American State Bank Provides Oasis for Peanut Country Annual Bike Ride

On Saturday, June 14, 2008 at 8:00am team members of American State Bank will provide a rest spot along the Tour the Peanut Country 8th Annual Bike Ride path. Team members will provide and pass out water and other refreshments to thirsty bike-riders as they participate in the bike ride.

Since we opened our doors on May 20, 1948, ASB has been helping people and businesses find financial success. From a small, one-room frame building, nicknamed "the log cabin," we went to work. In all these 60 years, we are proud to have the same name and only two presidents, Jack Payne and W.R. Collier. It was Payne's vision to establish a "friendly little family bank." And even though we now have 35 locations, we're still true to that vision. As a thank you to the communities we serve team members will complete community service projects in each of our 18 communities.

Looking Toward the Future of the GI Bill

Recent debate in Congress has focused on modernizing the Montgomery GI Bill and ensuring that it adequately provides those who serve our country with the opportunity to obtain higher education if they so choose.

There are two competing measures under consideration, both of which have merits, and both deserve an honest and open debate in the House and Senate. I believe it is time to make some reforms to the Montgomery GI Bill.

I support legislation authored by Congressman Roscoe Bartlett (R-MD-06), H.R. 5229, which would create greater flexibility to transfer unused educational benefits to a spouse or child. I have also cosponsored H.R. 6070, which amends the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act to guarantee the residency of spouses of military personnel, which will allow them to continue to pay in-state tuition rates even if they have to move.

There are many positive provisions in the competing bill, S. 22, introduced by Senator Jim Webb (D-VA). However, my concern is that this bill would also hurt retention, create more bureaucracy, and discourage states from supporting education. In addition, Senator Webb's legislation is included in a supplemental war funding bill that is riddled with unrelated domestic spending and has been closed to amendment. This legislation was not given full consideration on the House and Senate floor, and our veterans and servicemembers deserve better.

The Montgomery GI Bill is a critical component of recognizing and rewarding our servicemembers' dedication to this country, and it is time for some reforms. I am hopeful that House and Senate negotiators will present us with a substantial package that I can vote for. However, I remain concerned that legislation that may encourage someone to shorten his or her career in the military is not in the best interest of commanders who rely on the wisdom of these experienced warriors.

Meeting with Lt. General Raymond Johns – Deputy Chief of Staff for Strategic Plans & Programs

Later this week, I will meet with Lt. General Raymond Johns, the Air Force Deputy Chief of Staff for Strategic Plans and Programs, to discuss the future plans of the B-1B Lancer. As I reported to you earlier, I had sent a letter, along with my Texas Senate colleagues, to the Secretary of the Air Force expressing our concerns regarding the direction that the Air Force is taking with the B-1.

The B-1 is a staple in today's Air Force that has had outstanding success in theater. The B-1 fleet has also made a tremendous contribution to the city of Abilene, where they are stationed at Dyess Air Force Base.

Recently, the B-1's readiness has been downgraded, and my concern is that rather than investing wisely in new spare parts for the B-1, the Air Force might reduce the size of the fleet. This is unacceptable. Our strategic bomber fleet has been the backbone of our air dominance and must remain at peak condition.

H.R. 3089 - the No More Excuse Energy Act

House Republicans will continue to bring new legislative solutions to solve the current energy crisis, rather than just encouraging Americans to drive slower and turn the lights down. Last week, I sent out an update on the rising costs of gas and other sources of energy. Unfortunately, not much has changed, except the fact that the situation is getting worse. As of today, the average cost for a gallon of gasoline is $4.08, and diesel is at $4.79. I am disappointed by the lack of bipartisanship from the House leadership to increase domestic production. Instead of providing solutions, they continue to ignore this crisis that is truly hurting Americans and businesses, especially those in rural America.

