We received some more good showers during the first part of the week. The Good Lord has again blessed us with needed moisture in some areas where it was needed to plant the peanut crop. This fine rain sure makes the prospects look better for a good crop. It has, however, caused several farmers to replant their crops, but as they all say, they had rather see it wet than "too dry".

And remember to smile because God Loves You!

Jo Katherine Ripley and Billy Hamilton Say Vows

The marriage of Miss Jo Katherine Ripley and Billy David Hamilton was solemnized at First Baptist Church in Gorman Friday evening, June 6, 1975 at eight o'clock in the evening. Rev. David Currie, Baptist Youth Director of Gorman, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ripley of Gorman and a spring graduate of Gorman High School.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hamilton of De Leon. He is a graduate of De Leon High School and a senior at Tarleton State University and is employed by North Park Manor, De Leon.

Mrs. Rocky Bunting of De Leon was organist and Mrs. David Currie, soloist.

The church was decorated with an arch of emerald greenery, apricot gladioli with white ribbon bows and a cluster of baby's breath. Standing under the arch was a tall brass candle stand with a vanilla candle. On each side of the arch were candelabras of white tapers with white satin bows, emerald greenery and apricot gladioli.

Family pews were marked with white satin bows and lace leafy fern.

During the ceremony the bride and groom took a candle from the respective candelabra and together lit the candle of life.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown in cascading ruffles of french imported chantilly lace that swept to a chapel train. Sequined chantilly lace scalloped the sabrina neckline. Complimenting the gown was a finger tip veil of silk illusion fastened to a headpiece of french imported chantilly lace encrusted with pearls.

Her bouquet was a simplicity cascade of white daisies and baby's breath centered on a white Bible.

The bride carried out the tradition of something, old, new, borrowed and blue, and a penny in her shoe. For something old, she wore the wedding band of her great-grandmother Pittman. The something borrowed and blue was the garter her mother wore at her own wedding.

Mrs. Larry Kimmell of De Leon was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Wendell Treadway of Gorman.

They were attired in dresses of apricot flocked oxford fashioned with empire waistlines accented with white lace. They wore wide brimmed hats and daisies and lace encircled the crown. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of white daisies and baby's breath.

Rocky Bunting served as best man. Groomsman was Larry Kimmell of De Leon. Ushers were Tony Ripley of Gorman, brother of the bride, and Ricky Hamilton of Hamlin, nephew of the groom. Candlelighters were Jeff Ripley of Gorman, brother of the bride, and Christy Thacker of De Leon, niece of the groom. Flower girls were Cindy Thacker of De Leon and Tammy Hamilton of Hamlin, both nieces of the groom. They wore dresses identical to the honor attendants.

Mother of the bride wore a long knit dress of lime green with white accessories and a yellow orchid. The mother of the groom wore a beige dress with navy accessories and a white orchid.

Reception was hosted by the parents of the bride in Fellowship Hall of the church. Debbie Gardner, cousin of the bride, registered guests. Members of the house party were Dianne Vaughn, Krista Henderson, Phyllis Guthery, all of Gorman, and Dana Thacker of De Leon, niece of the groom.

The bride's table was covered with floor length white sheer organza with peach colored ribbon bows at each corner and center. A massive arrangement of white carnations and baby's breath centered the table, sided by brach silver candelabra with tapers.

The multi-tiered wedding cake was elaborately decorated with apricot colored roses and white and silver wedding bells topped the cake. Punch was served from a silver service and appointments were silver and crystal.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in Fellowship Hall of the church.

For travel, the bride chose a dress designed with pale green and yellow floral chiffon bodice with white linen skirt, green buttons and stitching. Her accessories were white.

Following the honeymoon trip the couple will be at home in De Leon.

Ellison Springs Marker Dedicated On Sunday

UNVEILING OF MARKER — Shown above is Mike Collins Eastland County Historical Survey Committee Chairman and Mrs. Era Whitehurst who cut the ribbon unveiling the Ellison Springs Historical Marker. Mrs. Whitehurst did the honors for her sister Mrs. Iva Buchan, eldest of the Ellison descendants, who was scheduled to unveil the marker, but was ill and unable to attend the dedication.

It was a memorable day Sunday for a large number of the descendants of the Ellison family, when the Ellison Springs Historical Marker was unveiled and the visiting of the springs site where so many of their relatives settled in the early days of Eastland County, fighting the Indians and underwent the hardships of building homes and cultivating the land.

