LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLODES; ONE DEAD

LA FOLLETTE IS LIKE ROOSEVELT TO REPUBLICANS

Fear of Progressive Campaign Throws Shadow Over Coolidge Campaign.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Fear of LaFollette will haunt the mariners of the republican national convention all this week and for the remainder of the presidential campaign, and yet there is nothing they can do to give themselves comfort or courage. LaFollette's absence is sure to be a stronger influence than ever was LaFollette present.

The senator from Wisconsin personalities and interprets the western states which have revolted against President Coolidge and the kind of republicanism which he represents. Without the electoral votes of these states Coolidge runs under a hopeless handicap. And yet his backers and spokesmen at Cleveland can do next to nothing to keep the agricultural west in line for the republican nominees this year.

Any attempt to write a platform or to promise legislation that would satisfy this restive and rebellious republicanism of the west would instantly alienate certain eastern groups, which are expected to finance the republican party this year as in the past. Nothing that the eastern contingent would accept will suit, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Montana, and Idaho. By the same token, what they demand would be rejected by the element which wants Coolidge.

LaFollette and his progressive republican followers in congress and out of it have all along looked to the republican administration to give them the kind of taxation, agricultural relief, and other legislation which they demand. The "regular" republicans of congress, plus the progressives whom LaFollette controls would have constituted an effective majority in behalf of the program that the latter had advocated. The failure of this program is blamed on President Coolidge and the republican leaders of the house and the senate. It will be LaFollette's plan to charge the responsibility directly to the administration, since it is in normally republican states that he must find his votes, and there must be won from Coolidge.

There will be efforts at compromise when the republican platform is framed. The midwestern republicans and those from the Pacific coast will seek to write delphic declarations that may be read in one sense in the east and in quite another sense in the west. Though discounted in advance, this device will be adopted in the hope of "preventing hell from overflowing east and west from its present center," as one republican has already put it.

Whatever may be undertaken, it is pretty definitely provisioned, the republican convention is quite as certain to give a start to LaFollette's campaign as it is to initiate Coolidge's.

Out from the west there continues to come reports of the disaffection among thousands of republican farmers. Senator Moses of New Hampshire, who recently was in that section, brought back to Washington a dismal story of the difficulties Mr. Coolidge must face as the candidate of his party in practically all the region west of the Mississippi river. The political conditions there, from the republican viewpoint, were as grave as the agricultural conditions, to which, in fact, they relate, Senator Moses told republican leaders in Washington.

Neither the political prospect nor the agricultural situation is likely to be improved by the enactments of the republican congress. None of the legislation the farmers of the west have urged the administration to give them has been passed. The forthcoming harvest in the west is expected to have the paradoxical effect rather of aggravating than alleviating the present distress of the farmers. They fear that the price of wheat will be relatively, if not absolutely lower than it was last year, while meantime their resources have diminished and their debts have increased.

Senator Moses grew feecious at the expense of these suffering farmers in the course of an interview he gave to a reporter in Bridgeport, Conn.—far from the wheat belt—a few days ago. He said he hoped they would adopt President Coolidge's advice and "diversify their crops." "They ought to begin raising something besides h—," said Senator Moses. But the campaign just opening will blast the hopes of Senator Moses and a good many other republicans.

CLAIM FOR COOLIDGE.
William M. Butler, campaign manager for President Coolidge declares that national convention votes instructed or favorable to the nomination for the president have reached a total of 1,366, with 555 necessary for a choice.

BOY AND GIRL SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN CAR SKIDS

J. H. Pangburn and Family of Breckenridge in Accident; Two Suffering Severely.

J. H. Pangburn of Breckenridge and four members of his family were shaken up and suffered minor injuries yesterday afternoon when the Wyllis Knight touring car in which they were riding skidded in the sand and gravel at the double turn on the highway between Cisco and Breckenridge, and turned completely over in the ditch.

