Cargo Planes Being Added, Arnold Says

More Tools, Facilities, Raw Materials Not Now In Sight

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air force told senate military subcommittee today the output of cargo-carrying planes was being stepped up in an all-out program.

"We believe the program now developed represents an all-out effort, taking into consideration the present status of tools, facilities and raw materials," Arnold testified.

"We believe it is possible to get more tools, facilities and raw materials, but they are not in sight at present," he added.

General Arnold said the ratio of engine allotments to transport planes during the second half of this year would be 21 per cent of all multi-engine bombers and 30 per cent of all bombing planes with comparable range.

He disclosed the army now is using some of its long range bombers for cargo transport work and said plans are under way to divert a certain percentage of bomber construction to long range cargo planes.

Chairman Lee (D-Ore.) asked the army air chief if he would "would" "interiors" "present rounded plans for a balanced air fleet."

Arnold responded that the air corps was for any program which would "interiors" "present rounded plans for a balanced air fleet."

Ship Survivors Machinegunned By Japanese

SEATTLE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Survivors of an American freighter sunk by shellfire from a Japanese submarine in the north Pacific the night of July 14 reported upon their arrival here that crew members were machine-gunned as they drifted away from their flaming vessel in a lifeboat and two rafts.

The submarine attacked the medium-sized freighter at 8 p. m. and scored eight direct hits during the two-hour attack, finally knocking out her steering engine and setting her afire. More than 20 shells were fired.

Two sailors died from shell wounds and six others from exposure. Seventeen men, huddled on one raft, drifted for four days and nights in the icy sea before rescued. Some of the crew members were not picked up by rescuers until eight days after the attack. All 24 survivors were suffering from exposure.

Troops, Small Tanks Being Dropped Behind Defenders

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Germans were reported landing parachute troops in groups of 100 to 150 and small tanks in the north Caucasus today as the hard pressed Russians withdrew from the Belaya Glna area to new defense positions in the face of swarms of German armored units.

The navy newspaper Red Fleet said Russian warships in the sea of Azov were frustrating efforts of the Germans to move reinforcements into the battle south of Rostov by sea. Russian naval guns were reported sinking German ships and shelling German positions along the shore.

The nazi parachute troops were landing with machineguns and mine throwers besides small tanks, Red Star said. The parachutists were dropped close to populated points or railway stations. Red Star said the German units hoped to seize communications until motorized help arrived.

Cossack cavalry slipped through the German lines by night in the Kuschcheva sector and cut down more than 3,000 Germans and forced the survivors to flee two miles, dispatches said. Russian lines were reported holding at that point 50 miles south of Rostov, though the German advance from Belaya Glna threatened to outflank them.

Parachutists also were being landed behind the Russian lines in the Belaya Glna sector, where the Germans, sending wave after wave of tanks at the harassed Russians, broke through and forced the Soviet withdrawal. The Germans were sending groups of 50 and 60 tanks smashing into the Russian defenses.

"Naturally, without participation on actively-defending local population, such groups of parachutists might remain undisclosed for a long time," said Red Star. "This may lead to very serious consequences."

"Last year special exterminating detachments organized from local populations had great success. They exterminated hundreds of enemy parachutists. It is necessary to expand this form of struggle with the enemy," said Red Star. "The German air force was striving to paralyze the Russian railway system in advance of the land troop attacks."

The German pattern of attack, it said, was to send out Messerschmitt fighters to scout for objectives. These then sped away to report to the dive-bombers, which then appeared at intervals as short as 15 to 30 minutes. These bombers seek to throw railway workers into a panic by their constant attacks as well as to destroy all facilities.

Following them comes a force of small tanks, then heavy tanks on which automatic riflemen ride. The entire Caucasian front was alive with the Germans battering their way toward Russia's long-desired oil treasures, and the Russians announced another new withdrawal in the Tsimlyansk sector. It was there that the Red army had been trying to stem the flow of German reinforcements over newly established Don river bridgeheads.

The entire nation was aware of the fast-developing and critical situation in the Caucasus and the newspaper Pravda, in a message to soldiers and civilians alike, appealed: "More firmness and stubbornness and the enemy will be stopped."

German pressure was heavy too at Kuschcheva, south of Rostov, where the Russians have fought stubbornly and unyieldingly and now face the possibility of being cut off by German troops moving southwestward from Belaya Glna.

One infantry formation at Kuschcheva was credited in the mid-day bulletin with destroying six German tanks and much equipment and killing about 550 Germans. Three thousand in all were reported wiped out in engagements in this sector.

Fighting was likewise fierce in the Kietskaya sector northwest of Stalingrad, with the Germans attacking repeatedly in an effort to bridge the Don, but the trend of the fighting was not indicated. Earlier the Russians had reported a setback here.

CIO Breaks With Ohio Miners Union

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5 (AP)—Jack Kroll, president of the Ohio CIO council, today ordered suspension of 1,500 state members of the United Mine Workers of America for non-payment of dues.

The action represented, informed observers said, a definite break between the CIO and the UMW in Ohio, and followed by six weeks the resignation of John Owens, president of District 6, United Mine Workers, as president of the Ohio CIO council.

Expectation the task would be completed within two or three days was expressed by the president yesterday. As the sole reviewing authority he may affirm or revise the verdict and sentence determined by the commission.

Food Stamp Issue Shows A Decline

Food stamp disbursements from the Howard county office continued to decline during the month of July a report today showed.

India Leaders Put Decision Up To British

Civil Disobedience Advocated If Independence Denied

BOMBAY, Aug. 5 (AP)—The All-India Congress Party working committee drafted today a resolution recommending that Mohandas K. Gandhi be given full powers to lead a civil disobedience movement if Britain rejects a demand for Indian independence.

Also presented to the committee was a proposed resolution which, if accepted by both the working committee and the whole committee meeting here Friday, would pledge the party to armed resistance of any Japanese aggression against India.

This draft resolution stated that an independent government for India "will wholeheartedly and unreservedly declare itself on the side of the United Nations, agreeing to meet the Japanese or any other aggressor with armed resistance."

The new draft was described as designed to meet "reasonable and constructive criticisms which followed the British disclosure yesterday of the draft of a resolution by Mohandas K. Gandhi which stated the first move on an independent government probably would be to negotiate with Japan."

(A British broadcast, heard in New York by CBS, said Gandhi was reported to have addressed the committee for an hour and a half this morning.)

(It said there was no indication who put forward the new resolution.)

(Thus, there was a question still unanswered whether this was a modification of the dominant congress viewpoint or a competitive resolution offered by dissenters who might or might not be influential.)

Gandhi reaffirmed his espousal of negotiations between India and Japan, once India gained her freedom from British rule, but declared "I never, even in my most unguarded moment, expressed the opinion that Japan and Germany would win the war."

"On the contrary I often have expressed the opinion that they can not win the war if only Britain will once and for all shed her imperialism," said the witness, Assafer leader of millions of Indians and champion of immediate independence for his country.

RAF Attacks Ruhr Valley

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—British bombers attacked targets in Germany's Ruhr valley last night while fighter command planes raided railroads and other objectives in occupied territory, the air ministry announced today.

Two RAF planes—a bomber and a fighter—were lost in the night operations.

Fighters and fighter-bombers, following up the night raids, made a morning sweep over the English Channel in clear weather.

The Germans sent small forces of raiders against south and southwest England and South Wales overnight and six enemy bombers were destroyed, the British announced officially, indicating a high score for Britain's secret new anti-aircraft defenses.

It was reported reliably that the Germans were dropping fire bombs with a new type metal container, details of which were not disclosed.

Negroes Held For Robbery Attack

Officers said today that all charges have been filed in connection with the robbery of Warren Cundiff, grocer and service station operator, Monday afternoon.

Of the four negroes held for investigation two were charged and lodged in the county jail and two were released.

Philip Rawlins has been charged with the robbery and James Baldwin is being held on charges of accomplice to Rawlins.

Elephant Seared—Badly burned as fire swept menagerie tents of the Ringling Brothers circus in Cleveland, this large elephant broke its manacles and later was shot by an attendant. About 50 wild and trained animals were destroyed in the blaze.

Thurman New Chairman Of Bond Sales

Announcement of the appointment of Ira Thurman, banker and civic leader, as chairman of the Howard County War Savings committee was made Wednesday through the Austin offices of Frank Scofield, War Bond administrator for Texas.

Thurman will succeed J. B. Collins, who resigned. Collins has devoted vast time and effort to the local Bond and Stamp program since its inception, and said recently that press of private business necessitated his being replaced. Because of the splendid leadership he has shown, committee members urged him to stay on with the job, and he did continue on to pull the county through the summer months of June and July with fine showings in War Bond investments.

