

Distribution Now Nation's Biggest Task

Lend-Lease Total Nearly 5 Billion, Production Moves Along, Says FD

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt informed congress today that lend-lease aid up to the end of May totaled $4,497,000 and that while the battle of production was on the way to being won, the battle of distribution was "in its critical phase."

"Our reservoir of resources is now approaching flood stage," he said. "The next step is for our military, industrial, and shipping experts to direct its full force against the centers of enemy power."

"Great Britain and the United States x x x are taking combined action to carry our men and weapons—on anything that will float or fly—to the places from which we can launch our offensives."

Mr. Roosevelt summed up for congress the results of 15 months of lend-lease operations—with the emphasis finally shifted from foodstuffs and industrial materials to a preponderance of fighting weapons and military items.

The lend-lease program was instituted on March 11, 1941, and the aid extended since that time to the British commonwealth of nations and 35 other countries has amounted to $3,873,000,000 in goods and $24,000,000 in such services as repairing ships, ferrying aircraft and providing production facilities in this country.

the report showed. To the full extent of their ability, the president said, our allies are supplying us with things we need.

He mentioned food and housing and equipment for American troops in Britain and Australia, special machine tools and equipment for munitions plants, British anti-aircraft guns at vital bases, and British-developed plane detection devices.

When it comes to finally settling accounts at the end of the war, the report indicated that this country did not intend to demand repayment dollar for dollar, tank for tank, and plans for plans.

"The real costs of the war," he said, "cannot be measured, nor compared, nor paid for in money. They must be and are being met in blood and toil. But the financial costs of the war can and should be met in a way which will serve the ends of lasting peace and mutual economic well-being, x x x"

Flag Day Brings Vows Of Victory

Large Crowd On Hand For Local Ceremonies American Banner Waves On Every Continent

A large crowd of Howard county citizens paid homage to the Stars and Stripes Sunday evening at the courthouse lawn in a Flag Day parade and program sponsored by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

A parade preceded the program at 5:45 o'clock and included the highway patrol, matted colors, drum corps, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, Texas Defense Guard, Civil Air Patrol, Red Cross, Air Raid Wardens, service clubs. Ceremonies at the band stand on the courthouse lawn opened with music by the high school band after which the flag was raised by Captain Cliff Wiley and Sgt. Joe Pond of the Texas Defense Guard. The flag raising and lowering was perfect in correlation between the band, bugles and guard.

Mayor G. C. Dunham spoke briefly and quoted excerpts from the president's message to the effect that this flag day, the flags of the 26 United Nations as well as the American flag would be honored.

James T. Brooks made an address on "The Flag" and stirred the crowd with his visions of America courageous through dark hours to final victory. The Rev. F. D. O'Brien spoke a fine word for a victorious war and that on thoughts of winning the peace that will follow and of mending a broken world in Christian manner.

William R. Dawes led the crowd in singing "America" with the band playing accompaniment. The band also played "Marine Hymn." The Rev. George J. J. J. pastor of St. Thomas Catholic church, gave the invocation. The audience sang "God Bless America."

Closing the program was the lowering of the flag to the bugle notes of "To the Colors."

The Texas Defense Guard stood retreat while the flag was being lowered and the audience sang the "Star Spangled Banner" to close the service.

Kilday Court Scrap Enters New Round

Hearing Tonight On Move For Exclusive Listing On Ballot

By The Associated Press The center of the Texas political scene shifted to Fort Worth today where a hearing on the complicated railroad commission case was scheduled for 8 p. m. in a district court.

The hearing involves a second legal move by James E. Kilday, seeking exclusive listing in the July 25 democratic primary as a candidate for the railroad commission post vacated by Jerry Sadler.

Here, the situation in the legal fireworks at Fort Worth: From District Judge A. J. Power in Fort Worth Kilday Saturday obtained an order restraining State Democratic Chairman E. E. Germany from certifying names other than his on the July 25 primary ballot for Sadler's place on the commission.

Hearing on the issuance of a temporary injunction was set for 8 p. m.

Germany Saturday night said that lists of candidates for the place were mailed to county chairmen Friday night and Saturday before the Fort Worth court order was issued. He promised that he and his attorneys would fight the injunction action and said several large law firms had offered to help.

Earlier Kilday had asked the Fifth Court of Civil Appeals in Dallas for a mandamus to prevent certification of other candidates on the ground that he was the only one who had met the June 1 deadline for entering the race.

The court held that it was the duty of the committee to certify Kilday's name, but that the court was powerless to forbid the committee to certify names other than that of Kilday.

Yank Blasts 2 Nazi Ships

LONDON, June 15 (AP)—An American volunteer with the RAF Squadron Leader W. B. Cooper, of St. Petersburg, Fla. — was credited today with sinking two German supply ships off the coast of Holland last night.

Cooper, piloting an American-made Hudson bomber, spotted a three-ship convoy off Den Helder, the air ministry news service said, and swooped down to drop part of his bomb load on the smallest ship from a low level.

"Without waiting to see the result," the service reported, "he attacked the second ship and then the third and largest, for which he kept the biggest bombs. There were violent flashes, and when these died down only one ship could be seen afloat."

A Spitfire squadron attacked a shipping in the Dieppe-Le Havre area this morning. The air ministry news service said a motor launch was left sinking and a motor minesweeper was hit.

Enemy airfields and other targets in Holland and northern France were attacked in cross-channel sweeps last night. All the British planes were reported to have returned safely.

BATTLE FLARES OFF ITALY

Soviet Fleet Aids Sevastopol Defenders

Fierce Battle Continues In Crimean Area

Germans Attempting To Break Through By Sheer Power

MOSCOW, June 15 (AP) Steaming into the fight for Sevastopol with its guns guns thundering, the Soviet Black Sea fleet was reported today to have brought aid to the hard-pressed land garrison by laying down a deadly barrage which took a heavy toll of the Axis assault forces.

The battles in the tight-drawn siege lines around the Crimean port on the shell-pocked front east of Kharkov in the Ukraine continued with undiminished fury.

However, there were no further reports of German gains on either front since dispatches of yesterday which said the Germans had pushed forward in some sectors of Kharkov and turned loose a full-scale onslaught against Sevastopol in an attempt to smash the Russian defenses by sheer weight of men and armor.

Dispatches from the Crimean flank of the battlefield did not identify the warships whose guns were reported in action for the first time since June 5 when the new battle for Sevastopol began.

The Germans were reported to have bolstered their assault forces with strong reserve strength including units shifted from other fronts.

Their former timetable of attack—from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.—was said to have given way to 24-hour assault.

Despite a spendthrift use of fighting men, which in some sectors outweighed the Red army and civilian defenders five and six to one, Adolf Hitler still had only the heavy graves of his dead to show for his all-out effort against Sevastopol.

The Crimean port and base of Russia's Black Sea fleet still flew the hammer and sickle though no one could say how long the hard-pressed defenders could hold out. The violence of the fight mounted by the hour.

If the Russians make their slogan—"not another step backward"—Sevastopol will remain a thorn in the flank of the anticipated German drive toward the Caucasus. The Kharkov gains cost the Germans heavily in machines and men—2,800 troops lost within the past two days, according to today's Moscow communique.

Bitter fighting at many scattered points on the rest of the front suggested that the whole battle may be springing into new action. It remained to be seen whether the Germans still had the punch by which they swept across western Russia last summer and fall.

Wiley To Address Legion Men Tonight

Family Ties Considered In Draft Call

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—The senate approved and sent to the house today a military pay allotment bill authorizing draft boards to consider family relationships in calling men for duty with the armed forces.

Under the basic section of measure, details of which were revised last week by a joint conference committee, the government would help the four lowest ranks of soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen support their dependents.

