Texas Peanut Producers Seeks

NUMBER TWELVE

The Texas Peanut Producers Board will seek nominations for a member and alternate to the National Peanut Board at an April 29 meeting in Abilene, Texas at the Ambassador Suites Hotel, (previously Embassy Suites) 4250 Ridgemont Drive, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

National Peanut Board Nominees

The terms for the current Texas board member and alternate in Texas expires at the end of this year.

Following the election for two nominees and two alternates, the names of those persons selected are submitted to the USDA. The Secretary of Agriculture then determines the board member and alter-

Ted Higginbottom of Seminole is the current Texas National Peanut Board member and serves as its chairman. Louis Grissom, also of Seminole, serves as the Texas alternate.

The National Peanut Board encourages eligible women, minorities and persons with disabilities who qualify as peanut producers to attend the meeting and run for nomination. Fair and equitable membership representation is a core value of the NPB. NPB works to ensure all of its efforts visibly demonstrate this commitment through membership, staffing, communication, research and international programs and mate-

It is USDA's policy that membership on industry-government boards and committees accurately reflect the diversity of individuals served by the programs.

After the election for nominees, The Texas Peanut Producers Board will host a peanut marketing seminar. Speakers for the seminar are Dr. Marshall Lamb, Agricultural Economist, National Peanut Research Lab, Dawson, Georgia and Dan Hunter, Manager, Southwestern Peanut Growers Association.

The Carbon Cemetery Association officers and trustees are asking everyone who has an interest in Restland and/or Murray Memorial Cemetery to please attend the yearly business meeting. The meeting will be at 7 p.m. this Saturday evening, April 15, in the Carbon Agri-Center Bldg on Main Street, Carbon, Texas.

Mary Ann Morgan and Chris Cox To Pledge Vows

Robbie and Lori Dodd of Gorman announce the engagement of their daughter, MaryAnn Morgan of Gorman to Chris Cox of Waco. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Jack and Mary Eison of Runaway Bay. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Ed and Jalynn Cox of Gorman, and grandson of Jimmie Don and Jeanne Dorrsett of Gorman.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Texas Academy of Math and Science and will graduate in May from University of North Texas. The prospective bridegroom graduated from Gorman High School and will finish his education at TSTC-Waco this year.

Wedding plans include a small family wedding out of doors at the home of the bride, with a reception and dinner to follow.

Month of April - Clean Up Month For City Of Gorman

Clean up week has been scheduled for the week of April 21 - 25. But the City Commission feels like it is a great idea to make the entire month of April a clean up month. The city is trying to make arrangements to have a roll-off dumpster made available for the entire month. We are in the process of contacting businesses that will come and get old and or junk cars off of property, pay the owner in some cases, so that this accumulation will decrease and make the neighborhoods look somewhat better. If a property owner has structures that are unsightly or are falling down causing a health or safety hazard, such structures could be burned by the volunteer fire dept for an affordable donation. We are pleading with property owners to take pride in our community and volunteer to clean up any "eye sores" that could be deemed unsightly by neighbors or visitors. Accumulation of debris causes rodent problems as well as creating an undesirable sight.

Please take voluntary action if you have some sort of possible safety or health hazard, or maybe just time for an over due getting rid of clutter

The Commission also advises at this time, if your property is deemed unsafe or unhealthy, measures are going to be taken to correct such cases and a lien will be filed against the property until such expense has been paid by the property owner to the city.

Lipson - Henderson - Brightwell & High Ranking Students Honored At Chamber Banquet

Roy (Curly) Lipson received the Community Service Award on Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet at ZJ's Steakhouse.

Roy Lipson (or Curly to most of us around here) came to Gorman in 1985. He was born in Casper, Wyoming in 1921 and grew up in and around the Fayetteville, Arkansas area. His earliest farm experience came when his dad moved the family to a farm during the depression.

He joined the military early and made it his career (the first of several). In 1934, he married Mayda Evans of Brownwood and they traveled and lived in Europe and Asia with their four children until he retired from the U.S. Army in 1963 as Chief Warrant Officer. During those of Gorman. almost 30 years of military service he received many honors and citations as well as serving in the WWII and Korean conflicts. Upon retirement from the U.S. Army, he was employed by Texas Employment Commission as office manager of the clerical and professional office in Ft. Worth. After 20 years in this second career, he retired in 1983 and went to work for State Representative Bob Leonard for one year.

