PITY THE POOR WORKER

Moscow will never hear about the Elliott Addressing Machine Company or of Harmon P. Elliott, its president for 52 years. The company has 400 workers, each of whom has been employed for 10 years or more. On selling out and retiring at 72 years of age, Elliott has done these things:

1. He has stipulated that his successors in management shall retain all personnel and maintain the plant at Cambridge, Mass.

2. He is distributing from $3,500 to $4,000 to each of his employees with 10 years' service or more, according to the length of that service.

3. He has thanked them because, for the entire 52 years of his management, there has never been a strike.

4. He explains his action on the ground that he wants "to have fun giving while I'm living."

Moscow is more interested in downtrodden workers like Hoffa and Reuther.

Your mailing address is placed on the Progress by an Elliott Addressing Machine. While this may not mean much to you it has enabled us to handle our mailing more efficiently. During World War II, when equipment and material was scarce, personnel in the Elliott's Dallas Office went out of their way to give us service and parts.

May we add our congratulations to Mr. Elliott for the wonderful service his company has rendered and wish him many years of happiness and fun in his retirement.

Wednesday I had the pleasure of attending a meeting at the Lone Cedar Country Club where officials of the Oils and Peanuts Division from Washington, D. C., state officials interested in agriculture; directors of SWPGA and businessmen from Gorman, discussed the future of peanuts. These men have a difficult job in working out a program that is acceptable to all phases of the peanut industry from the grower, sheller, crusher, end users and other manufacturers of peanut products. Although at times it may seem otherwise, these men are sincere in their desire to see that all receive just compensation for their labors.

Rain gauges in Gorman have measured an overall average of 2.06 inches of rain from Tuesday through Thursday morning.

Final Rites For Otis 'Shorty' Taylor Held Here Sunday

Otis (Shorty) Taylor, 69, who had been confined to his home for several months, died shortly after being taken to the Blackwell Hospital Saturday afternoon, May 30. He was born to John and Jeanette Taylor on March 2, 1890.

Mr. Taylor, better known as "Shorty" to all who knew him, had been an active member of the United Pentecostal Church since 1922. Always thoughtful of others, Shorty requested that his funeral services be held at the First Methodist Church due to the seating capacity in his own church.

The church was filled with friends and relatives paying their last respects to one who loved his fellowman, and lived by the Golden Rule.

Services were held at 4 p. m. Sunday, May 31, 1959. Burial was in the Oaklawn (Gorman) Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife; one half sister, Mrs. Luella Fuller of De Leon; four half brothers, Harvey Decker of Dublin, Nathaniel Decker, Big Spring, Calvin Decker, Gorman, and Willie Decker of Wynona; one stepson, Howard Macon, of Ennis, Texas.

He was married in June, 1920 to Miss Inez Snodgrass. Jimmie, as everyone called him, had lived in Desdemona since 1918. He was an oil field worker.

He was a Mason, also served on the school board and city council. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist Church of Desdemona at 3 p. m. Sunday, May 31, 1959. Bro. Johnnie Burleson officiated with Bro. Buell Bryan assisting.

Former Citizen Named Director Of Boy's Ranch

LAMESA - (Spl) - W. E. (Bill) David, vice president of the Lamesa National Bank, has been appointed as a director of Boys' Ranch of West Texas effective at the annual board meeting of Boys' Ranch, June 7, 1959.

David was born in Gorman, Texas and attended public school there. He graduated from SMU in 1952 with a major in banking and economics. David came to Lamesa in 1952. He has two boys, age 3 and 4, and a daughter, age 6. He is a steward of First Methodist Church and a director of the Chamber of Commerce and Community Chest.

Boys' Ranch of West Texas was organized in 1947 by a group of West Texans to serve West Texans. The Ranch started out as a one boy institution and is now serving 45 to 50 boys. It is the goal of the Ranch to serve 100 boys and plans are being made to accommodate this number as soon as finances will permit.

Boys' Ranch is located 17 miles West of San Angelo on Highway 67 near the community of Tankersley, Texas. It occupies 962 acres and affords the boys an opportunity to learn farm and ranch work. One of the main features of Boys' Ranch is its citizenship program. This program is divided

Births At Blackwell

Dana Lynn Sims born to Mr. and Mrs. Arlis Sims of Dublin on May 27th, 1959 weighed 8 pounds and 11 ounces.

