OUR 81ST YEAR OF SERVICE

PRESS POINTS Joe Bennett, Publisher

Enjoyed the meeting of the peanut farmers held at De Leon on Friday night when Ross Wilson explained the many problems of the peanut grower to growers who were wanting to know the best thing to do to help the situation as far as the peanut program is concerned.

Ross stated that there are some elected officials doing their best to destroy the peanut program, about the only program that has really worked over the years. It seems that these officials are intent on killing the program entirely. They seek to do away with the allotments which have been the very backbone of the industry in making the program a success. If these officials have their way and the allotments are dropped and peanuts are to be raised by anyone, planting as many as they wish, then there will be so many peanuts that the bottom will fall out as the price of peanuts would be driven so low that no one would be planting them anymore because the market value just wouldn't be sufficient for anyone to grow them. But some way these fools who want to kill the program just can't see it.

I tell you one thing; if these officials are allowed to continue to kill all our agriculture programs, the first thing you know the United States will be in the same shape as some of the other unfortunate countries who are seeing their people die of starvation. Of course, these know-it-all elected officials can't see this. But maybe when they are no longer able to buy food because of killing the agriculture programs, then they will be smart enough to see it. When it's too late.

The best way to stop this before it happens is to raise so much hell with these elected officials that they will have to keep this program which has worked so successfully for so long. Be sure and continue to write letters to officials. It DOES do some good. And do it NOW!

The cool weather that has moved in for a day or two sure is nice for a change. The rain, which we have needed so badly has come and now the peanut growers are in the process of planting or replanting where the planted peanuts have been washed out. Most farmers agree though, that the too wet weather sure is a lot better than the too dry weather we experienced at this time last year. The moisture is marvelous and we all thank the Good Lord for this blessing. Maybe this will be a wetter year and will make up for the lack of production due to the dry weather last year.

The folks to the south of us have had about all the rain they can stand. It has flooded so much in some places that folks have been forced to leave their homes and belongings to flee the high water. But according to the

Funeral For Joyce Smethers Held Friday

Services for Joyce Smethers, 53, of Carbon, who was found dead of natural causes Tuesday at her home, were at 10:30 a.m. Friday at First Baptist Church of Carbon, directed by Bakker Funeral Home.

The Rev. Delbert Smith officiated. Graveside services were at 2:30 p.m. Friday in Johnson Cemetery near Weatherford.

Born Dec. 27, 1927, in Port Arthur, she married Ted Smethers April 30, 1966, in Brownfield. She was a former resident of Oklahoma City and lived in Carbon the past seven years. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Carbon.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Mike Smith of Cisco and David Smethers of Fresno, Calif.; three daughters, Sindi Frazier of Brownwood, Marie Gideon of Amarillo, and Judy Stidham of Fresno, Calif.; a brother, Royce Smith of Coalgate, Okla.; a sister, Margaret Knight of Pampa; 14 grandchildren; and two great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Jerry Cole, Collin Campbell, Henry Harle, Terry Stacy, Ed Stacy, and Houston Cozart.

weatherman the rainy weather is expected to move out for a few days and maybe the flooding conditions will be relieved.

Don't forget the Bake Sale and Rummage sale to be held on Saturday at The Nut House. There will be all kinds of goodies, including ice cream, lemonade, baked goods and a million other good things to buy to support the Band Boosters. Read their ad elsewhere in this issue. Those new band uniforms need to be paid for.

Well the baseball strike continues and some folks are wondering if there will be a baseball season this year. I think the strike will be settled before long and the season can get underway again. The reason it will be settled is because the owners are losing so much money when the games are not played and they have to make money on their investments. After all, with all the money the players are making now, the owners have to make a lot of money to keep the different clubs going. Boy this country sure would be in bad shape if there was no baseball and no peanuts to eat at the games.

And remember to smile -- because God Loves You!

THIS WOULD MAKE A LOT OF COLE SLAW — Mrs. Clifford Moore is shown with one of the giant cabbages grown by her husband in the garden at Oliver Springs. The cabbage weighed 14 and three-fourths pounds. They harvested many heads this size all in perfect form and firm. They have had plenty for their own use and some to share with friends and relatives.