Mr. Pangburn's son was thought to be seriously hurt. Emergency hospital doctors at Breckenridge, where the injured were taken by Dr. Carl Wilson of Ranger, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Fair of Ranger, who righted the car and picked up the injured, said his condition appeared serious. Hospital attendants reported him to be resting easily this afternoon.

X-Ray pictures were taken of young Pangburn to determine the extent of internal injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Pangburn were slightly cut and severely shaken up by the accident. The oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pangburn may be internally injured, but the youngest daughter was not hurt.

Japanese Threaten To Drive American Missionaries Away

TOKIO, June 9.—Led by the same political ruffians who invaded the International hotel and interrupted an American dance, the Japanese held a meeting here Sunday night to protest against the exclusion clause in the United States immigration bill.

A resolution was forced through provided not only that the Japanese should not only refuse to tolerate the exclusion clause, but should also refuse to accept further contributions from the United States but should also drive out all American missionaries.

AL SMITH GALVANIZES WINE AND BEER LEAGUE INTO MAKING DEMAND

NEW YORK, June 9.—The beer and wine issue was brought to the front in both democratic and republican circles here today. Following Governor Al Smith's stand, as outlined in his letter to the Smith Democratic League of Liberty, in which the candidate for the democratic nomination came out openly in favor of the state's right to regulate beer and wine traffic, the light wine and beer league of America said a communication would be presented to Chairman Ralph Williams of the advisory committee of the national republican executive committee, demanding that the republican party insert a light wine and beer plank in its platform.

GOVERNMENT WILL TRY TO "WORRY ALONG" AND FIND WAY TO PAY BILLS

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The federal government will "worry along" as best it can without the funds which the urgent deficiency bill that failed to get through congress would have provided. Budget Director Lord said today after a conference with Coolidge. He indicated several expedients by which vital needs can be taken care of without the appropriations.

COOLIDGE HOME-TOWN QUARTET AT CONVENTION

CLEVELAND, June 9.—First excitement of the republican convention was created today when the Coolidge hometown quartet burst into song in the lobby of the Stadler camp. "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge."

LEOPOLD AND LOEB TO PLEAD "NOT GUILTY"

CHICAGO, June 9.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, held on indictments charging kidnaping and murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks will plead "not guilty" when arraigned in the criminal court Wednesday. Clarence Darrow, chief counsel, said today. Asked if they would enter denials of the confession Darrow said that he had no statement to make.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS IS VERY PROBABLE

Failure to Pass Deficiency Appropriation Gives Embarrassment to Administration.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—President Coolidge was faced today with the possible necessity of calling an extra session of congress. Failure of the urgent deficiency bill to pass in the last few minutes of Saturday's session because of a filibuster by western interests has caused embarrassment to the administration along the following lines:

No money is provided to make the 25 per cent reduction in current taxes authorized by the recent tax bill to those who paid their income taxes in full last March. The deficiency bill would have appropriated $16,240,000 for this purpose.

No funds will be available during the summer to prepare for the distribution of the soldiers' bonus and the issuance of the policies may be delayed more than a year. Of the $132,000,000 provided in the deficiency bill for the bonus, $32,000,000 was for its administration.

The coast guard is left without funds to employ its more than 4,000 officers and seamen required to man its new defense operations, which will be brought to a virtual standstill.

Congress also let slide the bill appropriating about $10,000,000 for the completion of eight new cruisers and modernization of the fleet. This may cause an abandonment of President Coolidge's intention of calling another disarmament limitation conference, as the United States, crippled in this phase, would be at a disadvantage in negotiations.

Mr. Coolidge will confer with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and with Director of the Budget Lord and others to determine what can be done to keep things running without an extra session. If the situation appears serious, he will take up the question of an extra session with republican leaders immediately after the republican convention.

CARBONIC GAS ROUTS OUT GERMS AND MAKES WATER SAFE TO DRINK

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The common expression, "a dried-up old man," has no basis in fact, and the athlete who claims to be "as hard as nails" is really like a sponge.

