

TWO LETTER MEN TO BE OUT OF GAME FRI.

Although both schools have been members of the Class B Conference since its origin, the Gorman Panthers have never been defeated on their home field by the Hamilton Bulldogs, their opponents here Friday, Oct. 22.

According to reports, the Panthers have a very good chance of winning the conference, since they have lost only one conference game.

Due to injuries received in practice games, two regular letter men Linder, end and Clarke, right half, will definitely be out of the game Friday. Replacing them will be Bryan at half and Burleson at end. The injured players will be ready to go when the starting whistle blows for the annual game with De Leon Nov. 11.

Queen Candidates Are Highlight Of Carnival

Mr. Capers, manager of the New Deal Theatre, has procured an appropriate Halloween mid-night show (to start immediately after the carnival). Through his cooperation and generosity the school will get half of the net proceeds for the benefit of school needs. Five classes in the school nominated last Tuesday five carnival Queen candidates. These candidates each selected a prince as a running mate and with the help of their respective classes they are now well into a heated and sharply drawn vote-getting contest.

The class members were issued show tickets to sell. Each adult ticket sold nets the class which sells it one thousand votes and each child's ticket nets five hundred votes. If you buy a show ticket, you will see a good show, the coronation of the Queen, and will help the school get money which it needs.

The carnival will be held in the building north of the bank. It will be filled with many booths such as Bingo, Halloween Balloons, Grab-a-Line, Fortunes, Throw-at-the-Cats, Boxing (several matches), Ghost Magic, the scientific marvels of the twentieth century.

Every teacher in the school, large numbers of the students, the club women of the town, and other friends of the school are endeavoring to make this one of the hit seasons of the year. Come to Gorman's School Carnival! The general admission to the door will be free.

Street Paving Project to Start In November

The project applied for an approved by the WPA is a continuation of the project that was completed here some two years ago, and will take in some streets that are now improved. The graveling project will be on a group of streets that have had no improvement made on them in a number of years.

Prohibit Order On Beer Sales in Pre. 5 Enjoined

EASTLAND, Oct. 25 (Spe.) — B. H. Atchison, judge of 90th district court at Breckenridge, granted Friday the application of beer retailers in Eastland county justice precinct 5 for an order enjoining putting into effect a commission's court order declaring sale of alcoholic beverages in precinct 5 prohibited as shown in an election Sept. 18.

Milton Lawrence, Eastland attorney, filed the case for W. C. Caraway, Gorman beer retailer, and others against commissioners court, County Judge W. S. Adamson and Criminal District Attorney Earl Connor, Jr., in 88th district. Lawrence's application for an injunction was first presented 88th district court, which after consideration and argument hearing, was refused and denied by Judge B. W. Patterson upon insufficiency of allegations to warrant order for issuance of injunction.

Bond for issuance of the writs of injunction, which were to be returnable to the next term of 88th court, was to be filed Saturday.

Lawrence alleged that the election was void because of insufficiency of the petition calling for the election, form of ballot was insufficient as the status of Eastland county is undetermined because of a case pending in the court of civil appeals which is an appeal from an order holding void the recent county-wide election upon prohibition from sale of all beverages and that allegedly the petition did not set out the type of liquor legal in the county.

Contestants further contend that reading of the order of the court in calling the election in response to the petition of residents of the precinct did not say what type of an election.

Beer Vote Contest Action Set Aside

EASTLAND, Oct. 27.—A restraining order issued by Judge B. H. Atchison, in Nineteenth District Court at Breckenridge Friday was set aside Tuesday by Judge B. W. Patterson of the Eighty-ninth District, here, on the ground that the Breckenridge judge was without jurisdiction in the contest of a liquor election at Gorman, Eastland County.

Judge Patterson declared that the case, brought by beer retailers, remains in status quo. The Gorman precinct voted dry last month. K. C. Caraway, et al., are seeking to have the election adjudged null and void.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Moake, Mrs. Ellen Oldham and Miss Frances Scott left Wednesday to visit in Crosbyton and Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Abernathy spent Sunday in Desdemona visiting their daughter.

PEANUTS BRING 90 CENTS ON LOCAL MARKET

Peanuts were bringing 90 cents on the open market in Gorman this week, and a few were selling. Many of the producers are holding off until they see what is going to happen in regard to the Southwestern Peanut Association movement towards increasing the prices. They are assured of a set price of 93 cents per bushel for No. 1 nuts and 87 cents for a No. 2 grade nut.

Activity of the marketing association locally has been slow the past week, and efforts were being concentrated upon securing management for the warehouse for the Gorman trade territory.

It is estimated that one-half of the 1937 crop has been sold.

