Sales Tax To Cost More on Purchases Made on July 1st

On July 1 Texas shoppers will begin paying more, along with their purchases of goods and services, for the maintenance of their state government.

On that date a new law increasing the state tax from 3.25 per cent to 4 per cent will go into effect and merchants in most cities and towns will begin collecting five percent on sales of most goods to their customers. The increase was approved by the Legislature last spring.

Four per cent of the five will be retained by the state to be applied to the expenses of state government, while the other one per cent will be remitted to the city in which the collection is made.

Provided, of course, that the city has approved a one per cent tax as has Gorman and many other towns.

Where no city sales tax is in effect only the state tax will be collected.

In Gorman and many other communities in which the one per cent tax is in effect for the benefit of the municipal government, the state collects the tax along with its own and makes quarterly remittances to the cities, retaining a small amount to defray collection costs.

C. E. Walter To Present Program For Fire Dept.

Twenty-thousand accident victims die unnecessarily each year as a direct result of inadequate emergency care and at least another 25,000 are permanently disabled from the same cause. These are the alarming statistics released after a national study. Communities can do something about it, and many are.

C. E. Walter, Field Consultant with the Division of Civil Defense and Traffic Safety of the Texas State Department of Health, will present a program at the meeting of the Gorman Volunteer Fire Department on July 5 at 7:00 p. m.

Walter will encourage community awareness and concern toward life-death importance of well coordinated Local Emergency Medical Services. A film will be shown which dramatically illustrates how a small town saw the need for better emergency care and worked to fulfill that need.

This film and Walter's comments can help you decide what needs to be done and how to do it. The film is entitled "Before the Emergency." This program can help you act before "you" emergency.

For further information, contact Charles E. King, Division of Civil Defense and Traffic Safety, Texas State Department of Health, Austin.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman 17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. - THOSE WHO HAVE A SON, husband or other loved one in Vietnam are doubly concerned by reports on the use of dope. The dope problem among servicemen is indeed sad but the percentage of those on narcotics is not as great as might be expected from reports. The fact remains that one is too many. In a way it can be rationalized but, of course, not condoned.

WHEN FIGHTING WAS AT ITS HEIGHT and boys were busy, there was little use of drugs. When things let down, boredom arose. You would have to be there to understand but there is need for understanding.

"IN FLANDERS FIELD THE Poppies grow, between the crosses, row on row. . ."

WRITTEN DURING WORLD WAR I by John McCrea, an English poet-soldier, who died in the conflict, these lines have a bitter meaning today.

POPPIES, IN THAT "GOD AND COUNTRY" generation, were the symbol of an honorable death. They remain the respected badge of the fund drive for disabled veterans but a newer and more sinister connotation now infuses the flower, as young Americans return from Vietnam addicted to heroin of which the poppy is the source.

A FEW DAYS AGO THE PRESIDENT called for a "new all-out offensive against drug abuse" which he described as "America's public enemy number one."

IN A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS, the President asked for $155 Million in new funds to help finance the anti-drug offensive. HE SAID IT IS A "WORLD-WIDE OFFENSIVE" dealing with sources of supply abroad, and particularly as it involves Americans stationed overseas.

If you think you're ready to work with the pros, think about the Army Reserve.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

If you are a student who is working during the summer and you will not earn enough to owe any income tax ($1700), it's not too late to go back and talk to your payroll office about completing a Form W-4E. The "E" stands for exemption. A recent change in the tax law allows your employer to let you take home all your pay under these circumstances. The new law allows your employer to stop withholding on students who will not earn enough to owe any income tax. It also saves the government the trouble of sending you an income tax refund next January or February.

FOR TOO LONG THE MATTER of discharging several thousand servicemen each month from Vietnam, some of whom are drug addicted, was largely ignored. The military and the Veterans Administration too long failed to recognize and prepare to come to grips with the situation. They are barely beginning to do so at the present time.

ACTION HAS NOW BEEN INSTITUTED which attempts to identify the soldier who is an addict and try to provide treatment and rehabilitation. Of the 25,000 men a month now returning from Vietnam, an estimated 10 percent have a history of heroin use. Under the plan now being inaugurated, each soldier is given a test for detection of drug use before being cleared to return home. If he is free of drug detection, he proceeds without delay. If not, he is quarantined for a few days for further tests.

