With this group she has worked in the conventions process at the precinct, county, district and state level as an Eastland County delegate. It is beginning to look more like spring will pop out soon as the temperatures are rising a little during the day. However, the nighttime temperatures continue to be pretty cool.

A lot of folks are putting in a lot of work on their gardens, getting a lot of the early planting done to get things started.

—J—

We received a few notes recently: Hi Joe,

Our first granddaughter was born January 11th. Needless to say we will be spoiling her.

Really look forward to getting the paper every week. Keep up the good work.

—J—
I can tell you one thing, Jonnie - you are really in for a treat with a granddaughter. They sure knew what they were doing when they named them "Grand" daughters. Congratulations.

Dear sir,
Enclosed is my check for $12 for which send me the paper for one year.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. C. R. McCullough
2512 Irion, Ft. Worth 76106

Dear Joe,
I had hoped to make this brief, but I find that hard to do when I write about the wonderful people in Gorman and De Leon.

I did not think people still cared so much until we were there for the funeral of our father, Sully Mauney.

In all our travels I have never felt so humble and grateful as I do now, that our friends we left so many years have so much compassion for their own.

The old saying, you can't go home again is not true for I truly believe that I came home again.

Thanks,
Dorothy (Mauney) Alsop
Princeton, La.

The Gorman Progress:
Please send me one year of the Gorman Progress. Check is enclosed.

Thank you.
Mrs. James E. Lane

Thanks for the check and the new sub to the Progress. We hope you enjoy the paper as much as we enjoy publishing and sending it to you.

—J—
Politics continues to get better and better with all the hopefuls hitting the campaign trails, especially in the county, and are out shaking hands and asking folks for their support in the Democratic and Republican primaries on March 13th.

It looks as though there will be some real good races in the county balloting. So be sure and vote in the upcoming primaries. And if you have not registered as yet, you still may do so before February 11th. It is not only your privilege to vote - it's your duty! So let's all get out and vote on March 13th.

—J—
We congratulate the Gorman exhibitors in the local project show and wish them the best of luck in the upcoming Eastland County Livestock Show on February 15-17. We hope you bring home all the trophies and ribbons you can carry! Good Luck!

—J—
And remember to smile - because God Loves You!

We had thunderstorms and about half an inch of rain in the early morning hours last Thursday, Feb. 1. And you know the old timers saying, "If it thunders in February it will frost on that day in April". So mark your calendars and see if it is true.

There was a heavy frost on Sunday and Monday mornings this week. Except for the extremely cold spell around Christmas, we haven't had a lot of cold winter weather so we probably can expect to have more before Spring is here.

Special music at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning was rendered by Leona Wilson, Kay Snider, Gary Browning, Danny Snider, J. L. Morrow, Otis Griffith, Oren and Norma Webb and Woodrow and Helen Browning. The special music on Sunday night was rendered by Helen and Woodrow Browning, Norma Webb, Leona Wilson, Jimmy Little and J. L. Morrow. It was sure nice to have Woodrow back following his recent surgery.

Alan Little of Houston was a visitor on Sunday morning. Alan was home for a visit with his parents, Charles and Carolyn Little, and sister, Charla, and other relatives and friends.

Our congratulations to Dr. Dwayne Snider of Stephenville. He has been named as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at Tarleton State University. Dwayne is the son of Mrs. C. L. Snider, and grew up at Kokomo.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullen Rodgers spent Thursday and Friday in Midlothian visiting with Gene and Jimmy Rodgers and their families.

Mrs. Jessie McCaffety of Amarillo arrived on Friday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Anna Laura Clearman.

John Ed and Billie Jeanne Grisham of De Leon, Lucille Joiner and Joyce Bramlett of Stephenville visited with their mother, Mrs. Bill Joiner, on Saturday.

PFC. Tony Thackerson Completes Marine Basic

(FHTNC) - Marine Pfc. Tony Thackerson, son of James A. and Charlene E. Thackerson of Carbon, Texas, has completed recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 13-week training cycle, Thackerson was taught the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bennett and Ora Mae Jordan.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the family of Mr. Ernest Weaver of New Hope. Several from the Kokomo community attended Mr. Weaver's funeral at Gorman on Saturday. The Weaver family have attended revival services and singings at Kokomo many times in past years.

Ray Neal, Melissa and Emily Little of Eastland visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Little on Friday night. Ray Neal had the misfortune to break his right foot last Monday. He will be on crutches for awhile, but we wish him as speedy a recovery as possible.

Mrs. Mamie Little had dinner with Jimmy and Verna Lee Little on Sunday and they, with Mrs. Dora Garrett, visited Annie and Veno Hale at Canterbury Villa in Gorman on Sunday afternoon.

