Stettinius Named To Succeed Hull

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Quick senate confirmation was predicted today for the appointment of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., as secretary of state.

Speed was indicated not only by the general acclaim which greeted President Roosevelt's chosen successor to Cordell Hull but also by the urgency of pending international problems, headed by the need to complete the Dumbarton Oaks plan for world security.

Chairman Connally (D-Texas) summoned the senate foreign relations committee to meet tomorrow and Vice President Wallace said he is confident "the senate will support the president's choice by confirming him unanimously."

At the state department the 44-year-old Stettinius, who has been acting secretary since Hull entered the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., buckled down to the enormous job confronting him in guiding American foreign policy into new fields of international cooperation.

In the main, associates predicted that the secretary-designate would continue the basic policies laid down by his retiring chief. Notable among these is the policy of non-recognition of the militarist regime in Argentina, of which policy Stettinius has been an outspoken advocate.

Mr. Roosevelt sent his nomination to the senate late yesterday, leaving unfilled for the time being the position of undersecretary which Stettinius has filled since September 1943.

This disclosed that the resignation had been submitted on November 21, a week ago, and it brought out in his own forceful words Hull's bitter regret at having to relinquish the reins of foreign policy before the job of post-war world organization is complete.

"It is with inexpressible disappointment," he wrote, "that I

Allies Evacuate China Provinces

By LEONARD MILLMAN Associated Press War Editor

Americans and British were ordered to evacuate the central China provinces of Kweichow and Hunan today in the face of menacing Japanese columns driving deeper into China.

Further American air victories were reported over the Pacific where torrential tropical rains washed out ground fighting.

Revenge-seeking Japanese fighter planes made two bombing and strafing attacks on Saipan, Marianas Island base from which B29 Superforts have twice been sent against Tokyo. Thirteen Zeros were shot down. Front line dispatches indicated this was close to the entire force making the second strike in broad daylight. Damage inflicted to the 21st Bomber Command base was not disclosed.

Revised figures from Adm. Chester W. Nimitz added two more Japanese ships sunk and 23 damaged to the toll taken by carrier planes striking last Saturday (Philippines time) at the Manila Bay area. The total of 48 surface craft at least temporarily knocked out in that raid included a cruiser, three destroyers, a destroyer escort, 13 other ships and two tugboats definitely sunk. Eighty seven Japanese planes were destroyed. So far this month carrier planes have knocked out 151 enemy vessels in the Manila area.

To the south Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported heaviest bombing raids yet on Japanese airfields on Cebu, Negros and Mindanao islands. Eight enemy interceptors were shot down. Little opposition was encountered by B29s from Saipan and India striking simultaneously yesterday at Tokyo's industrial waterfront and Banko's important railway yards. Six interceptors were brought down over Bangkok where bombardiers reported excellent hunting in perfect weather.

Heavy clouds forced American airmen to use precision bombing over Tokyo and prevented observation of results. No Superforts were lost on either flight. Tokyo radio reported flying Japanese columns have driven more than eight miles into Kweichow province of central China on their way toward Kwelyang, provincial capital, and the Burma Road. The Chinese acknowledge one force enveloped Hochih, 140 miles southeast of Kwelyang. A second column advanced from Paoching in Hunan. Fall of Welyang would endanger Chungking, 200 miles to the northwest.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28 (AP)—A legal quirk left St. Louis county without a sheriff or deputies but law enforcement continued today. Sheriff Arnold J. Willmann resigned to comply with the law that he must be sworn in 29 days after he was elected coroner. The county court ordered him to enforce the laws as coroner, so his 75 deputies resigned and took the oath as deputy coroners.

RAF Heavies Hurl 4,000 Tons Of Bombs On Reich

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP)—At least 1,000 RAF heavy bombers in pre-dawn raids today hurled some 4,000 tons of explosives on Neuss and Freiburg, German supply centers just back of the western front, as the sustained 72-hour assault on Nazi front-line rail and supply centers continued.

Freiburg lies behind the Mulhouse-Kolmar sector where the French First army and the American Seventh army are pressing up to the western bank of the Rhine. American heavy bombers attacked German rail movements at Offenburg, north of Freiburg, yesterday. Mosquitos raided Berlin during the night.

Neuss is far to the north in the Dusseldorf area and is a junction point for rail lines to Aachen, Cologne and Gladbach where the British Second army and the U. S. First and Ninth armies are engaged.

Following up the daylight attack on Bingen, RAF medium bombers smashed rail facilities at Rheylt, 12 miles east of Gellenkirchen, Saturday night. American fighter pilots shot down 98 German planes yesterday in the greatest all-fighter air battle of the war, and destroyed another four on the ground, bringing their kills for 24 hours to 212.

Thirteen American fighters and one bomber were missing from yesterday's operations.

School Children Named As Three Time Winners

Twenty-one school children have been designated as three-time winners for the past three weeks of the paper salvage contests being carried on in the public schools of Big Spring and surrounding communities, the salvage office at the Big Spring Bombardier school announced Monday.

These winners include Robert Schlosser, Harold Little, Jimmie Harris, Ramona Magee and Billy Arthur of West Ward school; Savoy Kay of North ward; Alvin Moore, Charles Tidwell, Jimmie Harper, Jimmie Joan Bennett and Dallas Wood of East Ward; Polene Reynolds, Sandra Trapnell and Carroll Reed of South Ward; Don Royalty and Pattie Miller of Central ward; Marie Hall, Robert Ang, Wayne Brown and Stuart Brand of College Heights; and Larry Ray and Charles Wright of Lakewood.

School children in Big Spring have collected more than 61,000 pounds of paper and this much paper can be made into 6,710 protective bands for 1,000 bombs similar to the type being used in present bombings of Europe, according to reports from salvage headquarters.

The paper salvage contest is concluded on Dec. 8 and school children are urged to collect more and more paper toward winning of the free tour through the Big Spring Bombardier school, directors of the drive announced.

Canadian House Of Commons Calls Secret Session Over Conscription

By HARRY T. MONTGOMERY OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (AP)—The house of commons was called into secret session today in a dominion-splitting conscription issue following a declaration by Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King that lack of a "reasonable" unity on the question might lead to anarchy in Canada.

