WILL DEMOCRATS AGAIN TURN TO BRYAN?

ACME PIPE MACHINE WORKS NOW BUILDING

Shops to Have Machinery Investment of $26,000; Many Orders Already Booked.

The Acme Pipe Machine Works, which chiefly threads oil well casing, is establishing a large plant in Ranger. Work on the ironclad building to house the machinery was begun Monday and is expected to be ready for installation of the machinery within 10 days. The plant is located at one side of the Hamon-Kell railroad, about two blocks north of the station.

The machinery, which cost approximately $26,000, is being brought here from Webb City, Okla. It was made by the Landis Machine works and one of the threading machines is a Landis No. 2, the only one of its kind in this side of Pittsburgh, Pa., it is said, and the second to be manufactured in the United States. It is proposed to make this plant one of the best equipped in the south.

D. A. Luker is general manager of the company and maintains his headquarters in Breckenridge where they have a plant that covers about two blocks. The business in Ranger will be looked after by his assistant, W. C. Hetherington. Associated with them are Walter Burden of Ranger, E. W. Thorp and Bob Rainey of Breckenridge, the latter a son-in-law of Breck Walker of Breckenridge.

"We believe that Ranger has bright prospects," said Mr. Luker. "Ranger appears to be on a steady industrial boom, not spectacular, but of the solid type. Developments are along the line of permanency, and not the kind that come today and go tomorrow."

It is understood the company has more than $20,000 of business booked and awaiting completion of the machine works to turn out. Five or six men are employed in the works at all times.

DAVENPORT WILL SPEAK ON CAMPAIGN ISSUES AT BEDFORD TONIGHT

Judge George L. Davenport has arranged to speak at 8 o'clock tonight in the Bedford schoolhouse and at Yellow Mount on 8 o'clock tomorrow night. He has invited Judge Joe Jones to be present and share time with him.

Judge Davenport will speak next Saturday afternoon at Gorman. He spoke there once before at the invitation of Judge Joe Jones, sharing the time for which the latter had arranged. He will now be the host and has invited Judge Jones to divide the time with him.

ISLAND IN CARIBBEAN SEA WHERE NO WOMAN LIVES.

DALLAS.—Far out in the Caribbean sea is a 40-acre tract of land, Ewan Island. It is literally the "isle of man" for not a woman can be found on the domain, according to Aubrey Woodford, wireless operator who is spending his vacation with relatives here. Woodford was stationed on the island for eight months as a radio operator for the United Fruit company. His companions were seven white men and 15 negroes.

Swan Island owes allegiance to no country, according to Woodford. Its ruler is the chief radio operator. His word is law among the handful of whites and negroes.

Every three weeks a steamer plows her way to within a few miles of the jungle matter island and supplies are taken off the boat in launches. If the sea is running heavy the steamer keeps to her course and the island must wait another three weeks before seeing anyone from the outside world.

Favorite garb on the "womanless isle" is a shirt and white trousers. Beards and unmanicured finger nails are very much in vogue, while shoes are regarded as inconveniences unless one has unusually tender "dogs."

To add a touch of romance, Captain Kidd's treasure, or part of it at least, is said to be cached somewhere on the island.

BURNING GAS WELL "SHOT" TO EXTINGUISH FLAMES

AMARILLO.—The blazing gasser which was fired by a bolt of lightning and burned fiercely for several days, has been "shot" and extinguished by "Tex" Thornton. A charge of nitroglycerin was suspended above the well and touched off, making the fifth gas well fire in the Panhandle to be successfully extinguished by explosives.

BOY SCOUT GOING ABROAD. WAXAHACHIE.—J. W. (Bill) Thompson, 15, of this city, has been selected as one of 48 Boy Scouts to represent the United States in the International Boy Scout jamboree to be held in Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 10-23.

Sugar In System Declared Governing Valve Of Courage

The difference between courage and cowardice may be a question of sufficient sugar in the system or a lack of it, according to a physician, Dr. Slosson, who addressed the American Chemical society, meeting recently in Washington and said: "Diabetic patients taking insulin tell me the first effect of an overdose is the feeling of formless fear, a vague apprehension, a sense of futility and failure, a shiver of anxiety. Their courage can be at once restored by sucking a lollipop. A variation of a few hundredths of 1 per cent in the glucose of the blood may make the difference between cowardice and courage, may determine whether a man shall be shot as a slacker or medaled as a hero. Courage is not a matter of 'sand', but of sugar. In the excitement of combat the secretion of adrenalin is stimulated and this causes more sugar to be released to the blood and so strengthens a man's valor and endows him with greater strength."

AFFIDAVIT OF CAMPAIGN COST IS INDEFINITE

Robertson's Wire to Secretary of State Causes Comment That Form Is Defective.

AUSTIN, July 2.—In an affidavit wired to the secretary of state, Felix D. Robertson, candidate for governor declared that the personal items of campaign expenses shown by Larry Mills, his campaign manager, are true and correct.

A belief was expressed here that the form of the affidavit is faulty because it does not set forth items of expense but merely avers that the statement of some other person is correct.

The wire was sent in response to a request from the secretary of state to Robertson asking for a statement.

BOY USES HIS BRAINS TO AVOID ATTENDING SCHOOL

HOUSTON.—Hey kids! Here's a new one—the scientific "hooky" player.

