HULLS

By KERNEL GENE, aPe

"It is beyond the power of human effort to create the perfect society; and to spend one's life laboring for social changes which only bring new masters who become tyrants as soon as they get power, and new injustices and cruelties, is just wasting time. We change the stage scenery, but the plot is the same. Characters come and go; but, save for the twice-born, who are usually sacrificed, they play the same part and say the same things.

"The one hope of the world is that God has a plot, in which man can play a part, a plan for his school-world which could make life happier here, but, better still, points to a further plan on another stage. And wonderful though it is to say so — so wonderful as to be thought incredible — God has entered human life, come on to our stage, worn our make-up, to show what life could be. And he offers to enter our lives. In not many cases has he done so, though with some he has made a beginning, which, though small and disappointing, leads us to hope. But when we see a life wholly surrendered to God we know that real progress is possible in this old world; and if the wholly surrendered cannot change life in this setting, they are a promise of a future life in which all men's deepest longings shall be realized and all God's dreams come true."

If the two paragraphs above have given you 'food for thought' they came from a book, "This Is The Victory", written by Leslie D. Weatherhead, Minister of the City Temple in London, England. He wrote the book during the bombing of London in 1940. I found the book in the Progress Library recently and discovered it was one my sister had given me in December, 1941. Rev. Weatherhead must have been a foresighted man as he placed his thoughts on paper during those perilous times 26 years ago.

Dear Kernel Gene:

I was reading a back copy of the Progress since returning home. You wrote in your editorial that some folks thought you were doing too much for your hometown and others close around.

The thought came to me that if the rest of us were out doing our part you wouldn't have so much to do. Also, there would be no time for complaints from the rest of us.

I say more power to you. Speaking of losing stars in your crown. I think that has happened to most of us at sometime along the way.

Speaking of Stars and Crowns, I feel like I have a problem. While I was in the hospital in Fort Worth for five weeks, our friends, neighbors, relatives and others near and dear to us, have put me on a spot.

They built me a Golden Crown with their many gifts, letters and cards. Filled the Crown with Stars of good wishes and many prayers to overflowing.

I am not worthy of such and feel much to weak to wear it. With God's helping hand to guide me I will try to be more worthy of it.

Thanks to a loving God and all of you everywhere.

Marvin H. Jones

Under Title I the school will be purchasing teaching aids and equipment that is badly needed. Some of the equipment to be purchased includes overhead projectors, filmstrip projectors, movie projectors, record players, tape recorders, office machines, maps, globes, laboratory equipment, library books, records, and special aids for all departments. All of the money under Title II will be spent on library books, visual aids, maps, globes, and magazines.

The money received must be spent above and beyond the amount that the local district has been spending for these items. The District can not reduce its local effort. With local money and the amount received from Federal Funds, Gorman ISD will be better equipped with teaching aids that it has possibly ever been equipped. Some of this equipment has been ordered and will be arriving soon. Many of the library books have already been put in the library. Mr. Garrett feels sure that with all the extra equipment, that an improvement will be noted in educational level in the Gorman Schools next year and in the years to come.

This program is designed to continue with like amounts due each year. Plans are being made now to use a portion of the grant next year to hire remedial teachers in fields of reading, language arts, and math. There is a possibility that a remedial program may be put into effect during the summer months if enough students are interested in such a program. More information will be given on this project at a later date.

Blackwell Hospital Now Affiliated With CJC Nursing Program

The Blackwell Hospital, Inc. of Gorman is now affiliated with the Cisco Junior College Vocational Nursing Program.

Anyone, age 18 through 65 years of age, with good physical condition and mental health, and has had at least a Fifth grade education and interested in nursing is eligible to apply.

The student will receive 12 months training in the Blackwell Hospital with 20 weeks of clinical classes at Cisco Junior College. Only four people are eligible to register from the Blackwell Hospital.

After satisfactory completion of the program the student is eligible to take the State Board test. The program is approved by the State Board of Vocational Nurses Examiners and the Texas Education Agency.

March 14th is the deadline for making application.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for the kind words of sympathy, the flowers, the food, cards and all the kindnesses extended to us in the death of our husband and father. We thank, especially, the hospital staff who served so faithfully.

