GISD "Recognized" Rating
— Budget Adopted

Gorman ISD received recognized status from the Texas Education Agency for the 2001- 2002 school year. The rating was determined from the TAAS results taken by students in grades 3-8 and grade 10, the dropout rate, and attendance. Gorman continues to receive high marks in the Texas rating system. The faculty and students take pride in their efforts and strive to excel in every area.

The GISD board of trustees in a special meeting this past Thursday night approved the budget for the 2002 - 2003 school year. Superintendent, Leslie Vann, presented the budget outlining the projected revenue and expenditures for the school year. The projected revenue for the school year is estimated to be $ 3,339, 200 of which $ 543,000 will be generated from the local tax roll. The expenditure portion of the budget was developed to meet the goals established by the board. Projected expenditures Mr. Vann including all state and federal programs will be $ 3,242,874. Following the approval of the 2002-2003 budget. The board discussed the tax rate for the 2002-2003 school year. After some discussion, the board set the tax rate at $1.42.

Following the business session, Mr. Vann provided the board with enrollment figures for the ten days of school. Maxfield elementary enrolled 214 and the High school enrolled 178 students. The largest grade is the seventh grade with thirty-five students and the smallest grade is eleventh grade with twenty-two students. The enrollment figures for 2002-2003 are an increase over last years beginning enrollment at the end of the second week was 383.

Panthers To Host Santo
In Season Opener Friday

The Gorman Panthers of 2002 will open their regular season on September 6th at Brogdon Field at 7:30 p.m. when they play host to the Santo Wildcats.

The Panthers have really been working hard in preparation for the new season and showed much improvement in their scrimmage games the past couple of weeks. They had an open date before beginning the regular season last week.

Following a 1-8 season last year, the Panthers are looking to improve on that record with much more hard work, preparation and determination for the 2002 season. Coach Coby Tyson says the Panthers know what is needed in order to avoid a repeat of last season. He stated, "Our men worked hard all last year to improve their strength and athleticism. Most continued that commitment during the summer and have us looking forward to a more successful season than last year." Not only does Tyson believe the Panthers have improved their physical strength, he also is counting on a strong sense of team unity. However, the Panthers still are lacking in overall speed and depth.

There will be 7 seniors returning including the two top tacklers from last season, linebackers Rolly Torres and Josh Carruth. Other key defensive stalwarts are Brian Hunt, 6'2", 280 pound senior who paced Gorman with seven quarterback sacks, and sophomore end Juan Martinez.

Other returning, full-time starters on offense are Carruth at quarterback, Torres at fullback, Roberto Rodriguez at running back, Russell Jay at center, Joe Landa and Gil Cochrane at the two tackle positions. Also, running back Sawyer Wright, Martinez at tackle and Ryan Wright at wide receiver were part-time, offensive starters last season.

On defense, the list of returning started also includes Sawyer Wright at free safety, Jay at linebacker, Landa at tackle and Rodriguez at cornerback. There are 14 holdovers, with 10 starters on defense, 8 starters are expected back on offense. The Panthers also look for help from top new players, Joseph Whitfill, a transfer from Perrin-Witt. He is a lineman on both offense and defense.

Players include QB-LB Josh Carruth, 5-8, 140, Sr.; WR-DB Jose Cruz, 5-10, 150, Sr.; G-DE Brian Hunt, 6-2, 280, Sr.; C-LB Russell Jay, 5-8, 155, Sr.; OT-DT Joe Landa, 5-6, 160, Sr.; DT Shaylor Roberts, 5-8, 155, Sr.; FB-LB Rolly Torres, 5-7, 135, Sr.; RB-CB Roberto Rodriguez, 5-8, 140, Jr.; RB-FS Sawyer Wright, 6-0, 160, Jr.; OT-LB Gil Cochrane, 5-10, 165, Soph; WR Scott Lewis, 6-0, 150, Soph; OT-DE Juan Martinez, 5-9, 230, Soph; WR-CB Ryan Wright, 5-6, 110, Soph; G-OT Joseph Whitfill, 5-9, 240, Soph; OL-DT Gonzalo Cruz, 5-9, 165, Fr; LB Tim Guerra, 5-9, 160, FR; and Summer Olvera, OL-DL, Fr.

The Panthers are looking forward to this season and are determined to show a great deal of improvement on last season. The coaches are head coach Tyson and assistants James Gerick, Troy Doyle and Dennis Schlueter.