Thurman said Wednesday he would devote every effort to the job, and hoped to achieve in part the work Mr. Collins has done. Collins is stepping down from the committee leadership with high praise from every quarter, including local sources and the state offices.

Meanwhile, word came that the August quota in War Bonds for Howard county would be $39,800, considerably below July's $135,500, which was exceeded. Originally, it was thought the same quota would hold good for this month, but the national allotment has been reduced for August from a million dollars to $800,000, with corresponding decreases for each county.

The month's figure means about $3,840 per business day for this county. For the bulletin three days of the month, sales have amounted to $8,081, not up to the daily requirement.

Thurman expressed confidence that continued patriotic response on the part of all citizens will do its share this month.

Yanks Blast Jap Center

CHUNGKING, Aug. 5 (AP)—American bombers in an attack on Japanese installations in the vicinity of Hankow, inland center on the Yangtze river, hit wharves, warehouses and shipping yesterday, a communique from Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said today.

"The results were very satisfactory," the war bulletin added. Japanese warplanes attacked Kewling, 250 miles northwest of Canton, this morning and early reports indicated these were shot down, the communique said.

Two were tagged by American fighters, it said, and one by ground fire.

Pelley Sedition Case Near Jury

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 5 (AP)—The government's criminal sedition case against William Dudley Pelley, former leader of the Silver Shirts of America, may be ready for a jury today.

As far as known, only two more defense witnesses were to testify in federal court before the opening of final arguments. Prosecution and defense have agreed to limit these arguments to two hours each.

Federal Sales Tax Urged By Retailer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—A spokesman for the National Retail Dry Goods association urged the senate finance committee today to adopt a 5 per cent retail sales tax to be in force until six months after the end of the war.

Disagreeing with the treasury's contention that a federal sales tax would be inflationary, Jay Iglauer, chairman of the association's taxation committee, declared such a levy would be "distinctly deflationary" and would syphon off considerable excess purchasing power.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) agreed with Iglauer's conclusion, declaring "it is absurd to say that a fixed government tax is inflationary."

Debt credit plan of tax relief appeared to be in the offing for the little fellows who pinch pennies to pay the monthly installment on their homes as well as for proprietors of civilian businesses facing higher taxes and shrinking revenues.

Still vague in details, the plan has varying degrees of public endorsement from a majority of the 21 members of the senate finance committee which is considering a revenue bill calling for $8,271,000,000 in new taxes.

The proposal would permit individuals to subtract from their taxable income an amount equal to payments actually made on investment debts they contracted before a specified date, possibly January 1, 1942.

The amount which thus could be charged off would be limited to a certain percentage of the income—just as deductions for charity donations cannot exceed 15 per cent—and probably would be further limited to a total ranging from $300 to $500.

Suggested deductions under this proposal included payments on home mortgages, life insurance premiums and other relatively essential debts.

The aid for debt-burdened businesses would be carried out on a somewhat similar plan, with both proposals possibly combined with a post-war tax rebate for those individuals and corporations not requiring special relief.

England Pays On Loan From RFC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones has announced that during the 12-months ended July 31, England paid $38,928,797 interest and principal on its $390,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Of the payments, $37,515,383 represented interest, dividends and other income received from the various securities and other collateral posted by England with the New York federal reserve bank. Another $1,413,414 came from the sale of a small amount of the collateral.

May Register Women For War Production Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Machinery for a nationwide occupational registration of women, with a view to cataloguing the country's total adult resources, may be included in war service legislation now being drawn for consideration by congress, creditable sources said today.

A manpower commission spokesman, who wished to remain anonymous, estimated one of every three or four housewives, between 18 and 44, may be needed to attain full war production.

Paul V. McNutt, manpower chief, has estimated that around 5,000,000 more women must be placed in jobs by the end of 1943.

Of the 53,300,000 persons now employed, according to Works Projects Administration reports, 13,900,000 are women. Of the 1,700,000 persons given new jobs from May to June, the WPA said 700,000 were women—about 40 per cent.

A registration of women over 18 in the Detroit area will be conducted next week, and possibly will serve as a model for a nation-wide count. If the manpower commission and congress decide one is necessary.

The Detroit registration, sponsored by the war production board and the United States Employment Service, is expected to provide a worker reservoir that can be tapped when all available men of the area are put to work.

Japs Stopped In New Guinea

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Aug. 5 (AP)—The suspension of all but reconnaissance operations in the Australian theatre today found the Japanese apparently halted in the Kokoda area of New Guinea near the base of the two-mile-high Owen Stanley range two weeks after their Buna-Gona landing and the start of their drive across the island.

Latest reports indicated that the airfield and other small clearings in the jungle at Kokoda—on the far side of the towering mountains from the Allies, Fort Moresby base on the south shore—were a virtual no man's land with both Allied and Japanese troops keeping close to the shelter of the dense, tropical foliage.

All advice agreed that Allied units still commanded the approaches to "the gap," a 6,000-foot pass which is 14 miles by tortuous uphill trails from Kokoda.

The Japanese control the coastal strip between Gona and Buna and the road to Kokoda, but their air force will be unable to use these footholds unless runways are levelled on the Papuan coast in the face of strafing attacks by the Allies and unless the Allied ground troops are cleared from the Kokoda area.

Fare Increase For Southern Railroads

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Railroads operating in the south received permission from the interstate commerce commission today to increase their basic passenger coach fare from 1.55 cents to 2.2 cents a mile.

The increase will put the southern fare on the same basis as the rest of the country.

BURGLARY INVESTIGATED

City police were investigating a burglary at a safe in the west part of town which was broken into Tuesday night. Some money was missing from a music box. A cigarette machine was also broken into but nothing was missing, police reported.

First Tires Issued Under August Quota

In their first session for use of the August quota the Howard county rationing board granted certificates for 40 tires, 44 tubes and 61 retreads Tuesday.

Of the tires granted 29 were for trucks, five for passenger cars and six obsolete. Passenger cars received 16 tubes, with trucks accounting for 28, while retreads were almost evenly divided, 31 for passenger cars and 30 for trucks.

A. L. Cooper was issued a certificate for one new automobile.

Ohio Telephone Workers Strike

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5 (AP)—An estimated 2,100 maintenance installation and repair workers of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. struck in Cleveland and a number of other northwestern Ohio cities today as result of a wage dispute.

R. G. Pollock, president of the unaffiliated Cleveland plant council of the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers, said the walkout resulted from failure of the union and the company to reach an agreement on union demands for application of the war labor board's "Little Steel" wage formula.

Britain Ordnance Factories Exceed Original Goals

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Britain's 42 government ordnance factories are producing four and a half times as many guns as a year ago and twice as many as they were originally intended to turn out, Sir Andrew Duncan, supply minister, told the house of commons today.

He said that although 60 per cent of the 300,000 workers now engaged at the plants were women, the output per worker had increased 40 per cent in the past year.

Opening a parliamentary debate on criticism of government armament factories in a committee report, the supply minister said the plants had "improved beyond what was reasonable to expect."

Talks Given On Inflation For B & P W Club

Talks on inflation were given for the Business and Professional Woman's club at a session Tuesday night at the Settles hotel. Mrs. D. W. Webber was program leader.

Sonora Murphy talked on ways to defeat inflation including price fixing and rationing and Maurine Word talked on "Defeat Inflation by Taxes and Buying War Bonds."

The talks dealt with such rationed articles as tires, autos, typewriters, sugar and bicycles and the purpose of such rationing which is to share and share alike with the scarce articles.

New members were voted on by the club. The group also voted to continue the Saturday night dances once a month.

A social for August 18th with the membership committee in charge was announced.

Attending were Mrs. Bert Read, Glynn Jordan, Sue Haynes, Mrs. Webber, Maurine Word, Mary Reidy, Mrs. Mary Dittz, Maurine Wade, June Matson, Mrs. Fred Haller, Dorothy Miller, Marie Gray, Mary Helen Donnell, Constance Cushing, Gladys Smith, Ina Mae Bradley, Edith Gay, Sonora Murphy.

Local Group Favors WTCC Referendum

Approval of the West Texas chamber of commerce's plan for a "referendum" convention to replace the customary convales for the duration was given Tuesday by the local public relations committee of the C. of C. The local group, headed by WTCC Directors E. Reagon and Grover Dunham, is a liaison group between the regional and local organizations.

Under the WTCC plan, work of the organization will be handled by referendums covering a two weeks period the latter part of October, to be terminated by a meeting in Abilene of the work and elections committee which would take final action on the basis of town votes. In the period from October 15 to November 1 each town would receive ballots to cover election of WTCC officers and directors as well as suggested policies and programs of various committees. The votes would be canvassed at the November 4 session.

Discontinuance of the regular town convention is being proposed as a transportation conservation measure.