Last week, I signed the discharge petition to bring Congressman Mac Thornberry's (R-TX-13) bill, H.R. 3089, the No More Excuse Energy Act, directly to the floor. If enough House members sign this petition, then we would be able to bypass the Speaker and bring this bill to the floor for a vote.

Below are some of the key provisions in Congressman Thornberry's bill:

Creates a competitive leasing program to responsibly drill on federal lands in Alaska and removing the moratorium on drilling in the Outer Continental Shelf;

Encourages construction of new refineries by requiring the IRS to implement provisions from the Energy Policy Act of 2005, allowing tax exempt bonds to be used for construction and making use of federal lands for new refineries;

Expands electricity generation by encouraging investment into building new nuclear power plants and boosting alternative energy development through wind power by extending the Production Tax

Credit for ten years; and

Offers a tax credit for CO2 captured for use in enhanced oil recovery. This will not only reduce greenhouse gas emissions but also allow us to fully utilize our reserves.

My fellow colleagues and I will continue to push the majority to bring legislation to the floor that meets the needs of America's families and businesses now. Energy conservation is important, but until we produce more energy of all kinds here at home, we are only dealing with half the answer to our energy crisis.

As always, when events unfold in Washington, I will be sure to update you. In the meantime, do not hesitate to visit my website at www.randy.house.gov or call my office toll free district wide at (888) 763-1611 or my Washington, DC office at 202-225-4005.

FSA ACCEPTING EMERGENCY LOAN APPLICATIONS

Callahan, Eastland, Shackelford, Stephens and Jones Counties were declared eligible for Farm Service Agency (FSA) disaster emergency loans on May 15, 2008. That means that farmers who have lost at least 30 percent of their production due to fires and high winds that occurred on January 1, 2008 through present are eligible for FSA loans. Proceeds from crop insurance are taken into consideration when determining eligibility.

FSA Farm Loan Manager Richard G. Young is urging farmers who are interested in receiving an emergency loan to submit their applications into FSA as soon as possible. The deadline is January 15, 2009. For more information contact the Eastland County Farm Service Agency. Or, you can call Mr. Young at the Jones County FSA office. (325) 823-3255 ext. 109

IF YOU THINK IT'S TOUGH MAKING ENDS MEET NOW, IMAGINE HAVING YOUR CAR STOLEN.

If your car is stolen, remember that, even if you're fully covered, insurance only pays the depreciated value and not the cost to replace your vehicle. That means, if you paid $8,000 for your car, but it's only valued at $6,500 — and then you pay the deductible (maybe another $500) — you're out $2,000! And you still don't have a car.

What's a Texan to do?

Make it hard for thieves to steal your car in the first place. When you leave your vehicle, hide your things, lock your car, and take the keys. Remember...

STATUS OF FSA FARM BILL DELIVERY

Congress recently passed the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 (Farm Bill).

The new farm bill "strengthens our nation's food security, protects the livelihood of our producers and provides investments in nutrition assistance programs, conservation and renewable energy."

Once a Farm Bill is approved, there are several things that must take place before we can accept applications and issue payments to producers. From this point it could take about 6-8 months.

These steps include:

1. The FSA national office writes regulations
2. National office writes handbook procedures for state and county offices to use
3. Program software is developed
4. National training guides are developed
5. State FSA staff receives training
6. County Office staff receives training
7. Public information campaigns begin

Though it will be a slow process, we will make every effort to implement Farm Bill provisions in a timely manner.

PRAY FOR RAIN AND COOLER TEMPERATURES

More Energy is the Simple Solution to the Energy Crisis
By U.S. Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison

President Reagan said, "There are no easy answers, but there are simple ones." This principle applies to America's energy woes. Since January 2007, the price of a gallon of gasoline has soared from $2.33 per gallon to a record $4.04. Over the next two decades, global demand for oil is expected to rise by 50 percent. Further price escalation is inevitable. When confronted by these facts, the energy solution is simple. We need more energy! We should be increasing our production of oil, natural gas, clean coal, and nuclear power — and those resources should come from America, instead of foreign dictatorships.

