

PRESS POINTS . .

By JOE BENNETT, Publisher

Have had many comments the past couple of weeks on the activities going on in Gorman and the surrounding communities, which we have been reporting to you. Our own and communities continue to grow and expand and remodel.

Have you noticed the many changes that have been made at the Higginbotham store recently. They have changed some departments around and James Miears, local store manager, stated that these changes were being made in preparation for a major remodeling project on the building. James was very enthusiastic over the project.

Johnny and Pat Ingram are doing a fine job of remodeling and re-stocking J & L Auto Parts (formerly Ron's Automotive). Understand they are really going all out to handle a complete stock of parts and accessories.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Pino, Jr. have purchased the Lake Home of Mrs. D. V. Rodgers and are in the process of remodeling.

Also Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Canut are building a new brick home on Lexington Avenue just east of the school.

Understand that Larry and Joy Campbell have purchased the Church of Christ parsonage and plan to move in to an 80 acre tract north of Gorman. The Church of Christ will build a new parsonage to replace the old one.

Have really enjoyed the revival services now in progress at the First United Methodist Church. The song services are marvelous, the preaching is superb, and the after-glow, held in Fellowship Hall following the services is great. All the folks get together to shake their neighbors hand and also to greet other acquaintances. If you haven't attended these services, may I urge you to do so. God is truly manifested in each and every service. The revival will continue thru this week with Walter Naff doing the preaching and Dave Carter in charge of the song service.

We have been working real hard to get some results for Odis Rodgers on the ad for some rain. Hope that we will be able to muster a thunder-shower the last of this week. We had managed to raise some nice cloudy weather as of press time Wednesday.

Betty Henderson told me the other day at the bank of plans for a coffee and reception for Kay and Kathleen Taylor, wives of the new bankers in Gorman. The date is this Saturday, April 13th, at the Hotel Apartment Reception Room from 9:30 to 11 a. m. All you ladies really should be on hand to meet and welcome these ladies.

Would like to congratulate the new members of the Gorman School Board, the new directors of the South Eastland County Hospital District and the City Commissioners and Mayor. These men have a tremendous task to take care of and they need all the help and understanding that we can give them.

Our advertising continues to increase week by week and this, in turn, makes it possible for us to have more space for news. We appreciate the fine support and are trying real hard to give you the best possible newspaper. Also our commercial printing continues to keep us real busy. The good Lord has surely blessed us.

TO THE PEOPLE EASTLAND COUNTY

For several weeks I have been campaigning in the county, trying to meet as many of you as I could and ask your support for County School Superintendent in the Democratic Primary next May 4.

Many of you I already know personally because I was born and reared in Eastland County and grew up with you, but more especially because for the past twenty years I have been closely identified with public education in the county. Altogether I have spent some thirty-two years in teaching at all levels from third grade through junior college, including teaching in two of the county's public schools and both of our junior colleges.

It is an experience that has not only given me a wide acquaintanceship, but has brought me into intimate contact with the county schools and their needs and problems. I ask your support of my candidacy for three reasons:

First, because I feel myself qualified by experience and knowledge to administer the office in an efficient and impartial manner. Mr. O. L. Stamey has done an excellent job as County Superintendent, and I would like to continue in the fine tradition of my former teacher.

Second, I am personally acquainted with most of the teachers and administrators of the county's schools and with a large part of their student bodies, and I will be more able to administer the responsibilities of the County Superintendent's Office as a result of this knowledge.

Third, because I enjoy working with people, especially when we have a common interest in the welfare of our schools and communities.

I will be a working superintendent. I will always be available. I will faithfully and effectively carry out the responsibilities of the office, and I will always be alert to the opportunities it offers for the benefit of our county schools and our county itself.

Your vote and support will be deeply appreciated. If you have any questions you would like to ask me respecting my qualifications and intentions, I would like very much to respond to them.

Meanwhile, I expect to meet many more of you between now and the elections. Thank you sincerely for any consideration given.

PECAN BUDDING SCHOOL APRIL 19

The 21st annual Eastland County Pecan Budding and Grafting School will be held at Cisco, April 19th according to an announcement today by DeMarquis Gordon, Eastland County Extension Agent.

The school will be sponsored by the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association and the Cisco Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Earl Puls, Jr., Extension Horticulturist, will give an illustrated lecture during the morning session. This session will begin at 9:30 a. m. in Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium at Cisco Junior College.

Dan Childress, president of the growers association, said an afternoon demonstration and practice session will be held at James McCracken's pecan grove south of Cisco. Participants will have the opportunity to practice their skills.

Childress said the association will have budwood, graftwood, as well as budding and grafting supplies for sale.

