Panthers To Host Lometa In Homecoming Game

GAME AT A GLANCE
Gorman		Santo

45/164	Carries/Yards	46/221
26	Passing Yards	0
4 of 11	Passes Comp.	0 of 0
0	Interceptions	0
3	Fumbles Lost	1
3/28	Punts/Avg.	6/29
6 for 35	Penalties	5 for 25

The Panthers traveled to Santo on Friday to take on the Wildcats and really had a tough time in the Wildcat Den, losing the battle 20 to 0 on a beautiful night for football. The Panthers were hurt on three fumbles, and the defense just couldn't stop the big Santo team.

Santo scored first on a one yard run by Steven Teets with just 14 seconds left in the first period. The drive covered 47 yards in four plays following a Gorman fumble. Micah Hamilton booted the point after and Santo led 7-0.

The Wildcats took the second half hickoff on their own 22 and went the distance in 14 plays with Joseph Ellis getting the final 4 yards on a run with 4:55 left in the third. The kick for point failed and the score was 13-0.

Santo added another score with 6:32 left in the game when Joseph Ellis raced in from 5 yards out. The drive covered 36 yards in 6 plays. Hamilton booted the point after and the score was 20-0.

This ended the scoring for the evening.

The Panthers had a couple of good drives but lost the ball on fumbles. The Big Red Defense were really wore out by the game end as the Wildcats kept the ball most of the game and they just didn't get to rest very much.

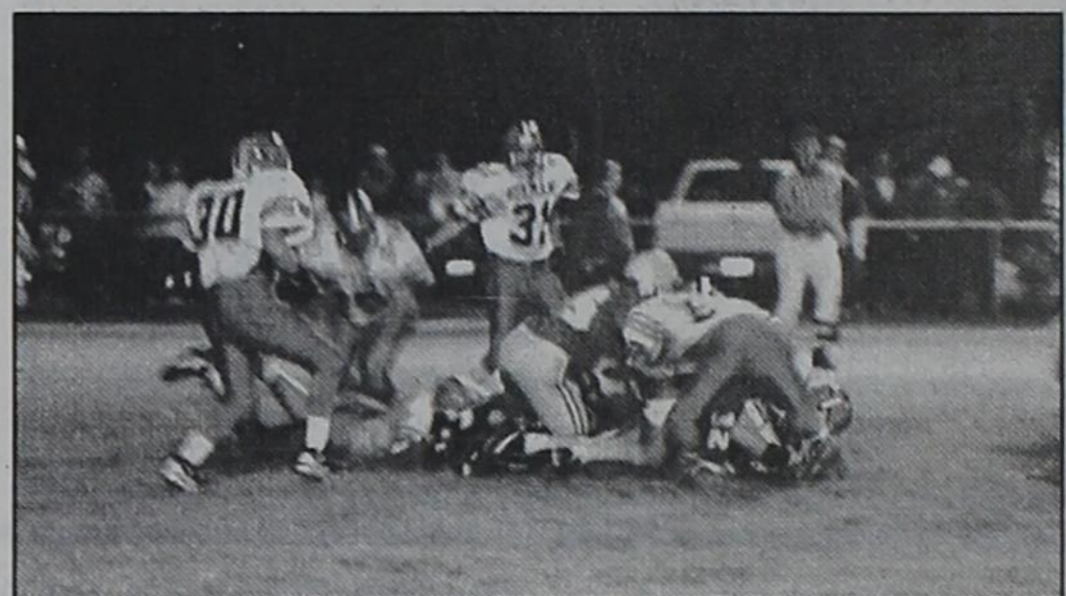

Gorman will host the Lometa Hornet in the Homecoming Game on Friday night at 7:30 p.m. to start District 14A play. The Panthers hope to have a good game for all the eyes coming home for homecoming. But they will have to be really up for the game as the Hornets have a fine team.

Paul Petree led the Panthers with 86 yards on 20 carries. Adon Rodriguez had 51 on 7 tries. Margarito Sanchez got 17 on 8 tries. Nick Guthery had a plus 10 on 10 keepers and pass tries on which he was caught for passes.

