Let's Keep Liquor Out Of Gorman

An Open Letter To The Public:

We hear a lot today about the same old question that we have heard ever since the appeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, whether we should or should not have legalized drink.

Adam and Eve had the opportunity, the privilege and the right to accept good and evil. So have you and I - which one will it be for us.

There is one thing the petition did do, it put the issue before us. God said, "behold I set before you good and evil, life and death."

Let us exercise a Christian attitude toward the problem because there is no way you can legalize sin. Remember, there was a group that came to Jesus and asked Him if they could commit sin.

Jesus said, "not so."

They said, "Moses gave us a bill of divorcement."

Jesus said, "Because of the hardness of your heart it was permitted."

In the Bible it is not permitted, but because of the hardness of our hearts we legalize alcohol as a drink. Can we legalize the rest of the Commandments and break them and collect revenue from them.

Let us be a Christian and not just a church member and keep our town dry.

Marion Dennis, Pastor Cong. Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Buford R. Parker will mark their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, August 30th when their children will host open house from 2 to 5 p. m. at their home on Route 2, Gorman.

The couple were married September 1, 1914 under a brush arbor during a revival meeting at Kokomo. The wedding was performed before the beginning of the evening services by the evangelist, Rev. Holly. The couple fondly recall the wedding reception being held at the Kokomo store a short distance from the tabernacle and everyone rode to the store in their wagons with Mr. Parker buying drinks for everyone. On returning to the church for the evening sermon the shy newly-weds did not even sit together. The new bride sat with girl friends while Mr. Parker sat with the men on the opposite side of the tabernacle. They also recall the happy day of their honeymoon spent picnicing on the small hillside near their home. Mrs. John Brown of Gorman made the wedding dress worn by Mrs. Parker.

Mr. Parker, born January 25 1892 near Kokomo, is the son of the late Jeff Davis and Annie Marie Parker, and in the same house his father was born in. And three of his children were also born in the same house. His father cleared the land for farms, where the Parkers now live.

Mrs. Parker, the former Nellie Bagwell, daughter of the late W. A. and Mary Elizabeth Mangum Bagwell, was born in Eastland County October 11, 1896.

The couple have lived in the Kokomo community all of their lives and Mr. Parker is still operating his peanut farm and raising cattle. Mrs. Parker's health prevents her from being active as she would like to be. She spends her time piecing quilt tops, and she has just completed her 15th, one since Christmas.

Children that will be home and hosting the open house Sunday are Mrs. Edith Gilmore of Gorman, Mrs. Merlene Goswick of Snyder, Mrs. Mary Nell Griffin of Andrews and Davis Parker of Midland. Also on hand for the celebration will be the eleven grandchildren.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

More history as it may be written.

And so it came to pass in this Great Land that the mighty Poohbahs of the Potomac became concerned with the plight of many of the citizens whose years were past three score.

For in a previous Dynasty of Poohbahs, there had been set up what was called Social Security. Into the great god of the times, called U. S. Treasury, there poured in monies from both master and servant to build a fund to keep elderly people from want on their retirement.

And there were Hossanahs throughout the Great Land until with the passing of the years it was found by those who had waxed old, that the value of the dollar had waned. And so, to keep body and soul together, many sought to use their experience at light tasks befitting their years to supplement the pittance from the great god U. S. Treasury.

But the Great Poohbahs held up their hands and said, "Nay, if you want to continue to get from the U.S. Treasury the benefits of the money that wasteth away from thy paychecks for lo these many years, then like the lilies of the field, thou must toil not, neither must thee spin, for if thou earn more than 25 dollars per week, you lose Social Security."

And thus a mighty protest was set up. The Poohbahs were asked "How does it happen that older people who have investments can wax fat and happy on these incomes and still get Social Security while I am not permitted to help myself?"

And the Poohbahs replied: "Twice blessed is he who clips coupons, for he neither toils, nor spins, and thus does not irritate our great god, U. S. Treasury."

And so it came to pass that two leaders from the Province Known as New York, a Rep. Katherine St. George, and a Sen. Kenneth Keating proposed laws to permit those who had passed three score and five to earn as much as they could and still get the benefits of the monies that had been taken from them in their youth.

And this caused great consternation among the mighty Poohbahs of the Potomac.

And so a great council was held by the Poohbahs.

And the decision was to not permit people to help themselves. And forthwith with a mighty clamor of trumpets there was announced, instead, a big War on Poverty, which was a holy war to keep the people dependent on the manna scattered down by the great god, U.S. Treasury. The rallying cry was "Seek ye first the U.S. Treasury, and all things will follow after."

For this was an era when there was confusion about many things. In a place called Vietnam and a place called Laos, legions of the Great Land fought and died, and while some people called it war, the Poohbahs said no, it was not war, it was advising.