May God bless each of you.
Mrs. A. L. Underwood and children

You help my ego quite a bit Mr. Jones. However, as I said I just get more publicity than most folk so it seems like I do more. Lots of folks refuse to let their name be mentioned when they do good deeds or civic work for fear of being considered publicity seekers. In a way, they are wrong because many times others are inspired by a person's activities in school, civic or church work. As a whole I have found most of the folks in this area more than willing to lend a hand in most all projects. Sometimes they have to be prodded a little but when the kettle starts letting off steam, they whistle too.

AFTER 100 YEARS THE REBEL PEANUT RATES AS KERNEL

By Lucretia Fairbetter

Noting the boost that the new Food for Freedom Program will be giving the wheat and rice growers with some control releases and allowed acreage increase, peanut farmers will be lifting an eyebrow wondering if the new Foreign Aid Program will have side benefits for the Southwestern peanut growers.

Why not? After one hundred years and three wars Rebel Goobers are an acknowledgment supporting leg of Southern economy. The one-time goober pea is now Peanut Kernel.

The peanut industry was established within a decade after the Civil War. Union soldiers, during their sojourn in Dixie, had found nibbling goober peas a pleasant past-time. Veterans returning home had appetites for more, so the Virginia-Carolina District was founded.

Southern planters knew the Indian had cultivated ground runners and they had found seeds of the legume in the scant clothing of Negro slaves, who had, while in chained-transit from Africa, fed on the little nut; but the farmer had no appreciation of the peanut's commercial potential.

However, in the latter part of the 19th and the early 20th centuries peanut production expanded to become the basis for the South's phenomenal growth in hog production, which it is reported included the readying of Virginia Hams for market.

Shelling and processing plants were unknown in the South when World War I made its demands for increased oil production. Capital began to drip southward to the raw product, as production mounted.

Peanuts were one of the few field products to have had increased sales throughout the depression of the 1920's. Peanut butter sales increased 100% in the ten years and according to a major chain store's report peanut candies sales increased 1800% in the 1930's.

The long kernel nut was first widely grown, but the Spanish type favored by the Southwest, has reached great expansion in growth throughout the South because of its good taste, its nutritive value and high oil content.

The Kernel is a formidable challenger to King Cotton in several sections of Rebel Country.

In Southeast Eastland County the peanut industry is more than a supporting leg of the economy. The farmers in this area are served by a shelling and processing plant, Gorman Peanuts, founded by the Shells, O. T., Melvin and Wilbur. No other town in Comanche or Eastland Counties, the two counties rating first and second in the State's peanut production, has facilities to compare with the local plant which receives and markets internationally.

Like the Shells, Southwestern Peanut Growers recognized the area's potential for the peanut kernel and opened offices here more than twenty years ago.

Talent Show Proceeds Boost Swimming Pool Fund Total By $160.50

From any aspect, the Talent Show sponsored by the Woman's Study Club last Thursday night would have to be proclaimed a success. A lot of people got a lot of entertainment for only fifty cents; a lot of young talent was accorded an opportunity to perform; and the Swimming Pool Project (the primary reason for the benefit show) added $160.50 to the total.

The 4-H Club was responsible for an additional $13.25 being raised through an intermission auction of home made candy, thus making a grand total of $173.75 going into the Swimming Pool Fund as a result of the evening's activities. By the way, most of these young people did their own candy-making rather than depending on Mama's doing the job, for they really want the pool and wanted to help raise the money for it.

And to all of you — the talent, the 4-H Club and their sponsors, and to you, the audience, who supported the activities so warmly, the Woman's Study Club can only say, "You made the success; you added $173.75 to the Swimming Pool Project; and we do thank you."

SCHOOL VISITATION FOR PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK ANNOUNCED

How long has it been since you visited school? Have you called on the teachers of your children? Have you dropped by and visited a class in progress?

"I am sure that all of you are vitally interested in what your child is being taught in school and would like to visit a class. You are given a special invitation to come up and visit during Public School Week, March 7-10," states Mr. Charlie Garrett, superintendent of schools.

"We have set up visitation day in the Grade School as follows: Tuesday: 1st. and 2nd. grades; Wednesday: 3rd. and 4th. grades; Thursday: 5th. through 8th. grades. In High School we welcome visitors any day Monday through Thursday," Garrett continued.

"We will have open house on Thursday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 for all who will come. Teachers will be in classrooms to talk with you and show you what we are doing. If you would like to eat in the lunchroom any day during the week we would be glad to have you, but would like for you to send word by your children or call 5614 and let us know so we will have food prepared for those eating.