Let's all get out and back "Our Panthers."

Go Get Em Red!!!

Update on gormantexas.us

There was a comment on one of the Watering Hole forums the other day saying "hey! How come none of this is in the paper letting people know what's here?!" Well, papertrail, here is your update...

If you have not been to the new Gorman Texas website lately (or at all), here are some of the things we have to offer:

For visitors just surfing the net wondering where in the world is Gorman and what's there will find a brief history of our community, a lengthy list of places to eat, sleep, recreation activities, hunt, etc. in Gorman and the surrounding area. There is also a place for them to contact the City, Chamber, EDC and Gorman GROW. If any other community clubs would like a contact link, please contact our Webmaster and you can be added to this list.

Right there on the homepage you can link to the new Blackwell Hospital Historical Association web page, as well as one for the Peanut Festival and Homecoming 2002. Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts have their own links to web pages there as well as access to the Chamber of Commerce members list. You can also click on local weather and the Stephenville movie theater schedule. Or can connect to the Eastland County homepage—another great new website, full of good information.

For the citizens of Gorman, there is a wonderful selection of things for you to do. You can visit the forums (message boards) also known as The Watering Hole where you can find out who is thinking what about a number of subjects. There are four major groups: Life in Gorman, School Daze, Clubs, and Gorman Geeks. In each of those four groups are a number of smaller topics such as New Forum help (topics for helping you get used to a forum), The Lobby (general news and information), Town Talk (that's the biggest one! Various topics about life and living in Gorman), Classifieds (find out what new movies are in at Gorman Video, or if you want to sell or buy something), Local Events, and The Rain Barrel (gardening and farming topics). There are postings about school in general, Panther and Lady Panther activities and more. Gorman Panther Band has its own forum and so do the Cub Scouts, and 4-H will be up soon. And last but not least are the General topic postings for Gorman Geeks. Problems and solutions for computer-related topics. And there is even a special "password required" section for serious Geeks...none of us rookies in there asking dumb questions! We would like to encourage the local clubs and organizations to join our existing groups. So if you are in the Masons, Eastern Stars, Lions Club, Gorman Livestock Raisers Assoc., the Senior Citizens, or any other organization, please contact us. This is a great opportunity to post meeting dates, activities, special recognition of members, etc.

And finally...You can sign up for your very own yourname@gormantexas.us e-mail account. You can use this as an address to sign up in the forums or you can link it to Outlook Express or check it from the homepage. What a better way to promote our community, than with this personalized e-mail account. There is no charge and the Webmaster can set up your account in just a couple of days. Contact information: Webmaster Norma Dennis 734-2729 or bwe@eastland.net and Lori Dodd 734-3933 or lori.dodd@gormantexas.us.

