

Neff Makes Great Speech

On Tuesday Gorman did herself proud when she had the honor of entertaining Pat Neff the next governor of Texas. Mr. Neff arrived in town about 10 o'clock and after a band concert by our own band was escorted to the Baptist tabernacle where for an hour he spoke to his audience of five or six hundred people.

Mr. Neff outlined the great needs of Texas and spoke of the ways in which they could be solved.

The main points of his address were clustered about. Present extravagance of the government. The need of better public schools. The need of a marketing system. The need of more home owners and the useless holding of enormous bodies of land for the increase in value and the necessity of laws to remove them from hands of foreign speculators to the hands of farm owners.

He said for a long time he had been convinced of the necessity of better roads but since he had been driving over the roads of Texas he knew he had qualified as a "rough rider."

The waste of Texas farm products through the lack of a marketing system was pictured as enormous $24,000,000 alone lost in one year on cotton, six thousand cars of produce rotting in the fields of south Texas and people within a twenty four ride unable to purchase those very products.

He spoke of his record in office as public prosecutor of McLeuan county and said that he made that record by hard work and saving of the people's money. Some one who was willing to work was needed at Austin to cut off some state departments and put some salary drawers to work.

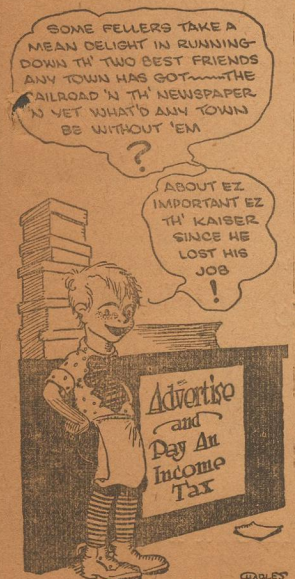

The whole tone of his speech was optimistic and from the beginning he had the people with him. His campaign is with the people and he is making no promise except to the people themselves in the speeches he makes.

He went to DeLeon from here and from there to Stephenville.

42 CLUB.

Miss Edna Eppler was the charming hostess to the 42 club last Thursday. A large number was present to enjoy the afternoon, six tables at play. The large home was prettily decorated with potted plants and nasturtiums. After the forty-two game, the hostess, assisted by Meses. Gates and Collie, served a most appetizing salad course, consisting of chicken sandwiches, salad, olives, crackers and iced tea to the following guests: Meses. Seales, Bundick, Shaw, Clyde King, C. R. Wood, O'Neal, M. H. Smith, of Ranger, Texas, and J. W. Cockrill and M. Hartha Neal and Martin and Meses. Hankins, F. W. Townsend, Walker, B. M. Collie, Morrow, McMahon, Bishop, Edw. Blackwell, Haley, Gates, Brewer, Gage, T. F. Wynne, and Moore, members.

MICKIE SAYS

Civilizing Mexico

If public opinion will consent to the situation, American gold, silver and paper money is likely to replace the inconvenient native currency of Mexico. The confederation of Mexican chambers of commerce has passed a resolution in favor of the movement, thus to correct the evils of the Mexican system, especially the chronic shortage of small change. The executive committee of the American chamber of commerce added its endorsement of the plan. The revolutionary administration has tacitly approved and the banks are enthusiastic about it. The public alone remains to be consulted. Banks are now testing popular opinion as to the substitution of some prejudice against it as expected in view of the widespread antipathy to things American, fostered by years of propaganda, which held Uncle Sam up as a grasping and ruthless neighbor to the republic.

Gorman Hotel Opens

The new Gorman hotel have its opening night on June 25th. There will be refreshments served, and every body will be welcome. Later in the evening a big dance will be given under the Auspices of the American Legion.

Tickets will be on sale at any of the Drug stores. Get your ticket and join in the good time and at the same time help the Legion.