Deductions taken from the men's pay would be supplemented by federal allowances which in some cases would be considerably larger than the fighting men's contributions.

The second section of the bill revises the selective service act by authorizing local draft boards to first exhaust supplies of single men, or those without head-of-family ties, before calling up husbands and fathers.

Senator Lee (D-Okla.) said the idea behind revising the selective service act was to give expression to congressional intent "that the family shall be left intact as long as possible and that financial dependency is not the controlling point as much as the status of a man as head of a family."

"We want the unmarried men taken first," Lee told reporters. Informed lawmakers estimated that few if any family men would have to be inducted before late next winter.

The bill is expected to receive final congressional action this week. The financial aid would cover dependents of privates, first class privates, corporals and line sergeants in the Army, and of corresponding grades in the other services.

Darwin Again Bombarded By Japs

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 15 (AP)—Darwin, Australia's north coast base, was raided by Japanese warplanes today for the third successive day and a few casualties resulted, General MacArthur's headquarters announced.

Twenty-seven Japanese bombers escorted by fighters, the largest force yet to reach Darwin in the series of assaults over the weekend, came over this afternoon. The headquarters announcement, which was not a formal communique, said damage was slight.

The Japanese attacked Darwin also on Saturday and yesterday. Allied fighters were into a formation of 15 to 20 Japanese fighters over Darwin yesterday, shooting down four in a furious dog-fight.

The swift action of the Allied fighters in intercepting them caused the bombers to veer off without reaching their target. Only one Allied plane was lost in the melee, and the pilot of that craft was reported saved.

Fullerton To Accept Place At Sherman

Announcement was made at the service Sunday that Byron Fullerton, minister of the Church of Christ here since May, 1941, had resigned his place to accept a similar place with the church at Sherman. The resignation had already been accepted by the elders of the local congregation.

The church at Sherman has approximately 1,000 members, and the move represents an advancement for Mr. Fullerton. He and Mrs. Fullerton plan to move to Sherman between the fifth and tenth of July. He will occupy the pulpit here three more Sundays. Officers of the church are working on the matter of a successor to Mr. Fullerton, but no selection of a new minister has been made.

"Mrs. Fullerton and I were perfectly content to remain in Big Spring," Mr. Fullerton said. "But this call came without our solicitation, and we did not feel that we could afford to turn it down. We appreciate the fine way we have been treated by those inside and outside of the church. The people here have been very fine and hospitable in every way. The church here is a good one and the members have cooperated with us in a fine way. We wish for them continued prosperity in the Lord's work."

Officers in this area were notified Monday to be on the alert for one or two men as suspects in the robbery of W. L. Hambrick here early today.

Hambrick reported to police that he was struck in the head and relieved of his car and of $149 in cash. He described his assailant as a man about 25 years of age, weighing around 145 pounds and possessing dark hair.

He reported the attack to police at 2:35 a. m. and his automobile was found abandoned in town an hour later. Hambrick was given emergency treatment at the Big Spring hospital.

Result Of Pickup Likely Will Determine Policy On Gasoline Rationing

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—With the results to be measured in more machines for victory, and possibly a delay or forestallment of nationwide gasoline rationing, millions of Americans today began a search of attics, cellars, backyards and other places of discard for old rubber.

The campaign began by direction of President Roosevelt, who called upon every citizen to turn in "every bit of rubber you can possibly spare."

Each person was requested to take all discarded or spare rubber to the nearest of the 400,000 gasoline filling stations scattered throughout the country. The need-elastic may be donated or sold to the station operator for a penny a pound.

The oil industry announced its entire work force, numbering over 1,000,000 men and women, and its automotive equipment would handle the job of receiving the rubber and assembling it at central points for delivery to the government.

Although officials had made no flat statement that a decision on nationwide gasoline rationing would hinge on the campaign, William R. Boyd, Jr., chairman of the petroleum industry war council, said that whether automobiles could be kept rolling "depends entirely on the total tonnage of rubber scrap there is." Countrywide gas rationing has been considered as a means of conserving tires.

Boyd emphasized that "any and all profit" accruing to the oil companies in the scrap transactions would go to the United Services Organizations, the Army and Navy Relief and the Red Cross.

It's Easier Now To Be A Glider Pilot WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—To insure an adequate number of glider pilots, the army air forces removed today a requirement that candidates must have had prior flight training.

The war department said the action was "expected to admit thousands of potential glider pilots who were unable to qualify."

The glider training was made available to all applicants between 18 and 34 who can meet the physical and mental requirements.

Allies May Be Engaged In A Big Transfer

Rome Claims Many Ships Sunk Out Of British Convoy

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH Associated Press Staff Editor A great running sea-air battle, which on the face of Axis reports—the only information available thus far — seems to have stemmed from a major strategical move of the Allies, was being fought today at Italy's Mediterranean doorstep between the Italian islands of Sardinia and Sicily.

The location of the battle, the strength and composition given by Rome for the Allied naval force and the reckless expenditure of planes in the attack on it suggested either that Italian territory itself might be under attack or that the Allies were engaged in a great transfer of strength between Gibraltar and Suez.

The Italian high command, in a special communique, claimed that two cruisers, one destroyer and four steamers were sunk out of one of two British convoys, and a battleship, an aircraft carrier, two cruisers, one destroyer and four steamers heavily damaged.

The Italians said the convoy attacked was protected by "numerous units of the line and by two aircraft carriers." Spotting the convoy early Saturday, Italians said their scout planes later lost sight of it and the first attack was not delivered until Sunday.

"Numerous formations" of torpedo planes, bombers and fighters then struck the flotilla, the Italians related. They acknowledged 20 planes lost themselves and reportedly shooting 15 carrier-borne planes down in flames.

"The operations were resumed in the early hours of this morning against the remaining units," the communique concluded.

If the British actually were moving convoys eastward from Sardinia into the Mediterranean, as the Italians reported they might have been carrying sizeable reinforcements for the battle of Libya.

That struggle, generated by the axis attempt to forestall a new British offensive, had developed today into a fluid, violent engagement on the desert approaches to Tobruk, port of entry and base of much of the British strength in Libya. Enemy tanks were shoving a wedge from the axis island salient toward the coast, which if successful, would isolate troops remaining in the Ain El Gassala region, 40 miles west of Tobruk. The British were attacking the rear of this movement.

The Rome radio broadcast a special communique saying that the axis forces had punched their way through to the coast, by-passing Acroma, west-southwest of Tobruk, separating British forces "after sanguinary fighting."

"All big enemy units which remain to the west (in the Ain El Gassala region) have been encircled," the communique said. "The number of prisoners and the quantity of booty cannot be estimated for the moment."

Railroad officials declined to say whether Terrell's death was connected with the wreck.

Downtown Stroller

Back in town for a few days is HARVEY MORRIS, former Big Spring resident, who is studying at Galveston Medical school now to be a doctor. HARVEY looks as if the school is agreeing with him and says he really likes his work.

Nowadays when folks don't answer their phones right off, don't hang up, they'll be indoors in a minute. You'll find most of them had to stop gardening to answer your call. At least it was so the other day when we called Mrs. ROY REEDER. The Readers planted beans in their flower garden and are beginning to reap quite a harvest.

Read in the paper that it is unpatriotic and practically un-American to ride to and from town with an empty back car seat. The idea being that you should pick up your neighbors and cart them along too, and save on those tires and gasoline. Well, this is no new idea to us. We've thought such a system ought to be installed long ago, not to save our tires and gasoline but our shoe leather.

Back in town again Sunday was PEGGY GENE MITCHELL, who directed the "Funnapoplin" play. She is to put the play on again in Lamesa next week and the local cast is dying to go over and see how the Lamesans make out with the same play. You know, sort of make comparisons!

