THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquis Gordon

County Agricultural Agent Over $12 million worth of agricultural products came from Eastland County in 1971. Those are the estimates we have. This is an increase of about one-half million over last year.

The increased income is due mainly to beef cattle and forage crops. Good grass during the summer and fall plus favorable cattle prices helped to give this increase.

Income from most crops dropped below the 1970 figures. Peanut yield fell about 100 pounds per acre on the average. However, because of an increase in number of acres of peanuts and an increase in price the total county peanut income in 1971 was about the same as in 1970.

The current state-wide program to increase agricultural income in Texas to $3.76 billion in 1976 is geared to help the agriculture industry — but what does it mean to the consumer?

Consumers are concerned with an assurance of adequate food supply, and 3.76 in '76 is a program of growth. The program is important because the increasing populations must be fed on a decreasing amount of land used for agricultural production.

Guidelines in the program are meant to increase production and improve quality. The project seeks to increase cash receipts to agriculture by one billion dollars at the end of the 1976 crop year.

The increase in production and cash receipts will benefit the consumer as well as the producer. Food prices will undoubtedly reflect an increased efficiency in production and marketing as costly practices in current use are improved or eliminated.

Technology in production and food preparation will be reflected in food prices, although cost of individual items will also be determined by the amount of preparation before purchase by the consumer. This would include special services such as pre-cooking and specialty packaging.

Farmers will gear their production to specific markets that are dictated by consumers' preferences. This in turn will provide consumers with higher quality foods in greater amounts at stable prices.

The Zenith Chromacolor System has given Zenith the leadership in big-screen color television. Years of pioneering research preceded its introduction. Today it is the most revolutionary and important breakthrough in color television technology since the advent of color television itself.

At your service:
It's people power that makes Reddy Kilowatt run.

You take dependable electric service pretty much for granted, of course. And for good reason. Your electric service has become so commonplace, so much a part of your everyday life, that you have no occasion to give it a second thought. But did you ever wonder what makes Reddy Kilowatt run, so that you take him for granted? Reddy runs because of the people and things behind your electric switch. Technically-trained, experienced and dedicated people who work in power plants and substations, in offices and outdoors, with complex equipment such as computers and microwave communications systems. Their job is to assure that when you flip a switch in your home or where you work, electric service is produced at that instant - at the moment of use. Electricity, unlike other things you use, cannot be stored. You decide when you want it, and Texas Electric provides it - right there and right then. It's all part of a Texas Electric style of service we call "People Power." It helps all of us do a better job of serving you, our customers. On the other side of your electric service switch, there's a whole world of people committed to helping you live better, Texas Electrically. It's what we mean when we say we're "at your service."