One of the best kept secrets in politics today is that America is one of the richest energy nations in the world and is capable of achieving energy independence.

Our most valuable untapped resource is the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR), which is estimated to contain 10.4 billion barrels of oil. This remote frozen tundra could be drilled with minimal impact on surrounding life. ANWR is the size of South Carolina and the area drilled would be roughly the size of Dallas/Love Field Airport. In 1995, the Republican Congress passed legislation to open ANWR for energy production. But President Clinton vetoed our bill. If he had signed it, America would now be producing one million barrels a day, almost enough oil to replace all of our daily imports from Saudi Arabia.

Beyond ANWR, federal law prevents oil and gas production in the deep waters off the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts. These areas, along with a section of the Gulf of Mexico, could contain as much as 115 billion barrels of oil - greater than Venezuela's current reserves - and 565 trillion cubic feet of natural gas - greater than the combined reserves of Iraq, China, Yemen, Oman, Nigeria, and Venezuela. Federal laws also prevent us from exploiting one trillion barrels of shale oil in Colorado, Wyoming, and Utah - an amazing amount that is three times what Saudi Arabia has in reserve.

In May, I joined 18 other Senate Republicans to introduce the American Energy Production Act of 2008. Our bill will remove unnecessary government barriers to domestic energy production and allow us to tap our vast resources with environmental safeguards. This should be bolstered with an energy portfolio that includes renewable and alternative sources like solar, wind, and nuclear power.

My Democratic colleagues have a starkly different approach to the energy crisis — it is one that creates no new energy. Their answer is to tax energy production. In 1980, Congress passed a "windfall profits tax," and the consequences were devastating. In the six years following that levy, domestic oil production dropped by 1.26 billion barrels and imports of foreign oil rose 13 percent. The disastrous tax was repealed in 1986. Rather than learn from that mistake, some in Congress would impose the same ineffective tax on the oil industry.

Their proposal also seeks to blame "price gouging" for soaring energy prices. The Federal Trade Commission has been vigilant in its investigation of pricing practices in the oil industry. It has consistently found no evidence of market or price manipulation, and instead points to global supply and demand as a leading factor in the price of gasoline. In fact, as of January, the average tax on each gallon of gasoline was 47 cents, while the oil and gas industry has testified that it earns only four cents per dollar of gasoline sales.

The Democrats' plan would also repeal incentives for expanded refinery investment. By increasing taxes and reducing the incentives to refine oil into usable gasoline, we will end up with a smaller supply of domestic energy, which in turn fuels price increases, perpetuates our present crisis and keeps us at the mercy of OPEC. Energy companies would be hit with new taxes on foreign earnings, potentially exposing producers to double taxation and hindering their ability to compete for oil and natural gas reserves on the global market.

This year, we will spend about $500 billion to import oil. All of those dollars should stay here in America, instead of being sent to foreign regimes that may be hostile to our interests. We need energy for Americans by Americans, and we need it now. Instead of searching for scapegoats, we should be searching for additional energy resources to be part of a bold, comprehensive plan for America's energy security in the 21st century.

Our Weekly Lunch was held on Wednesday the 11th at 11:30. There was a nice group of twenty-eight people here to enjoy the good food and fellowship. Geraldene Wright gave the blessing of the meal with her good words for us all.

We had a very large amount of different foods for our meal. I had decided on Tuna and pimento cheese sandwiches, due to the extreme heat. Bernice Hewson also brought chicken salad sandwiches, thanks for your help. There was also meat loaf, chicken strips, two pots of beans two huge pans of corn bread and several Veggies. We enjoyed several cakes, peach cobbler, Jello with fruits and Cool Whip and fruit. I do wish there had been some of this food in the last two weeks, especially desserts. I only had two people pay for their meal, so that accounted for the increase in food.