This application of science to truancy came to light when H. R. Mills, probation officer caught a youngster in a motion picture show and questioned him about his school work.

Contrary to the Tom Sawyer type, this lad was neatly dressed and his shoes were brightly polished. His neck and ears were spotless.

For two months he evaded school and truant officers. He had been given a transfer from one school to another and after checking in his books at the first school failed to appear at the second so that no record was kept on him.

According to Mills' report some 2,800 truant were caught during the past school year.

"What are you going to do next year?" Mills asked his "master truant."

After several minutes of deep meditation the lad replied, "Don't know yet, but I got all summer to figure out some way."

MEXICO CANNOT PAY INTEREST DUE JUNE 30

President Obregon Gives 17 Reasons for Default, Chiefly Blaming De la Huerta.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Citing 17 reasons in explanation of the Mexican nation's default in interest payments, President Obregon has announced a temporary suspension of the Mexican debt agreement with the international committee of bankers, cabling to his financial agent here.

Placing most of the blame on Adolfo de la Huerta, former finance minister, for misrepresentations when arranging the loan, President Obregon goes into an elaborate explanation for the failure of the Mexican government to pay $7,000,000 interest on the reconstruction debt due June 30. He said that many civil and government officials had not been paid their salaries for several months in an effort to raise the money to pay interest due, but expressed a belief and earnest hope that all interest payments, with all arrears, would be paid by the end of this year.

AIRMAIL PLANE IS PILOTED SUCCESSFULLY ON FIRST NIGHT FLIGHT

CHICAGO, July 2.—The eastbound transcontinental airmail plane completed its first test night flying today and landed here at 7:14 o'clock this morning. It was piloted by William G. Hodson. The machine took off again for the east at 7:36 a. m., standard time, with W. D. Williams at the helm. Another plane piloted by Arch Smith accompanied Williams.

Hodson reported that he had no difficulty in flying under the guidance of the beacon light markers and said he made one short forced landing under the light of the beacon. He arrived here five minutes ahead of his schedule.

DAVENPORT AND JONES AGAIN MEET AND COMPARE VOTES

Judge Davenport and Judge Jones, rival candidates for judge of the 91st district court, spoke in the interest of their candidacies at Platwoods, 4 miles south of Eastland, Tuesday night. An audience estimated 250 people was present to hear them. The Ku Klux Klan was the principal issue discussed and seemed to be the one in which the audience was the most interested.

Other candidates who were at Platwoods and made their announcements were C. S. Jamison for sheriff, Judge W. H. Sewell for judge of the 88th district court, and Tom J. Cunningham for judge of the county court at law.

Judge Davenport speaks tonight at Bedford, about 4 miles northwest of Eastland. Judge Jones is invited to meet him in a joint discussion of the issue.

CHINESE CABINET RESIGNS.

LONDON, July 2.—The Chinese cabinet resigned today, advices from Peking, capital of China, said this morning.

GASTON MEANS FACES SENTENCE OF TWO YEARS

Former Department of Justice Agent Found Guilty of Dry Law Violation.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Gaston B. Means, formerly an agent of the federal bureau of investigation, no longer can boast, as he did before the Daugherty investigating committee at Washington, to "have been indicted for everything from murder down, but they never convicted me."

Means today faced a sentence of two years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. So did his aide, Elmer Jarnecke, with whom Means was found guilty of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

The two men were to be sentenced by Judge Wolvortin in the federal court, either today or tomorrow.

American Flag Torn Down From Embassy Found and Returned

TOKIO, July 2.—Two men involved in the incident of Monday, when a flag was torn down and stolen from the embassy, have been arrested and have confessed, but the man who actually stole the flag is still at large. The flag has been recovered, however, and will be returned to the embassy by the Japanese authorities.

Information given in the confession of the two men, one of whom is Ryuki Hamada, prominent member of an anti-bolshevik society, led to the recovery of the flag.

UNIDENTIFIED JAPANESE STEALS AMERICAN FLAG

LONDON, July 2.—The Japanese embassy today furnished an official version of the incident at Tokio, when the American flag was lowered and stolen. An unidentified Japanese went to the embassy that was destroyed by the earthquake when the flag pole was left standing and the flag was waving. He lowered the flag and, pursued by police, made good his escape.

JAPANESE STATESMAN DIES.

TOKIO, July 2.—Count M. Matsukata, one of the only two survivors of the so-called elder statesmen who for years dictated the policies of Japan, died today. He was born in 1835 and had a long and distinguished career, holding many political posts, including that of premier.

Bryan Arouses New York's Ire When He Talks 'Dry' McAdoo

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 2.—William Jennings Bryan stirred the democratic national convention into turmoil this afternoon when he took the platform and, after naming a list of seven men he regarded fit for the presidential nomination, wound up with a strong endorsement of William G. McAdoo. He was in old-time fighting form. He characterized McAdoo as a progressive, as a man who had made it possible for the convention to be progressive. He had not mentioned Al Smith up to that time, but a reference made by him to McAdoo's clear honor record led some Smith delegates to think that he was taking a thrust at the New York governor.

California delegates leaped to their feet, cheering and waving flags, while Smith delegates rushed into the aisles in an angry mood. Shouts of anger and derision were hurled at the famous commoner.