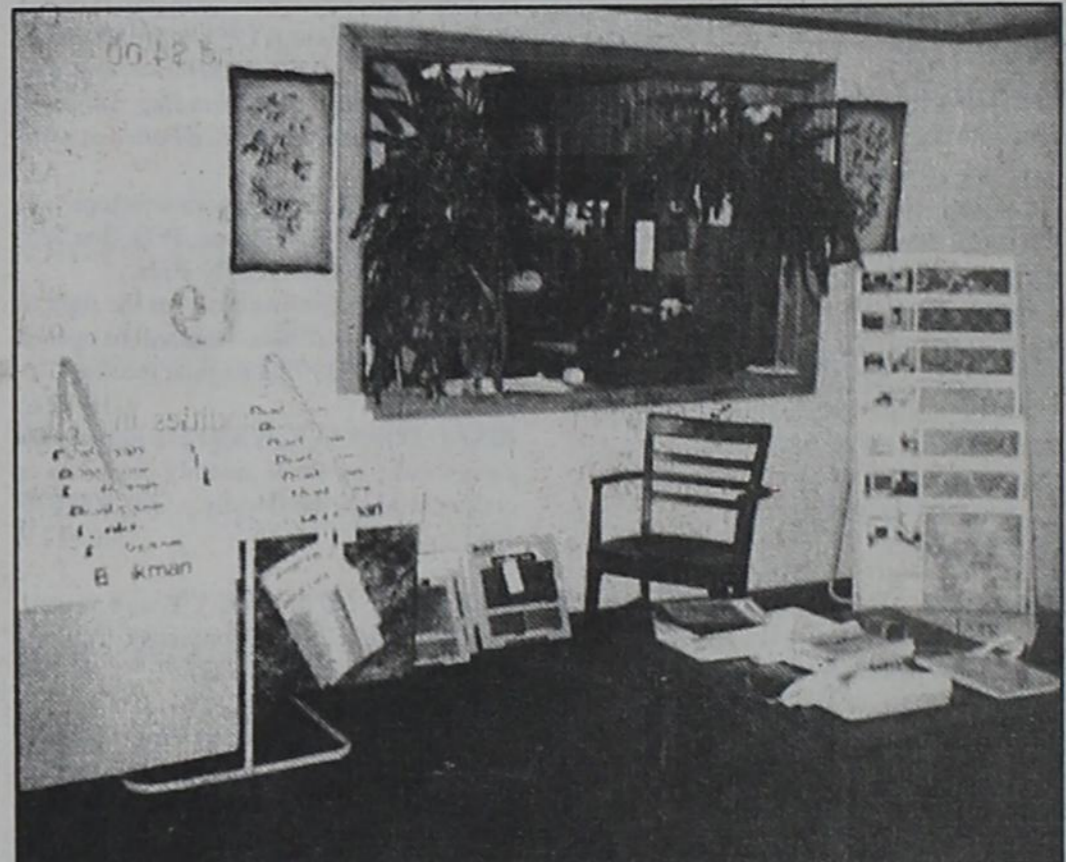

Come on out and back the Big Red in the Homecoming battle.

GO GET'M BIG RED!!!!

AFTER THE BALL — Several Panthers are shown scrambling after a Santo Wilcat fumble in game action Friday. Pictured are Jason Warren, Tom Bynum, and a host of other Panthers.

To the doctors, nurses and staff who cared for our father at home, in the clinics and his final stay at the De Leon hospital.

To all the people who prepared and served the meal for us at the First Baptist Annex building at Desdemona. To brother Wortham and bro. Dane Gresset for their visits and beautiful service. To each person who served as Paul Bearers.

What a great time we had enjoying the fellowship with about 400 for our souls and for our bodies. They really know how to feed people at the encampment. There was a tour of the new dorm that is nearing completion. Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro is traveling across the state these days explaining to voters the importance of Proposition 5 in the Nov. 7 constitutional amendments election.

"Texas has a longstanding tradition of assisting the men and women who have served their country in one of the military branches," Mauro said. "Passage of Proposition 5 in the Nov. 7 election will ensure that this tradition will continue. Failure means the state could lose a program that has helped thousands of veterans and their families make their dreams of home ownership come true."