LEGISLATION IS PEANUT GROWERS' WORRY

Those in the know tell me that peanut planting is almost 85 percent complete down in the De Leon and Comanche areas, with the Rising Star and Gorman regions being about 65 to 70 percent complete.

Fact is, things look to be "good as gold" in Texas in the way of production. As tough as it is in West Texas to get water, when a farmer has conditions like he does this year he breathes a sigh of relief.

However, he's got something other than the weather to worry about this year. That something is legislation.

If you had talked to Southwestern Peanut Growers manager Ross Wilson as I had, you would have been able to detect a trace of concern about the status of the peanut program. They fought and won a battle about two months ago, but with the debates on the farm bill coming up next week, the battle will be fought again. Wilson said this battle could turn into a full-scale war before it's all over, and there's no guess as to which side will win.

Of course, the Reagan administration, which includes USDA, has been against the program from the very beginning. It wants to cut out peanut allotments and open the industry up to anyone who wants to try his hand at peanut production. It's written into their proposed farm legislation.

Both the House and Senate Agriculture committees wrote the peanut program into their version of the 1981 farm bill with a raise in the quota support price. The House favored $600 per ton, while the Senate committee favored $631 per ton. They said the peanut growers needed this amount to cover the rising cost of production and still allow for a reasonable profit. Wilson and his troops won that battle — but he knew it was only temporary.

Next Tuesday, the Senate Ag Committee's version of the omnibus farm bill will come up on the floor, and I interpreted Wilson's message to mean that things could get so bad that peanuts aren't the only thing that will be tossed around. In other words, it's going to be a tough battle because evidently there are a few senators who believe a peanut program isn't needed.

From what I can gather, the fight could be tougher than the one in April. First of all, most of the senators and representatives will be voting on it.

And secondly, Wilson said the peanut producer may have lost some votes since the last battle was fought. It seems that some of the early believers may now be taking a wait-and-see attitude and reportedly could go either way.

Let's stop and analyze the situation for a moment. The peanut program has been good for the peanut industry, for the peanut producer and for the federal government. The administration has admitted the program costs the federal government nothing, except for the implementation.

Yet, they still want to abolish the allotments. They want an open-end program where anyone can grow peanuts.

Wilson said people who want to grow peanuts can still apply for allotments, buy land with allotments already there, or they can even rent the land that has allotments on it. It's common knowledge among peanut producers that abolishment of the program would be bad news to those who produce in Texas and Oklahoma, but just how bad would the news be? Wilson said, under the allotment system, the Southwest region is guaranteed of producing 30 percent of the nation's peanuts. Should the program be smothered, that figure might be more like 5 to 10 percent of the nation's supply.

Wilson said the impact on peanut growers here in the Southwest could be devastating. Peanut production makes up a big portion of the income in Comanche and Eastland counties, and is a significant crop in other surrounding counties.

Wilson urges all peanut growers and business interests to write Texas Senators, John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and urge their active support of the Helm's Farm Bill.

FLAGS FLOWN AT HALF-MAST FOR MAYOR OF PORT ARANSAS

Flags throughout Port Aransas flew at half-mast. A funeral wreath was placed upon the door of the Civic Center. A black ribbon was draped across the mayor's nameplate at the City Council table.

Mayor Dennis A. "Deacon" Dreyer, a life-long resident of Port Aransas, died May 12 after an extended illness.

"Whether you agreed with Dennis' politics or not, he was a good-hearted man." "Pure Port Aransas."

"He was the best mayor Port Aransas ever had."

There were some of the actual comments of islanders upon learning of the mayor's death. The mayor's friends came from all walks of life.

His funeral at Community Presbyterian Church was attended by a capacity crowd of about 225 people. No one seemed surprised to see Port Aransas community leaders nor at least one Corpus Christi city councilman nor even "Lawnmower Ted" Tallard in attendance. The all came to return the respect he had shown them.

One of his friends was City Maintenance Supervisor Raymond Nutt. Nutt tells a story of the time "the Deacon" lost both his feet to amputation due to a circulatory problem. The mayor was talking about getting his car specially equipped so he could drive. He didn't want to curtail his duties as mayor.

"You don't need it," Nutt told his friend, the mayor. "You can drive that car and you can walk too."

"You think I can, Raymond?" asked Mayor Dreyer.