SECRETARY-TREASURER

PAST OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS OF DURHAM PEANUT COMPANY, INC.

DURHAM PEANUT CO., INC. SOLD TO GOLD KIST PEANUT DIVISION

Durham Peanut Company, Inc. along with its three subsidiaries, Comanche Feed Co., Inc., Topper Seed Company, both of Comanche, and Choice Products Co. of Aubrey, Texas, has been purchased by the Gold Kist Peanut Division of Cotton Producers Association of Atlanta, Georgia.

Pat Cagle, president of Durham Peanut Co., Inc., announced that a complete full transfer of all common stock and properties and all existing rights thereto were completed Thursday, August 20.

Durham Peanut Co., Inc. has long been recognized as one of the largest year-after-year employers in the area, and at the present time employs over 100 persons in its different divisions.

Mr. Cagle, along with W. M. Durham, Jr., secretary of the corporation, will remain with the Gold Kist Peanut Growers, the new name of the Comanche firm.

D. W. Brooks of Atlanta, Ga., is general manager of the Cotton Producers Association, and Don Sands is the general manager of the Gold Kist Peanut Division.

The Cotton Producers Association (CPA) is a cooperative, composed of more than 150,000 farmers from Florida to Arizona, who cooperatively own and operate, before this recent purchase, 2 cooperative feed mills, 7 fertilizer plants, 3 poultry processing plants, 11 cotton warehouses, 12 cotton gins, 5 chick hatcheries, a seed cleaning and processing plant, 2 wholesale farm supply warehouses, 2 insecticide plants, 4 grain elevators, 2 pecan shelling and processing plants, and 12 peanut plants.

It takes more than 3,000 employees to operate the CPA system.

Of course, as it is true of all cooperatives, CPA pays property taxes, sale taxes, school taxes, ad valorem taxes, and the refunds to each of its members is reported on the individual income for governmental income tax payment.

The Gold Kist Peanut Division of CPA shells approximately one half of all the peanuts in the United States. It operates shelling plants in Georgia, Oklahoma, Florida and now one in Texas. The local plant will be the second largest plant in the Gold Kist Peanut Division.

The Durham Peanut Company was organized in Comanche under the late Walter Durham, Sr., in 1927, his brothers, Henry, Harvey and Nugent, owning lesser shares.

Mr. Durham remained as president until his death in 1946.

Pat Cagle, who will continue to serve as head of Gold Kist Peanut Growers, Comanche, has served as the president of Dur-

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

As any parent of a small boy knows, there is nothing more devious than they in devising means of escape going to bed at the proper hour. They need a glass of water, they have to get up to brush their teeth, as they forgot, or there is something they have to get to take to school in the morning.

In short, anything to avoid doing what they are supposed to do.

Into this category too often falls the Federal Trade Commission. Actually, the principal responsibility with which this agency is charged is that of enforcing the Robinson-Patman Act which prohibits discrimination in the market place, illegal discriminatory discounts, false "bait" advertising, and other practices which destroy independent business and jobs.

As anyone familiar with present business practices knows, the FTC has a long way to go before it can say it has even made any substantial progress on antitrust.

But a strange thing has now happened to the FTC on its presumed way of doing the job it was set up to do. It is now guarding the public health.

With great fanfare, the waste of a lot of taxpayers time and money, it has issued an order that beginning on January 1, all cigarette packages must bear on the label a warning that the product may be dangerous to health, and six months later has decreed this warning must appear in all advertising.

Thus, the whole plan may be to hit at the antitrust laws by closing up the agency that is supposed to enforce those laws. If this stratagem sounds strange, it should be borne in mind the Washington underground moves in strange ways.

This is all due to the report by the U. S. Surgeon General that cigarettes can be a causative factor in lung cancer. It is not the purpose here to go into the pro and con of this discussion, but it is significant that even the Surgeon General feels if any action is taken, it should be by Food and Drug Administration, not FTC.

This ruling is a curious one to the extent that FTC abandons its intended duties in the field of economic health to dabble in the area of public health.

It is perhaps true that excessive smoking has killed some people. Other people have been killed by excessive drinking, thus to be consistent, FTC should presumably issue orders on the labeling and advertising of liquor.

Thus, there may be more than meets the eye here. Monopolistic and international forces have long been working to destroy the U. S. antitrust laws. So far they have met with little success. But there may be higher stratagem involved here. Bear in mind that tobacco is an important southern crop. The southern states are irritated enough as it is, and this could well be a move looking toward agitating a movement in Congress to abolish the agency that is supposed to enforce the anti-trust laws. Elimination of FTC would also eliminate its tobacco order.