Judge Scott Bailey, County Judge of Eastland County, told of the many hardships and the bravery of the descendants who settled the area around Ellison Springs. He also recognized all the descendants present as well as County Commissioners who made the marker possible to be erected by appropriating funds for the marker, and honored guests, Judge and Mrs. Earl Conner.

Replicas of paperweights to be presented to the research committee are being made, were not presented as planned at the dedication. Members of this committee are Mrs. Alton Wilhite, Monahans; Mrs. R. D. Wright, De Leon; Mrs. Raymond Anderson, Stephenville; and Mrs. Ellison Tom, Jr. of Andrews.

Mr. Ellison Tom, Jr. of Andrews, who is chairman of Andrews Historical Survey Committee, gave the benediction.

The reception hosted by the Ellison descendants was held under the lovely live oak trees at the site of Ellison Springs, and near the former home of Jimmy and Elza Ellison, who built a cabin in 1858 and a short time later erected a home at the same location, which is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fraser. It is the oldest continually lived-in home in Eastland County.

Mrs. Iva Buchan, who is now 93, remembers vividly the many times she visited her grandparents at this home when she was quite young.

Mrs. George Fraley Honored With Pink-Blue Shower

Mrs. George Fraley was complimented at a pink and blue shower Tuesday, May 20, in the home of Mrs. Lenon Shipman.

Karen Guthery served the punch and cookies and Martha Guthery registered guests.

Special guests were Mrs. Era Fraley, mother-in-law of the honoree, and sisters-in-law, Louise Rich and Allie Lou Fraley.

Control of Foliar Disease of Peanuts

Prepared By Texas Agric. Experiment Station In 1974 we requested financial support for studies on control of foliar diseases of peanuts in Texas. However, the reduced financial support was designated specifically for web blotch research. Therefore, the 1974 progress report is devoted solely to the presentation of results obtained in our web blotch research program.

The objectives of the 1974 web blotch experiments were (a) to determine the effect of different fungicide application schedules on control of web blotch in Wilson County, (b) to evaluate the effect of fungicides and fungicidal mixtures on the control of web blotch in Frio County, (c) to measure varietal differences in susceptibility to web blotch in a 1974 Frio County variety test, and (d) to study the biology of the web blotch fungus in an effort to find vulnerable points in its life cycle, in order to develop appropriate control measures.

The pertinent results of the 1974 web blotch experiments were: (a) Ascochyta web blotch and other foliar diseases developed slowly at the Wilson County test site. Adequate disease control was obtained with either three applications of Bravo 6F or three applications of a mixture containing Benlate 50W, Mazatec 200 and Sunspray 7E oil. (b) Web blotch was the predominant disease in a Frio County test, but it did not develop rapidly until late in the growing season. Kocide 404S, a flowable copper sulfur mixture, gave good control of web blotch and significantly higher yields of Starr peanuts than any other treatment in the test. (c) The incidence of web blotch was low in a Frio County variety test. Nevertheless, Florunner was significantly more tolerant to web blotch than either Starr or Tamnut 74. Starr and Tamnut 74 were significantly different in their reaction to web blotch. Goldin I was significantly more tolerant to web blotch than either Starr or Tamnut 74. (d) Web blotch was observed on volunteer peanut plants on 15 March 1974, and it was present throughout the growing season in South Texas. Ascochyta produces at least three types of spores (ascospores, conidia and chlamydsopores. It is a fungus that appears to be well adapted to survival and genetic variability. At the present time the peanut plant is the only known host of the web blotch fungus.

Natural Gas

Phase-Out Would Mean Lights Out

AUSTIN — "An abrupt phase out of natural gas as a boiler fuel would simply mean the lights would go out," W. G. Marquardt, president of Texas Electric Service Co., said in a statement filed Tuesday with the Texas Railroad Commission.

Marquardt was one of several utility company officials appearing here before a hearing of the commission called for the purpose of determining the reasonableness of reducing or eliminating natural gas as a boiler fuel in the state.

The TESCO president said in his statement that his company already has a long-term plan to reduce its dependence on natural gas as a boiler fuel and to use lignite and nuclear fuels for a major part of its boiler fuel requirements.

"This year, 20 percent of the kilowatt-hours generated for our customers' needs will come from lignite plants," he said. "In 1982 about 65 percent of our annual generation will come from lignite and nuclear fuels."