Into seven stages: 1. New Ranch Hand. 2. Regular Ranch Hand. 3. Old Ranch Hand. 4. Group Leader Trainee. 5. Group Leader. 6. Honor Privilege Candidate, and 7. Honor Privilege Citizen.

This program gives the boy an opportunity to develop self respect, respect for others and respect for work. These are three elements that are many times lacking in the "hard-luck kids." Boys' Ranch refers to its boys as "hard-luck kids" rather than attempting to categorize them as most of the boys are the victim of situations which they themselves could not control.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. David.

Little League Season Starts 9th

The Little Leaguers will open their season here on Tuesday night, June 9th., at 7:30 p. m.

Yaycees To Sponsor Tap And Ballet Recital

On Saturday night, June 13 in the Gorman High School auditorium, Mrs. Marty Gore of Comanche will present her tap and ballet pupils in a dance recital.

CONSERVATION PRACTICES CONTINUE AT FAVORABLE RATE

Eight rows of peanuts stripped with two rows of well fertilized and thickly seeded sudan grass.

Conservation farmers and ranchers continue to apply conservation practices at a favorable rate.

Fourteen land owners have completed approximately 32 miles of terraces since Jan. 1, 1959. These terraces will be very effective in handling the big rains which are past due and they will be equally effective in holding maximum rainfall in place from small rains. Contour farming with terrace systems do much to hold the much needed moisture in place and greatly lessens soil loss from water erosion.

Terrace systems and contour farming will not do a satisfactory job alone since the lands greatest need is a good vegetative program which will include such practices as winter and summer cover crops, crop residue management and strip cropping on the sandy soils.

Landowners doing terrace construction on their croplands are: J. C. Day, R. D. Craighead, W. D. Brown, J. D. Griffin, Sr., J. D. Griffin, Jr., Charles Stephenson, C. H. McBee, Leonard Murphy, and E. R. Wood of the Carbon and Pumpkin Center area. J. B. Elder of the Cisco area, and Casey Meazell and B. W. Robertson of Eastland. D. A. Fawcett of Ranger and Kenneth Brown of Cheney have constructed terraces on their farms.

Only two teams have been organized so far and they are being sponsored by Blackwell Hospital, Gorman Peanut Co. and Frossard Department Store.

Members of the Volunteer Fire Department are working with the teams and assisting in getting the ball park ready for the season.

It is hoped that all businessmen will make a special effort to attend this opening game.

Admission to games will be 25c and 15c.

Kathy Underwood To Become Bride Of Norman Owen

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Underwood, of Route 2, Gorman, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Katherine Ann, to Norman Charles Owen, son of S. F. Owen of Eastland.

Milton Underwood, minister of the Carbon Church of Christ, will perform the double-ring ceremony in the home of the bride's parents on Saturday, June 27 at 8 p. m.

Miss Underwood is a 1959 graduate of Carbon High School. Her fiancée, a 1957 graduate of Eastland High School, is presently employed at Western Auto in Eastland.

After the wedding the couple plan to make their home in Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Linder and Micheal of Abilene went with Mrs. Ike Grisham to Waco Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Grisham's sister, Mrs. Carl Klint, who was killed on Wednesday afternoon in a car accident.

CONSERVATION PRACTICES CONTINUE AT FAVORABLE RATE

Forty eight farm ponds have been completed thus far this year with several now in process of construction. A well located pond furnishes much needed water and enables better control of livestock grazing. These ponds are pretty well over the entire Work Unit Area and county.

Peanut farmers are now in the process of preparing their lands for this year's crop. Cover crops seeded last fall have given them excellent soil protection against wind erosion. The conservation farmer has delayed destroying these cover crops in order to have this needed protection during the normal "blow season."

The cover crop residue is left on or near the surface for continued soil protection. Strip crops are also an important part of the peanut farmers operations. Strip crops are effective in holding sands in place, thus preventing sand damage to the young peanut plants this spring and preventing the covering up of peanuts in the wind row next fall.