Refreshments will be served in the lunchroom on Thursday evening after visitation. Visit your school during Public School Week," Mr. Garrett concluded.

Mothers March Of Dimes Nets $113.10

If you want something done, it has been said, get a busy person to do it. And the members of the Woman's Study Club have indeed been busy, but they finally succeeded in finding a good day weather-wise, and a willing group of young people to help, and on last Tuesday evening the Mother's March of Dimes was conducted.

Young people helping were Rickey Sutton, Wesley Rogers, Johnny Scitern, Bill Clark, Bruce Smith, Kenneth Butler, Debra Smith, Tressa Duran, Dorenda Arnold, Anna Lee Butler, Gary Smith and Sha Rogers. And a big thank you to these young people who did so much running to doors for us.

The total raised was $113.10. We are proud of this amount to help in such worthwhile work, as we know you who contributed to the fund are.

Gorman 4-H Club Increases Swimming Pool Fund By $13.25

The Gorman 4-H Club surprised those who attended the talent show last Thursday night with their home-made candy and lady auctioneer.

Introduced by Bobby Williams, the Cisco 4-H girl, Kay Green, proceeded to show her talent as an auctioneer. Urging the people to contribute she sold the 10 or 12 boxes of candy made by the local 4-H'ers among whom were Christi and Ricky Fuller, Danny Snider, Dorenda Arnold, Marilyn Thompson, and Bobby and Barbara Williams. Most of the kids will probably tell you their mother had a hand with the candy, but it was their responsibility to see that it was made and ready for the auction.

Kay has been auctioneering at various places since she was 5 years old and is a great asset to the Eastland County 4-H Club and her local club. The Gorman club asked her to help them because they wanted a hand in the swimming pool project and heretofore had been unable to contribute.

A total profit of $13.25 was collected by Dorenda Arnold and Barbara Williams as they delivered the delicious plates of candy and the entire club was happy and pleased that they were able to help just a wee bit toward this wonderful project. Most of them hope they will be able to be a steady customer of the pool, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Clark of Arlington spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rodgers and Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Clark.

Self-service dry cleaning is a popular way for getting dry cleaning done inexpensively, yet machine cleaning is not recommended for many types of garments.

The cleaning process is too long for delicate fabrics and construction. Machine cleaning is not designed to give clothes a professional pressed look, but you can get good results with articles that do not require careful pressing.

When coin-operated dry cleaning is to be used, one should be careful in the selection of fabrics, construction and kinds of garments when purchases are made. Look for information which says "fastenings and belt will clean in the same manner as the garment." For example, sweaters, knit dresses and suits, non-electric blankets, draperies and slip covers can be successfully machine dry cleaned.

Items which should not be dry cleaned by the self-service process are raincoats which have water repellency and which the self-service process cannot replace; and electric blankets, which may have the insulation damaged; and pillows and comforters which may lose their shape and resiliency. Items containing leather and rubber should not be cleaned in this manner, for leather is likely to become brittle and rubber to lose its elasticity.

Felt items may shrink, metallic yarn may tarnish, and plastic may dissolve or become stiff or soft.

Machine cleaning also should be avoided if garments are made from flock or lacquer prints, for the pattern may disappear, or the stiffened fabric may become soft and embossed fabrics may lose their texture.

Wear wrinkles are not always removed during machine cleaning, but the process itself does not add new wrinkles. Coin-operated dry cleaning establishments vary considerably in the services they offer. Some provide spot cleaning or pressing, features which add to the advantages of self-service dry cleaning.

Tricks In A Nutshell!!

The National Peanut Council says there are tricks in all trades. When it comes to peanuts, the National Peanut Council doesn't hoard all their tricks in a nutshell!

Their test kitchen economists have come up with a slick way to chop or crush peanuts. Put the nuts (whole or halves) into a plastic bag. Lay the bag flat on the counter top and with a rolling pin, roll back and forth (like rolling pie crust) until the peanuts are the size you want. No fuss or mess - it's all in the bag.

PEANUTS SPOTLIGHT MARCH PLENTIFUL FOODS LIST

March is blowing in a wave of plentiful foods, says Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Spotlighting the March plentiful list are Peanut and such products as peanut butter. This huge supply of peanuts is a result of the 1965 record production of 2,490 million pounds.