"We have reviewed the possibility of accelerating our fuel diversification program and believe it would be totally impractical. The financial problems would be disastrous," he stated.

If by some miracle it could be done at all, it would heavily burden our customers, he said.

"Such a program would not produce any additional kilowatt hours and would require our customers to pay approximately $300 million per year in additional costs for electric service. This sum is more than our customers are now paying annually for their electric service," Marquardt said.

"In 1973 our company supplied 12 percent of the total electric requirements in the state of Texas but used only 1 - 1/2 percent of the total gas produced in Texas that year. We do not believe it is in the public interest to eliminate such a small amount of natural gas used for boiler fuel at a time when more than three times as much gas is being shipped out of state as utilities in Texas are using to generate electricity."

The company must continue to depend on natural gas for boiler fuel, particularly during peak use periods in the summer. "Not having enough gas or oil to run our existing plants for these peak periods would result in very expensive plants (lignite or nuclear) with a low-use factor. The plants we are building are for base-load operations and will be used year round. But to build the expensive lignite or nuclear plants for only peak-load operation is in our opinion an unwarranted burden on our customers and a questionable use of the limited financial resources of this country," he said.

"Our present plan of reducing our dependence on natural gas as a boiler fuel is very expensive. We must spend about $470 million during the next three years, which is half as much as has been spent in the entire history of our company. Lignite plants cost about four times as much. This will require frequent rate increases to obtain the funds necessary to support this increased investment.

"We have a farsighted and realistic plan. Even so, it will be difficult to carry out and especially difficult to finance. The economic and social consequences of restricting natural gas use during this order-

Since higher fuel costs are pushing the price of electricity up, it's important to use it wisely.

These two simple tools can help.

Proper insulation and weatherstripping will help you use electricity more efficiently for air conditioning. You can check the insulation and weatherstripping in your home with just a ruler and a flashlight.

Inadequate insulation is a major cause of energy loss in most homes — in both summer and winter.

If the insulation in your attic measures less than six inches, we suggest you call a qualified insulation contractor who can evaluate the efficiency of your present insulation. He can also tell you how to bring your insulation up to recommended standards.

To check the weatherstripping around exterior doors, have someone shine a flashlight around the edges of each closed door. If you can see light, it means you may have to add or replace worn weatherstripping.

Saving electric energy takes very little energy on your part, but since electricity is costing more, it's worth the effort.

YOU (AND EACH OF YOU) ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the 91st District Court at Eastland, Texas of Eastland County at the Courthouse thereof, in Eastland, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 9th day of June A. D. 1975, to Plaintiff's First Amended Original Petition filed in said court, on the 28th day of April A. D. 1975, in this cause, numbered 26,646 on the docket of said court and styled Allen Glenn Iley, Et Al, Plaintiff, vs. Travis Smith, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:

The nature of this suit, briefly stated, is one of Trespass to Try Title, in which plaintiffs for cause of action would respectfully show the Court:

1) That on or about April 3, 1969, they were lawfully in fee simple, seized and possessed of realty situated in Eastland County, Texas, and lawfully described as two tracts of land totalling 14 1/2 acres out of the NW/4 and SW/4 of Section 12, Block 1, H&TC Ry. Co. Survey, and more fully described in a Warranty Deed recorded in Vol. 569, Page 426 of the Deed Records, Erath County, Texas.

2) That defendants unlawfully entered upon said premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from them possession thereof to his damage. Plaintiffs pray for judgment for title and possession of said land, and for other and further relief to which they are entitled, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's petition on file in this suit.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Witness, Joe T. Gray, Clerk of the 91st District Court of Eastland County, Texas.

Issued and given under my hand and the seal of said court at Eastland, Texas, this 28th day of April A. D. 1975.

WEEK OF JUNE 5

We played a few games of 84 Saturday evening at Big Foot and Mama's house, though Big Foot was not up to playing just a few games.

Annie Henderson of Portales, N. M. was visiting us and made a good hand. Granny Kent was nearly out of snuff. You see, she has to let Twyllia know where she is and has to report where she is every two hours. It is good that she has a boss over her. My Boss does me the same way, nearly.

Fats and Murel have been fishing as they need a lot of cat food for those extra kittens. They say those kittens just feel like grandchildren to them. Tester and Double Six are really on the garden list now. Easters are on the puny list. He is having a little ear trouble. He says that he has so much wax in his ears that the doctor cannot even see through his head now. What he needs to do is go see our Office Doctor. He would fix him up OK. You see, he has a small "Electric Chair." That would get him to where he could hear and move with some vigor and vitality, I'll bet. Old Windy is still on the wild list. Mostly dipping, spitting and blowing.