Sudan grass, pearl millet, red top cane and grain sorghums are most common crops used as strips. These crops should be well fertilized and seeded in not less than two rows or preferably four, to eight rows of peanuts.

tain number is provided for those nations supposedly more nearly like the United States. SENATOR JOHN K. KENNEDY has introduced a bill which would remove these quotas entirely and allow 250,000 immigrants each year on a first-come, first-served basis. THE PRESENT LAW PROVIDES that visas should be allocated to countries in proportion to their share of the U. S. population in 1920. This provision would be eliminated, and unused quotas assigned to other areas. AS SURPRISING AS IT IS, the bill to authorize the Attorney General to admit an unspecified number of refugees on a parole basis, is authored by Congressman Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee and also Chairman of the House Immigration and Naturalization Subcommittee of the Judiciary. THIS IS THE SORT OF SENTIMENT generated by a few big organizations in this Country, led by prominent people in disregard of the opinion of the ordinary citizen who is not in the ranks of the professional "do-gooders" and who has seemingly no voice in keeping out these thousands of people, many of whom should have no place in this nation. WE SHOULD ONLY HAVE TO LOOK in the daily newspapers of crime reports in the big cities, the riots, the political picketing, and other actions inimical to our standards, to have an idea of what it means to compound a serious situation already existent. THE LEADERS OF THIS POLICY say it is "humanitarian". It probably is in some cases, but the risk is great in many others. (It is also just possible that the bloc votes of the foreign elements in the big cities may also have considerable influence in places.) THOSE WHO OPPOSE SUCH ACTION are labeled "narrow," "unsympathetic to the oppressed" and even "bigots." LET THEM SAY WHAT THEY WILL, but the welfare of America, not to consider millions of taxpayers' money, is more important.

How to Keep a Free Press FREE

SELDOM does Freedom of the Press disappear in one annihilating blow.

In countries where the Press has been chained, there was first a period when it failed to realize and resist the beginnings of its end—the first encroachments on its freedom. There were powerful interests which wanted certain facts "kept out of the newspapers." There was pressure here and pressure there to have the truth withheld.

Before the Press of any nation succumbs to tyranny, there always has been a period of failure to speak out.

Here in America there is only the limitation of national security—the necessity to protect and preserve confidential military and scientific information—which can be accepted by a Press that is determined to stay free.

America's newspapers have made, and will continue to make, a conscientious effort to protect that security—at the same time keeping the people informed as fully as possible on all matters concerning their welfare. So long as American newspapers pursue that policy fearlessly, our Press, our people and our country shall remain free of tyranny.

We are so thankful that no one was injured by the fire. We express our thanks to everyone for their helpfulness, encouragement and expressions of sympathy. ## SHORT STORY

Jerry's Ears

By Allen Wishert

JERRY BAILEY replaced the receiver and turned to his wife. "Mother, with surprising news. Said she had found her mate. Something about love and a wedding."

"Surely, Jerry," said wide-eyed Emma, his wife. "You misunderstood. Old people do not fall in love at sight. On our visit last night she didn't even hint of such an event."

"I understood perfectly," replied Jerry. "I pride myself on comprehension. My ears have never deceived me—I keep them free of obstructions."

"Living alone in that castle-like house has touched off a spark and ignited a longing for companionship. I am glad she is taking the step."

"But, Emma, it doesn't seem possible. Many times before father passed on, I've heard her say that a person could love only one, and she loved father."

"I pride myself on comprehension. My ears have never deceived me."

"I beg to dispute that old theory." "The proof that it is false lives next door. Mrs. Thompson has three children, she loves one and all of them."

"But, dear, there's a difference between husbands and children." "They are of the same flesh and blood, where do they differ?"

Jerry delved deep into his mind but failed to come up with an answer. He had to admit there was logic in Emma's surmise. He went over, bent low and kissed her.

"Tell me, Jerry, am I the only woman you ever loved?"

DESDEMONA NEWS

ETHEL KEITH, Reporter

This community was saddened early Saturday morning, May 30, when word got around that Jimmie Heeter had passed away at his home here after many months of illness.

He leaves his wife, Inez, his mother and a sister.

Mrs. Lillie Wittie remains a house patient at her home here.

Mrs. A. F. Lewis, who underwent major surgery 3 weeks ago at Gorman hospital, is home and is able to be up and about.

"We'll, no-o, twice I was in love before meeting you." "Thanks, darling," laughed Emma. "Your confession clears the argument."

"Now, that you've won all the table stakes, let's drive out to mother's, I'd like to clear up a few items before the fatal hour."

Eight miles out they turned into the spacious grounds surrounding Mrs. Cora Bailey's home, it resembled a small mansion. Mr. Bailey had provided well for his wife before taking his final journey. The future held no terrors for her. She had everything, and to make it decidedly complete, love had crept in.