So declares Dr. Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension institute, in a recent paper on the quantity of water we should drink each day. The water content of the human body in old age, he says, is from 81.2 to 84.8 per cent, as compared with 75 to 80 per cent in earlier life, and the athlete's muscles really are 75 per cent water.

About six glasses of water is a fair daily average, Dr. Fisk says, unless hot weather or violent exercise makes one perspire freely. He also scouts the theory that fluids taken with meals interfere with the digestion. On the contrary he asserts water stimulates the gastric juice and aids digestion.

Dr. Fisk emphasizes the necessity of scientific analysis and points out that no plain water is absolutely pure. The ordinary household filters, he also declares, remove some kinds of impurities but cannot screen out disease germs.

In this Dr. Fisk agrees with the scientists at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research who recently made exhaustive tests of the effect of carbonation on disease germs in water and beverages. They discovered that carbonic gas, the gas which puts the bubbles in bottled carbonated beverages, commonly known as soda water—also makes such beverages the safest to drink. Their tests prove, they declare, that carbonic gas as used in bottling these beverages not only prevents the growth of dangerous bacteria but also destroys the germs of virulent diseases with which they had inoculated samples for testing.

RIVERS IN OHIO ARE OVERFLOWING BANKS

DAYTON, Ohio, June 9.—Two deaths and damage of more than a million dollars resulted from the Sunday rain storms and floods that followed. The traction lines in Miami valley were rendered useless following the downpour.

The big Miami river is 13 feet above normal and reported to be rising steadily. It is the highest water in the valley since the flood of 1913.

Troops, police and firemen are patrolling Piquette, Ohio, where breaking levees drained the lake from which the city of 15,000 population gets its water supply.

Pres. Eliot Shows How to Live to 90

CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Emeritus of Harvard University, who recently celebrated his ninetieth birthday, gives the following recipe for adding a full score of years to the Biblical three score years and ten:

"How to live long—Go to church. Keep a clean heart and a good conscience. Give your mind exercise as well as your body, really think. Exercise regularly, eat in moderation, take a full allowance of sleep. Avoid indulgence in luxuries and the habitual use of any drug whatsoever—not only of alcohol, but of tobacco, tea and coffee."

President Eliot holds first position among America's "grand old men." He has witnessed in his life the development of railways, steamships, submarines, aeroplanes, breech-loading guns, the telegraph, telephone, two-cent postage, of radio, automobiles, the X-ray, elevators and skyscrapers. He was President of Harvard when the Hohenzollerns founded the German Empire.

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, believes he is needed more by the farmers of the country than by President Coolidge and has definitely refused to consider running as the vice presidential candidate on the republican ticket, it was announced here today.

MILLERAND IS NEARING END OF ADMINISTRATION

Francois Marsal Expected to Continue Premier Until New President Is Chosen.

PARIS, June 9.—The new cabinet which is headed by Francois Marsal is not expected to outlive the presidential message to the chamber of deputies making announcement of its creation.

It is expected the ministry will be overturned immediately on a motion from the left attacking President Millerand for interference in the senate election. The president of the republic is then expected to resign and Marsal will continue as premier until the result of the new presidential election is known.

TWO LEADERS OF FOUR YEARS AGO NOW IGNORED

Henry Cabot Lodge and Harry M. Daugherty Play Very Minor Parts.

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Harry M. Henry Cabot Lodge was completely ignored in the organization of the Massachusetts state delegation here today. Governor Cox was elected chairman and Speaker Gillett the state's representative on the resolution committee. Senator Lodge arrived here early today, but none of the leaders of the convention sought him out for conference. Though Lodge was permanent chairman of the convention four years ago and for a generation one of the powers in selecting candidates he has no part in the present proceedings beyond that of a humble delegate.

Madrox of Houston to determine if Ferguson was legally impeached by the senate of the 81st legislature and if the disqualifications extended beyond the term of his office.