Gordon estimates that over 1800 people from Central and West Texas have attended the school and learned to graft pecans during the past 20 years.

The Celebration Of Easter

This year Easter Sunday will fall on April 14. Since the very early days of the Christian church, this has been the great event of the year, commemorating the resurrection of Jesus Christ and the fulfillment of the promise of salvation for all people.

Since ancient times, churches and altars have been decorated for the occasion; candles have been burned; and, in the medieval cathedrals of England, the Easter or paschal candles were often of huge dimensions. They were held in gigantic brass or silver candlesticks and reached a combined height of as much as 60 or 70 feet.

This Easter, sunrise services, children hunting Easter eggs, families attending their church together, and the, sometimes frivolous, profession of new "Easter bonnets" will be outward evidence of the 2,000-year continuity of the Christian celebration of Christ's resurrection and spiritual reality. It is a time to reaffirm our faith in Him who rose to lead mankind in the ways of peace and brotherhood and fulfill the promise of eternal life.

Hearing Tests Are Important

If you have a hearing problem of any kind you owe it to yourself to have an Electronic Hearing test made to find why and what can be done to help you before it is too late. The tests are free and will only take about 20 minutes of your time. We check your ears for packed wax, the tubes that let your ears breathe, then with the machine we check your hearing nerve, (bone reading) a air conduction, (outside sounds) then measure how much sound the ear will take. We can pinpoint your problem and explain in plain English what can be done to help you, then you make your own decision. We never try to high-pressure you into buying anything. There are thousands of people today suffering from hard of hearingness, (even some that wear Hearing Aids) just because they waited too late to do something about it. . . . don't let this happen to you.

Mr. Joe Treadway will hold his regular Hearing Aid Workshop at the City Library at City Hall in De Leon on Monday, April 15th from 10:30 A.M. til noon. We invite you to come in for your free test.

We do repair service on most makes of Aids, and have a full service on cleaning, tubes, batteries for your Aid, and can always save

Mr. Treadway you money. We are Licensed by the State of Texas to fit and Dispensing of Hearing Aids. We are always close by when you need us. We are in the Stephenville office, (Skipper Real Estate Bldg.) every Thursday, and in the Hamilton office every Friday to run special tests and assist you in every way.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — IT

WASHINGTON "As it looks from here" OMAR BURLESON Congressman 17th District

WOULD MAKE REAL NEWS IF SOMETIME it could be reported that a Federal Agency had been abolished. Not so. Another Bureau will be created under a bill passed last week by the U. S. House of Representatives. If finally enacted into law, there will be a Consumer Protection Law designed to safeguard all of us (for we are all consumers) against such things relating to products we buy as "prices, quality, purity, dependability, performance, effectiveness, durability," etc. — a pretty big order to be done by an army of people to determine whether a product meets all these specifications. As individuals we will have little, if anything to do with this operation but will be represented by people who will decide what our needs are. THE NEW BUREAU IS GIVEN A VAST ARRAY OF POWERS AND AUTHORITY, backed by access to the Courts for enforcement. The Agency is given authority over other Federal Departments which in large measure now have these same responsibilities. For instance, the Agriculture Department sees to the interest of farming and ranching and all the way up to the final consumption. The Justice Department tends to our legal matters through administration and the courts. The Commerce Department relates to the business and economic interest of our Nation. The Labor Department handles all matters in this field. So it is with all other Departments of the Federal Government — State Department, Defense, Treasury, and so on.

THE NEW CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT PLACES AN AGENCY IN THE POSITION OF seeing that consumers get a fair shake from all these other Agencies which are supposed to already be doing the same thing.

THE ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY, THE BUREAU TO SEE THAT HEALTH and safety is carried out in industry (OSHA), and other such Departments, have also been given extensive authority and with this new addition more is added over many facets of our economy. They are costing money and somebody has to pay for it and that "somebody" is the consumer.

THE EPA AND OSHA ENACTED THREE YEARS AGO HAVE PUT A LOT OF small operators and individuals into a virtual strait jacket and has forced many completely out of business. Of course, everyone is for safety, health, and a clean environment. The goals and ambitions enunciated in these measures are laudable and could be reached in time if common sense were applied. Instead, many of the actions under these laws are almost like a lava flow, costly to business, individuals, and entire communities and all of us pay for it at a time when a good game is being talked for controlling inflation.

PEOPLE ARE GETTING MORE GOVERNMENT THAN THEY NEED AND MORE THAN THEY WANT. An overly regulated and overly controlled economy not only increases cost, requiring a mountain of paper work, but actually limits personal freedom to an extent contrary to our whole personal well-being.