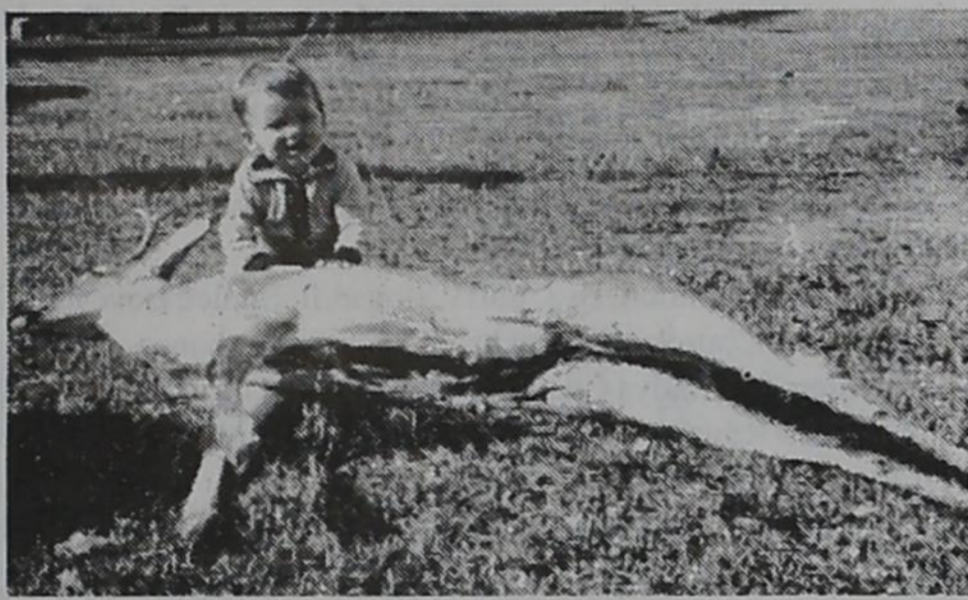

This Black Bear was taken near Cloudcroft, NM by local hunter Rhett Harrison. The bear was 5'1" nose to tail and 5'4" paw to paw. New Mexico Department of Fish and Game estimated the bear to be 5 years old and weighing 300 pounds, which is the second largest bear taken from the region for the 2002 season. It is dark brown with a blonde mane extending from the neck about a foot and half down its back. The blonde mane is rare according to local officials.

The successful hunt was unusual as it occurred on non-private land, without guide services, nor were dogs utilized in the taking of this animal. The hunt took place over rugged terrain, steep inclines, thick underbrush and a small canyon, which offered only enough room for one person to travel. This made extracting the bear quite a task. Other party members included Thomas Harrison and Rhett's wife, Contessa. Contessa is credited with locating fresh signs that lead to the harvesting of this bear, as well as capturing the entire hunt on video.

Gorman Homecoming 2002

Gorman Homecoming of 2002 is just around the corner. Plans are underway for this event. This year the football game will be Friday, September 27 against Evant at 7:30 p.m. On Saturday, September 28, other Homecoming festivities continue with registration for the Exes beginning at 10:00 a.m. at the high school. The business meeting has been set for 1:30 p.m. (Plans are still being considered for lunch.)

As information becomes available, we will publish it in The Gorman Progress and also be sure to check the Gorman website at www.gormantexas.us for further information as it becomes available.

The Homecoming Committee strives to send invitations to out of town Exes; however, through the years we have lost touch with many former Exes. If you an Ex and do to receive an invitation, the Committee would appreciate an address. You can send your information via e-mail to gprogress@gormantexas.us or to The Gorman Progress, PO Box 68, Gorman, Texas 76454, Attn: Marilyn. Addresses are especially needed for the more recent graduates.

Start making plans now to attend. Come visit your old hometown and renew friendships of past years.

Kokomo News

By Zelda Jordan

I hope that everyone had a good Labor Day Holiday.

Attendance was good at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning, although a few of our people were out. Some were not feeling well and some were taking advantage of the holiday weekend. Our visitors were Gary, Rebecca and Emily Browning of Graham, Alexis Snapp of Lewisville and Bethany Oliver of Eastland. The special music was rendered by Helen and Woodrow Browning and Gary Browning with Daryl Hirst at the piano.

Joe and Glynda Bond visited during the weekend with Shannon, Stephanie and Raegan Bond at Copperas Cove and they all attended the Copperas Cove football game at the Alamo Dome in San Antonio on Saturday. Copperas Cove won the game and the trophy. Shannon is a coach at Copperas High School. Our congratulations to Shannon and the team. Brian Bond and a friend, Derrick, of Dallas came for lunch with them.

Gary, Rebecca and Emily Browning of Graham visited from Saturday night until Monday afternoon with Woodrow and Helen Browning. They also visited in Gorman with Mike, Crystal and Rachel Ann Snider.

Kelly Buchanan and Tina Billingsley of West Columbia visited during the weekend with Kelly's mother, Sylvia Buchanan and his grandmother, Nancy Hendricks.

They also visited with his grandmother, Bessie Buchanan, in Tuscola and with Tina's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sisson in Stephenville.

Others visiting with Nancy Hendricks were Tony, Joel, and Rusty Stogner of De Soto, Doris Bradshaw of Gorman, Darlene Hampton of Carbon, Sylvia Buchanan and Zelda Jordan.

Bobby and Mary Jane Little visited with her sister, Judy Hall, who is undergoing some medical tests, in a Burleson hospital on Saturday. We send get well wishes to Judy.

ALEXIS SNAPP CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Stacy, LaDawn and Alexis Snapp of Lewisville visited with her parents, Bobby and Mary Jane Little and they honored Alexis with a birthday party on Sunday afternoon in celebration of her 9th birthday which will be on September 9th. Others coming to help Alexis celebrate and enjoy the birthday cake and ice cream were her other grandparents, Gary and Barbara Snapp, and Bethany Oliver of Eastland, Jill, Ashley and Breckley Little, Jimmy and Verna Lee Little, Carolyn Little, Alan, Shellie, Justin and Ally Little.. "Happy Birthday" to Alexis.