Land Speculation

The year 1919 saw in certain localities, particularly parts of the corn belt and other portions of the central states, the most feverish speculation in land ever known. For the first time it seemed to be realized that there is a shortage of good land. Prices in a few states are said to have gone up $100. an acre on an average.

Great numbers of farms have changed hands, some farmers giving up work and moving into towns and others going to cheaper soils. There was a big moving time this spring.

Many farmers who have struggled along for years with long hours hard work, and low prices, are fairly to be congratulated on at last gaining their reward. But some of the gains have been made by speculators who have added nothing to resources.

If prices of farm products, as the result of near bankruptcy in Europe, should take a tumble, these new values may prove to have been mostly on paper. However many authorities claim that land prices will stay nearly where they are in any case.

High prices for land make it more difficult for the young man to get a start as a farmer, or for the farm renter to become an owner. The renter is more likely to exhaust his soil, and less likely to make permanent improvements. Also higher prices for land must be paid for by consumers of food products. Thus they tend to keep up the present level of living costs, which already are so badly inflated. Bankers are generally discouraging this speculation, which for the time seems to have died down, feeling that it has been too fast and furious to be healthful.

The friends of Mrs. Kirkpatrick will be sorry to hear that she is in the hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Dug Barton in the Race

This week the Progress is delighted to announce to its readers that J. D. Barton better known as "Dug" has re-entered the race for sheriff.

Mr. Barton announced early in the year and then withdrew but his many friends prevailed upon him to enter again.

He is a man well known to our readers and needs no commendation from us.

For the past few years he has acted here as local deputy for the sheriff and has learned the work by actual experience.

He is well qualified and well enough known in the country to make an excellent officer.

We are glad to make this announcement for Mr. Barton and to commend him to our friends for their support.

Last Saturday Hon. R. N. Grisham candidate for congress addressed a number of our citizens upon the issues of the campaign as it is now being run. Mr. Grisham confined himself mainly to all attack upon Mr. Blanton's record and his loss of influence in congress.

Blanton Speaks

The Progress wishes to announce that Hon. Thos. L. Blanton our representative in congress will speak here Tuesday June 22 at 2:30 o'clock at Carbon at 10:30 a. m. and at DeLeon Tuesday night of the same day. Congress will have adjourned by that time and he will be free to devote himself to the issues of the campaign.

Austin, Texas, June Among the Graduates who received degrees at the University of Texas at the regular commencement, June 7 was Curtis Eugene Thompson, LL. B., from Gorman. President Robert Earnest Vinson of the University delivered the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday, June 6, and President W. B. Bizzell of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas made the commencement address.

Many people last week took our squib about Mr. Blanton as positive declaration against him, you were mistaken. It was taken at his extravagance in the use of white paper. We have not heard Mr. Blanton and are open to conviction upon the issues any man presents to us. We have heard Mr. Blanton's opponent and read of Mr. Blanton in the papers. When we hear we will speak our mind on who is our choice for congressman, at that neither of the present candidates may suit us and perforce we will be compelled to keep silent.

Bob Peacock, rather much in the public eye recently, through the sensational uprising at Desdemona, of which he was marshal, and in which he underwent deportment, later returning, has figured in another case of notoriety.

On Wednesday Peacock came to Breckenridge and surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Milner, who issued the proper warrant and committed him to jail. The charge is robbery with firearms and the offense was committed at Necessity, some tews being victims. Peacock's examining trial was set for Tuesday in Justice Costleman's Court. His attorney waived examination and instituted proceedings to secure bond for his client by the habeas corpus route. Outcome of the application for habeas corpus was not learned at time of going to press.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal, who have been visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. C. R. Wood, have returned home.

Mrs. M. H. Smith of Ranger is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Walker, Sr.

Mrs. Homer Brelsford of Eastland and Mrs. Griswell of Cisco are visiting their mother, Mrs. T. L. Gates.

Almus Blackwell and wife have moved to Stamford.

