

Peanut Program Slashed - SWPGA Eliminated

Hello Neighbor!

In case you are receiving or reading the Gorman Progress for the first time you may be wondering why it is being mailed to you.

Because the peanut business is vitally important to my business I am taking it on myself to publish and mail all extra copies at my own expense. My advertisers are exceptionally good at supporting our paper but I have not had time to contact them for a personal expression in regard to this peanut legislation. However, I feel certain all of them feel the same as I do in regards to the peanut industry.

If you are a peanut farmer, sell any type of equipment or merchandise to peanut farmers, have any property in this area or are interested in the community in which you live, it will be worth your time to study this article on PEANUT LEGISLATION and join others in trying to protect the future of our whole area.

Some may not be connected with the peanut industry in any way. However, the people who are interested in the production and marketing of peanuts spend their money in other towns as well as their home town.

Production and marketing of peanuts has boosted the purchasing power of everyone in this area . . . if several million dollars is suddenly cut off from circulating out of the peanut growing area of the Southwest it could create a depression overnight.

Give this serious thought and write a personal card, letter or telegram to all of your representatives in government.

Petitions are alright, but when your congressman or senator receives a personal letter calling his attention to our problems he will sit up and take notice.

If you should happen to visit Gorman at any time I will be happy to have you visit our plant . . . might even slip a dime out of the wife's allowance and buy the coffee — and there is nearly always a few peanuts on one of our desks for a light snack.

Texas FU Denounces Pnt. Change

Texas Farmers Union has joined with the National Farmers Union in protesting some Administrative modifications to the federal farm programs for peanuts and rice. Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco, charged that the changes announced Wednesday by Secretary Butz are undesirable and contradictory.

In a letter to key congressional leaders, Naman pointed out that the changes to both the rice and peanut programs are unwise and would work a severe hardship on the producers of these commodities. Naman stated that in regard to the peanut program the decision to eliminate price support on all peanuts with evidence of aflatoxin could remove price support protection from a large part of the Texas crop, because of excessive rains in the peanut producing areas. He said that even though peanut producers are paying an exorbitant price, over $7,000,000 annually in service fees, for the sampling and inspection of their peanuts, additional costs are being transferred to the farmer by the announced changes in the administration of the program.

"As if the removal of loan benefits and the saddling of additional costs on producers are not sufficiently discriminatory against peanut producers, Secretary Butz further imposes unbearable compliance requirements on the peanut farmer, and takes away from him the minimal bargaining power that he has had in marketing his peanuts through his marketing cooperative. It appears that Secretary Butz is announcing changes in the peanut program that amounts to harassment in order to set the stage for some administrative recommendations for radical legislative changes in the peanut program.

Turning to the Administrative announcement relating to rice, the state farm leader pointed out that the elimination of marketing quotas on the production of rice will open the door to costly surpluses and resulting reduced income to rice producers.

"Consumers have enjoyed an abundant supply of peanuts and rice at reasonable prices. There's no justification at all for the Administration to wreck these fine programs with administrative changes that are apparently laying the groundwork for radical legislative recommendations.

We protest the administrative changes and we intend to oppose strenuously the dis-

Poage Says Destruction Peanut Program Unwise

In a statement issued on October 26, 1973, Congressman W. R. Poage Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee made the following comments:

The Secretary of Agriculture has announced certain administrative changes in the 1974 peanut crop program in what seems to me to be a penny-wise pound-foolish move which is certain to create financial hardship to thousands of producers and severely hurt the economy of a great many small communities. A similar change was announced for rice, but today I want to confine my discussion to peanuts.