State's Tax Rate Hiked

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—No new tax levies will be necessary when the legislature meets in January, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson predicted after the state tax board fixed an ad valorem rate of 75 cents per $100 valuation for 1942-43.

Voting unanimously, the board, composed of the governor, State Treasurer Jesse James and State Comptroller George H. Sheppard, yesterday increased the rate 17 cents over the current year to meet requirements of the public school system.

The board boosted the rate for the available school fund from the present 15 cents to 33 cents and reset this year's rate of 35 cents for the general revenue fund.

The constitution sets the Confederate pension rate at seven cents and prescribes a maximum ad valorem rate of 77 cents.

Uruguayan Radio Station Wrecked

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Aug. 5 (AP)—A tremendous explosion early today wrecked buildings occupied by shortwave radio station CXA2, which is operated by Radio Continental.

Police said they failed to find any clues immediately. The station is on United States and British blacklists for dealing with the enemy.

MRS. ROBERT W. SPENCE

Spence - Marchbanks Wedding Of June 6th Is Announced

Announcement of the marriage of their daughter, Nora Pearl Marchbanks is made by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marchbanks. The marriage took place at the Trinity Episcopal church in San Antonio on June 6. Only a few close friends were in attendance at the ceremony.

Mrs. Spence is a native of Big Spring. She attended school here and is a graduate of the local high school.

Lieutenant Spence is a native of Virginia and is a graduate of the state university. In civil life he is an aeronautical engineer.

The Spences are now on a delayed wedding trip by automobile through the south. Lieutenant Spence has finished his tour of duty in Texas and is now on leave but under orders of transfer to an undisclosed post.

Downtown Stroller

We forgot how to work after our vacation, but Mrs. FRED MITCHELL goes us one better when she claims she forgot how to cook in her two weeks trip in Oklahoma. Seems like she just can't get everything done and meals on time anymore, she claims.

Just heard about a new one that you contract bridge fans might like to know about. Seems that in San Antonio they have organized Victory Bridge clubs and play for bonds as prizes and no refreshments are served. The games are run like tournament bridge. That way the ladies get their bridge and the government gets their money.

Mrs. B. F. BEACH and daughter, BOBBY NELL, of Colorado Springs, Colo., returned home Tuesday after a visit with her sisters, RUTH and MARIE DYER.

Lunching downtown the other day were Mrs. O. D. CORDILL and Mrs. G. C. SAWTELLE. The ladies were evidently taking a few minutes off from working at the Red Cross room to recuperate and lunch.

If you are looking for a place to go dancing Saturday night, the High Heel Slipper club girls will be glad to see you at the Crawford hotel ballroom. The girls plan to buy defense bonds with the proceeds from the event.

Steak Barbecue Held At The City Park

Several families enjoyed a get-together at the city park with a steak barbecue Tuesday. Following the barbecue the group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Campbell for visiting.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Freeman and Jerry, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McGee of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dupree, Lieut. and Mrs. C. L. Swagerly, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Scott and Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Campbell.

Mexico Salvaging Oil Machinery

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4 (AP)—With the importing of oil machinery from the United States difficult because of war priorities, the government petroleum administration has sent working parties to abandoned oil fields to seek usable machinery.

The first find was 2,000 tons of boilers and tubing from the property of the Agula Oil company, one of those expropriated in 1938.

Post Office Carriers Vote To Meet First Tuesday In September

Voting to hold the next meeting the first Tuesday in September in the home of L. Nail, the postoffice carriers had regular monthly business meeting Tuesday in the home of Corneil Smith. Bridge was the entertainment following the business session. Refreshments were served and those present were Alden Thomas, a guest, L. Nail, E. Preston, Preach True and the host.

Commons Taking A Short Recess

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—While the public still speculated on a possible second front decision, the house of commons agreed today to a short summer recess, its members reassured by Sir Stafford Cripps that they would be recalled in the event of "any unexpected situation."

When the recess will start or how long it will last was not announced.

Congressmen In Four States Renominated In Primaries

By The Associated Press
 Congressmen in Virginia, Kansas, Missouri and West Virginia successfully weathered renomination tests in yesterday's primary day balloting.

Unofficial tabulations in the contests in which the chief issues were labor and pre-war foreign policies, gave victory to Virginia's only two representatives who faced democratic opposition; to Senator Arthur Capper, veteran 77-year-old Kansas republican, and to Governor Matthew M. Neely of West Virginia in his battle with former Governor H. G. Kump for the democratic nomination to the U. S. senate.

Twelve representatives won renomination in Missouri, Richard M. Duncan, veteran democratic congressman, defeating former Circuit Judge Fred M. Frankenhoff after an early neck and neck race.

Representative Walter C. Flieger, St. Louis republican, also had a close contest in beating out six opponents in a campaign based solely on his pre-Pearl Harbor voting record. Five other incumbents won handily and five more were without opposition. Nomination for the seat to be vacated by retirement of veteran Representative Joseph B. Shannon, Kansas City democrat, was won by Roger C. Slaughter.

In Kansas, Andrew Schoepel, former state corporation commission chairman and youngest in the republican gubernatorial race, won the nomination from three opponents. Lieut. Gov. Carl Friend, U. S. Senator Clyde M. Reed, and Thale P. Skovgard.

W. H. Burke, Little River stockman who lost the gubernatorial election two years ago by 400 votes, won the democratic nomination. Former Senator George McGill acquired a wide lead over three opponents for the democratic senatorial nomination. Representative Howard W.

Smith, author of bills to revise the Wagner labor relations act and outlaw wartime strikes, won democratic renomination in the eighth Virginia district. He defeated Emmett C. Davidson, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Machinists (AFL) and former mayor of Alexandria.

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum of Roanoke also was renominated, defeating Moss A. Plunkett, a fellow townsman, who was endorsed by a committee claiming representation of the bulk of organized labor in the sixth district.

Virginia's seven other representatives and Senator Carter Glass had no primary opposition.

In West Virginia, Raymond J. Funkhouser, Sheperdstown business man, made his bow in Mountain State politics by taking a growing lead over Chapman Rivercomb, veteran party figure, in the republican senatorial contest.

Plan To Curb Auto Driving Now Studied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Roosevelt is going over the petroleum and rubber situations and may present his views to congress and the nation by tomorrow.

The probability arose today in the wake of these developments:

1. The president affirmed at his press conference yesterday that he would veto a bill setting up a separate government agency to make synthetic rubber from grain alcohol.
2. The War Production Board was reported considering, as an alternative to nationwide gasoline rationing, a plan to limit automobile driving in non-rationed areas by making a periodical check of mileages shown on speedometers.
3. Price Administrator Leon Henderson described the eastern gasoline shortage and the national rubber emergency as separate problems "in no way connected" and said the question of nationwide fuel rationing was so important that a decision would be made "only after careful analysis of all the complex aspects of the situation."
4. The War Production Board was disclosed to have decided on nationwide rationing in July — most of the necessary forms already had been printed — but President Roosevelt intervened.
5. An Office of Price Administration official, who declined to be quoted by name, said fuel oil rationing in the east was a "distinct possibility." Curtailment of gasoline deliveries as far west as the Mississippi was being considered, he said, to make more tank cars available for the Atlantic seaboard's petroleum needs.
6. Rep. Hartley (R-NJ) declared in a radio talk that the synthetic rubber program had been delayed by "incompetence and mismanagement" in the government agencies concerned and by "selfish, powerful, private interests."

President Roosevelt's views were expected to be set forth at some length in the message which he said he hoped to send congress by tomorrow vetoing the grain alcohol agency.

Black Market In Steel To Be Investigated

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Two investigations were promised today into charges made before a congressional subcommittee here that a "black market" in steel existed where "immediate delivery was made" from "bulging warehouses scattered over the nation."

Price Administrator Leon Henderson in Washington ordered an immediate probe by the OPA of charges made yesterday by Frank Higgins, associated with his father, A. J. Higgins, in shipbuilding here, that his company bought steel from such markets at higher premiums.

Prior to Henderson's order, President Roosevelt at a Washington press conference said he thought persons who sold steel in such markets should go to jail and that the charges should be investigated.

The second investigation was promised by Rep. Peterson (D-Fla.), chairman of the house subcommittee investigating the wartime commission's cancellation last month of the A. J. Higgins contract to build 200 Liberty ships because of an alleged steel shortage.

"This matter of a steel black market will be fully investigated," Peterson declared.

The committee planned to call Frank Higgins in executive session to question him regarding steel warehouses with which he said his firm had bought steel from a "black market with bulging warehouses over the nation."

"We got the steel from warehouses all over the country," Higgins said. "They know even before we do that we'll get certain contracts and they send us lists of what we'll need to fill the contracts."