Road Contract Let

Eastland, Tex., June 9.—After many delays, caused by the high price of building material, the high bids made by contractors and several other complications that enter into the completion of a program as big as this, the contract for the $5,000,000 road improvement program was let last night by the commissioners court of Eastland County to the Fleming Stitzer Company, of Ranger.

County Judge C. R. Starnes, head of the Commissioners Court, stated this morning that the contract was let to the Fleming Stitzer Company because theirs was the lowest bid, their bid, the Judge continued, was even lower than those that would take county money, while the Fleming Stitzer Company agreed to take the $4,500,000 worth of bond issued, at par and with accrued interest. This company's total bid was $4,234,521.61. This is for approximately 150 miles of hard surfaced roads and 50 miles of graded roads, and was in the form of a unit bid, that is each item as a ton of rock, a gallon of asphalt, etc. was bid on. The Judge said this morning that the court had figured that the remaining engineering work to be done and the right of ways to be obtained would cost $400,000 extra, but that he and the state and federal aid in the sum of $200,000 and a promise of $50,000 more and that the state would give about $50,000 worth of dynamite and that when the roads were finished about $200,000 worth of interest on the bonds would have accrued and with the fleet of trucks that the county has they would sublet some of the contracts which would effect a considerable saving, so he felt that this sum would take care of the whole program.

"The matter has been decided and it is to the interest of all that the work be done as soon as possible," Judge Starnes declared. There "have been requests" he continued, from some people who want the building of the roads left over until next year, but the commissioners court has considered this and has found that if the road building was left over until next year, we would, with all probability lose the $200,000 state and federal aid, we would lose the fleet of heavy trucks valued at $100,000, we would have to disorganize our corps of engineers and relinquish the right of ways that we have gotten at considerable expense, so we thought that leaving out the benefits to be derived by getting the roads sooner, that we could effect a monetary saving by letting the contracts now," he continued.

The contractor has agreed to start work immediately on one road in each commissioner's precinct, and to give preference to county labor and teamsters as far as possible.

The commissioners have been considering the bids since March 31.

Headed by C. R. Starnes the commissioners court is composed of the following men: Precinct No. 1, E. H. Webb, Eastland; No. 2, J. W. Camp, Gorman; No. 3, M. G. Robertson, Rising Star; and W. M. Eppler, Cisco.

Judge Starnes has been at the head of a group of men who have in charge a work that will cost approximately $5,000,000 and in return for his labors has been getting $150 per month or $25 less than the janitor of the court house receives.

The editor of a Western paper wrote up an account of the death of a good and prominent citizen, putting over it the time-honored heading: "A Good Man Gone." After the issue was printed, but before it was distributed it was learned that the dead man was an embezzler, so the editor sat down and wrote the word "Wrong" after the word "Gone" in the headline in every paper of the issue.—Albany News.

Change of Quarters

The Alvin Mauney Post of the American Legion have moved their quarters from the Lossiter Bldg. to the two front rooms up stairs over the Beskow and Thompson Jewelry store. The next regular meeting will on Wednesday night June 16th at 8 p. m. sharp. All members are urged to be on hand promptly.

A. L. Toombs this week purchased the interests of T-L Hunter in the White Owl Cafe and grocery store run under the firm name of Hunter and Toombs. Mr. Toombs has asumed control of both places business and Mr. Hunter has returned to his home in Dallas.

E. E. Layton former principal of the high school has accepted the vacancy in the postoffice caused by the resignation of Roscoe Reeves and is now actively on the job. He went into office on June 1st and has been rapidly getting familiar with his new duties. Mr. Reeves at present is taking a well deserved rest and is busying himself with loafing.

A large brick oven is this week being built in the building formerly occupied by the Box Ball Alley and as soon as finished a modern bakery will be installed. The parties putting in this plant have the thanks of Gorman and will deserve the patronage of the local trade.