Our office is a little busier now. The rain gave the fish a little rest as the feeders were playing a few games. I went out with Ham Hock Jack to the well being drilled on the Browder place. You see old Ham Hock has a part of the mineral on that place. He asked the "Driller" how they were doing. He said (the driller) they had struck some gas. Ham Hock reached for his shirt pocket and said "Oh, I forgot the cigars again today." You see, he is nearly an oil maggat, or I should say a gas maggat. Boy he reared back like he was nearly grown, a smile from ear to ear. If you want to see him smile, just say "Hello Maggat". It will come. Good luck Maggat.

I almost forgot, Digger played a few games. He is still veay weak yet. Come again.

Doc is getting his nerves settled a little better now, since his main patient, Stoker, is on the mend. It really makes Doc proud of himself.

Marcy and Tater Bat are really a team. The main trouble Marcy just slaps his dominoes on the table and takes an extra puff on old 97 and watches the smoke roll. Hodge is with us a lot now. Though he is a lot like Luke when it comes to recycling that alfalfa. Trailer Clyde is with us some lately. Bud helps out at times. Uncle Sam and Floyd have about quit arguing as neither one can win an argument. Luke's neighbor is with us again as he says he has a second wife now. Though I believe he is not telling the truth. Speck is with us more now. Though for awhile the "Rambling Rose" had him tangled in the brambles. Good luck, you two. The Fisherman has to have his social security nap regularly. I am mostly just a side coach now. Demoted. Tester is very regular. In the garden or at the office.

I am going to see an eye specialist in Odessa this week. Sure hope he can do something for me. Say a word to the man upstairs.

Now to you that are finishing high school. That is the key that opens the door to a land of many opportunities. Set your goal high and go to it. Education is something that no one can take from you. So use your opportunities and take the right road. Remember this: smoking costs money and many bad side effects. Drinking and drugs cost a lot more and you can ruin your life and break your parents and loved ones heart. So for the love of self, friends, parents, loved ones and God, leave that off. Do not do that just because your gang or friends do. Just be human enough to say "no, that is not for me." Always respect your parents, your country and yourself, as a character that has been damaged is so very hard to rebuild or repair. You have my best wishes in any honorable walk of life you persue. So look up and remember, as Joe says, "God Loves You."

Predator Assn. Formed in County

The Eastland County Predator Control Assn. was formed recently and voted to hire a government trapper to come into Eastland County to work for the Association.

Verylon Durant was hired. He will be coming to Eastland County as soon as he can find a place to live.

Individuals who wish to join the association should contact Eastland County Agent Dee Gordon at the county courthouse.

The services are only for persons in the association.

Dues have been set at two cents per acre quarterly. More members joining the association will cause the dues to go down, as it is interested only in paying the salary of the trapper.

Predators are usually listed as bob cat, wolves, fox, coyote or anything that is destroying or harming livestock or property.

Report Married Name To Social Security Office

Women getting married should remember to tell the Social Security Administration about their new name, according to Glyn Hammons, Social Security District Manager in Abilene.

"In order to correct her Social Security card and keep her earnings record accurate and up-to-date, a bride should give us her new married name," Hammons said. "Then earnings she had both before and after her marriage can be correctly credited to the same record."

A woman's work and earnings in jobs covered by Social Security builds retirement, disability, survivors, and Medicare protection for herself and her family.

A new bride can call, write, or visit any Social Security Office to get her name changed on her record. "Or she can use a form available at any Post Office and many employers personnel offices," Hammons said.

People who change their name because of divorce or for business or other reasons should also notify Social Security, Hammons noted.

The Abilene Social Security Office is at 142 S. Pioneer. The phone number is 698-1360.

ELLISON SPRINGS HISTORIC MARKER — Inscription on marker reads: "Used for centuries by Indians inhabiting the region. Named for James Madison Ellison (1840-1923). A native of Alabama who was the first settler in this section of Eastland County, erecting a cabin near the springs in October, 1858. He soon married Eliza McGough, a member of another pioneer family, and had three children.