SERVICEMEN HERETOFORE DISCHARGED with a narcotic habit may not be qualified for veterans benefits but this is expected to be corrected. In the first place, only five of all the veterans hospitals are really equipped and qualified to give treatment. Much more is needed and it is pretty safe to speculate that more will be provided. The problem is qualified people to give much needed rehabilitation in this highly specialized field of treatment.

AT THE MOMENT, THERE ARE PROPOSED cuts in Veterans Administration medical funding but this is likely to be reversed since the dimensions of the problem are just now really surfacing.

FOR MANY IN THE SERVICE, who must serve additional time in Vietnam and in other areas of the world, more efforts are being made to control the source of drugs but, like in this Country, it is impossible to completely dry up the supply. Greater and more expert detection is needed. It is not exclusively a problem in South Vietnam. It exists every place but the cheaper drugs and a ready supply are peculiar to Southeast Asia. The lack of cooperation with the governments involved is a serious problem. It should and is being pressed upon these governments to lend their official efforts to reduce the cheap supply. The trouble is that the horse has been too long out of the barn.

THE GREATEST SYMPATHY AND UNDERSTANDING, as well as rehabilitation and treatment, must be provided for returning servicemen who have become victims of the narcotic habit.

THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis Gordon
Eastland County Agric. Agent

The communities of Kokomo and Nimrod were honored at a covered dish supper in the Carbon School Cafeteria Monday night, June 28. Both communities made much progress during the last year as they participated in the Texas Community Improvement Program.

Nimrod placed tenth in the district and was awarded a $25 check Monday night. Kokomo won first in the district and third in Texas. They received $350 as an award and a beautiful silver tray. Representatives of the Texas Electric Service Company and the West Texas Utility Company presented the awards.

County Judge Scott Bailey spoke on the value of community improvement.

Recent rains certainly improved the agricultural situation in Eastland County. It now looks as if we will have hay to bale soon.

If county livestock producers give special attention to harvesting good-quality hay at the right time, they will find out that this means extra dollars when the hay is fed next season.

Two main factors that determine the quality of hay are the amount of fertilizer and lime it receives and the age of the crop when it is harvested.

A soil test is the best indicator of what nutrients are needed to produce abundant amounts of hay crops. If no test were made earlier in the year, and present growth of forage or yields from first cuttings are not up to par despite fertilization, a soil test must be considered.

While nitrogen influences protein content, phosphorus, potassium, and other nutrients also help to improve protein and the quality of hay. After baling, an immediate topdress with fertilization will aid in faster, high quality regrowth.

Delaying harvest of hay will result in an increased tonnage, mostly in the form of stalk and fiber, but overall quality will be lowered.

Johnsongrass, sudan hybrids, and other grasses which produce seedheads should be cut before the seedheads emerge. Crops such as Coastal Bermudagrass should be cut when the growth is about four weeks old or less. Plan to cut alfalfa when it's one-tenth to one-fourth in bloom.

Cutting hay at these stages gives the highest production of total digestible nutrients (TDN).

Another important point to remember in producing high quality hay is to start baling as soon as possible after cuttings. A hay conditioner may be helpful in hurrying up the drying process.

The month of July offers gardeners an ideal time to prepare for the coming hot, dry weather and to take advantage of some practices that can improve their gardens.

Hot dry weather can be extremely critical for some plants in the garden. Supplemental watering is recommended for plants such as hydrangea, coleus, caladium, geranium, dahlia, azalea, and camellia.

Container plants and hanging baskets also require extra water and fertilizer during hot weather. Gardeners should apply fertilizer to dry soil.

Newly planted trees and shrubs face their most critical time in plant growth during the first summer. They may have trouble getting established because of their reduced root system.

Instead of giving the plants frequent light watering, give them a thorough soaking to a depth of about eight to 12 inches. The soil should be allowed to become dry in the upper two inches before watering again. Mulch over the root area will also help conserve moisture.