When a store advertises judiciously, it attracts public attention and it increases its business. But the increase of receipts is not usually equaled by a corresponding increase of expense. Most stores could double their business without doubling the number of clerks, or doubling their rent, light, heat, and other charges.

Consequently the charge per article for this so called "overhead" expense, keeps decreasing as the business grows. If rescrepts double, and costs of doing business increase only 50 per cent, it is manifest that the overhead cost for each article sold is proportionately less. As volume of business increases, the business is more economically done, and the cost of moving each separate article is reduced. The public gets the difference in lower prices.

WE HAVE A GOOD TIME HERE.

Thomas L. Blanton, Jr., came in from Washington Tuesday night Tom will spend the hot summer months out here in grand old Shackelford county.

Of course Washington City is a big place, has lots of big buildings, wide streets and trolley cars. Yes, it's the nation's capitol, where big and famous men congregate and orate, write our laws and play to the galleries, assess taxes and make us poor devils dance to the tune of the Income Tax laws and liquidate the deficits.

Put, shuckins, it aint nothing to compare with grand old Shackelford county when you want to go out and have a glorious time. And so Tom has come down here where he can fish and hunt and have a good time, as there aint no sign board stuck up all around that says "Keep off the grass."—Albany News.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

A few days ago the editor loafed a few minutes at the district school where he received the only education that hard knocks did not provide. things to talk about during recess that boys talk of now. The other noon boys from 9 to 15 years old were talking about different makes of motors, the best spark plugs and how to adjust the carburetors. Thirty-five years ago these things were unknown. Of what will the school boy of thirty-six in the future talk? No one knows, no more than did we thirty-six years ago, that we would now travel without horses, plow without horses and even fly in the air. This is a great old world, when we stop to consider it.—Capper's Farmer.

Baseball

The Gorman baseball team this week has been having rather rough riding having lost Saturday's game to Mineral Wells 11 to 1. Abilene took their measure 3 to 0 Sunday and in a wild hitting fracas beat them in a ten inning affair Monday 11 to 10. On Tuesday we divided a double bill 12 to 3 and 1 to 6.

On hitting staff has made enough hits and runs every day except Sunday to win ball games any time but the pitching has been too poor to hold the other fellows down.

We need pitchers real sure enough pitchers and then we can win some more ball games.

Richberg's jumping and Eberhardt going to the navy has cost us the league leadership but there is a long road ahead yet and we are going to win or bust.

The final game of Tuesday's double header was a walk away for Abilene.

The official umpire was sick and G. Hill and Ed Baldrige apponents in Sunday's game officiated. Hale pitching for Gorman walked three men upon what every one in the grand stand knew was nothing but strikes. The umpiring done by G. Hill was so raw that the men of his own team "hollered" that he was crooked. Gorman was beaten in the first two Abilene games but the last one was taken away from us.

The team is this week in Cisco.

New Machine Installed

The Progress is this week installing a model B Intertype upon which the reading matter in the paper will be set. This machine is almost a necessity and is about as useful an article as can be found in any factory. It will save us time worry and work, take wrinkles out of the boss's brow and curves out of the devil's spine, save shoe leather and use less of our patience.

But there's one thing more it will do many restless hours now spent telling some interested party how it came about that there was no punctuation marks in their own pet story, for the simple reason that there was none, will now be saved and we can promise you right now that there will be plenty of periods hereafter. The darned old mill makes 'em.

Bad Man Foiled

The coming into the southwest for wild west obsession still persists in the minds of easterners coming into the southwest for the first time. Many studios do a thriving business taking pictures of young men dressed in cowboy regalia common to the movies.

Maurice Ammerman, hailed from Massachusetts and wanted the folks back home to know just how "bad" he was since coming west. He insisted on having his picture made in the act of riding a horse in a building while he was shooting up the place. The obliging photographer agreed to take the picture if the man would secure a horse and get permission from the occupant for a building and the police to violate the law for a few moments.