SENTIMENT FOR LOWDEN APPEARS GROWING STRONG

CLEVELAND, June 9.—The republican national convention is likely to wish the vice presidency upon Frank O. Lowden of Illinois. Backers of the movement to select him as running mate of President Coolidge renewed their activities today despite the announcement from Chicago that he is not a candidate.

"No man ever refused the vice presidency after he was chosen" is a government official close to Mr. Coolidge declared, expressing the opinion that what appeared to be the general sentiment.

EASTLAND HAS ELEVEN MUSIC MEMORY VICTORS

One Cisco Contestant Is Also Named Among 211 Winners in State-Wide Contest.

AUSTIN, June 9.—Eastland had 11 winners in the statewide music memory contest of 1923-24. The results have just been compiled in the state office of the University of Texas at Intercollegiate league and show that 211 contestants made perfect scores. Each of these is entitled to the award of a gold pin offered by the Texas Music Merchants association.

The success of the contest this year induces the hope that many cities and towns in Texas which took no part in the music contest of 1923-24 will enter it next year. Whenever the young people participated, new interest was awakened in music and new meaning given by good music to many people who had not heretofore given it much attention.

The most rigid grading has prevailed in this contest, according to Roy Bedichek, head of the league division of the bureau of extension. "More than 1,000 schools entered this contest, and from the many papers passing as perfect in the county contests the state graders selected 211 for final award. Not only are these papers perfect in recognition of selections, in spelling and in punctuation, but each letter of each score card is legible. Many papers had to be discarded on account of illegible letters, as the graders were not expected to presume a correct spelling of a word which contained an illegible letter. According to many public school teachers, this contest, as well as the league spelling contest, has done much to improve the legibility of the writing of those students entering the contest."

CONDUCTOR IS KILLED, ENGINE HOSTLER HURT

Catastrophe Occurs in Dublin on Siding of Hamon-Kell Railroad.

DUBLIN, Texas, June 9.—Conductor W. F. Davis was fatally injured and died within one hour, and W. M. McKinnon, engine hostler was seriously and probably fatally injured early Sunday morning, when the boiler of a locomotive on the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railway blew up.

The locomotive was on a siding with the caboose hooked on the front of the engine. The flues and front portion of the engine were blown through the caboose and Mr. Davis, who was sleeping in front of the door was hurled to the back of the caboose, his skull being fractured.

McKinnon was seriously burned about the face and today Dr. T. L. Lauderdale, of the clinical hospital in Ranger, where McKinnon was rushed in an ambulance, said hospital authorities are afraid that flames were forced down into his lungs. Whether McKinnon will live or not depends on the condition of his lungs, but his chances to pull through were thought by attending physicians to be very slim.

Doctors Gather To Discuss Cures For Modern Diseases

CHICAGO, June 9.—Thousands of noted physicians and surgeons from all over the world today attended the opening of the annual convention of the American Medical association here.

Separate conferences of specialist groups will be held during the week of the convention. The industrial workers will derive much benefit from the special sessions on industrial diseases. In one meeting the doctors will discuss modern methods of resuscitation after poisoning in modern industries, as among those who work with storage batteries and other apparatus in which lead is used.

Modern anesthesia and the use of electricity in medicine are on the programs. Some time will be devoted to the study of ethylene, an anesthetic which has been in use for a little more than a year.

Patent medicines will come in for a rap in the display showing the comparative prices of proprietary and none-proprietary remedies. Quackery in the profession is to be combated by pamphlets and books to be distributed by the association. The world known figures on the program are: Dr. Leonard Findlay, Glasgow; Prof. Heinrich Finkelstein, Berlin; Prof. Karl Gramen, Stockholm; Dr. Harvey J. Howard, Belton; Dr. Louis Martindale, London; and Dr. Claude Regaud, Paris. Institute of the University of Paris, with which Madame Curie, co-discoverer of radium, is associated. Prof. Finkelstein is one of Europe's foremost authorities on the diseases of children.