"Get down, you haven't a friend in the world," was shouted. "Oil, oil, oil," came from other directions. A delegate shouting at the top of his lungs demanded that Bryan recognize him. "How can you stand there and endorse a man who accepted money from oil interests in the greatest scandal that has been exposed?" he demanded.

Bryan pleaded for order. "I have made speeches for a long time," he declared, "but I do not make statements unless I am ready to answer questions."

Ed Moore, head of the Ohio delegation, jumped to his feet and yelled: "Go ahead, name who you think it should be. We know."

"Give me time to develop my subject in my own way," Bryan replied. "If you have any preference yourself, take your choice. I shall tell you why I am for the man who fits the occasion. Our candidate must be a man whose record on the liquor question is such that every mother who knows her home will be proud of it. He must be progressive, able and a leader. Such a man is William G. McAdoo."

McADOO WINS 2 VOTES FROM EMPIRE STATE

Couple of New York Delegates Break From Smith, But Lead No Deluge.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 2.—McAdoo forces had an opportunity this afternoon for a demonstration, when two votes in the New York delegation switched from Smith to McAdoo, this breaking the solid 90 votes of the empire state cast for Smith from the start. There was a parade of standards and several minutes of wild cheering, but the two votes raised McAdoo's total to only 448 and the chances of the Californian meeting success in the drive for the presidential nomination appeared growing less. Smith was riding steadily with little change, and polled 321 votes on the thirty-seventh ballot. The Smith and McAdoo deadlock is unchanged and pronounced bitterness is appearing as ballot after ballot show no material gain or loss.

Meanwhile there is much dark horse talk predominating in the delegations controlled by McAdoo and Smith. Senator Owen of Oklahoma for instance declared that any good dry western candidate having a chance for the nomination can have the vote of his delegation.

PLANE ENABLES AIRMAN TO WIN RACE AGAINST DEATH

Major Martin was stationed at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill. Informed late yesterday of his mother's dangerous illness, he started for Connorsville in an army plane and reached here a few hours before his mother died.

YEGGS LOSE MONEY.

FORT WORTH, July 2.—Yeggs who tried in vain to open a safe in the office of the National Biscuit company here, not only did not obtain any money but, instead, one of the burglars in his hasty exit, dropped $31 of his own money which was found by detectives.

HATS DAMAGED BY FIRE.

PORT ARTHUR.—Fire in a millinery shop here did $1,000 damage to 65 hats. Firemen believe the blaze was caused by someone leaving an electric iron turned on and going away and forgetting it.

COMMONER IS LATEST DARK HORSE NAMED

Many Old Wheel Horses Believe Him Best Democrat to Lead Party.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, July 2.—No national democratic convention would be complete without some delegate of the old school remarking, "Well, we may have to turn to Bryan again, after all." This being a typical still beratic convention, Bryan talk is to be heard in spots.

In the meantime both William Jennings Bryan and his brother, Charles Bryan, governor of Nebraska, are actively working on the floor of the convention, paying no heed to what some of the commoner's friends are saying, that the situation in the country is more favorable for Bryan today than at any time since 1896. At that time Bryan was 36 years of age, now he is 64.

The Bryan of today is a little thinner, a little balding and a little grayer than the last time he headed the democratic ticket in 1908, but he is still robust and full of fight. He denies that he is a candidate for the nomination, but there are a number of old wheel horses who still believe he is the best choice the party could make regardless of whom may be nominated.

In his work on the floor, Bryan has especially opposed John W. Davis. He has held up Robert M. LaFollette as more of a menace to the democratic party than the republicans. In many ways Bryan is turning to the progressives for democratic success. If Davis fails to get the necessary number of votes to give him the democratic presidential nomination, it is believed Bryan will be a big factor in his defeat. He does not believe that a man who represents corporations in the courts should be president.

"The president is the highest office in the gift of the people and should go to one who by words and deeds has shown himself both worthy and willing to champion the cause of the people," declared Bryan.

BIBL ETHOUGHT.
ASCRIBE YE GREATNESS
 unto our God. He is the Rock, his working is perfect; for all his ways are judgment; a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he.—Deuteronomy 32:3, 4.

WHERE IS THE HALL?
 The Oil Belt News announces that "Friends and those interested in the Oil Belt News are urged to attend a meeting at the hall on South Seaman street, Eastland, at 8:30, Friday evening." It is stated that matters of importance to the Oil Belt News are to be considered.

The Eastland Telegram and the Ranger Times would like to attend this meeting through properly accredited representatives, but are not informed how to find the "hall." The address is a little indefinite. These newspapers have occasionally given wise and good advice to the Oil Belt News and thus proved their friendship, but if not deemed qualified to enter as friends, then they might get in as "those interested."

WHY BLAME THE POLITICIANS?
 There never was a time when the politician was more unpopular or held in such low esteem as he is today, not only in the United States but throughout Europe. But while the politician may not be living up to the high responsibilities which rest upon him, in a great measure the crimes attributed to him are the crimes of the electorate. A well known congressman once frankly confessed that it cost him $80,000 to be elected, besides painting half of the schoolhouses and churches in his district, and he wondered if those who took his money were not the ones really responsible for his efforts to get some of it back. Every year or two we have contests and investigations involving the use of "hoodie," but the fact remains that the electorate itself was at least a party to the crime.