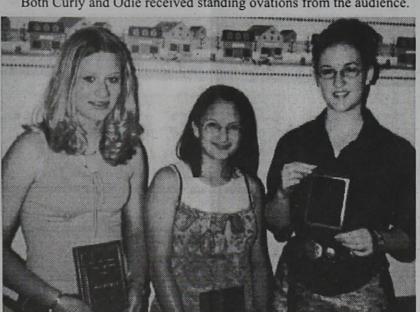

The decision to move from Ft. worth to the farm came when Curly's Suzan, Roy III, Rebecca and David were all grown and gone from home so the way was clear for him to start a new life (and his next career) farming and ranching.

In the last 15 years, he has grown irrigated and dryland peanuts, coastal and sudan for hay production, plus cantaloupe and watermelons. For these efforts, in 1995 the Gorman Chamber named Curly Farmer of the Year. He also keeps a small herd of Brangus cows, and has had horses, chickens, ducks and a number of domesticated animals on the farm.

Recently, Curly has decreased some of his farming activities and begun to spend more time working on other projects around the farm. He has been instrumental in helping both of his daughters set up their own homesteads on the land since they moved to the farm two years ago. Without the demands made by full time farming, he has also been able to spend more time doing community service. He is a member of Gorman Masonic Lodge, Lions Club, and regular participant in Gorman Grow activities, a Community Helper and a member of the First United Methodist Church. He is always there when called on. From the community trash pickup efforts, cooking hamburgers for fund raisers, or breakfast for the men's prayer group at the church, you will see him around town (maybe just cruising on his motorcycle) doing his part to keep Gorman a great place to live and work.

Family that were also able to attend were his children, Suzan, Rebecca, David; and grandson, Phillip.

Both Curly and Odie received standing ovations from the audience.

Gorman Century Club Members Recognized

Two long-time Gorman residents were recognized as Century Club Members.

Vera Henderson, age 100, was honored at the banquet as the oldest woman citizen of Gorman. She recently moved to Heritage Manor.

Since she was unable to attend the banquet, her son, Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Henderson accepted the award for her.

Odie Brightwell, age 102, received the award for being the oldest man

Until January of this year, he lived alone in his own home, and worked in his yard and vegetable garden. He now lives in Stephenville in Oakwood Assisted Living. His daughter, Willa Dean Ormsby lives in Stephenville and brings Odie to Gorman on Sunday for services at the Church of Christ where he is a member, and to ZJ's for lunch and visit Attending the banquet with Odie were his children, Myra Sue Smith wife, Mayda, died after a two-year struggle with cancer. Their children, of Gilmer, Beth Bryan of Longview, Willadean Ormsby of Stephenville, Jimmy and Kay Brightwell of Swinney, and Betty and Gerald Hale of Brownwood.

The very popular Howard Family singing group gave a special program of gospel singing.

America State Bank won first place in the table decoration contest.

The dinner at ZJ's Steakhouse was excellent, usual. New businesses recognized in Gorman were Sharp Imaging, Hirst

Nut and Produce, and Dr. Dan Brudnak.

Gorman High School Academic UIL Teams recently competed in their District competition at Brownwood High School. The writing events were held on Tuesday, March 18th. We had three students compete in the Ready Writing contest, Heather West, Elizabeth Hipolito and Joanna Esquivel. We also had one student compete in the Editorial Writing contest, Kendra Swanner. These writers did a good job, but did not advance on to the Regional Competition. The rest of the Academic Events were held on Friday, March 21st. Here is a list of the teams and team members that competed in these events.

Obituary

Frieda Mae Carter

Frieda Mae Carter, former owner of C & D Feed died Thursday, March 27, 2003, in a Dallas Hospital. Graveside services were Saturday, March 29, 2003 in the Eastland City Cemetery directed by Edwards Funeral Home of Eastland.

Born Frieda Mae Curtis in Post, Texas on February 22, 1920 to Sydney and Lela Carouthers Curtis, she moved to Lubbock and graduated from Lubbock High School. She married the father of her children, Russell Fulton, and they moved to California where she worked as a typist. Mr. Fulton died suddenly at the age of 30 and she and the kids moved back to Lubbock and later to Possum Kingdom. She moved to Fort Worth where she worked for Armor Packing and retired as a director of data entry for The Western Company. She married J.D. Carter in 1966 and they purchased a farm near Kokomo, in Eastland county, and eventually moving there. J.D. Carter began working for C&D Feed and purchased it as well as opened a C&D Feed store in Ranger. Mrs. Carter did the office work and they made a good team. J.D. suddenly died in 1985 and she kept the stores until 1987 when she sold them and retired to her home in Kokomo. She was a Presbyterian and enjoyed reading, crocheting, walking and watching her wildlife. She was preceded in death by a sister Sydney Bill Thompson of Fort Worth.