Under these changes there will be no further price supports for peanuts found to contain aflatoxin. Were we to treat hog producers the same way, we would make no compensation to the owner of hogs slaughtered to stop the spread of cholera. There will be no transfers of acreage allotments by lease or sale. This will work an especial hardship on retired, crippled and disabled land owners who can not work their land. The able-bodied and well-financed will be able to work their own allotments. There will be an increase of $2 per ton in the storage charges. This will be added to the $15 imposed this year. The effect is simply to reduce supports by that amount. No tolerance of acreage measurements will be allowed in program compliance. If a farmer with an allotment of 13.5 acres plants 13.51 acres he can be denied all program benefits. For practical purposes, no farmer can survey his land with that exactness.

The functions of the three regional Marketing Co-ops will be transferred to county ASCS offices. Very few of these offices are equipped to conduct these complex marketing activities. This will surely reduce the actual returns to farmers by many millions of dollars.

The CCC will take over all

Georgia FB President Charges Nixon Adm. with Program Sabotage

MACON, Georgia, Oct. 25 — Georgia Farm Bureau President H. Emmett Reynolds today charged the Nixon Administration with deliberately sabotaging the 1974 peanut price support program in an attempt to force Congressional changes in the basic peanut law.

Reynolds said administrative changes in the program for next year announced Wednesday in Washington by Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz would be "disastrous to the peanut farmers of Georgia and the nation, to the economics of the peanut-producing areas, and to the entire American peanut industry."

He said the six program changes are "deliberately designed to harass producers and cripple the program to such an extent as to make it virtually unworkable." He said Butz's Washington announcement was part of a continuing campaign "to force changes in the basic peanut legislation which has served the farmer, the industry, and the consumer well for many years."

"The changes in the 1974 peanut program announced by Secretary Butz on Wednesday constitute a brazen move by the Nixon administration to do by executive order what it has been unable to do in the Congress — simply to kill off the program," Reynolds declared.

"This cynical design is clearly evident by the fact that the changes will (1) increase the cost of the program, (2) effectively eliminate American peanuts from the export market, and (3) greatly increase government involvement in the marketing of peanuts," Reynolds said.

"In the past, the Department's spokesmen have piously proclaimed that they want to achieve just the opposite results through changes in the peanut law."

Reynolds accused Butz of ignoring the fact that the cost of the peanut price support program has declined dramatically in the past year — from $100 million to about $60 million. He said the Department has estimated the cost of the program for this year at about the same level.

Reynolds said Georgia peanut leaders are working with their Senators and Congressmen and with the other peanut-producing areas to oppose the program changes.

"Every effort humanly possible will be made to convince the Department that the program he has announced is unworkable and will cause untold harm to the entire American peanut industry at tremendous cost to the taxpayers," he said. The changes announced by Butz would eliminate price supports on aflatoxin peanuts; prohibit transfer of allotments by sale or lease; increase to $17 per ton the charge to farmers for storage, handling and inspection costs; remove the tolerance previously allowed for slight overplanting of allotments; require that government-held surplus peanuts be sold for export or crushing at not less than 115 percent of the price support loan rate; and transfer of the administration of the price support program from producer-run marketing associations to the state and county ASCS offices of the Department of Agriculture.

Georgia is the nation's leading producer of peanuts, and the peanut crop is the State's most valuable farm commodity. Peanuts are produced in approximately half of the state's 159 counties.

On Wednesday, October 24, Secretary of Agriculture, Earl L. Butz, announced several sweeping and devastating changes in the 1974 peanut price support program. These are changes that the Agriculture Secretary has authority under present law to make without any action on the part of the Congress. These are actions, however, which we feel sur, neither the Congress nor anyone in industry ever expected to see placed in operation. Each of the following changes, according to knowledgeable industry sources, will be extremely adverse to peanut interests. The majority of the changes apparently are in direct violation of the intent and spirit of present price support statutes. In fact, the changes appear to constitute a willful action on the part of the administration to totally wreck a very fine peanut industry. The changes announced by the Secretary include the following:

1. Elimination of the role of Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association in CCC-USDA price support operations. Since 1941 citizens of the Gorman community, along with peanut growers and industry officials throughout the Southwest, have observed the smooth working, efficient operation of this organization that has functioned so effectively not only in carrying out the CCC price support program in the Southwest, but in providing a variety of other services for peanut growers and the industry in general. SWPGA has also been active in other endeavors such as the coordination of research and promotion, legislative representation and generally serving as a united voice for peanut growers in the southwestern United States. Suddenly, and without warning, Secretary Butz announced in a Washington Press conference that peanut price support functions of this great organization and its two counterparts in Georgia and Virginia would be shifted for 1974 to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service state and county offices. It would be impractical and probably impossible to enumerate the numerous adverse effects of this devastating change to the almost 100,000 peanut growers of the United States. When the preponderance of opinion of an entire industry — growers, shellers and manufacturers — sways lopsidedly toward program administration through the three area associations, it becomes apparent that logic and reason have been thrust aside by the administration in reaching such an unpopular and outrageous decision. Many previous studies by the USDA itself have shown the peanut program can be best administered through the peanut grower associations — and at less cost to the government. However, top administration officials appear to have perceived the high degree of desirability on the part of industry, in retaining present marketing functions of the association and have concluded that elimination of these associations would serve as a useful tool in pushing peanut growers into an undesirable legislative program that will feature among other things unlimited production, considerably lower prices and complete freedom in the market place with the ultimate aim of having large quantities of peanuts for export purposes in order to assist in the balance of payments effort.
2. The secretary eliminated transfers by sale, lease or by owner privileges now permitted for acreage allotments. This change will work severe hardships on elderly landowners, widows and others who had made plans to lease their allotments. It will result in reduced income to persons who through a privilege granted to them by Congress in 1963, suddenly without warning were informed they could no longer lease this acreage to farmers in the community wanting additional acreage. If this acreage could be planted it would return needed income to both parties as well as to the community, county and state. The Secretary said when making this program change that it would result in lower program cost, but it appears to us this is a poor method to utilize in program cost savings. The Secretary failed to state that his action in this regard would reduce income of peanut growers who were planning to exercise this option. Peanut acreage, it seems to us, was set up by the Congress to be planted by peanut producers. A subsequent law permitted the sale and lease of acreage under certain circumstances. Unfortunately for peanut growers, a provision in the law provides authority for the Secretary to make the final determination on this matter.

3. An increase of $2.00 per ton in storage handling and inspection charges (from $15 to $17 per ton) assumed by producers in order to recover more of Commodity Credit Corporation's outlay for these charges — In the Secretary's previous comments on this matter he failed to mention that the $17 per ton to growers will result in a 1974 loan level of about 72 percent of parity rather than the 75 percent of parity as required by law. The support price to be announced by USDA will be 75 percent of parity but as a result of this action by the Secretary growers will receive $17 per ton less than 75 percent of parity. He also did not point out that this item would cost the nation's growers about 30 million dollars while saving CCC some 8.5 million dollars. This is true because the CCC loan rate, which will be 17 dollars less than support in 1974, will also establish the price paid by shellers on commercial purchases.

4. No tolerance will be allowed in program compliance determination relating to measured acreage — This policy constitutes another ridiculous change from the conventional orderly peanut marketing quota compliance system. Many current peanut growers produce several hundred acres of peanuts. Heretofore, in ASCS regulations reasonable tolerances were provided to allow for honest errors in instances where growers planted more than their farm allotments. Penalties were assessed growers on a nominal basis to compensate for such slight errors. In 1974 if a grower, for some reason miscalculated his planted acreage and over plants to any degree, regardless of how slight, he will pay a marketing penalty in the amount of approximately 75 percent of the value of all peanuts produced on the farm. In cases where these conditions occur as honest errors on the part of the producer, the result will be a loss of 75 percent of the total revenue of all peanuts produced by the producer. Clearly, this is an outright violation of the spirit of the law as enacted by the Congress many years previous to this administration.
5. The CCC's minimum sales policy for acquired peanuts is being revived to provide a minimum resale level of 115 percent of the loan rate on both domestic and diversion sales (a diversion sale is one made for crushing into oil and meal or for export). This policy will, in all likelihood, result in exorbitant costs to CCC. Presently CCC stocks are moving into the export market and domestic oil market at prices somewhat below the domestic edible price level. Export and oil markets have traditionally been at levels less than the domestic edible market price which is based on the CCC loan rate. To arbitrarily place a minimum 115 percent of the CCC loan rate on such stocks will in effect lock in those stocks in warehouses at CCC expense. After a period of months these peanuts deteriorate in quality and become subject to rancidity, attacks by insects, rodents and loss of value in both food and crushing usage. This change appears to be a willful effort to totally destroy the peanut program by a planted escalation of program costs and purposeful withholding from domestic and world trade channels valuable protein products that the Secretary has said repeatedly in recent months, need to be used in feeding a protein hungry world. Additionally, this policy is directly opposite to the direction of increased exportation of peanuts the industry has been encouraged by USDA to preserve.