BOND ELECTION LAST FRIDAY CARRIES 60-0

Gorman's third Bond election for the purpose of securing money to complete the Gym and school building, was held last Friday and carried by a vote of 60 for and none against.

This bond election was called some time ago by the school board in order that sufficient money might be available to complete the Gym properly, and while some $8,000 in bonds have been voted since the original $10,000 issue, no additional raise in taxes will be made to take care of them.

FACTS ABOUT PEANUTS

The people of the United States consume upward of $10,000,000 worth of peanuts annually while during the year the country produces from 650,000,000 to about 800,000,000 pounds. The peanut is employed mainly as a substitute for olive oil and very few people detect the difference.

During the years 1861 and 1865 peanut oil was manufactured by at least four mills in the southern States and used as a lubricant by railroads for locomotives. Though the American peanut is finer, larger and better flavored than any other, it does not contain so much oil as the African nut, and the oil is not of so fine a quality. It is said that peanuts were introduced to the United States by the negroes imported from African slavery.

Between 1865 and 1870, the cultivation in the United States spread with great rapidity. Each year doubled and at times increased three-fold its crop over the preceding year, so that the country was soon able to supply other countries with the home raised article.

Locally, peanuts were of better quality, generally speaking, than they are today, due to the fact that farmers who raised them, cared for them in a better manner. The farmers of today dig his peanuts as early as possible and wind-rows them before threshing them. In former days, growers shocked them by hand and allowed them to cure many weeks before allowing the thresher to have them and by doing so, they allowed the nuts to cure properly, by drawing their proper seasoning from the foliage.

One of the main factors in lowering the prices of peanuts in the southwest is that they are harvested too early, threshed too soon and placed on the market not properly cured.

State winning teams receive all-expense trips to Columbus and the four top and national teams $2,300.00 in college scholarships, all provided by the Kraft Phenix Cheese Corporation, sponsoring the contest which seeks to raise the standards of dairy production.

The Rest of The Record

BY JAMES V. ALLRED Governor of Texas

As this column is written, the Legislature has only three more days of actual work. I don't know whether they will have passed any substantial tax bill for the people's program. At this time the outlook is very doubtful.

In any event, it seems to be conceded that I was right in refusing to submit appropriation bills which some of the Senators said they wanted to revise after they had voted for them during the regular session. On Tuesday of last week one of the reading writers for a big daily said my judgement that the submission of appropriations was impractical had been vindicated by the action of the Legislature itself.

The record shows that after some of the Senators had told through the newspapers about what they would do if I submitted appropriations to them, they suddenly decided that I had done so and accordingly considered economy wide open to them. The Senate passed one bill affecting hte state departments without a hearing and sent it over to the house. Then they admitted the bill would have o be worked over BUT htey didn't do anything at all with reference

Science, Art Merge Forces To Film Spectacular Scene

Famous "Flight From Baskul" In "Lost Horizon" Filmed With Military Precision

Twenty-five thousand dollars depended upon the shot! One thousand Chinese extras milled about in front of eight cameras placed at various points of vantage.

Dozens of huge arclights threw hot shafts of light across the broad expanse of Metropolitan Airport near Los Angeles. Airplane motors filled the air with a monotonous drone.

Two ambulances with doctors and nurses stood by.

Five truckloads of men dressed as Mongolian military rebels lurked beyond the shadow, engines running.

In the background was a huge bamboo hangar. It was to be burned to the ground.

If anything happened to the scene it meant that the hangar would have to be rebuilt, more than a thousand extras would be called back for retakes and an entire night's work with an expensive cast including Ronald Colman, Isabel Jewell, Edward Everett Horton, John Howard and Thomas Mitchell would be marked down as a total loss.

Mob Readied for Action

An assistant director, speaking over a field amplifying system, told the mob what was to happen. There was to be a great confusion. The planes would take off and the trucks filled with shouting, shouting rebels would follow in a mad, murderous rush. In the meantime a fire-brand would be tossed into the gasoline soaked hangar and it would go up in flames in the background. They went through a brief rehearsal. That was all.

"All right, Buddy; throw it," said Director Frank Capra quietly.

The brand was tossed. The hangar burst into flames that shot two hundred feet in the air. Instantly everything was pandemonium. Excited Chinese hoardes, with squealing pigs, some leading cows, some driving horses, battled to get out of the way of the speeding flames that threw up swirling clouds of dust. The air was rent with exploding rifles and the crackling of burning bamboo. It was pandemonium at its height.

Then Capra's voice was heard only to those close to him.

"Cut. Okay," he said.