James, Jill, Ashley and Breckley Little and Jimmy and Verna Lee Little attended the Eastland - Jacksboro football game in Eastland on Friday night. Ashley and Breckley were among a group of little girls who performed a cheerleading routine before the game started. I'm sure that the girls helped the team get off to a good start and Eastland won the game 21-0.

John and Troy Scitern have returned from a vacation trip to visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Lester and Alice Rich in Grand Junction, Colorado. They report a wonderful time.

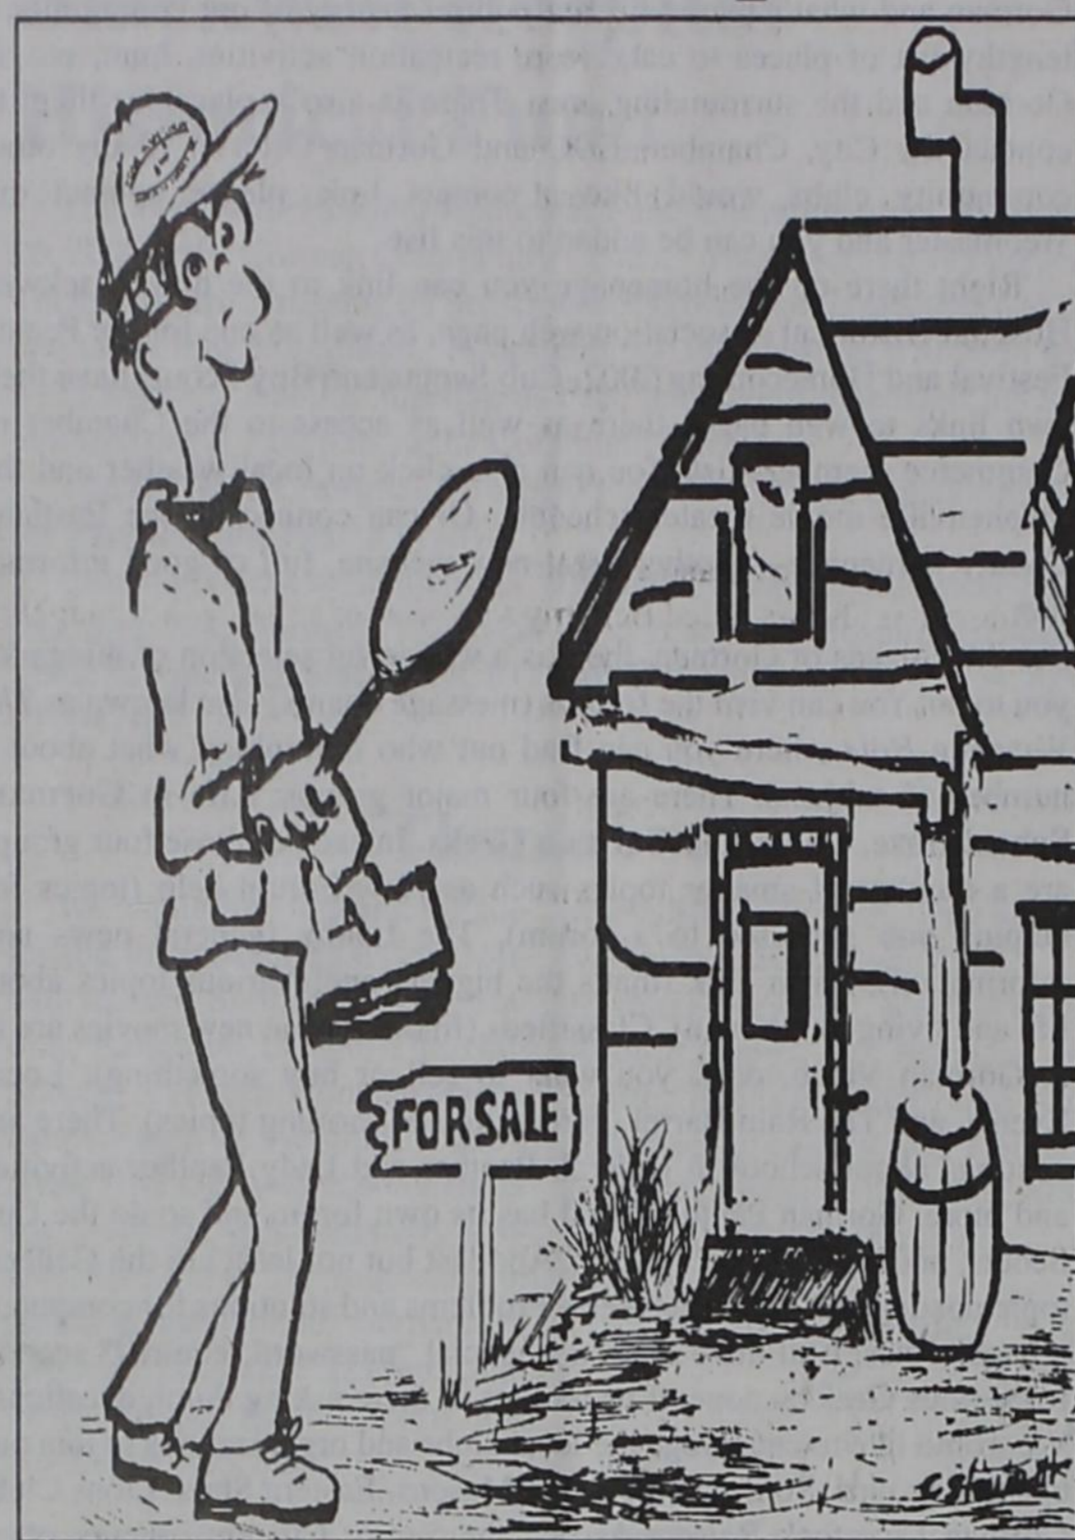

Verna Lee Little visited recently with an aunt, Willie Mae Cozart, who was in the hospital in Eastland. I'm happy to report that Mrs. Cozart is home now. We send get well wishes to her. Mrs. Cozart is a former resident of Kokomo.

Daisy Slaton and Zelda Jordan visited in Comanche on Friday with Daisy's aunt, Lona Lightfoot.

We extend sincere sympathy to the family of Inez Daniels who passed away last week.

It sounded like dove hunting season got under way in a big way early Sunday morning. Heard of lots of shooting out our way.

Before You Inspect A Home...Check Out The Home Inspector

Make Certain You Have Access To A Written Home Inspection Report

(HIT)-The number of bedrooms, and whether or not a house is situated on a corner lot, are not the only considerations confronting modern homebuyers. Consumers are increasingly demanding quality information about professionals who will inspect and represent the less obvious aspects of home buying.

Among a group of a dozen proactive states currently regulating home inspectors, all twelve have adopted formal guidelines that reflect increasing levels of concern among regulators. It makes good sense for homeowners to access these guidelines and become a good deal more informed in the area of standards and regulations.