Farm, Labor And Business Views Outlined By Allred

ABILENE, Aug. 3 (AP)—A detailed outline of how he stands on farm, labor and business problems was presented by James V. Allred here last night in an address before against W. Lee O'Daniel. Frequently interrupted by applause, Allred declared he was presenting "specific proposals" which would provide for "our civilian casualties of the war."

He emphasized his farm and labor program.

Cotton growers were told that "on my first day in the senate I shall introduce a bill to provide for a minimum price of not less than 25 cents per pound, basic middling, for all American cotton for the duration of the war."

"I have found that the most definite inequality in the entire war effort behind our fighting lines is the fact that Texas farmers have had to fight this war with their sons and the products of their farms without getting a just return," he added.

Allred also promised to work for a permanent law reducing the rate of interest on government farm and ranch loans to 3 per cent.

Discussing his labor views, the speaker declared "I will introduce and push to passage a bill prohibiting any enforced initiation fee, permit-fee or dues in defense industries."

"In the event a defense worker joins a union he shall be charged not more than one dollar initiation fee and one dollar per month dues on war work for the duration of the war."

His business program included introduction "of a bill calling for simplification of the myriad of government reports business men have to make every day." He also declared "the government should provide employment or some form of security for business men who 'victims of priorities and other adjustments necessary to the war effort'."

Allred also pledged to oppose federal control of the oil industry. Gasoline rationing in Texas, federalization of unemployed compensation and socialized medicine.

He promised to seek more defense centers and industries for Texas and "work with and under the leadership of the president for a more adequate old age benefits and retirement system, lowering the age if necessary."

Turning to "our boys in the service," Allred said "I shall favor the continue payment of salary to every returning soldier or sailor for a reasonable time until employment shall have been provided for him."

The speaker asserted that "I have insisted that the first great task ahead of us is to win this war and to write a lasting peace guaranteeing against the tragedy of war."

"The president will be my commander in chief as well as commander in chief of our boys in uniform," he said.

Adjustments Being Made On Insurance

Savings of approximately $7,500 are in store for policy holders of Big Spring, as a result of reductions in fire insurance rates ordered by the state commission to become effective August 1.

This estimate came from members of the Big Spring Insurance Exchange, who stressed the fact that adjustments must be made on numerous policies, and that this will take some time.

Not every type of insurance is included in the reduction, it was said, and persons wanting full information were advised to contact their own agent. A statement from the local Exchange said that it is not advisable to cancel policies, as the same saving can be had on any policy now in force. "Canceling and buying new policies means only trouble and no saving," the statement said.

Insurance men said all offices were working diligently to effect adjustments, and that every policy-holder would be serviced as promptly as possible.

FIRE INSURANCE

Will SAVE Policy Holders In This Community Approximately

$7500.00

If the reduction is applicable to your policy the adjustment will be made as soon as possible.

Due to the many policies in this community which must be adjusted, it will take considerable time to complete the necessary book work.

REDUCTIONS GO INTO EFFECT AS OF AUG. 1st

Remember, however, that no matter how long is necessary to complete the adjustments, the reduction goes into effect as of August 1st and extends to the expiration date of the policy.

NOT ADVISABLE TO CANCEL POLICIES

It is not advisable to cancel policies as you get the SAME SAVING on your present policy as you would by cancelling it and buying a new one. Cancelling and buying new policies means only added trouble and no saving to you.

IMPORTANT NEW INSTRUCTIONS—REVISED JULY 1942

How to Fight FIRE BOMBS

OFFICIAL INSTRUCTIONS
U. S. Office of Civilian Defense

These new instructions are based on exhaustive research by technicians of OCD and the Chemical Warfare Service, U. S. Army. They represent changes now adopted also by British officials after careful analysis of the results of both this and the old method during actual air raids. Both American and British tests prove that a jet of water, as illustrated below, will knock out the fire bomb in less than one minute—before major fires can get started. Fire (not the bomb) is the chief danger, and a jet of water is the best weapon. Respect the fire bomb but do not fear it.

BRING YOUR FIRE-FIGHTING EQUIPMENT TO THE SCENE QUICKLY

The small magnesium bomb, which is dropped in great numbers, will go through any ordinary roof. Store your equipment where it can be reached easily, and keep it ready for instant use.

SHOOT A JET OF WATER ON THE BOMB AT ONCE

Take cover behind a door, chair, or other furniture, if you can, when you do this. The jet knocks the bomb out quickly. There will be a burst of white flame, and a scattering of molten metal, most of which will be driven away from you by the force of the jet.

QUENCH PROMPTLY THE REMAINS OF BOMB AND ANY OTHER FIRES

If any small fires are started the jet will put these out easily. Within a short time you will be free to attack any other bombs which may have fallen nearby. Be absolutely sure all the fire is out before you leave.

THE PUMP TANK HOLDS ENOUGH WATER TO PUT OUT TWO BOMBS WHEN JET IS USED

This is the 4-gallon pump tank extinguisher which the Office of Civilian Defense will distribute in target areas to the air raid warden service. The tank can be refilled while the pump is being used.

JET MAY PREVENT ACTION OF BURSTER

Some bombs have a small burster attachment. When the jet is used promptly, the bomb may be destroyed before the charge goes off.

KNOW YOUR EXTINGUISHERS

All fire extinguishers that look like this can be used on the bomb because they contain water or water solutions of chemicals. They include the soda-acid, foam, and gas cartridge types.

Other types of extinguishers should not be used on the bomb because they do not contain water, but they can be used on fires started by bombs. Remember that your garden hose is one of the best fire-fighting devices so long as there is water pressure.

USE SAND ONLY IF A BOMB FALLS WHERE IT CANNOT START A FIRE OR IF WATER IS NOT AVAILABLE

This can be done by dropping a bag of sand over the bomb, or by the shovel-and-bucket technique.

Dim-Out Stops Another Game, Giants, Dodgers In A 1-1 Tie

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York fans may never like "twi-light" baseball, but they are now ready to admit that the dimout plays no favorites.

Twice in two nights the struggles of the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants have been prematurely ended by the army regulations which require that floodlights must be extinguished an hour after sundown.

Monday this rule helped beat the Giants 7-4 when darkness smothered a promising rally in the last half of the ninth inning—the violent displeasure of a crowd of 57,805 assembled for the benefit of army relief.

Last night, however, the switch-off of the Polo Grounds lights erased a four-run tenth-inning outburst by the Dodgers and gave the Giants a 1-1 tie which the teams will play off Sept. 6. This time 15,000 fans accepted the incident without a demonstration, although they had boomed time-killing maneuvers of the rivals throughout the game.

The fans' loss was slight compared to that of Lewie Pese, the Dodgers' little shortstop, who hit a home run inside the park with the bases loaded to kayo Fiddler Bill McGee in the tenth with none out. It didn't count because the inning never was finished.

The Giants' had little chance of getting a turn at bat anyway, and they made certain they would not by some dexterous stalling. Manager Mel Ott was slow in getting Relief Pitcher Adams to the mound. Then Adams walked the first man he faced, made a wild pitch, got a batter on a fly and the game was over. The playing time was 2 hours and 24 minutes, one minute less than the previous night.

The same teams meet in their third successive twi-night game tonight, but this time across the city in Brooklyn.

Although the Dodgers didn't win, their National league lead was extended to 10 full games, their largest margin of the season, because the St. Louis Cardinals were set down 4-3 at Cincinnati. The Cards were held to five hits, but bunched three of these for three runs to chase Johnny Vander Meer in the seventh. Then Joe Beggs put out the fire.

The Pittsburgh Pirates captured a 2-1 decision over the Chicago Cubs on Frankie Gustine's only hit of the day, a single with two on in the 11th inning.

At Philadelphia Jim Tobin limited the Phils to five hits, but was beaten 4-3 because the only runs the Boston Braves scored were on Tobin's own homer with a mate aboard in the seventh inning.

The New York Yankees were beaten 4-3 in a night game at Washington, but received some consolation in that their alling left-hander, Marlin Russo, rejoined the club and pitched two innings of no-hit ball in relief.

Phil Marchildon, the stand-out hurler of the last place Philadelphia Athletics, held the Boston Red Sox to four hits to achieve his 18th triumph of the year by a 6-4 score.

Rudy York hit his 16th homer but the Detroit Tigers were beaten 5-4 by the Chicago White Sox in a loose pitching battle between two old-timers, Ted Lyons and Tommy Bridges.

Cleveland at St. Louis was postponed.

Service Teams Will Replace The College Elevens On Texas Grids

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The war has taken its toll in college sports but Texans will see as much football as ever next fall.

While four schools have dropped out for the duration, that many or more service teams are expected to take up the schedule slack.