She is survived by two daughters, Sharon Fulton of Carbon and Janet Fulton of Dallas.

well. Some of our teams had some very tough competition.

The students that placed first, second or third individually or first place as a team will get to advance to the Regional UIL competition at Hardin Simmons in Abilene on April 11 and 12. We will have three students advancing to Regionals: Lacy Howard placed second in Persuasive Speaking, Ashlee Hornback placed 3rd in both Computer Science and Informative Speaking, but will compete in her Speaking event due to a conflict in test times, and Josh Bridges placed first in Computer Science. We had three teams that placed second which actually means they are the alternate team for the Regional Event and will get to go if the other team pulls out of the competition. They are: the Computer Science Team of Josh Bridges, Ashlee Hornback and Dylan Cogburn; the Accounting Team of Dylan Cogburn who placed fourth individually in this event, Tasha Ritter, Tana Grissom and Sharon Marlow; and the Literary Criticism Team of Heather West who placed 5th individually in this event, Sarah Lewis and Casondra Cooper. Other students who placed but will not advance are: Lacy Howard placed 4th in Prose Interpretation, Brian Hunt placed 4th and Russell Jay placed 5th in Informative Speaking, and Ryan Wright placed 4th and Kendra Swanner placed 5th in Persuasive Speaking.

Ruby Lee Kinser, Helen and Woodrow Browning and Daryl Hirst opened the Sunday morning service at the Kokomo Baptist church with a musical special and then blessed us again with another special during the service.

Several members of the church attended the 5th Sunday night singing at the First United Methodist Church in Gorman along with members from several Gorman area churches and some from First Baptist Church at Carbon. If you missed it, you missed a real blessing. There was congregational singing and specials from the churches. The youth Bell Choir from the New Hope Baptist church was outstanding, and thrilled our hearts. Following the singing, there was a wonderful time of fellowship as we all enjoyed the delicious refreshments in the fellowship hall. Our thanks to the members of the Methodist Church. I think that God smiles down upon us and blesses us as we all meet together to sing his praises and glorify His name and then have a wonderful time of fellowship with one another.

May we all pause daily and pray for our nation, our president and those who advise him, the military leaders, and especially for our troops who are fighting the war in Iraq. There are many in the Gorman area who have loved ones in the service and we need to remember them in our prayers as well.

Those visiting with LaVon Snider this week were: Dwayne and Connie Snider of Stephenville, Gene and Kay Snider, Ted Snider, Dan Snider and Justin Snider of Austin

Dorothy Roberts visited in Granbury last Sunday through Wednesday with her granddaughter, Emily and Mark Williams and daughter, Kena.

Bernard and Ann Keith visited last Saturday in Stephenville with their granddaughter, Nikki and Billy ing Star by members of the West Febinger and children, Christopher and Allison.

This reporter recently received a message from Dorothy Nell (Sturdivant) Griffice of Big Spring. She is a former resident of the Desdemona area where she attended school and graduated with the Class of 1943. She would like to say "Hello" to her family and friends in this area.

Remember the old saying, "Thunder in February, Frost in April?" We better stay ready as it did thunder three times, even on the 28th. So mark your calendar and just wait to see what happens.

Bernard Keith is having some health problems and he will report to his doctor in Abilene on Thursday. Thought for today—Who ever has a heart full of love--always has something to give.

Please contact this reporter with your weekly news. Thanks and have a nice day, Coon.

Woman Convicted of Drug Possession

Last week, a petit jury sitting in the 91st District Court found Samantha Ann Lavender guilty of possessing methamphetamine. Lavender, 24, of Cisco, was arrested outsider her father's residence in Ris-Central Texas Interlocal Crime Task Force who were assisted by the Rising Star Police Department and the Eastland County Sheriff's Office. The jury recommended that Lavender's confinement be probated. Sentencing is for April 3, 2003 before Judge Steven Herod.

Support our Troops

Each morning as we get up, prepare to go to work, school or about our daily business, American and allied troops half way around the world wake up to face the unknown. Exposed to extreme elements, deprived of sleep, modern conveniences and basic comforts, and facing the constant threat of attack, they press onward. Those men and women have answered the call to duty and are protecting our nation from a dictatorial regime that seeks to develop weapons of mass destruction that threaten the United States and our allies.

Across the country Americans have joined in prayer, moments of silence and open forums to praise the incredible efforts of our armed forces. The troops who volunteer to put their lives on the line to defend our freedom have earned our respect and rightfully deserve to be honored. And we must not forget their loved ones who wait for them at home. Support from Congress

In Congress we are doing our part by funding the war effort and ensuring our troops have access to the best training, equipment and technology available. We have also set aside the first hour of each Senate day for Senators to pay tribute to our men and women on the frontlines.