In Connecticut, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin, licensing officials have addressed such consumer confidence issues as: (1) written pre-inspection agreements between the inspector and consumer; (2) the number and kind of components to be inspected in an individual residence; (3) actual reporting requirements; and (4) the insurability of inspection process. The result for many informed homeowners will be written agreements establishing in advance the inspector's scope, and a substantially more detailed inspection report which can contribute positively to the prospective homeowner's peace of mind.

Standard Of Care For The Home Inspection Profession

One organization that routinely practices and teaches a code of strict standards is the Home Inspection Institute of America, Inc., headquartered in Wallingford, CT. The Institute's published "Standard Of Care For The Home Inspection Profession" requires, "where accessible, the inspector shall visually inspect and report on the" various components.

According to David Hetzel, founder and president of the 14 year old Institute, "It's not enough for the consumer to just look at things. They need to know, in writing, about the conditions the inspector observed - whether they be good, bad, or whatever."

"Supporting this strict position, favorable professional liability insurance premiums have been available for home inspectors who adhere to the 'Standard Of Care For The Home Inspection Profession' because of the decreased number of claims," says Hetzel.

"The single most important aspect of the consumer-inspector relationship," Hetzel continues, "is the requirement that the inspector provide a pre-inspection agreement spelling out just what the consumer will and will not receive as a result of the inspection. This agreement needs to be executed by both parties before the inspection."

With Internet access you may visit the institute's handy website:<http://www.inspecthomes.org> to view or print your own copy of the "Standard Of Care For The Home Inspection Profession". Links are available for quick access to individual states that offer onlinehome inspector regulations.