No official announcement has been made by Texas A. and I. authorities but it's not hard to figure out that this school will have no football in 1942. Teams on whose schedules A. and I. appeared have dropped the Javelinas with the announcement that A. and I. had cancelled.

Texas Wesleyan, St. Mary's and Trinity University have already given up the grid game for next season.

Corpus Christi naval air station was given the green light to play Southwest conference teams with the naming of Marty Karow as coach.

From the array of material available at NAS, indications are the conference teams will have their work cut out for them when they meet the filers.

Randolph Field of San Antonio, Camp Berkeley of Abilene, Shepard Field of Wichita Falls and Corpus Christi air station are definitely going to have teams and there are likely to be more.

When R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the Texas interscholastic league, goes to Athens, Ga., for the U. S. navy pre-flight school coaching school, he's going to find another state with big ideas about schoolboy sports.

South Carolina, we are informed, is planning a compulsory sports program of an intensive Furman University behind the movement. McLeod will be at the coaching school and Kidd can obtain information on the plan first-hand.

Details of the program are not yet available but our informant says South Carolina will get credit for starting a nationwide reform in school sports.

Success note: Charlie DeWane, Texas Aggie freshman co-coach, enlisted in the army in February. Recently he was elevated from private to corporal at Camp Walters and next day was assigned to the Officers Candidate school at Fort Benning, Ga., where he will emerge as a second lieutenant sometime in October.

Matter of arithmetic: Umpire Bill Wilson of the Texas league was credited with chasing three Oklahoma City players in one night but the official court was five, it was learned afterward. You see two of the Indians getting the thumb were not in the game but came off the bench to chime in on an argument.

Versatile Jack Wilson: Baylor's mighty man pitched a no-hit, no-run game in softball at Paris the other night. That just about makes things unanimous. He was the big shot in football, basketball and track at Baylor.

Rebels Take It On Chin 11th Time

By The Associated Press

Crippled Oklahoma City, with only 13 players on the roster, is still good enough to beat Dallas.

The bleak record of the Rebels, who have spent most of the season in the last Texas league spot, was anything but enhanced last night when the visiting seventh-place Indians shellacked them 5-3 for the second win in a row. It was, incidentally, the eleventh consecutive loss for Dallas.

The Rebels' early one-run lead was erased by a flurry of extra-base hits, and Clyde Humphrey, the starting pitcher, stepped out in the seventh for Eddie Marleau, who for the 52nd time during the season played the role of a relief hurler.

The second-place Fort Worth Cats fattened their percentage with a 5-2 victory over the Tulsa Oilers at Fort Worth, and San Antonio defeated Houston 4-2 at San Antonio. The Shreveport at Beaumont game was postponed.

Ed Greer pitched for Fort Worth, permitting nine scattered hits. The Cats' nicked starting moundman Glenn Gardner and Nick Butcher for four runs in the fifth. Greer's support was virtually airtight. Wimpy Janseo handled thirteen chances at second base.

A nine-inning rally gave San Antonio four runs and the decision over Houston. Houston scored two runs in the sixth inning and another in the ninth.

Today's schedule (all night games):
Shreveport at San Antonio.
Beaumont at Houston.
Fort Worth at Tulsa.
Dallas at Oklahoma City.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—Fast time pastime: While fans still are talking about the sudden end of the Giants-Dodgers benefit game the other evening it seems like a good idea to point out that clubs can and do finish games in a lot less than two hours and 25 minutes. . . . The Sally league — "Mother of the Minors, Cradle of the Great"—has the same sort of dimout problem and Prox E. M. Wilder reports that by barring all stalling they have cut the average time to about an hour and a half.

Flag paragraph—When it was announced that the 37th (Ohio) division was somewhere in a battle area, Toledo golfers decided to put on a tournament Aug. 24 to raise a little dough for the canteen fund. . . . Inverness is waving green that day, business men are contributing war bonds and stamps for prizes and pros, amateurs and public golfers will pay $3 each to compete.

Service dept.—A special race involving two soldiers, two sailors and two marines, riding stable ponies, is one of the big events on today's long Army-Navy Relief card at Rockingham Park and when Capt. Bob Augustinus called for soldier volunteers at Grenier Field, N. H., he had more than 100 responses. . . . Clarence (Doc) Spars, Toledo U. coach, is enrolled at the Iowa pre-flight school coaching clinic and a lot of guys are wondering what he wants with a course on how to be tough.

No slip of the lip—When Leo Durocher tried to buy his way into the Polo Grounds for Monday's Army-Navy baseball game between the Giants and Brooklyn, he got into an argument with the ticket man and finally had to get a cop to buy his pasteboards. Then he learned that the other Dodgers, after similar disputes, had been passed in free through the press gate. . . . "That doesn't go," Leo the Lip proclaimed. "Take up a collection and buy tickets for everyone. They're not going to say we got in for nothing."

Methodists Win By 6-5

First Methodist is one step nearer the church league softball title today, after taking a closely contested tilt from Nolan Street Baptist 6 to 5 on the city park diamond Tuesday night.

The Methodists scored four runs in the first inning with the aid of only one hit, which was a triple. Others came across as a result of a walk and errors by the Baptists. Adding two more in the fifth, the Methodists were held scoreless during the last two frames. A home run by Bates, Methodist pitcher, with one on provided the two tallies in the fourth.

Nolan Baptist counted twice in the first, one in the third, two in the fifth and two in the seventh. Tying and winning runs were on base in the seventh when the third man went down on strikes to retire the side.

Next game of the playoff series will not be played until next Tuesday night, as a full program Tuesday for the city park diamond for the remainder of this week. Tonight in city league play ABC-Lions meet Brown-Bellows at 7:30 and Wallace-Heyne takes on State Hospital at 9:15.

Amateur Boxers Battle For Final Honors Tonight

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—Sixteen fighters will battle it out tonight in the finals of the state T. A. A. boxing tourney.

Last night's bouts were featured by two knockouts and six decisions. The first boxer to leave the tourney via the knockout route was middleweight Rip Collins of San Angelo, who went down in one minute, 54 seconds of the opening round when Simon Luna, San Angelo, banged him on the jaw with a hard right cross.

A tight battle in the welterweight class between Elbert Yoes, San Angelo and Roy Belk, Lubbock, drew most of the cheers. Belk carried the fight to the smaller, faster Yoes and seemed to be on his way to victory, but Yoes rallied in the third round to take a split decision.

Featherweight—Elbert Gray, Wichita Falls state Golden Gloves champ, decided Lavern Rosch, Lubbock, who was game but lacking in experience.

In the lightweight class Manuel Dixon of San Antonio pushed out the bobbing, weaving style of Dell Martinez, Austin, to take a three-round decision.

In a middleweight bout Dick Jackson, Austin, decided Tex McLaurin, McAllen. Jackson forced the fight from the start. Grover Wilkerson, Fort McIntosh, Laredo, knocked out Dick Kauffman, San Angelo, in one minute, 51 seconds of the first round. Wilkerson goes up against Tom Attra, Austin, national Golden Gloves champ, in the finals.

Other final bouts: Flyweight—Leonard Zuniga, San Antonio, vs. Weldon Wyatt, Wichita Falls.

Bantamweight—Demo Tufares, Wichita Falls, vs. Arturo Torres, Austin.

Featherweight—Hubert Gray, Wichita Falls, vs. Jesse Valdez, San Antonio.

Lightweight—Manuel Dixon, San Antonio, vs. Arlo Roy, San Angelo.

Welterweight—George Ingram, Laredo, vs. Elbert Yoes, San Angelo.

Middleweight—Simon Luna, San Antonio vs. Dick Jackson, Austin.

Heavyweight—Elwood Wright, Lubbock, vs. Charles Simmons, Dallas.

Other results last night included:
Flyweight—Weldon Wyatt, Wichita Falls, decided Wayne Nixon, Fort McIntosh.

Featherweight—Jesse Valdez, San Antonio, decided George Young, San Angelo.

Lightweight—Lloyd Belk, Lubbock, defeated Arlo Roy, San Angelo.

Match Play Gets Under Way At Colorado Springs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 5 (AP)—Match play started today in the Broadmoor invitational golf tournament with Walter Emery of Tulsa, Okla., bearing medalist honors into the first round duels.

Emery, whose par 70 Monday held out through qualifying play Tuesday, faced Carl Evans of Wichita, Kas., who qualified with a 78.

John Kraft of Denver, defending Broadmoor champion, meets Nell Smith of Oklahoma City.

Bob Goldwater of Phoenix, Ariz., who shot a 72, drew Bill Steen of Fairfax, Okla., in the first round. Steen qualified with the 79.

Pro Football Clubs Looking For Talent

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 5 (AP)—Young men who can play football and are in position to do so might find profitable employment this fall by applying to one of the National League professional clubs.

