Things really have happened in a hurry since last Monday. Because after that day and within the span of the week I had to be out of the shop most of the time except for Wednesday and had to have surgery performed on the right artery of my neck. The surgery was actually done on Friday and by Tuesday afternoon of this week Max and I were back at home with my recuperation schedule of What NOTS to do. So things can really happen in a rush. We appreciate all the calls, flowers, prayers and concerns of those who knew what had happened and we appreciate your patience with Lonnie and the others at the shop as they tried to keep things going as normal as they can. All we can say is that we will do the best we can to get your orders out as fast as we possibly can produce them. Also in the process of all this Estelle is out this week with Lorena who has had the same type surgery as I had and this added to our problem. But Herman is trying his best to take over the duties of the office and we think he will do a great job. With the patience of folks I think everything will turn out fine. Anyway, we just wanted folks to know what had happened and let you know we will be doing our best to get back in the saddle as soon as we can recuperate.

We would also like to put our order in right now for some real good rain. I think that we will start off with maybe three inches or so of good rain to get things started and then let it cloud up and come a good down-pour. You know, one of those old fashioned chunk-floaters like we used to get back in the good old days. Maybe then, things can get back into perspective again for folks around here. Because if it doesn't rain before long then things are really going to get tough. So lets all seek God's blessings for some rain to relieve the pressure on our area.

Work is progressing on the new clinic for the Aguilas. The plumbing is being laid and as soon as this is completed, the slab can be poured and then the walls can be put in place and things can start to take shape. We will have a photo as soon as we can get it and show you the progress of the construction as it continues.

We have noticed that the building formerly occupied by Foster Floral is being renovated and is expected to be occupied soon. As soon as the information can be passed on, we will release it to you. But there will be a new business occupy the location.

Also noticed that Corky has an expansion project underway at the Brown Feed Store. The construction is already underway and the building will be expanded on the north side of the building. We will try and get more information on this for next week.

I was in touch with Estelle on Wednesday morning and she stated Lo had come through the surgery fine and was doing real well but expected they would be in the West Texas Medical Center at least the rest of

BLACKWELL HOSPITAL OPENS NEW NURSERY

Visitors to the hospital are seeing a new look. In addition to many hallway improvements, a large picture window now permits viewing into the hospital's larger more improved nursery. The nursery can accommodate up to four bassinets and is equipped with plenty of shelving for convenient storage. An entry-way to the nursery includes a sterile preparation area that greatly improves the quality of care available to newborns. Although nursery utilization has not gone as expected, we hope that this improvement will attract more pregnancies to Blackwell Hospital.

Gorman Volunteer Fire Department Receives Check

The Gorman Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $150.00 recently from the Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Steven Stinnette. The money will be used for their educational program. The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them. The Insurance Company believes fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Gorman Volunteer Fire Department in their program. -GP-

Officiants were Reverend Joseph Bertrand and Dr. Roland Scales of Trinity Methodist Church. Margo Varro, organist and Dr. Frank Varro, soloist, provided the wedding music. Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Collier of Beaumont. For traditional sentiments the bride wore earrings and drop, a gift from the groom, and a six-pence in her shoe, used by her mother and two sisters in their weddings. She also carried a handmade linen and lace handkerchief from her mother's wedding. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of candlelight silk organza with a chapel train banded in satin at the wrists and hemline. The sheer bodice and long sleeves of English net were embroidered with Venice lace medallions with a high lace mandarin collar. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion with a rolled-edge hem fell from a Venice lace and pearl-studded Juliet cap. Her bouquet was fashioned of stephanotis, baby's breath, pale blue forget-me-nots, burgundy lilies and green leaves. The altar and sanctuary were adorned with palms and poinsettias. The maid of honor was Miss Suzanne Johnson, Bryan. Bridesmaids were Lynne Collier Womble (Mrs. Robert) of Oklahoma City; Anne Collier Adcox (Mrs. James) of Beaumont; sisters of the bride; Karen Moorman Pampe (Mrs. David) of Austin, sister of the groom; and Miss Ellen Duke of Dallas. They wore ivory lace-trimmed blouses, burgundy taffeta cummerbunds and tea-length taffeta skirts, carrying arrangements of burgundy phaeolopsis orchids with baby's breath, tied with ivory ribbon. James Moorman, Dallas, brother of the groom, was the best man. Groomsmen were Will Ferguson of College Station; Glen Loftin of Bryan; Ed McLaughlin of Lubbock; and Mark Nicholson of Beaumont. Ushers were Scott Collier, brother of the bride of Beaumont, and James Peterson from Lubbock. The mother of the bride wore a grey crepe, trimmed with burgundy and Mrs. Moorman chose a soft pink crepe. The reception was held at Moncla's MontLeon Room. The bride's cake, iced in candlelight with touches of blue and burgundy, was topped with a miniature of her bouquet. The groom's German chocolate cake was decorated with a deer scene. Members of the house party include Catherine Neild and Anne Seibert of Beaumont, friends from high school, and Mrs. James Peterson and Janie Burns from Lubbock, college friends, and Wendy Faircloth, Jane's cousin from Baton Rouge, La. Out of town guests included Miss Don Moorman of Gorman, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Snider of Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jones and Kyle Jones from Houston. SELF DEFENSE AGAINST ILLNESS