Mrs. S. W. AGEE of Mobile, Ala., is here visiting with her folks this week. She used to be MILDRED JONES you know and Sunday night she and her sister, MYRTLE, were visiting around town and getting MILDRED caught up on everything that had happened since she left to be married.

If You've Got A Library Book Then Somebody's Looking For You

Have you a book belonging to the Big Spring library? If you have, you'd better get it out, dust it off, and return it to J & W Fisher store this week. Library officials are to close out the library this week and all books will be turned over for soldier use for the Big Spring Flying school.

On the library files is a list of about 100 persons who have long over-due books, some ranging to as long as eight years, and unless the books are returned this week, library officials will have to make house calls to recover the books.

But, being good sports, the librarians say just return the books and all will be forgiven and no dues will be charged. So search through those book shelves and 'less up.

Red Ruffing Ties All-Time Record With 251 Victories

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Beside the name of Joe (Iron Man) McGinnity on the list of Gotham's greatest pitchers they wrote another one today—Charles Herbert Ruffing of the world champion New York Yankees.

Charley the Red, winner of more games than any pitcher active in the major leagues, chalked up the 251st victory on his 19-year record yesterday to tie the mark left by McGinnity, who often pitched, and sometimes won, doubleheaders for the New York Giants in the early years of John McGraw.

Only three pitchers in all the baseball history of the nation's largest city have topped the total reached by Ruffing.

The one and only Christy Matheson won 372 games before gas poisoning in the other way forced him to stop it quits. Amos Rusie of the pre-McGraw Giants won 352 and Mickey Welch won 99 while toiling for the same club under its initial pilot, Jim Mutrie.

In the games this year, Ruffing has pitched 83 innings and has gone the distance seven times. He has yielded 69 hits while striking out 39 batters and giving only 16 bases on balls.

Yesterday he tossed a five-hitter at the St. Louis Browns, the team that had beaten him twice for his only reversal for 1942. He pitched the Yankees to a 6-1 victory in the first game and Ernie Bonham finished with a 5-4 decision in the second for his ninth victory against only one defeat.

At that, the Yanks failed to increase their nine and a half game lead in the American league for the second-place Boston Red Sox took a pair of close ones from Detroit, 3-2 in the regulation distance and 2-1 in 11 innings. Tony Lupien, Harvard's gift to the Red Sox and first base successor to Jimmy Foss, drove in both winning runs.

The only change of the day in either league game at the other end of the American standings where the Chicago White Sox vacated the cellar and turned it over to Washington by crushing the Senators, 9-3 and 11-4.

Ted Lyons, preparing to join Ruffing soon in making the active 250-game winners' club a two-man organization, pitched his fourth victory of the season in the opener and the 24th of his career.

The Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics divided a double bill, with Luman Harris pitching a three-hitter to give the A's a 5-1 decision in the nightcap after the Tribe had won the first game, 8-9.

MORE WATERFOWL

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Waterfowl of the United States, the prize game of thousands of hunters, increased last year by 30,000,000, a number equal to the entire population of such birds in 1888, the fish and wildlife service estimated today.

ROUNDUP SPORTS

TENNIS
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, June 15.—After seeing the latest reports on the Hale America tournament, this corner has come to the idea that the brass brashness knew what they were doing when they cancelled this year's regular championships.

... By junking the traditional tournaments and all their rules, they have been able to whomp it up for one big event that will bring in some real dough for the USO and navy relief. ... It also provided an opening to issue invitations to several players who missed out in qualifying but who always are popular with the fans.

Martin Jr., of Louisiana State, who will defend his national intercollegiate golf title at Notre Dame next week, started playing the game when he was four years old but claims he didn't begin to get good until he was nine.

Jimmie Murphy, Canton, Ill., Daily Ledger: "Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Chicago Cubs should be able to sign up for a full winter season of vaudeville, having shown big time ability as a juggler in handling the Cubs' lineup so far this season."

Cadet H. B. Boulware, who was killed when an army flying school plane crashed in Mississippi last week, was better known to sports fans as Burt Boulware, one of the South's leading tennis players and former football and basketball player at Georgia Tech.

Francis X. Reagan, former Penn. and Giant's footballer, has just been listed 33rd out of about 200 men in ranking of second lieutenants in the marines. Because he was exceptionally good in the candidates' class at Quantico, Va., Frank was made a regular marine lieutenant instead of a reserve.

Aviation Cadet Robert Madden of the Enid (Okla.) army flying school switched rackets (not rackets) with good results. A former Pitt tennis captain, Madden recently won the Oklahoma state badminton title.

Pvt. "Turk" Greenough, who is taking his basic training at the Fort Riley (Kan.) cavalry replacement training center, is the same guy who did a bit of riding in rodeos around the country the past few years.

Hank Oana To Take Mound For The Cats

Little's Game 'Hot' Again

By The Associated Press
Burly Hank Oana, who has blasted many a Texas league fence as an outfielder for the Fort Worth Cats, tried his hand as a starting pitcher for the Cats Sunday and from now on will probably be a regular moundman.

The jovial, jack-of-all trades on the diamond—he can also catch and play in the infield—lost a heart-breaking 2-1 decision to the league-leading Beaumont Exporters in the first game of a doubleheader that went 10 innings. He gave up only 8 hits and struck out 4 men.

It was his first starting assignment.

In the nightcap Stub Overmire gave Beaumont a sweep, winning his eleventh game of the season with a four-hit, 1-0 shutout.

In three years with the Cats Oana has played the outfield most of the time, but was used in relief roles once or twice last season and twice this year.

On the last road trip Oana looked so good as a relief hurler against Beaumont that Manager Rogers Hornsby decided to start him.

The hapless Dallas Rebels, last year's champions but now wallowing in the cellar, lost a doubleheader to the up-and-coming Shreveport Sports, 2-3 and 1-2.

Oklahoma City won the first game from the San Antonio Missions 4-1, blasting Johnny Whitehead, new San Antonio pitcher, for all their runs in the eighth, but the Missions came back to win the second game 4-2.

Splendid five-hit pitching by Julian Tubb won the last game of a doubleheader for Tulsa over Houston 4-0 after the latter club had copped the opener 10-4.

Former Banking Commissioner Dies

GALVESTON, June 15. (AP)—Fred C. Branson, 46, former state banking commissioner and University of Texas regent, died last night after suffering a stroke while playing golf in the afternoon.

Branson, executive vice-president of the Guaranty Federal Savings and Loan association, is survived by a widow and two daughters.

He was chairman of the medical college committee of the board of regents which was delegated to recommend a vice-president for the medical branch here.

This followed a lengthy session by the regents which his friends believe taxed his strength.

He was state banking commissioner in 1939.

Army Apple Nuggets Are Quite Versatile

BOSTON.—The latest thing for army menus are dehydrated apple nuggets which look like popcorn, but can be eaten "straight" or turned into succulent pies or saucers.

The quartermaster's first order was for 1,000,000 pounds. The apple nuggets are made from tart apples—Baldwins, Winesaps or Rome Beauties.

They have a superior taste to dried apples and also are much lighter in weight, since dehydration takes out more water than does drying.

Any given weight of dehydrated apples will make about seven times that much sauce or pie filling.

Horseshoe Champ Gets 94 Ringers

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., June 15. (AP)—Guy Zimmerman, of San Francisco, won the California horseshoe pitching championship Sunday. In his qualifying round Zimmerman scored 94 ringers out of 100 pitches. Tournament officials said that was a world record for qualifying rounds.

CORPUS MAN NAMED
DALLAS, June 15. (AP)—Jack Bushee of Corpus Christi was elected governor of the Lone Star district's 20-30 club at the close of a three-day convention yesterday.

Brazil is the only American country which has produced silk commercially for a relatively long period.

winning the U. S. open in 1940 and capturing the U. S. and British amateurs twice in successive years, 1934 and 1935.