However, Jerry would like to meet and talk with the man she was going to marry.

As Jerry and Emma drove up the driveway, Mrs. Bailey, all smiles, came onto the porch.

"I'm glad you're here, saved me a trip," she beamed, planting a kiss on each of their cheeks. "My intention was to visit you darlings today."

"Mother Bailey," said Emma. "You appear as lovely as a bride this morning."

"Sweet of you, dear," laughed Mrs. Bailey. "However, no one has discovered a formula that will turn January into June. But, who knows, someday I may hobble to the altar and take unto myself the care and attention of an old decrepit specimen just to furnish a little life around the home and be company for Noah, my old house cat."

"Let's step inside," suggested Jerry, becoming somewhat bewildered, he had understood over the phone that the matter was settled. His mother had mentioned; mate, love and wedding, the items that filled any matrimonial menu. "I am somewhat addled, you informed me over the phone that the nuptials were cut and dried."

"Jerry, what in the world are you trying to say?" asked his mother. "You said you had found your mate."

"That's true, so I did." "Then you mentioned love and wedding."

"Jerry, have Emma clean out your ears. I said I had found the mate to my glove, it was missing, I discovered it among some old discarded bedding."

"Love, glove. Wedding, bedding. Come along, Emma, borrow a hairpin from your mother. We're going home."

"Home? Why, Jerry, we just got here. What's the idea?" asked Emma.

"My left ear can't be trusted."

SHORT STORY

Linda's Victory

By Fran Pachter

THE BLACK LACY gown and matching negligee mocked her as it hung atop the closet door. Insanity must have been her mood when she purchased it for it had no place in the wardrobe of a woman whose husband had asked for a divorce. Mary, her best pal had added her persuasion to that of the salesgirl by commenting, "Linda, life does not end with Dennis. There are other men and you are attractive."

Linda knew herself far too well, for her there would never be anyone but Dennis even though he be a disinterested Dennis. Their breakup would be on an amicable basis, that of friends. His words had stayed with her, "Linda, let's call it quits. Marriage is no fun, not at all as I thought it would be, I hate being possessed. Guess I'm not cut out to be a husband." He added quickly, "There is no other woman, believe me."

"I am about to play the field again, so I am shopping for new duds."

She did believe him and halfway wished her competition was female instead of cards and bachelor buddies. A female foe could be coped with far easier than the competition she had. The sound of the downstairs door closing told her Dennis was home. He planned to stay till a vacancy was available at the club. The compatible nature of their relationship hurt as much as a clean break would.

Dennis entered her bedroom with all the old familiarity of their former relations. He broke off his whistling at the sight of the black

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. For the beautiful service, floral offerings and other kindnesses, we are deeply grateful.

Mrs. R. D. Allen and Family

"Who belongs to that?" "I do," replied Linda with a wicked grin. "I'm about to play the field again so am shopping for new duds." The impulse that had prompted her reply rewarded her by the sight of Dennis's frown. It proved he was not as callous as he made himself out to be. As he sank uninvited into her fragile satin chair she studied him. Dennis at thirty-five still had all the charm of his youth and her heart thumped furiously as it ached.

The gremlin inside of her made her take the gown from the door and retreat into her dressing room to try it on. A peek in the long mirror was gratifying as the gown and robe did things for her and for the moment she was glad she had it. All women like to have something they know is provocative and wicked looking and for her this was it.

Dennis hadn't moved upon her return but a speculative look came over his face. Before he could speak the phone rang and as Linda walked the length of the room to answer it she was aware of his close scrutiny.

It was Mary, bless her with an invite to the theater. Linda's little devil was still at work as she answered, "Ralph, I'd love to go. Come early and I'll show you what I bought today." Linda was glad that Dennis couldn't hear Mary sputter a bit before she caught on. She turned to Dennis and inquired, "You'll be gone before eight, won't you?" She turned back to the phone as Mary said, "You dickens, the jealous bit eh! My cousin is here, shall I send him over as the mysterious Ralph?"

"I doubt the need," said Linda. Dennis was livid with fury. "That's indecent. That rig is only fit for a husband to see. I'll be darned if I let you show yourself like that to this Ralph guy."

Linda quietly said, "By what right is it your business? Remember our marriage is over at your request." She left him there mulling over her parting remark, "Be gone by eight, please."

