

Pantherettes Seek Bi-Dist. Title Against Early Tuesday

The Gorman Pantherettes defeated the Woodson girls Tuesday night at Gorman by a score of 36-20. This was the final practice game for the Gorman sextet prior to their bi-district encounter with the Early High girls.

Last Friday night the Clyde girls, of District 10-A, edged the Pantherettes by a score of 28-27. Outstanding guarding by guards Mary Robertson, Karen Wright, Emma Jane Skaggs, and Tomassine Whitt have been an important factor in recent games. Opponents have scored only 32, 29, 33, 28, and 20 points in the last five games.

The bi-district game with Early will be played at Comanche on Tuesday, March 3, beginning at 8 p. m. The Pantherettes will carry a record of 15 wins and 10 losses into the affair compared to a 13 won and 9 lost record for Early. The winner will qualify for the Region II-B Tournament at Brownwood later next week. The Pantherettes are defending Regional Champions.

Admission at Comanche will be 40c for adults and 20c for students.

Grade School Boys Win Carbon Tournament

The Gorman Grade School boys basketball team won the Carbon Grade School Tournament last weekend by defeating Cisco in the finals by a score of 20-12.

The Gorman quintet had earlier defeated Olden 34-30 and Rising Star 23-14 to gain the finals.

HULLS by Kernel Gene, aPe

I know that it is difficult for a man in public office to please all of his constituents. Being human he is prone to make more mistakes due to multiple responsibilities. Especially is this true of a young man when he first enters public office.

I have met Senator Floyd Bradshaw of Weatherford. He impressed me as a young man in politics with a vision. One who wanted to serve his district with honor and integrity. To the best of my knowledge he is striving to live up to his word. However, according to an article on Page 14, Sec. One of the February 26th. morning edition of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, Mr. Bradshaw is being misled by someone.

Mr. Bradshaw is sponsoring a bill which opposes School Vaccine Rules. According to the article Mr. Bradshaw states, "The bedbug is sole conveyor of the smallpox germ and the body louse has the same function with scarlet fever."

Bradshaw, a former teacher, is instructing two of his children at his Senate office rather than have them undergo vaccination as required by the Austin School Board. He argues many persons have been given the disease by vaccine and disfigured for life.

His bill would ban any vaccination, but the smallpox inoculation is what caused his dispute with school authorities in Austin. Dr. J. M. Coleman, Austin pediatrician, speaking for the Texas Medical Association, said "millions of experiments" have shown the value of vaccination.

Dr. Coleman said the proposed legislation would handicap school boards by taking away the right of the majority to protect their children.

This bill has been recessed until 7:30 p. m. March 9th. If you are interested in expressing your opinion in regard to this proposed bill write or contact Senator Bradshaw before March 9th. Minorities are slowly choking the right of majorities. In a few years the majority will be in the minority and then perhaps the scales of justice will swing our way.

I wish to thank our efficient Fire Department for their quick action that saved my chicken house from being destroyed by fire. Special thanks to the person who turned in the alarm.

De Leon Doctor Injured In Auto Accident Saturday

(De Leon Free Press, Feb 26)

A slight improvement was noted Tuesday morning in the condition of Dr. A. M. Reynolds, local physician, who was seriously injured Saturday night in an automobile accident two miles west of Dublin on Highway 6. The doctor was traveling toward De Leon when the accident occurred.

The doctor is in the Dublin Hospital, suffering a head injury, multiple rib fractures and a pelvic fracture. It was reported on Tuesday that Dr. Reynolds appeared to possibly be resting some better.

A number of area physicians assisted in the treatment of Dr. Reynolds and local blood donors made themselves immediately available.

Roland Hill, who is acting as administrator of the local hospital, announced Tuesday that an arrangement had been made with Dr. Brogdon of Gorman and Dr. Cole of Dublin whereby the two doctors would check patients in the De Leon Hospital once a day until a doctor could be obtained to furnish medical service to the community on a temporary basis until the clinic is completed and the permanent doctors located in De Leon.

"The American Home" Is Topic Of Excelsior Club

One of the most interesting programs of the Excelsior Club year was presented Tuesday evening in the Homemaking Cottage when Mrs. Dahlia Steele was hostess.