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND REGULARLY THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE A Hymn Is Born BY CLINT BONNER Where We'll Never Grow Old A young minister pays tribute to his father and mother It was a great day for C. R. Moore. For years he had directed the singing at the little Baptist Church in Draketown, Ga. But on that Sunday in April, 1914, the old hymns had a special meaning. His son, James, was home on a visit from Mercer University at Macon and was going to preach. Young Rev. James C. Moore looked out across the congregation with a heavy heart. He had been away only four years. But familiar faces that were young so short a time ago were showing traces of age. His nine brothers and sisters had grown up. And his mother, who waited anxiously to hear her oldest son preach, was breaking fast. Most of all, the 28-year-old preacher was touched by his father's singing. The elder Moore had been trained by the renowned A. J. Showalter and time was when he was known over most of Georgia as one of the finest singers in the state. But now his voice was falling. Recalling that occasion of nearly 40 years ago, the Rev. James C. Moore recently related, "I felt so sorry for him. His voice broke and he lost the pitch of the tones and I knew I would not hear him sing much longer." I have heard of a land on the far-away strand, 'Tis a beautiful home of the soul, Built by Jesus on high, there we never shall die, 'Tis a land where we never grow old. In that beautiful home where we'll never more roam; We shall be in the sweet by and by; Happy praise to the King through eternity sing, 'Tis a land where we never shall die. When our work here is done and the life-crown is won, And our troubles and trials are o'er, All our sorrow will end, and our voices will blend, With the loved ones who've gone on before. Never grow old, never grow old, In a land where we'll never grow old; Never grow old, never grow old, In a land where we'll never grow old. (By permission of James C. Moore, Sr.) This is one of a series presenting the story of the world famous religious hymns sung by the faithful of all creeds. Clip and save these hymns. ### Mary Elizabeth Glass Is Wed To Joe L. Moake

Miss Mary Elizabeth Glass became the bride of Joe Lawrence Moake in a candlelight setting on Saturday evening, August 1 in the Alamo Heights Presbyterian Church in San Antonio. The Rev. William H. Arnold officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell Glass of San Antonio. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moake of San Antonio. The grandmother of the bridegroom was the late Mrs. Ellen Oldham of Gorman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was lovely in a demure gown of white peau de soie. Her fitted bodice was styled with a high sabrina neckline and tulip sleeves. The skirt was gently belled with shirred fullness. A fabric bow gave back accent and introduced a detachable train. Tiny puffed gave delightful fan-fare to the chapel sweep train. She wore a solitary diamond necklace, a gift from the groom. A matching bridal veil held an exquisite heirloom veil of Brussels lace which cascaded her shoulders in a delicate mist of flower lace appliques. The bride carried an empire bouquet of mystery gardenias and instephanotis.

Miss Barbara Glass was her sister's maid of honor. Attendants included Miss Marilyn McDonald of Fort Worth, and Misses Beverly Buzzini, Bonnie Folbre, Olivia Ford, Laurie Hargis and Bobbie Ann Harper of San Antonio. They wore floor length dresses of val-lace veiled over pale aqua taffeta, forming a demure silhouette with a fitted bodice and gently belled skirt. The dresses had a ribbon accent at the waist line that circled at the back waist line and fell to the floor. They wore head pieces of fresh pastel flowers matching the nosegay type bouquets they carried in their hands.

Mr. Moake assisted his son as best man. Groomsmen were Jack Bailey of Fort Worth, Jan Laudemilk, Dallas, Edwin Grainger, Charles Mito, Marvin Stapper and Paul Corkin of San Antonio. Ushers were Rick Timms, Memphis, Tenn., Peter Eaton, Columbus, Ohio, Dr. Reginald A. Beavan, Jr. and Alan McNeill of San Antonio. Candlelighters were Kyle and Collins Crozier of Dallas, cousins of the bride.

The nuptial music included solos "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", rendered by Mrs. Alan McNeill with Mrs. C. W. Nobling at the pipe organ.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents in the garden which was outlined with lighted beds of candidium caladiums and hurricane lamps. The bride's table held a tiered white wedding cake and silver coffee service. The groom's table held a double ring spice cake and silver punch service. The tables were centered with massive matching arrangements of seasonal white blossoms and candlebras with hurricane chimneys. Joe Morin's combo played for dancing.

Rose petals in silver baskets were passed among the guests by Carol Crozier of Dallas and Kathy Gosch of Waelder. These were showered upon the bride couple as they departed.

For traveling the bride wore an ensemble of aqua blue silk linen, featuring a coat with deep side vents and slim skirted sleeveless dress.

The couple will honeymoon on the east coast and will be at home in Baltimore, Maryland after September 1.