Other plentiful reported by the U. S. Department include potatoes, prunes, prune juice, fresh orange juice, rice and eggs.

Serve Hamburgers With A Surprise
Just because the children are back in school, it doesn't mean they are willing to give up the hamburgers they enjoyed all summer. Plan a supper of hamburgers with a new surprise - well seasoned and served with a special peanut butter sauce. The peanut butter sauce not only adds flavor but provides the children with the extra proteins their young bodies need for growth and development.
Hamburgers With Peanut Butter Sauce
1 pound well trimmed lean beef, ground
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons Mazola margarine
Peanut Butter Sauce
Lightly combine meat, onion, salt and margarine with fork. Gently shape into 4 medium thick patties. Pan broil in skillet, turning once, to desired degree of doneness, 6 to 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.
Peanut Butter Sauce: Melt 1 tablespoon Mazola margarine in saucepan. Stir in 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper and 1/4 cup finely chopped onion and 1 medium tomato pared and thinly sliced. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently, about 10 minutes. Blend in 2 tablespoons Skippy peanut butter. Gradually add 1 cup milk, stirring constantly, cook until sauce is slightly thickened. Top hamburgers with sauce; sprinkle with chopped hard cooked eggs and parsley.

CONGRATULATIONS... to the Farmers of this area, Gorman Peanuts and Southwestern Peanut Growers Association.
We are proud to take part in helping them celebrate...

LOOK WHAT'S HAPPENED TO PEANUT BUTTER AND JELLY! Jelly fills the centers of crunchy peanut buttery cookies and rings the top of velvet smooth peanut-flavored pie. Creamy white icing mingles with peanuts and marmalade atop a quick coffee cake.

Peanut butter and jelly go together. Everybody knows that. The undisputed champion — peanut butter ad jelly sandwich — rates high on the list of quick energy, muscle building foods. Lucky, too, for everyone who loves them, that they are so delicious and nutritious.

Do you know how thoroughly nutritious peanut butter is? During National Peanut Week, March 6-12, the National Peanut Council reminds us that a pound of peanut butter is equal in energy value to about 2 pounds of beef, 1 1/2 pounds of cheddar cheese, 9 pints of milk or 3 dozen medium size eggs.

Anytime you feature this champion combination — peanut butter and jelly — you're bound to have another winner. You can bet on it with these recipes. Balanced with other good foods (take note, mother) there is no such thing as too much or too often when it comes to peanuts.

JAMBLES

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup brown sugar

- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups unsifted flour

- 1 1/2 to 2 cups finely chopped salted peanuts

Jely, jam or auple butter.

Cream peanut butter, butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla. Mix in flour and salt. Shape into 1-inch balls. Roll in chopped peanuts. Put onto ungreased baking sheet. Make a "well" in the center of each ball with the thumb. Bake at 375 degrees F for 12 to 15 minutes. Cool. Just before serving, fill with jam, jelly or apple butter. Makes 3 dozen.

2 cups shelled raw peanuts
1 cup sugar 1 cup water
Put all ingredients in heavy sauce pan and boil over medium heat until all liquid is evaporated. Some stirring will be required when liquid becomes low to prevent peanuts from scorching and to make sugar crystallize. When all liquid is gone and peanuts have a good coat of sugar on them, pour upon large platter or cookie sheet - stir through with spoon once or twice to separate peanuts.

As It Looks

From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C.
17th. District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — THE SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION was obviously created to assist small business. Probably there has been more lip service paid to assisting the small businessman than about any other group in our economy, unless it is the "family-size" farmer. Just about everybody seems to be for the small businessman, and most of us have contended for years that he is the backbone of our economy.

YET, WHEN IT COMES TO INDIVIDUAL cases, it seems there are a lot of reasons given for not assisting him. Under the trends of bigness, the large gets larger and the small disappears. This is happening in agriculture and in small business because volume does not afford competition and, consequently, not enough for a living.

URBANIZATION IS HAVING ITS EFFECT TOO. It appears now that the greater part of small business loans are going into the large Eastern cities with less attention being paid to the moderate-size cities and towns, which, again, we say should have the principal benefit. The Department of Agriculture, originally the voice of the farmer, is now concerned with its "image," and serves about as many city people as it does those engaged in agriculture. Certainly there is reason to give attention to consumers, because we are all consumers. Since there are many more consumers than there are producers, the 1965 Agriculture Yearbook carries the title, Consumers All — and, incidentally, it is an interesting publication. The point is that not all activities of the Agriculture Department are aimed at farmers any more. In its own way, every Department of Government is concerned about city support.