By honoring our troops each morning, we send the signal that in the midst of our daily routines, they are foremost on our minds. We want them to know we support their actions and keep them in our thoughts as we enjoy the freedoms they are fighting to preserve.

Operation USO Care Package

While prayers, encouragement and support are critical, there are other more tangible ways to express solidarity with our troops. The United Service Organizations (USO) developed a program called "Operation USO Care Package" to allow individuals to send a personal message or financial support to provide care packages to troops actively engaged in the fight against terrorism and in Operation Iraqi Freedom. Operation USO Care Package will continue for as long as our country is at war, and is made possible through the support of individuals, corporations and organizations. Visit www.usocares.org/home.htm for more information.

The Red Cross

The Red Cross provides another avenue for Americans to show their support. Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, the Red Cross staff is available to deliver emergency communications between the men and women of the U.S. military and their families, including those serving in the Persian Gulf Region. Donations from the public help make these communications possible. The Red Cross is also collecting items to send to our troops overseas. Everything from sunscreen to playing cards can be donated at local Red Cross chapters to provide our troops with a touch of home. Visit http://www.redcross.org/services to find out how you can help. Send a Message

To show your support, log on to the following Web sites to convey greeting cards, virtual thank-you cards and phone calling-card donations to help troops stay in contact with loved ones:

http://anyservicemember.navy.mil http://www.defendamerica.mil/nmam.html http://www.army.mil/usar/expresssupporthere.html

For your convenience, I've added a special section to my Web site, hutchison.senate.gov, which provides links to all of the Web sites listed above.

Please take a few minutes and show our troops how much their sacrifice means to you. We will never be able to repay the debt to those who have lost their lives, but we will always remember their sacrifice. We will grieve for their families. And we will duly honor them. They deserve no less.

AG TALK By Charlie Stenholm

House Clears FY04 Budget Resolution Last week, the House voted on the budget resolution for fiscal year 2004.

This budget package, which barely passed with a vote of 215 to 212, includes significant cuts for agriculture programs.

Specifically, this budget instructs the House Agriculture Committee to reduce the level of direct spending by almost $6 billion for fiscal years 2004 through 2008.

In addition, it demands almost $19 billion in spending cuts for fiscal years 2004 through 2013.

This means reopening the farm bill, and it means big changes if it ultimately becomes the budget.

After pressure from some Members of the House, Budget Committee Chairman Jim Nussle has promised to return the spending levels for mandatory agriculture programs back to the level Congress approved in last year's farm bill.

The Senate has been working on an entirely different budget proposal this week, and it is expected to be much different than the budget passed by the House.

In any case, a number of major budget issues will be decided later during a conference between the House and Senate.

Future farm program funding is probably going to depend on a number of other key issues, including the size of President Bush's tax cut and economic growth package, Medicare and prescription drug program spending, and several other high priority measures.

Food Aid For Iraq

During the past few months, the Department of Defense has been working with the USDA and others to formulate a humanitarian food aid package for Iraq.

The Bush Administration said that it would use wheat from a humanitarian trust to feed the people of Iraq, prompting concerns from wheat growers about the impact on the wheat market and from humanitarian groups about the need for more food aid money through the upcoming supplemental appropriations bill.

Agriculture Secretary Ann Veneman announced Tuesday that 200,000 metric tons of wheat would be released immediately from the wheat trust, and another 400,000 tons would be made available as needed. 200,000 metric tons of wheat will also be shipped to Africa to address their food crisis.

USDA also indicated that an unspecified portion of the wheat would be sold on the domestic market, with proceeds being used to purchase

U.S. rice to send to Iraq. Wheat industry leaders pointed out that a sale of wheat from the trust last year brought down the price of wheat.

The Bush Administration has included $320 million in additional funds to buy emergency food for Iraq. This was included in their request to Congress for $75 billion to help cover the cost of the first six months of the war with Iraq.

The $320 million would be in addition to the $60 million that the U.S. Agency for International Development (AID) has already given to the UN World Food Program for fuel, trucks, warehouses and logistical support related to delivering food aid to Iraq.

The Agency for International Development, which administers US food aid programs, says that an estimated 500,000 tons of US food grains will be shipped to Iraq as a result of last week's release of reserves.

I hope you all recognize that the people of Iraq are going to need tremendous help, and I am not as pessimistic as some wheat growers. In the long run, helping Iraq and Africa in a time of need will be beneficial to wheat growers in the 17th District and to producers all across America.