During the Civil War, frontiersmen organized militia companies for mutual protection against the Indians. Ellison joined the company mustered from Eastland, Shackelford and Callahan Counties. n August 9, 1864, a group of 12 scouts from the company was attacked near the springs, and took refuge in Ellison's cabin. The commander, Capt. Singleton Gilbert, and Leroy "Button" Keith were killed, and Ellison, Tom Gilbert and Tom Cadenhead wounded. Ellison was disabled for life.

After cessation of Indian activity, Ellison Springs became the center of social and cultural functions for the scattered settlers in the area. Picnics, community gatherings and brush arbor camp meetings were held at the site. In the early 1870's, a Baptist Church was constructed, with the Rev. C. Brashears as minister. A cemetery was begun in the mid 70's. The present frame house at the springs was built by Ellison in 1886."

The marker is located three miles east of Gorman on the Desdemona Highway, near the springs.

Shown above (center) is Mrs. Peeble Boles, whose descendant was Captain Singleton Gilbert, who was killed in the Indian fight at Ellison Springs in August 1864. At right with Mrs. Boles is her grandson, Bill Boles, and to her left, Blake, Bill's son, and another grandson, Bart Boles. Others who took part in the Ellison Springs Indian battle were T. L. Head, Corporal T. E. Keith, Harris York, Alamogordo, Leroy Keith, killed, J. M. Ellison, Gorman, W. C. McGough, Eastland, Jim Gilbert, Millsap, Tom Gilbert, Sam Gilbert, Jasper, Gilbert Temples, Menardville, and Tom Cadenhead.

These families traveled from all parts of Texas to attend this memorable occasion honoring their ancestors and are proud of the heritage left them. The historical marker will show generations to come of the great and brave people that built this part of Eastland County into the great land that it is today.

Mrs. Iva Buchan, 93, oldest living decendant and granddaughter of the late J. M. Ellison, has contributed much of the history of the Ellison Springs settlement and early day activities of the families who settled in the area. Her courage and determination is an example of her brave and strong ancestors who pioneered this section of Eastland County we enjoy today.

Bart Boles inspects Ellison Springs as it is today. The water once flowed over the large rock above, but now trickles from the small opening below. This spring was the reason for the Indians and the early day settlers to come to this section of the county. The springs are surrounded by live oak and other varieties of trees. Water from the spring is still used by the Frasier family who owns the farm. Bart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boles of Eastland.

Leslie Browning of Decatur, Ellison family decendant, and William Glenn of Austin, and Stanley Ray of San Antonio, enjoy a drink from the cool spring water at Ellison Springs.

OMAR BURLESON, M. C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — SPONSORED BY ELEVEN SENATORS AND ELEVEN MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE, an all-day conference was held last week on "Economic Planning in a Free Society." The meeting was moderated by Martin Agronsky with eight well known economists participating.

THE INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE (Which we were unable to accept because of other pressing duties), posed these questions for discussion: Is long-range economic planning feasible in a Democratic society? Can it be decentralized? Humanized? What would be the legislative role in the planning process?

DURING THE DEPRESSION YEARS PRIOR TO WORLD WAR II, an effort was made to administer our resources through national planning. The idea abandoned the concept of free markets. The Supreme Court finally ruled that the National Recovery Administration was unconstitutional.

PROPOSALS NOW IN VOICE FOR ECONOMIC PLANNING are wrapped in a package labeled "progress." A new group called the Initiative Committee for National Eco-conomic Planning is now advocating programs which ignore our free market system. Seemingly, they believe that free enterprise can no longer cope with present-day economic situations. They take advantage of the moods in this time of recession and appeal to those who feel that further progress is unlikely. A controlled economy as an alternative, they say, is the answer.

NO ONE CONTENTS OUR ECONOMIC SYSTEM IS PERFECT but it is inextricably tied to personal freedom and has produced the highest standards of living and the greatest liberty the world has ever known.

THE IDEA OF A MANAGED ECONOMY is based on the assumption that we, as citizens, are simply not smart enough to decide how to spend their money we earn and, therefore, we need to be told what is needed and how much.

THE PLANNERS OMIT ANY REFERENCE TO the fact that the loss of economic liberty is always accompanied by the loss of individual liberty. Those who advocate central planning assume they are smarter than the market-place and it follows that it is they who will control the country.

