Nazis Drive New Flanking Move Wedges On Both Russian Fronts

MOSCOW, June 24 (AP)-Reckless charges by hundreds of nazi tanks followed by infantry have driven a wedge into the Red army defenses on the Kharkov front in the Ukraine and are bringing overpowering strength to bear against the far outnumbered defenders of besieged Sevastopol in the Crimea, the Russians conceded today.

At a single point on the Kharkov front, the Germans massed 200 tanks in an onslaught which began on June 22, first anniversary of the German invasion, and has been increasing constantly in fury and force, said Russian dispatches from the battlefront.

At Sevastopol, the overwhelming force of the German offensive was indicated by a report that the nazis sent two divisions of infantry (up to 30,000 men) and numerous

W. Les O'Daniel, who hasn't missed Big Spring on any of his campaign tours, will bring his old bid for the U. S. senatorial nomination here next Wednesday night.

An advance agent said today that O'Daniel—who is traveling with Hal Collins, candidate for governor—would talk at the courthouse lawn, the program to start at 8 o'clock, and that the senator's party would spend the night here. O'Daniel and Collins, campaigning together for the avowed purpose of travel concentration, are making a swing through West Tex-as. They will be in Sweetwater and Colorado City before coming here Wednesday, and on the following day will make stops at Lamess Tahoks and Lubbock.

Their cooperative plan does not constitute mutual endorsement of candidates, the two have said. Collins is up against Coke Stevenson's bid for reelection, while O'Daniel has James V. Allred and Dan Moody as major opponents. Allred already has spoken here.

Tomatoes Sick? Go Heavy On The Cultivation When You Water 'Em

but you have high hopes that some fresh vegetables will be forthcoming in the near future. Your plants, especially tomatoes, start blooming, but you notice that al-though the blooms keep coming with regularity they drop off with-out leaving the desired little fruit. This situation seems to be prevalent over Big Spring at present, and since a few timely suggestions from County Agent O. P. Griffin probably will be welcome, all metropolitan agricultural tycoons note:

Garden plants take on their food in "soup" form; that is they absorb moisture from the ground. In most cases the gardner in the big city irrigates freely from the water hydrant, which is always handy. He is also likely to water his plants several times in succession vithout cultivation to break the monotony. This doesn't necessarily mean that he is lazy, because weeds and grass can ordinarily be kept down by working the garden plot over about once a week. However, the water causes a each irrigation. This late in the season digging will do some damage to the tomsto plants, as a few of the feeder roots near the top of the ground will be destroyed. But don't let that worry you. They'll snap out of it.

Tomatoes really should be transplanted twice. They should be moved from the hotbed to a cold frame and then to the garden. The time in the cold frame allows them to grow healthy stems, and when they are eight or ten inches high they are ready for the garden. The bottom leaves should be pruned and at least four or five inches of the plant should go into the ground. This gives insurance in the cooler strata.

Of course it's too late for this now, but the situation can be greatly improved with proper cul-

Here are the weights in scrap rubber of some of the articles which Americans will contribute to the salvage campaign: There is possible yield of about 16 pounds of reclaimed rubber. hot-water bottle. In rubber manufacture, the pro portion of reclaim which is mixed with new crude rubber varies according to the type of product being manufactured. However, strike a rough average, it might be said that in most cases the reclaim constitutes from 25 to 40 per cent of the mixture.

Assume that reclaimed rubber were mixed with crude on some thing like that basis, then scrap tires, or 80 hot-water bot-tles, or fourteen 20-foot lengths of garden hose, would supply the reclaimed rubber needed to make the rubber parts of a 37 mm gun carriage. All the rubber required for a Flying Fortress could be made by mixing crude rubber from our reserve with the reclaimed rubber from 20 scrapped tires or 320 hotwater bottles, or 56 20-foot lengths of garden hose. Crude rubber mix-ed with the reclaimed rubber from three scrapped tires, or 48 hotwater bottles, or nine 20-foot

These comparisons make clear why we must get every ounce of scrap rubber possible back to the reclaiming plants. Without reclaimed rubber we shall have to use more and more of our limited sup-ply of crude. We must husband that supply of crude, we must make it last until our synthetic production reaches its potential peak, or until we regain those South Pacific sources of rubbersources from which we used to get more than 90 per cent of our rub