Martha Rainey's daughter, Jill Torres came to eat and visit, also brought her two children, Katie and Ethan. Her little boy has grown so and such a cutie. They also had a cousin McKayla with them. We do enjoy having children with us as long as they are supervised. Betty Regian's granddaughter was also here to eat and visit. Marley Carlson has grown up with us. Betty has brought her since an infant in her stroller.

We enjoyed having Ann Laminack, Ellen Parker and Billie Bennett here to fellowship. We hadn't had their company for awhile. I do hope they continue to come most Wednesdays and bring their good dishes. Also was good to see Emma Jane Larch, she always brings her excellent cake. We missed her the last two weeks. I talked with Betty Sanders and she, Jackie Burns, and Raymond Hattox were in Brownwood. The men had appointments at the VA Clinic there. They missed out on a lot of good food and desserts. Hope to see you next Wednesday for Salad Dinner.

On Thursday the 12th we enjoyed games with Eleven people. After much moving about we settled on 42 and Chicken Foot. Then the 88's players were a little out of sorts as they had to wait a bit. Finally the 42 broke up so they could play. I kept telling them there's Spinner, which is a fun game. Some just want to play one game, I had never played Chicken Foot, another type of domino game. I enjoyed, it goes fast and easy.

We also enjoyed more sandwiches for our supper. I brought the left overs from the day before. Then two more people brought more. What a laugh, too many sandwiches.

The last 3 days have been over 100 degrees. Terrible for June, what can July and August be like? Today is only to be 95, HA!, a cool down. I wonder if I can stand this summer to come. I'm now trying to water grass and a few flowers to keep alive. My son-in-law Tim Swanner and I put in new St. Augustine last Spring in '07, so I must keep it alive. Now here comes the high water bills!! Hope all is well and see you next time, Carol.

CITY MINUTES

JUNE 5, 2008

The Gorman City Commission met on the above date. Those present were Mayor Robert Ervin, Commissioners Cliffla Vaughn and Nathan Files. Absent were Charlie Torrez and Joe Casey. Others present were Chief Barbara Fenley, Sherry Thornton, Glenn Scitem, Trace Gortt and Bill Barrentine. Commissioner Files was detained at his business, he arrived at 5:50 a.m.

Sherry Thornton discussed with the Mayor and Cliffla the possibility of getting half of the alley way / easement between their residence and the Inspection Service. She would also like the road / alley behind her residence closed or closed to thru traffic. She indicated people drove entirely too fast "cutting" thru this alley. Mayor Ervin said it would be taken into consideration, and that someone would need to speak with the Inspection service.

After Nathan led the opening prayer the Pledge of Allegiance and the Texas Pledge were held.

Mayor Ervin called the meeting to order at 5:55 p.m.

Cliffla made the motion to approve the minutes of the previous meeting. Nathan made a second. Motion carried.

Nathan made the motion to approve the bills for payment with a second from Cliffla. Motion carried.

Nathan made the motion that the city crew only pick up tree limbs, or brush after a storm or other act of mother nature or charge a fee of $50 per load to be hauled off. Cliffla made a second. Motion carried.

Commissioners read the monthly reports. There were only eight (8) tickets written during the month. Nathan made the motion to park the police vehicles at the City Office. The officers can drive their personal vehicles to work, only go out when called, and to stay at the office during his/her shift. This will eliminate some of the high priced fuel and wear and tear on vehicles. Motion failed due to lack of a second. This issue is considered tabled for present time. Cliffla added she felt a need for more ticket activity.

Due to only having two officers working, Barbara had requested pay for two (2) weeks of vacation time. Nathan made the motion to pay her the time, with a second from Cliffla. Motion carried.

Wisely Invested or Spent

Last week, we discussed what success is not; the acquisition of riches, fame, and things. None of these things guarantee a lifetime of success or happiness. Before we talk about what success is, let's briefly discuss what we do with our resources. What do you do? Do you invest a percentage of your paycheck? If so, what percentage do you invest and how do you invest it, wisely or otherwise? Or, do you fall in the category of those who simply spend all the resources that they get their hands on?