The clubs are scouring the country for new talent to replace about 100 veterans lost to the armed forces.

Several have come up with veterans of lesser leagues, others have signed men from small schools who ordinarily wouldn't have been considered.

Although the season is more than a month away, the Philadelphia Eagle squad already has moved into Wisconsin, the league's chief training ground, and four other National League clubs begin drills within the next few days in Badger cities. They are starting earlier than usual in order to break in new men.

Reds Finally Track Down Left-Fielder Who Hits

By JOHN FRYE
Wide World Features

CINCINNATI — The Cincinnati Reds, who have spent fabulous thousands on left field, now regard that particular problem of finding a man who can both hit and field is solved, at least for the time being.

The solution is young Max Marshall, bought from the St. Louis Cardinal farm of Columbus in the American Association for a semi-nominal sum early in the season.

Max, a 2A with three children, currently is the No. 2 hitter in the Max Marshall . . . more than 20 others before him failed.

Cincinnati batting averages, topped only by another rookie, Ray Lammano. Included in his record are a flock of doubles and a couple of homers.

Afield he works competently if not spectacularly. He is not fazed by the terrace just in front of the left field wall and when a batter gets a hit out his way there is no charity involved.

In all, he is quite a relief as a successor to such all-star busts as far as Cincinnati is concerned, though several made too good elsewhere for the Reds) as Vince Di Maggio, Morris Aronovich, Walky Berger, Hank Dejan, et al.

Altogether, it is said the Reds tried almost two dozen men at the position in the last five seasons.

The only trouble is, the problem has moved over. Mike McCormick, fleet center-fielder, is on the inactive list with a broken leg; Harry Craft, one-time regular in center, is hitting roughly .175. Geo-

Walker, the great hope from the Cleveland Indians, is a couple of points under that; and Ival Gooden, the right field bleacher fans' darling, is still an in-and-outer with injuries, illness, and hard luck.

So that makes two more spots to spend money.

Why Waste 50 Million Hours?

Production plus transportation is the chief demand of the hour in civilization's dire emergency. Plans enough, tanks enough, guns enough, men enough there are in Great Britain to open a second front on the European continent - but have the United Nations ships enough to carry supplies to the huge army that such a step would necessitate and maintain it in action - while maintaining all the other widely separated fronts? The needs of the United Nations make it imperative that the American production machine be geared to its highest efficiency. It is surprising, therefore, that eight Washington agencies are willing at this time to propose imposing a maximum ceiling of 48 hours on the American work-week. The recommendations of the federal agencies for on the job meal period, a 30-minute meal period, and vacations may be reasonable in times of peace, but in Great Britain a 52-hour week is felt to be a reasonable maximum and is gradually being established. Surely American workers are able to do as much as those in Britain. Men working on a certain type of machine gun greatly needed for installation in the wings of fighter planes worked 12-hour shifts, seven days a week, in one New England plant until the immediate need was met. Another plant, turning out submarines, found a 15-minute lunch period agreeable to the men because they were able to open their boxes and eat on the spot. They understood the need for their product, just as did the English workers who shot British war production up phenomenally just after Dunkirk - and such instances probably are numerous. It must be obvious that even if there is enough material in the possession of the American and British forces to attack the enemy in Europe with real chances of success - which is still doubtful - a huge reserve must be created and a cargo fleet built of such overwhelming proportions that supplies sufficient for troops abroad can be landed in spite of the ravages of submarines. But to turn out these urgently needed planes and tanks and guns and shells, and the ships to carry them, as well as the troops, every ounce of manpower energy, every possible hour of work is demanded now. Today 12,500,000 men and women are engaged in war industries. To limit them to 48 hours when they are willing and able to work 52 work 52 hours is not merely unjust to them, but a blow to American effort. Four extra hours per week for 12,500,000 workers will mean 50,000,000 additional hours. Fifty million hours of effort each week toward the elimination of Hitler, Hirohito & Co. Fifty million hours - three billion precious minutes - each week! Can we afford to waste them?

Bert Lytell Has Plenty Titles, Stays Busy

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK - Bert Lytell has more titles than Goring, but not as many uniforms. For one thing, he's M.C. for the new Stage Door Canteen show that goes on the air once each week. . . . For another he's president of Equity. For a third, he's a member of the board that provides USO talent for camp shows. For a fourth, he's Coordinator of Entertainment for Embarkation Ports. Suppose a cruiser comes into port and for one reason or another the crew can't go ashore. Lytell gets busy and organizes a show and takes that show aboard ship and entertains the men there. Lytell thinks the Stage Door Canteen program should run at least two years. It has the whole of the theater to draw from for talent. What will be needed, and will be forthcoming, will be imagination in each weekly production. No pattern is to be followed. There'll be comedy one week, and maybe highbrow stuff the next. The first program began with Burns and Allen, and ended with Helen Hayes doing a scene from "Mary of Scotland."

Elections Beckon Many Congressmen Back Home

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON - It's going to take a heap of whip-cracking to keep congress in session until after the November elections. It may not be an "official vacation" as Senate Majority Leader Barkley hopes, but absentees will simply force the two houses to postpone important business. The reason is, of course, the elections. The primaries in about two-thirds of the states are yet to be held. They will not be cleaned up until late September. That's going to leave only about six weeks for the general election campaigning. And just try to keep a congressman away from the hustings back home when he thinks his job is endangered. There are indications daily now that the exodus is already on. The senate roll calls are tedious affairs. The clerks have to call over and over the names of the absentees, hoping that a few more will answer to their names and provide the necessary 49 for business to continue. When the supplemental defense bill came to a vote recently in the senate, the quorum couldn't be obtained and the vote had to go over for a day - a contingency that probably hasn't arisen since the defense effort started. On that day, a check-up revealed that 37 senators were out of the city. As with the Senate, so with the House - perhaps even more so, because all of the house members are up for reelection. However, most of the representatives did stick around until they had cleared the tax bill. To miss a vote on a tax bill is not considered the best legislative ethics or political good sense. Few of the congressmen now sitting have ever had to face the problem of a continuing Congress during election years and campaign problems. Even in World War I, Congress had its vacation. The record isn't clear, but it is likely the present Congress already has broken all records for continued sittings.

hustings goes a good deal deeper than any mere love for a political ruckus and making speeches. And it has nothing to do with "vacationing." It is simply that it is a known fact, proved over and over again, that the best way for a congressman to commit political suicide is to stay away from home too long. The folks forget the man that's in. And some young up-and-comer makes a lot of noise and steals the votes. There is one factor, however, that has made the congressmen a little less frantic to get back to the wars and the home front. In spite of a belief expressed by many that congress might see its greatest turnover this year, indications in the primaries that have been held are that no more "ins" will be out this year than usual. That consoling fact doesn't eliminate the necessity for getting back for some campaigning, however. It's likely that in spite of the protest of Minority Leader McNary (indicating the republicans will oppose any prolonged adjournment) that something will be worked out to make the absentee's absence officially excusable.

Trailer Tintypes

Back in 1912 Lytell and Jack London attended a funds drive for the Sun Yat Sen rebellion. This was in California, and they were the only two white men present. "Ever since that day," Lytell says, "I have had a dread of their ambitions." Nevertheless, for three years running Bert Lytell was clamorously nominated as the most popular American film actor by Tokyo movie goers. It was London who drove Lytell to ranching. "We writers, actors and those of us in the arts should have a spot of earth somewhere to which we can retire when the public grows weary of us," London was wont to cry. He and Lytell shared adjoining cottages on Waikiki beach for one whole summer, and Lytell, who was making plenty of Hollywood money then, thought maybe London was right. He plunged into a 1,000-acre vineyard, plus an artichoke farm, and got his hands burned. "But then I could afford it in those days," he says.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— 'Still' Man Has To Work For His Photographs

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Another side of Hollywood: Irving Lippman is a diplomat. He also is possessed of nerve, gall, patience, persistence and an infinite capacity for "taking it." These qualities make him one of Hollywood's best "still men." The still man photographs stars, scenes from movies, studio life. Assigned to cover a movie, he is constantly on the set. In studio jest—and sometimes in fact—he is the patsy for the assistant director who in turn is patsy for the director. In a movie production schedule no time is budgeted for "stills." Important as they are in making the public aware of stars and productions. The still man is on his own, with no help, and nobody to blame if he doesn't turn in a full quota of pertinent pictures. His cry, "Hold it for a still," is heard after every scene.

contractual right to "kill" any pictures they don't like. But Lippy is just as careful with "smaller" people. "You never know when they'll be the ones to have it in their contracts," he says. Rita Hayworth, in "You Were Never Lovelier," is the only star he knows who doesn't care to see her still pictures before release. The way he sat there on the sofa all that time without moving. Don't you remember how his arms were crossed with his hands out of sight? It must be something like that or Ward wouldn't have said those things. It's Della he's afraid of. "Thorndike, huh?" Fenner said. "The whole thing was an act." Murdock's face was somber and taut. "We've got to get in but—if we knock—" "We can get in," Joyce said. "I fixed the lock. When I came out I pressed the button that regulates it." She heard Fenner grunt; then Kent had turned. He gave her a quick hard look, and without warning, took her face in his hands. He kissed her roughly, his lips brushing hers, and just as suddenly released her.

