BANDIT GANG STEALS MILLION OR MORE

NOMINATED BUT ELECTION ONLY ANOTHER STORY

Coolidge Probably Has Ahead of Him Hardest Part of His Presidential Campaign.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Lack of interest in the republican convention in Cleveland is considered likely to characterize the whole campaign for President Coolidge, in the opinion of veteran Washington newspaper correspondents. They believe that the republican organization will have difficulty in rousing anything approaching enthusiasm among the voters following the selection of a presidential candidate who is already known as the inevitable nominee.

There is seen a further handicap in the plan to keep President Coolidge in Washington while the democratic candidate is making a campaign among the people. The republican leaders recognize that President Coolidge is deficient in personality and magnetism of the sort that is needed most in this year's contest for the presidency. There is a realization that whether Mr. Coolidge stays in the white house or goes upon the hustings he will have little appeal to the rank and file of American men and women.

To People By Radio.

It is taken for granted that the president will deliver a few public addresses in the course of the campaign and that he will be heard on the radio occasionally, but this speechmaking, it is believed, will not meet the exigencies of this year's campaign. It is not likely that Mr. Coolidge will penetrate the west, where republican fortunes are at their worst, or that his voice on the radio will be a satisfactory substitute for a personal appearance before large numbers of voters.

All the means of reaching the people to which President Coolidge will have access will be at the disposal of the democratic candidate also. In addition, the democratic candidate will be free to visit every section of the country and present himself to the voters. For him the press and the radio will be auxiliaries to the speeches made directly to thousands who can see as well as hear him.

Few members of President Coolidge's campaign will be useful as republican orators in this campaign. They nearly all suffer from disadvantages that probably will prevent their employment as heavy artillery. Secretary Davis of the department of labor is among the exceptions to this rule of unavailability.

Mellon No Orator.

Secretary Mellon can't make speeches, and if he could he would hardly be popular outside of his own state. Everywhere he went he would remind the voters of the tax plan he fathered and the propaganda that was intended to further it.

Secretary Hughes essayed one keynote speech in New York a few weeks ago, but the results were not happy. Since then he has been snubbed by his republican associates both on Japanese exclusion and the world court. Secretary Wallace, in view of his contact with farmers and agricultural organizations, ought to have been an asset to the president but his administration of the department of agriculture has been under attack for the last year and he no longer has the confidence of the west.

Secretary Weeks formerly was one of the owners of the Albuquerque Journal, in which former Secretary of the Interior Fall was a stockholder, and only last fall was denounced by Henry Ford. In any event he would have been of little value in the middle west and northwest.

Hoover Recalls Sugar.

Secretary Hoover may be drafted in certain localities, but he would be open to criticism by reason of his responsibility for the increase in the price of sugar last year, and for his connection with the attempt to curtail the Cuban sugar crop.

Secretaries Stone and Wilbur have been in the cabinet only a short time and are little known to the general public. One succeeded Daugherty and the other succeeded Denby. Their attempts to glorify the president would always recall the scandals with which their predecessors were identified and the fight that the president made to retain them in his cabinet. The name of Secretary Work suggests Fall, whom he replaced, and reminds the public of the removal of Arthur Powell Davis from the reclamation service and the substitution of an Idaho politician in this important post.

Harry S. New, postmaster general, is able to make good speeches if he has his heart in the work, but he is not regarded as particularly fond of President Coolidge or as much liked by the latter. He may volunteer unless Senator Watson is named vice president. In that case he doubtless would not speak much or often or eloquently for the ticket.

THE WEATHER.

West Texas—Tonight and Saturday generally fair; continued warm weather.

Ranger Elks Plan Open-Air Flag Day Services Sunday

Flag day services of the Elks lodge of Ranger will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the vacant lot next to the fire station on Elm street.

The services will be held under the auspices of the Breckenridge, Cisco, Eastland and Ranger lodges. The Elks are the only fraternal organization in the world who have set aside a day for services honoring the American flag. June 14 is the day that is observed all over the world wherever there is an Elks lodge. Sunday, June 15, has been decided upon by the Oil Belt organization because so many of the members are unable to be present Saturday afternoon.

The Gorman 85-piece band will give a musical concert starting at 3:30 after which the history of the flag will be given by Joe Fry.

A large attendance is expected as word has been received from Breckenridge, Cisco and Eastland that approximately 500 people will come from each of the aforesaid places.

Good-Looking Well Looms Up Northwest Of Ranger, 3 Miles

Corzelius Bros., located on the Dan Waggoner farm, 3 1/2 miles northwest of Ranger, have what looks like a remarkably good well according to reports received from authoritative sources. There was very little gas, with about 160 feet of fluid in the hole.

Top of the pay was struck at 3,332 feet and are now shut down waiting on a supply of six-inch casing. The well will be drilled in about Monday. The well is located about 1-4 mile from the Standard Oil company well located on the New Hope church lot which has been flowing for the last four years.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

CLEVELAND, June 13.—Torn by long hours of sleepless study over one of the most amazing political situations that has ever featured a republican national convention, members of the republican national executive committee met today to organize for the forthcoming campaign. All of the worry and some of the bitterness that repeatedly flared up through the party leaders yesterday in seeking to nominate a strong running mate for Coolidge bristled militantly today, as the new committeemen and women assembled to make William M. Butler their chairman for the campaign.