NOTE: UNDER NEW FEDERAL REGULATIONS, MAILING SUCH AS THIS RELEASE in excess of 500, are now prohibited 28 days before an election. Therefore, this newsletter must be discontinued to individuals but may be furnished to newspapers and other news media.

First American Bible Not For "Americans"

A great deal has been written about the early days in America — the hardships, the Indians, the early settlers and their religious life. But one little known fact is that the first Bibles printed in America were in one of the languages of her native people, the Indians.

In the year 1663, the pastor of the church in Roxbury, Mass., John Eliot, said to have 1,500 Bibles published in the language of the Algonquin tribe who lived in that area.

The story behind this great is another of the seldom written sordid facts of history in early America — the dehumanization of the native Indian by the "American" Americans.

One day while driving in the countryside near the young city of Boston, Eliot saw a farmer plowing a field, using an Indian to pull the plow. As the farmer plied his whip, Eliot jumped from his wagon with an angry shout.

"You can't treat a human being like that," he said. "Release him!"

"He's not a human being," retorted the farmer. "He's a savage. And if you want him released, pay me 10 gold pieces so I can buy a horse, and I'll give him to you."

Eliot only had 11 gold pieces to his name, but he counted out the 10 without hesitation and gave them to the farmer.

"You are free to return to your people," Eliot told the Indian. But the Indian thought he had simply a new master, and climbed into the wagon and took the reins.

read and write in English. In return, Job Neustan taught John Eliot his language and customs.

It was soon apparent that the Lord had answered John Eliot's prayers for guidance. Ever since his youth he had felt that God had something special and challenging for him to do with his life. Now, suddenly, here it was.

In 1646, at the age of 42, John Eliot set out with Indian Job as his guide, to visit Indian settlements and villages with the hope of introducing his God to the native Americans.

Not far from Roxbury, as the curious Indians gathered to see what he was going to do, they were greatly surprised when Eliot spoke to them in their own language. They were pleased, too, when he talked with understanding and respect of their customs and traditions.

This was the beginning of a regular ministry performed by Eliot when he was not busy or needed at his own church. He was loved and revered by the Indians to whom he preached and ministered for the years that followed. As a result of his personal interest and missionary activity, untold numbers of Indians became Christians.

It was in 1659 that Eliot and Job Neustan began a project which was to take them four years to complete. They translated the Bible into the Indian language. The wonder of Eliot's varied efforts on behalf of the Indians is that he did it all on his own time and with his own money. He even paid for having the Bibles printed when the task was finished.

An interesting comparison can be made between the life and work of Kenneth Taylor of Wheaton, Ill., who also translated the Bible, but more than 300 years after John Eliot.

Both men were fervent, active Christians from their youth. Each of them felt that God had something special for them to accomplish for Him in the course of their lives. Each man prayed for God's guidance and, in due course, each was led to translate the Bible into a language which would clarify the Scriptures and unlock its mysteries for people who had won their concern.

Taylor saw the need of his own 10 children for a Bible they could understand and live by, as they struggled through family devotions each day. Eliot's feeling for the Indians was akin to that of Taylor for his own offspring.

As with Eliot, Taylor had a regular job and it was on his own time and with his own funds that he paraphrased The Living Letters and The Living Gospels, which comprised the Living New Testament.

It took Taylor much longer than Eliot to translate the Bible. He had less free time to devote to the task, and most of the 15 years involved saw him engaged in full time employment with Moody Press, traveling from Wheaton to Chicago daily. As a matter of fact, for the first seven years, he did much of his paraphrasing on the commuter train.

When Kenneth Taylor had finished translating the New Testament, he took it to several publishers, but was turned down by every one. They saw no need for another modern English translation.

It was while explaining his plight to a friend in the printing business that he offered to print several thousand copies of Living Let- ters (The Letters of the Apostle Paul) on speculation. The new translation was well received, but without spectacular success until Billy Graham was given a copy of Living Letters.

He thought it was just what many people needed to get them started in regular study of God's Word. He offered a copy to his radio audience. From that time on, Taylor's Living paraphrases grew in popularity and Taylor gives Graham much of the credit.

Taylor is now one of the world's largest Bible publishers. Through Tyndale House Publishers he distributes many religious books in addition to The Living Bible, which has headed the best seller lists for 2 straight years and sold over 14 million.

The life of John Eliot, which began as a farm boy in the English village of Wedford, and extended to Christian missions among the Indians of America, is indeed an inspiration. The lives of both Eliot and Taylor once again prove that a life given totally to God and His service will be used in a way that the world can neither understand nor believe.