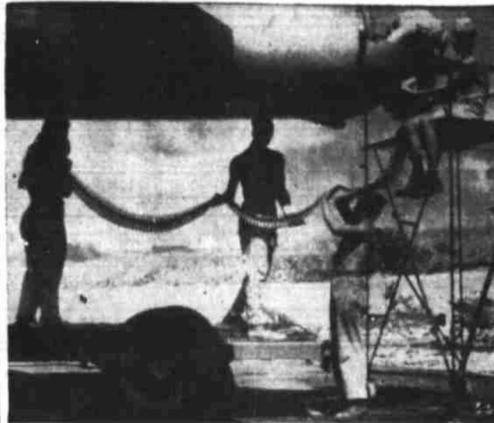

The 69-year-old premier told parliament last night that he would resign if he did not get strong support in a vote of confidence to be taken later in the week.

He appealed especially to the wavering French-speaking members from Quebec, who reflect the nationalistic province's opposition to conscription for overseas service. He called for an end of racial divergencies which have been a bar to complete Canadian unity since the dominion's earliest history.

Even as King spoke, these differences broke into anti-conscription demonstrations as far away as British Columbia on the west coast and as near as Lansdowne Park just a mile and a half from Parliament Hill here in Ottawa.

The prime minister's peculiar position was that his new policy of partial conscription for overseas service is opposed by two extreme groups—those who believe it does not go far enough, and those who believe it goes too far.

The French-speaking members are expected to vote against the government if it seems likely to stay safely in power without their votes, and to vote with it if defeat looms. If the King government should be defeated, the French-speaking members fear they would be confronted by a new government enforcing conscription more vigorously than now is being done.

Snowfall On East Slows Russians

Reds Capture 50 Additional Towns In Puppet State

By DANIEL DE LUCE MOSCOW, Nov. 28 (AP)—The heaviest snowfall of the year following a severe sleet storm slowed down action today in the battle for Budapest.

German and Hungarian troops were occupying defense positions along a 26-mile curve from the southern limits of Budapest to the rail junction of Azoed on the north, front advice said.

The Russian command made no mention of progress on that front although reports here said the situation in the Hungarian capital was tense.

The Soviet war bulletin, however, reported capture of 50 additional hamlets in the puppet state of Slovakia. Red army columns in a six-mile penetration of northern Slovakia crossed the 2,700-foot Carpathian mountains along the Polish frontier. Other units in the south advanced to within 11 miles of the big north Hungarian rail center of Satoraljauihely.

(The Berlin radio said Soviet troops who had crossed to the west bank of the Danube at Batina and again in northern Yugoslavia had forced the Germans back a mile or more. This operation, not yet confirmed by Moscow, was seen by the Germans as an attempt to take Budapest from the rear.)

Germans Driven From Lamone Bank

ROME, Nov. 28 (AP)—British troops of the Eighth army have driven most of the Germans from the Lamone river's east bank to positions on the opposite side in the Alberto region five miles northeast of Faenza. Allied headquarters said today.

Southwest of Faenza patrols crossed the Lamone and established contact with the Germans on high ground beyond. On the eastern sector of the Fifth army front Indian troops captured Casale, less than 10 miles south of Faenza.

Tech Faculty Is Charged By Dobie

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Resignation of four more members of the University of Texas board of regents was advocated today by J. R. Parten to Houston, former regent, who testified before a senate investigating committee regarding his opinion on the cause and cure for the university's administrative situation.

Drawing upon his experience and observations as a regent from 1935 to 1941 and as a member of the Ex-Students' association, Parten said in part:

"The issues in this case may be reduced to two questions. "First, shall academic freedom in its accepted sense be restored and respected by the board of regents?"

"Second, shall undue regimental interference with normal administration be practiced by the board of regents?"

He said the first question should be answered in the affirmative and the second in the negative. J. Frank Dobie, university professor of English, made a second appearance to offer in evidence an anonymous letter which he concluded showed an attempt to suppress freedom of expression at Texas Tech.

The one he offered, he said, was signed "a Tech faculty member" and was written on the reverse side of a form letter which he said bore the name of W. M. Whyburn, president of Tech, and the seal of the college. The form letter, Dobie told the committee, admonished faculty members to clear with the president all news items affecting the president and the board of directors of the college.

The writing on the reverse side of the form letter, said Dobie, advised that "Clifford Jones (former president of Tech) issued a similar letter that no faculty members should make a political speech or take part in controversies."

It added, Dobie continued, that Jones, a now president emeritus, is still "in power."

Chairman Penrose Metcalfe announced later, following a telephone conversation with Whyburn, that Whyburn reported he circulated the form letter as a routine departmental intercommunication.

The chairman said the Tech president also reported that such a custom had been followed for more than 10 years and the letter in question was circulated primarily in the interest of getting staff members doing work of general interest to communicate their ideas to the press because some of them were reluctant to communicate to the press.

Metcalfe also said Whyburn reported that the letter was sent on his own motion and not at the direction of the board of directors.

Charles Guy Says Whyburn Issued Letter As Stated

LUBBOCK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president of Texas Technological College, did issue a mimeographed letter directing faculty members to clear newspaper interviews through the college department of publicity as charged in a senate investigation in Austin, Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, said today.

However, Guy said in his statement he is convinced Dr. Whyburn's directive was not aimed at "muzzling" Tech professors but, instead, as Dr. Whyburn insists, was to assure announcements entailing policies coming from policy-making authorities and to facilitate the flow of news and improve publicity emanating from the campus.

"Our reporter covering the Tech beat brought me a copy of the directive on October 31, almost before the ink on it was dry," Guy said, "and I immediately asked President Whyburn for an explanation. The directive was difficult of interpretation and I first took it to mean that no Tech news story could be obtained without first 'clearing' through Prof. Cecil Horne, head of the departments of journalism and publicity. However, Doctor Whyburn explained that such was not the case and our handling of routine Tech news has since continued as it has over the past 19 years."

"Because they are published in the city where the college is located, our morning, evening and Sunday newspapers naturally carry much more news of Texas Tech than any others. We never have sought policy stories from any other source than the president's office, nor do we now, so Dr. Whyburn's directive in that regard brings about no change in our handling of Tech news."

Search For Plane Near Baird Ends

ABILENE, Nov. 28 (AP)—A search for a plane reported to have crashed in the vicinity of Baird, 25 miles east of here, has been given up. Abilene army air field officials announced.

The search started Sunday after a 15-year-old boy at Baird said he saw a plane explode and after a ranch woman reported she heard an explosion.

Hodges' Troops Fight Into Inden And Jugersdorf

By WILLIAM FRYE

LONDON, Nov. 28 (AP) Americans on the drenched Cologne plain reached the Roer river today and drove up to a mile into intricate German defenses along the flooded stream while infantry of the Third army advanced within ten miles of Saarbrucken, arsenal capital of the Saar.