Of course, there was nothing to do but elect Butler to lead the battle. It was the president's wish and there are none to deny him, but it is perhaps unfortunate that the Coolidge-Dawes ticket goes to the post's greatest quadrantal sweepstakes with the jockey sharply at odds with the trainers and most of those conducting the race.

MILLIONAIRE MURDERERS PLANNING INSANITY DEFENSE

CHICAGO, June 13.—First definite steps towards establishing an insanity defense for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb were taken today. Clarence Darrow, chief defense counsel, made a move by taking Karl M. Bowman, chief medical officer of the Boston hospital, to the county jail to observe the boys. Bowman is the first of a number of specialists called to observe the two millionaire youths who were on trial August 4, for killing 14-year-old Robert Frank.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Mrs. John Steel, floor clerk on the 13th floor of the Waldorf Astoria hotel was born on the 13th, married on the 13th, was employed at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel 13 years ago and has been on the 13th floor ever since. She opened a new savings account and her bank book was No. 1313, and there are 13 letters in her name.

STEADY NERVES AND SWIFT THOUGHT SAVES TWO LIVES

PORT ARTHUR, June 13.—Pink Logan and W. L. Craig looked in the muzzles of each other's pistols in Craig's garage long after midnight. Both were searching for a supposed prowler and had been attracted to the garage by the constant honking of Craig's auto horn which had become short-circuited. Neither knew the other was about until they looked down the business end of the guns. There was a tense moment before recognition. Then a mighty sign of relief from both.

EXPLOSION ON BATTLESHIP IS FATAL TO MANY

Forty-Eight Officers and Men Killed in U. S. S. Mississippi During Gun Practice.

SAN PEDRO, Calif., June 13.—Riding calmly at anchor, the U. S. S. Mississippi today rested in her usual position in battleship row, giving little evidence of the tragedy aboard her which a few hours before had instantly killed 48 officers and men.

Close by stood the hospital ship, Relief, turned into a morgue to receive the bodies comprising the toll of the navy's peace-time horror, and to treat the burns of suffering men, many of whom prayed for death to end their agony.

Ensign McCray of the U. S. S. New Mexico, and observer; Ensign Erwin and Lieutenant Zellars of the Mississippi are the officers killed.

The explosion, which occurred yesterday afternoon, was caused by a flame-back from one of the 14-inch rifles in the turret, which ignited four powder bags containing 450 pounds of explosives. The entire crew of the turret room was virtually wiped out of existence, and several men were killed in the upper handling room. Several sailors in the passage ways were also horribly burned.

The 14-inch rifle that ignited the turret powder supply was practicing extreme elevation firing at the moment of the explosion, the idea being to take advantage of the battleship's roll or list to the opposite for maximum altitude and efficiency of the gun.

WACO, June 13.—Lieutenant Commander Cleveland McCauley, who has been visiting relatives here was an officer on the battleship Mississippi where the gun explosion took 48 lives yesterday. McCauley was on leave of absence from the ship. He left today for Abilene.

Textbook Contracts Held To Be Valid And Enforceable

AUSTIN, June 13.—The supreme court, Thursday, overruled the motion for rehearing in the textbook cases, specifically holding that contracts made by the old textbook commission for the state are valid and enforceable.

A writ of mandamus was granted by the court at a former sitting directing State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs to carry out the book contracts with the American Book company and Charles Scribner's Sons, but the court did not at that time hold the contracts were valid. In the opinion denying the motion for a rehearing, the court holds the contracts are valid. The opinion was written by Associate Justice Pierson.

Unless Attorney General Keeling decides to institute action attacking the validity of the contracts, Superintendent Marrs must arrange for the purchase of the books from the two book companies. In the opinion of the court the board of education has exclusive authority to exercise discretion in the purchase and distribution of text books.

SCHOOL DISTRICT IS DIVIDED WHEN MERGER OF SCHOOLS FAIL

The board of county school trustees in their meeting held a few days ago, passed an order dividing school district No. 1, known as the Yellow Mound district, into three districts. In this district there were three schools, Yellow Mound, Pleasant Grove and Morton Valley. The board of trustees sought to consolidate the three schools, but being unable to do this divided the district.

The Yellow Mound school and the Pleasant Grove school are now working on plans to consolidate with other districts adjoining them.

Gaston Doumergue Elected President Of French Republic

VERSAILLES, France, June 13.—Gaston Doumergue, president of the senate, was elected president of France by the national congress here today.

The new president succeeds M. Millerand whose resignation was forced by left parties, following the recent parliamentary elections. Doumergue had the support of the bloc national (the Poincare coalition) as being the least radical of the communists put forward by the left.