Taylor continues to devote his efforts to the translation and distribution of his paraphrased version of the Bible. Already Living Bible royalties are being used to translate the Bible into 83 different languages, including all major languages of the world, with plans to extend God's Word to additional millions of people.

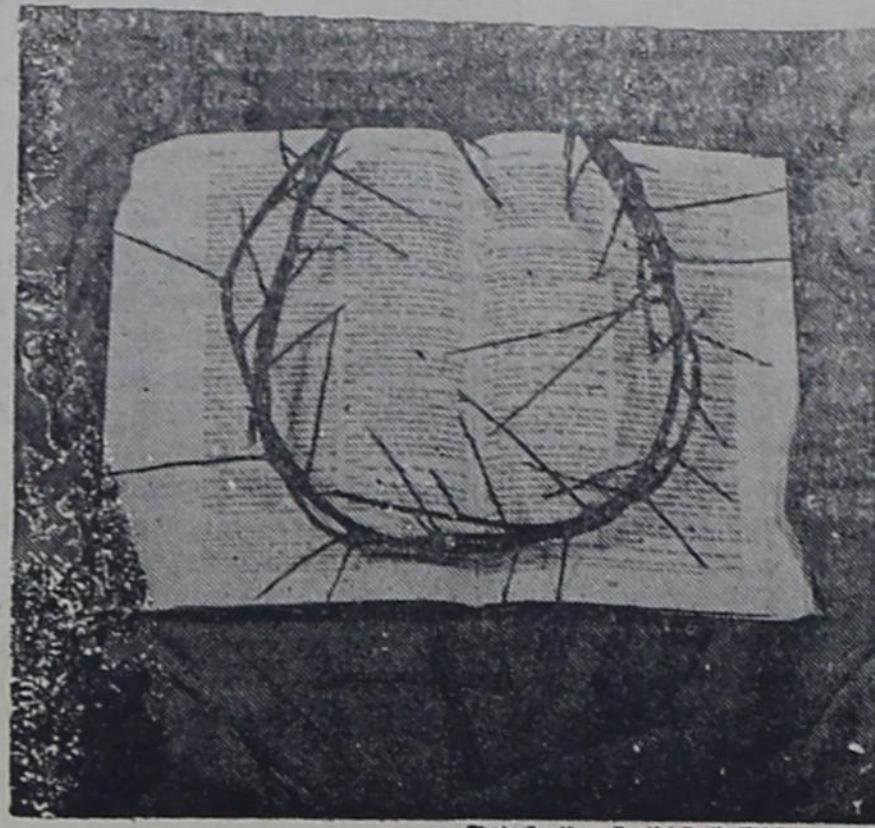

John Eliot's work included founding of two Indian churches, seven Indian schools, and an Indian college, all at his own expense. Kenneth Taylor's charities through Tyndale Foundation are numerous.

GOOD FRIDAY — THE CRUCIFIXION
John 19:16-21 & Mark 15:33-39

From The Living Bible

Then Pilate gave Jesus to them to be crucified. So they had him at last, and he was taken out of the city, carrying his cross to the place known as "The Skull," in Hebrew, "Golgotha." There they crucified him and two others with him, one on either side, with Jesus between them. And Pilate posted a sign over him reading, "Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews." The place where Jesus was crucified was near the city; and the signboard was written in Hebrew, Latin, and Greek, so that many people read it. Then the chief priests said to Pilate, "Change it from 'The King of the Jews' to 'HE SAID, I am King of the Jews.'" About noon, darkness fell across the entire land, lasting until three o'clock that afternoon. Then Jesus called out with a loud voice, "Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani?" ("My God, my God, why have you deserted me?") Some of the people standing there thought he was calling for the prophet Elijah. So one man ran and got a sponge and filled it with sour wine and held it up to him on a stick. "Let's see in Elijah will come and take him down!" he said. Then Jesus uttered another loud cry, and dismissed his spirit. And the curtain in the Temple was split apart from top to bottom. When the Roman officer standing beside his cross saw how he dismissed his spirit, he exclaimed, "Truly, this was the Son of God!"

OF INTEREST TO SENIOR STUDENTS

Among the ways students who will enter college can lower the cost of their education, or receive more education for no more money, is to take advantage of the opportunity to earn academic placement, course exemption, and degree credit by examination. Many colleges use the test results of the Advance Placement Program and the College-Level Entrance Examination.

O. C. "Stubby" Warden, supervisor, Eastland County Schools, said that students should contact their supervisor or write directly to the Director of Admission or the Dean of the institution they plan to attend and ask for information about credit by examination and the testing programs, the particular examination used, and the minimum score required, before registering.