Discussing this phase of our democracy the Christian Science Monitor asserts "democracy is but a means to an end, and that end is the growth in understanding and character of the electors themselves, because democracy forces them to learn from their own mistakes. No country can have a government better than the people will elect, and progress, therefore, depends on improving not so much the politicians as the people."

The real way to get rid of the type of politician that now afflicts the world is not to abuse him with folded hands, but for good citizens to stand on sound programs and for the people themselves to show by their votes that they respect statesmanship and are willing to support it wherever it appears.

When a man becomes a candidate for public office every phase of his life becomes subjects of discussion. It has been discovered that General Daves is not the stern, strict, cold-blooded business man usually depicted, for he is not only a musician, but a composer. One of his best compositions was reproduced on the Victrola by Fritz Kreisler. It has also been discovered that his philanthropy has extended to many quietly arranged gifts to institutions, and that he is as human a man as can be found in an extensive search.

The town of Hibbing, Minn., 16,000 population, which 30 years ago had but a single teacher, this year put into use a $4,000,000 high school adequate for 3,000 high school and junior college students. The west continues to "blaze the way."

BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK PLUG—

BREAKFASTS FOR 14 DAYS ALL DIFFERENT

Helen Harrington Downing Tells How the Day May Be Begun Profitably.

Helen Harrington Downing, director of home economics for the Calumet Baking Powder Co., Chicago, Ill., outlines a breakfast menu for each day of two weeks, showing a great variety. In this connection she says: "More importance should be attached to variety in the breakfast menu; the wholesomeness of the foods chosen, as well as the manner of serving it. Too often breakfast is the most neglected of all meals. And because it is so easily and quickly prepared, many housewives get into the habit of serving toast and coffee every morning.

"A good breakfast means a good start for the day. The tempting sight and pleasing taste of the food stimulate the flow of the digestive juices, creating a healthy appetite, and a more perfect digestion.

"The two weeks' breakfast menus given here are well balanced, furnishing variety, and the dishes suggested are wholesome."

WORK SOON TO BEGIN ON CORPUS CHRISTI CHANNEL.
CORPUS CHRISTI—Following receipt of a notice from the chief engineers that local requirements on the Corpus Christi deep water project had been satisfactorily complied with, advertising of specifications for the first two sections of the government's portion of the port development will begin at once and bids on the work will be opened here July 28, according to B. E. Brown, United States district engineer.

The government is to dig a channel 25 feet deep and 150 feet wide from here to Port Aransas across Corpus Christi bay. Estimated cost of the project is $1,180,000.

FISH HAD FULL STOMACH.
SARANAC LAKE N.M.—There was recently caught in the rapids at the outlet of Meacham lake a trout that carried in its stomach a hook with double gut, small section of line and four shot-sinkers. Guides who viewed the trout, which was of good size, are at loss to understand how the fish lived with such a collection in its stomach. Despite the load it carried, the trout seemed in perfect condition and put up a vigorous battle in the swift waters of the rapids before coming to the landing net.

PETTING PARTIES DENOUNCED.
BRECKENRIDGE.—The Stephens county grand jury in its report here declared that a serious menace to the morals and welfare of the community exists in numerous petting parties to be found on roads and highways in the county.

JAPANESE DIES PROTESTING AGAINST EXCLUSION ACT
TOKIO, June 27.—T. Saijo, prominent Japanese and well known in the American continent, has committed hari kari at his home on the island of Formosa to express his indignation over the passage of the exclusion act by the American government, according to word received here. He left a will in which was set forth his feeling to "blaze the way."

BOYS' GLEE CLUBS GREAT FACTOR IN DEVELOPING GOOD CITIZENS

Potential gangsters are to be made useful citizens as one of the by-products of the newly organized Associated Glee Clubs of America. One of its objects is that the young boys in the public schools shall be taught to read music, thus supplying raw material for more and more glee clubs. This raw material is to be formed into junior glee clubs each fostered by an adult male chorus. One of the underlying motives of the new movement springs from the belief of its sponsors that the young men and boys of the country need the refining and ennobling influences which go with the fellowship and work of glee clubs. They expect that the association of the young singers with their elder brothers will reclaim many a lad who, at that crucial period in his life, might otherwise have yielded to an unwholesome environment.

KEPT BY CHILDREN.

CARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—A hobo touring the northern Adirondacks has been able to live on the fat of the land, owing to his unique method of begging provisions. The man carried a limited camping outfit on a small express wagon. Setting up his tent on the outskirts of the village he chose for his night's rest, he would immediately establish friendly relations with the children of the neighborhood by telling them stories and performing a few simple tricks. He would then send the youngsters to their homes with the request that the parents loan the man camping out a little tea, meat and other foodstuffs, which, when assembled, made up an excellent meal. He usually got what he asked for. With the first light of dawn he would be on his way to another camp ground.

SCRAPPERS ARE READY FOR BOUTS ON EVE OF INDEPENDENCE DAY

The principals of the scrap tomorrow night at the Liberty theatre declare today that they are in tip-top shape and "Shorty" Houghton, of Ranger, who dealt such misery to the J. George Loos show scrappers, said that he expects to put his man away before the end of the bout. Houghton is in tip-top shape and guarantees that he will be on his feet at the end of the 10th round.