JARED FAILS HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Fails of Arlington honored their son, Jared, with a birthday party on his 4th birthday Dec. 19 at their home in Arlington. There was a birthday cake with four candles and Jared's friends to enjoy it with him, along with his parents, Tim and Nelda, and brother Cody.

The Fails family were visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Little during the Christmas holidays and Jared and Cody remained for a visit the next week with their grandparents. When the Littles took the boys home there was another family birthday party for Jared with more gifts and four candles on an apple pie.

Mrs. C. L. Snider spent last week in Brownwood with LaVon Snider. LaVon has returned to her work at the library at Howard Payne after recuperating from a broken arm in the home of her mother, Mrs. C. L. Snider.

Ted Higginbottom Wears Many Hats In Pursuit of Perfect Peanut

(The following article is reprinted from the January 28th issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram)

Grown by farmers in pockets of sandy land across four regions — Central, West-Northwest, South and East Texas — peanuts generate $95 million to $120 million in annual farm sales for the state.

SEMINOLE — Taking advice from veteran growers, Ted Higginbottom quickly evolved into a first-class Texas peanut nutritionist, doctor, digger and marketer.

All those roles must be played to near perfection by anyone risking more than $500,000 a year to grow and harvest peanuts on 700 acres in country somewhat prone to hail and sandstorms.

As a peanut nutritionist, Higginbottom pulls plant tissue samples throughout the growing season to determine the crop's precise nutrient needs. A laboratory analyzes the samples and tells him what nutrient formulas to apply.

"We do not make blanket chemical applications of any kind," he said, noting high costs of fertilizers and pesticides and environmental concerns as reasons.

Higginbottom, 39, has won praise for his ability to coax goobers to pod profusely in two far-flung, sandy Texas regions. But the peanuts just didn't multiply well enough to suit him in the Gorman area of Central Texas. So in early 1982, he hauled his farm equipment to this west-northwest region, 17 miles west of here and two miles from New Mexico.

"You won't make too many mistakes because you won't be in business," said Higginbottom, who oversees considerably more than $1 million in annual production inputs for all his crops. Included are cotton, rye, melons, vegetables and peanuts on 2,000 acres plus some joint ventures with other farmers.

Peanuts routinely are his single largest income generator, at 50 percent of his gross, and reliably earn higher profits than his other crops, he said.

Higginbottom has made few serious peanut errors since his first area crop, when he harvested an average of 4,250 pounds per acre on 250 acres in 1983. The Gaines County average was about 3,700 pounds.

His pampered peanut land peaked at 4,800 pounds per acre in 1987 and averaged 4,500 pounds on 700 acres last year.

Here's how he nurtures and protects the crop:

Higginbottom pulls pre-season soil samples for tests on fertilizer needs. He often uses up to 20 different fertilizer blends on various fields to give the crop precisely what it needs and nothing more.

Behind the tractor, he and his skilled employees pull special cultivators repeatedly over the soil and the young peanut plants. The plants aren't hurt while blades turn moister clay on top of the persistent blow sand. That's to prevent the sand storms from shearing the plants at ground level.

Unless rainfall is abnormally heavy, repeated irrigations are needed in this dry country.

He checks for disease twice a week. He normally has to spray often for leaf diseases. But the area has less disease trouble than the Gorman area, he said.

His diverse crop rotation is another prime reason for his peanut success. That's to break and prevent the cycle of disease buildup that comes when peanuts are raised repeatedly on the same land.

Digging comes with machines in October. After the nuts dry some in the field, the harvesting machines separate the nuts from the foliage. Finally, the peanuts are dumped on a conveyor belt with fans to blow out the sticks, hulls and dirt.

After inspections and grading, the nuts in semi-trailer trucks head to shelling, seed and export corporations in three states.

From the beginning, Higginbottom's crops have been fancy grade, premium-priced goobers. Consistently, the nuts have rated just short of perfect, far above the state's overall average quality and well above the U. S. Department of Agriculture's standard for peanut quality.

But none of them have ever been eaten in the United States, he said.

Higginbottom raises peanuts only on advance contracts for higher-priced seed going ultimately to other farmers to plant and for normally lower-priced, export-bound nuts sailing mainly to Europe. His sales split

On Saturday morning, several workshops will be provided which are: Teens Reaching Youth (T-R-Y) and a session on Judging 4-H Project Record Books for the adult leaders which will be taught by Mike McKinney.

Cost of the weekend retreat is $18. The Eastland County 4-H Recreation Team has been selected to sponsor the Friday evening party and evening ceremonial.

Pre-registration is required: Eastland County 4-Hers and leaders planning to attend should notify the Extension Service at 629-2222 prior to March 1.

