Mrs. Dorothy Brewer said goodbye to the classroom on Tuesday, after 43 years of teaching in Texas public schools, nine of them in the Gorman Schools. A native of Sipe Springs, she received her B. S. Degree from McMurry College and her Master of Education from Hardin-Simmons. She taught school at Sipe Springs for 20 years, three at Duster and 11 at Carbon before coming to Gorman. A member of the Church of Christ, she has made two trips abroad doing church related teaching.

After a vacation in the states of Georgia and Alabama, she will serve as camp counselor at the church camp in Cisco and later will go to New Zealand in a church campaign.

"I like to keep active and want to be of service in whatever capacity I am needed. I plan to do a lot of traveling but will continue to keep my home in Gorman."

Mrs. Brewer's husband died in 1965. They had no children.

Mrs. E. C. Bramlett, who has taught second grade at Gorman Elementary School for the past 22 years, and her husband, who has taught Vocational Agriculture the same number of years in high school, retired on May 27th. They have been teaching for 39 years.

Some 772 students have been taught by Mrs. Bramlett in the Gorman School and Mr. Bramlett has taught 525 boys. Two of her former second grade students, Billy Earl Simpson and Ted Snider, are now members of the School Board of Trustees. Fred Rogers and James Brown were students of Mr. Bramlett. Fred was elected to the Board this spring and James' term expired in April.

They have served under seven superintendents and nine and twelve principals. Mrs. Bramlett said "Carl ran off three more than I did." They have also served with 41 different trustees and 101 teachers.

What Does The Gorman Industrial Foundation Do?

That has been asked many times the past week since the notice for dues was mailed with a ballot to elect two new directors. It seems these poor directors for the past year have been given very little notice because they have been laying lots of foundation work for Gorman and it just hasn't been very spectacular. They operate without any compensation, as do our city commissioners and chamber of commerce directors. They meet at night, during lunch hours, and whenever it is convenient to a prospect looking Gorman over. They have spent many valuable hours this year and have screened all prospects that appeared interested in locating in Gorman. If these directors can help them by putting them in touch with land or building owner, contractor, tax assessor, or sometimes even talk with a loan company for them, they go out of their way to do so in a discreet manner so as not to cause undue anxiety or gossip. At present their project is a feed mill that appears to be a very promising and rewarding new industry for Gorman.

Send those dues in and VOTE. This is an important organization and a help to all of us.

COUNTY LANDOWNERS BEGIN FUND DRIVE FOR BRUSH CONTROL

Twenty-five Eastland County land owners voted to begin raising funds for brush control and range improvement research in a meeting May 16th. John Matthews, Abilene area rancher and chairman of the Texas Brush Control and Range Improvement Association, discussed the objectives of the association with the land owners.

County Chairman Jamie Fry of Cisco said the association was formed last November by a group of land owners to raise funds to fight brush invasion of rangelands, one of Texas' major agricultural problems, and study methods of range improvement.

Fry said the plan is to solicit one cent per acre from each Texas landowner each year for five years. He reported that $158 had been contributed during the first five days of the drive in Eastland County.

Matthews told the landowners that BCRIA is a non-profit organization not directly associated with any university, company or agency. An 18 member board of directors, representing different areas of the state, is directing activities.

Money collected will support expanded research and education on brush control and range improvement.

The best research projects submitted by universities and other agencies will be funded by the association.

He said at least 80 per cent of Texas rangelands are infested with brush and weeds, reducing their carrying capacity by 50 per cent or more. Not only is brush control important to ranchers, but the problem also affects the economy of all agricultural communities in the state.

Research by universities and the USDA have done much toward brush control, Matthews stated, but "it is clear that greater financial support of research is needed if we are to solve the problem."

Contributions, which are income tax deductible, can be left at the First National Bank in Gorman or any bank in Eastland County. Please fill out the form below and leave with your contribution. Checks should be made payable to the association. Land owners may contribute one cent per acre each year for the next five years or may contribute the entire amount at one time.

Contributions by every land owner are needed in this campaign to win the brush fight, Fry said.

Friendly Ladies "Working Coffee" Held In Shell Home

Members of the Friendly Ladies Class met in the home of Mrs. W. T. Shell last Wednesday evening, 7:30 p. m., for a "working coffee," and quickly came to three questioning conclusions: one, there's no great stampe of Friendly Ladies when the stated invitation mentions "working" coffee; two, those who came can't understand why the absences, because the "working" was so much fun; and three, working together in such a manner creates a certain cohesion of members.

Business was practically passed in order to spend more time on projects, except for the treasurer's report, money being seemingly indispensable. Mrs. J. W. Ramsey, class treasurer, reported a sufficient balance at present.