"Doc" Curry, who is scheduled to go eight rounds with Grady Ross of Denton is not saying much but from the way he is making his sparring partners around the outcome of the bout is not doubtful. Ross is coming here with a string of fights to his credit and the reputation of being fast and shifty on his feet. "Doc" was the welterweight champion of Paris Island at Hampton Rhodes during his stay in the navy and has not lost his old time punch and speed.

"Pug" Sealy, who will start the fireworks with McCleskey of Eastland, says that he will drop his man for the count before the final round. McCleskey is a fast man and he and Sealy fought a six-round draw last July. Reports from the Eastland camp are that McCleskey and Woods are in shape to start tonight and are confident that they will put the Ranger men down for the count.

EASTLAND COUNTY CROPS MUCH IN NEED OF RAIN

Truck men of Eastland county, whose crops to date are doing well, say that unless rain is had within a very short while, the crop will be cut short.

Joe Niver, living in the Pleasant Grove community, states that he had a splendid crop of melons and other truck in the making, but that they are beginning to need rain.

Reports from other parts of the county are that the melon crop will be rather short unless it rains soon.

Truck growers also say that there is not the demand for truck so far this season as heretofore.

HOW DESERT VEGETATION FASHIONS ITS PROTECTION.

NEW YORK.—The common creosote or greasewood, which grows a bush from four to ten feet above the ground, has roots that go down in the sand some twenty or thirty feet and spread out in every direction. These roots have a bark that is very thick, pulpy, and water-holding. These are the reservoirs that gather and store water in the wet season and feed it out slowly to the plant above ground in the dry season. The leaves are thin and small, they have a way of hanging edge-wise to the sun to prevent evaporation, and they are shellacked or varnished so that not a drop of moisture can escape through them.

How To Make Old Mid-Victorian Houses Artistic and More Valuable

Copyright, 1924 The Barrett Company New York City

"As a house-builder, grandfather was a first-class wedding cake baker." In this way a famous New York architect summed up his opinion of America's mid-Victorian houses. But many a true word is spoken in jest. When all is said and done, those old-fashioned, oval-crowned mansions do resemble wedding cake highly ornamented with odd forms of frosting. And the one is as unappetizing to the eye as the other is indigestible.

But the houses of that type and day were built of excellent materials and they lend themselves readily to marked improvement in the hands of the remodeler. The already roomy interiors require little alteration, but remarkable results are to be obtained by reworking the exteriors.

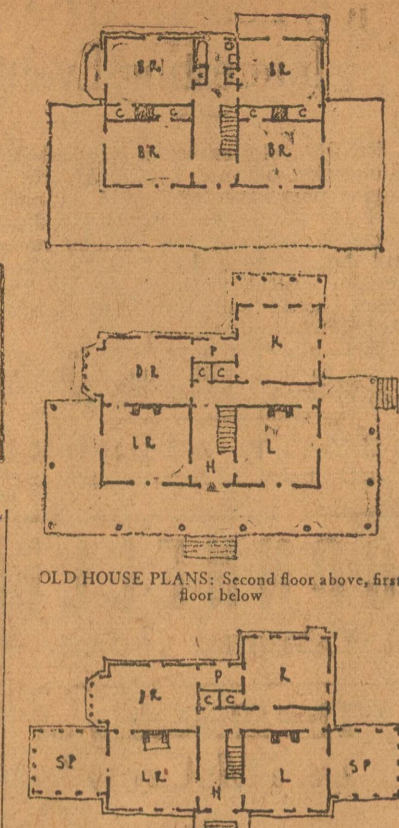

Such a "wedding cake" house is shown in the smaller illustration of this article.

As shown in the larger illustration the owner was able to accomplish wonders by remodeling at comparatively little expense. The ridiculous cupola and the ungainly roof have been done away with. A pitched roof with wide eaves has taken their place. A glazed sun porch has been added at each end, greatly improving the proportions of the house. Over the entrance door is an attractive shingled hood supported by brackets. Front and end walls are now stucco. Sensible shutters on either side of the windows complete the artistic effect. The "wedding cake" has been transformed into a home that anyone might be proud to live in—and has greatly increased in value.

There are still thousands of unimproved old houses surviving in all their pristine ugliness—surviving because these old-time houses were built with old-time care and stability. Beams were cut thicker, foundations were sunk deeper, two nails were driven instead of one. As a result these old houses have suffered little from the hands of time. Every one of them is well worth improving.

Of course the changes described above are one of the several ways of bringing such dwellings architecturally up-to-date. A little book was recently brought to our attention which will give you many sugges-

ENGLAND'S HOUSING PLAN TO AID WORKING PEOPLE

John Wheatley, a Glasgow coal miner, brought up in a company of 11 people in a two-room mining cottage, and as a child compelled to work in the mines, is today minister of health in the British parliament at a salary of $1,000 a year.

For several months he has been developing a building plan which, in his belief, will prevent any family of the future from being raised under the miserable conditions which he still remembers so well. To this scheme he has secured the approval of the British treasurer and chancellor, most of the members of parliament, and the support of the liberal party.