Plans moved without a hitch until the horse got on the sidewalk in front of a store on Rush street. The untrained horse balked and a policeman came along and arrested Maurice. He paid two fines on charges of carrying a gun and disturbing the peace.

The court did not take kindly to the wild west idea. Ranger Times.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING AND POLITICS

The good citizens sometimes become discouraged by the low standards of public life and political work. Yet on the whole these standards do tend to advance.

The tendency in Gorman and almost everywhere else, to conduct political campaigns by newspaper advertising, has been a wholesome one. When a candidate puts his money into a direct, frank, public appeal to the people, he is not going to put it into secret work by wire pullers. A campaign by newspaper publicity is or can be made educational. It gives a chance to impress direct and effective arguments on the public mind, to give them actual facts in cold type, which they can read and digest at their leisure.

Campaigning by newspaper advertising promotes truth telling. A political worker will go around on the sly, appealing to people's self interest, their lowest motives and meanest prejudices. But when he depends upon newspaper publicity, he has got to show up arguments that sound reasonable to all the people. He has got to ask support on the ground of public interest. That lifts politics to a higher level.

Some people claim that campaigning by newspaper publicity costs too much, and places too much of a burden on candidates. Anytime that the people feel this to be true they can limit the amount a candidate can spend. The amounts he spends for newspaper space, are not like those given to political workers. The expenditures for newspaper publicity can always be verified.

The time has gone by when political campaigns can be won by gum shoe work, or by merely gaining the support of the heelers who control the purchasable or the ignorant vote, Frank, open campaigns of publicity, direct appeals to reason and common sense, are the winners in the political dash-to-day.

MY OVERALLS

I got a suit of overalls, a suit of dingy blue, with creases down the outer walls, and bib and tucker, too. And all my neighbors did the same, and anyone in town, to knock the profiteering gade, and bring the prices down. The rich men in their gilded halls with poor men fell in line, we were all wearing overalls, and feeling mighty fine. At last we'd found a useful way to curb the rising cost, and make the profiteering jay feel like an early frost. And then the price of denim rags went soaring to the moon; the dealers sprung the same old gags, and crooned the same old tune. The honest toiler in the ditch could not afford to buy new overalls—we idle rich had sent the price sky high. The honest workers everywhere in fig-leaves were arrayed; the dealer had no duds to spare—we'd bought his stock in trade. We wore our overalls a week, and then the thing grew stale; we took and threw them in the creek, or hung them on a rail. And thus a great reform, my dears, was to the discard hurled; and still the busy profiteers are fencing in the world. Walk Mason

The difference between the first eve and the modern ones is that the first one was honest and didn't pretend to wear clothus.

The price of sugar may keep our women from canning this summer, but those that have the vote will do some canning of a different kind this fall.

A girl will dance ten miles at night and say she isn't a bit tired, but it's different if she has to walk half mile to match a spool of thread for mother.

"It sounds like irony to call a boat 'she'" remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "when one considers how easy it is for a man to manage one."

INDIA HOME OF TREE FERN

In That Country the Plant Attains the Dignity of a Splendid, Full-Grown Tree.

When we visit a botanical garden and behold specimens of palms and ferns so luxuriant that their crowns nearly touch the glass-domed conservatory, we rarely pause to realize that in their native haunts these tropical plants are trees. At Darjeeling, India, for instance, is the tree fern found in its greatest glory. The first few miles of the 2-foot gauge railway journey from Calcutta passes through a dense jungle, with a vegetation of tropical luxuriance. Grass is 15 feet deep, cane stalks rise 50 and 60 feet high, while from the feathery foliage of the tree fern peacocks and birds-of-paradise lift their haughty heads in their remotest fronds. As one rumbles along in the little first-class carriage which weighs under two tons, he realizes that the tree fern and all the other luxuriant foliage in this impenetrable jungle, shields the home of the tiger, rhinoceros, panther and wild hog.