"Homeowners don't often get a second chance when negotiating the tremendous investments required to purchase and sell today's homes. A little comparison can go a long way in protecting the parties from undisclosed problems resulting from minimal inspection requirements," Hetzel concludes.

The Home Inspection Institute is located at 314 Main Street, Yalesville, CT 06492, phone 1-203-284-2311.

National Day of Prayer and Remembrance of Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001

On Tuesday morning, September 11, 2001, terrorists attacked America in a series of despicable acts of war. They hijacked four passenger jets, crashed two of them into the World Trade Center's twin towers, a third into the Headquarters of the U.S. Department of Defense at the Pentagon, causing great loss of life and tremendous damage. The fourth plane crashed in the Pennsylvania countryside, killing all on board but falling well short of its intended target apparently because of the heroic efforts of passengers on board.

This tragedy, which caused the collapse of both Trade Center towers and the destruction of part of the Pentagon, killed more than 250 airplane passengers and thousands more on the ground.

"Scripture says: 'Blessed are those who mourn for they shall be comforted.'" On this day of remembrance, let us pray for the continuous healing for the families of the victims and for the strength to serve and encourage one another in hope and faith. In the face of all this evil let us remain strong and united, "one nation under God."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Brad Stephenson, Eastland County Judge and the Eastland County Commissioners Court, do hereby proclaim Wednesday, September 11, 2002 as a National Day of Prayer and Remembrance of the Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001. We encourage all County residents to please take a moment and attend the noon memorial service at the Eastland County Courthouse flag pole or wherever you are just take a moment of silence and pray for the continuing healing of the families of the victims and let us all stand together united in prayer. Be sure and wear your red, white and blue as we all stand together on this day.

Keeping an Eye on Texas

Window of Opportunity

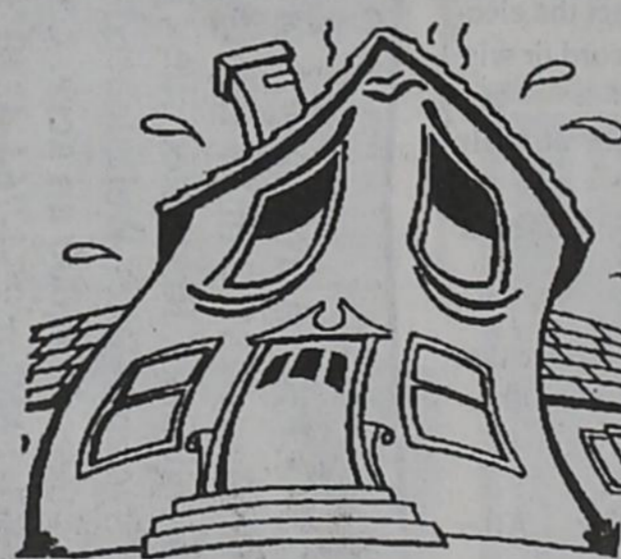

Back in 1992, before the World Wide Web and dot-coms were everywhere, the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts experimented with a new technology as a way to provide information to the public. The agency launched a computerized bulletin board system (BBS) that enabled users with a modem to dial in and view and download data.

Times have changed, and the BBS is all grown up as the Comptroller's Web site, Window on State Government, www.window.state.tx.us.

In September 2002, Window on State Government celebrates its 10-year anniversary. "Starting out, we could have called the site 'Comptroller.org' or something like that," Deputy Comptroller Billy Hamilton says. "Instead, the name we chose, Window on State Government, reflected our intention to provide a single window on information about Texas government."

FROM THE WOODSHED

By Leslie Vann

Pledge of Allegiance has long, colorful history

September 8 the Pledge of Allegiance will mark its 110th birthday. The venerable pledge made the headlines this summer when a federal appeals court ruled the reciting the Pledge of Allegiance in public schools is an unconstitutional "endorsement of religion" because the pledge contains the phrase "under God."

At present, the ruling only applies to the nine state western states in the jurisdiction of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. Texas is not one of those states and students who attend Gorman ISD will continue to have the opportunity to recite the Pledge of Allegiance. More time and debate will likely pass before the full ramifications of the ruling play out. It is, however, perhaps an appropriate time to review the unusual, interesting, and sometimes controversial history of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Initially, Francis Bellamy of Rome, New York, and James Upham of Malden, Massachusetts claimed authorship of the pledge. Both were staff members of The Youth's Companion, which first published the pledge in September of 1892.