Surging forward in pre-dawn blackness, First army infantry of Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges fought into the streets of Inden and Jugersdorf and close to Lamersdorf.

The U. S. 9th army reached the Roer at Kirchberg, 23 miles from Cologne and less than a mile across the muddy Roer from the citadel of Julich.

A French broadcast asserting that French units of the U. S. 7th army had crossed the Rhine north of Strasbourg had no confirmation.

The nearest Third army approach to Saarbrucken, sprawling steel and coal center, was at captured Seinhousse to the southwest.

First army troops won two thirds of Langerwehe, last important enemy communications point west of the Roer. German defenses in that village five miles from Duren appeared to be breaking up. Planes attacked the eastern exits while infantry fought through. Other men of the First army fought in the streets of Grosshaus and for the last third of the forest battlefield town of Hurlingen.

Fairly clear skies allowed planes to attack tanks and artillery positions all along the critical 18-mile front before Cologne between Linlich and Duren. They struck farther back on the Cologne plain, shooting up trains and fortified houses. The town of Pier was set afire.

The battle aim of Gen. Eisenhower was the destruction of the German army—and his counterpart, Marshal Von Rundstedt, was forced to commit new reserves in the past 24 hours. Probably eight or nine tank divisions are bracing the enemy lines in this sector.

Below Strasbourg, the Seventh and French First armies were consolidating and clearing out the Vosges mountains and Alsace plain. Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce, commander of the U. S. First tactical air force, said 26 Rhine bridges were available to the Germans between Strasbourg and Switzerland, and that at least ten were pontoons which could be replaced in 24 hours. This refuted recent army intelligence reports that only three permanent bridges were available at Strasbourg along with three more pontoons between there and Basel.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army advanced two to four miles more, broadening its battle positions close to the German frontier. His 95th infantry near Merten closed less than a mile from the boundary and overran the towns of Ailing, Oberdorf, Holling, Brettenach, Remelgang, Tromborn and Remering along a six mile front which reached within five miles of Saarlautern.

British Guard Belgian Chamber

BRUSSELS, Nov. 28 (AP)—British tanks and steel-helmeted troops guarded the Belgian parliament today as the chamber of deputies gave Premier Hubert Pierlot a vote of confidence.

Street car workers had struck several hours earlier, demanding resignation of the Pierlot government, and columns of marchers were reported converging on the tense capital to join in a "national day of protest" tomorrow against Pierlot's regime.

Flareup On Capitol Hill Contrasts To General Acclaim Of New Secretary

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—A flareup on Capitol Hill today contrasted sharply with the general acclaim that greeted President Roosevelt's nomination of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., to succeed Secretary of State Hull.

The discordant note was sounded by Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass.) who said a decision by the house Lea committee to close the doors on its inquiry into a radio station sale may create "a national scandal."

The committee's action, announced by Chairman Lea (D-Calif.), also led Committee Counsel John J. Sirica to submit his resignation.

The five member group, created to investigate the federal communications commission, has been deluged into accusations that Donald Flamin was "coerced" into selling station WMCA, New York, to Edward J. Noble, former undersecretary of Commerce, in 1940. Wigglesworth asserted that the committee from the outset "has met with constant obstruction, intimidation and underhand tactics from those in high places in the attempt to x x x suppress the truth."

Another member, representative Hart (D-N.J.) contended that Wigglesworth's statements were "without foundation."

On a more harmonious note, Mr. Mr. Roosevelt said to congress a request for $75,900,000 to finance a program of planning non-federal public works projects to provide jobs after the war. The planning would cover some $1,518,000,000 worth of construction.

Stores To Close Thursday

A hundred per cent cooperation of merchants closing business houses from 2:15 to 4:30 Thursday afternoon for the G. I. Jamboree bond program was seen Tuesday by bond chairmen as reports came in from merchants contacted to close.

Flags will be displayed in front of downtown stores and a gigantic attendance is predicted at the Jamboree being produced by Sgt. Ed Todd of the Big Spring Bombardier school.

Sales of bonds had stepped up Monday with sales of E bonds standing at $106,674 and the overall quota at $207,497. Still a long way from the goal of $1,420,000 of which $365,000 must be E bonds, heavy bond buying by the community at the free Jamboree could put the county over the top in its quota.

Pictured here is T/Sgt. Norman E. Bonds, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bonds of Birmingham, Ala., who will be one of three war heroes to speak at the bond rally. He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the engineer and top turret gunner in the Army Air Forces Liberator bombers. The 23-year-old hero wears the Bronze Star on his China-Burma-India ribbon, and is a veteran of two crashes, having bailed out twice and received a flak wound for which he was presented the Purple Heart.

T/SGT. NORMAN E. BONDS Air Medal with oak leaf cluster and the Purple Heart for heroic service in China as a flight

In addition to the heroes, the musical Jamboree, which Sgt. Todd says is better than the hit "Khaki" which he produced last season will include musical and comedy numbers presented by soldiers and WACs of the Big Spring Bombardier school.

The 20-piece symphony swing orchestra of the post directed by W/O Robert Bruner will also be featured in the show.

Harley Sadler, well known for his shows produced each season throughout West Texas, will act as master of ceremonies for the show along with Jimmy Allard.

With plans completed and a community-wide attendance expected.

Pinch of Salt Makes Coffee Taste Better

A good cup of coffee is always welcome, and nowadays there is a wide variety of brands for you at your favorite store.
But the brewing of a better, more flavorful cup of this universal beverage doesn't rest entirely with the kind of coffee you buy. Here's a simple formula:
Just add a pinch of salt to the dry coffee when you prepare the pot or percolator. It makes no difference whether you use the old-fashioned boiling method or a percolator or one of the new glass coffee-makers, that pinch of salt mixed in with the freshly ground coffee makes good coffee taste even better. Try it and see for yourself.

Thus the home salt-shaker, with one of the most abundant and least costly of all present day necessities, becomes vital in bringing out the best in your coffee brew just as it does in vegetables, meats and so many other foods. There are legends destined to discover that a pinch of salt added before brewing will develop a flavor in coffee hitherto unrealized.

Cotton Meeting Enters Second Day Hearings

DALLAS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Committee meetings got underway today in the second of the three-day seminar on cotton production research sponsored here by the National Cotton Council.