There are no tree ferns in the United States, but 30 specimens or more are found in the higher altitudes of the West Indies, and many more occur in other tropical regions. In some portions of the mountains of Jamaica, tree ferns form half or more of the forced vegetation, their trunks varying from 6 to 50 feet in height.

BEAUTIFUL IN ITS COLORING

Green Warbler Remarkable Even Among American Birds for the Gorgeousness of Its Plumage.

Some birds get very nervous and become much excited if you approach their nests, and among them is the black-throated green warbler, says the American Forestry association. Another thing about this bird is that it frequently builds several nests. Whether this is because it changed its mind after building the first one and decided to select a better location or with the deliberate purpose of deceiving any intruders who might come along is not known. The bird is very beautifully colored, the top of its head and the region nearly down to the shoulders being a yellow green, the back olive green, the throat and breast jet black and the under parts white with some yellow in them at times.

If you are out bird hunting and are looking for that member of the warbler known as the pine warbler, you will be most likely to find it, as the name implies, in a pine grove. In fact it is seldom found outside of such localities. The bird is rather quiet in its manners and does not move about from one spot to another with as much fuss as do many birds. Like the creeper it has the habit of creeping about among the branches of the trees. It is greenish yellow above and brighter below, with two white wing bars and with white spots on its outer tail feathers.

Plants Demand Cold.

After the period of growth in spring and summer there is a period of dormancy before the cold weather sets in, and if plants are maintained artificially at a high temperature this dormant period persists. Exposure to cold is needed to activate the plant for another period of growth. Perhaps the liberation of enzymes acts on the stored starches, converting them into sugars, or the phenomenon may be due to a change in the permeability of the cell-membrane. Though normally the stimulus required for a renewal of growth is supplied by cold, mechanical injury or a period of drying may have the same effect. The process occurs independently in any exposed part of a plant, so that if one or two branches of a plant be kept continually warm while the other is subjected to the usual winter chilling, the former will not develop on the return of summer temperature, though the latter develops as usual.

Fishing Superstitions.

The salmon fisheries of California used to be responsible for a queer custom on the part of the Indians. Every spring they would "dance for salmon." If the fish did not appear with the celerity deemed appropriate, there would be employed a "wise man" who made an image of a swimming fish which was placed in the water in the hope of attracting live fish to the bait. The Japanese fishermen have the quaint notion that silence must be observed, and even the women left at home are not permitted to talk lest the fish should hear and disapprove. Among the members of the primitive race of Ainu, the first fish caught is brought in through a window instead of a door, so that the other fish "may not see."

Cruel Chinese Custom.

There is a cruel custom which prevails in some districts in South China in time of drought. A large collection of brass locks is made, and each is marked with a Chinese character. One iron lock is added to the pile, and duplicate slips are distributed among the male population of the villages. The unfortunate man whose slip holds the same writing on it as the iron lock must have a slit made in the front of his throat and through this the bar of the iron lock is passed. He is considered to be in some way the cause of the drought and must wear this lock until it rains. Blood poisoning often carries the victim off before the drought is broken.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, To the Sheriff or any constable of Eastland County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Eastland, if there be a newspaper published in said county (but if not, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published), for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, you summons Jean P. Day, Chas. W. West and Savoy Oil Company, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Eastland, at the Court House thereof, in Eastland, Texas, on the 5th day of July, A. D., 1920. File number being 6593, then and there to answer the Petition of C. L. Echols and wife, Effie Echols, filed in said Court, on the 25th day of May, A. D., 1920, against the said Jean P. Day, Chas. W. West and Savoy Oil Company, and alleging in substance as follows, to-wit:

Alleging that on or about the 18th day of September, 1917, plaintiff affixed their signatures to an instrument purporting to be an oil and gas lease upon ninety-one (91) acres of land in the Theresa Tyler Survey in Eastland County, Texas, the special pleas relied upon in such suit being that said instrument was not and has not at any time been acknowledged by plaintiff Effie Echols, that said tract of land was on said 18th day of September, 1917, the homestead of plaintiffs, that the notary public who purported to take the acknowledgement of plaintiff Effie Echols to said purported oil and gas lease was on said 18th day of September, 1917, an agent and employee of the grantee in said lease, and interested in the procuring of same, that said purported oil and gas lease constitutes a cloud upon the title of said tract of land, that defendants, although often requested, have hitherto failed and refused, and still fail and refuse to remove said cloud from the title of plaintiffs in and to said tract of land, that by reason of said cloud plaintiffs have been prevented from obtaining development of the oil, gas and mineral resources of said tract of land, to the damage of plaintiffs in the sum of Forty Thousand Dollars, that defendant Jean P. Day was the lessee named in said purported oil and gas lease, that defendant Jean P. Day assigned said purported oil and gas lease to defendant Chas. W. West, who in turn assigned same to defendant Savoy Oil Company, and that said purported lease and said assignments thereof have been placed by defendants upon the records of said County, plaintiffs praying that the defendants be cited to appear and answer their petition, and that they have judgment cancelling, annulling, setting aside and declaring null and void said purported oil and gas lease and said assignments thereof, and all other instruments relating thereto, and that they have judgment removing said cloud from the title of plaintiffs in and to said tract of land, and confirming the title of plaintiffs in and to the same, and that plaintiffs have judgment against defendants, and each of them, in the sum of Forty Thousand Dollars, damages, interest and costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that they may be justly entitled to, etc.

Herein fall not, but have you then and there before said Court this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, in Eastland, this 25th day of May, A. D., 1920.

Attest:—J. A. Russell, Clerk, District Court, Eastland, County, Texas.

You cant expect as long service or as much freedom trouble unless you have threaded rubber insolation between the plates of your battery. When you try to compare one battery with another, just remember that there are three big things to keep in mind:

1. A battery is no better than the sells inside it.
2. A sell is no better than the "elements" inside it, composed of a group of positive plates and a group of negative plates.
3. The elements is no better than the insolation which separates each positive plate from the negative plate next to it. So it is easy to see that the better the insolation the better the battery, which means threaded rubber insolation.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. B. FLIZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR JUNE 13

A SHEPHERD BOY CHOSEN KING.

LESSON TEXT—1 Sam. 16:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward.—1 Sam. 16:13.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Ps. 2.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of a Shepherd Boy.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Kingly Shepherd Boy.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Road to Promotion.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Possibilities of Youth.

I. The Lord Rebuked Samuel for Excessive Grief (v. 1).

It was a bitter experience for Samuel to pronounce God's judgment upon Saul. The cause of Samuel's grief was threefold:

1. The wreck of a promising life. In all history, perhaps, a life with greater promise cannot be found, and yet it affords no example of a more wretched failure.

2. A personal loss. No doubt as the spiritual adviser of the king, Samuel found many things in him to admire. His removal, therefore, Samuel most keenly felt.

3. Anxiety for the national welfare. Samuel knew quite well that a change of dynasty oftentimes meant severe war and the reign of anarchy. This would very seriously weaken the already weak kingdom. His concern for the people's good was therefore a part of his grief. One can readily see why Samuel should mourn, but as a prophet of God he should not have indulged to excess. The Lord's question "How long will thou mourn for Saul?" has in it a rebuke for Samuel. Grief for others is a sacred thing, but whenever it is carried so far as to interfere with one's duty it becomes sinful.

II. Samuel Sent to Bethlehem to Anoint Saul's Successor (vv. 1-5).

Though Saul failed, God is able to provide a successor who is better than he. Samuel is directed to go to Bethlehem and from among the sons of Jesse choose a successor. Samuel again showed his weakness in expressing his fear lest Saul should kill him. If God sends a man on an errand that matters as though a thousand Saul's be waiting to kill him? Even though it means death, if God sends, who dare refuse or offer excuse? God instructed him to avoid publicity by the concealment of his real purpose. Some may question the diplomacy of Samuel, but we must remember that no one is under obligation to tell all that he knows, especially to parties who have no moral right to know. To withhold truth which is necessary morally to tell is duplicity which dare not be practiced. God allowed Samuel to hide his true errand under the cloak of a sacrifice in order to shelter his weakness. The whole matter was already decided; the moral acts were already committed; the issues were already faced. The exposure of Samuel to the murderous hatred of Saul would have only made matters worse.