Proposition 5 authorizes the Veterans Land Board (VLB), which Mauro chairs, to sell an additional $500 million in tax exempt, general obligation bonds to continue financing the Texas Veterans Housing Program. The program provides low-interest loans for the purchase of homes and making home improvements.

The VLB interest rates range from 1 to 1.5 percent below market, which can save veterans $30 to $50 a month on their mortgage payment, depending on the length of the loan. By law, the maximum loan is $45,000, but it can be blended with a conventional, FHA or VA loan to bring the overall interest rate down for the purchase of a more expensive home.

"The reason we need authority to issue more bonds is simple," Mauro said. "We're running out of housing money. The program is so popular that the last two years have been the best in its history. In 1994, more than 6,800 veterans bought homes utilizing the program. Overall in 1994 the VLB certified $354 million in loans for land and housing, $309.5 million for housing alone—an increase of 175 percent over 1993 which also was a record year."

Mauro emphasized that the program costs the taxpayers nothing. The bonds are retired by the loan repayments. Small fees paid by the veterans cover the cost of administration. He also emphasized that the program has solid bipartisan support. The State Legislature voted unanimously to place Proposition 5 on the November ballot, and it has been endorsed by Gov. George W. Bush and the Texas Association of Realtors.

"This program helps communities remain viable," Mauro said. "It is estimated that each dollar loaned has a ripple effect of six dollars in the state's economy. It generates dollars for all sorts of folks, including title company employees, builders, painters, plumbers, electricians, remodelers, and furniture and appliance salespersons. It's win-win for Texas all the way."

Early voting for the amendments election is from Oct. 18-Nov. 3. For more information call the VLB Information Center at 1-800-252-8387.

Frequently Asked Questions About Hiring Workers

A new law which became effective with last year's taxes makes it easier to pay Social Security taxes when you hire a household worker. Since then, we have been getting numerous questions from people concerned with how the law works. I thought it would be a good idea to share some of the questions with you.

First of all, remember that the new household coverage law resulted from a number of well-publicized cases of people who did not pay their household worker Social Security taxes. It is designed to make it easier for people to pay these taxes by having to file only once a year instead of quarterly, by not having to pay taxes on babysitters, and by paying taxes on people they pay earnings of at least $1,000 a year instead of $50 a calendar quarter. You'll have fewer forms to complete and, depending on how much you employ outside help, you may pay less tax. Here are some frequently asked questions: Q. Exactly who does the law cover? A. Instead of filing a report each calendar quarter and paying tax on the earnings of worker who are paid $50 or more during the quarter, you pay annually on earnings of at least $1,000 for the full year. The tax rate is unchanged, with you and your employee each paying 7.65 percent of the gross earnings.

Q. I heard something about a refund if you paid household worker's taxes last year. How does that work?

A. The new tax threshold was effective with 1994 earnings. In those cases where a household worker was paid less than $1,000, the employer and employee will receive refunds for their share of the taxes. However, the employee won't lose his or her Social Security credits. To obtain a refund if you have questions about paying taxes on household employment, call the Internal Revenue Service at 1-800-829-1040.

Q. How do I file? For 1994 taxes, you should have filed the quarterly IRS Form 942 to report. Beginning with 1995 taxes, you will be required to report Social Security and federal unemployment tax obligations on your own federal tax return (Form 1040). During the 1995-1997, you can pay the employment taxes in a lump sum when you file your tax return, without incurring a late penalty. Beginning in 1998, you will need to satisfy the tax obligation by increasing your quarterly tax payments or increasing the tax withholding on your own wages. If you have questions about the changes in reporting household employment and paying the Social Security taxes on Household contact your local Social Security office, or call our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213. Our busiest times are early in the week and early in the month. So, if your questions can wait, it's best to call at other times.

West Texas Rehab CRR Horse Sale October 14

Saturday, October 14, Abilene Livestock Auction will take a break from their regular horse sale to sell donated horses to benefit West Texas Rehabilitation Center. After an absence of a couple of years, the horse sale will once again be a part of the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Rehab. The Rehab Sale starts at 1:00 P.M.