Doumergue went into the assembly with the support of Millerand and the right faction as they did not put up candidates of their own. The new president is a lawyer from Nimes, southern France, and his ability is well known. He served as premier and foreign minister until June, 1924, when he resigned to make way for another administration. He dropped out of public gaze, then aligned himself with the left and did not accept a public office until he became president of the senate.

FERGUSON GETS NO RELIEF FROM SUPREME COURT

Impeachment of Former Governor Held Constitutional, Senate Judgment Final.

AUSTIN, June 13.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson cannot claim that his impeachment as governor of Texas by the Texas senate in 1917 was unconstitutional, neither are the impeachment proceedings of the legislature subject to review by the courts, it was held by a special supreme court of Texas in an opinion handed down at 7 o'clock Thursday.

So long as the senate judgment stands in the impeachment of former Governor Ferguson, he cannot hold public office, the special supreme court held.

This special court was composed of: Alex S. Coke of Dallas, special chief justice; Howard Templeton of San Antonio, special associate justice; William Pierson, associate justice, the latter being the only member of the supreme court not disqualified to sit in the case, which came up on certified questions from the first court of civil appeals at Galveston.

In its injunction proceedings in the Fifty-fifth district court at Houston, the state democratic executive committee was enjoined from printing Ferguson's name on the official ballot as a candidate for the governorship.

The supreme court held that the judgment of impeachment was not void because the fact that the written resignation of Ferguson "to take effect immediately" was filed in the secretary of state's department on Sept. 24, 1917, and the judgment entered the following day.

It was also held that it is immaterial that chapter 1, of title 98 of the statute defines disqualification to hold office.

After reviewing the judicial aspect of the case the opinion of the court says: "The acts of the senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, are not exempt from this judicial power, but so long as the senate acts within its constitutional jurisdiction, its decisions are final. As to impeachment, it is the court of original, exclusive and final jurisdiction."

MEXICAN ACTRESS HAS DIAMONDS SET IN TEETH

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 13.—Concha Bustamante, Mexican actress appearing here, has four diamonds set in her upper front teeth. The former husband who promised her a diamond for each child born to the couple, provided the stones would be set so they would be constant reminders of the significance of the gift. Four children were born and four stones now adorn the actress' teeth.

"HELL AN' MARIA" DAWES

Col. Charles G. Dawes, Former Director of the Budget, New Republican Candidate for Vice President, Is Human Dynamo.

Charles G. Dawes.

NOMINATION OF DAWES STRIKES POPULAR FANCY

Delegates Attracted by the "Pep" Said to Overflow From Him.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 13.—"We want to put some pep and 'hell an' Maria' into this campaign," yelled A. W. Jeffers of Omaha, as he placed General Charles G. Dawes in nomination for vice president yesterday afternoon, and today the delegates were still wandering about Cleveland after several hours of just that.

General Dawes was leaving Marietta, Ohio, for Chicago—the convention's choice for running mate with President Coolidge. A republican convention never before nominated two vice presidential candidates in a single day, but this one did. It is not often that a republican convention loses such control of itself that the managers are not able to guide it exactly in the path they would have it go, but this one lost all control. It had plenty of speed in the closing hour, but was winding up like a southpaw and throwing vice presidential candidates all over the lake front.

Coolidge and Dawes is the ticket. The brigadier general was nominated by a vote that became unanimous on the first ballot during the night session. It was the third vice presidential ballot of the convention.

DAWES' HOME FOLKS TURN OUT TO SHOUT FOR HIM

MARIETTA, Ohio, June 13.—Marietta today staged its second big demonstration within a week in honor of its first citizen, "Hell an' Maria" Dawes. A few days ago the town and Marietta college turned out to welcome Dawes back to the commencement exercises of his alma mater. Today he was hailed in the streets as the next vice president of the United States.

The vice presidential nominee received the news of his nomination in the old Dawes homestead here, built by his father, the late General R. R. Dawes. The parade which honored him today was headed by three bands, all home-town organizations, and forming downtown, it went directly to Dawes' home on Fourth street, shouting "Hell an' Maria," the cusword after which the general was dubbed early in his public life, until Dawes appeared on the front porch and joined the procession. The ovation given the general was in the nature of a college football rally. As it moved through the flag draped streets of this little college town each reveler seemed to be trying to outdo the others in paying tribute to Marietta's idol.

SMALL ARMY HOLDS UP FAST MAIL TRAIN

Twenty and More in Robber Band Which Gets Between $1,000,000—$2,500,000

CHICAGO, June 13.—Forty-two sacks of registered mail, containing cash and bonds estimated at between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, were seized last night at midnight by a band of 20 or 25 men, who held up the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train near Roundout, Ill., 30 miles north of Chicago.

Gas bombs were used by the bandits on two cars which the mail clerks refused to open. One of them was shot accidentally by a comrade, police said. The bandits worked more than an hour sorting out the mail.

After the robbery the bandits sped away in automobiles in the direction of Chicago. Hundreds of police and citizens armed with shotguns and other weapons are searching the country between Chicago and Milwaukee.

