came to us and got his canceled checks and found the one he gave for the shoes and it was indisputable evidence to the merchant that he had paid for the shoes.

This check was a perfect receipt and absolute proof that he paid the merchant for the shoes. If he had paid the cash he might have had to pay it again or never satisfied the merchant.

This customer is more than a believer now, he knows, and he says that hereafter he will deposit his money with the bank and give a check for everything he buys or owes.

When you sell your cotton or other produce deposit your check or proceeds with this bank and pay everything with checks and thereby get a perfect receipt for all the money you spend besides having a record of how you spent it.

Good-bye Corea. There's no come back for you.

The "Joe Bailey" Presidential boom does not appear to be spreading like wildfire, exactly.

About the only conclusion that can be drawn from Aldrich's explanation is that the rubber tariff was increased for a joke.

Always Answered.

Children often are highly logical, though not quite in the adult manner. They attain conclusions by those processes of "pure reason" which, being quite unblinded by the opinions of others, sometimes result in startling truths.

Almost everybody, for instance, has heard of the little lad who, listening to the questions of an irreligious friend of the family as to what would happen supposing that one good Christian should pray for an east and another for a west wind at sea, innocently answered that of course there'd be an awful tempest, but not every one has heard of the equally pertinent and naive solution recently offered by a thoughtful youngster, for the ever perplexing problem of "Are prayers answered?"

"The child was talking with another, who asked the vexed and puzzling question, explaining at the same time that he didn't believe that prayers were answered, because he never got anything he asked for."

"You don't pray for the right things," answered little Mr. Wiseman. "Of course all prayers are answered, but sometimes the answer is 'Yes' and sometimes it's 'No.'"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Leaving a Man Helpless.

"That statement made me think," said a veteran newspaper man to the Cincinnati Times-Star, "of the celebrated row between President Cleveland's colored man and Secretary Hoke Smith's colored man. The two were exercising their masters' horses out on a country road and got into a dispute as to what is the best thing in the world. Finally they made a bet of a dollar on it."

"Well, what is de bes' thing in the world?" asked Cleveland's man.

"Roas' possum and sweet taters," said Hoke Smith's moke.

"Whoa!" says Cleveland's man, dragging at the bridle. He jumped to the ground, seized Hoke Smith's man by the leg and dragged him to the dust.

"Take that," says he, jamming his on the neck, "you miserable black rascal! You ain't leave me nuffin' to guess at!"

Brain of the Bee.

In a German scientific periodical O. Jonescu gives the results of his studies of the brain of the bee. As might be expected from its wonderful instincts, this is found to be very complex. The various divisions of the brain are described in detail, but perhaps the most interesting part is the comparison of the brains of queens, workers and drones. The worker has a larger brain than the queen, and as the difference between queen and worker is the result of diet during the grub stage it appears that the food which develops size of body and fertility is not best for the growth of brain. The "royal jelly" as a mental stimulus is a failure. In the drone the brain is not larger than in the worker, but the optic lobes are large, corresponding to the larva.

HOW TEXAS HAS USED HER PUBLIC DOMAIN

Austin, Texas, Sept. 14.—The intense interest which the forefathers of our government felt in the development of the country is illustrated in the disposition made of the public domain. Approximately one half of the public land was given to homeseekers; one-sixth of it for the promotion of industrial enterprises and one-third of it to permanent school funds. According to the records on file in the land commissioner's office in Austin, there is a total of 174,330 acres of land in the state and the following distribution has been made of it:

- Colonists and settlers, 78,970,440 acres.
- County school funds, 5,801,000 acres.
- State permanent school funds, 45,000,000 acres.
- State University, 2,000,000 acres.
- Railroads, 32,400,000 acres.
- Improving navigable streams, 4,334,080 acres.
- Manufacturing enterprises, 107,550 acres.

Irrigation, 544,960 acres.
Asylums, 400,000 acres.
Capitol building, 3,000,000 acres.
Equipping capitol building, 50,000 acres.

TEXAS AND NEW YORK

New York Commercial.

Replying to some recent comments on census estimates for the South—estimates that, owing largely to the wonderful development and growth of that section during the past ten years, the total population of the country will exceed ninety millions and that the South will probably get a large increase in its representation in the national house of representatives and in the electoral college—the Philadelphia Press takes occasion to point out the fact that New York gained ten members of congress by the census of 1820, when "the new Erie canal was bringing New York state abounding prosperity." The New Orleans Times-Democrat feels warranted in predicting that Texas alone may gain nine congressmen by the latest enumeration, if the basis of representation remain unchanged—"an unprecedented gain," it says. And it proceeds to make these interesting comparisons and calculations:

"The basis of representation in 1820 was only forty thousand, one-fifth of what it is to day; so that New York's gain of ten congressmen in 1820, when it had twenty-seven congressmen altogether, would have amounted to two at the present time; and the state would then have had only six or at most seven representatives. The new census will show Texas to have increased five times as much during the last decade as New York did in the decade 1810-1820 and more than twice as much as the Empire State has in the past ten years.