The president, Mrs. N. C. Crawley, acting in absence of Mrs. E. C. Sutton, introduced the speakers.

Mrs. Robert Haynes discussed "Better Family Living." She used "When The Lamp Flickers."

Mrs. Leslie Weatherhead, for her resource material. Mrs. Carroll Bickle discussed "What's Ahead in Houses." Added her comments, as a former interior decorator, to a paper largely prepared by Mr. Ivan King of Ft Worth, builder, who is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Eugene Baker, she gave a most delightful discourse.

The evenings program will be sent to GFWC Headquarters on request.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK - MARCH 1-7

GREETINGS:

Today, more than ever before, the importance of our schools is being realized by an awakened Nation. A new perspective has been taken on by education, both in scientific and liberal arts fields.

As we rush to train scientists and place satellites in outer space however, it is important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

In an effort to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, the citizens of our communities are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with the respective school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Comanche County Hits New Record Peanut Production

According to O. D. Johnston, Office Manager of the Comanche County ASC, the county has hit an all time record in production of peanuts per acre. Production and planted acreage records are available for all years since 1938. The average yield for the 21 year period is 17.4 bushels per acre. In 1958 the average production was 29.0 bushels per acre on 42, 919.2 acres. The county allotment on peanuts for 1958 was 51,062.5 acres. There were 8,143.3 acres of peanut allotment that were not planted in the county. There is a possibility that this could cause a serious problem in the future.

Plans have been made to have meetings to discuss this matter of under-planting the peanut allotment. The first meeting will be held at De Leon, City Hall, Monday, March 2 at 2 p. m. Another meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 6 at the District Courtroom in Comanche at 2 p. m. Every peanut producer is urged to attend one of these meetings to discuss the peanut situation.

Also to be explained at these meetings is the premeasurement service that will be available in 1959 on peanuts. There have been many requests for this service in past years, and now the service can be furnished if anyone wants it and will pay the cost of the service.

Eastland Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was born June 1, 1870 in Ohio and had made her home in Eastland for many years.

She is survived by her husband John, and one daughter, Mrs. E. D. O'Hara; and many nieces and nephews. She was a sister-in-law to Mrs. Sam Pritchard of Gorman.

Burial was in the Bear Springs Cemetery.

Progress Offers Peanut Brittle During National Peanut Week

In appreciation of the support and friendship of Progress readers and advertisers we are offering a basket of peanut brittle to all who renew their subscriptions or subscribe to the Progress from Saturday, February 28th through March 7th.

GEORGE E. CLARK TAKES PART IN NAVY EXERCISE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (PHTNC)-George E. Clark, quartermaster third class, USN, son of Mrs. Lela Clark of Gorman, on the Staff of the Commander of the First Fleet, took part in an anti-submarine warfare exercise from Feb. 16-19, off the coast of Southern Calif.

As stated before, Kernel Gene was attracted to Gorman by the peanut industry and thanks to Billy Dee Hamrick, former owner of The Gorman Progress, was accepted as a partner. Since that time Thereasa and the Kernel have enjoyed the friendship of the folks in this community. In the 13 years of publishing the Progress our circulation has increased to over a thousand subscribers.

"Skynet", formed of vessels of the U. S. First Fleet and several units of the Naval Reserve, was divided into two teams: the "Blue" defenses and the "Purple" aggressors.

For the past nine years Public Schools Week in Texas has been set aside as a special time each year to place increased emphasis on our educational system. Parent visitation is encouraged and each citizen is urged to recognize the tremendous importance of our public schools.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 2-6, 1959, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 7th. day of January, 1959.

[s] Price Daniel
Governor of Texas

PUBLIC SCHOOL VISITATION WEEK OF MARCH 2-6

All patrons are urged to visit school during Public Schools Week.

If you plan to eat lunch with us please advise your son or daughter that we may know how many to prepare for.

The following schedule will help us if you can possibly make it on these days. If not come when you can.

First & Second Grades - Monday
Third - Fourth - Fifth - Tuesday
Sixth - Seventh - Eighth - Wednesday
High School - Thursday

On Friday school will dismiss for the teachers convention.