MAIL TRAIN ROBBERY THOUGHT AN INSIDE JOB

MILWAUKEE, June 13.—Nearly all of a crew of 70 mail clerks and others on the mail train which was robbed near Roundout were taken to the federal building for questioning when the train arrived today. Postal inspectors said that the whole affair looked like an inside job.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Hundreds of heavily armed police, detectives and sheriffs' deputies stared an old-fashioned man hunt throughout Illinois today in a search for the handful of robbers who held up the special mail train, 30 miles out of Chicago last night and escaped with registered mail containing currency and securities valued at between $1,000,000 and $2,500,000.

The robbery was made without firing of a single shot in defense of the mail by 70 mail clerks, guards and crews, so far as the police learned. One bandit was shot down by a fellow bandit who took him for a mail guard. Postal inspectors suspect the bandits had some help from the inside and questioned the clerks on arrival at St. Paul today. Gas bombs, revolvers, shotguns and rifles were used by the bandits to intimidate the clerks and guards and drive them from the barricaded cars.

AMYX AND CLAYTON GET IMMENSE GAS FLOW WEST OF EASTLAND

Amyx & Clayton, Eastland oil operators, struck a 12,000,000 cubic foot flow of gas in their Amos well one and one-half miles west of Eastland at a depth of 3,212 feet. It is spraying some oil.

This well is located near a gas line and should it not develop into an oil well it will be a big paying proposition as a gasser.

BOGUS TICKET SCANDAL AT HIGH SCHOOL DANCE

HOUSTON, June 13.—Investigation has been started into the "bogus ticket" scandal which resulted when at the annual Central high school senior dance, it was found that of 100 admission tickets, nearly 100 taken in were not genuine.

PURCHASE OF I-G. N. BY N. O. T. & M. IS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Acquisition by the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Railroad company of the control of the I-G. N. Railroad company by the purchase of its capital stock was conditionally approved and authorized by the interstate commerce commission today.

The consolidation was opposed by the state of Texas on the ground that it was a violation of the state constitution and state laws. The opponents of the merger also held it would unfairly favor the port of New Orleans and discriminate against Texas ports.

The commission gave its approval with the provision that if it was determined the merger was not in the public interest the New Orleans, Texas & Mexico railroad should dispose of it on 90 days notice.

FARMER IS FINED FOR FORCING BOYS TO WORK

AMARILLO, June 13.—Sidney Smyer, farmer, was fined $200 in federal court after pleading guilty to forcing four boys to work on his farm against their will. "Don't you know that slavery doesn't exist in Texas?" asked Judge James C. Wilson, as he assessed the fine.

HOW TO ESCAPE FROM EVIL:—Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.—Psalm 91:9-11.

Joe Niver, Jr., Nearly Bleeds to Death When He is Accidentally Cut

Joe Niver Jr., 18-year-old son of J. R. Niver, formerly of Eastland, but now residing on his farm in the Pleasant Grove community, met with a serious accident Wednesday. He had gone from Eastland to Kokomo to purchase and butcher a beef for an Eastland dealer. The steer had been tied to a tree. With his butchering knife in hand, Niver approached the tree to draw the rope tighter when the steer lunged against him and caused the sharp knife to strike his wrist and sever an artery. Some of the leaders in the wrist were cut.

Niver was rushed to a sanitarium at Gorman and given medical treatment, but had suffered greatly from the loss of blood before reaching the sanitarium.

When he realized what had happened to him, Niver remembered some of the instructions received in his high school training as to the treatment to be administered in such emergencies and corded his arm and thereby doubled saved his life, as the physicians stated that if he had lost any more blood it would have been fatal to him.

The rumors are to the effect that the premiums on the policies are very high, although bootleggers' profits make them well worth the money.

He had been ill for some time and had returned to his room at the club a week ago.

For the first time there will be two Bryans of consequence at a Democratic National Convention. When sessions begin at New York this month Nebraska supporters of Governor Charles W. Bryan, of that State will put his name in nomination for Presidential standard bearer, although he has asked them not to do it. William J. Bryan, who thrice was the Democratic Presidential nominee, will fight for a dry plank in the Democratic platform, as a member of the delegation from Florida, his adopted State.

JUDGE DAVENPORT DISCUSSES CAMPAIGN CHARGE AGAINST HIM; JUDGE JONES ADDS HIS BIT

Judge George L. Davenport, candidate for re-election to the office of judge of the Ninety-first judicial district, addressed his home folks last night. It was the first public address Judge Davenport has made in Ranger during the present campaign, and, in fact, the first political speech of moment in Ranger in the campaign that will culminate its hopes and ambitions in the democratic primaries to be held the latter part of July.

Following a brief resume of his life and professional activities, mostly in Eastland county, during which he had never sought or held office except a few years in the office of county attorney about 20 years ago, until he was appointed to preside over the Ninety-first district court at the time of its creation, following the mass of litigation that swamped Eastland county with the coming of the oil boom, Judge Davenport said that he had worked unceasingly since ascending the bench, had disposed of a great quantity of oil litigation, much of it presenting entirely new questions, and had tried thousands of cases, more probably than any other judge in Texas in the same space of time or twice that time, and that he had had fewer reversals by the appellate court than any district judge in Texas.