Yesterday Oscar Johnston of Scott, Miss., president of the council, told the meeting that there is little hope for the cotton industry as long as foreign markets are forced to close their doors to American cotton and domestic mills are turning to synthetics because of abnormal market prices. He said the market prices were boosted by government loans and purchases.

The bodies of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were found in the bedroom of their home at Littlefield Oct. 26, 1943. Thomas was arrested in Galveston the next day.

English Casualty Totals Released

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Five years of war have cost England 733,030 casualties, 136,118 among civilians. One out of every three houses in Britain has been destroyed or damaged.

By the end of last year Great Britain lost 11,500,000 gross tons of shipping, two-thirds of the tonnage she had when war broke out in 1939.
Civilian casualties through last Sept. 3 included 57,298 killed. Casualties among the armed forces totaled 563,112 with 176,081 killed. In addition 29,629 merchant seamen have been killed and 4,173 interned.

- 2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

Improper diet, overwork, undue worries, colds, the flu or other illness often impairs the stomach's digestive functions and reduces the red-blood strength.
A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.
At such times Nature needs extra help to restore its balance and function properly. Undigested food places a tax on the system... insufficient blood strength is a detriment to good health.

Mustangs Host To Cats In District's Top Tilt

District Three closes its season Friday night when the Sweetwater Mustangs face the team that has blasted every other league opponent by top-heavy scores when Mustang Bowl is invaded by the flashing cleats of the defending state champions, the San Angelo Bobcats. The other conference game of the week will find Midland playing host to the Odessa Bronchos Thursday afternoon. After these two games 1944 football in the local circuit will be of the past.

San Angelo stands the heavy favorite to take the crown against the Mustangs. A premature statement was issued last week saying that the Felines were already sure of a playoff campaign, as they had defeated Abilene, the only team that could possibly end the season tied for the pennant. However, it has been revealed that a committee would decide the conference winner if the Mustangs were to down their Friday foe and the choice would lie between the Bobcats and Eagles.

Ballyhoo from the Angelenos, however, has the Cats already well down the trail to another state title, and it is generally conceded that they will have little trouble from the twice-beaten host eleven. San Angelo downed the Class A Ballinger eleven 34-0 in their season opener, while the Mustangs were hard-pushed to take their game with the tough aggregation 18-4. Abilene downed the Ponies 32-20 while the Cats had an easy day with a 48-0 rout of the Eagles. Odessa also tripped the charges of Coach Mack Alexander, while Jewel Wallace sent his big champions rolling over the hapless Bronchos 47-0.

Sweetwater downed Lamesa 40-7, tripped Midland 26-6, and rolled over Big Spring 47-6. The Cats found no trouble with any of the three teams and downed the Dawson county eleven 83-0, stopped Midland easily 49-6, and romped over Big Spring 53-0. This gives the defending champs all the edge in castings, and they stand able to defend their title to the finest degree of efficiency with no injuries to their most potent squad.

The Mustangs also came out of their fray last week with no serious bruises, and are grooming for a last chance to overcome one more conference foe and push themselves up one notch higher in the district race.

Sweetwater with its two losses stands no chance at the title, but one more loss would place them below Odessa. If the Bronchos can take their game with Midland. The Cats, on the other hand must overcome the Ponies to take a clear title into the state playoffs with them.

The game is slated for Friday night at 8 p. m. in Mustang bowl in Sweetwater.

Newhouser Named Most Valuable In American League; Edges Trout

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Harold Newhouser, brilliant Detroit lefthanded pitcher, today was named the most valuable player in the American league in 1944 by a four vote margin over teammate Paul (Dizzy) Trout in the annual balloting of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' association.

The 23-year-old native of Detroit, who won 29 games for the Bengals in one of the most thrilling pennant races in baseball history, received 236 votes to 232 for Trout.

Vernon (Junior) Stephens of the pennant-winning St. Louis Browns, finished third with 193 points. Far back were second baseman George Stinnes, sparkplug of the New York Yankees, loop leader in runs, hits and stolen bases, with 129 points, one more than Dick Wakefield who led the Tiger offensive with a .359 batting mark in 78 games, after joining the club July 12.

Newhouser became the second southpaw and the fourth hurler to qualify for the most valuable designation in the long history of the American league award.

The six foot 1 3/4 inch former American Legion sandlotter also is the fifth Tiger to be named. The others are Ty Cobb, who received the first award in 1911, Hank Greenberg (twice) and Charlie Gehring and Manager Mickey Cochrane in 1934.

The tireless twirler, who had never won more than nine games in a single season and who, in his four previous years in the majors had never received a single vote for most valuable, was the league's biggest winner since the A's Lefty Grove notched 31 in 1931. His 29 wins equaled the previous Tiger record set by George Mullin with the 1909 pennant winners.

Texas Bill Needs Bath—After Saturday

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 28 (AP)—Navy had a glamor mascot once—he was a goat but he had glamor.

An Angora from the Lone Star state, Texas Bill's long wavy hair was combed and cared for religiously. That was in 1935.

This year's Bill, who also lives in an inner court of the midshipman's dormitory during football season, at least has atmosphere. The plebes scrubbed him up before the first game and then let him go luxuriously bathless until after the Army encounter Saturday.

Schoolboy Basketball Shows Big Increase

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Approximately 10,000 boys will play basketball in the Texas interscholastic league this winter.

League offices today announced 952 schools had enrolled for the 1944-45 campaign, a marked increase over the number last year.

The Class AA division will have 104 teams, Class A 275 and Class B 573.

State champions are determined in each division.

LARGE GROUP EXPECTED

DENTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—An attendance of 400 was expected at Texas State College for Women here today for a conference on community recreation, sponsored by the college and the Federal Security Agency.

Sliding Down The Sports Chute

with BILL

With six district championships on the line this week and ten already decided, it has all boiled down to the playoffs for the state championship among Texas high schools, and once again the San Angelo Bobcats rule the roost as the defending favorites.

If all figurings of this corner total out once again the semi-final round of play will find these District Three champions rolling into Highland Park (possibly) in the semi-final clash, and Waco coming into the final game for the battle of the year on schoolboy grids.

It might be well for me to give out with a few reasons for the common belief that the big charges of Coach Jewel Wallace will move far downstate for the second consecutive year.

Sweetwater does not have a ghost of a chance of stopping the Felines, unless the Cats feel the same way that I do about winning . . . that they can do so with no effort.

The Mustangs are a scrappy lot and Towner-Leeper is one of the finest backs I have seen in action this season. However, Leeper is entirely too small to handle the big forward wall that will be sitting across the line waiting for him to come out of his hole, like so many cats waiting the appearance of a rat behind the wall (no slur intended for Leeper).