Dennis coughed and hesitated then spoke in a rush. "Is it too late to ask you to forget my idiotic request for a divorce? Will you call this Ralph joker and tell him you're going out with your husband? I found out just what I was losing. Give me another chance." He put his arms around her and could not see the wicked grin that crossed her face. Never would he know that Ralph was only Mary but Linda was sure that her future looked mighty interesting.

... in the field of many values is the abstract. Years ago when the records were few there was not so much need for an abstract. But today with multiplied thousands of important title items already of record and new ones being added every day, the preparation of your abstract is not only an undertaking of great responsibility but one that requires an institution possessing all the records and a long history of achievements behind it.

AG ECONOMIST TAKES A LOOK AT EGG SITUATION

College Station - Egg producers are much concerned about the current low prices being paid for their product and future improvement.

Extension Economist John G. McHaney says that at least eight basic factors are involved in the present situation, both from the price standpoint and future improvement. He lists them as total production, number of layers in the nation, rate of lay, hatchery production, weather conditions, number of flock replacements bought, storage stocks and long range changes that develop in the production and marketing of eggs.

Mrs. Dan Kinser were visitors in De Leon Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooper and children have been visiting the H. T. Rawls and the Cooper families.

John Edward Henderson and family of Ft Worth visited the Willie Hendersons last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Atchison and daughter of Ft Worth spent the weekend here.

Mrs. Norman Woodall and sons are in Del Rio visiting with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Jackie Abbe and children.

Miss Linda Setzler is vacationing in West Texas with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Setzler, Mr. and Mrs. Velton Setzler and children were in Ft Worth last week to visit a new great grandson.

Mrs. Warren Johnson of Ark. has been visiting her parents, the Clyde Setzlers.

Miss Lula Brandon of Crane has been here visiting her sisters.

Sorry we did not have any news last week, but we could not make it with company.

We still have our Bible Study every Tuesday night.

Singing each Third Sunday afternoon in Gorman.

Egg production for the 1959 January-March period in the nation was six percent over the same 1958 period. In Texas, the increase was 14 percent. Egg prices in Texas for the first quarter of 1959 averaged about 11 percent below a year ago. April prices dropped 24 percent below those for the same month in 1958. The rate of lay in the nation is up four percent and number of layers three percent.

McHaney said that production of egg-type chicks in the nation for the first quarter of 1959 was only slightly higher than for the same period in 1958 but smaller hatches were in prospect for May. The large hatch during the last of 1958 is largely responsible for the present egg supply and will help maintain the large number of layers in late 1959, he said.

The long-time outlook for eggs, believes McHaney, will most likely be influenced by the steady growth and widespread use of risk sharing plans by poultry producers. Many commercial firms guarantee the poultry producer profits amounting to 4 to 6 cents per dozen. The degree to which these vertical integrated practices spread - and they are spreading, says McHaney, will influence what happens in the next few years to the production and marketing practices presently used by the egg industry.

McHaney sees little chance in the near future for any improvement in egg prices. If hatchings and placements continue large, egg prices for the remainder of 1959 are likely to be below those for the same months in 1958.

KEEPING UP WITH FRIENDS

Mr. Walter Raney of Freeport, has been a recent visitor in the home of his sisters, Mrs. Lucian Burns and Mrs. Ray Burns, and his mother, Mrs. Emily Yates. His visit was cut short on account of an accidental gunshot wound. In displaying the weapon it discharged. The bullet struck his right foot, breaking the bone. He was given a tetanus shot at the Blackwell Hospital and advised to return home to be near his family physician.

Mrs. A. B. Rankin, Mrs. Ray Rankin and daughter, Carole Rae, Miss Martha Preston, and Mrs. Carroll Bickle visited in Dublin on Wednesday night.
Mr. and Mrs. George Warren and children of Odessa are spending their vacation visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Robertson and the Leland Warrens.
The G. O. Boyds visited in the home of their son, Jack, in Fort Worth Sunday. Mrs. Boyd's sister, Mrs. N. E. Lawson of Edna, accompanied them. They went on to Hillsboro to visit their father, Mr. S. R. Raby, who returned to Gorman for an extended visit in the Boyd home. Mr. Raby is 89 years of age. He is looking forward to visiting in town with some of his old friends. Mr. Goodloe Baker and Sam Wallace are numbered as his dearest friends.