Senate Support Grows to Limit Farm

Program Payments

this year.

With help from senators from the great plains states, support is growing in the senate to support the farm program payment limitations that Senate Finance Chairman Chuck Grassley successfully added to the Senate's fiscal year 2004 budget resolution.

The proposal limits total farm payments to $275,000, versus $300,000 in the budget resolution.

I can guarantee that this matter will find its way to the House floor

Congressman Stenholm represents the 17th District of Texas in the U.S. House of Representatives and is the Ranking Member of the House Committee on Agriculture.

A1C Brian D. Simpson Receives Award

Billy Simpson received the following letter from the Department of Air Force regarding his son, Brian D. Simpson.

12 Feb 2003 Dear Mr. Simpson

I am pleased to tell you that your A1C Brian D. Simpson was named the 26th Operational Weather Squadron Airman of the Month for December 2002. This award recognized Brian for his strong duty performance, positive attitude, and excellent military bearing. It was no easy achievement, either-Brian won this award in competition with over 120 other air-

We have come to expect this kind of achievement from A1C Simpson since he joined us in August 2002. He quickly worked through his initial training and shows great promise as a weather forecaster. Brian is responsible for issuing forecasts and weather warnings critical for protecting thousands of military personnel and billions of dollars in equipment assets throughout the seven states in the heart of Tornado Alley (Arkansas,

You can be very proud of the try. I am very glad we have A1C Simpson as part of our team and look forward to more great things from him.

If you can keep your head when all about you Are losing theirs, and blaming it on you; If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you, But make allowance for their doubting too; If you can wait and not be tired by waiting, Or, being lied about, don't deal in lies, Or, being hated, don't give way to hating, And yet don't look TOO good, nor talk too wise.

If you can dream, and not make dreams your master; If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim; If you can meet with triumph and disaster AND TREAT THOSE TWO IMPOSTERS JUST THE SAME: If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools, Or watch the things you gave your life to broke, And stoop and build them up with wornout tools;

If your can make one heap of all your winnings, And risk it on one turn of pitch-and toss, And lose, and start again at your beginnings And never breathe a word about your loss; If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew To serve you long after they are gone, And so hold on when there is nothing in you Except the Will which says to you, "Hold on;"

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue, Or walk with kings-nor lose the common touch, If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;; If all men count with you, but none too much: If you can fill the unforgiving minute With sixty seconds worth of distance run-Yours is the earth and everything that's in it; And-which is more-you'll be a man, my son! Benefits of Eating Breakfast to be Taught in OHS WIC Class Research has shown that children who eat breakfast perform better in school, concentrate better, are more creative and have a better memory. These and other facts about the importance of eating breakfast will be presented during a quarterly nutrition class called "Breakfast is for Champions," which will be taught by staff of the Outreach Health Services (OHS) Women, Infants and Children (WIC) clinic beginning in April. (For class dates and times, call your local WIC clinic.) "In addition to improving a child's ability to learn, breakfast plays an important role in promoting or maintaining a healthy weight," said Ann Latham, Registered Licensed Dietitian and an assistant director for OHS WIC. "One report shows that children in two-parent families who skip breakfast are almost twice as likely to be overweight than children who eat breakfast. With childhood obesity on the rise, the breakfast issue becomes even more critical."

OHS WIC offers the following suggestions for quick and easy breakfasts that provide a good start for your total daily nutrient intake:

Fresh berries on cold cereal with milk OR melon mixed with oatmeal tie Campbell, Howard and Pat provide calcium, B6, folate and iron.

Think whole grain. Whole wheat toast, hot oatmeal or a cold cereal Sorry to report Margie lane is in such as bran flakes or shredded wheat with at least five grams of fiber per serving are your best bets. High-fiber, whole-grain carbohydrates contain more nutrients than refined, processed ones.

Whip up a breakfast shake of milk or yogurt with fruits and/or grains. Pop a frozen waffle in the toaster and top it with fresh fruit.

5. Try refried beans, a small slice of cheese and a tomato slice on toasted wheat bread. Make a smoothie with frozen strawberries, a frozen banana and four ounces of apple juice or low-fat yogurt. Benefits of Eating Breakfast Taught in OHS WIC Class - add 1

Many people think they do not have time to eat breakfast. OHS WIC has some suggestions to address that issue:

Plan breakfast ahead of time.

Make a quick breakfast of cereal with milk.

Have the family decide the night before what to have for breakfast the next morning.

Take turns making breakfast with other members of the household.

Leave breakfast food at work to eat when you get there.

Decide what to wear the night before and set out your clothes.