And walk he did. He was an active mayor right up until he began to have serious heart problems a few months before his death at age 66.

He was elected mayor in 1974 and won re-election three times. Before that, he served as a city councilman two terms when Roy Turnbull was mayor. Turnbull died in 1979.

He was a boat captain for many years and was a member of the Port Aransas Boatman's Association. He was an outdoorsman and was active in organizing the first ever Port Aransas Chapter of Ducks Unlimited last year. And he was a long-time member of the Port Aransas Lions Club.

He was a member of the Community Presbyterian Church and Aransas Pass Masonic Lodge 1018.

The Port Aransas City Council has expressed its intent to name the new fishing pier to be built at the Municipal Harbor the Dennis A. Dreyer Memorial Fishing Pier. A Coastal Energy Impact grant of $210,000 has been awarded the City for the proposed pier. Mayor Dreyer was a leading force in the conception of the 195-foot, concrete, L-head pier and in efforts to secure a federal grant for its construction.

Mr. Dreyer is a relative of Mrs. Cecil and Mrs. Joe Bennett of Gorman and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Alta Rhynne of Carbon.

Vegetables include roots such as potatoes, stems such as celery, flowers such as capers, fruits such as tomatoes and seeds such as peas.

KOKOMO NEWS

by Zelda Jordan

Isn't the cool weather nice after the hot days? We received some rain on Sunday, Monday and Monday night.

Darrin Barker of San Saba and Kevin Rodgers of Brownwood were visitors at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning. There were quite a few visitors at the VBS Commencement exercises on Sunday night. The youngsters and their leaders had prepared a very good program so that we might see some of the things they had learned during the week.

Those from Kokomo Baptist Church going to Lawndale for the church service on Sunday afternoon were Bro. Jim Andrews, Woodrow and Helen Browning, J. C. and Anna Laura Clearman, J. L. and Noama Morrow, Glenn and Zelda Jordan and Lavelle Rodgers.

Donna Browning, Kathy Snider, Angela Burgess, Charla Little and Tammy Campbell and their Acteen leader attended the Super Summer Youth Rally in Fort Worth on Friday night and Saturday and report a very good time.

50TH ANNIVERSARY

Bro. and Mrs. Joe O'Neal observed their 50th wedding anniversary quietly at home on Sunday, June 14. Many friends and relatives telephoned their anniversary greetings. Their daughter and son-in-law, Sharon and Nat Mearse, of Odessa visited from last Sunday until Thursday with them. Mrs. O'Neal's sisters, Mrs. Roy George of Farmersville and Mrs. Lois Scharader of San Antonio visited with them Friday and Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Bert O'Neal of Snyder visited with them on Sunday before. Nancy Hendricks visited with them on Sunday afternoon. Others visiting during the week were Ava Rodgers, Allene Reeves and Avery Crawley of Eastland and Naoma Morrow.

Our congratulations to Bro. Joe and Thelma and wish them many more happy years together.

Because of illness, their other daughter and son-in-law, Johnnie and Freddie Shachelford of Kansas and their son and daughter-in-law, Joseph and Floy O'Neal of Austin were unable to visit with the O'Neals at this time.

Mrs. Lavelle Rodgers and Mrs. Clifton Jarrett visited on Wednesday and Thursday in Comfort with Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lynn Clark and Robbie and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jung and Corby and Cara.

Mrs. Henry Scitern had the misfortune to fall and break a hip and underwent surgery in the Ranger General Hospital on Saturday June 6. Complications had developed and when I was there to visit with her on Monday, she was very ill. Her family are at her bedside. We send our prayers and get well wishes to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Burgess and Granbury visited with Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Burgess, Dan, Anglea and Glenn and Alissa on Sunday and attended the VBS program on Sunday night. Alissa spent the week with her grandparents, the Durwood Burgesses, and attended the Bible School.

Other out of town visitors at the Bible School this last week were Kathy Eberhardt of Austin, Jennifer West of Austin, Sheri Miles of Abilene and Yancy Buchanan of Clyde. All were visiting with grandparents, the Jim Bennetts, The Dean Collins, the Glenn Jordans and the Alberts Hendricks.