In observing the Mustangs in action last week I found their biggest fault to be blocking and tackling. True enough, they did o.k. against the Steers, but the locals were not blocking and tackling with the sureness they have exhibited in other games. I noticed on several occasions large holes in the Sweetwater line that would have been disastrous except for nice play from the secondary defenders.

Against the Bobcats such a gap in the line will be all George Graham will need to increase his points-per-total even more. Especially will this be true when he is running behind such men as George Hughes, Dennis Doyle, Vernie Horner, Sam Adkins and Sam Callan. Those boys never miss a block and after they lay the leather to a would-be-tackler there is usually little worry about him interfering with the ball carrier.

The line and Graham will make the difference. However, I do believe the host team (the game is in Sweetwater Friday night) will score. Leeper's aerials combined with his fine running will probably lead to one Mustang score, although he will have few chances to scamper across the double stripe behind the poor blocking that was shown against the Steers.

His quarterback sneaks worked fairly well against the locals, who played a very poor defensive game most of the time, but against an experienced team such as the Cats he will be tackled before he starts.

So from here it looks as if the committee that is to decide the conference champion in case of a tie will have no deciding to do, nor will the Austin of El Paso team that meets the district winner in the bi-district.

The stiffest test yet comes for the Cats on Dec. 16 on their own grounds when they play the Amarillo Sandies. This is of course, provided the Sandies get to Wichita Falls in their bi-district clash.

At any rate it is practically a cinch that the District Three winner will go into the quarter-finals with a clear slate behind them and will be rolling along on the path to another title as the favored team.

I think it only the sportsman-like thing to do that we wish the finest aggregation District Three has seen in quite a few years the best of luck in the play-off campaign. They may not need it too much, but the time is due to come when they meet their match . . . could it be Big Spring in 1945? See you . . .

Red Grange Will Boss Pros In New Football League

By JIMMY JORDAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Harold (Red) Grange, who hasn't been out of touch with football since his hey-day as the "galloping ghost" of the university of Illinois gridiron, had another football job today, and with it he envisioned a possible "gridiron world series" for the postwar era.

Grange yesterday was elected president of the newly organized United States football league. Today he was making plans for the day when champions of the various play - for pay leagues can get together in post-season games to determine the world champion.

"I see no reason why there cannot be two, three or even four leagues over the country of major caliber, and I feel confident such a post-season series would be a big boon to the game," he said in an interview. "You can see what it has done for baseball. It would do the same for us."

With final organization of the United States league, there now are three circuits located in the Midwest and east—the long-established national football league, the all - America conference, and the loop headed by Grange. The latter two expect to begin operation next year.

Aggies Well Ahead In SWC Statistics

By The Associated Press

If any Southwest conference team shades Texas A. and M. in the statistical column this football season it's going to need a field day.

The Aggies are almost 500 yards ahead of their nearest competitors—the Rice Owls—and Rice has only one more game to play.

A. and M. in nine games, with two to go—against Texas Thursday and Miami University Dec. 8—has rolled up 272 yards. Rice in ten games has 225.

Rising in third place is Arkansas with 201 in 10 games with one more to play—Arkansas A. and M. Saturday.

Fourth is Texas Christian with 1947 in nine games and with one more game to go, the Frogs meeting Southern Methodist at Dallas Saturday.

Fifth is Southern Methodist with 1723 yards in nine tilts and Texas is last with 1706 in the same number of games as S.M.U.

The Aggies lead in rushing with 1758 yards. Rice is runnerup with 1654. A. and M. also is out in front in passing with 974 yards to 963 for Arkansas.

Treacher Well Paid

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28 (AP)—Arthur Treacher, who has acted the part of more movie butlers than you could shake a walking stick at, turned into a real one, last night.

Treacher had advertised that he was for hire as a butler to the highest war bond bidder. Atwater Kent, radio manufacturer, got Treacher to butte at a dinner for film-donors' elite. His bid: $300,000.

ST. CATERINES, Ont., Nov. 28 (AP)—L.A. Richard R. Schmon, 23, former captain of the Princeton University football team, has been reported missing in action in France since Nov. 5, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schmon said they were advised last night.

AGED BOWLERS IN ACTION

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—A half dozen of Chicago's veteran bowlers, all 70 years and older, were among the 75 members of the quarter century club firing away at the sticks in the group's 15th anniversary tourney. Ted Hartman, 85, who was the oldest member shooting, fired a 452 in his series of three games.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—One reason why Elmer Layden, pro football's head man, favors a national physical training program based on athletics over a military training program is that athletics will help rehabilitate returning service men "in games played under rules" . . . In wartime, he explains, they learn to discard all rules except the rule of self-preservation . . . He also points that by building up high school and college athletics so that every boy is a participant and then supplementing this with playground and industrial teams, it wouldn't cost the taxpayers so much . . . That's the always worth thinking about, and the important part is to have our young men physically able to serve when they're needed.

Words Of The Wise

Earl Ruby, Louisville Courier-Journal sports editor, nominates Tennessee's John Barnhill as the coach of the year . . . "Barnhill came from no team at all to the Rose Bowl in one year," says Ruby. "A year ago he was teaching callisthenics to ASTP students. Today he is teaching his Vets new tricks for those U.S.C. Trojans." . . . And Scoop Latimer of the Greenville, S. C., News suggests: "Miami may wonder if it picked a lemon for the Orange Bowl if Georgia Tech's defeat by Notre Dame was the acid test." . . . Probably won't care, Scoop, so long as there's a juicy game.

Wrong Direction

Lieut. Jay Maniac of the Bainbridge Navy Commodore tells this one about a golf game with Jimmy Demaret, Bob Hope and Bing Crosby when he visited the west coast with the Chicago Bears his caddie the distance, teed up his caddie the distance, teed up his ball and proceeded to slice it a mile out of bounds . . . On the second he again asked, then hooked beyond the boundary . . . Each time Bob decided there wasn't any use playing out the hole after a bad start . . . On the third tee, Hope again asked his caddie how far it was to the cup . . . "Mistah Hope," replied the youngster, "you don't want to know how long this hole is; you want to know how wide."