The convention was officially welcomed to Chicago by Mayor William E. Deaver, President J. C. Taylor of the Illinois State Medical society, President Archibald Church of the Chicago Medical society and Dr. William Allen Pusey, president-elect of the American Medical association.

BORAH IS RECOGNIZED LEADER IN U. S. SENATE, MAY BE VICE PRESIDENT

By United Press.
 CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 7.—William Edgard Borah, through his long service in the United States senate, has won for himself a unique place in American public life. He has been mentioned as running mate for President Coolidge and may be nominated next week at the convention.
 Borah is a republican, but he is refused to allow himself to be tied by party obligations. He is a progressive and an astute politician.
 Never a part of the great machine that makes up the executive branch of the government in Washington, Borah often sways the decisions of that government. He lashes out in vigorous criticism of the administration, or he charts a course for it to follow on any given subject.
 Borah's personal appearance is striking. A little over medium height, he is husky built. A mane of flowing black hair surmounts rugged features, grim but kindly. There always can be detected a twinkle of humor in Borah's eyes.
 The senator and his wife live modestly in the national capital, without children, they are somewhat like pals together. A visitor to their home would find them living in a small apartment, comfortably, but far from lavishly furnished.
 Their apartment is in a large house, formerly a private mansion, but made over into an apartment house. One can wait for an abbreviated elevator, but would be more certain to arrive by walking up the flight of stairs.
 When "Bill" Borah takes you into his study for a talk, you find many, many books filling up the room. When he talks, you hear a quiet voice, lacking in flamboyant utterances, but deadly in earnest.
 Borah for long has been a familiar figure on horseback along the drives about Washington. Dressed like a western rancher, Borah gallops out on his horse early each morning to keep himself fit for the strain of Washington political life.
 The importance of Borah's word is well indicated by the fact that when he rises from his seat in the senate to speak, everyone listens, even the callous ears of senators prick up, and some of the solons who have gone out into the cloakrooms for a "rest" return to the chamber. Borah almost always has something to say.
 Borah is given much of the credit for creating the state of public opinion that resulted in the Washington disarmament conference.

The Idahoan never has been of that type of legislator that can be seen regularly at the White House. Borah usually does not see the president unless the president asks to see him. President Coolidge, on several occasions, has asked Borah to come to the White House, sending one of the presidential automobiles to Borah's apartment in northwest Washington for him.
 It was Borah whom the President called to the White House, not long ago, with Harry M. Daugherty, then attorney general, to make plain to Daugherty that he should resign as head of the department of justice. At the request of Mr. Coolidge, and in his presence, Borah told Daugherty of the feeling against him. The president frequently consulted Borah on the Daugherty question.
 Before coming to the senate in 1907, Borah devoted his entire time to the practice of law. He is 59 years old. He has been re-elected consecutively to the senate since 1907.

UNSINKABLE SHIP IS MYTH, SAYS NOTED BRITON

LONDON, June 7.—"The unsinkable ship is a myth," said Sir Alan Anderson, presiding over the international conference of world shipping interests in London. "It is not only a myth, it is a dangerous myth, if it induces false confidence. A modern ship, properly handled does not sink unless she hits something harder than water; but if she charges another ship, or rock, or iceberg, she will sink in spite of bulkheads, loading, and deck cargo regulations and the lives of all on board will be

DESDEMONA FITS SNUFFLERS OVER NITROS' FLAME

Turns Tables on Ranger in Game Sunday, Winning by 3 to 1 Score.

Desdemona caught Ranger flat-footed yesterday and left them holding the small end of a 3 to 1 score in a slow game. Desdemona's runs were made in the third, fourth and eighth inning. Ranger never threatened but once and was seasily stopped then. Weatherford was touched for hits when they were needed and although Ranger got to Moore for an equal number of hits, the Nitros were unable to deliver them when needed most.