Little's dazzling 66 round was posted on Ridgemoor's bulletin board today as the nation's top pros and amateurs began congratulating for three days of practice before launching into 72 holes of medal play Thursday.

Jim Farrier, Chicago's qualifying medalist, has shot a 69 and Ky Laffoon has carded a 67 in early tryouts at Ridgemoor. Both agree that 278 to 280 should win the meet as compared with a 72-hole par of 288.

Little, Mangrum Take First In 4-Ball Matches

TOLEDO, O., June 15. (AP)—Sixteen top-flight golf professionals headed for Chicago and the Hale America event after splitting a $7,600 purse in the eighth annual Inverness four-ball matches in which Lawson Little and Lloyd Mangrum grabbed first prize of $2,358.33.

Mangrum and Little distanced the field with a plus 14 score in the 128 holes of best-ball match play, winding up far ahead of the plus 8 with which Henry Picard and Sam Byrd copped second place and $1,383.33.

Byrd and Picard skyrocketed into the runner-up spot with a nine-up victory over Jimmy Hines and Herman Barron in the final round—the most one-sided match in the tournament's history.

Here's how the other teams finished, with their winnings, in the round-robin chase:

Herman Kelsner and Chandler Harper, plus 6, $950; Byron Nelson and Jimmy Thomson, plus 8, $608.33; Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan, plus 4, $700; E. J. Harrison and Denny Shute, minus 5, $500; Horton Smith and Chick Harbert, minus 14, $450; Jimmy Hines and Herman Barron, minus 19, $300.

The Thomson-Nelson and Little-Mangrum combinations divided $250 for scoring the most birdies on the 128 holes—42 each—while the same combinations, along with Byrd-Picard, split another $250 for having the best-ball rounds of 63—nine under par.

Hogan and Demaret, the defending kings, finished in a fourth-place tie, but Hogan kept the lead among the year's money winners with $10,268.

JOIN THE U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES AND Pay Them Back In Person!

100,000 Men Aged 18 to 26 (Inclusive) Are Needed Now for Officers' Training!
NEW SIMPLIFIED REQUIREMENTS

Or—if you have been to college and have studied the right scientific subjects—you can try for a commission as a ground duty officer—in Arms, Communications, Engineering, Meteorology or Photography.

This past year about 80% of all Aviation Cadets won commissions—of which 67% are now flying officers. So your chances are excellent.

When you become a Second Lieutenant with the U. S. Army Air Forces, your pay ranges from $183 to $245 a month. Advancement should be rapid because of the tremendous expansion program of our air army.

And after this war is over and the curse of Hitlerism ended, experts predict that aviation will be the greatest of all growing industries. By training and experience, you will be in the forefront of those opportunities.

FLY WITH US—FIGHT WITH US
If you have thrilled to the mighty deeds of Army airmen, here is your chance to join them.

America's planes are rising fast—by the thundering thousands every month. That's why we want every qualified man to apply now for Officers' Training.

For further information . . . drop in any Army Recruiting and Induction Station for a friendly chat. If you would like to enlist now with one of the Aviation Cadet Examining Boards, arrangements can be made for you to take your mental and physical examinations the same day.

The sooner you apply, the sooner you will go on the list for immediate training. Join now. Fly with us—fight with us, 'til the last Axis plane is shot out of the sky!

NOTE: Those under 21 years of age will require parents' or guardian's consent. Birth certificates and three letters of recommendation will be required of all applicants.

 THREE WAYS TO ENLIST ***

All Men of 18 to 26 Years (inclusive) who pass their Aviation Cadet examination and apply for immediate Air Cadet training.

1. may enlist as privates in the Army Air Forces (unassigned) and serve there until their turn comes for Aviation Cadet training.
2. or they may enlist in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and wait until they are ordered to report for Aviation Cadet training.
3. In addition to the two ways outlined above College men and High School seniors (upon entering college) aged 18 to 26, inclusive, may enlist in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve and continue their schooling, provided they maintain satisfactory scholastic standing.

Upon graduation or withdrawal from college, men will be assigned to active duty at a training center as facilities become available.

If the necessity of war demands, the deferred status in the Army Reserve may be terminated at any time by the Secretary of War.

The new Army Air Corps Enlisted Reserve Plan is part of the over-all Army Enlisted Reserve program.

This program provides opportunities for college men to enlist on a deferred basis and to continue their education. However, all students who enlist in the Army Air Corps Enlisted Reserve on a deferred basis to continue their education will be required during their second year to take a qualifying examination prescribed by the War Department to determine if their college work justifies further deferment.

In case of necessity, the Secretary of War shall determine when they may be called to active duty.

This plan has been approved in the belief that continuous education will develop capacities for leadership. (Reserve enlistment will not alter regulations regarding established R.O.T.C. plans.)

FLASH PREVIEW

"The Pride of the Yankees"

Samuel Goldwyn's screen dramatization of the life of baseball's Lou Gehrig stars Gary Cooper in the title role.

While playing in Chicago against the White Sox, Lou is introduced to his future wife (Teresa Wright) by his friend Walter Brennan.

With Yankee teammates Babe Ruth and Bill Dickey, he argues the merits of their respective ghost-writers in the daily papers.

After a surprise marriage the Gehrigs find great happiness in their cozy apartment in New Rochelle, just outside New York City.

With Brennan he visits the doctor, who hints at his fatal malady and tells him he must quit playing the game of baseball forever.

At his farewell appearance in Yankee Stadium he is honored in a touching ceremony by all New York on "Lou Gehrig Day."

ON THE SETS

With Reed Johnston

In the ordinary course of events Miss Bette Davis is a lady who is very properly shown the greatest consideration by her studio, but they had her in a nasty spot one early afternoon recently.

For Miss Davis, returning happily to the sound stage after a satisfying lunch, found that the afternoon's schedule for "Now, Voyager" required her to eat potato chips and hot dogs...

Well, Miss Davis is widely known to be a good trouper, able to suffer these outrages cheerfully, but she is also nobody's fool. And so, if she made no outright protest against the eating of hot dogs...

"Isn't it a bit unusual for us to be eating hot dogs when we're supposed to be having dinner right away?" she asked casually, with reference to Claude Rains and the other dinner guests assembled in the living room.

"We owe it all to you," said Rains, who takes the role of a doctor. "I hope you won't mind our putting you on the board of directors." Or at least that was what he was supposed to say.

Fashion Scene

By Margaret McKay

During this war time we must be practical, thrifty and shrewd about making our clothes go a long way and at the same time necessary for us to go gay once in awhile, so let us look at the new tricks in both phases of our wardrobe.

On the practical side, WKO's Jane Wyatt suggests a triple personality for your wide-brimmed summer hat. "You can vary it to match any of several scarves—chiffon, cotton bandana, rayon print—tied around the crown, the ends hanging down behind like the streamers on little sister's best Sunday hat."

Irene Dunne, who a few weeks ago gave some very workable tricks for us to use on our "old clothes" to make them look a little revived, comes through with another knockout basic dress plan. She has a navy crepe daytime frock, to which she added navy blue and white checked gingham collars and cuffs plus a narrow gingham belt on which were two gingham pockets.

Now in our "go gay" department, Dolores Del Rio comes through with some excitement. She is down in Mexico to make a new picture and at the same time enjoy a vacation, so she packed a couple of really glamorous evening gowns designed for summer nights.

Another frothy fashion delight is Sheila Ryan's bouffant pink marquisette and chiffon evening gown with insets of exquisite lace, in which she made a fetching fashion portrait the other night at the Little Club, dancing with John Payne.

