Does the Bible teach that baptism is essential to salvation? Answer: God's commands are essential. "And he commanded i them to be baptised in the name of the Lord." (Acts 10:48). It is essential to be in Christ. "For as many of you as have been baptised into Christ have put on Christ." (Gal. 3:27). Peter, by the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, said: "Baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ. (1 Pet. 3:21). The word of Christ shall judge us in the last day. Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptised shall be saved." (Mark 16:16). These and other passages clearly teach the necessity of baptism. Baptism alone is not enough. Men are to do all the Bible says.

A cordial welcome awaits you at all the church services.

A Hymn Is Born Born By CLINT BONNER

I Must Tell Jesus A distraught woman inspires the writing of a consoling hymn

Burdenered with seemingly unbearable sorrow, a well known gospel hymns from the pen of Elisha

When Pennsylvania's Rev. Elisha A. Hoffman was not busy on sermons and hymns he was working among the poor and downcast. By standards of large churches, the Evangelical minister was not a great preacher. By standards of a useful life Elisha Hoffman was, like his father, a great minister. It was while serving a church at Lebanon, some 30 miles from the little town of Orwigsburg where he was born in 1839, that Hoffman experienced the touching scene that inspired the writing of one of the greatest of his more than 2,000 gospel hymns.

While visiting a parishoner's home where "God permitted many visitations of sorrow and affliction" the kindly minister found the woman of the house in the depths of despair. Hoffman prayed with the woman and, as he put it, "I quoted from the Word" such passages as "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest . . ." Still the woman frantically wrung her hands and repeated her cries, "What shall I do?" Finally the Rev. Hoffman suggested that she could do nothing better than "tell your sorrow to Jesus."

Relating the story, Elisha Hoffman said that as he left the home the woman "seemed absorbed with her thoughts . . . her eyes lighted up, and with animation she exclaimed, "Yes, I must tell Jesus!"

"Down at the Cross Where My Saviour Died"—

despondent woman wrung her hands and repeatedly cried "What shall I do... what shall I do?" To which a sympathetic minister replied, "You can do nothing better than tell your sorrow to Jesus." Thus was the setting for the writing of one of the most popular of gospel hymns.

Well known gospel hymns from the pen of Elisha Hoffman that have echoed across America for half a century. But it was the ringing words of a down-cast woman that inspired the writing of one of his greatest. On his way home the phrase, "I Must Tell Jesus," kept running through Hoffman's mind. He went directly to his study and wrote both music

I must tell Jesus all of my troubles; He is a kind, compassionate Friend; If I but ask Him, He will deliver, Make of my troubles quickly an end.

Nine New York sports writers covering the Yankees at spring training were unanimous in their belief that the World's Series this fall will once more see the Yankees up against the Dodgers. As for their other predictions, says The Sporting News, the writers came up with rather surprising conclusions. Four of the nine pick ed the Cardinals to finish second, and two put them in third place. In the American League, the Red Sox got a good play, eight of the nine writers picking them for second place.

If figures don't lie, says The Sporting News, the Boston Red Sox should have the best slugging team in the American League this season. Of the 16 long-ball hitters who set the pace last year, five are now members of the Boston club. With the acquisition of Mickey Vernon, the Red Sox have Ted Williams, Jackie Jensen, Norm Zauchin, and Jimmy Piersall in the upper group of distance hitters.

The famed Red Sox slugger, Ted Williams, is still the batting king among active players. In the Sporting News list of the top 20 hitters, ten from each major league with lifetime averages of .300 or better, Williams tops them all with a lifetime average of .348. Stan Musial of the Cardinals is second with .342.

Dear Triends

As a part of their work in Humble's Refining Research Laboratory, Humble scientists bombard petroleum hydrocarbons with electrons in a 2-million volt Van de Graaff Accelerator.

But if you ask one of these scientists what he expects to find, he'll answer, who knows!

For this is fundamental research. Results may be quick or they may be a long time developing. Who knows?

. . . Perhaps the scientists will find a way to increase the yield of useful products from a barrel of crude oil.

. . . Perhaps they'll be able to make improvements in the fine products already supplied you.

. . . Perhaps they'll develop an entirely new group of petroleum products.

Who knows!

This much, however, is certain: Humble research scientists at Baytown use every device of physics, chemistry, mathematics and mechanics to provide you with more and better petroleum products.

Two quick examples: The specifications for Esso Extra gasoline, the formula for Humble Uniflo motor oil. These, without question, are the finest products you can use in your car.

Sincerely