Cleaning The Cuff

Virginia's Hank Walker and Yale's Paul Walker, both ends, both Navy trainees and both mentioned prominently in the All-America ratings, got together for dinner recently and discovered that both were near the top of their class scholastically. . . . Paul's older brother, Blake, who also was quite a football player at Yale, is headed for the Fort Pierce, Fla., Navy amphibious base but won't arrive until after the football season . . . Ralph Daughton, president of the Piedmont league, was elected to congress this year.

Army Again Leads Nation's Elevens

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP)—Army and Randolph Field retained their respective No. 1 rankings as the best college and service teams in the country in this week's Associated Press football poll.

In the overall voting by 82 sports writers Army polled 737 points with Navy second with 624 and Ohio State and Randolph Field, each unbeaten and untied, deadlocked for third at 507.

A collegiate first ten placed Army first; Navy second with Ohio State, Southern California, Michigan, Notre Dame, Tennessee, Duke, Oklahoma Aggies and Alabama following in order.

An all-service ranking put Randolph Field on top, Bainbridge second and Iowa Seahawks third.

Midland Bulldogs Are Determined Hosts To Tough Odessa Bronchos

Observing the November 30th Thanksgiving the Midland Bulldogs play host to the Odessa Bronchos Thursday afternoon on their home field in the next-to-last clash of District Three teams. It will be the season finale for both elevens and will place Odessa ahead of Sweetwater in district standing if they can take the tilt, and the Mustangs lose to San Angelo.

The Odessa team comes fresh from a 46-0 triumph over Bronzer of District One and are the favorites to take the clash if they can halt the fishy Bulldogs offense led by Bill Richards and M. C. Hale.

The Broncho line has stopped the Sweetwater Mustangs in one engagement this season, tripped Bowles of El Paso easily, and in all their engagements have shown a much better defensive setup than the Bulldogs.

Meanwhile the host eleven has shown an offense that sparkles, although not rolling up such impressive scores, have been able to run over tallies against stiff competition while the Bronchos were held scoreless.

The champion Bobcats downed the Odessa team 47-0, while Midland scored against the big Cat eleven to come out on the short end of a 9-7 score. In the Abilene encounter the Odessa team could score but once, held the Eagles to two tallies, and lost 14-7. The Bulldogs roared into an early 19-6 lead only to find their defense not enough and to lose 25-19.

Sweetwater, however, lost to tough Midland aggregation 26-6, the Bronchos while downing the Odessa's score over Sweetwater was 14-7, coming with a long do-or-die pass after a Mustang fumble was recovered on the enemy 28.

The game is a traditional Turkey Day battle, with both elevens playing their most determined game of the year, and the outcome of the game deciding the success of the winner's season. Although the Bronchos hold the edge in castings a Bulldog win would be of no surprise to fans. Richards and his offensive-minded teammates are reported as ready to stage a comeback, after an early-season start that sparkled was dimmed somewhat in conference play.

The game is Thursday afternoon in Midland.

Except for Randolph Field's joust with March Field in Los Angeles Dec. 19, service football ends for the season in Texas this week.

There are only two games on the schedule, one of them deciding whether Hondo Air Field is to finish in second place in the standings or fourth.

Hondo now has six victories and one defeat. Blackland Air Field, which has finished the schedule, shows seven wins, one loss and one tie.

Hondo meets Ellington Field at Hondo Thursday night. By winning Ellington would wind up in the third spot.

Randolph Field is the only undefeated, untied, outfit in Texas, the Ramblers having won nine straight games and rolled up 408 points to six for the opposition.

Significant Move Shapes The War Today

We confess dependence upon other minds when it comes to appraising war and international trends, but there seems to be a feeling among many commentators that the decisive battle of the Western Front is in the making.

The dominant theme in these conclusions hinges upon one condition: That the German military leaders commit themselves to a battle before the Rhine. At the moment, this seemingly is the case, although Allied leaders have no way of knowing except through intelligence and possibly espionage.

There is sound logic in the belief that the action may be blossoming into the tell-tale action—although it must not be assumed that settlement of the issue in our favor will spell immediate victory. While such a victory would seal the issue, it would not conclude it. As in any contest, war must be played to the end.

Reason for attaching extreme significance to the Western Front battles boils down to the fact that the Rhine is a formidable barrier. Behind it, the Germans could use it as powerful bulwark of defense, and this they doubtless will do. But what they hope to accomplish is the stalling of allied forces short of the deep, wide river and preventing them from ever crossing it in the industrial area.

Should German forces be committed wholeheartedly to this undertaking, defeat would turn the Rhine into a major obstacle. Crossings would be subjected to unchallenged allied airpower, which not only would reduce vital supplies, but also block retreat.

In short, a debacle on the plains before Cologne and in the upper reaches of the front would seal the doom of the beaten forces. If the cream of the defensive forces is thrown into the battle, its defeat would be a blow from which the Germans could not recover. There would follow the major allied push to conquer the Rhine. With this operation, the life-blood of war production from the Ruhr would be pinched off. The rest would be the long, tedious matter of cleaning up to Berlin with one and perhaps two terrific battles thrown in behind natural barriers. With this in prospect, more interest should be manifested in the current drive. Proper expression of concern for its success may be in increasing those bond purchases to show how you feel and to pray for our force.

Good Old End Run

"Shapes Trap for Leyte Japs"; "Closing Pincers Peril Nazi Host"; "Quarter Million Foe Caught in Pocket"; "Advancing Spearhead Cuts Last Escape Road." If these are not verbatim headlines from American newspapers, they are at least close enough to sound quite familiar to the millions of readers who follow the war through the press.

Such headlines are the result of an understandable endeavor to find a story that will bring the day's situation vividly to the reader's mind—a story that often must be dug out of factual dispatches and military communications cold and complex. The drama and suspense which lie in the implied questions, "Will we catch them?", "Can they escape?", are the stuff of all adventure stories. But wholly without such intention, newspapers

Washington—

Compulsory Training To Bring Fight

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—No matter what other fireworks develop in the 79th Congress, a shower of sparks is almost certain to explode in the fight over national compulsory training.

The Army is unequivocally in favor of a year of military service for lads between 18 and 23 and several bills are already on file, and will be refiled in January, which would carry out the Army's program. What the Army wants is a trained army of four million that could be put in the field almost immediately or with little refresher training time.

Training equipment is available, and the personnel set-ups (like Selective Service) are already established to carry this out. The Army would like to see the law passed now so the continuation of training could be carried on uninterrupted at the end of the war.

Some veterans organizations and patriotic groups are backing this all-out.