Larger Nipples For Feeding Lambs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—The War Production Board has run into trouble with rubber restrictions on infant's feeding nipples. The Victory-model nipples proved too small to feed baby lambs, and the order has been revised to permit use of more rubber—up to .0105 pounds, to be exact—in nipples made expressly for feeding infant sheep. When John M. Stahl was making "Our Wife," Irving Lippman, at Columbia the past nine years, uttered his usual "Hold it." He was set for his shot when Stahl protested the interruption. Lippy shot back: "Wait a minute, Mr. Stahl. I don't rush you when you're working. I've got to have a little time for MY work." Stahl, floored, grinned—and after that Lippy got all the stills he wanted. A movie still man who works steadily is well paid for his pains. Union minimum is $108 a week. Lippy, a veteran, draws well over minimum. Los Angeles-born, Lippy used to sell papers near the corner where Frank Capra sold papers. Lippy has worked stills on many Capra films. Lippy got into movies as a boy assistant director in 1923. In those days his job meant also driving the camera car, running a second camera, shooting stills. He gave up the rest for still photography a dozen years ago. He is buying his own home in North Hollywood, where he is an air raid warden, a Victory Gardener, a War Bond 10 per center. He and his wife dislike night clubs. He has photographed most of Hollywood's stars, current and old. He says none of them are "tough"—if approached properly. "You just don't go in with your camera when the director is ready to jump down everybody's throat," he says. Rosalind Russell, Joan Crawford, Bette Davis, Marlene Dietrich, among other stars, have

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter 45 TABLES TURNED "We've got to stop him," Joyce said. "We'll stop him," Murdock started for the door and terror struck at Joyce again and she ran after him, seizing his arm. "Oh, please," she whispered. "He's got a gun. He must have. The way he sat there on the sofa all that time without moving. Don't you remember how his arms were crossed with his hands out of sight? It must be something like that or Ward wouldn't have said those things. It's Della he's afraid of. "Thorndike, huh?" Fenner said. "The whole thing was an act." Murdock's face was somber and taut. "We've got to get in but—if we knock—" "We can get in," Joyce said. "I fixed the lock. When I came out I pressed the button that regulates it." She heard Fenner grunt; then Kent had turned. He gave her a quick hard look, and without warning, took her face in his hands. He kissed her roughly, his lips brushing hers, and just as suddenly released her.

"Good girl," he said. Fenner blocked him off. "This is for me," he said. "Watch yourself!" And then he was at the door. Joyce stood where she was, unable to move, unable even to breathe. She saw the detective's hand come away from his coat, the snub-nosed gun gleam darkly in his grasp. Somehow she was aware that Hestor had not gone but had come up behind her. She did not see her; she saw nothing but Fenner's left hand reaching for the knob. She watched, fascinated and immobile as the detective palmed the doorknob. She could see him pull it towards him, watched his wrist turn. She listened, every muscle tense. There was no sound; it did not seem possible that silence could be so absolute and yet— The wrist stopped turning. It began to push forward. The door opened a crack, widened slowly until, all at once the panel was back and Fenner was moving forward and saying: "Drop it! Drop it!" "Moving Up" Kent was at the detective's heels, and she had to go too. She could not see the whole room but between the heads of the two ahead of her she saw enough. Della and Ward Allen stood before the little sofa, staring first at Dean Thorndike and then at the door. Ward's arm was about her waist and in that first instant Thorndike was facing them. Joyce could not see his gun, but knew somehow that it was there. She saw his head jerk round and then his body. She saw his startled stare, the recoil of his facial muscles; then the mouth drew back and there was an explosion of sound and Fenner was moving up. Kent was at his shoulder and she could see better now and took a step, and someone was crowding her from behind. Something thudded to the floor and with the sound Thorndike had wheeled and was diving for a gun that had dropped from his fingers, stooping, reaching desperately with his left hand. Fenner's voice hit hard and hot. "Don't touch it! Let it lay!" Thorndike never stopped. In one continuous movement he swept up the gun and turned, his face twisted and stiff. Then, once again there came that explosion of sound and this time the room seemed to rock under Joyce and her ears rang with its fury. Thorndike staggered and sat down hard; then the room was very quiet. Fenner moved slowly up to him. The fallen gun was but inches from his hand and the detective kicked it to one side with his toe and picked it up. "That's what you get," he said, speaking to no one in particular, "for trying to do a killer a favor. You plug him in the arm and then you have to cool him off anyway. I should've known better." He glanced about, putting his gun away, and went over to the telephone. Joyce heard him talking but for another second or two she could not take her eyes from Thorndike. His face was no longer twisted and stiff. There was a curious look of surprise in his eyes and the muscles of his jaw were slack. He glanced down at his right hand. There was a trickle of blood on the back of it, but though he tried he could not raise it; after that he put his left hand inside his coat and sat like that, holding his chest. Just Nerves Joyce shuddered as reaction shook her. Weakness was eating her strength, and while she fought for control of her senses she heard Della. "Oh, it's so horrible," she sobbed, "so horrible—" Ward turned her quickly away and his arms went about her. Joyce saw her slump and for a moment thought she had fainted. Then the sobbing quieted and her hands came up and crushed Ward's lapels and he bent his head. He began to talk, his lips close to her ear and his voice soft and husky and unintelligible to anyone but Della. Kent's arm slid around Joyce's waist. Suddenly she became aware of his strength and put her arms about his neck because she could not stop her trembling. He pressed her tight and she felt his hand stroke her hair. "Steady," he said. She held to him for long seconds and then released her arms and looked up, aware now that her eyes were brimming and his image blurred. "I'm sorry," she said. "Just nerves." "You were magnificent." He smiled. "I'm sort of proud of you." Ward Allen was talking louder. "Won't you go in and lie down awhile, darling?" Della shook her head. "I'd rather not, really. I'll be all right."

"I'll get a touch of brandy, then." He took her hands from his lapels and looked for a place where he could seat her.

"I'll get it," Joyce said. "You stay with her."

She went to the kitchen and found the brandy. She put a little in a glass and added water. When she returned to the living room Hector was sitting on the edge of the love seat. Her face seem older now, the make-up garish against the pallor of her skin.

"I wondered about you, Dean," she was saying. "You were so curious about my giving that hundred thousand to Perry. I wondered if you were so attentive because you wanted to handle the rest of my money."

Hogan's Start In Canadian Open Not So Hot

TORONTO, Aug. 5 (AP)—The locker-room boys are wondering today if they weren't a little hasty in conceding the Canadian open to tee-sized Ben Hogan.

When Hogan toured the championship layout at the Mississauga club a few hours after his arrival yesterday he fell far behind the old maestro from Mamaroneck, N. Y., Craig Wood. Hogan's score wasn't recorded, but he was nursing a hook and had trouble keeping clear of the swift-running Credit river which threads the 6,563-yard course.

Wood rolled home with a 70, two under par and two over the course record.

The tournament gets under way tomorrow.

Plans Mapped For Soldier Center Here

Committee chairman for the organization were named, including those for securing facilities, equipment, finances and mapping an adequate program for a proposed Soldier Center, at a meeting of the War Recreation Council at the chamber of commerce office Tuesday evening.

Location for the center is to be selected by the facility committee and members of the hospitality committee will arrange for local women to be at the center each day as hostesses.

Duties of the planned committee will be to keep a program of entertainment scheduled for the soldiers stationed in Big Spring. Finance committee members will contact local people for funds to furnish and equip the soldier center.

The Skyette's, an organization of girls sponsored by Mrs. Ira Thurman, will provide girls for dances, picnics and other events at which the club is invited. Members of the control committee will be responsible for running of the center and observance of the policies determined for the organization.

Committee chairman appointed include: Facility committee, chairman, B. J. McDaniel, H. H. Rutherford, James Wilcox, Mrs. R. R. Ewan, Mrs. Ben Le Fever, Hospitality committee, Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, chairman, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. R. E. Blount, Mrs. V. H. Flewelling.

Conservation Supervisors In Session

Supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District Tuesday approved two priority areas, looking ahead to a day when relief labor might be utilized, and planned some educational literature.

Nine individual agreements for conservation plans were approved by the board and the Lomax and Fairview areas were given priority for SCS aid because they were submitted as groups.