THERE HAS BEEN PRESURE TO MERGE THE Small Business Administration with the Department of Commerce. This agency has the job of administering a portion of the Poverty Program, and out of $28 million appropriated for administration, all but approximately $10 million has been spent on salaries, but very little has gotten to the places intended. Out of 73 applications for Small Business Development Centers in the five States of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico, only four have been approved. Out of approximately 15 applications filed in Texas alone, only one has been approved, at Aspermont.

NOT ONLY IS BIG GOVERNMENT DIFFICULT TO FATHOM, but small operators are being lost in the shuffle and communities, and even States, are having their responsibilities assumed by Government, which causes it to be still bigger.

A NEW POWER IS FORMING BETWEEN BIG GOVERNMENT and the biggest United States cities. Within this structure, another kind of authority takes place within the Federal Government itself. This is the kind which results in putting together unrelated departments, such as was done under the Eisenhower Administration to form the Cabinet rank Department of Health, Education and Welfare. H.E.W., as it is called, is a hodgepodge of activities, and only the most farfetched argument would support the idea that the United States Public Health Service, the Office of Education, the Social Security Administration, the Food and Drug Administration, and a myriad of other activities have any business being included under one wing.

LAST YEAR ANOTHER DEPARTMENT WAS CREATED with Cabinet rank, known as the Housing and Urban Development Department. Its activities will be pointed primarily towards large city problems, such as transportation, housing, health and hospital care, and recreation. It is not a question of these being good things — the question is that the Federal Government is taking over the responsibility for it. The concentration of power in Washington is like a magnet. In reverse, its assistance in any broad scope, even if desirable as a system, is becoming more and more woefully deficient.

Sarah Jo Porter, age 5, and Sandra Jaye Porter, age 4, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Porter of Gorman.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express our gratitude and appreciation to friends and neighbors who extended sympathy and kindness during the illness and death of our loved one, Mrs. Laura Asher. Also for the flowers, cards, visits and food. May God richly bless each of you.

The Family of
Mrs. Laura Asher

PEANUT-WICHERY

Go adventuring at your grocer's for new bread-mates for your pet peanut butter sandwich fillings. Fun to mix-match in single or double-deckers are white, raisin, whole wheat, sweet swirled cinnamon, cheese, pumpernickle, rye, and cool.

1/2 cup peanut butter, 1 cup grated raw carrot, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, bread, butter, or margarine.

IN CASE THERE IS ANY QUESTION about Federal power, consider these available actions —

- (1) Instructing all government agencies not to buy from companies that increase prices over suggested guidelines.
- (2) Waging a campaign to spur public resentment against price and wage increase. This will be done by publishing figures on how price or wage increases will raise the cost of consumer goods.
- (3) Releasing materials from government stockpiles to force down prices if they are hiked above suggested guidelines.
- (4) Encouraging imports to reduce prices through competition.
- (5) Withholding public funds called "incentive" payments, which simply means "You won't get it if you don't do it."

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met for a third session in the study of Acts on Monday.

Witnessing in Adversity was the theme. The meeting opened with the singing of "Am I A Soldier of The Cross," followed by prayer and meditation.

Mrs. Charles Duran gave interesting information regarding the characters of the narrative as they witnessed by preaching and teaching. Women, including Dorcas and Lydia, who invited the missionaries into their homes, were cited.

Mrs. M. F. Allen discussed the importance of our acts in comparison to our speech.

Mrs. Duran also read from the Methodist Creed.

The calendars of individual activities were discussed.

TOASTED PEANUTS

Put a small amount of oil in to shallow pan, pour in the peanuts and stir them until they are well coated. There should not be any excess oil in pan, just enough to give an oily surface to each nut. Set the pan in oven and stir often until they become light brown. Drain on paper toweling, spread on a platter and sprinkle with salt.

THE MIGHTY NUTRITIOUS PEANUT! A vegetable medley, served tender-crisp the Oriental way, retains all its distinctive flavors when cooked in peanut oil. Chopped salted peanuts are the crowning nutritious touch of crisp and crunch.