Mrs. Berta Poyner left on Sunday for an extended visit in the homes of her brothers, Jake and Ward Webb, of Phillips and Berger.
Mr. and Mrs. Ward Webb and son, Steven, of Berger visited his parents and sisters over the week end.
Mrs. Geo. Bell spent the past two weeks in Ft. Worth with Jo-lyne Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bell and Randy.
Mr. and Mrs. Bob Love of Eastland visited the Geo. Bells Tuesday night.
Mr. and Mrs. James G. Morris and little son of Brownfield were visiting their grandparents, the John Brownings, last week. They also visited with the Joe Bob and W. C. Brownings while here. Kathy Browning returned home with them for a visit.
Rev. J. B. Hamilton and Betty of Morgan visited R. C. Dennis Saturday. Betty stayed with her grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Dennis. Weekend visitors of the R. C. Dennis' were Loyd and R. C. Snider.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holliday and son of Huntsville have been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. D. P. Holliday, and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Holliday and Debbie.
Carol Baker is spending the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. D. P. Holliday.
J. E. Todd, wife and son, Tommy, of Slaton visited in his parents home, the J. R. Todds, this week.
Dicky Todd, who is in the Naval Reserve, left Slaton recently to begin his two years of active service in the Navy.

VALENTINE FAMILY ENJOY REUNION
Fifty-three friends and relatives of the S. L. Valentine family gathered at Ed and Flora Bell Rheders' camp on Possum Kingdom Lake to spend their Memorial Day weekend together. Three sisters of the Valentine family were present: they were Mrs. Buna Harris of Comanche, Mrs. Caroline Deaton of Gorman, and Mrs. Alice Fletcher of O'Brien. The Valentine family was one of the early settlers of Stephens County, settling in the eastern part of the county in the early 1880's.
Also from Gorman were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Steele and dau-ughters, and Clyda Rankin. Clyda took an active part in the song fest that resulted when Wayne Mullings of Ft. Worth plugged in his electrified standard guitar and J. L. Clark of Graham tuned in his mandolin Saturday night.

The ones to come the farthest were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deaton who traveled from South Hutchinson, Kansas to be present at the reunion. Good weather all weekend permitted everyone to enjoy fishing, swimming and boating.

J & S SPORTS

Joe Bennett & Speedy Clark
LITTLE LEAGUE SEASON BEGINS HERE JUNE 9
The Little League Season will get underway here on Tuesday, June 9 at 7:30 p. m. sponsored by the Gorman Fire Department.

Games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. Admission will be 25c and 15c.

Go out to these games and enjoy an evening of wholesome entertainment and show the youth of our town that we are behind them all the way. The youth of today are the citizens of tomorrow.

J&S
The rookies are hog-tying the old pros in the early stages of this baseball season. Such rookies as Woodie Held of the Indians, Don Demeter of the Dodgers, Willie Tasby of the Orioles, Bob Allison of the Senators, and Vada Pinson of the Reds are showing the old pros up considerably. The most outstanding rookie seems to be Harmon Killebrew of the Washington Senators. He hit his eighteenth home run Saturday to lead both leagues in that department. The 22-year-old rookie from the northwest part of the U. S. is the most powerful right hand hitter since Joe Dimaggio.

The New York Yankees were on a three game winning streak this week and are currently in fifth place. Their pitching has been great of late and their hitters are finding the range and it looks as though Chicago and Cleveland are having their troubles. The hottest club in the American League is the Detroit Tigers who have won seven out of their last eight games. They began a series with the Yanks this week and if they continue as they have been, they might cool the World Champions off. Frank Lary, who has won consistently over the Yanks, will start the series and if his hex doesn't fall apart, all he has to do is throw his glove on the mound and the Yanks are beaten.

The Milwaukee Braves are holding a very slim lead in the National League. The Braves pitching has been weak the past ten days and the San Francisco Giants have been hotter than a depot stove and have come within a game and a half of the league leading Braves.
J&S
Little Harvey Haddis pitched 12 innings of perfect baseball the other day against the Braves. No other pitcher in history has equalled such a feat and despite this he lost the ball game 1-0. He mowed down 36 batters in order.
I imagine he is still shaking his head and wondering what in the world a guy has to do to win a ball game. This just shows to go you the club that wins the pennant this year will have ole lady luck on their side.

CHEVY

BESTS

Independent experts and official facts and figures prove Chevrolet's ahead of its field in seven big ways.

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NAS-CAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST

ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."