By Dieter Carlton

There are several key points you should be aware of to avoid unnecessary trips to the doctor; or, on the other hand, to make a necessary trip for your own safety and well being. I think you should consider these points.

C. Breast: The breast is normally a bit lumpy. Adult women should carefully examine their breasts every few months, or so, to detect changes. Do not press the breast between the fingers, but press against the chest wall. Try several positions - lying, sitting and with the arm on that side raised over the head. Look for differences between the two breasts. If you note a suspicious lump, see a doctor immediately. Many women delay out of fear. Please, don't! Very few lumps are actually cancer, but if it is cancer, the lump should be removed early.

D. Weight: Changes in weight, especially dramatic or rapid changes, are very important. Know what your normal weight is. If the weight changes, know by how much, and over what period the change occurred. Rapid weight loss can be a sign of serious problems. E. Know your body: When something changes, report it accurately. A change in skin color, a lymph gland on the back of the neck, an increase in swelling in the legs and many other new conditions are easily observed. Just as important, knowledge of your body will help you avoid reporting silly things. The "Adams apple" is not a tumor (cancer), "knobs" on the lower ribs or pelvis (hip bone) are usually normal, the vertebrae at the lower neck normally sticks out like it does, and there is a normal bump on the back of the head - the "Knowledge bump." Many patients have reported these as emergencies.

A. Temperature: Own a thermometer, read the instructions, practice shaking the thermometer down, and be able to report the exact temperature. If you have a small child, own a rectal thermometer. High temperatures often indicate an infection is present. Infection, gone untreated, can be dangerous.

B. Pulse: Your pulse is merely the speed and way in which your heart is beating. You feel a pulse in your arm or throat, or put an ear to the chest. Count the exact number of beats in an exact minute, or have someone do this for you. If you think that there is a problem with your pulse, check whether the beat is irregular. Is the heart "skipping a beat," "turning flip-flops," "missing every other beat," or just completely irregular. Often these irregularities are gone by the time you reach the doctor so be sure that you can give an accurate description to the doctor.

Once again, I can't stress any more how important it is for you to take care of yourself.

DOES DIET AFFECT YOUR SPORTS PERFORMANCE?

It's not easy to distinguish fact from fiction when considering the role diet plays in athletic performance. Many Americans are unaware of the real relationship between diet and athletic performance. The following quiz will help rate your nutritional I.Q.:

- 1) Extra protein helps build muscles. True or False?
- 2) Sugar drinks provide quick energy. True or False?
- 3) Iron deficiency anemia can affect metabolism and athletic performance. True or False?
- 4) Fluid intake during athletics is dangerous. True or False?

"Many athletes cut down on meat and protein or become vegetarians or engage in carbohydrate loading," he said. "All of these things may deplete the body stores of nutrients and actually result in less vigor."

In short, those engaged in strenuous athletics require more total calories and fluids than those who are sedentary, but such increases must be balanced in order to be effective. Balance is the key. But according to some leading nutritionists, Americans concentrate on exercise to stay in shape, but neglect their diet.

Recent government surveys regarding the nutritional status of Americans, young and old, show that vitamin and mineral deficiencies may be more widespread than previously believed. One of the reasons: changing lifestyles which accent more physical activity and diets of less animal flesh and more grains and vegetables.