III. The Method of God's Choice (vv. 6-12).

The elders of Bethlehem were somewhat alarmed when Samuel came. He, in the exercise of his judiciousness, went from place to place, and at times he doubtless had to deal in severity with the people. He calmed their fears by assuring them that he came peaceably, even to worship God. While the preparation for the sacrifice was being made, Samuel seems to have had the interview with Jesse and his sons. When the eldest of Jesse's sons passed before him he decided that this stalwart young man must be God's choice, but God told him that man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. We should learn, like Samuel was obliged to do, that the qualifications in God's sight for workers are inward, not bodily. The one who does God's work must do it by leaning upon him, not through personal strength or endowments. To the utter surprise of Samuel and Jesse, David the shepherd boy, was chosen.

IV. Samuel Anoints David (v. 13).

When this stripling of a boy came before Samuel, the Lord indicated his choice. Samuel proceeded to anoint him. This anointing typified the endowment of the Holy Spirit, which is essential for any and all service for God. The preparation which David needed for the office of king was just what he got as a shepherd boy. God's choices are not arbitrary. As king, his responsibility was to defend, feed, and lead God's flock, and this he had learned to do as he attended his father's flock. This promotion of the shepherd boy should be an encouragement for boys of lowly station in life.

If You Want to Be Miserable.
"If you want to be miserable, you must think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you, and then to you nothing will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch. You will make sin and misery out of everything which God sends you. You will be as wretched as you choose."

The Good and Bad.
To the good the world is very good; to the bad it is bad.

FOODS WHICH APPEAL TO A VARIETY OF TASTES.

For those who are fond of coconut the following drop cakes will be enjoyed:

Rice Drop Cakes.—Mix two cupfuls of boiled rice with half a cupful of milk and one beaten egg; add two tablespoonfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt and a teaspoonful of baking powder with half a cupful of shredded coconut (the unsweetened kind). Beat well and drop on a lightly greased griddle. Cook brown on both sides and serve hot with sirup or honey.

An Inexpensive Dessert.—Wash, soak and cook a quarter of a pound of dried apricots. While still hot sweeten to taste; there should be plenty of the sirup. Mash and rub through a sieve and when cold add three firm ripe bananas sliced thin. Stir together lightly and serve ice cold with good cream. With a plate of plain cake or cookies this makes a nice dessert.

Rich Golden Frozen Pudding.—Scald a pint of rich milk. Beat the yolks of six eggs, add one cupful of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt and beat again. Cook the two mixtures until smooth and thick; cool and add a tablespoonful of vanilla and one and one-half cupfuls of cream. Freeze. Have ready one and one-half cupfuls of sultana raisins and candied cherries, pineapple and citron cut in pieces and covered with lemon juice and allowed to stand overnight. Stir this mixture into the frozen custard and let stand to ripen two hours. Serve alone or with whipped cream or with the following sauce:

Beat the yolks of three eggs until thick; add one-fourth of a teaspoonful of mace or nutmeg, one-half cupful of sugar; stir and cook over hot water until thick. Cut and fold in the beaten whites of the eggs; stand over hot water to cook. When cold add one-fourth of a cup of lemon juice and one cupful of cream beaten stiff. Serve very cold or pack in ice and partly freeze.

Chestnut Dessert.—Make a simple custard; add a pint of mashed chestnuts or less; flavor with almond or vanilla and add a spoonful of gelatin. Mold, then serve with flavored and sweetened whipped cream.