The plan contemplates the building of 2,500,000 comfortable homes during the next 15 years, which will house over 10,000,000 of working people. These homes are to be owned by the municipalities, and not to be sold. The rents are to be within the earning capacity of the tenants, to which the government is to make a contribution of not less than $45 each year, and the municipalities about $22. The scheme is to be financed by municipal loans each year as needed, and heavy penalties will be imposed on profiteers in building materials.

Incidentally it will provide continuous employment for an army of idle men now being supported by the government. Mr. Wheatley expects the scheme to become a law this year. It will cost about $50,000,000 a year for 40 years, but it is considered a good investment.

TEXAS Is Particular Every day finds more families in Texas enjoying perfectly baked pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, etc., because the housewives are particular about the baking powder they use, and they always insist upon having CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER. There isn't an ingredient used in baking that is as vital to success as baking powder. Remember, one spoonful of an inferior leavener can ruin a dollar's worth of other ingredients. You save when you buy Calumet because the pound can contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. You save when you use it because it goes farther than many other brands—lasts longer—makes more and better bakings. Don't risk ruining your bakings all because of a change of baking powder. Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Texas Lady Says Her Family Has Been Taking Theford's Black-Draught, When Needed, for Many Years.

Alto, Texas.—"We inherited the use of Black-Draught in our family," says Mrs. Mary Shuptrine, who lives near here on R. F. D. 2. "My grandmother was an old woman when she died about ten years ago, and she had been using it literally ever since I can remember. She gave it to her children and grandchildren for biliousness and stomach complaints, so when I went to housekeeping we just naturally used it, too.

"I give it to my children for a purgative whenever they need one, and we are never without it. Made into tea, it surely is fine. It's the best home remedy for headache and constipation I know of."

During over 80 years of its continued popularity, Black-Draught has become the standard liver medicine in many thousands of homes, where it has been found of great benefit in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, indigestion and other common liver, stomach and bowel complaints. Ten million packages of Black-Draught are now sold a year, as more and more people are learning of the value of this well-known remedy. Insist on Theford's, the only genuine Black-Draught powdered liver medicine. At all dealers. NC-154

TALE OF TWO FIGHTING CREWS FROM THE WEST

Wisconsin and Washington Eights Make Splendid Showing on Hudson River.

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, July 2.—The splendid showing of Wisconsin's varsity crew in the 27th annual intercollegiate regatta, when the Cardinal sweep-swingers took second place, leads to hope that "Dad" Vail will be back next year with three boats, senior and junior varsity and freshman.

That is the veteran Wisconsin coach's ambition, and there was a time, shortly before the Poughkeepsie race, when he thought he saw the prospects go glimmering. Talking to a United Press correspondent a day or so before the race, "Dad" was pessimistic. He didn't believe his boys were going to finish much better than last, it seemed.

Then something happened over in the boat house which Washington, winner of the big race, shared with the Wisconsin crew. "Rusty" Callow, coach of the Washington eight, was of the opinion that the Cardinal oarsmen were rating themselves too modestly.

"You can row; you can beat these easterners," he told the Wisconsin outfit. "Get out there and do it; I'm ashamed of you."

These words from the Washington mentor aroused the Cardinal crew to great deeds, and they were at the top of their form on regatta day, and showed the way to Cornell,

Signs You Can Believe In

If your breath is bad and you have spells of swimming in the head, poor appetite, constipation and a general no-account feeling, it is a sign your liver is torpid. The one really dependable remedy for all disorders in the liver, stomach and bowels is Herbine. It acts powerfully on the liver, strengthens digestion, purifies the bowels and restores a fine feeling of energy, vim and cheerfulness. Price 60c. Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Columbia in the big race at twilight. "Dad" Vail did wonders this year with what little material he had at hand, and said afterwards he was pleased with the great showing of his crew and hoped it would do two things: stimulate more men to come out for rowing at Wisconsin, and made it advisable for three crews to come east for the regatta in 1925. The day was certainly a triumphant one for western rowing men, methods and mentors. Washington's superiority over the highly-rated Pennsylvania crew was strikingly demonstrated. Both Cornell and Wisconsin beat the tiring Red and Blue boat to the finish, but none of them were within striking distance of the Washington shell. Young Grant, cox and captain of the far western aggregation got his eight into the lead shortly after they broke from the mark, two miles above the spider-web railroad trestle. Then Washington had nothing to do but hold the lead. For a time, Grant devoted his attention to the crews of Penn and Cornell, which were pressing him. After they came under the bridge, however, he could see out of his left eye the nose of the Wisconsin shell creeping up. Turning the little Washington cox studied the oncoming Cardinal sweeps and then suddenly beat more rapidly on his sounding board and sent his crew into a spurt. The Washington boat drew rapidly away, crossing the finish a length and a half to the good with plenty of power to spare. The first thing Wisconsin did after crossing the line was to turn and wave to their victorious rivals in the Washington boat, as much as to say: "Well, boys, we did it. We could not beat you, but we trimmed the rest of them."

OLDEN PLAYS AT THURBER FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

THURBER, July 2.—Olden will play the locals here Friday and Saturday. These dates are open dates in the Oil Belt league schedule and these contests will be exhibition games. They promise to be extra good games as both teams are very evenly matched and occupy practically the same positions in the Oil Belt league, Olden having won only one more game than Thurber.