National Peanut Week - March 1-7

National Peanut Week will be observed nation wide from March 1 through 7. Mr. William F. Seals, President of the National Peanut Council, recently announced that Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy will be Peanut Week King and Queen. The Peter Lind Hayes Show, broadcast five days a week over the ABC-TV network from New York, is ideally suited to this type of publicity. Broadcast time is from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., New York time. They will be crowned King and Queen of National Peanut Week on their show on Monday, March 2nd.

For the third year Congress is going to help our industry celebrate National Peanut Week. Starting at 12 o'clock noon on Thursday, March 5, President Seals, together with other council members, will serve an all-peanut buffet luncheon in the Speaker's Dining Room at the Capitol. Texas and Oklahoma members of the House acting as sponsors for the luncheon are: Albert (Okla.) and Burleson (Texas). Invitations are being sent to all Senators and Congressmen from the peanut producing states and districts. All members of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees are also being invited.

Mr. Seals has stated that he has already received more than 125 requests for Peanut Week Photographs from newspaper photo editors and reports from women broadcasters that they will be plugging peanuts on their programs during National Peanut Week.

We have watched the expansion of the Gorman Peanut Company and believe that Wilbur and Melvin Shell and their father deserve lots of credit for the plant they have built which has placed a major payroll in our town. We appreciate the work done by the personnel of the Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association. They have a difficult job in striving to look after the interest of the farmers and at the same time buck the political situations that face all cooperatives.

We hope all of you will visit the Progress Office next week and take home a basket of this delicious peanut brittle.

Highlights and Sidelights

From Our State Capitol
By Vern Sanford.

AUSTIN - - After nearly seven weeks in session, the Legislature has not yet given any clear indication of how it will solve its basic problem - - how much to spend and where to get it.

State agencies still insist they need every cent they asked for - and need it bad. But those who would be "fall guys" of money-raising measures proposed thus far show no genial willingness to ante up.

Gov. Price Daniel is still pushing hard for his tax program. He suggested that critics would do better to stop sniping and start snooping - - for a better way.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert called the governor's plan to gain $18,000,000 by a change in bookkeeping just "legalizing a false statement." Budget Board Director Vernon McGee termed it "unworkable."

Daniel also contends that his plan for the state to take over unclaimed bank accounts, abandoned property, etc., might help a lot of people, since the state first would advertise for rightful owners. But bankers and spokesmen for other affected industries called it "confiscation," said it would undermine public trust in their institutions.

Corporations continue to blast at a franchise tax raise they say would increase their burdens as much as 500 per cent. A two-thirds vote of each House would be necessary to put this into effect to help with the deficit this year. Many say chances are dim.

A Lubbock legislator, Rep. H. J. Blanchard, made a survey on tax and spending attitudes. About 60 per cent of those replying opposed a sales tax. Roughly the same percentage favored more spending for teacher pay, higher education, old age assistance, state hospitals and prisons.

GOTTA HAVE IT - - Strong pitches for more spending are being made by spokesmen for three major state services.

"I don't see how higher education can be financed without some broad-based tax," said J. R. Sorrell, chairman of the University of Texas Board of Regents. "You will have the backing of this administration and this board in selling it to the people of Texas."

"We are absolutely broke, we don't have a dollar," said Prison System Director O. B. Ellis. "Riots that will cost more than the appropriation requested may result, if conditions aren't improved."

"You can chop off dollars, but you can't chop off children," declared a representative of the Texas Youth Council. Director James A. Turman said money spent on parole supervision and rehabilitation of youngsters in trouble would save on future prison costs.

THREE FOR SPEAKER - - Three definite candidates already are jockeying for speakership of the House in 1961.

They are Reps. Wade Spilman of McAllen, Ben Glusing of Kingsville and L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi. It may be a close-quarters fight. All are from the same general South Texas area.

Rep. Joe Burkett, who lost to present Speaker Waggoner Carr in a very close race, said he won't run again. Many members have protested early campaigning. They say it hampers work of present session.

"FREEDOM" BILL DELAYED - - Senate Committee has put in its "back pocket" a bill to set penalties for those who refuse to make public records public.

Measure is one of several "free dom of information" bills sponsored by a group of newsmen's organizations.

It was sent to subcommittee for reworking with no time set for the subcommittee to report. In some cases, such action means the bill is buried for the session.

NEW AGENCY URGED - - A bill has been proposed to take tax collecting out of the Comptroller's Department and set up a new agency headed by a state collector of revenue.