Wilting of vegetables, especially tomatoes, cabbage and potatoes, is causing a lot of concern to home gardeners. Most of this wilting is not caused by diseases or insects. It is usually a weather related problem.

The vegetable plants started out in a dry soil and developed deep roots. Then we had 4 to 6 inches of rain along with cool weather within one week. The clouds went away and we had hot sunshine beginning on June 6. Plants rooted in very wet, poorly drained soil, began wilting when the hot sun came out. The oxygen-carbon dioxide ratio had changed because of the wet soil, therefore the plants could not take the hot sunshine. Vegetables growing in well drained soil did not have this problem.

If you have this problem and it is not too late, try cultivating with a plow or hoe. This will help dry out the soil and get more oxygen into the root zone.

A lot of problems can be caused by improper watering of the garden. It is not unusual that many gardens get watered two or three times each week. Unfortunately, in most cases this is one of the worst things you can do since it can result in poor root development.

Light, frequent waterings have a tendency to cause a concentration of roots in the top inch or two of the soil. This type of "limited" root system does not pose any real serious problems early in the season when plants are young.

However, as the season progresses and moisture becomes less and less available you may be forced to water frequently to keep McMilliam of Stephenville, Mrs. Billy Burgess of Granbury and Mrs. Erma Eaves of Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McNeely have recently returned from a vacation trip to visit with their son, Larry McNeely and his family in Los Angeles, California and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie McNeely and family in Utah.

The McNeelys visited from Sunday until Thursday last week in Oklahoma City with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noell. Mrs. Noell had undergone surgery in an Oklahoma City Hospital and is reported doing well and expects to return to her home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Graham of Monahans spent Sunday night with Mrs. Estehr Graham, going on to Temple where Clifford underwent some medical tests on Monday.

plants from wilting severely. This practice results in insufficient nutrient uptake, poor growth and disease problems.

Water the garden but by looking at plants but rather by examining your soil. Look at the soil surface. If it appears dry, then scratch to a depth of 1 to 2 inches to determine if moisture is present. If soil is relatively dry beneath the surface, then sufficient moisture is available. Wait a couple of days before applying additional water. Another point to consider is your garden soil. Obviously a sandy soil that drains well will require more frequent watering than a heavy soil which holds water.

How much water to apply is another mystery that confronts us. The amount of water to apply must be determined for each and every garden in the county. Apply enough water until you feel your garden is well watered. Then, take a sharpshooter or shovel and dig down and see if the soil is wet to a depth of at least 6 inches. If the soil is wet at that depth, you have watered enough. If it is relatively dry, then water some more. After doing this a couple of times, experience will tell you when you have watered enough.

How you water is important, but adequate watering at the right time and in the right amount is more important, than the method used. Most gardeners prefer the furrow or flood system as a means of applying water. Others prefer to use a sprinkler.

WATCH FOR TOMATO DISEASES

GORDON WOOLAM

Home Gardeners need to be more aware of diseases because of the unseasonably late rains in conjunction with the warmer temperatures. Tomatoes are particularly susceptible to several diseases.

In addition to disease problems, Tomatoes grown in less than ideally drained soil may also be suffering from weather related problems. Dry weather in the early growing season forced the root systems deep. Recent heavy rains have saturated the deeper soil pore spaces displacing the oxygen. This depletion of oxygen followed by the hot sunny days which succeeded the rainy spell resulted in many wilting Tomato plants. Hoeing or cultivating around the plant base may help to dry the soil out.

Two of the more common fungal diseases which are enhanced by abundant soil are Fusarium Wilt caused by Fusarium oxysporum and Southern Blight caused by Sclerotium rolfsii.

Fusarium Wilt is characterized by drooping plants with wilted lower leaves. The plants show a loss of green color followed by wilting and death. Often leaves only on one side of the stem turn yellow at first. The stem of wilted plants show no sign of soft-rot but when cut lengthwise, the stem will show a dark brown discoloration. The fungus is most active between 80 degrees and 90 degrees F.

Control may be obtained by using disease-free transplants and growing resistant varieties.

Southern Blight, a disease familiar to peanut farmers, begins with the dropping of leaves similar to other wilts. Stems should decay of outer tissues at the ground level. Frequently, they are covered by a white webby mass in which are embedded numerous small, light-brown moisture and warm temperatures for growth. Control may be obtained by granular application of Terrachlor.