Several good horses have already been donated for the special sale with the Rehab Center expecting more pledges as the sale approaches. Anyone with horses to donate should contact West Texas Rehabilitation Center at (915) 691-7290 in Abilene, or (915) 949-9535 in San Angelo.

Danny Isbell, WTRC coordinator for the sale, expressed his appreciation to Abilene Livestock Auction for making the Rehab Sale a part of their regular sale. The sale barn also hosted the CRR cattle sale on September 26 that raised almost $112,000 for the Rehab Center.

Isbell said, "I am delighted to have the horse sale back as a part of the Round-up and know that our friends in the horse business will kick back in as generously as they have in the past."

Dedication Ceremonies Set At Thurber On Thursday

The Erath County Historical Commission and the Palo Pinto County Historical Commission and the Thurber Historical Association will hold a Texas Historical Markers Dedication Ceremony at 12 Noon on Thursday, October 12, 1995 at Thurber, Texas.

Markers to be dedicated are: Brick Plant, First Coal Mine, New York Hill, Hotel Knox and Mining Office, Snake Saloon, Thurber Cemetery, St. Barbara's Church and Thurber Big Lake and Dairy.

Thurber was the site of the last regularly scheduled stage coach in America. It ran from the Knox Hotel to Thurber Junction (now Mingus, Texas).

The Metropolitan Opera troupe stopped en route from the east coast to the west coast. Famous voices were heard in the Thurber Opera House, where ceiling fans had been installed (a rarity at that time). The Opera House seated more than 650 people, and VIP's had their own box seats.

Every Thurber home had running water and electricity. In fact, Thurber was the first totally electrified city in the United States. A power plant was erected in 1895 with a 17 ton capacity, the largest in the southwest. By 1915, each home also had natural gas for heat.

McCleskey #1 To Be Dedicated As Historical

On Saturday, October 21, 1995 the Ranger Historical Preservation Society will host the dedication of the J.H. McCleskey No. 1, Discovery Well of the Ranger Oil Boom.

The Ranger Oil Boom touched off one of the most important of all times to our United States. Our country was at war and in dire need of fuel, and on that historical day in October 1917, when the McCleskey No. 1 blew in, it started the boom now noted, "The Boom That Won The War".

We, as Eastland County Texans, are proud of our past and honored that this important event happened on Eastland County soil. Therefore it is important that we all participate in its dedication.

In planning the program to dedicate the well site (and two historical markers), we would like to include your name, that of your organization or company as a sponsor of this very important historical event. All sources indicate attendance for the event will be very large.

Sponsors are needed for funding of the food, tableware (paper plates, cups, eating utensils, etc.) tea, coffee, soft drinks, etc. It will take several sponsors for all needed items. NAMES OF ALL SPONSORS WILL BE LISTED ON THE PROGRAM and will be at

Pest-Free Schools Are Healthier Schools

(NU) - Public areas — especially schools — are excellent environments for insects and vermin that can jeopardize human health. Schoolyards and other outside areas also face pest problems. Professional pest-control operators are equipped to recognize trouble spots and move quickly with preventive or other control measures, using an Integrated Pest Management approach. For more information in IPM and use of specialty pesticides in public areas, contact RISE — Responsible Industry for a Sound Environment, 1156 15th St., N.W., Suite 400, Washington, DC 20005. ### Pets Are Good For Seniors' Health

(NU) - The scientific evidence is growing — pets are good for people's health! And pets are especially beneficial to seniors. Yet legal barriers force thousands of seniors to give up their pets each year. That could change, though, if Congress passes the National Senior Citizen Pet Ownership Protection Act (H.R. 1619). For information about this legislation, contact your Congressional representatives or write to the Pet Food Institute, 1200 19th St., N.W., Washington, DC 20036. (News USA)

Reorganization How It Affects USDA Customers

"October marks the reality of USDA's implementation of President Clinton's Reinventing Government initiative," said George Ellis, Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) Texas State Director. "Our customers should not notice any real changes in our service, except that it should get better and better."

The agencies which will make up the service centers include: the RECD, which is the housing, community, and business programs of the former Farmers Home Administration (FmHA); the Farm Service Agency (FSA), which is the former Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) and the farm programs of the former FmHA; and the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS), which is the former Soil Conservation Service (SCS). The purpose of Reorganization is to "right size" the federal government and create a "one-stop" service concept for USDA customers.