PANTHERS WIN 33-0; TRAVEL TO LOMETA

Well the Panthers came roaring back this week and took out their wrath on the Blanket Tigers in a District 6-B game at Brogdon Field Friday night by the score of 33-0.

The Panthers showed more offensive punch than in any other game this season as they rolled up 233 yards rushing and had 97 yards passing. The offensive line seemed to have found the combination of blocking and it really did show up Friday night in the running game. The Panthers didn't pass very much, but when they did the protection was there. Claude Ridens snagged an 82 yard pass and Ronnie Eison caught a 15 yarder.

Also the Big Red defense came through, holding the Tigers offense scoreless and only allowed them 91 yards rushing and 7 yards passing. The entire defensive team are to be congratulated for their outstanding effort. They sure showed a great deal of improvement in their performance.

Gorman got on the board with 4:11 left in the first period when James Webb ran for 7 yards off right tackle for the score to cap a 78 yard drive. The PAT failed.

in the second period with Bill Baze rambling the final 15 yards on a QB rollout. Again the kick for PAT failed, and the score was 12-0.

On their next possession the Panthers scored on a beautiful 82 yard pass and run play when Claude Ridens took a pass from Bill Baze and made a thrilling run for the final 55 yards or so for the TD with 3:52 left in the first half. Baze added the PAT, and the score stood at 19-0 at intermission.

The Gorman Panther Band put on a fine show during the half time break, doing the routine they will perform at Brady in the band contest.

The Panthers came out fired up the second half, and after holding the Tigers they took over on their own 45 yard line and in only one Big Red had another 6 points. James Webb took the handoff from Baze, zipped through the right tackle hole and brought the crowd to their feet on a beautiful 55 yard scamper. Baze added the PAT to make the score 26-0.

The final Panther tally came with 10:15 left in the final stanza when Webb capped a 22 yard drive with a 1 yard plunge for the TD. Again Baze added the PAT and the final score read 33-0.

Webb led the Panthers on the ground with 130 yards on 20 carries for a 6.5 average. Baze had 83 on 10 tries. Carl Burleson hit for 16 on 8 trips.

This game shows what the Big Red are capable of when they put it all together, and that's exactly what they did. And they will really have to put it all together again this Friday night when they travel to Lometa to take on the Hornets in the Hornet's nest in another 6-B tilt. The Hornets have been playing good football and are always hard to beat on their own playing field. However, we do not question the outcome if the Panthers will continue the fine effort they displayed last Friday night.

FORMER GORMANITE BEGINS NEW CAREER
EDINBURG — After eating, drinking and breathing law for 24 hours a day, seven days a week for 20 years, Earlene M. Longoria, wife of State Senator Raul Longoria of Pharr, has become an attorney in her own right.

Mrs. Longoria, who is 48, is familiar to many residents as a teacher in the Edinburg and Pharr-San Juan-Alamo School Districts for many years.