Both professional and recreational athletes have special nutrition problems because they are prone to food fads, maintains Jack M. Cooperman, Ph.D., Director of the Nutrition Education Program at New York Medical College, Valhalla, N.Y.

Although these deficiencies may not develop into classic illnesses such as pellagra or beriberi, they do take their toll on the body. Dr. Cooperman said marginal vitamin and mineral deficiencies can affect the body's ability to resist disease, the ability to perform work tasks and even mental well-being.

Scientific studies which demonstrated that well-trained athletes were deficient in certain key nutrients led to the development of a new vitamin and mineral supplement called SPARTUS[®], from Lederle Laboratories. The new supplement was designed to meet the increased demands of the body during sports activities.

The only one of its kind, the new supplement contains more B-complex vitamins, which help convert food and body fat to energy, vital minerals which are essential for the release

Quiz Answers:

1. False—assuming there is a balanced diet adequate in calories, the only practice that helps build muscles is the exercise of those muscles.

2. False—if there is adequate food intake three to four hours prior to athletic activities, little will be gained by gulping special sugar drinks during activity.

3. True—recent studies show that many individuals, particularly women, do not get enough iron from their diets. This can result in tissue depletion of iron stores, which leads to iron deficiency, thus compromising athletic performance.

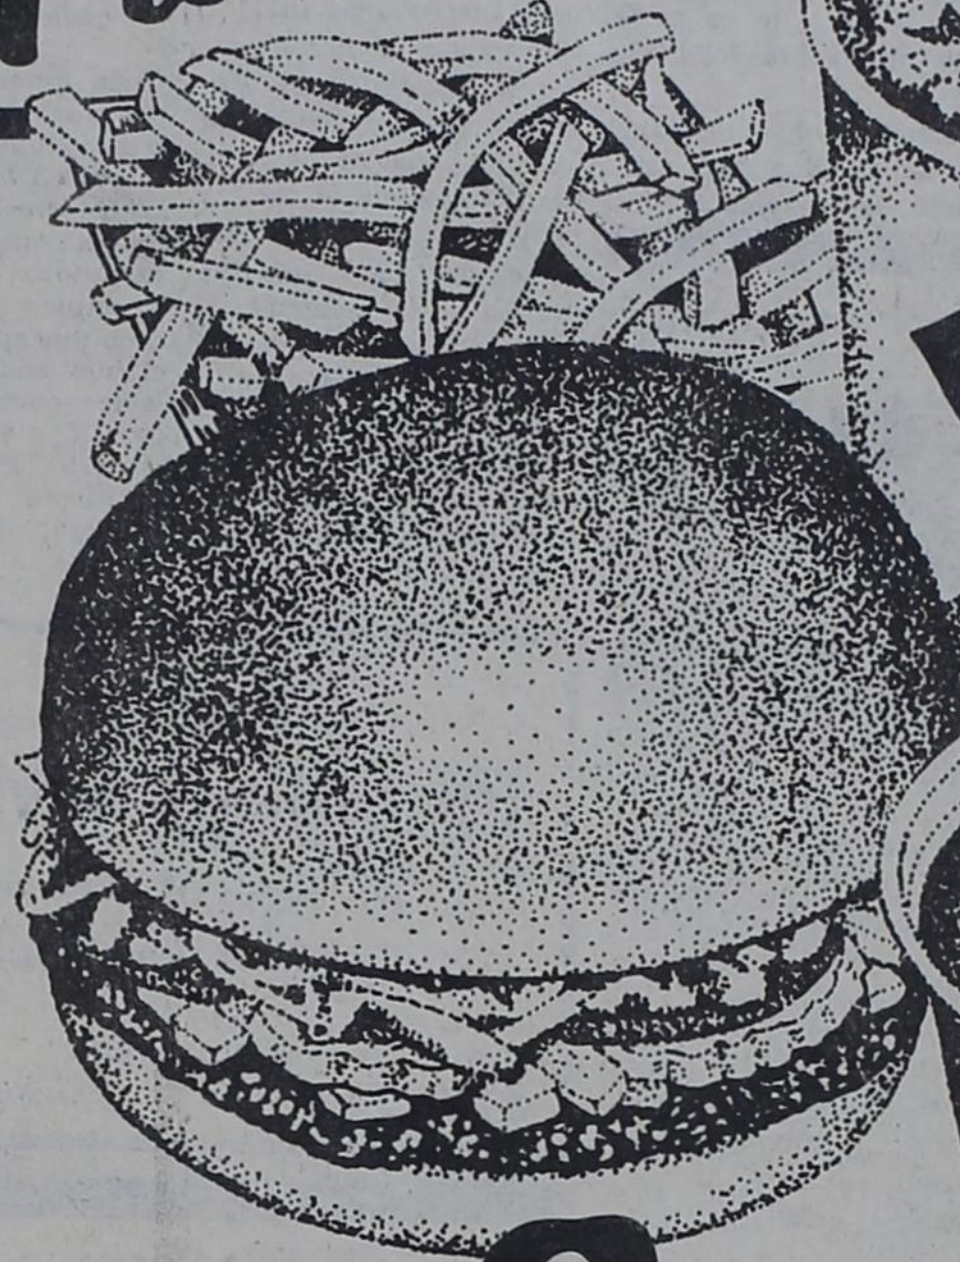

4. False—restriction of fluid during sports activities can lead to dehydration. This no dehydration. Thirst should be satisfied during any activities without fear of becoming "water-logged" or developing excessive muscle cramps.

"Experience is not what happens to a man. It is what a man does with what happens to him."

ESTIMATE TAX NOW TO AVOID PENALTY

When lawmakers set up the tax law, they made it a pay-as-you-go system. If you have a job where taxes are withheld from each paycheck, based on the number of allowances you claim, there is likely to be no problem. But if you have other income of $500 or more-- from self-employment, interest, dividends, capital gains, or rents for example-- where there is no withholding, there may be a problem, the Internal Revenue says.