To determine—in the interest of historical accuracy—the actual authorship, the now defunct United States Flag Association in 1939 appointed a committee of prominent historians to weigh evidence offered by Bellamy and Upham's families. Unanimously, the American Flag Committee in mid-1939 accepted the committee decided in the favor of Bellamy and the decision.

A Christian socialist and Baptist minister, Francis Bellamy (1855-1931) shared the views of his more famous first cousin, Edward Bellamy, author of the American socialist utopian novels, Looking Backward and Equality. Through sermons, lectures, novels, and articles, the Bellamy cousins described how the middle class could create a planned economy with political, social, and economic equality for all. The two envisioned a government-run peacetime economy similar to the nation's present military industrial complex.

In 1892, Francis Bellamy was chairman of a committee of state superintendents of education in the National Education Association. In that capacity, he prepared the program for the public schools' quadricentennial celebration of Columbus Day. The program's theme centered on a flag-raising ceremony and a flag salute that incorporated his "Pledge of Allegiance."

The pledge first appeared in print when it was published in the September 8, 1892, issue of the Youth's Companion, a family magazine comparable in popularity and circulation to today's Reader's Digest.

The original pledge was shorter than the one we recite today: "I pledge allegiance to my flag and the republic for which it stands, one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Historians indicate that Bellamy considered placing the word "equality" in his pledge, but he knew that he state superintendents of education on his committee were against equality for women and African Americans. A month after the pledge was first published, the word "to" was added—"and to the Republic."

The National Flag Conference, under the leadership of the American Legion and the Daughters of the American Revolution, changed "my flag" to the "the flag of the United States" in 1923 and the following year to "the flag of the United States of America."

In 1954, Congress responded to a campaign by the Knights of Columbus and added the words, "under God," which effectively turned the pledge into both a patriotic oath and a public prayer.

History has also recorded Bellamy's account of some of the thoughts that went through his mind as he wrote the pledge: "It began as an intensive communing with salient points of our national history, from the Declaration of Independence onwards; with the making of the Constitution...with the meaning of the Civil War; with the aspiration of the people..."

"The true reason for the allegiance to the flag is the republic for which it stands...and what does that vas thing, republic mean? It is the concise political word for the nation—the one nation that the Civil War was fought to prove. To make that one nation idea clear, we must specify that it is indivisible, as Webster and Lincoln used to repeat in their general speeches."

"Just here arose the temptation of the historic slogan of the French revolution which meant so much to Jefferson and his friends, Liberty, equality, fraternity. No, that would be too fanciful, too many thousands of years off in realization. But we as a nation do stand square on the doctrine of liberty and justice for all..."

The recent controversy raised by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals is far from the first to have visited the pledge in its more than a century of existence.

Bellamy protested the first change ("the flag of the United States of America") to no avail and Bellamy's granddaughter once indicated he also would have disliked the addition of the "under God" clause.

From its inception, the pledge was recited daily by American schoolchildren, but it became even more popular during the patriotic fervor of World War II. It was an "unofficial" pledge until June 22, 1942, when Congress included the "Pledge to the Flag" in the U. S. Flag Code (Title 36)—the first official sanction of the pledge. The Flag Code also mandates that any changes to the pledge can only be made with the consent of the President.

The following year, the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that schoolchildren could not be forced to recite the pledge as part of their daily routine. In 1945, the "Pledge to the Flag" received its official title as the The Pledge of Allegiance.

Initially, the pledge was said with the right hand in the so-called "Bellamy Salute," with the right hand resting first outward from the chest, then the arm extending out from the body. This technique's similarity to the Nazi or Fascist salute prompted Congress to mandate the current practice of rendering the pledge with the right hand over the heart.

In 1966, the president began an annual tradition of proclaiming the week in which June 14 occurs as National Flag Week. Americans are encouraged to display the flag during that week. In 1980, the idea of an annual observance called the Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance originated at the Star-Spangled Banner Flag House in Baltimore, Maryland. Each year since then Americans have the opportunity to recite the pledge at a designated time each Flag Day.

The National Flag Day Foundation, Inc. was created in 1982 "to conduct educational programs throughout the United States in promotion of the National Flag Day to encourage national patriotism by promotion of the Pause for the Pledge of Allegiance." In 1985, Congress made the Pause an official part of Flag Day ceremonies.