Preparation of a pamphlet explaining the purpose and workings of the district was authorized, and board members recommended several things that might be done by relief labor if and when it returns as a part of the national life.

Attending were E. T. O'Daniel, chairman, R. L. Warren, Earl Heald, Gordon Stone and M. L. Koonce—the complete personnel of the board.

Game In Car Lot Gets Youngsters Into Trouble

A new kind of game turned out to be trouble for three boys Tuesday night when police noted a disturbance in a used car lot at 4th and Runnels. The boys had gained entrance to the grounds, and were racing cars back and forth within the lot.

On questioning by officers, one boy, 13, admitted taking some warm beer from the Casino during the winter, a misdemeanor unknown to either police or the cafe owner. Another boy, 15, admitted breaking into the Round Top also during the winter. The third youth involved was dismissed but the other two were turned over to county juvenile court.

However, J. B. Bruton, police officer, reported that juvenile delinquency rates were down 60 per cent over last year and down 25 per cent in the last three months. Most cases, Bruton said, were old charges reported during the winter.

Lions Get Report On Convention At Toronto

Highlights of the Lions International convention in Toronto, Canada, were outlined before the local club Wednesday by its three delegates.

Emphasis on sacrificial participation in the war effort was heard throughout the convention, said Lawrence Robinson, club president. Speakers were confident of ultimate victory, but warned that "we shall win only if we deserve to win."

Robinson quoted Lieut. Col. Julian C. Hyer, a past president of the international, as saying that "right has never lost a war yet, it may be crucified today, buried tomorrow, but on the third day it will surely rise, x x x We must not be impatient for we must realize that God does not pay every day or every week—but in the end."

Jack Smith and Jake Douglas, other delegates, told of parts of the convention, including a key member's breakfast and trip side-lights.

They had 200 horned toads which they took into Canada and which created a mild sensation. They met no luck in trying to give one to a negro porter who protested he would sooner have a rattlesnake.

"But," protested the Big Spring delegates, "a rattlesnake might bite you and kill you and these toads can't." The negro had his mind made up. "No suh," he stood his ground, "I'd cut off that rattlesnake's rattlers and he couldn't hurt me den."

Scout Camp Applications Being Taken

Although applications were supposed to be in the council office in Sweetwater today for the second Boy Scout camp of the summer, it was indicated that those applying as late as Friday might be able to get in.

The council office said it would accept applications through Friday, although Wednesday had been established as deadline time.

Ben Newhouse, Big Spring, and Jack Hodges, Odessa, field executives and who will direct the camp, anticipated at least 150 boys. The number could go considerably higher without in the least taxing facilities.

Plans call for the camp to be at Merton, west of San Angelo on Spring creek.

Court Of Honor Well Attended

More than three score Boy Scouts, augmented by 25 leaders, took part in the regular monthly Court of Honor program Tuesday evening at the city park.

Half of the boys turned out for a swim in the munny pool and all were on hand for the watermelon feast following. Next month, said Ben Newhouse, field executive, it is planned to have some other entertainment, possibly a wicker roast.

W. C. Blankenship, court of honor chairman, presided and presentations were made by other scouts of the district.

Newly earned awards went to: Pete Fuglar and Jerry Manell, both of troop No. 1 second class; Lynn Speer, troop No. 4, first class; and H. W. Bartlett and James Brock, troop No. 4, merit badges. Several awards earned previously were presented during the meeting at the scout hut.

Here 'n There

Five men were taken into custody Tuesday night on charges of larceny at a local beef.

Charges were preferred on four of the men but one was dismissed. Three paid fines of $15 each.

A new kind of theft, stealing waxes was reported by police officers who investigated a complaint of intruders at 100 Dixie. The thirsty invaders fled the scene before police arrived.

So big is the demand for fruit in the area that the Von Roeder Farms announced the peach orchard would be re-opened on Aug. 1, the crowds flocking in during the night resembled a land rush through. One hour after the Von Roeders began selling their peaches at dawn, the supply was cleaned out. More than $500 had been sold.

US General In Moscow On Aid Mission

MOSCOW, Aug. 5 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Follett Bradley, former commander of the first air force, United States eastern defense command, has arrived in Moscow on a special mission to intensify American aid to Russia, it was announced today.

Bringing a letter from President Roosevelt to Premier Stalin, the general reached Moscow last night, plotting his own plane—a United States B-24 bomber. His trip by air from Washington took ten days.

"I am here to facilitate any possible way to make aid to Russia more effective," he said.

The general, 52, is a native of Nebraska.

Burned Animals Get Treatment

CLEVELAND, Aug. 5 (AP)—Seared circus beasts surviving the terror of fire that destroyed 39 animal attractions of the "Greatest Show on Earth" today received first aid in an emergency animal hospital set up in Cleveland's Public Hall.

While the show under the Ringling Brothers "big top" went on with all its usual glitter and bright lights last night, veterinarians worked to save five animals injured but rescued after a 20-minute fire burned to death or suffocated 30 of the circus' beasts. Nine others had to be shot to put them out of misery.

All were on display in the show's menagerie but had no part in big top performances.

Pendergast Machine May Lose Its Last Kansas Stronghold

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 5 (AP)—The once mighty Pendergast democratic machine appeared in danger today of losing its last major patronage stronghold—the Jackson county courthouse.

Only one of the organization endorsed candidates for the three-judge county court—governing unit for the county—appeared.

Certain of nomination on the face of virtually complete returns from Tuesday's primary, Fred W. Klaber, with only one precinct missing, had a 2,000 vote lead.

Nomination to one of the other positions went to George S. Montgomery, backed by the Independent Democratic association, by 55 votes with one precinct missing, and the independent candidate, Walter L. Yeat, won the third position by 1,700 votes of complete unofficial returns.

OPA Men Told To Take Steps To Fight Inflation

FORT WORTH, Aug. 5 (AP)—Immediate steps must be taken against inflation in the form of price control and rationing enforcement, nearly 100 Office of Price Administration investigators were told at the close of a two-day session yesterday.

C. W. Nichols of Dallas, regional OPA price executive, declared that the "OPA has passed the point where it can talk about what is going to be done and now must roll up its sleeves and stop the upward spiral of the cost of living."

State's Deficit Decreases Slightly

AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (AP)—The state's general fund deficit stood at $28,807,263 today, a decrease of $167,898 from the same date a year ago.

The treasury department announced the deficit coincidentally with a call for payment of $2,710,521 in general fund warrants, or those dated through Nov. 11, 1941.

The department announced also it was ready to pay $1,637,656 in warrants dated prior to Sept. 1, 1940 which have not been turned in. They become valid after Aug. 31 because of the statute of limitation.

Four Recruits For Navy Added Here

Four more names were added Wednesday to the list of men accepted at the Big Spring sub-station since Aug. 1 for enlistment in the U. S. Navy.

Three were for the construction service and one, James Henry Brown, was enlisted in the reserves for V-2 (aviation ground work). Those in construction service were Barney Cecil Watson, Kermit, and Michael Doyle Eudy and Howard Realya Eudy, brothers from Lamesa.

Allred Boosters Hear Him Talk At Colorado

Several members of the local Allied for Senator club journeyed to Colorado City Wednesday morning to hear their candidate in his run-off campaign for the democratic nomination.

Former Governor James V. Allred had a large crowd to hear him despite the time. He spoke for most of an hour and was frequently interrupted by cheers.

Currently, his itinerary does not call for a stop in Big Spring during the run-off campaign. He opened his drive for the nomination in Abilene Tuesday evening.

Many Feared Dead As Train, Bus In Smashup

CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., Aug. 5 (AP)—Train and passenger bus collided here today, killing or injuring an undetermined number of persons.

L. W. Stringer, cashier at the railway station, said the accident occurred in the city at a crossing near the station and that injured were being removed.

In Jackson, highway patrolmen said they were informed "38 or 39 persons were in the bus and train and most of them were killed or seriously injured."

Woman Granted Execution Stay

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 5 (AP)—The Louisiana supreme court today granted a stay of execution for Mrs. Annie Beatrice Henry, 26, sentenced to be executed Aug. 10 for the rice field slaying of Joseph P. Calloway, Houston, tex. salesman on St. Valentine's day, 1940.

The supreme court directed the Calcasieu parish sheriff and trial judge to show cause October 5 why the authorities should not be enjoined from carrying out the execution under defense counsel's attack on constitutionality of the state law changing the mode of legal execution from hanging to the electric chair.

Nine Escape From Rooming House Fire

DALLAS, Aug. 5 (AP)—Nine persons escaped death when flames swept through a two-story rooming house shortly before dawn here today.

Four persons were forced to leap from the second story when their exit door the only stairway was blocked by smoke and flames. Three were hurt slightly.