Referring to the claims of his political enemies, he said they were able to point to only one case that had come before him in which they claimed he had made a mistake. He had not thought then and he did not think now that he had made a mistake, but his political enemies claimed that he did.

Explains the Question.
Judge Davenport explained that a enport. He is a fluent speaker, but given a little too much to high-sounding phrases. He argued the contrary view of the "one mistake" Judge Davenport was charged with making, asserting that Judge Davenport had confessed to having made a mistake, and declaring that it was a mistake that had cost Eastland county taxpayers $4,500,000 which would not be paid for some 35 years to come.

Judge Jones declared in effect that Judge Davenport was responsible for what road building graft had gone on in Eastland county because he had refused to grant a hearing on the ouster proceedings against Judge Starnes and had not called on a grand jury to make an investigation; that he was responsible for the bank failures in Eastland county, which had made a record along this line in Texas, because he had not afterwards insisted upon the prosecution of the bank officials, and that he had held office too long and should step aside for a young and virulent man who wanted to make a record. He said he had served as a bootblack when a boy, had saved money and gone to law school, had returned to his home town of Gorman and served as city attorney, had served several years as a justice of the peace, and had served as judge of the county court-at-law for four years. He thought it was time he should be given a promotion. He was cheered at a number of periods and evidently had a number of good friends among his hearers.

Judge Davenport replied briefly, pointing out inconsistencies in the charges against him, and questioning the accuracy of his opponent's statement. He also pointed out that a judge is not a prosecuting attorney. He was given warm applause throughout his address and a hearty ovation at its close.

MINISTER GIVES FACTS IN CASE TO PUBLIC

Characteristic of his life-long efforts to help his fellow man, Rev. E. R. Bowden of Houston, minister of the gospel for the past forty-five years and one of the most universally esteemed churchmen in Texas, comes forward with his unqualified indorsement of Karnak.

"Karnak has been so remarkable in my case," says Dr. Bowden, "that I feel it a duty as well as a public service to make others acquainted with this new medicine. Two years ago my digestive system seemed to go all to pieces and my nerves and general health soon became a wreck. Nothing seemed to help me, and the past three months I was practically confined to my room.

"But Karnak now has me feeling my old self again. My digestion and nerves seem perfect, and I am in first class health in every way. I want to congratulate M. Andre on his wonderful new medicine, for it is a blessing to suffering humanity. Dr. Bowden's statement, coming as it does from a minister of the gospel, speaks of the singular purity of Karnak and the remarkable benefits it is accomplishing.
Karnak is sold in Ranger by the Rexall Drug Store and the Texas Drug Store.—Advertisement.

BLONDS HEAD LIFE INSURANCE POLICY HOLDERS

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Blue-eyed, fair haired people may be more adventurous and the first to go to war, as some authorities hold, but they are at the same time cautious and far sighted if the fact that they head the list of life insurance policy holders means anything.
An examination of 100 policies picked at random from the files of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance company of Philadelphia showed that far the greater number had blue eyes, brown or light brown hair, and fair complexions. Brunettes ranked second and a mixture of blonds and brunettes third.
Forty-six of the 100 Provident policies examined recorded blue eyes; 25, brown; 19, gray, and six hazel. Only one pair of eyes was listed as fighting Germans over there. Thereafter it was "Hell an' Maria" Dawes. He did not long remain a private citizen, however, for when President Harding was elected and congress created the budget system, Dawes was drafted to be director of the budget. The position was difficult, for congress, in creating the budget, did not put any teeth in the law which departments (or congress itself) might be bitten if they stepped outside the budget's bounds. But with President Harding at his back, Dawes commanded respect from all executive branches of the government and kept them within their scheduled expenditures. Under his stewardship, the finances grew healthily, the national debt was curtailed regularly and an anticipated deficit turned to a surplus. Dawes lent the color to the "business meetings" of the government when all executives of departments were called together for talks about the conduct of their business. On such occasions, "Hell an' Maria" used to lash them with his fiery language, wave brooms or strands of rope whose duplicated purchase he was deploring, and thus drive home his point, to the delight of the audience.

A year of it was enough, however. The first budget was on its way and the system seemed to be on a firm basis, and Dawes quit and went back to Chicago. Two years' privacy was permitted him and then the reparations commission dragged him out again and made him chairman of the committee of experts to examine into Germany's capacity to pay reparations and recommend methods of stabilizing Germany's currency. With Owen D. Young, New York industrial chief, and Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, Dawes sailed into the task with customary energy and impatience with the hampering conventions of red tape and European diplomacy. Three months' work produced the results and Europe faced a new financial era.

Returning to the United States Dawes found himself mentioned prominently as a vice presidential running mate with President Coolidge, who had already cinched enough delegates to make him the nominee. He called at the white house to dissolve the committee of Americans he headed, but when asked whether he would be vice president, he announced, with characteristic vigor, that he was not in politics and did not intend to be.

