Eldon Mahon Issues Opening Statement In Congressional Race

Eldon Mahon, Abilene attorney and businessman, has issued the following statement concerning his candidacy for the office of U. S. Congressman from the 17th District:

"I feel that there is a definite need for a change in our district's representation in Washington. If I didn't feel this way - and if I had not found a substantial amount of agreement among voters with whom I've talked - I wouldn't be making the race.

"My reasons for feeling that we need a change are based on my belief that our district has not always been represented in the past with the kind of initiative and enthusiasm I think is required to get the results our district needs and deserves.

"Since announcing my candidacy originally, I have personally visited all twenty-four counties of the new 17th district and have been extremely gratified by the widespread support and encouragement I've encountered. There appear to be many who feel as I do that it is time for a change.

"If elected, I will start working immediately upon my arrival in Washington to be assigned to those committees which deal with the problems directly affecting our new district, and in this way endeavor to get something concrete accomplished for it.

"The scene of action is now in the national Congress. We of the new 17th district must make our voice heard in Washington, stronger than it has been in the past. We need a representative who is truly concerned with the new 17th district's needs, one who will listen closely to all the people, then champion their interests in an aggressive, effective manner.

"Although I have been a Democrat all my life, I will not be a 'rubber-stamp' Congressman for the Administration's programs. Nor on the other hand, will I be a rubber-stamp opponent of measures that mean real progress ... saying 'no' automatically each time a worthwhile new proposal comes up.

"I believe that too much control of our government's affairs has passed out of the hands of (MORE ON PAGE SIX)

BOYS STATE PLANNERS — American Legion State Department Adjutant W. H. McGregor, and Burke Musgrove, coordinator of the Boys State program in Texas, are shown here in front of State Department Headquarters in Austin as they discuss plans for the 1966 session of Boys State. Musgrove, candidate for State Representative, District 63, will be serving on the administrative staff of the Boys State program for the eighth year, having attended as a participant in 1958.

Burke Musgrove Will Serve As Coordinator Again This Year For The Boys State Program

Attorney General Waggoner Carr, American Legion Boys State Chairman, and state American Legion officials have announced that Burke Musgrove of Breckenridge will again this year serve as coordinator and assistant director of the Boys State program in Austin.

Musgrove, a candidate for State Representative, District 63, has been affiliated in an administrative capacity with the program since he first attended as a participant in 1958. In addition to serving as coordinator and assistant director for the Texas program for the last six years, he has also served on the National Boys State Planning Committee.

Boys State is an American Legion sponsored activity in each state for outstanding high school juniors with the objective to "educate our youth in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship."

In Boys State, citizens organize their own city, county and state governments. They choose their own officials in accordance with regular election procedures. They learn the duties of the various city, county, and state officers. Citizens introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature and justice is administered by their own law enforcement agencies and courts and each boy "learns to do by doing."

The week-long program in Austin each summer uses facilities of the State Capitol, and over 150 State Officials and agencies are connected with its operation. With an annual budget of $50,000

Southern Blight Control Practices Are Urged For Peanuts

Southern Blight, a damaging disease of peanuts, must be prevented before or during the planting operation. Crop rotation and the deep burial of surface trash are very helpful cultural practices for reducing the losses from the disease, says Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist at Texas A&M University.

He recommends planting peanuts under irrigation on beds four inches higher than the ground level and those on dryland on beds 1 to 2 inches above the ground level. Soil should not be thrown around the base of the plants during cultivation.

A fungicide is recommended where yield potential is high. Local county agents can supply details, Horne said.

Lady, you'll just love flameless electric cooking ...it's so dependable

There's no guesswork to cooking with an electric range. Whether you're cooking in the oven or on surface units, you just set the controls for the heat you want and you get exactly the same heat from the same setting every time. Only an electric oven can be insulated all around, including the bottom. An electric oven is flameless and requires no flow of air into and out of it to support combustion. Temperatures inside the oven remain constant and the heat is evenly distributed for best results when you are baking or roasting. Accurately measured heat is one of the many reasons why you'll just love flameless electric cooking.

mar your health. With planning and a little extra effort, most accidents can be avoided.

Light can help reduce accidents in dark hallways and on stairways. A bedside light and a flashlight in good working order can be other aids for older citizens.

You can prevent many home accidents by learning to use the stair rail to prevent tripping or falling. Never wear loose shoes when going down stairs.

Loose electric cords stretched across the floor are potential causes of home accidents which can result in serious injury. Tape or staples can be used to secure cords away from traffic lanes.

Spilled liquids on the kitchen or bathroom floor are an open invitation to accidents. Spills should be mopped up as quickly as possible. Give special attention to careful removal of greasy spots for these are especially dangerous.

Long, loose sleeves or loose cords or ribbons are a safety hazard around the kitchen stove. Loose garments can catch fire quickly, and should never be worn when cooking. The extra minutes required to turn a sauce pan handle away from the stove's edge may prevent a serious burn.

"Accidents don't just happen — they are caused. With care and patience, home accidents can be prevented. So safeguard your retirement years by observing home safety rules."

Congress, and into the hands of the regulatory and administrative agencies. This authority, which has been lost by default, must be re-claimed by the Congress. The trend of surrendering authority to agencies and commissions — who are supposed to administer the laws instead of make them — should be halted. I think it is time that Congress recognize this usurpation of its power and authority for what it is: government by bureaucracy. When Congress loses its authority, then the people lose theirs, for Congress is the voice of the people.

"One of my most important objectives is to get something done about our district's water situation. There is no greater problem facing the new 17th district than the need for adequate water, now and in the future. I will work for and support any feasible legislation that promises to create greater water resources for our area. Such legislation is a must, because we don't have enough water as it is, and to neglect it further would be to compound a tragedy. The problem is of such magnitude that it is going to require great study, imagination and vision to solve it. I, for one, am ready to begin.

"Farming is another area in which something must be done that would be of direct benefit to our district. I believe that the present Omnibus Farm Bill places too much authority in the hands of the Agricultural Department and its Secretary. A glaring example of this is the arbitrary policy ruling by the Department which changes skip-row planting in such a way that it works a great hardship on most of our district's farmers. If elected to Congress, I will start working at once to get skip-row planting rules amended so that our farmers can again engage in the kind of farming that is most productive and profitable for them.

"The oil and gas industry is, of course, vital to all of us in the district and — as a Congressman — I would support legislation aimed toward putting it in a healthier condition. Oil and gas is a prime business — an indispensable business — and contributes heavily to the welfare of the district. I am in full accord with the 27% oil depletion allowance, and would resist any measure that would seek to change it.

"As to my position on government spending, I might point out that I have always been opposed to excessive federal spending, and see no excuse whatever for the kind of waste in government that we have tolerated in the past. There is no justification for deficit spending except during times of national emergency. These are prosperous times and it is now that we should be paying the national debt, rather than creating more of it. After all, if we don't pay off our debt during good times, when do we pay it?

"Regarding Viet Nam, I will always support an unyielding stand against communism, and I feel that there is no other tenable position for us to take in Asia than that which the President has taken. We simply cannot afford to be soft toward an ideology that has set out to destroy our own way of life. At all times, of course, I believe we should keep the doors open for possible negotiations that would bring about a peaceful solution to open conflicts such as we have in Viet Nam. Our goal there is to stop aggression on the part of the communists toward a peaceful people who have every right to seek their own destiny."