BEST DRESSED GIRL OF THE WEEK. Joan Fontaine introducing a fascinating color combination—a deep purple and sky blue. Her sports jacket of purple gabardine combined with a skirt of blue gabardine. Her shoes in purple gabardine were styled like the "barefoot" sandals children wear, and she wore her hair parted in the middle, braided in pigtails and fastened with purple ribbons.

AROUND TOWN: Susan Hayward in a dinner gown with a draped jersey silk bodice in kelly green matching her long gloves of the same fabric—the skirt splashed with brilliant printed morning glories.

A. He made his first record in 1929. It was "That Silver Haired Daddy of Mine," recorded by Columbia.

Q. From Alice Silman, Fresno, California: What is the next picture for the following players: Lynn Bari, Preston Foster and Dorothy Lamour?

A. Miss Bari, "Orchestra Wife" at Fox; Mr. Foster, "Miss Leland" at Paramount; Miss Lamour, "Road to Morocco" at Paramount.

Q. From Mrs. Charles Spence, Alton, Illinois: Can you tell me the tunes which Universal used for the introductory music in "Winners of the West"?

A. This was an original score by Frank Stinson, the man responsible for so much fine original music at that studio.

Q. From Margaret Ulrich, Fresno, California: Is the European star, Paul Henreid, making a picture at present, and if so what is its title?

A. Mr. Henreid is just completing a leading role opposite Bette Davis in "Now, Voyager." Thereafter he will go immediately into "Casa Bianca" at Warners.

Reviews of Previews

Noted for their production of screen biographies, Warner Brothers hit a new high with "YANKEE DOODLE DANDY," an epic portrayal of the life of America's best-known showman, George M. Cohan, with James Cagney giving the top performance of his movie career in the Cohan role.

Richard Whorf, Joan Leslie and James Cagney are three of the principal players in "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

In the history of the motion picture business never has a film been more timely, never has a picture been more inspirational than this biography of a living man whose very name is a household word throughout our country. During his life George Cohan has written over five hundred songs, many of which have quickened the pulse of all of us.

For two hours the story sweeps along with mounting suspense, the while generously sprinkled with song hits from the various Cohan shows. Cagney's performance is of Academy standards. Odd part is that he not only looks like Cohan, but he has succeeded in capturing some of the Cohan mannerisms to a point that is startling to old-timers who have known George M. Cohan's acting for 30 these many years.

Walter Huston contributes a masterpiece as the father, and Rosemary DeCamp is charming as the mother, always threatening to punish her brash offspring but never doing it. Cagney's sister, Jeanne Cagney, playing with him for the first time, does a fine job as Cohan's sister and young Joan Leslie justifies all the Warner Brothers' faith in her ability as the "Mary" whom Cohan marries and dedicates his "Mary" songs to.

A notable cast handles the rest of the assignments in top-notch style, with an especial nod to S. Z. Sakall, George Tobias, Richard Whorf, George Barbier and Walter Catlett for outstanding work. Nor would it be fair to omit praise for the directorial work of Michael Curtiz, who builds punch scene after punch scene and succeeds in topping each top with still another.

"YANKEE DOODLE DANDY" is for all movie-goers, young and old. The older adults will revel in its nostalgic flavor and the young element will draw a vivid inspiration that may well cause them to stand up and cheer.

Republic's "IN OLD CALIFORNIA," starring John Wayne, Binnie Barnes and Albert Dekker is rough-and-ready pioneer drama, dealing with early days in Sacramento, California. John Wayne, as an immigrating Bostonian druggist, who runs up against an ultra tough bad man played by Mr. Dekker, does some of the best work of his career, while Binnie Barnes makes a colorful entertainer who at times is not too sure of where her affections are pointing, but who still is gifted with a heart of pure gold.

For all lovers of a lusty brawl "IN OLD CALIFORNIA" will more than fill the bill.

Meet the Stars

With Vic Bossen

At lunch one day, Jean Phillips, to be seen soon in "Dr. Broadway," ran afoul of a writer who was looking for a secretary. "I want a girl who's fast with shorthand and a good typist," the writing man said gloomily. "But where can you find one like that? They're all working for Lockheed."

Vic Bossen

"No they're not," said Jean. "Here's one who isn't." "What do you mean?" The writing fellow was understandably puzzled.

"I mean just what I said," replied Jean. "I take shorthand, I type, and I want to be a secretary. I always have."

The writer did what is known in Hollywood as a double take. "You're kidding," he said. "I don't believe it. Why should you, of all people, want to be a secretary?"

Jean explained that she had an affinity for wearing white collars and cuffs. They were catnip to her.

The fellow went on resisting his opportunity, which throws some light on the kind of brains responsible for our status as a nation of pulp in teard of slick paper writers. But Jean finally convinced him that she was ready, eager, and that good training for the job, and it was arranged that she start in a couple of weeks. Then, all set to take down the first dictation thrown at her, "some picture came along and I had to take that." By the time this dread misfortune had been disposed of, the writer had filled the secretarial spot with someone else, leaving Jean, the movie star, once more frustrated in her ambition to be a secretary.

One doesn't try to explain this whimsy, any more than one attempts to account for the decision of all girls at a certain age to be nurses. Maybe one reason would be Jean's dislike of handsome men, no specimen of whom is known to exist in the field of writing, which therefore offers as good a refuge as any. She has yet to meet a man considered by two other people beside herself to be handsome who wasn't as puffed out about it as a bullfrog on a lily pad.

Among other talents beside shorthand and typing, Jean rates herself as a good cook, and this will be supported by groups up to eight at a time who have dropped in on her at the dinner hour. For diversion she reads the latest best-sellers, and she keeps up on events of the day by reading the papers and news magazines. She was working on "Faust" the day we came.

As to acting, she considers herself best in heavies, jargon for villainous roles, because she isn't "pretty enough for romantic leads." This, of course, is a completely wild and irrational statement that will be widely protested as such, and if you have any doubts, go and see her in "Dr. Broadway."

Twentieth Century-Fox's "Pied Piper" will be graced by the presence of Ann Baxter.

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS: Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are going to publicly bury their celebrated baseball routine—the zany dialogue that helped as much as anything to catapult them to fame. For a scene in their new comedy, "Who Done It," Abbott turns on the radio and hears the voices of Abbott and Costello doing the baseball routine. "Turn it off," screams Costello. "Anything but that." "You said it," agrees Abbott, with a sigh, and drops the radio on the floor. Helga Moray filed suit for divorce from director Tay Garnett. They separated recently after seven years of marriage. Jane Withers is reviving her famous impersonations of Miranda, Hepburn, Temple and ZaSu Pitts for her eastern personal appearance tour this month.

After dining with President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House the other night, Robert Montgomery, now a naval officer, asked F. D. R. for an autographed picture. "This might prove embarrassing after the way you campaigned in Hollywood for Wilkie," F. D. R. said, with a twinkle in his eyes. Montgomery acquiesced in his chair. "But," laughed the President, "you still got yourself into the White House before he did." Marlene Dietrich's 17-year-old daughter, Maria, makes her Los Angeles stage debut soon in "Mourning Becomes Electra" at the Max Reinhardt Workshop. But she isn't using the name Dietrich. She'll be billed as Maria Mantou, preferring not to trade on her mother's famous name.

Lupe Velez is collaborating on the writing of her dialogue for her role as a baseball roofer in RKO's "Ladies Day." But the censors will have to eliminate some of the words she uses every Friday night at the Hollywood fights. William Bakewell and Sharon Douglas are an item. Fox is paying Tallulah Bankhead for a top role in "China Girl," with a possibility that her former husband, John Emery, will play the villain in the picture. Phil Silvers and Rags Ragland headline the new show opening at Chatterley Foy's supper club. You probably won't recognize Rosemary De Camp in "Eyes in the Night." She's going glamorous after a series of roles which required heavy makeup and dialects.