4-H JUNIOR LEADERS:

All 4-H Junior Leaders are asked to meet Sunday, February 11 from 2 to 3:30 p. m. at the livestock show-grounds.

We will set up for the 4-H Petting Zoo.

Parents are needed at this same time for cleaning the concession stands and setting up for the activities during stock show.

4-H CONTESTS SLATED

36 4-Hers and leaders attended the workshop on method demonstration and contests, states Janet Thomas and Scott Hodges, County Extension Agents. There is a lot of interest this year which was evident by the great attendance!

County contests will be Friday, March 30th from 5 to 6:30 p. m. at the Eastland National Bank Community Room.

4-Hers needing additional information should contact the Eastland County Extension Service office at 629-2222 or 629-1093.

Weight Loss Pill 'Baffles' Scientists

WASHINGTON — Scientists are baffled by a new weight loss formula that causes people to lose weight even though they don't change the way they normally eat.

Studies published in respected scientific journals such as The British Journal of Nutrition say that cyamopsis tetragonolobus, an ingredient often used to thicken ice cream, can cause permanent weight loss without dieting or exercise. Although several explanations for the weight loss are suggested, the most likely according to scientists, is that the ingredient seems to "trap" high calorie fat particles, decreasing their absorption in the intestines.

Scientists at National dietary Research, an organization committed to the research and development of nutritional solutions to world-wide health problems, have successfully isolated and incorporated cyamopsis tetragonolobus into an improved formula that greatly enhances the potential for weight loss over the ingredient alone. Called Food Source One, the revolutionary new formula provides a three-way scientifically designed process to help prevent caloric absorption.

The mechanism by which Food Source One works to decrease body weight is a complicated process called nutri-bonding. When chewed and swallowed immediately before meals, high calorie fats are replaced with lower calorie nutrients, thereby providing optimum nutrition and a minimum number of fat calories as explained in an instruction sheet that accompanies the tablets. The instruction sheet should be followed for optimum results.

Food Source One is unlike any other product on the market and is available immediately because it is not a drug and only contains natural ingredients already known to be safe. Physicians and pharmacists are praising Food Source One as a natural, drug free alternative for the treatment of obesity. Food Source One is available at:

Local FFA Members To Exhibit Animals At Houston Show

19 members of the Gorman FFA will be joining 4-H and other FFA members from throughout the state for showing competition at the upcoming Houston Livestock Show February 17 through March 4 at the Astrohall.

These FFA and 4-H exhibitors compete in one of two divisions of the Houston Livestock Show - the junior show division. The other division, the open show, attracts its exhibitors from the world's agricultural industry, primarily professional breeders and ranchers.

Entries in both the open and junior shows combine with horse show entries to make the Houston Show the world's largest.

Representing 841 Texas 4-H Clubs and FFA chapters, the junior show is expected to exceed 12,000 entries this year. A variety of animals are shown in the junior show division: market steers, market swine, market sheep, market poultry, beef and dairy heifers, breeding sheep, goats, commercial steers and breeding rabbits.

The four market animal categories represent animals raised by the exhibitor as food sources. Top animals in each of these categories are eligible for their individual market auctions. Total money paid in 1989 at the four junior show auctions exceeded $4.5 million.

The Gorman exhibitors and their entries are:

Market Lambs: Tonya Caraway and Nikki Warren.

Market Barrows: Shane Caraway, Tonya Caraway, J. J. Clark, Reese Clark, Chuck Fonville, Mike Hampton, Oscar Herrera, Ashley Laminack, Kris Laminack, Mindy Laminack, Joe Rodgers, Marla Smith, John Mart Stephens, Samantha Stephens, Tiffany Stephens, Justin Underwood, Jade Warren, Justin Warren, and Nikki Warren.

Heather Sandlin Has Poem Published By Sparrowgrass

Gorman Elementary student, Heather Sandlin, has recently had her poem, "The Horse" published in the 1990 Sparrowgrass Poetry Anthology published by the Sparrowgrass Poetry Forum. Heather submitted her poem and was notified in the fall that it had been accepted for publication.

Her copy of the beautiful book arrived in January. Heather has been writing poetry for some time, but this is the first of her poems to be published.

THE HORSE

The horse, the horse
With a heaving chest
After a long, long run
Walks away with much dignity.
Flanks all golden brown,
He goes to his stall
Where he stands and cools down.
Then goes off and plays
All frolicking around.
Off he goes again,
Off to his mate,
Off to his children.
He goes, he plays, he runs and frolics.
Oh, horse, come, go with me.
Run, frolic and play
But whatever you do,
Come go with me.

—Heather Sandlin, age 10