All members of last session's Senate General Investigating Committee joined in sponsorship. They said they felt tax collecting could be handled more efficiently by an appointive officer of longer tenure.

Committee investigated the Comptroller's Department extensively last session. At one time members commented on the awk-

The So And Sew Corner

By ROONEY WILLIAMS

All businesses at one time or another have a slow time. This is the case of the garment manufacturing industry in February. Most people are beginning to look forward to warm weather and lighter clothes, but soon we will be making winter clothes. The summer clothes are just about finished except for a few late orders and the winter orders have not yet come in, which accounts for some of the employees not working for a few days here. I believe most of them were happy to have a few days to catch up at home anyway.

Also the spring round of illness has had its affect here. Dorothy Johnson is not here because Troy has the mumps and many of the rest of us are just waiting and wondering when our children will take them or the chicken pox.

Atha has been in Hico the past two days helping them to get some camp shorts in the line down there. It is a new style to them.

It looks as though we will finish the ladies capri pants this week and will be sewing on ladies shorts next week or possibly starting them this week. The production is still on the way up and we are happy to report yesterday we had 92 2/12 dozen garments completed here.

The Great Refusal

Lesson for March 1, 1959

A DOUBLE meaning can be found in some of Jesus' parables. A triple meaning, if you include the simple literal words of the stories. For instance, take the parable which in old-fashioned English is called the parable of the Wicked Husbandmen. In more modern English it would be the story of the Wicked Tenant Farmers. The first and simple meaning is just the story. Like so many that Jesus told, this one both sounds as if it might have actually happened, and as if it were too fantastic ever to happen. It is the story of a farm owner who tried to collect from his tenants. But they beat up all his agents, one after another. Finally the owner sent his son. But this only stirred the tenants to murder. If we kill the man's only son, they said to each other, then the vineyard will be ours. So they killed him.

Shadow of Galvary
Jesus ended his blunt, ugly tale with a question. What will the owner do next? His hearers knew. The least the tenants could expect would be to lose their places. But more likely the owner would destroy them. Their murder would come back on their own heads. So much for the story itself. But it was more than a story; that is, there was a meaning under its surface. It is on record that the leading citizen to whom Jesus told this tale of brutality and madness, immediately made plans to arrest him. They saw that Jesus was speaking about them. This was no simple rural Who-done-it. It was a sword-thrust, a stern prophecy, and they did not like it, nor him. These men, you might say, were parable-experts, parabolists (sic) themselves. They saw in a flash what the Man from Galilee was driving at. The owner of the vineyard was God; the tenant farmers were themselves. The vineyard was the Kingdom of God, with all its powers and privileges. God had entrusted the Jewish people, and especially their leaders and teachers, these chief priests and scribes among them, with his truth, his laws, the knowledge of his will. But instead of blessing the earth with these his gifts, they had tried selfishly to keep them for their very own. They had mistreated God's messengers the prophets. Now God's son was in their presence . . . but murder was in their minds.

One of the most chilling things Jesus ever said was his last word to these men who were plotting his death. "The Kingdom of God will be taken away from you," he said. That was a shocker. Every Jew grew up believing that his people had the exclusive right to the Kingdom and to the favor of God. Gentiles were no better than dogs. But here Jesus pronounced sentence on their failure. Not "—may be taken away," but "—will be taken away." By rejecting him they proved themselves unworthy. But then what? Who would be the Bearers of the Kingdom? It will be given, Jesus said, "to a nation producing the fruits of it." What nation? Rome, the British Empire, the United States? One thing is clear: No race and no nation have any exclusive rights to the Kingdom; no exclusive right to be the Headquarters of God?

The Tragic Pattern
But with this last word of Jesus a third depth of meaning in this parable comes to light. Jesus was not only predicting his own death at the hands of those who should have made him most welcome; and not only predicting the passing of the Kingdom of God out into the world. He was suggesting a tragic pattern which has been repeated over and over again in history. Those wicked tenants are not merely certain priests in long-ago Jerusalem, they are the Refusers of God everywhere and at all times. God gives to man so much, and demands (comparatively) so little; like the owner in the parable. But man, confronted by God, makes over and over again the Great Refusal. Man wants the earth for himself, he does not want to share it even with the Creator. But men who refuse God are in reality not destroying him; they are destroying themselves.