"The press admits that the Southwest will gain in congress, but it declared the 'Southern states farther east will be fortunate if the new apportionment makes no reduction in their representation in congress.' But even in the last decade, when the growth of Southern population was not as marked as it is today, the South gained nearly one-half the total increase in representation, or fifteen out of thirty-four new members.

"No Southern state lost, six stood stationary, and nine increased one or more congressmen, while of the twenty-nine Northern and Western states, fifteen remained stationary and fourteen gained in representation. We believe that the South will make a far better showing relatively this time."

When the population of both states are considered in connection with their relative increase and the relative increase in their congressional representation during fifty years, it ought to surprise nobody if Texas shows up with twenty-five congressmen following the next apportionment.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Coleman county—greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon C. H. Burfield by making publication of this citation, once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper, published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District court of Coleman county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Coleman, on the 5th Monday in October, A. D. 1910, the same being the 31st day of October, A. D. 1910, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 20th day of July, A. D. 1910, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 1364, wherein Annie E. Burfield is plaintiff, and C. H. Burfield is defendant, and said petition alleging in substance as follows: Plaintiff is an actual bona fide inhabitant of the state of Texas, and has resided in Coleman county, Texas, for at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit; that on or about the 17th day of June, 1901, plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married in Williamson county, Texas, and lived together as husband and wife until on or about the 11th day of October, 1907, when defendant abandoned this plaintiff, without cause or provocation on her part, and that since said date they have lived separate and apart; and that shortly after said separation defendant went to Alabama and entered into a pretended marriage with one Lizzie Jackson, with whom he has lived ever since in the pretended relation of husband and wife and that he continues to live in such adulterous relations with the said Lizzie Jackson.

Plaintiff further says that there were born to plaintiff and defendant while they lived together as husband and wife two children, to wit: A boy 8 years old, named Columbus, and a girl six years old, named Sarah, and she prays for the custody and care of said children and divorce from defendant.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Coleman this 9th day of September, A. D. 1910. (SEAL) B. H. FITZMAN, Clerk, District Court, Coleman County.

BIG BOOM IN ROAD BUILDING IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 14.—The Texas Commercial Secretaries Association recently sent out inquiries to commercial clubs throughout the state asking for an estimate of money to be expended on the improvements to public highways during the year 1911, and the replies received indicate that there will be approximately $20,000,000 of bonds issued for building and improving public highways during the coming year.

The judicious expenditure of this enormous sum now constitutes the most important economic question before the people of Texas and the secretaries in all probability will submit the problem for solution to the 32nd Legislature with the suggestion that a Public Highway Department be established to intelligently supervise the expenditure of this money. The construction of a public highway is as much a science as building a railroad and technical questions are always involved with which local road officials are not presumed to be familiar and experience is known to be a very expensive teacher. There is nothing that discourages the tax payer so much as to fail to receive satisfactory returns for his investment in public improvements and to properly safeguard and intelligently direct the expenditure of the bond money is a question that should receive consideration of thoughtful citizens.

A Burglar in Town

his name is "bad cough." He doesn't care for gold or silver but he will steal your health away. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by S. H. Phillips.

AFRAID TO CRITICISE TARIFF

It has come to a pretty pass that in old rockribbed Democratic Texas a Democrat cannot denounce a Republican protective tariff, or favor a law prohibiting members of congress from accepting employment from trusts without it being considered a reflection on Senator Bailey. If Bailey is a true Democrat and an honest man why should he and his friends protest? The honest law-abiding citizen does not take it as a reflection upon himself when the legislature passes a law against theft, arson or bootlegging.—Comanche Exponent.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all druggists.

Goliad Advance.
The editor attended the Bailey-Colquitt meeting at Galveston under the impression that he was to enjoy the dignified deliberations of a Democratic convention of the state of Texas. We were at the meeting only one day, getting our fill in that short time. We witnessed the half-hour demonstration accorded to Bailey, and we are quite sure the readers of the Advance who recall how hog-wild this editor has been in his defense and advocacy of Bailey will be shocked when we tell them we did not join in that demonstration. We witnessed how it began, who began it and who forced it through the period of time required for the proper effect. We saw our erstwhile idol brought to the hall through a surging multitude of screaming men and lifted bodily to the platform, where he stilled the uproar by the uplifting of his hand, and then touched off the noise with the simple statement that the people of Texas "have gone too far in elevating one issue above all others." So help us, we feared he would follow with a further enunciation of Colquittism, touching on the all-fired sacredness of the constitution and the assurance therein of the right of local self-government; but we presume he feared for the stability of the building, and spared his pro friends further humiliation and his anti legion much further vocal and physical exertion. When the thing was all over, our cheeks were a bit moist, whether from perspiration or a tear shed at the shattering of our idol we do not say. . . . Even when besmirched with oil spots we deserted him not, trusting in the efficacy of time to remove these oil spots, and praying that a contrite spirit would possess our Joe and deliver him out of the oil deal more strong and more magnificent than ever. . . . Through thick and thin, lumber and oil, we have adored Joe, but we've come to the parting of the ways. An admixture of oil and lumber we could stomach, in the make-believe that it is not so very bad; but Joe got beyond us when he deliberately deserted his position of former years and joined Colquitt under the Annheuser-Busch. The conviction that prohibitionists must part company with Bailey has been growing in us for months past, the occurrences at Galveston forcing the issue.