Generally, you may be required to pay estimated tax if you expect to owe $400 or more in tax for 1984, and you either expect to have $500 in income not subject to withholding or expect your gross income to be more than:

$20,000 if you are single, a head of household, or a qualifying widow or widower, or $20,000 if you are married, entitled to make joint estimated tax payments and your spouse has not received wages for 1984, or $10,000 if you are married, entitled to make joint estimated tax payments, and both of you have received wages for 1984, or $5,000 if you are married and not entitled to make joint estimated tax payments.

Generally, when all is said and done, if you owe $400 or more in taxes for 1984 you might be in for a surprise--a penalty for not making estimated tax payments or for not paying enough estimated tax. The penalty for not making estimated tax payments, or for not paying in enough estimated tax is 16 percent a year from January 1 to

June 30, 1983, and 11 percent a year from July 1, 1983, to June 30, 1984, and the penalty cannot be abated. However, you will not have penalty if:

- you had no tax liability last year, were a U.S. citizen or resident for the entire year, and your taxable year was a taxable year of 12 months.
- the amount of your income tax withholding and estimated tax payments for 1984 is equal to or more than your total tax for 1983, or
- the amount of your income tax withholding and estimated tax payments for 1984 is equal to or more than 90 percent of the tax on your actual taxable income, for 1984 for the periods from January 1, 1984, to March 31, May 31, or August 31, 1984, or
- the amount of your income tax withholding and estimated tax payments for 1984 is equal to or more than 90 percent of the tax on your actual taxable income, for 1984 for the periods from January 1, 1984, to March 31, May 31, or August 31, 1984.

1984 is more than would have been due on your 1983 income using 1983 rates and personal exemptions. or
 -the amount of your income tax withholding and estimated tax payments for 1984 is equal to or more than 80 percent of the tax on your annualized taxable income, for 1984 for the periods from January 1, 1984, to March 31, May 31, or August 31, 1984, or

If you believe you should be making estimated tax payments and you also have wages from which income tax is withheld, you

Citrus Fruitatta Pampers The Taste Buds

Fresh citrus from Florida contributes eye appeal and glorious flavor to CITRUS FRUITATTA.