Hedy Lamarr couldn't find time to become the bride of George Montgomery. But she did have time to become a bridesmaid recently at the wedding of her wardrobe girl, Margaret Woods, to Lieut. James Jennings of the air corps. Producer Lester Cutler is reuniting the cast of the old Torchy Blane pictures—Barton MacLane, Glenda Farrell and Lyle Talbot—in "A Night for Crime." Carter de Haven's daughter, Gloria, and Dennis Day have discovered each other. They were holding hands at the Biltmore Bowl. Ditto Gail Amber and Robert Stack at the Hollywood Tropics and Mary Jane Dolan and Vic Mature at the Players.

Argument of the month: Rudy Vallee, the Vagabond Lover, trying to talk producers Bill Pine and Bill Thomas into casting him as a Nazi in "Submarine Alert." Errol Flynn plays "Gentleman Jim" Corbett, the prizefighter, in his new picture, but the studio isn't overlooking romance. In fact, the first scene in the film shows Flynn and Alexis Smith in a forty-five second clinch—and not in the ring. The Andrews Sisters, who have been giving up old songs, are now going to modernize hillbilly tunes. The prop man has gone berserk gapping up gravestones on "The Hard Way" set. Jerry Wald, the producer, is represented like this: "J. Wald." Born 100 years too soon, died 100 years too late.

Guy Kibbee, of all people, will do a jitterbug dancing routine for his next film, "Scattergood Swings It." Sibyl Bowan's New York heartbeats, Charles Lundeen, just gifted her with a big ring. Frankie Thomas is navy bound as soon as he completes work in a current picture. Two major studios are bidding for the services of Jean Sheldon, the Feldman-Blum agency's latest discovery. And with Akim Tamiroff, Mikhail Rasumny, Fortunio Bonanova, Leo Bulgakov, Vladimir Sokoloff, Leonid Kinskey and Martin Garralaga in the cast, I'm wondering if Paramount will be forced to bill "For Whom the Bell Tolls" as "For Whom the Bellsk Tolls."

KEN MORGAN'S

Hollywood Keyhole

Ken Morgan

The title of Mickey Rooney's next film at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is "Andy's Last Fling." We fervently hope the tag is not indicative. Seems incredible that the studio would write "finis" to this series, which has been the only one of numerous attempts at longevity for series pictures to really hit. Adapted originally from the old Auranla Rouverol play, "Skidding," the stories have kidded right into the hearts of one of the largest audiences ever accorded motion pictures. Perhaps MGM opines that Mickey's recent marriage might have a disastrous effect on the character he portrays—but we don't hold with that argument. Maybe if the news is noised around enough, ample mail will cause a cessation to the projected denouement.

The latest news to come our way about our favorite actress, Martha Scott, keeps our opinion of her on its consistent vein. It seems that when MGM required Martha for a picture, "The Man on America's Conscience," the studio dispatched a telegram requesting her to report for tests. But Martha's reply was "Sorry, but I've got a date with some Marines at Quantico, Virginia."

Mary Martin will soon take off on a tour of Army camps. It won't be a distant tour as she is needed for the Bing Crosby radio show. But this time, her routines will take on added flavor. In previous appearances, Mary has confined her entertainment to songs. However, so many letters have come from the boys in service to show her famous "gams" that she is including two dances in her projected summer trip. She'll wear velvet trunks and long black stockings so the boys will get a good look.

THE GOOD RUMOR MAN: The Jack Oakies have adopted a four year old boy. What's this about Arthur Hornblow scrambling to New York in a hurry to see ex-wife Myrna Loy? Maria Montez is all set for her housewarming party this weekend, but as yet no furniture has arrived—guests will sit on boxes. Kitty Carlisle is due back in Hollywood this week to appear with George Jessel and Jack Haley in a musical—she will also give her first Hollywood Bowl concert while here. Arleen Whelan took off this week on another bond-selling tour. Brenda Tallulah Bankhead will get back into pictures with a Ben Hecht story. Talk is that a certain French producer is spreading the marriage rumors with a "silent" star in order to get column space.

Sign on Mickey Rooney's dressing-room on the "Yank at Eton" set reads at noon: "Yank is out!" Martha Ross is back from a three-month personal appearance tour. With the shortage of night clubs affecting the social life of the aircraft workers and service men, Larry Potter has enlarged his Jade Cafe to include five bars and two non-stop floor shows. Connie Russell is due for the MGM buildup.

Virginia Hill, who has money bags under her eyes, is blinking them at Miguelito Valdes, Cugat's soloist. After only one date it looks like Betty Hutton and Sid Luft, handsome test-pilot, are building. Edgy Carroll cutie Evelyn Moriarty landed a bustup between William Tracy and Lois James notwithstanding, she still wears the ring. Funny thing about the recent spitting rumors neither of them would admit their marriage till months after the ceremony, which is still something of a mystery. And the same mystery and rumors surrounded their recent divorce in Mexico.

Harry Lester's Specialty—Harry Lester's Auto store carries a complete line of automobile parts, but the thing that sets it apart from other businesses in the same line is his well-equipped machine shop, a part of which is pictured above. Motor re-boring, crankshaft grinding and brake drum turning are among the many services offered by the shop. Shown in the picture are four specialists employed in the shop, left to right: Willie D. Lovelace, Dewey Phelan, Howard Lester and David Smith. (Photo by Kelsey).

Harry Lester Offers Many Services

Twenty-one years of the highest type of automotive service in Big Spring is the record of the Harry Lester Auto Supply house.

Not only does Lester carry a complete line of automobile and machine parts and replacements, but he operates a complete machine shop, where practically any type of mechanical work is done with outstanding efficiency.

The machine shop specializes in grinding shafts, lining and reaming main bearings, grinding pressure plates, and brake drum service.

Harry Lester Auto Supply is distributor for Perfect Circle piston rings, recognized as the highest quality, Thompson valves, pistons and chassis parts.

Auto Lite and Delco Remy ignition service are also features of their business.

In addition to these major phases of automotive service, Harry Lester carries one of the most complete stocks of smaller parts in West Texas. If anything needed in this line is obtainable, Harry Lester has it.

A force of experienced employees stand ready to assist customers in their mechanical problems.

Working Women Favor Youth Beauty Shop

In a downtown location which appeals to working women, the Youth Beauty shop, owned and managed by Mrs. Jimmy Eason, has prospered for 13 years in Big Spring.

The shop is now located in the Douglass hotel building where Mrs. Eason moved some year and four months ago. Before that the shop was located at the old Toby store for three years.

The Youth Beauty shop specializes in permanent waving, in hair styles and manicures. But in addition to the beauty shop, Mrs. Eason has the Merle Norman beauty products agency where customers may become acquainted with the cosmetics.

The most modern equipment is used in the beauty parlor and Mrs. Eason is assisted by two experienced operators. Opal Chapman has been with the shop for two years and Mary Nell Smitherman since the first of the year.

Since so many of Mrs. Eason's customers are women who are busy working during the day, many of their appointments are made for the evening. And getting through and keeping appointments on time so the customers have no long waits, is another keystone of the success of the shop.

Mrs. Eason can point to many of her present customers who were among the first to come to her shop twelve years ago. Now they and some of their children are among the many patrons who come to the shop for their beauty work.

Few Big Stories Come From FD's Office Now

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON — The old feed-box is running dry. Time was in this administration...

The President's press conferences these days are so "dull" that many of the few correspondents still privileged to attend will frequently pass them up for something "more important."

The reasons behind the decline of the White House as a major news source are simply that (1) the few times in history a Pres-

Those Park Hacks Too Slow For Real Business

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — What's cooking around town?... Here's what's cooking, chum....