Mount Olive, N. C., Tribune — "We wish the AMA all success in its . . . efforts to avoid socialization in its field, and it should receive the support of all who might ever need medical care. For, under that system, both the doctor and the patient would be the losers, as well as the entire nation for having taken one more step toward full socialism."

HUMBLE CO. REPORTS INCOME FELL IN 1958

Preliminary estimates of Humble Oil & Refining Company's 1958 earnings indicate that the company's net income fell $39,410,400 below 1957 figures.

In a letter to shareholders and employees, Morgan J. Davis, Humble president, said net income in 1958 was about $136,500,000 or $1.89 a share. This is about 56 cents a share less than 1957 when net income totaled $175,910,400.

Mr. Davis pointed out that on the shareholders investment this represents a return of less than ten per cent which is considerably below the average return realized by manufacturing corporations.

Study Club Meet

Mrs. J. R. Williams was hostess for the February meeting of the Desdemona Study Club.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. L. Burleson. After committee reports and a business session, members turned in articles for the project of the month, "Give to Gross revenue last year was $116,898,000 below that of 1957. Most of the decrease occurred in sales of crude oil because of substantially reduced volumes. Revenue from sales of petrochemicals and petroleum products also decreased because of lower volumes and slightly lower prices.

However, Mr. Davis said the company's sales of natural gas continued to grow and in 1958 these sales accounted for more than $56,000,000 of Humble's total revenue.

Costs, expenses and taxes were $77,500,000 less than in 1957. Lower purchases of crude oil and products, together with a $26,203,000 decrease in dry hole costs primarily because of reduced drilling, accounted for most of the change. Humble drilled 557 wells in 1958, compared with 867 in 1957.

Humble's total tax bill in 1958 amounted to $110,900,000, including excise taxes on products sold.

Capital expenditures in 1958 totaled $154,900,000 and were $80,500,000 less than the record program of 1957.

"Humble and the domestic petroleum industry," Mr. Davis said, "have not yet fully recovered from the downward adjustments occasioned by the recent recession. Humble's crude production still is restricted to less than one half of the volume which could be produced efficiently through existing wells."

Also, operating costs have been increased since the first of the year by an industry-wide general wage increase. In view of these developments, immediate prospects are for continued emphasis on economical operations and highly selective capital spending."

Roll call was answered by exhibiting a souvenir. The souvenirs were: autograph books written in 1897 with valentine verses, a 1750 Crown Derby china bowl, a 1913 Carbon High School Commencement Program and one forty years later (all members of the 1913 Class became teachers), a Bible that had been awarded to a member when she was eight years old for quoting the most verses, a buddah from a Chinese restaurant, a rock collection from Carlsbad Caverns, an antique pitcher, and ceramics.

"The Arts" was the theme of the month. Mrs. Williams illustrated the making of ceramics. Mrs. H. R. Hall gave a very informative talk on "The Mechanics of Music and Music Appreciation." Mrs. W. H. Davis read three beautiful poems which she has written - "My Town", a story of Desdemona, "Motherhood" and "Reminiscence". Writing poetry is her hobby.

Other hobbies listed or demonstrated were: Mrs. Burleson, cake decorating; Mrs. Eldridge, growing flowers; Mrs. Hall, collecting pitchers; Mrs. Henslee, collecting dogs; Mrs. Fein, reading; Mrs. Moseley, painting; Mrs. Wade, listening to music and reading; and Mrs. Williams, making ceramics.

A delicious refreshment plate was served.

Religion ... ITS LESSONS FOR MODERN LIVING

... Ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and ha omitted the weightier matters of the law ... Matthew 23:23

This is one of Jesus' most important lessons and, to this day, very applicable to modern living.

Jesus has already said to make your alms in secret and here tells the Pharisees they neglect the most important thing—the weightier matter of the law.

Churches must maintain buildings, pay utilities, support their ministers, it is true, but it is not enough to give money alone.

What of judgment, mercy, faith and truth? These must be given also.

What good does it do to give money on Sunday and on Monday cheat in business or on your income tax?

The "weightier matters of the law" of which Jesus spoke are indeed most important in modern living.