Mrs. Moake is a graduate of Alamo Heights High School and Texas Christian University. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority and a member of the San Antonio Girls Cotillion Club. Mr. Moake was graduated from Highlands High School and attended Texas Christian University where

The most pleasing thing about the 1964 Panther squad is the attitude and determination that has been shown the first two weeks of practice. Particularly the boys who did not letter last season. Lots of hustle has been shown by everyone, but particularly the non-lettered boys such as Tommy Clark, Robert Reeves, Doyle Welch, Richard Pittman, Ed Sutton, Dwayne Snider, Bobby Underwood, Bobby Ward, Daryl Hirst, Robert Redman, Jerry Wallace, and Jimmy Warren. If these boys continue their "gung ho" pursuit some of the first stringers are really going to have to hump up to keep some of these boys from playing lots of football. This is real, too, because nothing can cause a boy to put out more than to know he has a boy on that bench that is just itching to get into the ball game.

The Panther offense should be improved with All-State candidate Gary Overstreet heading a good crop of backs. Gary has gained a few pounds and of course, is a year older, which naturally makes him stronger and is the fastest man on the squad. Behind him will be Ormsby or Hurst at quarterback, both pretty fast men, and Don Wallace shows promise of being an outstanding halfback. Jackie Harrison doesn't have the experience of the other backs, but is coming along nicely.

The Panther forward wall looks the best it has since 1961 with more experience and a little more weight. Not an exceptionally heavy line but one with lots of "wanto to". The heaviest lineman will be 180 pound tackle Ronnie Smith. J&S

Someone remarked to these scribes the other day that from what the J&S column had written about the 1964 Panthers it looks as though the squad has no weaknesses. Inasmuch as we are publicity agents as well as reporters might account for so much accentuating the positive and eliminating the negative. Nevertheless, we are sold on this year's squad and we are from Missouri and will have to be shown that the Panthers won't win a lot of ball games this season. If they continue their present attitude and determination, they should go a long way this year.

J&S
We have been watching the exhibition games of the Dallas Cowboys this season and think they will be a much improved ball team this season when they finish the pre-season games and get their line-ups completed. We think with the addition of Tommy McDonald and Buddy Dial the Cowboys will have rounded out a fine offensive team and will have the scoring punch they have been seeking.

We hope the Cowboys go all the way this season and also hope to see them play some at the Cotton Bowl. They will play their first home game this Saturday night at the Cotton Bowl in an exhibition game with the Greenbay Packers in a benefit game.

IT TAKES MORE THAN ONE

to learn... grow... achieve

In Russia there are no 4-H Clubs to teach boys and girls a better way of life and work; no agricultural extension service to show better methods for raising crops and livestock; no specialists to help improve homemaking skills; no business men to support this "massive, informal, educational program" which includes 4-H.

However, Premier Khrushchev did learn something about the Cooperative Extension Service during his visit to the U.S. In a Pravda article, Khrushchev revealed a "secret" to the Russian people. He admitted that certain extension practices were "borrowed" when the Soviet agricultural system was overhauled recently.

Explains Service
"I have in mind," he said, "the introduction of scientific achievements. In the United States of America a farmer's service exists under the universities and colleges. The agents meet with the farmers and persuade them to introduce this or that method, help them in organization of production and furnish them with plans."

He got most of the extension picture, but apparently missed the role of extension for the last 50 years in developing the 4-H Club program.

In the early days of 4-H, the trained extension agents worked with the children of farm families. The plan provided the wedge that opened the door for the agents to reach the farmers and their wives.

No Free Enterprise
It has been suggested that Khrushchev might further improve farming under communism if he also had initiated a program for youth patterned after the 4-H Clubs. Seventy other foreign countries have. But Russia lacks the incentive and backing provided by private enterprise.

U.S. industry has backed 4-H work right from the beginning. It provides technical know-how, financial aid and recognition. More than 55 leading business firms cooperate with the extension service and the National 4-H Service Committee in sponsoring individual projects.

Today there are at least three dozen areas of 4-H Club work. Some of the newer programs and their sponsors are: Photography, Eastman Kodak; Conservation, John Deere; Foods-Nutrition, General Foods; Alumni Recognition, Olin Mathieson; Dog Care and Training, Ralston-Purina.

Fifty years ago there were only a few projects: growing tomatoes and canning them; growing corn and raising pigs to eat the corn.

Long-Time Support
Sponsors that have supported 4-H for 20 or more years are: Armour and Company; Santa Fe Railway; Burlington Railroad; Milwaukee Railroad; Chicago & North Western Railway; Coats & Clark; Conrad Hilton Hotel; Cudahy Packing Company; Firestone; Binsoda Central Railroad; International Harvester; Kerr Glass; Livestock Conservation Incorporated; Montgomery Ward; Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Westinghouse Educational Foundation; Wilson & Co.; Standard Oil (Ohio); General Motors; American Oil Foundation.

Collectively they make the National 4-H Club Congress possible. One of the most coveted awards for a 4-H'er is the congress trip given to one boy or girl per state in a specific program. Altogether about 1,600 young people from 50 states travel to Chicago each fall to participate in this educational event.