Bright-flavored, pretty-as-a-picture dishes that can be whipped up in minutes are as welcome as a gentle breeze on a sweltering day. A dish that satisfies all those requirements is Citrus Fruitatta, which is filled with ingredients that are low in cost and high in nutrition. The secret lies in the plump, juicy oranges and grapefruit from Florida, which add lively citrus taste and nutrition while enhancing the flavor of the other ingredients. Protein-rich eggs are the base, with pears bringing their juicy goodness, chopped dates adding texture and richness and the orange and grapefruit sections offering their naturally sweet succulence to make the recipe an outstanding success. For family... for guests... Citrus Fruitatta is a winner.

NEWS OF EDUCATION

Small Colleges: An Important National Resource

If you're a student or parent who is college shopping, take a closer look at the education benefits offered by America's small independent colleges. The fact is, the country's small, independent colleges—with us for two centuries now—represent a national resource of enormous power and importance. Despite trends toward bigness and homogeneity in education, these colleges continue to attract students for some very important reasons:

- These colleges emphasize individual attention and personalized education. As one graduate said of his alma mater, "There was never a feeling of being just an insignificant speck in a sea of students." Small size and a residential setting offer many opportunities to develop close personal relationships with students, faculty and administrators... to make friendships for life.
- They offer teaching excellence and diverse learning experiences. Most education is carried out in small classes. Professors teach first and foremost; research is secondary. Special educational opportunities are widespread—in internships, study abroad, independent study, accelerated academic programs, and many other innovations offered by these colleges provide diversity and choice.
- Education of the "whole person" is their mission and goal. These colleges are concerned not only with intellectual growth, but also with moral, physical, social and emotional growth. This means more opportunities to be a leader, learn moral and spiritual values, take part in internships or work-study programs, have a chance to study abroad.
- In these colleges a broad background in the liberal arts is considered the best preparation for the demands of a rapidly changing world. Unlike specialized education, which soon becomes obsolete, the liberal arts experience opens up all kinds of opportunities. Skills developed in the liberal arts are transferable and applicable—such as knowing how to learn and study, to write and communicate well, analyze problems, adapt to change and handle stress, take initiative and follow through with details, accept responsibility and make decisions... skills necessary both for a career and for life.
- These colleges offer quality education at affordable prices. The annual tuition charges at 23 percent of small colleges are less than $2,000, making them accessible to many students who could not otherwise afford college. Costs are less than $4,000 at 81 percent of the small colleges. Close to 60 percent of all the students receive some financial aid from the small colleges they attend. Small independent colleges are an investment with life-long returns. For more information about these colleges, write to the Council of Independent Colleges, One Dupont Circle, Suite 320A, Washington, DC 20036.

FACTS & FIGURES

A new system has been developed that can increase the computational power of existing computers by up to 16 billion calculations a second. Each processor linked to a computer provides up to 250 million calculations per second.

The new processor is designed for such applications as simulation, large-scale structural analysis, petroleum exploration, aerospace, manufacturing, weather forecasting, research and image and signal processing. Called the Cyberplus, it is manufactured by Control Data.

A maximum of 64 processors can be linked to a single Cyber 800 series computer to provide the 16 billion calculations per second. Each one alone can multiply 250 million numbers per second. A person with a calculator doing one per second would need eight years to complete 250 million—24 hours a day, 365 days per year, with no coffee breaks.

Earn 10.95% during 1984—defer income until 1985.

Take Advantage of 1985 tax laws.

Federal income tax laws are scheduled to become more favorable towards interest income in 1985 by allowing individuals to exclude $450 of interest earnings from their taxable income. Couples filing joint returns would be able to exclude the first $900. Our Tax Deferred Certificate is designed to help you take advantage of these changes by paying all interest at maturity in one year. The earnings are not available in 1984 so you have up to two years to do your tax planning for the income.

Highest rates with only $5,000.

You've come to expect the highest rates whenever you see the Sunbelt sun and the Tax Deferred Certificate is no exception. With a minimum deposit of only $5,000 you'll earn more than most banks pay on jumbo deposits that don't have potential tax savings. You'll want to keep in mind that the stated rate and the annual yield are the same since all interest is paid at maturity.

Call any office for more details.

The Tax Deferred Certificate is not for everyone, but any of our Financial Counselors will give all the details to help you determine if it serves your financial needs. Federal regulations require an interest penalty equal to loss of three months interest for withdrawals prior to maturity, but the high, guaranteed rate and tax deferral make the TDC worth the consideration of any serious investor.