What's cooking, you ask?... Well, Tallulah Bankhead is suing a publicity firm for $50,000 because of certain stories that firm released....

dent had to delegate so much authority to so many other persons, and (2) the Second World War all-out effort is so gigantic that there is hardly a minute when even the greatest brain can assemble all the loose threads to weave a pattern of truth which he can pass on to the nation he serves.

Donald Nelson, of WPB; Gen. William Knudsen; Price Administrator Leon Henderson; General Marshall; Secretaries of the War and Navy, Stimson and Knox; Treasury Secretary Morgenthau; Jesse Jones and Paul V. McNutt; Vice President Wallace; Secretary Wickard of Agriculture; Secretary of State Hull (who is the only cabinet member who still holds daily press conferences); Transportation Coordinator Eastman — all of these and a dozen others pour out the day-to-day news on the war effort of our government and our armed forces. It is up to them to know from now to now what goes on and why.

The White House holds the wheel and steers the ship. But if you are after any more information than what stars are steering by don't bother with the Helmsman's press conference.

Stevenson, assigned to the Training Film Production Laboratories at Wright Field.... That fight between two brothers who are rival band leaders was nothing new.... They've been fighting for years.... This particular scrap took place at 3 a. m. at one of the Broadway road openings.... Most of the guests had gone home.... Though there has never been a decision.... Neither, apparently, can whip the other.

This, too, is cooking.... Those patient, dignified, elderly, straight-backed old men who operate two-wheeled, horse-drawn hacks in the vicinity of the Park aren't respawning any harvest, despite the rationing on gasoline.... Their cabs, strictly on the antique side, are for larks.... It's a gag to hop into one and go clattering through the Park or down 5th avenue, gravely lifting your hat to everyone you pass in the best 1890 tradition.... But people who need gas still find these hacks too slow for business appointments.... The old men tell me theirs is one of the few unchanging businesses that almost never reflect the times.... They stand at the heads of their horses like lonely sentinels, waiting for the fare that, sooner or later, comes along.... But as for a rush.... There isn't any rush, never has been, and probably never will be.... I can't ever remember seeing all the hacks out on call at the same time.

Editorial - - Advertising For Future Security

What will happen to advertising? Why advertise when I can't get enough stock to sell anyhow? Those questions have become so ticklish that they are taboos in many an office where advertising is the stock in trade.

Dickson Hartwell, a New York advertising executive, answers them in the current Nation's Business. Advertising is more than a sales plug thinks Mr. Hartwell. It can be used to create public opinion and business men may need a favorable public far more than ever before after this war is over.

UNFAIR TO LOVE By Watkins E. Wright

Chapter 31 JOE DISAPPEARS When Kathleen opened her eyes, the sunlight was streaming into the room. She sat up and looked at the time. It was eleven o'clock in the morning. She jumped out of bed, and turned on the shower. Half an hour later she walked into the dining room.

The telephone bell rang while Kathleen was having her first cup of coffee. She went to answer it. It was the editor of the Linville Gazette.

Kathleen went back to her breakfast. She tried to put the matter of Joe's absence from work from her mind. But it was difficult. She kept thinking of their quarrel of the night before—wondering if that had anything to do with Joe's non-appearance at the newspaper office.

Fred DeMille arrived in the midst of her wondering, and worrying, and breakfasting.

"We're calling off 'Goodbye, Honey Child' as he announced, after he and Kathleen had said their good mornings. "We're going to use one of our old plays during the rest of the week. Sorry your professional appearance was so short-lived, Kathleen, but..."

"Why this sudden decision?" Kathleen asked, amazed at the relief she felt.

Fred chuckled. "We've got to put on a play in which Paul has a less conspicuous part," he said. "The patch on his forehead shows rather plainly and his chin is swollen."

"Joe's doings," said Kathleen. "He told me." Then she said, trying to speak calmly, "By the way, have you seen Joe today?"

"Yes, I saw him early this morning," said Fred. "He was helping Ruby into his car."

"Where on earth could they be going so early?" Kathleen said, as though speaking to herself. "I should think Ruby would be all worn out after last night."

Fred shook his head. "It puzzles me too. Maybe Ruby finally made up her mind which she wanted—Joe or your uncle."

Dirge Possibility "You mean it may have been an elopement?"

"Yes," said Fred. "Ruby's got a romantic streak a yard wide. He looked up as Lizzie walked in. 'Hello, Lizzie,' he said. 'Mind if I have a cup of coffee?'"

Fred got his coffee. He sat drinking it.

"I hope you don't feel too badly about it," he said to Kathleen. "Joe's a swell kid—I know—but with you planning a career, and sort of ditching him, he naturally—"

"I'm not planning a career!" Kathleen cried out. "I hate careers, Fred DeMille. Sometimes I wish you and your old actors had never come to Linville. I—I—" Words failed her. She caught up her napkin and dabbed at her eyes.

"There, there, Kathleen, my child," exclaimed Fred. "I didn't mean to get you all upset. I'm sorry."

"The idea," Kathleen rushed on. "Ruby Howard is years and years older than Joe—why, it's nothing less than a kidnapping!"

"Maybe so," said Fred thoughtfully. "And yet Joe certainly didn't look a bit unwilling—when I saw them."

"Oh, shut up!" said Kathleen. Fred got to his feet. "I'll be getting along. If there's anything I can do, just—"

"I'll stop talking as though someone had died!" cried Kathleen.

Fred, somewhat confused, softly mumbled "goodbye," and departed. Kathleen went into the living room. She paced up and down, and up and down. "I've been the world's prize idiot!" she told herself. She wanted to cry, and couldn't. She picked up a book. She put it down. The minutes dragged. Finally she went out to the kitchen.

"I don't want any lunch, Lizzie," she said. "I ate breakfast so late. But you'd better fix something for Mr. Frank."

"He didn't say. You know how Mr. Frank likes to drop in with folks to eat, Miss Kathleen." "Yes, I know," said Kathleen wearily. "Just plan a good meal, Lizzie—and plenty of it."

No Uncle Frank An hour later a garage man telephoned to say that Mr. Frank

Joe, and comfort her, make her feel that her world hadn't really come to an end. She reached the building in which Mr. Frank had his real estate office, and went up the stairs. She tried the knob of the office door, and found it locked.

Then she noticed a small card stuck in the glass. She bent down to read it. It said: "Gone for the day." She turned away, her heart heavy. Joe gone! Uncle Frank gone! She had never before felt so utterly alone.

She went down to the street again. A short time later she was driving her uncle's car out into the country, wondering in a sort of half-interested way where Uncle Frank had gone, and how—since he didn't take the car with him.

It was nice in the country. And she drove on and on, faster and faster, as though trying to get away from her thoughts. She stopped at the farm, strolled through the old house, tidying up here and there—but when she saw the barbecue pit, and remembered all her hopes and dreams, she felt sick with an almost overwhelming conglomeration of emotions. She went back to the car, got in, and drove away—faster than she had ever driven before.

When she drove into the driveway of the Vaughan place, she saw Ruby Howard sitting upon the front porch. She barely missed the elm tree that grew near the garage, as she stiffened. "Well, of all the nerves!" she thought. Uncle Frank daring to bring Joe Neely and his actress bride out to her house for supper!

"Hello!" she said to Ruby. "Hello! We've been wondering what had happened to you."

"Really?" said Kathleen. "I've been doing some wondering myself. So has Joe's boss. He's been wondering why Joe didn't come to work. But—"

"Poor Joe!" said Ruby. "He was in a dilemma. But, you see, my dear—"

Vaughan's car was ready. "I didn't know there was anything wrong with it," said Kathleen.

"Nothing serious," said the man. "Just took a few hours to make some adjustments. Shall I drive it out?"

"No," said Kathleen. "I'll come and get it."