There are numerous other small, light-brown structures about the size of a cabbage seed. The fungus requires abundant moisture and warm temperatures for growth. Control may be obtained by granular application of Terrachlor.

There are numerous other diseases which infect Tomatoes. For questions regarding these or any other pest problems, please contact the County Extension Office.

Gangster Al Capone's business card described him as a "second-hand furniture dealer."

HOW TO KEEP MEMORIES OF YOUR BABY IN PHOTOS

You can take good pictures of your baby if you compose your photo carefully and follow a few easy tips. And take your pictures now—because the baby will grow more quickly than you expect.

Whether the child is sitting in the high chair, taking the first wobbly step, or playing with a new toy, these important milestones are forgotten all too soon unless you have good pictures to capture them.

Natural lighting, illustrated in the photo above, can be used to emphasize textures. The play of light and shade on the baby's face softens and flatters yet, at the same time, reveals details clearly.

To take memorable pictures like this, try the pocket-size Kodak Tele-Ektalite 600 camera. You can take pictures under a variety of lighting conditions, because the built-in flash will activate only when needed.

And the built-in telephoto to lens helps bring you "twice as close" to your subject without your having to move an inch.

—Hold the camera level and steady at all times.

—Take pictures at the baby's level by sitting, kneeling or lying on the floor.

—Move in close to help capture precious facial expressions.

—Remove distracting objects from the background by changing your shooting angle.

SERVE UP SOME FUN WITH EASY, HOMEMADE PIZZA

Ancient Romans loved it. Virgil even wrote about it. And, today, Americans too are enjoying their version of this Sicilian pie... pizza.

Besides being a delicious meal or snack-time treat, pizza is fun to make at home. Turning your kitchen into a pizzeria is really easy. Start your pizza with a simple, delicious homemade crust like the one below. Just stir Bisquick® baking mix and water together. Then roll or pat the dough into a circle on a cookie sheet. Top with cheeses, tomato sauce, spices and your favorite meat. And in less than a half hour, serve homemade pizza, fresh from the oven.

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---|
| 2 cups Bisquick baking mix | 1/2 teaspoon dried oregano leaves |
| 1/2 cup cold water | 1 large clove garlic, crushed |
| 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese | 1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese (about 4 ounces) |
| 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce | 1/2 cup chopped green pepper |
| 1/2 teaspoon dried basil leaves | 1/4 cup chopped onion |

Heat oven to 425°. Mix baking mix and water until soft dough forms. Roll or pat dough into 12-inch circle on ungreased cookie sheet; pinch edge of circle, forming 1/2-inch rim. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese over circle. Mix tomato sauce, basil, oregano and garlic; spread over cheese. Top with mozzarella cheese, green pepper and onion. Bake until crust is golden brown, 20 to 25 minutes.

Hamburger Pizza: Top with 1 pound ground beef and 1/2 teaspoon salt, browned and drained.

Italian Sausage Pizza: Top with 1 pound bulk Italian sausage, browned and drained.

Pepperoni Pizza: Top with 1 cup sliced pepperoni.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Use boiling water to make dough.

Hints for Homemakers TIPS TO HELP YOU

If you haven't taken a good look at your windows

YOUR GARDEN

To help keep their food budget from going to seed, more Americans are gardening than ever before. Home-grown vegetables not only help food budgets but, many say, taste better than store-bought produce, too.

To help keep your plants free from weeds, cut plastic squares from a heavy-weight trash bag such as "Glad" and lay them around the stems of tomatoes, peppers, etc. Or, open the bag fully and lay it between rows of plants. Anchor with rocks. Do this when soil moisture content is high. Punch holes in strips.

To get the most out of your home-grown corn, harvest when the ears are firm and full to the touch and the kernels are plump. Remember, corn that is not cooked within hours after picking begins to lose its sweetness and food value.

You should have no trouble making a "grocery list" for your garden, but if you're a beginner check what your neighbors are growing. One of the easiest vegetables to grow are carrots. In the south they can be grown in the fall, winter and spring, and in the north from spring to fall.

To get your garden in shape after winter, a good idea is to use a heavy-weight trash bag such as "Glad" to collect rocks, debris, weeds and other materials. They're also good for keeping and storing tools.