THE MIGHTY NUTRITIOUS PEANUT

Peanuts turn up everywhere — candy store, supermarket, ball park, vending machine, newstand and gourmet shop. No matter where you are, peanuts are only an arm's reach away.

It must be because they're so good, combine with anything so well and are delightfully satisfying. Everyone likes them! The National Peanut Council tells us that peanuts are loaded with nutrition besides being high in satiety or "filling" value. They boast an amazing number of essential vitamins and enough protein to satisfy a vegetarian.

National Peanut Week, March 6-12, is a time to pay tribute to the growers, shellers, manufacturers, and distributors who supply these fresh, nutritious peanut products.

Of the total edible yearly crop 50% goes into peanut butter, 20% are salted, 15% goes into candy, 7% are roasted in the shell and 8% go to other edible uses such as peanut butter sandwich crackers and peanut oil. We get peanuts in great variety and in combination with other good things. Peanut oil is the rising newcomer in the peanut family. Bland in itself, it mingles the flavors of seasonings, clings and binds a dish together.

Add your own imagination and ideas to all this ready-made peanut product variety. There's no end to the peanutty parade of palate pleasers served every day across our great United States.

Try a few of these suggestions from the kitchens of the National Peanut Council and discover a whole new world of cooking fun.

ORIENTAL VEGETABLES

- 2 tablespoons peanut oil
- 2 or 3 carrots, diagonally sliced to make 1 cup
- 1/2 small head cauliflower, sliced to make 1 cup
- 3 or 4 stalks celery, diagonally sliced to make 1/2 cup
- 1/2 medium green pepper, sliced
- 1 small onion, sliced

- 3/4 cup water
- One 1-pound can sliced peaches, drained and cut if half
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1/4 cup chopped salted peanuts

Put oil and vegetables into a large saucepan. Stir over high heat until all vegetables are shiny. Add water. Cover. Bring to a boil, turn heat to medium, cover and cook 10 to 12 minutes. Vegetables should be barely crisp. Add peaches. Mix soy sauce, salt and cornstarch. Stir into vegetables. Stir until sauce thickens, 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in peanuts. Makes 6 servings.

SCALLOPED PINEAPPLE WITH PEANUTS

- 6 slices day-old bread
  - 1/2 cup melted butter
  - One 1-pound 4-ounce can crushed pineapple
  - 1/2 cup chopped salted peanuts
  - 1 cup sugar
  - Grated rind and juice of 1 lemon
- Pull bread into tiny pieces. Mix

Kokomo HD Club Stew Supper Draws Large Attendance

The Kokomo Home Demonstration Club met at the Kokomo Club House at 5:30 p. m. on Monday, February 28th. Mrs. Lee Bishop led the devotional prayer. Mrs. Glenn Jordan presided over a brief business meeting and then the meeting was adjourned and the ladies continued the preparation for the stew supper that began at 7 p. m.

Members attending were Mmes. Jordan, Bishop, Albert Hendricks, D. F. Eaves, Bill Brown, Wayne White, Bertha Hazard, Frank Williamson, J. F. Alderman, John Donaldson, and a guest, Mrs. Ables.

Approximately 90 people were served at the supper. Many remained to play games of "42" after supper.

The club netted $43.00 and half of this amount was given to the March of Dimes. Many thanks to each of you who came.

The next meeting of the Kokomo HD Club will be held on Monday, March 14th at 1:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. J. F. Alderman.

Peanut Has Played Prominent Role In Western World

The peanut has played a prominent role in the history of the western world.

Peanuts were cherished by the ancient Incas for their taste and versatility so much that they donated them as gifts to their gods. Early explorers took peanuts to the Mediterranean and to Africa. From Africa they returned to America on slave ships.

Called groundnuts by other people around the world, the slaves termed them "goobers" — and goobers they are in many of our southern states today.

The development and distribution of the peanut shaped the history of the post Civil War South. Before the war, peanuts were grown only in central Virginia. But each army occupied Virginia, and disbanded soldiers returned North and South — with a liking for peanuts.

When the boll weevil ate its way through southern cotton fields, the peanut proved a salvation to farmers. And as peanut production increased, the work of Dr. George Washington Carver, who was internationally known as the "wizard of agricultural research through chemistry," came into prominence.

Dr. Carver, who worked at Tuskegee Institute, saw the need to diversify agriculture to improve the soil. He went a step further and developed various useful products from the new plants.