A large crowd is expected here at these games, as Olden and Thurber are hot rivals for a high place in the Oil Belt league. The next schedule game here of the Oil Belt league will be with Ranger next Sunday.

Asa G. Candler, Atlanta, Ga., multi-millionaire manufacturer of coca cola, has filed suit there for a divorce from his bride of less than a year, charging cruel treatment and humiliating conduct. He married Mrs. May Little Itagin, a public stenographer, after breaking his engagement to a New Orleans society leader and winning a suit for $500,000 for breach of promise which she brought. Rev. Dr. Percy Sikesney Grant, nationally known for his modernist interpretations of the Bible, has resigned from the pastorate of the Church of the Ascension, in New York City. His engagement to Mrs. Philip Lydig was recently broken because Bishop Manning refused to permit the wedding on the ground that Mrs. Lydig had been divorced from both Lydig and from W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire sportsman. There is an unconfirmed rumor the wedding will now take place.

PROMINENT FIGURES IN DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

THOMAS J. WALSH & HOMER S. CUMMINGS

United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, was nominated by the Democratic National Committee to be permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention in New York City, and Homer S. Cummings, of Connecticut, was selected to be head of the committee on resolutions, in which capacity he would frame the tentative party platform.

Do You Remember the Days When Cars Like This Were to be Seen Everywhere?

A product of the factories of the Maxwell Motor Corporation of twenty years ago.

By WALTER P. CHRYSLER, President and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Maxwell and Chrysler Motor Corporations.

IMAGINE stepping into a "happy" model like the one pictured above and sailing down Fifth Avenue, New York. Immediately all records for traffic congestion would be broken. And yet there was a time and not so many years ago either when this car represented the best in motor car construction and design. It does a manufacturer's good to look at a picture like this now and then because it recalls rather vividly the progress that the automotive industry has made. Back in November, 1895, the New York Times offered prizes totaling $5,000 to the winning automobiles in a 100-mile road race. Thirty cars entered, but only six actually started. One car failed to make provision for six changes of batteries and had to drop out. Another "wound a chain around its stanchion" and had to quit. Still another disabled its port engine and withdrew.

Finally but one car was left. And that car began to melt away. The engine was packed with ice and after much difficulty the 100 miles were covered. But so much time was consumed that the judges decided there was no contest and went home. So when the winning car finished there was no one present to witness it. Today there are more than 15,000,000 motor vehicles in use. Few industries can point to such rapid progress.

When the Democratic Convention Last Met in New York

ALMOST fifty-six years have passed since the Democratic Convention last met in New York.

In 1868, when Horatio Seymour, "war governor" of New York, was nominated to battle with General Grant, the outstanding figures of the convention were the "Big Four"—Bill ("Boss") Tweed made his name mean something—and his assistants were Mayor A. Oakey Hall, Peter B. ("Brains") Sweeney and Richard B. ("Slippery Dick") Connolly. August Belmont was one of the most liberal Wall Street angels of the party treasury.

The swellest delegates stayed at the Astor House—where is it now?—and there were also the Metropolitan, the Brandreth and the Prescott House—all gone and forgotten. There were no cabs or street cars—there were only buses, victorias and old-fashioned legs. Yes—it was as far back as that! The thought has stirred up a flood of "I remember when" from the old folks and "What was it like?" from the young ones. These United States of those days would seem very—let us say "strange" to us now. And yet many of the strange things would seem strangely familiar. And New York, then as now, expressed, colorfully and noisily, something of the spirit of the country.

New York is now celebrating the three hundredth anniversary of its founding by the Wallons—and yet New York is one of the newest cities in the country. It is always new. Pass through the most famous streets and see the honored landmarks almost melt away under your eyes to give way to new landmarks.

How many remember and what is left of the New York of 1868? Why do those who have outlived the years sigh when they recall it—and why do those who know it only from faded old photographs laugh? What was old New York like, on that July 4, 1868, when August Belmont, as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, called the Convention to order in the noble auditorium of Tammany Hall?

And why has that period come to be known as "the age of bad manners"? High-browed historians and sociologists could find many likenesses between these United States in 1868 and now. It was then, too, a few years after a great war, and we were in the throes of readjustment. They were still talking about the war; there were many new-rich trying to break into "society"; there were the beginning of "imported morals" and of warnings against them; there were political scandals. True, there is not now anybody to take

THOMAS BEER Whose New Novel "Sandoval," Gives Brilliant Picture of the Period.

Where the striking Heckscher Building now stands there were small shops, with a brook a few squares away. Broadway was a five miles long and went all the way up to Central Park and the real "Gay White Way" was between Union Square and Twenty-third street.

Fashion reigned on Second Avenue between Seventh and Fifteenth streets (it is fashionable for social workers only, now) and St. Mark's Place was the center of the social whirl. Society displayed itself at first nights at Wallack's Theatre, wearing gowns whispered to be worth $300. Oh, give a party, she would ask the sexton of her church to furnish a list of suitable names.

Ah, alas, there were over 2,500 gambling houses in New York then! They were called "gambling hells"—even Ward McAllister called them that, according to Mary Almy, the "deb" in Sandoval. To Giving luncheons to newspaper reporters was, however, considered "dreadfully fast," by Miss Ahny, although this estimable girl dared to rebel against her mother by insisting that "if actresses can have legs, so can I!"