Money spent is money gone, which can never be regained and will only offer you a brief moment of fulfillment. There are two types of investments available to you as an individual: risky, and guaranteed. Risky investments are appealing because the potential of return has great possibilities, however, those returns are not guaranteed. In fact these types of investments are often referred to as capital risks, due to the nature of the risks involved when one invests in stocks which are susceptible to market values, which have a tendency to fluctuate. Many people, perhaps even some of the men we discussed last week, often lose all of their capital, which catapults them into virtual and/or real bankruptcy and physical despair. Conversely, a guaranteed investment offers the investor a set return. These are not as appealing due to the lack of speculative potential.

When we think of investing, we normally think of money. However, there are many resources available to each of us that we could invest. For example, do you have a plot of ground that could potentially be a garden? Do you have a spot in your yard that you could plant a tree, or even more productively, a fruit tree? Many investors are beginning to harvest the wind and the rays from the sun with great success. What is available to you?

Perhaps the greatest investment possibility of your lifetime is often overlooked. What is each of us doing with the life that we have been granted? In addition to the breath that has been given to you and other phenomenal physiological aspects of the body, each of us has been granted a measure of faith, Romans 12:3. I like to relate this to the parable of the wealthy man who traveling into a far country, but before he embarked upon his journey, he called three of his more trusted servants and gave each of them a sum of money. Two of the servants took the money given to them and invested it, eventually doubling the original amount that had been given to them. The third man wrapped his up carefully in a cloth and buried it in the ground for safekeeping. As the story goes, upon the return of their master, the first two men were commended and the third rebuked and suffered loss due to not investing what had been given to him.

What are you doing with what God has given you? Are you simply spending your life, carelessly investing your life in risky ventures, or making wise choice investments on a spiritual level? The greatest investment that you will ever make is to invest your life and the faith that was given to you in the kingdom of God! Submit yourself to him today! Let Him be your savior and fill you with His Spirit; the return is guaranteed.

Quote of the Day: A life worth giving is a life worth living! Jthjr

Scripture of the Day: For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith. Romans 12:3

FSA COUNTY COMMITTEE NOMINATIONS START JUNE 15

WASHINGTON, June 11, 2008 - Agriculture Secretary Ed Schafer announced farmer and rancher candidate nominations begin June 15 for local Farm Service Agency (FSA) county committees. The nomination period continues through Aug. 1, 2008. Elections take place this fall.

"I encourage all producers to participate in the county committee election process by nominating candidates by the August 1 deadline," said Schafer. "We are counting on as much participation as possible, because county committees are an important link between the farm community and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. We have seen a trend in recent years of increased nominations of minority and women producers and we hope that will continue."

To be eligible to serve on an FSA county committee, a person must participate or cooperate in a program administered by FSA, be eligible to vote in a county committee election and reside in the local administrative area in which the person is a candidate.

Producers may also nominate themselves, and organizations representing minority and women may also nominate candidates. To become a nominee, eligible individuals must sign form FSA-669A. The form and other valuable information about FSA county committee elections are available online at: <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>; click on News & Events, then County Committee Elections. Nomination forms for the 2008 election must be postmarked or received in the local USDA Service Center by close of business on Aug. 1, 2008.

FSA county committee members make decisions on disaster and conservation programs, emergency programs, commodity price support loan programs and other important agricultural issues. Members serve three-year terms. Nationwide, there are more than 7,800 farmers and ranchers serving on FSA county committees. Committees consist of three to five members who are elected by eligible local producers. FSA will mail ballots are due back to the local county office either via mail or in person by Dec. 1.

Newly elected committee members and alternates take office Jan. 1, 2009.

Between 2003 and 2006, the number of minority and women farmers and ranchers nominated as candidates to FSA county committees nationwide increased 35 percent. Additionally, the number of African American producers nominated as candidates tripled during the same period.