"One hundred and sixty-eight feet," said Joe Walker, cameraman, indicating the length of the "take." Another scene was "in the can" for Capra's most ambitious picture, "Lost Horizon," which has just completed a triumphant roadshow tour and will show Nov. 6-7-8 at the New Deal Theatre at popular prices.

to economizing on the education bill which they had voted out last spring with the biggest increase of all the appropriations bills. Furthermore the Senate did nothing on the judiciary bill which had substantially increased the salaries of all the judges.

These bills didn't even get out of committee and Senator Stone, who had been one of the loudest of all in saying that he would economize, voted to put off any hearing on these bills, even in committee.

With only eight days left to work, the House of Representatives passed a resolution asking me to submit appropriations for economy; BUT even the author of the resolution said on the floor that his purpose was to "put the monkey" on the Governor's back.

I knew that if I were to submit appropriations the Legislature couldn't revise them intelligently in so short a time when they had considered appropriations for four months before. I also knew that to get the subject on the calendar would block absolutely the chances of passing any tax bill to finance the old folks, the blind, the dependent children, and our part of the teachers retirement system.

HALLOWE'EN

The night of the thirty-first of Oct. is called the eve of all hal-lows, or the festival of all saints, which falls on Nov. 1st. It is associated in popular imagination with the prevalence of supernatural beings, such as witches, ghosts, etc. This belief is clearly a relic of pagan times.

It is an old custom in the United States for people to have gay celebrations. In the Northern part of England, Halloween is known as Nutcrack Night. In Scotland, the ceremonies of the eve were formerly regarded in a highly superstitious light. It is a proper belief that any child born on Halloween has the faculty of perceiving and holding converse with supernatural beings.

LIBRARY NEWS

Work in the High School library has been going on for about three weeks, under the direction of Mrs. A. L. Jackson, WPA librarian. All pencil marks have been erased and sandpapered from over three hundred books. All other books in the library are being treated in the same manner.

Twenty dollars worth of material was ordered for reinforcing magazines and recovering and mending all worn books. This work has already begun. It is believed that the library will be nicer than it has been in many years. The economic saving by repair work will repair equipment purchased.

Later on the school intends to canvas the town for donations of used magazines such as National Geographic, Reader's Digest and other worthwhile magazines.

GORMAN DEFEATED 6-0

The fighting, Gorman Panthers lost a well fought game Friday, Oct. 22, which was nothing to regret because every man on the field fought with the best he had. The high spot in the game for Gorman was when the Panthers came within a yard of the goal line, then did not make a touch-down on the fourth down. Of course, we were disappointed, but we knew the panthers were still fighting.

Four boys were hurt Friday. Two of them may be able to play next Friday; however, it is doubtful whether Linder and Clarke will be able. The game will be played against Hamilton. For the injured boys, we wish a speedy recovery. Panthers we are back of in this game!

1938 CHEVROLET

Chevrolet's Master models for 1938 are designed and built for owners who seek to practice thrift without compromise on completeness. To such buyers, the Master Chevrolet is presented as embodying in fullest measure those qualities which Chevrolet's extensive public contacts indicate that modern motorists demand in their cars.

Performance, economy and comfort are carried to new heights in these models, without sacrifice of beauty or style. The cars are as roomy as the Master DeLuxe series; they are powered by the same 85 horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine; and they offer the year's outstanding engineering advance, the new "Tiptoe-matic" Chevrolet clutch.

Like the Master DeLuxe again, they embody numerous refinements in features affecting performance, comfort, safety, durability, and style. The result is an all-round heightening of the qualities which for the past three years have been generating a steadily-increasing demand for Chevrolet, with the result that production capacity has had to be enlarged again and again. The principal difference between the chassis of the two new Chevrolet series is the use, in the Master series, of conventional I-beam front axle for the fully-enclosed knee action now beginning its fifth year as a feature of the Master DeLuxe.

Externally, the two lines are almost indistinguishable. Body style is identical. The Master DeLuxe models carry an embossed die-cast nameplate on the front end of the hood louvers.

Inside the car, the differences are correspondingly slight. There is a modification in moulding trim, and pillar switch for dome light, assist cords, ash receivers, rear window curtains and decorative sill plates are featured on the Master DeLuxe only. The Master instrument panel is like that of the Master DeLuxe, except for the absence of a water temperature gauge. The cabriolet, in the Master series has armrests on the doors, similar to the Master DeLuxe models.

EACH of us has an obligation . . . a real debt to the merchants of Gorman. Year in and year out, they bear a fair share of the tax load. Some of them pioneered this town. They've molded it into what it is. On their counters and shelves, you find the quality products of the world . . . selling at fair prices.

LET us bear in mind that the dollars we spend with our local merchants stay with the community circle. "Trade at home" is no idle phrase. We urge every citizen to do his or her part in "Keeping Our Main Street Facing Forward". And, in the field of printing, keep your jobs in Gorman.