On the other hand a number of religious groups, both Protestant and Catholic, already have gone on record against it. For the most part, their opposition hasn't been so much to the idea as to enacting such legislation now. They variously have expressed opinions that we should wait until the boys come home to express their feelings or wait to see what the situation will be at the end of the war.

The President recently expressed "the hope" that compulsory service legislation would be passed this winter, but in answer to questions at his press conference, he very carefully avoided specifying that it should be "all-out military training."

In doing so, he hit one nub of the controversy that is bound to come—to what extent the year of compulsory service should be military service or perhaps semi-military, vocational training, with emphasis on physical training.

The President mentioned the Civilian Conservation Corps camps and the benefits to the boys who were in them. Opponents of the CCC on the Hill are already bristling over that, although it is possible the President had no intention at all of suggesting revival of that now defunct agency in the form of compulsory service under Army supervision.

Until the suggested legislation takes definite shape, it will be impossible to draw any lines. It is being opined on the Hill that the issue probably will cut right through party lines.

But members of Congress even are shaking their heads sadly or getting the old battle gleam in their eyes at the prospect of another great legislative fight.

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie Associated Press War Analyst

With the whole allied world rooting hopefully for an early end to the European war it's natural that there should be eager speculation as to when Russia is likely to strike again against the German Vistula line, thereby putting the big squeeze on Herr Hitler by catching him between two great offensives on his main fronts—unhappy Schickelgruber!

Moscow is, of course, getting set for a fresh attack on these powerful German defenses of which Warsaw has been one of the key positions. There are, however, several reasons why the Red command might be disinclined to rush this great operation.

In the first place we must recognize that the Russians are maintaining a fighting front of maybe a thousand miles.

Moreover—and this is important—it's only now that the great plains of eastern Europe through which the Vistula winds are freezing so that they will once more bear the weight of war machines. The fall rains turn this whole area into a sea of mud which is among the world's worst.

Up on the northern flank the Russians still are in process of dealing with some thirty German divisions in Latvia. But the big show of course, has been the successful and highly profitable Red swing through the northern Balkans and up into Hungary.

The fall of Budapest will open the route to the neighboring Austrian border. So we finally arrive at the conclusion that the Hungarian drive offers prizes which Moscow seems bound to develop. Thus it's reasonable to assume that the opening of a new Red offensive against the Vistula defenses must depend in considerable degree on the state of this operation, and on the position in the Baltic.

have thus contributed their share in whipping up the waves of unwarranted optimism and the following troughs of unnecessary gloom which have characterized much American response to war news.

How many traps have really been sprung? A few, but not many. Nor have the military commanders, except as an outside hope, ever expected that many would. The fact of a blow at the enemy's flank in standard military tactic and strategy. Flanks can be weak like the ends of a dam. A successful flank attack exposes the more vulnerable rear and imperils supplies and communications and can make an enemy retreat to protect them. So every time the Allies try a run around the end, we will do well not to start holding our breath—Christian Science Monitor.

Thompson Cites New Process For Methane

AUSTIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said today that a new process whereby methane (dry gas) is converted into gasoline at the well, may increase the value of such gas from three cents a thousand to ten cents a thousand.

The process, discovered by C. P. Keith, is a great boon to Texas, said Thompson. "It makes gas approach the value of oil. Plants can be erected in Texas at the gas field to provide outlets for gas in fields that do not have pipe line connections."

A plant that will use 64 million cubic feet of methane per day will produce about 6,000 barrels of 83 octane gasoline daily, which is approximately one barrel (42 gallons) of gasoline from each 10,500 feet of methane.

"It is said the meat packer gets everything out of the pig but the squeal. Methane is the squeal of the pig," said Thompson.

Life's Darkest Moment

Hal Boyle: Correspondent Tells Of Life At A Black Widow Night Fighter Base

By HAL BOYLE AN AMERICAN AIRBASE IN BELGIUM, Nov. 6 (Delayed) (AP) Trained skill and daring rather than carrots or Hollywood sun glasses have enabled American night fighter pilots in their speedy Black Widow planes to wipe the front line skies clear of nocturnal German intruders.

Many persons picture these young men who wing through the blackness to knock down the enemy's night raiders and shoot up Nazi trains and supply columns as carefully-screened aviators with catlike vision. They think these men live behind dark goggles like a movie star and eat special vitamin A rich food to help them see better in the dark.

A visit to the airbase from which the most successful night fighter squadron operates cured me of such illusions.

Hollywood—"The Story Of A Great Love"

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — I have seen many movies blatantly labeled "the story of a great love" and so have you. Rarely is it your privilege or mine to witness such a story.

The hero of this one is Arthur L. Parker, chief boatswain, U. S. Navy. His heroine is Flicka, a spirited and pretty bay filly. M-G-M is the studio charged with the task of making a movie about them, but I'm afraid they'll change more than Flicka's name. They have to change that, because Flicka was named after a 20th Century-Fox movie, and they'll doubtless think up other changes like making Mr. Parker a young gob with a mother and sweetheart back home and a mortgage on the old homestead which Flicka will lift by winning the Kentucky Derby. After all, M-G-M knows that that story always pays off.

Mr. Parker is no young gob, though he is as jaunty a boss-n as ever sailed the Seven. He's black-haired, Clear-eyed and stocky; nearly 30 years he has spent in the Navy; and whatever his age, he's the youngest sailor ever to adopt a Japanese - orphaned foal on a tropical isle, rear it lovingly under ironic skies whether the same were blue or filled with Japanese bombs, teach it manners and tricks, and bring it back to America to become — by chance rather than by design — a movie star.

Mr. Parker, whose navy - blue chest is rainbowed with service stripes and starred with battles, was an Indiana boy who grew up in Montana wrangling horses and reading sea stories. He latter lured him to sea when he was 14, some time before the First World War.

He was among those present at Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, but our "great love story" begins on a South Pacific island two years ago when Mr. Parker acquired his colt from a Marine for $10. He nursed her to health, taught her to "talk" and follow him around, even into foxholes when Japanese bombings dictated. Flicka became famous with service men over there.

When Mr. Parker was "slightly injured," as he describes it, sympathetic officers arranged for Flicka's passage here with him, and from a naval hospital the word got to M-G-M. Flicka is installed out there now, in a stable on one of the back lots where he visits her daily.

I went along with him today. Six women are being held in Big Spring jail for VD checks. There were only seven other cases in city court Monday morning following the weekend. There were five drunkenness charges, one disturbance of the peace and one assault which was transferred to district court.

Possibility Of Some Legislative Action May Come From Group Probe

(This is the first of a series of articles on the current University of Texas situation.—Ed.)