Dawes, though 59 this year, is wiry, youthful and the typical American "human dynamo."

AMERICANS IN PARIS
DRINK MUCH CHAMPAGNE
PARIS.—The world is now drinking as much French champagne as in pre-war days, but France is drinking the greater portion of it. Russia, Germany, Scandinavia and the United States rate below their old-time consumption, but Americans are still strong allies of France in this regard when they arrive here.

Figures produced by the French Wine Producers' association covering the last six months indicate that the consumption of champagne has equaled that of the corresponding period of 1913. Before the war, however, the French only consumed 25 per cent of the output, and the remainder was exported. Today the consumption in France has reached 65 per cent of the output, and the remainder, only 36 per cent, is exported.

There are two explanations of this. French people, fearing the increased high cost of living and the depreciation of the franc, have put their money into large stocks for future consumption of sale. Also there is an increasing number of American visitors who, dry at home, drink more than they used to when they arrive here. Restaurant keepers regard the American as the best champagne customer.

ALAMO OIL & REFINING CO.
ET AL. SUED BY ELISHA ROPER

Elisha Roper of Plainview, Texas, formerly of Eastland county, has filed suit in the district court in Eastland against the Alamo Oil & Refining company, alleged to be a joint stock company operating under a declaration of trust, and E. Witt, R. F. Milam, receiver, R. W. Smith, Joe M. Sears, George B. Dortois, Cleveland Baker and Tom W. Crutcher, for $15,400. Roper alleges among other things that the Alamo Oil & Refining company, through its officers, executed to him in May, 1920, a note in the amount of $10,000 with a 10 per cent interest clause, that same is due and unpaid and that the Alamo Oil & Refining company and the parties above named are liable jointly and severally to him for the payment of the amount sued for.

The Alamo Oil & Refining company was organized in Eastland during the oil boom. It went into the hands of a receiver shortly after it was organized.

GENERAL PERSHING SPEAKS TO WEST POINT GRADUATES

WEST POINT, New York, June 12. General Pershing addressed 405 members of the graduating class of the military academy today. The commencement address was to have been made by Secretary of War Weeks, but he sent his regrets at being unable to attend the exercises on account of the republican national convention. Following the exercises the newly made second lieutenants left on a three months leave of absence. Cadet W. S. Hastings of San Francisco was honor man of the class.

According to a report issued by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, Texas is running New York a close second as the nation's chief exporting state.

SEEK SUICIDE AS ONLY
RELIEF IN VIENNA

VIENNA.—A new wrinkle in suicide was demonstrated recently in Vienna. Tired of trying to eke out a hand-to-mouth existence in a city where the cost of living is already high and becoming higher, a young woman and her sweetheart rode together on their bicycles over a steep bank into the Danube. The tragedy was witnessed by some fishermen, who were at work nearby; but rescue was impossible as the suicides were already far down stream before the fishermen could reach the spot.

It is more or less of a red-letter day on the calendar when a suicide is not recorded in the local press. Hope of better days individually and as a nation seems to have left the majority of Austria's population. One by one therof they resort to poison, the Danube, gas, pistols, and ropes for release from their troubles.

NEWS THROUGH THE CAMERA'S EYE

The smallest picture is that of Addison Proctor of St. Joseph, Mich., 86 years of age and a special guest of honor at the convention with a seat on the platform. He is the only survivor of the 466 delegates who nominated Abraham Lincoln in 1860. He has attended 16 convention of the republican party.

Frederic Francois-Marsal, Premier Designate of the French Republic, if successful in winning a vote of confidence in the French Chamber, may prevent President Millerand from being forced to resign. Lillian Warren, 18, who adopted "make-up" when she arrived in Los Angeles from Canada, so shocked her wealthy sweetheart, Dana Stewart, rancher, that he shot himself. COMMUNITY TO PLAY AT PICNIC NEXT TUESDAY

Eastland Chamber of Commerce and Associate Members Plan Merry Event.

Plans are rapidly going forward for the big Chamber of Commerce picnic next Tuesday night at the Oil Belt Power lake. The picnic will start at 6 o'clock, with lunch at 7:30. Games of various kinds, and amusing stunts are being prepared, and everything will be done to make this even better than the first picnic. The Eastland band will furnish music and an orchestra will also play. There will be something for everyone.

Jack Lewis and Horace Butler have already issued a challenge to any pair of horse shoe pitchers to meet them on the field of honor. If anyone has the nerve to accept this challenge, the games played will be worth going long way to see. The bathing beach will also be open to all.

For Members Only. The last picnic was open to the public, and nearly 500 were present. This time it is thought best to confine the picnic to the members and the associate members of the Chamber of Commerce. This is done to encourage everyone to become associated in some way with the development of Eastland. Those who have not yet joined either branch of the Chamber of Commerce will be given an opportunity to do so. Membership cards will be on sale at the drug stores for associate membership at $1.