WISE, UNSELFISH AND PATRIOTIC

The following resolution was unanimously adopted by the House of Representatives at Austin last week just before it adjourned:

Resolved, That Gov. T. M. Campbell has the unqualified confidence of the Legislature; that his administration covering the last three and a half years has been wise, unselfish and patriotic; that he has secured the enactment into law of all the demands made in the two platforms upon which he was nominated by the Democratic party, so that during his administration a greater number of laws have been enacted for the protection of the people, the material prosperity and benefit of the State and the advancement of public morals, than during any other like period in our history, and when the impartial historian shall write the political history of our State, we believe the administration of Gov. Campbell as its Chief Executive of this State will stand out boldly beside that of the deceased statesman and patriot, James S. Hogg.

JUDGE JENKINS WON HIS POINT

In an elaborate opinion furnished the comptroller, Attorney General Lightfoot holds that Judge C. H. Jenkins, who was appointed one of the judges of the Third Court of civil appeals, and John Mobly, who was appointed assistant attorney general by the governor, were constitutionally appointed and the comptroller was authorized to issue their warrants.

Both of these appointees were members of the legislature which raised the question as to their eligibility, the senate having refused to confirm their appointments.

35.8 Per Cent in Reserve

LARGEST IN THE COUNTY

Under the State Bank Law this bank cannot allow its reserve to run under 25 per cent. of its deposits. The penalty of violating this law is heavy. We don't violate it. In spite of the fact that we are required to keep this heavy reserve you and your neighbors have borrowed from this bank $101,719.16.

Are we helping to build up this town and the country around it? No officer or director has a dollar borrowed from this bank. Is that a good indication? Have you ever heard a man say he has not been treated as well at this bank as anyone could ask? Do you appreciate being treated right and being kept informed as to how your account stands? Do you want your money in a bank where the deposits are protected by Guaranty Fund of the State of Texas---amounting to $1,175,000 --- We solicit your business.

Halley's Comet

A French scientist declares that Halley's comet was known to the authors of the Talmud long before Halley came into existence. This French scientist quotes from the Talmud: "Two wise men of Palestine, Gamblel and Joshua, made a voyage on the sea. The first had brought with him bread to eat. The second one in addition had brought flour. When Gamblel had eaten all his bread he asked him for flour, saying to him, 'How didst thou know we should be so long on our journey that thou didst bring flour?' To which Joshua did answer: 'There is a very bright star which appeareth every seven years and which deceiveth mariners. I have thought that perchance it might surprise us during our voyage, lead us astray and thus prolong our voyage on the sea; hence it is that I have provided myself with flour.'"

The Falkland Islands

The Falkland islands are among the least known and most out of the way corners of the widely scattered British empire. They form a sort of British suburb of the south pole, some 600 miles from the antarctic end of America, Cape Horn. A former governor of the Falkland islands, the late Sir William Robinson, used to say that he would have committed suicide while there if he could have found a tree tall enough to hang himself on—London Standard.

How Like a Man!

Mrs. Nocknoodle—Oh, Norris, if you would always be as good and gentle and kind as you are at this moment how happy we might be! Mr. Nocknoodle (losing his temper instantly and bellowing at the top of his voice)—Do you mean to say, madam, that I am not always as good and kind as I am at this moment?

Outdone.

Jones—Yea, sir; that boy of mine is a wonderful piano player. Why, he can play with his toes! Brown—How old is he? Jones—Fifteen. Brown—I've got a boy at home who can play with his toes, and he is only one year old.

SUNDAY NIGHT UNION SERVICES

The ministers of the Methodist, First Christian and U. S. A. Presbyterian churches counseled together and decided for an indefinite time to hold union Sunday evening services at the tabernacle, beginning Sunday night next. Let all the singers of the three churches come and "who-soever will come." A great time is anticipated.

The Secret of Youth

Do you ever wonder how you can remain young, or why other women older than you, look younger than you do?

The secret can be put in a few words: "Preserve your health, and you will preserve your youth."

By "health" we mean not alone physical health, but nerve health, as, sometimes, magnificently strong-looking women are nervous wrecks.

But whether you are weak physically or nervously, you need a tonic, and the best tonic for you is Cardui.

It builds strength for the physical and nervous systems. It helps put flesh on your bones and vitality into your nerves.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"My mother," writes Mrs. Z. L. Adcock, of Smithville, Tenn., "is 44 years old and is passing through the change of life.

"She was irregular and bloated and suffered terribly. My father stepped over to the store and got her a bottle of Cardui, which she took according to directions and now she is up, able to do her housework and says she feels like a new woman." Try Cardui in your own case.