It's usually better to plow your garden in the fall. This reduces erosion, exposes heavy soils to frost, kills exposed insects, brings about decay of organic matter and generally makes for earlier planting.

lately, you probably should. Windows are one of the home's most important architectural details and one of its most exciting design features. And with more time being spent in the home, there is a new emphasis on creative ways to let in light and air while still maintaining privacy.

This unique pleated shade screens the sun yet lets in soft, restful light.

Although traditional window treatments such as curtains and draperies continue to be fashionable, one of the most popular new looks is the shade—a trim, updated window treatment that maximizes control over light and privacy and offers space-saving advantages. This innovative new look is designed to broaden the scope of possibilities for decorating, while providing important and attractive color accents.

Also continuing strong as window design elements are colored thin-slat blinds and woven wood shades interspersed with bright threads of color and pattern.

These, and a host of other looks, are available from Montgomery Ward. For a free copy of that company's new 1981 home furnishings catalog, write to Montgomery Ward, Dept. HFC, P.O. Box 6778; Chicago, IL 60680.

KOKOMO EH CLUB MEETS IN RAINEY HOME

The Kokomo Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Wanda Rainey at Carbon on Monday, June 8, 1981. Vice-President, Naoma Morrow presided. Berneice Rodgers led the opening exercises.

Wanda Rainey gave the devotional from Matt: 6:25-35 and Anna Laura Clearman voiced the prayer.

The roll call was answered with "What I would like to change about TV" and "My personal idea of a happy retirement" by nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Janet Thomas of Eastland.

A new member, Mrs. Lavelle Rodgers, was welcomed into the club.

Zelda Jordan read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Thomas announced that the County 4-H Dress Revue would be held in Cisco on June 25. The kokomo Club will furnish cookies for the reception following the dress revue.

Mrs. Janet Thomas, Co. Extension Agent, gave a very interesting program on Furniture "Make Overs" with Fabric. Showing cloth covered window shutters, cornices, covered table lamp shades, Parson's table and an upholstered footstool. She also showed slides of ways to decorate your home using sheets.

Wynelle Brown entertained with piano selections as everyone viewed Wanda's owl collection throughout her house.

Mrs. Clearman voiced the prayer of thanks for the refreshments. Mrs. Rainey served chips, dips, ham and cheese tidbits, mints, strawberry short cake and homemade ice cream and cold drinks to Wynelle Brown, Anna Laura Clearman, Johnnie B. Griffith, Zelda Jordan, Naoma Morrow, Ava Rodgers, Berniece Rodgers, Lavelle Rogers and Janet Thomas.

A good time was had by all and all lingered on for quite some time after the meeting just to visit.

The next meeting will be in September.

I AM THE FARMER

"I am the provider for all mankind. Upon me every human being constantly depends. A world itself is built upon my toil, my products, my honesty.

"Because of my industry, America, my country, leads the world: her prosperity is maintained by me; her great commerce is the work of my good hands; her 'balance of trade' springs from furrows of my farm. My reaper brings food for today; my plows hold promises for tomorrow.

"In war I am absolute; in peace I am indispensable—my country's surest defense and constant reliance. I am the very soil of America, the hope of the race, the balance wheel of civilization. When I prosper, men are happy; when I fail, all the world suffers.

"I live with nature, walk in green fields under the golden sunlight, out in the great alone, where brain and brawn and toil supply mankind's primary needs; and I try to do my humble part to carry out the great plan of God.

"Even the birds are my companion; they greet me with a symphony at the new day's dawn and chum with me until the evening prayer is said. If it were not for me, the treasures of the earth would remain securely locked; the granaries would be useless frames; man himself would be doomed speedily to extinction or decay."

SENIOR CITIZENS NEWS

Well, it is misting on this day (Saturday) as I start these "Ramblings" and I will be in a Reunion at the Fire Hall tomorrow.

Gee! We are lucky in missing the terrible floods and hail storms. For which we are so thankful.

Slim Akers born in Chaney Community passed away this week. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the loved ones. May you remember to look to the Master of all, in your time of sorrow.