Mrs. Othell Clark, chairman, then unpacked the materials for working. Plans call for several such coffee sessions during which time the group hopes to complete "Lord's Acre" projects and introduce other ideas that may be the inspiration for at-home work. Everybody seems to be creating "secret projects" for the planned November Harvest Festival.

During a "recess," Mrs. Shell served refreshers, a delightfully tingling, cooling lime sherbert float and pound cake. But as soon as these delicious energy boosters were consumed, work continued well past the usual good-night hour.

Significant progress was made, everybody had a good time, and plans certainly call for more such "working coffees."

The Gorman Rebekah Lodge meets each Tuesday evening.

The Friday Afternoon Duplicate Bridge Club meets each Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the Fire Hall.

The Gorman Duplicate Bridge Club meets each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at the Fire Hall.

THE GORDON NEWS FROM SPOT LAWNDALE

By Dee Gordon.
The rains that have come so often this spring are partly responsible for the large number of plant disease problems. One problem that I hear about several times each day is fire blight of pear and apple trees.

Damage occurs as blossom blight, twig blight, girdling of branches and in some cases, killing of the entire tree. Twig blight is the most common form we see now. When the bacterial disease infects twigs, they become dark green and look oily. Bark sinks in and the wood underneath turns dark brown. Insects and rain spread the bacteria to new twigs and other trees. The disease is always worse when we have excessive moisture.

If your trees have fire blight, prune the infected portions four to six inches below the last visible symptoms. Dip the pruning equipment in ten percent household bleach to prevent spreading the bacterium from one cut to another.

The trees should then be sprayed. A weak bordeaux mixture applied three or four times every seven days is the most effective. The bordeaux mixture is prepared by dissolving two pounds of copper sulfate in a non-metal container with a little water. Add this to 100 gallons of water, combined with six pounds of hydrated lime. Small amounts of bordeaux mixture are made by dissolving 2 1/2 teaspoons of copper sulfate in 1 quart of water and then by mixing this with a gallon of water in which 4 teaspoons of lime are dissolved. The mixture is then brought up to three gallons.

Another problem is powdery mildew on ornamental plants. This appears as a whitish or grayish, mold-like growth over lower and upper leaf, bud or young twig surfaces. They can be controlled with either Karathane, folpet (Phaltan), Wettable sulfur, or acti-dione. Begin weekly spray applications and continue as needed.

We are proud of the Nimrod community who have participated in the Texas Community Improvement Program for more than twelve years. They recently finished in sixth place in the District Eight Community Improvement contest. As a result they will receive an award of $25. The contest is sponsored by the electric utility companies of Texas and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

WASHINGTON "As it looks from here" OMAR BURLESON Congressman 17th District the war in Vietnam is concluded. Problems now challenging the Government on every hand can supposedly be cured in short order. This includes the renovation of cities, soothing the unrest which agitates the younger generation and the minority groups and even a refurbishment of spiritual and economic destitution which afflicts many Americans.

THIS ATTITUDE ADDS UP TO AN ASSUMPTION prevalent in our society's life during the last several decades that money is all that is needed to cure everything.

THE WHOLE IDEA SEEMS TO

BE THAT WHEN we get things quieted down in Southeast Asia, the billions now being spent in that area can immediately be put to use here at home. THE COST OF THE EFFORT IN VIETNAM is blamed for not having all of the desirable things here at home which we will have "after Vietnam." Many of these same people have never expressed a concern about Government spending before. The concern seems only directed at the purpose for which it is spent. That same objection will also be directed against the refurbishing of our National defense, which is going to be necessary to a very large degree "after Vietnam," if we are to maintain a position of strength in the world.

THE REFRAIN GROWS THAT THERE SHOULD be a reappraisal of our military commitments. Apparently this means a reappraisal of the kind of world in which we live. Some sort of an assumption must be drawn that somehow our potential enemies have had a change of heart and that if we are not strong militarily, they will not fear us but will love us in our weakness.

THE ADVOCATES OF EVERYTHING "AFTER VIETNAM" do not show signs of considering what would happen if it should turn out that high expenditures for military spending must continue. There is no admitting possibilities that the balance of power in the world may be shifting in favor of our adversaries instead of the other way around. The whole implication is that no such thing could result from a full-scale reappraisal of our military needs. It is rather that the United States can safely pull in its horns, slash military spending and turn her whole attention to curing the evils on the home front. The fact is that the "after Vietnam" thesis is so strong that priorities are already being established. These being established, these priorities leave military preparedness some place down the line from those activities which are supposed to relieve all our society's ills. It is already being talked that to bail out bankrupt cities the Federal Government must come across with another $20 billion per year, which just about doubles the present Federal contribution. It is further being talked that the Federal Government will need to pay about one-third the cost of all local and State Governments.