By PAUL BOLTON Herald Austin Correspondent AUSTIN, Nov. 28—The question most frequently asked around the capitol these days is, what good can come of the senate committee's investigation of the University of Texas affair?

That lasting harm already has come of the disclosures is probably beyond all question. The university has been placed under a dark cloud of suspicion, composed of such varied elements as racial prejudices, intimations of immorality, and suspicions of un-democratic tendencies—towards, on the one hand, communism, and on the other hand, fascism.

And the only possibility of a bright lining in this dark cloud is that out of the state senate committee's full and complete disclosure, some legislative good may come. The question is, from what direction?

There are three presently-working groups from which the suggestions for change may come: 1. The committee itself. 2. A special faculty committee. 3. An informal committee of the ex-students association.

Neither of these three groups has yet reached conclusions. Obviously, the legislators—Senators Metcalfe, Bullock, Morris, Aikin

Cigaret Shortage Hits White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The cigarette shortage has hit the White House too.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told her news conference today that people around the executive mansion just have to bring their own cigarettes now because purchases no longer can be made by the carton.

Home-Front Heroism

FLORENCE, Ala., Nov. 28 (AP)—Cries of a mother cat and her five kittens awakened Mrs. Raymond McFall, her five children and a brother.

They found their house in flames, but managed to escape. The cat and kittens burned to death.

Cigaret Problem Complicates Play

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—The property man at the Harris theatre had a cigarette problem last night—but some patrons came to his aid.

In the mystery comedy playing at the theater, some 20 cigarettes are smoked—eight in the last act. Someone got off with the prop man's ciggie-maker, during the second act and he started looking for smokes.

As a last resort he invaded the lobby during intermission, went to a half dozen patrons and begged for smokes for the third act. He got 'em.

and Lane—will say nothing until their probe is ended. While the other groups have not reached conclusions, they have charted directions. Those directions may be pointed up without reference to probable final recommendations.

First, the faculty committee. The faculty committee are broadly discussing these directions. 1. Composition of the university board of regents. This entails setting up some sort of qualification for a regent so as to in some manner remove from him the stigma (real or theoretical) of being purely and simply a political appointee.

2. Limiting the powers of the regents; or, stated differently, defining the powers of the board as against the powers of the president.

3. Writing into law a faculty tenure rule.

More than coincidence, it reflects a similarity in thinking that the ex-students' group are thinking along the same general lines. They are less concerned about making tenure a statute, but otherwise, they are following the same general lines of the faculty thinking; have had informal meetings in Austin at which the subjects were discussed. Discussions of the ex-students likely are much further advanced than those of the faculty. For instance, they have virtually rejected, as impractical, any attempt to fix qualifications of regents by law. They have toyed with the idea that the only way to get the sort of regents they think would be best for the university is by a change in the method of selecting the regents. That subject will be discussed in the next of this series.

Chappell States Prayer Is Key To Christian Life

Prayer is the key to a fruitful Christian life, Dr. Clovis Chappell told a Monday evening crowd attending the revival sponsored by the Big Spring Pastors association.

Expressing gratitude at the combined efforts of several local churches, Dr. Chappell observed that "in the trying days ahead it is going to become increasingly important that churches work together." However, he warned, "the danger in an union effort is that it is nobody's dog and nobody may feel properly obligated to do anything about it."

Reading his scripture from memory, he recaptured power which the apostles called down through prayer and said that "when everything else fails, prayer will work."

There is as much difference between a melody ground out of a hand organ and that played by a great symphonic orchestra as there is between the Christian living a prayerless life in the flesh and one dwelling in a happy, prayerful experience, he said.

"When you pray," declared Dr. Chappell, "one of two things happen. You either leave off self or you leave off prayer."

The Rev. J. E. Moore, president of the pastors association, presided at the service. Coley Arender is leading congregational singing Monday evening the First Baptist male quartet, under direction of Ernest Hock, sang. Services continue daily at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Salvation Army Has First Kettle

First of the Salvation Army Christmas kettles was put out Monday, and Maj. L. W. Canning, in charge of the citadel here, said that others would follow Saturday.

At the same time, he pointed out that many are accustomed to make special gifts to the Salvation Army's Christmas activities and asked that such checks be made payable to the Salvation Army, rather than to any individual.

Another Christmas project underway by the Salvation Army is the making of clothes for dolls. However, there is an urgent need for dolls and Maj. Canning renewed his appeal to residents to bring cast-off or unused dolls to the citadel. Some must be repaired and unless this is done well in advance of Christmas, Salvation Army women do not have an opportunity to fashion clothes.

The first day of collections in the kettle at the postoffice was encouraging, better than usual, said Maj. Canning. Saturday kettles will be put out at the Main and Third intersection and at both banks.

Dogs Must Have License

According to a city ordinance, all dogs must have licenses and must be kept either penned or on a leash. City Manager, B. J. McDaniels announced Tuesday.

The city manager stated that if dogs are found roaming around the city they will be taken to the dog pound, whether they are licensed or not. They will be kept in the pound for three days and owners will be notified. Unless the dogs are claimed, at the end of that period they will be exterminated. If the animals are called for, the owners are liable to fine for violation of a city ordinance, McDaniels said.

District Employers Violate Regulation

Some employers in the Ahilene War Manpower Commission area, of which Big Spring is a part, are violating the priority Referral Regulations of the WMC. E. J. Berry, area director said Tuesday. This has been discovered through a spot check survey, which will continue until all employers are made fully aware of the value of compliance with such regulations.

No male workers, Berry emphasized, except World War II veterans, may be hired unless cleared through the US Employment Service or other authorized agencies.

Severe sanctions may be invoked against violators who continue to ignore these regulations, Berry pointed out. Local USES officials stated Tuesday that there are known cases of violation of this regulation in Big Spring, and a warning is issued against further violations.

Since all migrant workers must be assigned to jobs by the USES or other designated agencies, the USES is in a position to influence materially labor migration in relation to the national picture of war production, Berry stated, but there must be full cooperation of all employers.

Nethyla Branham Injured In Fall

MIDLAND—Doctors worked for five hours Friday at Western Clinic hospital sewing severe lacerations received by 5-year-old Nethyla Branham when she fell from a tractor and the disc attached to the machine struck her.

She was riding at the farm of her father, C. W. Branham, north of Midland, when she toppled from the tractor. The disc struck her on the right side of the neck just under the ear. It rolled on down her right arm and leg.