She said she had lived with law from the time she and her Mmes. D. F. Eaves, Albert Hendricks, Odis Rodgers, Bob Walker and J. L. Morrow.

future husband met at the University of Texas. The former Earlene Moorman of Gorman said she and Longoria supported one another as they worked their way thru college. After earning a business administration degree, she helped him complete law school while she taught in the public schools.

During the last ten years, she said, she substituted in the Longoria's law office in Edinburg as girl-Friday then grew to full-time duty as her husband's work in the legislature took more and more of his time. She studied law in his office for three years before attending a refresher course taught by professors from the University of Texas and St. Mary's Law School in Austin. She said she had been concerned that professionals and the public would resent her not having gone through law school but happily has found the opposite to be true. She said everyone in Austin and Hidalgo Counties have supported her efforts at independent study.

Mrs. Longoria passed her State Bar examination and was licensed on Sept. 24. She tried her first case recently before Judge Fidencio Guerra in 139th District Court.

Earlene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Moorman, formerly of Gorman, and she graduated from Gorman High School in 1942. She is also the niece of Mrs. Ernest Barnes of Gorman.

The above article was sent to us by Mrs. Walter Dixon of Mission, who thought Earlene's friends would be interested in reading it. Mrs. Dixon was employed by the Gorman Progress when she lived in Gorman. She writes us she continues to report for the Mission News, a weekly, and has been contacted by a daily in McAllen to write for them. She also reports she and Walter are doing fine.

Mrs. Dixon also enclosed an article about the Sharyland football team, the Warriors, in which her grandson, Jimbo Jarrett (son of their daughter Peggy) is a member of and is an outstanding player, especially good at passing. Peggy is a teacher in the Sharyland Schools.

KOKOMO NEWS

By MRS. GLENN JORDAN

Those having part on the program were Bro. Joe O'Neal, Woodrow Browning, Donna Browning, Wynelle Brown, Anna Laura Clearman, Helen Browning, Cyldie Jordan and Ruth Bishop. Following the program the officers of the church were recognized and then the Sunday School teachers came forward lighting their candles from a central candle, and each member of the Sunday School then came lighting their candles from their teachers' candle, promising to walk in the light and to do their best to send the Light into all the world.

I want to thank you for taking me to Blackwell Hospital. I have never been so well cared for by such competent and happy people. They took excellent care of me. You are very fortunate to have such a facility and staff at your service.

Also, according to my doctor here in Tyler, Dr. Pino did an excellent job sewing my severed tendon. This is tricky surgery.

Again I say you are fortunate to have a doctor with such skills and training.

Thank you sincerely,
Wm. H. Baker

NOTE:- Bill Baker is a linotype mechanic from Tyler who overhauled our machines for us recently. He injured his finger on the way to Gorman and was taken to Blackwell Hospital after he arrived here.

Thanks for the letter Bill, and our machines are working a lot better.

Tips for using electricity efficiently:

Get well acquainted with the control on your clothes dryer.

Clothes come out of the dryer harsh and stiff when you over-dry them. And you use electricity that isn't needed. If you don't have automatic controls, experiment with the manual control to find the right setting for each type of fabric, then use it. Man-made fabrics, in particular, require extended cool-down periods.

These other suggestions also can help you make more efficient use of your clothes dryer and electricity.

Group clothes together by weight and texture of the fabrics to avoid running an additional cycle for two or three slower-drying items.

When you want to fluff pillows, sweaters, knits or small throw rugs, tumble them without heat for not more than 15 minutes.

Place your clothes dryer in a heated part of your home, if possible, and have it vented to the outside. A dryer in an unheated area, such as an outside utility room or the garage, can take longer to dry your clothes in winter, because the air temperature in the drum will have to be increased.

And remember to clean the lint filter on the dryer after each load. This will help it operate more efficiently and reduce drying time.

It's our job at Texas Electric to help you get the most value from your electric service. Call us when you have questions about any use of electricity in your home. Or ask for our free booklet, "Tips to help you use electricity more efficiently throughout your home."