"Every customer who needs service should call or go to the same USDA service center that he or she is using now," said Ellis. "In most cases, the same familiar faces will be there to serve you."

Over the next two years, some offices will be moving in order to consolidate office space with other USDA agencies. However, almost all offices will remain in the same community where they are currently located. The difference will be that USDA agencies. Anyone needing to reach the FSA State Office in College Station should call 409-260-9207. The number to reach the NRCS State Office in Temple is: 817-774-1214. These offices will be able to direct USDA customers on their servicing needs. Your questions can be answered or directed from there."

Local Students Given Opportunity To Study Abroad

"Qualified high school students are offered a unique opportunity to spend an academic year or summer holiday in Scandinavia, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Spain, Portugal, Brazil, Czech and Slovak Republics, Poland, Mexico, Japan, Australia, New Zealand or Canada (French or English speaking) as part of the ASSE International Student Exchange Program," announced Jodi Schmidt, Southern Director of ASSE.

"Until a few years ago, only a fortunate few could afford to spend a school year or summer abroad. Now, ASSE has changed all that," continued Schmidt. Students, 15 to 18 years old, qualify on the basis of academic performance, character references and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer host family.

"ASSE families abroad are carefully screened to provide a caring environment in which students can learn the language and culture of their host country," explained Schmidt. Summer exchange students live with a family abroad who usually speaks some English. Year students need not have learned a foreign language as they receive language and cultural instruction as part of the ASSE program. ASSE students attend regular high school classes along with their new teenage friends. "ASSE exchange students learn by living the language and culture of their new host country," added Schmidt.

Working While Retired? Time For A Reality Check

Working beneficiaries whose benefit amounts depend on the earnings estimate they provided Social Security on the annual earnings report they filed last April should be sure to review their current earnings to see if they have changed. If so, the change should be reported to Social Security immediately, according to Ken Hargis, Social Security manager in Abilene.

"Because it is difficult to estimate exact earnings for the year, we encourage beneficiaries who work to call us to adjust their estimated earnings if they get a raise, work overtime, or otherwise increase their income," Hargis stated.

Every year about a million people receive more money from Social Security than they were entitled to receive as a result of unanticipated earnings. Most of these overpayments occurred because beneficiaries who work while drawing benefits earned more than they had estimated and their income exceeded Social Security's annual limits. The annual limits for 1995 are $8,160 for persons under age 65, and $11,280 for persons between age 65-69. If you are still working at age 70, the earnings limits do not apply so you no longer have to report your earnings to Social Security.

People who are overpaid by Social Security are required to return the money, either by direct refunds or by having their benefits reduced to cover the overpayment.

It's easy to report excess earnings and other events that would cause you to be overpaid. Visit the nearest Social Security office or call us on our toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, business days between 7 A.M. and 7 P.M.

Prison System

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice is looking into the possibility of serving as an official conduit to help Texas counties lease empty county jail space to other states.

Such a move might immediately match Dallas County's empty beds to the needs of the state of Massachusetts, TDCJ officials said Friday.

"With the help of the Jail Standards Commission, TDCJ can bring the counties and the other states together to their mutual benefit and that's a service we should perform," said Allan B. Polunsky, chairman of the Texas Board of Criminal Justice.

Many Texas counties have found themselves paying mortgages on empty jail space since this summer when TDCJ's massive prison expansion program cleared the backlog of state prisoners out of the county jails.

At the same time, many other states which have not had aggressive prison expansion found themselves confronted with prisoner backlogs and have decided they would rather rent than build.

Although many of those states' prison systems are barred by state law from contracting with out-of-state counties, they can contract through the State of Texas because TDCJ is a member of the Interstate Corrections Compact.

Collins said that while TDCJ would serve as the legal conduit for the counties and states, the Jail Standards Commission would serve "as a referral service because they are familiar on a daily basis with the situation in every county jail in Texas."

"TDCJ, Jail Standards and the State of Texas would have absolutely no liability whatsoever in helping pair what the counties have and what the states need," Collins said.