On the way to the garage, she decided to run up and see her uncle. She had to talk to someone, or go crazy. She knew Uncle Frank would understand about

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Minus Her Zoo, Doris Dudley Tries Comeback

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — One of Hollywood's most famous old-time zookeepers has settled again in our town. Miss Doris Dudley, the girl who tripped all over animals the last time she tried the movies, tripped, fell flat on her pretty face—and out.

"But now I'm not 16 any more I'm 23," says gladder and wiser Doris, who has a story straight from the Body of Hollywood. She's the daughter of Blaise Dudley, the New York drama critic, and she naturally gravitated toward the stage. She never got there, because while she was rehearsing for her first role a movie agent saw her, made a note, and talked RKO into a contract which was practically fabulous for a beginner. Here were the terms: for the acting services of an untrained 16-year-old, RKO agreed to give her $1,500 a week plus story approval. You have to know how many big stars fight for that "story approval" to appreciate how sensational it was.

So Doris arrived, with colossal fanfare, and settled down quietly in a big house out in Brentwood to become a movie star. Quietly.

Everybody gave me advice, she says, "and I followed all of it—even when one friend's advice conflicted with another's."

So it made about that, though she had been married and had a baby, she kept both items in the dark background. What she kept out front was something scatter-brained named Doris Dudley who was mother to a zoo.

Callers at the Dudley manse were pounced upon by dogs, countless dogs, all kinds of dogs. They were not unlikely to be assailed, if not bitten, by a monkey. They were very likely to smell the goats if the wind was right. They could feast their eyes on gorgeous parakeets. They could pet, if they chose, Miss Dudley's lion cub.

Miss Dudley finally made her movie debut with eclat. She played K. Hepburn's 15-year-old daughter in "A Woman Rebels." Miss Dudley, like the movie, was a bud.

"So for seven years," she says, "I'm sure that when Hollywood heard my name it shuddered and screamed and turned the other way."

Miss Dudley meanwhile had married again. She and her husband, Jack Jenkins, dissolved the zoo. The food bills were preposterous. Miss Dudley went out to learn acting.

She came back this time to play Blanche Strove in "The Moon and Sixpence."—and this time she acted. She has clicked.

While her husband ferries planes in the east, blonde Miss Dudley and their young son "Butch" are sunning in a tiny beach house at Santa Monica, where the older boy "Skipper" will join them when his eastern school is out.

In England and Wales, only about one-seventh of the men and one-quarter of the women in the age group 20 to 24 are married.

Chinese Push Up Closer To Enemy Base

By The Associated Press

In the Asiatic theatre, Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's warriors were reported today to have captured positions within rifle shot of Nanchang, enemy base in Kiangsi province.

The Chinese, said the Central Daily News at Chungking, gained positions across the Kuan river from Nanchang in three battles yesterday, thereby confronting the Japanese with at least a major diversion in their Kiangsi-Chekiang drive against other large Chinese forces.

Nanchang is a terminus of the Kiangsi-Chekiang railway which the Japanese have been trying to occupy completely by driving from both ends of the line against the Chinese-held middle section. Nanchang, in Japanese hands since 1938, has been under Chinese attack several times.

The Japanese reported the capture of Shangjiao in eastern Kiangsi, about 25 miles from the Chekiang border.

While the Chinese fought a battle of delay and harassment, the China Times at Chungking urged an Allied offensive at once to drive the Japanese from their foothold in the extremity of the Aleutian Islands and "pursue them right to the heart of Japan."

The newspaper also exhorted Russia to provide the United States bases in the Vladivostok area and on the Kamchatka peninsula for direct assaults on the enemy.

Second Route To Airport Still Under Study

Although a definite route has not been submitted to the county commissioners investigations are still underway for a proposed new road to the airport via scenic mountain. It is still impossible to determine definitely just how far plans have been developed, but indications are that the new road will be constructed. According to County Judge Walton Morrison, the project will carry a priority rating of A-1-E, as it will handle traffic leading to government work.

The county is continuing work on a five-mile strip on the Gall road which was started last November. Difficulty in getting parts for machinery made it necessary to halt construction on this project on two occasions.

"When we found all these magazines in the car we were like kids around a Christmas tree," he wrote. "You folks are the first to leave magazines on our trip from Ft. Eustis, Va. and want you to know how much I appreciate the kindness."

Bond-Stamp Sales To Be Organized

Trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce was being convoked for a Monday afternoon parley to plan observance of a national plan for stamp and bond sales on July 1.

Total cooperation of all mercantile establishments in ceasing all sales of merchandise for a quarter of an hour starting at 12 noon on July 1 will be sought as a result of the committee meeting, it was predicted.

The national plan calls for an intensive campaign at that time for sale of stamps and bonds. These will be the only "goods" available at that time.

Organization for local observance will be mapped at the committee session.

Survivors Reach East Coast Ports

NEW YORK, June 15. (AP)—The third naval district headquarters said today that 17 survivors, previously listed as missing from a torpedoed U. S. freighter, had arrived safely in eastern ports.

Their ship was torpedoed and shelled June 1, it was announced June 11.

Of the crew of 36, including four gunners, one was killed and 35 have now been rescued.

Food Price Rise Checked

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—The war inspired agricultural commodity price rise and the almost uninterrupted advance in wholesale food costs since before Pearl Harbor have definitely been halted, at least for the time being, market statistics showed today.

Although farm commodities are exempt from blanket ceilings placed on most processed food costs to consumers, market prices now have retreated from 1942 highs in the case of all major products.

They are still well above year ago levels, however, and experts said this fact, coupled with greatly increased wartime farm production, virtually assures agriculture of near record cash income this year. Preliminary forecasts indicate marketings will yield farmers about $2,000,000,000 more than the $11,000,000,000 plus income they received in 1941.

Various developments other than price control have had important influence in causing certain commodities to back down from 1942 highs. For example, excellent crop weather, generally speaking, with near record harvests in prospect and large carryover supplies on hand, have helped to depress grains. Butter and eggs have been affected by large supplies coming to market as producers swing into the greatly expanded war production program. Trade authorities said ceilings on beef and pork have directly affected farmers' markets for cattle and hogs.

Wholesale food prices have backed down slightly from the 25-year peak reached at mid-May. The latest Dun and Bradstreet index representing the price per pound of 31 foods was $3.66 compared with a high of $3.69 May 19; $3.33 just before Pearl Harbor, and $2.97 a year ago.

Builders Are Told To Apply For Priority

Big Spring had not received an anticipated designation as a "critical housing area" up to Monday noon, but those who plan on building to meet housing needs were advised not to sit idly by awaiting the announcement.

From the FEHA office of Preston L. Wright at Fort Worth came the suggestion that "local people who are interested in building to procure application blanks for priorities from the Fort Worth FEHA office so that they may be prepared to submit their applications as soon as priorities are made available."

Saturday Rep. George Mahon had advised local authorities that this city probably would be declared a critical area Monday. The Fort Worth FEHA office had strongly urged that Big Spring be so designated to relieve an increasingly acute housing situation.

Meanwhile, J. H. Raley, Lubbock District FEHA representative, had announced relaxation of restrictions to the extent remodeling would be permitted where extra families could be accommodated. Forms were being dispatched from Lubbock Monday and these, together with those for new building (when secured from the Fort Worth FEHA office) may be had by individuals through their material dealers.

Priorities Sighted For Water-Sewer Lines To Port

Start of construction of city water and sewer lines to the U. S. Flying School site here was a step nearer Monday.

Certification for priorities on materials virtually was assured. Previously, work was pending approval of a WPA project, then sanction by the state department of health. When these came through, this left only a War Production Board certification for materials necessary.

This snagged for a week, but Monday, said E. J. McDaniel, the way apparently had been cleared for securing pipe and supplies "as soon as we can get them located."

There will be about one mile of 12-inch main to the school's big water reservoir, and more than three miles of sewer line.