It isn't the money so much as it is hoped to line up the citizens of Eastland for Eastland. So if you are not yet associated with this organization, take this opportunity to do so at once, and come to the picnic.

The lunch will be handled differently this time also. Everyone bring what they wish to eat themselves. The lunch will not be put together, but each party will eat their own. When the hour arrives, everyone will be requested to get their own group together and sit in a large circle, so that all will be together.

Remember the day, next Tuesday, June 17, at 6 o'clock.

PEOPLE THINK TOO LITTLE OF RIGHT BALANCE

American Lunches, Directed By Palate Only, Cause of Many Ailments.

A study of a million insurance policy-holders who are mostly office workers shows that about one half of all the illness among them is some form of indigestion.

Statistics compiled by the census bureau show that the leading and growing causes of death in this country are so-called "degenerative" diseases, such as bright's disease, cancer, cirrhosis of the liver, diabetes and other ailments which are traceable to faulty diet, lack of exercise, and careless living generally.

Bearing these facts in mind, go to any lunchroom, preferably to a cafeteria at the crowded noon hour, and look at the kinds of food which the hurried lunchers bear away on their trays. You will then understand why the American people as a whole have stomach troubles, and why Americans die of diseases which intelligent diet would generally prevent.

The lunchrooms and cafeterias are not to blame either. They serve what their customers want. They usually serve a much greater variety of food than the customer uses. You could get a good luncheon for your money. But do you? If you are at all typical you do not.

Fruit or Salad. It is the exceptional lunch which includes either fruit or salad, and a majority of them do not include even a cooked fresh vegetable.

What must you get out of your diet in order to keep your health? You must get enough protein, mostly in the form of bread and meat, to replace the wasted tissue. You must get enough lime and iron to repair your bones and keep your blood red. You must get enough cellulose or roughage to keep your bowels active. You must get those mysterious elements known as vitamins.

The typical American lunch is sadly deficient in lime and iron, in roughage, in vitamins, and in the fruit juices which counteract acidity. It is a diet which makes surely for constipation, for an acid condition of the body, for overworked liver and kidneys. Its immediate results are a heavy feeling and possibly a headache, a sallow skin and a coated tongue. Its ultimate results are those diseases, traceable to organic degeneration rather than to infection, which the statistics prove, are killing the American people.

What to do about it? Eat more fruit and vegetables. Remember that one-half of a healthy diet by bulk consists of fruits and vegetables.

These fruits and vegetables are more necessary now than once they were, because our modern refined foods are especially deficient in minerals and vitamins. The husk and the germ of the grain, which are milled away from our white flour, contain these things.

Dates and Figs. Some dried fruits are as good as fresh ones, and in some respects better. Dates and figs are especially valuable. Dates, dried on the tree, contain all food elements. Arabs live and do hard work on dates alone. Dates with milk constitute a perfect human diet, and incidentally, make an ideal luncheon. Lime and iron, cellulose and vitamins are all present in dates. They contain sugar which is practically pre-digested.

Figs are almost equally as good, and have a specific action on the bowels. These imported dried fruits are especially worthy of your attention because you can get them all winter, eat them without cooking, and get all the food elements in one package, so to speak.

A pint of milk, a package of dates and an apple or an orange make an ideal lunch. Eat fruit for breakfast. Remember, too, that oatmeal is a whole grain, and contains minerals and roughage. Have a fresh salad with your dinner and a fruit dessert. Fig and date pudding are sweets that really nourish.

Don't let your lunch knock you out.

Examinations For Certificates To Teach, July 11-12

Ulala Howard-Burnett, county school superintendent, states that July teachers' examinations will be held on July 11 and 12, instead of on July 4 and 5 because of the fact that the state department desired to observe July 4 as a holiday.

At the June examination there were 12 applicants for teachers' certificates.

The board of examiners for Eastland county is composed of W. Z. Bates of Eastland, who succeeds C. A. Peterson, and Lee Speers of Carbon.

AUSTIN, June 13.—That the liquor and equipment used in the manufacture of intoxicants seized by the state rangers and the federal officials in the heart of Caldwell-Guadalupe county oil field Wednesday night constituted an accumulation of liquor and stills which had been confiscated and stored by officers of Guadalupe county was denied by Captain Hamer who led the raiding party.

The ranger captain said that two or three men arrested as a result of the raid are deputy sheriffs of Guadalupe county. Said that he had made a thorough investigation of conditions in Guadalupe county and found that arrests were not made there for violations of the liquor law.

U.S. Department of Agriculture Says:

[Farmers' Bulletin No. 535]

"In times of great exertion or exhausting labor, the rapidity with which it is assimilated gives sugar certain advantages over starch, and makes it prevent fatigue."

"This latter quality, which renders it more rapidly available for muscular power, may account for the fact that sugar is so relished by people who are doing muscular work and by those of very active habits, such as children."

"The American farmer ranks high among agriculturalists as a rapid and enduring worker, and his consumption of sweets is known to be very large."