THERE IS REASON FOR SUSPICION ABOUT some of this "after Vietnam" business. In the first place there just might be reason to question whether it is being used as a convenient cover for lack of workable programs at the present time. There should be a question as to whether all of this money we don't have will be available for all these things. No one is saying anything about using "after Vietnam" resources to get our fiscal house in order - like paying off some of our debts, stemming inflation by balancing the budget, strengthening the integrity of the dollar by reducing some of the tax burden from the necks of the taxpayer.

THERE IS NOTHING WRONG IN LOOKING TO THE TIME when problems of our society can be solved to the greatest possible extent. At the same time the idea that money alone can meet the challenge is false. In the opinion of some who have espoused this concept in the past, the $20 billion or more now being spent on some of these problems has resulted in chaos. Another $20 billion or so under present methods could produce twice as much chaos unless the spending is done more effectively.

THIS, COUPLED WITH THE NEED FOR REFURBISHING our military, hardly holds out the promises some are making "after Vietnam."

It's Vacation Time Again

For the young, there is no freedom to compare with that which comes with the closing of school. The exuberance of the young as they savor release from the necessary disciplines of the classroom is a wholesome thing to see. This is pure escape, the kind that adults dream about but never achieve. Even for the children, pure untrammelled freedom loses its shine in the latter days of summer when the "nothing to do" stage sets in. Freedom, to be enjoyed, must be earned, and even then, its richness is lost where there is no ultimate sense of direction or minus factor such as household chores that tend to preserve an appreciation of freedom.

The ending of the school year, and the watching of the children in their new-found freedom and the manner in which they use - and abuse - that freedom, should have a special meaning for the adult world today where freedom is being used and abused in ways no one could have foreseen a few short years ago.

Classmates Helping Sunset Footballer

By BILL PHIPPS
 Sunset Correspondent

(Editor's Note: The following article was brought to the Progress office by Mrs. Mrytle Alsabrook. It was published in a recent Dallas Morning News. The article pertains to her grandson, and son of Billy Alsabrook, who was reared in Gorman.)

"Never have so many owed so much to so few."

For Delman Alsabrook, the reverse of this quotation from Winston Churchill holds true.

Although he didn't know all the details until recently, Alsabrook has a host of friends that won't stop.

The Sunset High School senior was left unconscious after an automobile accident April 1, the day before Easter vacation was scheduled to begin. Alsabrook, a varsity football player, was taken to Parkland Hospital and transferred the next day to Methodist Hospital, where he still is hospitalized.

Alsabrook's fellow teammates and students and members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship at Irwindell Methodist Church rallied quickly and on their own initiative to answer one question: "How can we help a friend who is unconscious, in an intensive care unit?"

Within only a few hours of the accident, SHS senior Steve Vincent had organized a mammoth effort by telephone, arranging for the students to assist the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. Alsabrook.

At the end of the last week, 315 different visitors had offered their services, some alone, some in pairs, spending an hour or two staying with the Alsabrooks — "not to entertain; just to be there in case we were needed." They answered the waiting room telephone. They went for coffee. They made calls for the family and took the couple to and from the hospital and home.

Student visitors followed a set of rules established by Vincent and co-workers Ricky Duff, Gary Youngkin, Fred Sims, John McCalib, James Fair, Jeff Smith and Terry Waldrum, all of whom are Sunset football players.

"Dress neatly," was one rule they posted, along with scheduling of aid.

"We won't get in the way," Vincent told the Alsabrooks on his first visit. "We just want to help."

And help they did. "We couldn't ever put into words what it has meant to us," said Mrs. Alsabrook this week.

A center on the varsity football squad, Alsabrook is a member of Sunset's National Honor Society and Good Scholarship Club. The Eagle Scout has also earned the God and Country Award and is a member of his church's MYF council and official board.

Now out of the intensive care

THE GORMAN PROGRESS, Eastland Co., Texas, MAY 29, 1969

unit and in a private room, Alsabrook hopes to receive his high school diploma so that he can begin his studies in engineering next fall at University of Texas at Arlington. Sunset principal Harold Filgo has confirmed that arrangements are being made for his graduation.

Delman Alsabrook is now progressing well, and so are his friends.

"A lot of us are bigger than he," commented one of his fellow football players, "but none of us are tougher."

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Eison spent last weekend in Wichita Falls with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eison. They also visited in Lawton, Oklahoma with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Aldredge, a sister of Mr. Eison.

Russell Fuller of Aspermont is visiting this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. D. Fuller. He will spend an extended vacation in Monticello, Arkansas.

Visiting this week with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wolfenbarger is Mrs. D. B. Warner and granddaughter of Orantio, California.