The period is viewed through the eyes of Thorold Gair, a boy of seventeen, in "Sandoval." His father made a fortune out of cotton during the war, built a "commodious and elegant mansion" in the fashionable suburb of Dobbs Ferry and tried to open the doors of the "four hundred" with his golden key. Into the scene from the South comes Sandoval, a fascinating scoundrel, who, after violating all the ethics of a gentleman, brings to a disastrous end this "Romance of Bad Manners."

The opening night of Daly's play, "Man and Wife" and a picture of Ward McAllister in the process of "leading society"! "Mr. McAllister walked up the aisle and let seven eager ladies hold his right glove, on the left side. Then he walked down the aisle and gave three more bright women the same pleasure." But, as Thor's brother said, "This is a pretty sick city when the only man in it that has sand enough to not shake hands with Boss Tweed is a Southerner that ain't got any money. McAllister's brave enough to do that, and I've seen pesholders come clear across Wall Street to talk to that damn hog. Oh, they'll have meetings in a club and talk about what decent citizens ought to do to Tweed, but they won't do a thing themselves. Tweed must laugh his jaw sore!"

"The war's changed society," says a Southern officer in the book. "I truly think that people are much more free and easy than they were. The girls drink champagne just like anything. Some people are awful shocked." Well, they are still shocked—or is it again shocked? The flappers of those days are now great-grandmothers of the flappers of these days. There has been somebody to be shocked all the time since then.

Gone are the days of "Rupert's Hotel," and the "Salle Diabolique" on Broadway, and the restaurant on Water Street with the sign "Gents Will Please Keep on Their Shirts While Eating." Even Madison Square Garden itself will go soon after the Convention. Perhaps in 1950, when the Democratic Convention is again being held in New York City, there will be published a bright novel of Little Old New York in the good old days of 1924, written by a young man born in Council Bluffs in 1945—and people will chuckle at it—and us.

COFFEE POPULAR AMONG CONVENTION DELEGATES

NEW YORK, June 27.—Five tons of coffee, enough to make 360,000 cups, are being drunk by the delegates alternates and visitors attending the democratic national convention here this week. Whether the tremendous stock of the beverage will be exhausted by the thousands who flock to Madison Square Garden depends largely upon the duration of the convention.

The concessionaires have laid in their edibles on the basis of a deadlock in choosing the presidential candidate that will hold the delegates in this city two weeks. On that mode of reasoning, they have also laid in 50 barrels of lobsters and enough "hot dogs" to supply 32,000 every day. Coffee, "hot dogs" and sea food are chiefly in demand at the numerous counters which have been placed in convenient places in the garden.

According to the holders of the eating concessions, the middle west delegates are calling largely for sea-food—lobsters and clams—while the unanimous choice of all beverage seems to be coffee, with iced coffee, because of the weather, proving exceedingly popular.

SHEEP AND GOAT RAISERS BUILDING FOR FUTURE

SAN ANGELO, June 27.—The Sheep and Goat Raisers' association of Texas, concluding its ninth annual convention here Thursday afternoon, chose T. A. Kincaid of Ozono president, W. O. Shultz, Paint Rock, and Robert Real, Kerrville, vice presidents, and selected Brady over De Rio for the next meeting place.

Establishment of woolen mills in wool producing areas, extension of the Orient railroad, passage of the truth in fabric bill, stamping out of livestock diseases especially sore-mouth among sheep, reduced minimum car lot capacity in sheep and goat shipment, and lower freight rates generally, co-operative wool and mohair marketing, and fire-branding animals were urged in resolutions.

Although he is not a raiser of either sheep or goats, B. Youngblood of the Texas experiment station, wore a genuine wool and mohair suit when he attended the goat raisers' association meeting here. The material was woven from virgin Texas wool and then made into a suit for Youngblood, who expressed the hope that all delegates to the convention next year would wear similar clothes.

FASHION PRESCRIBES A SCARF A DAY

THERE is nothing more monotonous about the vogue of the scarf, because it is as infinite in its variety as its feminine wearer. A scarf a day is prescribed by Fashion, and we may be gay Monday, pensive Tuesday, demure Wednesday, and so on around the week.

This scarf and hat set sketched in Paris by Cheney is evidently worn on a dignified day. It attains a very rich effect with the "ton sur ton" brown printed crepe scarf trimmed with narrow bands of coral pink crepe worked in squares. The same trimming is used on the brown bangkok hat.

POLICEMAN ACHIEVES FINE RECORD AS LIFE SAVER

By United Press.
PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Patrolman Herbert Gardner of the Southside police station has achieved quite a record as a lifesaver.
Gardner's beat takes him to the swimming pools, and police records show he has jumped in the water 74 times, clothes and all, and each time saved a youngster from drowning.
Called the "Guardian Angel of the Southside Boys," Gardner is very modest and only the fact that his latest work in saving a man from strangling to death was witnessed by newspaper men, possibly prevented his deeds from remaining unknown.
Gardner could retire on a pension, but he says he wouldn't do it now, because the swimming pools have just opened and the boys will feel safer with him around.