THE NUMEROUS REGULATIONS NOW IMPOSED ON THE PEOPLE of this Country already encroach on our freedoms. The enforcement of regulations requires force but the advocates of further and more strict controls are usually able to get into their format something about freedoms such as the conference last week with the title "Economic Planning in a Free Society." If the proponents of centralized planning said they were building an economic police state their cause would collapse. Instead, they creep up with component parts of schemes which, when and if finally put together, would constitute a total change. If the total change were inaugurated all at one time the American people would not accept it and would label it for what it is.

THE PROCESS SEEMS TO ADOPT PROGRAMS with laudable purposes, delegate to the bureaucrats arbitrary powers to enforce each decision and try to teach people to understand that the will of the planners is for their own good.

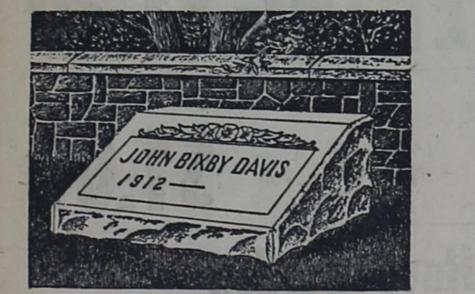

WE, AS A PEOPLE, HAVE ALWAYS been distrustful of the concentration of power. This fact motivated our founders to guard against it. Greater concentration of power in Washington can eventually destroy both our personal freedoms and our ability to produce. We need to preserve both or we may lose both.

Senior Citizen WEEK OF JUNE 12

Well, here I am after a few days vacation. I went to Odesa to see an eye specialist. They checked my eyes and said "No hope for improvement, $25 please." So another straw grasped and blown to the wind. So, here is hoping for the best. Some claimed this specialist could almost make the blind be able to see again.

We played a few games of 84 Saturday night. Granny Kent seemed so nervous. Her coffee was too weak, so she says. Murel was the odd man in the game. She seemed so happy as the mother cat presented her with two grandchildren (kittens). Fats had to stay home and help take care of the babies. Big Foot is still a little slow. Though Mama coached him a lot. My Boss really eats me out, as they claim I try to cheat. Windy was his usual self. He has to play with my curly hair. I believe he is jealous. He still has his same job: Dip and spit all the time. Water Jack at the new bank.

The office is busy at times. Though Doc has stopped his practice and joined the Fisher man and Ham Hock Jack in feeding the fish. Luke is still using a lot of alfalfa. He went to East Texas for some corn squeezines. So he was all smiles today. His neighbor has hit up Frosty for a loan to go the Gulf for some fishing. Be careful on those waves or you might leave a widow. Uncle Sam and Floyd have nearly quit arguing. Digger is still on the slow side. Bud is as courteous as usual. Speed is finally getting untangled from the brambles of the "Rambling Rose" and is with us some now. Tater Bat was on the puny list Saturday. I have been trying to get both sides on an equal basis. It has been rough on me the last two weeks.

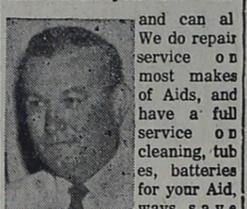

The Easters are still traveling around and seeing their kindred. Tester and Double Six are still on the garden run so far. They have brought us some nice samples lately. Now that school is out and to the high graduates a wonderful door to a bright future is open to so many of you. Set your goals high and do your best to stick to it. Now is the time to cultivate good habits and strive for the best in all you do. Avoid those social drinks and the costly cigarette habit. They cost you time and a lot of money at the same time. They are injurious to your health. Do not bring shame on yourself and your loved ones. Lead an honest clean upright life at all times. Remember you are the holders of tomorrow's destiny in your hands. Use it wisely for some boy or girl living now will some day rule our country. So be prepared. A smile will help win.

Hearing Tests Are Important

If you have a hearing problem of any kind you owe it to yourself to have an Electronic Hearing test made to find why and what can be done to help you before it is too late. The tests are free and will only take about 20 minutes of your time. We check your ears for packed wax, the tubes that let your ears breathe, then with the machine we check your hearing nerve, (bone reading) a air conduction, (outside sounds) then measure how much sound the ear will take. We can pinpoint your problem and explain in plain English what can be done to help you then you make your own decision. We never try to high pressure you into buying anything. There are thousands of people today suffering from hard of hearingness, (even some that wear Hearing Aids) just because they waited too late to do something about it. . . don't let this happen to you.

Mr. Joe Treadway will hold his regular Hearing Aid Workshop at the City Library at City Hall in De Leon on Monday, June 16th from 10:30 A.M. til noon. We invite you to come in for your free test