From soil-enriching sweet potatoes and peanuts, he developed flour, dyes, vinegars, plastics and substitutes for dairy products — over 300 items. His research enabled the South to free itself from dependence on one crop — cotton. And the new products gave the much needed economic boost to the region.

The main peanut varieties are the Virginia types, grown in Virginia and the Carolinas; the Runner, which is produced in other southeastern states; and the Spanish type, which is grown in the Southwestern area, which includes our area.

Peanuts, peanut butter and peanut oils are plentiful now, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

SODA FOUNTAIN SPECIALTY

Top your favorite ice cream sundae with crumbled chocolate peanut candies. Teen-agers vote for chocolate ice cream generously spread with marshmallow creme topping, a sprinkling of chopped peanut clusters, topped with a maraschino cherry. Coffee lovers favor coffee ice cream, caramel sauce and crumbled chocolate peanut candy bars — the kind with rich caramel centers surrounded by toasty peanuts and creamy milk chocolate. Gourmets pour a few tablespoons creme de menthe over vanilla ice cream which has been covered with finely crushed chocolate peanut candy bars.

FRUIT CUP CAPERS

Top well-chilled canned fruit cocktail with sprigs of mint and crushed peanut brittle. Ambrosia is distinctively different with a little crushed peanut brittle to add crunch and texture to the classic orange-coconut combination.

CHOCO-NUT COOKIES

Chocolate covered peanuts or the new candy coated peanuts are just the right size to stir into drop-cooky dough.

BRITTLE CRISP

Add 1/4 to 1/2 cup crushed peanut brittle to the crumbly topping next time you make apple, cherry or peach crisp.

We are pleased to join in this week of National recognition to the Peanut.

We look forward with pleasure to a continuing role in working with government and industry in the overall peanut program.

We extend our best wishes to peanut farmers, shellers and buyers in the 120 Texas counties where peanuts play a vital role in the local economy.

Mrs. L. E. Dudley Is Guest Speaker For WSG Meeting Monday

It was for a very special meeting that Woman's Study Club members and a number of guests gathered in the home of Mrs.

James Mears last Monday evening, Mrs. L. E. Dudley, Abilene, was guest speaker, and Mrs. Dudley is an outstanding and active dedicated club woman. She is so interested and well-informed in subjects of interest to women that hearing her inspires everyone.

Club president, Mrs. Berenice Jeffs, called the meeting to order by welcoming everyone. Mrs. John Kirk led the group in the Club Collect.

Yearbook chairman, Miss Ozella Pulley, welcomed home Mrs. John Wright, Abilene, and asked her to introduce Mrs. Dudley. Jo Wright, active in Abilene club work, was a Charter member and is a past president of the Woman's Study Club, so renewing friendships was a pleasant side-light to the evening.

In introducing Mrs. Dudley, Mrs. Wright so aptly pointed out that to list all the things she does would require the remainder of the evening, but among the positions Mrs. Dudley fills is Vice President of Texas State Historical Survey Committee and she is a member of the General Federation of Women's Clubs Board of Directors. Mrs. Dudley brought a program to Gorman women several years ago when she was serving as President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Dudley spoke on women being informed, organized, and active. She told of the beginnings of Club Federation, both State and General, and presented the Woman's Study Club a book on the History of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Bringing to attention many of the past accomplishments of women organized, Mrs. Dudley continued by stressing the current goals, and ended by saying "we are the privileged women of the world, and because of it, we have the biggest responsibility." Then she quoted, "men build towns, but women make them fit to live in."

While hostesses Mrs. James Mears, Mrs. Joe Ormsby, Mrs. Berenice Jeffs and Mrs. G. C. Acrea, served refreshments to the approximately thirty-five ladies that were present, Mrs. Dudley graciously answered questions.

And the refreshments of assorted sandwiches — cheese and chicken salad, topped with miniature Texas Flags, nuts, cake with whipped cream, potato chips, and punch that was not only delicious but a beautiful red color, were served from a lovely table centered with an arrangement of red carnations. Silver and crystal serving pieces added to the gleam and sparkle.

It was quite some time and many do-you-remember later, that Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. Wright remembered the drive back to Abilene. Urging them to come back soon, everyone departed in various directions. It will certainly be a highlight evening of the club year, this Texas Independence Day Celebration.