Desdemona is anxious to get into the Oil Belt association and the games here Saturday and Sunday indicate that she has a team that will make it interesting for some of the leaders in the association, for she split with Ranger and beat Olden one game.

JACK ELKINS SR. DIES IN OKLAHOMA CITY

Jack Elkins Sr., an oil well driller who formerly lived in Eastland, died Saturday in an Oklahoma City sanitarium where he had been confined for some time.

A derrick on which Elkins was working caught on fire about three months ago and in getting out and away from it he sustained injuries which made it necessary for him to have a number of operations performed and from which he never recovered.

Mrs. Cox, mother of Mrs. Elkins, received a telegram Sunday morning stating that Elkins was dead and that burial would be in Oklahoma City where his father is buried. Elkins was 46 years old.

RICHARD LOEB

These unusual photographs of Richard Loeb, son of a Chicago millionaire, confessed kidnaper and slayer, with Nathan Leopold, Jr., of Robert Franks, 12-year-old schoolboy, show the youth in varying moods. At the left Loeb is pictured as he laughed at the police when first taken into custody, confident his alibi could not be shaken and that he would never be charged with the crime. At the right Loeb is pictured, hours later, when, borne down by fear and conscience, he confessed he took part in the brutal murder of his second cousin.

"ALL STARS" DISPLAY POWER WITH THE BAT

Win From Thurber, 9 to 4, Pounding King and Appleton.

Special.

THURBER, June 9.—Scott and Tankersley's All-Stars, an aggregation of college stars, evened up the beating administered to the T. C. U. regulars, Saturday, by pounding out hits and making runs until the score became very one-sided. Thurber was forced to remove King from the mound in the third inning, and Appleton, who relieved him, was also pounded hard thereafter, but the All-Stars failed to make as many runs off him as they did off of King.

Scott pitched an excellent game for the All-Stars and with the exception of being rather wild at times, he had the locals under full control, allowing but five hits, while the All-Stars garnered 17 hits off of King and Appleton. Home runs were made by Taylor and Adams for the visitors, and White for Thurber.

Scott and Tankersley will be with the Thurber baseball club in their next schedule games in the Oil Belt league next Saturday and Sunday at Olden. These young men have played the past two seasons with Thurber at the expiration of their school terms at T. C. U. It is believed that they will greatly strengthen the lineup of the Thurber club.

The regular team of Texas Christian university went down in defeat Saturday before the locals, score 7 to 2, but on Sunday Scott and Tankersley's All-Stars poured it on Thurber letting them have the small end of a 9 to 4 score.

Saturday Hudspeth was too much for the college boys and they were unable to get their hits when most needed. Ward of T. C. U. pitched a good game, but he failed to get the necessary support in the tight places. Home runs were made by Tankersley of T. C. U. and two by Hudspeth for Thurber.

Summary—Sacrifice hits, Tankersley, Taylor; two-base hits, Tankersley, Knight, Levy; home runs, Taylor, Adams, White; stolen bases, McKown, Lovorn; innings pitched, by King, 2-2-3, Appleton 6-1-2; struck out, by Scott 6, by King 2, by Appleton 3; hits off pitcher, off King 7, off Appleton 10; first on balls, off Scott 6, off King 1; hit by pitcher, by Scott (McKinnon, Hudspeth, White); double plays, Paulowsky to Knight to Dalmasso; left on bases, All-Stars 6, Thurber 10; first on errors, Thurber 1; umpires, Box and Turner; time of game, 2:04.

AT 82 MRS. WARNER FINDS HEALTH IN KARNAK

To be so crippled up with rheumatism and her vitality so wasted by other troubles that she had to be dropped up with pillows, and then to find renewed health by means of the sensational new medicine Karnak, is the remarkable experience reported by Mrs. E. E. Warren, 144 University avenue, San Antonio.

"I feel it my duty to let others know what this medicine has done for me," says Mrs. Warren, "for when it restored me so marvelously in spite of my eighty-two years, it will undoubtedly bring health to thousands of others if they will try it."