COMING—SUNDAY—"NAME THE MAN"

GERMANY IS SWINGING AWAY FROM REPUBLIC

Reaction Appears to Be Taking Place Among the People Towards Monarchism.

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, June 12.—Germany is still a republic.

At least, that is the label on the bottle, though now and again one has to shake the bottle well to know exactly what the contents are. Try for instance to buy a republican flag—black, red and gold—in Germany. The storekeeper looks at you in amazement and then stammers half apologetically, half defiantly:

"We don't carry republican flags in stock. You see there isn't much demand for them. And, then, one can't tell; there might be a revolution and then we'd be stocked up with goods of which we could never be rid."

A bright idea strikes him, though. He can sell the patron material wherewith to make such a flag.

That is how the few republican flags in Germany come into existence.

The Betty Rosses of the republican camp make them, at least the few that exist.

One sees on certain holidays a few flags flying from the government buildings in the Wilhelmstrasse. But otherwise they are, rarer than Chinamen with whiskers.

The absence of republican flags in the new German republic may appear trivial in itself, but it is fairly significant of the trend of the times.

Has Hard Sledding.
The republic is having hard sledding. It may pull through. France had many ups and downs before her republic was finally established firmly.

But there is a swing toward reaction and toward monarchism that is constantly becoming more and more apparent. The "Deutscher Tag" in Halle was a sample of the movement. This was scarcely ended before the monarchists sought to have new celebrations in Berlin and elsewhere, though they encountered governmental prohibitions.

This means little. Germany will have more such days before the summer is out, in all probability.

The crown prince and crown princess are given ovations when they appear outside Oels. Ludendorff, the beer-cellar Putschist, is a hero to an amazing large number of his countrymen. Monarchist papers reported, with indignation, that the crown prince's son appeared at the Halle "Deutscher Tag" but amazingly, kept himself in the background.

Overstepping Restrictions.
Incidentally, the monarchists there overstepped all restrictions imposed by the socialist Prussian ministers—and got away with it.

German laborers, hitherto republican or radical, did nothing to prevent moving extra trains for the Fascisti, though a few years ago they undoubtedly would have sabotaged such a movement. Governmental authorities, announcing that there would be no "special trains" for the Fascisti, subsequently explained lamely that the special trains provided for the demonstrators really weren't special trains after all. They were just "extra," because of "heavy traffic."

These are small incidents, but taken in the mass they spell a growth of the monarchistic idea. There are republican elements in Germany—men and women who dread the thought of living again under such autocracy as "Wilhelm by the Grace of God, Kaiser and King of Prussia" practiced. But to date their voices have been too feeble, or their courage too small, to stem the growing wave from the other side.

"BUFFALO BILL'S" MONUMENT

CODY, Wyoming.—On July 4, the monument of Col. Cody will be unveiled here. It is the work of Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney of New York City, is 12 feet high, 13 feet long, and weighs three tons. "Buffalo Bill" in bronze, is pictured riding his horse along a trail. It will be placed on a natural granite terrace on the banks of the Shoshone river, near here.

ASKS TOO SMALL LOAN.

SAN ANTONIO.—Jesus Olivares, 14-year-old Mexican boy, handed a diamond ring to a local woman and asked for a 50-cent loan. The ring was valued at $197. The woman notified the police, Olivares was arrested and the ring restored to its owner.

STATE HIGHWAY ANTI-SIGN MOVEMENT IS SPREADING

That the movement started by Eastland in the removal of the signs along the state highway is spreading is evidenced in different directions. The latest is the news that Shackelford county has removed every sign from its highways over the entire county, leaving nothing but the proper directions for the traveler. Eastland has received more favorable comment in the state and other papers on this move than anything the city has done for some time. It will not be long before advertising signs will be nearly scarce in Texas, as well as other states, along the highways, it is claimed.

DELINQUENT TAX SUITS AGGREGATE LARGE AMOUNT

Suits for the collection of delinquent taxes, 931 in number, had been filed in the district courts here up to noon Thursday. Included in this number are those filed by the county and state, the city of Eastland, the Cisco independent school district, the city of Rising Star and the city of Gorman.

The total amount of taxes sought to be collected by these suits aggregates several hundred thousand dollars. There are more than half as many more suits yet to be filed.

PETRIFIED BONES OF PRE-HISTORIC MEN SHOW ANCIENT AMERICAN RACE

LOS ANGELES.—The petrified human remains known as the Haverty group, found recently at a depth of 23 feet during excavations on the outskirts of this city, are believed to be those of men who lived on this continent from 10,000 to 25,000 years ago.

This opinion was concurred in at a recent meeting of scientists held in Washington, D. C., according to W. A. Bryant, director of the Los Angeles museum, who attended.

Dr. Bryant presented the report of Dr. Chester Stock, head of the department of paleontology of the university of California, to the scientists. The report stressed the point that the accumulation of 23 feet of sedimentary material found above the remains has apparently taken place after their lodgment where they were found.

In an investigation now being conducted, it is hoped to more closely determine if the bones are of pleistocene origin.