I just wonder if ex-president Carter told Amy how he let Cuban soldiers take over Nicaragua. You know that Samozza was against communism and Carter wanted Samozza out. After Cuba took over, Carter gave him 20-30 million dollars on the deal. These are facts. Then when Congress voted to give the Panama Canal back to Panama Carter said it would not cost one cent. Tho he turned and gave them 4 billion, 8 hundred million dollars then. So Communist could take it over. Those are actual facts and can be proven.

In the early 1800's the Pirates off Tripoli, demanded so much money to let our ships trade in that area. Tho a young nation and weak the American Navy officer said, "Millions for defence but not one cent tribute." Tho Carter an ex-naval officer told little Ian "We will pay billions for ransom". What a shame. I am sure he told Amy all of this. Also he wanted one more term to bring the U.S. to its knees. He would not build up Armed Forces. Would not build neutron bomb and many other weapons.

Brought 130,000 Cubans to U.S. Some of them were jail birds and homosexuals and old and decrepit ones. Now we are one trillion dollars in debt due to the liberals.

Some are fussing about Reagan trying to cut Social Security. It is already broke now. When Johnson was president, during the Vietnam War. There was a large sum in S.S. drawing interest. Johnson took it out to help run the war. He said it was U.S. Money anyway. So you can put a lot of the blame on him. You see he went to Congress broke. Came home worth 28 million dollars.

A few loose ends from last weeks notes. When I went to Hospital on August 25, 1918. A buddy came to see me that evening and I had him send a Telegram to my girl that I was in Hospital, when I was at Camp after leaving hospital I was not to do anything and not to lift over five pounds at any time. I sure gave those non-coms the works then.

One evening I was on porch of bread room and Sgt. told me to sweep the floor. I told him to do that if he wanted it done. He went to see the Captain. The Captain said "he told you what to do, so do it." He came back. I told him to get busy. The Electricity from his eyes would have lit up a 100 watt bulb on D.C. He swept. In a few minutes a 4 up team of mules to wagons, driver by a Cpl. and a 1st Lieutenant, wanted about 100 pounds of bread. The bread was six two pound loaves to a pan. Lieutenant said "Load it". I told him I could not handle it for him to load it himself. He looked at me very hard. Sgt. told him I was just out of the hospital and could not handle it. The Lieutenant called the mule skinner. He said, "sir when I signed for this trip I agreed that the lines would be in my hand at all times." He just laughed and waved at me. The Lieutenant loaded the bread and left laughing about a private and a Corporal ordering him around. When the left the Cpl. turned toward we waving and laughing behind the Lieutenant's back.

Look up. Smile. It will help all.

In April of 1966, LABO Teaching Information Center was organized with the purpose of creating an awakening of international understanding and awareness among Japanese children through language.

The goal of its language education is to enhance human relationships and cultural exchange in the international community.

In keeping with its goals, an exchange program was initiated in 1972 with the 4-H Clubs of America. From this beginning, the program has expanded to include 1,000 people from Hawaii, Korea, Japan and the U.S.

The Harrington's from Gorman applied as a host family for a Japanese youth several months ago. Recently they were notified that they would be hosting a young man close to the age of their teenage son, Olin, who is a member of the Gorman 4-H Club. This Japanese youth will stay approximately a month (from mid-July to mid-August) with this local family.

This will not be Eastland County's first experience with the LABO program. In 1979 the Ronnie White and John Kidd family hosted three Japanese youth. Last

Public Notice Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas effective July 21, 1981, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 15.8 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 21 de Julio de 1981, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 15.8 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Sure, sunshine is free, but . . .

let's be realistic.

We Americans tend to be skeptical of cure-alls. And rightly so. They're seldom realistic.

Some people think sunshine is a free and easily available cure-all for our energy problems. Sunshine is free. Solar power isn't.

Equipment is now on the market that uses direct heat from the sun to help warm our houses and heat our water. In some areas these installations are economical. But collecting, concentrating, converting, storing and using solar energy to generate electricity is not economical. It's many times more costly than using coal or nuclear fuels, and much more expensive than using Middle East oil.

At your electric company, we're supporting the development of solar technology. Some day it may become a more viable source of electrical energy but not today. Until it is, our job is to keep you supplied with dependable electricity, generated with the most plentiful and economical fuels we can use.

We think you'll agree: that's realistic.