"I suffered day and night from rheumatism. I could not even dress myself and for days at a time was unable to walk a step. It was all over my body, in my limbs and everywhere. Nothing I ate agreed with

It Is Pitchers' Battle in Which Fielding Is Spectacular in Spots.

The Magnolias won from the Texaco Stars at Olden, Sunday afternoon, in a nip and tuck affair where careless baseball was mixed with free hitting, spectacular fielding, bum chucking and regular bangup pitching. It was a comedy of errors and a grand exhibition of the national pastime, all in nine innings.

Hellman and Hollis, of the Parks aggregation parked the ball and Bill Sisk of that same crew tripled far over Josephson's head and only quick leg work and an accurate return cut that wicked clout to three sacks.

Pete Supinia, Olden third sacker, grabbed the hot ones and the slow ones, made 'em all look alike, throwing seven ambitious Parkites out at first and just to make it a perfect lay drove four runs over the platter and counted twice himself.

Parks started things in the first inning when Hellman, ancient first sacker, drove in two men ahead of him with a line drive over the right field wall. Olden scored two in the same inning when Supinia sent Josephson home with a double and scored later on Ramsay's bobble.

Olden scored three in the third on successive singles by Josephson, Supinia and Rainey on a squeeze play. Three more were added by Olden in the fourth on two walks, singles by Josephson and Supinia, a sacrifice and an error by Sisk.

Hollis homered for Parks in the fifth. Hellman led off for the Stars in the sixth and bled. Bounds singled and Newport scored them both with a line drive to center. Sealey whiffed. With the tying runs on the sacks, Hollis drove a wicked liner to left center. It looked like a sure double but Parks' hopes were short-lived when Red Josephson took in the drive and doubled Newport off second with a smart throw. Sealey whiffed for the third out in the eighth inning with Newport and Bounds on second and third.

Sealey, who relieved Purvis in the fifth had his emery ball working and kept the Magnolias guessing for the remainder of the contest.

ELEVEN DEAD, OTHERS DYING, FROM EXPLOSION IN PENNSYLVANIA MINE

By United Press.
 WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 7.—Eleven miners are dead, three are entombed with little hope of effecting a rescue, and seven others are in a hospital here in a serious condition as a result of an explosion of gas of the Lomoso colliery of the Glenn Coal company in the North Hanover township. Rescue squads worked all night to reach the men, but occasional explosion held them back and there was little hope today of accomplishing a rescue.

The cost of running the United States government for the coming fiscal year, according to Brig. Gen. Herbert M. Lord, director of the federal budget bureau, will be approximately $3,298,000,000. Staggering as this may seem, it is less than a quarter of the money invested in the electric public utility companies of the country, which totals $14,150,000,000.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

England To Have Team 400 Strong In Olympic Games

London, June 9.—With the exception of the boxing and cross-country teams, the British Olympic competitors have not yet been chosen, and the field and track contestants will not be finally selected until after the amateur athletic championships on June 20 and 21.

However, the British Olympic association reckons on sending to Paris a team numbering some 400 competitors, a number in excess of all previous efforts. This, despite the comparative lack of interest in Olympics in this country and the disinclination of many of the governing bodies of the various branches of sport to select teams at the bidding of the British Olympic association.

Among all the nations competing in Olympiads, Britain, for many years reckoned as the cradle of sport, is the worst organized. The British Olympic association is a relatively helpless body, which does nothing but supply funds and arrange hotel accommodation for competitors, and receives very little support from the various governing bodies of British sport.

The different governing bodies are old-standing institutions, while the British Olympic association is comparatively a newcomer. And none of the governing bodies is willing to concede the B. O. A. any sort of jurisdiction over their own particular branch of sport. And there is no possible way of enforcing the authority of the body responsible for the turning out of an international team to represent Great Britain at the Olympic games. Some bodies flatly refuse to have anything to do with the Olympics.

Britain will doubtless be strongly represented at polo, because the games happen to coincide with the height of the British polo season, and it is not very far to send to Paris. However, the polo authorities indicated very plainly that the international trial matches for the forthcoming England vs. America matches at Meadowbrook, as well as the Hurlingham, Ranelagh and Roehampton challenge cups and championships, were of far more importance than Olympic polo, and they even managed to secure a postponement of the original date to fit in with the biggest British home matches.

JUDGE SHROPSHIRE SUBMITS MOHLER APPEAL ARGUMENT

Judge B. D. Shropshire has returned from Austin where he has been to submit the Bob Mohler murder case to the court of criminal appeals.

Mohler, it will be remembered, was indicted, tried and convicted in Eastland county on a charge of having murdered Hugh Maples, a Cisco mail carrier. He was given the death sentence by the jury.

One of the grounds on which the case is being appealed is that the defense contends that the crime was not committed in Eastland county, the body, identified as that of Maples, having been found buried in a shallow grave in Coryell county.

Judge Shropshire stated that the court indicated the case would not be passed on until some time this fall.

BURTON VERY TYPICAL OF OLD GUARD

Chairman of Republican Convention Who May Be Next Vice President.

CLEVELAND, June 9.—Theodore E. Burton, the lean and dignified temporary chairman of the republican national convention, typifies exactly in his somewhat extended political career the conservative character of the present national administration—the administration which, following the convention here, will appeal to the country for a return to power.

When Burton gets up to speak, his audience will know better than to expect any of these things from him: flights of oratory; Attempts at humor; Funny stories.

His address of welcome to the convention and his keynote for the campaign will be cut from a sober pattern, with none of the new fold-erols of the young political generation. It will be a straightaway conservative model, of the sort Burton was brought upon, politically.

Yet Burton has considerable skill as a party orator. He knows, as the result of many years in congress, how to array his facts to capture the attention of his hearers. He has an easy task here, for the audience he faces will be a strongly pro-Coolidge audience—practically a unanimous Coolidge audience, in fact. He will not have to combat the hostility of delegates favoring some other candidate. They will be ready to cheer every mention of the present administration and its head.

A Native of Ohio.
 Burton, chosen by President Coolidge himself for the keynoting position, has served a long and useful career in his party. He is a native of these parts, having been born in Jefferson, Ohio, in 1851, which makes him 73. His education was calculated to make of him the sober, conservative person he has always been, for he attended Oberlin college, an Ohio institution noted for the earnestness of its educational purpose. Later he went to Dartmouth and New York universities.

Back in 1875, before Cleveland began shouting about its size and got into rivalry with Detroit over which was bigger, Burton hung out his lawyer's shingle here. In those days some of the mightiest men of the law in this section were getting under way and you had to be a pretty thorough lawyer to compete with them. Burton got along.

He got along so well that in 1888 he was elected to the house of representatives, serving in the fifty-first and fifty-fourth congresses, and then right along to the sixtieth. Once he got into congress, Burton soon became known as a devotee of facts. He would pursue a fact to its lair in a mountain of statistics, and drag it relentlessly forth. He also developed a strong party loyalty which brought him to the notice of the leaders. Burton didn't have to be told what to do; he had a mind of his own that made itself up, but the party leaders were pleased to find that his mind usually made itself up their way.

Burton soon came to the front as a waterways expert. He studied the question of inland waterways from every angle, one of these being the angle of "pork." In those days the rivers and harbors appropriation bill was the choice medium of those who wanted to get something for the folks at home out of the public treasury, as a means of continuing in politics. Many a dusty stream had good money spent on it in this manner.

Fought Against "Pork."
 Burton set out to fight this practice. The climax of his fight came in the senate to which body he was elevated by his state in 1909. There he, with the help of progressives, principally Senator Kenyon of Iowa, conducted an all-night filibuster against a rivers and harbors bill full of "pork." Burton put on carpet slippers and a bathrobe and drank
