CANDIDATES EDIFY VOTERS WITH SPEAKING

Many Aspirants for Office Wax Oratorical at Downtown Session.

Eleven candidates for county and precinct offices in the coming primaries met last night at the corner of Main and Austin streets and opened the first verbal onslaught of the election season here.

It developed in the speeches of the candidates that each stood for law enforcement but that only two of the number had been endorsed by the recent ticket given out by the citizens' committee. Aside from resentment of this fact, the speeches dealt mainly with the claims, promises and records of the speakers. In one or two instances, personalities crept in and two of the candidates for constabulary honors did not mince their words in explaining their respective stands.

Speakers Are Numerous.
C. G. Shults and Wiley Harbin, two of the candidates for sheriff, fired the opening guns, followed by Green Hazel and L. H. Flewellen, candidates for county attorney. H. A. Collins, candidate for tax assessor; C. E. Sims, candidate for county superintendent; V. V. Cooner, candidate for county commissioner, then spoke. They were followed by Wade Swift, P. P. Palmer and C. C. Hamilton, candidates for constable. O. F. Chastain, candidate for representative from the 106th district made the closing speech.

Green Hazel in his talk asked the voters to compare his record both as county attorney before the Dunnam administration and as assistant county attorney under Ove E. Overson. Mr. Hazel declared that he was making no big promises but would do the best that he could in the matter of law enforcement. He declared that if there were violations of the law going on, and no doubt there were, he was ready then to take complaints against places in Pioneer or any other place in the county.

Fur Will Fly.
L. H. Flewellen, Ranger corporation judge in the county attorney's race, after characterizing his two opponents, Green Hazel and W. J. Barnes, as high types of men; referred to the ticket of the Citizens' committee as a "dirty, low-down endorsement," and promised "that the fur was going to fly." He declared the fact that this committee had not signed its endorsement and referred to

HERO'S FIGHT FOR LIFE LOST AFTER 48 OPERATIONS

CATAWISSA, Penn., July 8.—Herbert McCarty, 23 years old, a veteran of the Seventy-ninth division, lost a four-year fight for life after undergoing almost fifty operations to overcome wounds suffered a few days before the signing of the armistice, when his body was riddled with bullets from a machine gun of a German airplane.

McCarty had been in hospitals almost continuously since he was wounded. Twenty-four of his operations were major ones and 24 others were classified by surgeons as minor.

Eighteen machine-gun bullets had been taken from his body and he carried to his death two grown into his jugular vein.

In the operations 14 ribs, a portion of one shoulder blade and a collar bone had been removed. His case is said by specialists to be one of the most remarkable in American surgery. Until two months ago he had recovered sufficiently to leave the hospital for short periods.

McCarty had been cited for extreme bravery, his citation stating he was dragging comrades from exposed positions when wounded.

LOCAL OFFICERS TOLD TO HANDLE OHIO RIOTS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 8.—Law enforcement in Ohio coal mining regions in the event of mine strike trouble was put squarely up to local officials throughout the state by Federal Judge Sater and Governor Davis here.

Orders that United States marshals proceed to the Consolidated Coal and Coke company properties in Perry county temporarily were held up by Judge Sater. At practically the same time Governor Davis issued a statement declaring county and municipal law enforcement officers of Ohio will be held to strict account "if there are any strike disorders."

PLAYGROUNDS FOR KIDS

Two wooded lots donated by the Hodges estate for playground purposes are being equipped as such by the Child Welfare club and will be formally opened in the near future, it was announced yesterday afternoon. Swings, see-saws and sandpiles for the children, rustic furniture including picnic tables are to be provided. One of the lots is located on the Spring road on the east side and the other in the Hodges Oak Park addition on West Main street.

Mrs. Haden and Mrs. William

Clegg have donated their services one day each week at the playgrounds. Mrs. Haden will serve as story teller for the children and Mrs. Clegg as a physical instructor.

The Child Welfare club recently secured $100 for the playgrounds through its bridge tournament and the public has been generous in responding to requests for donations. Both of the playgrounds will be encircled in rustic fences which together with the benches and tables are being constructed by Lee McHenry at a minimum cost.

PALO PINTO KLAN CALLED ON TO DISAVOW BEATING CONSTABLE

By Associated Press.

MINERAL WELLS, July 8.—County Attorney McConnell in an official statement issued yesterday afternoon calls upon the local Ku Klux Klan to assume or deny responsibility for the attack on Constable B. F. Clark, which occurred in the edge of the city Thursday night at 11:30 o'clock.

Clark was lured from his home by two men on the pretext that they would give him information as to a stolen automobile. When he reached the edge of the city, according to his statement, he was pounced upon by 15 masked men, struck over the head with a revolver, kicked and cuffed and later brought back home. A gash on his head and a few bruises on his body attest the treatment he received.

Received Klan Letter.

Clark is said to have received a letter written upon the official stationery of the Ku Klux Klan and bearing ing its seal last week telling him to leave the city; that his services as constable were not satisfactory. He is said to have received a similar letter about a month ago.

No arrests have been made in the case. Both the sheriff's office and the county attorney's office are making investigations.

Recognized Assaultants?

Clark is understood to have said that he recognized some of his assaultants but has refused to divulge their names or deny or affirm that they were members of the Ku Klux Klan. He declares that although his assaultants told him he must leave town, he has no intention of doing so.

He is serving his first term as constable and is a candidate for re-election. An ouster proceeding instituted by the county attorney is pending against him.

Fatal Violence Marks Strike

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, June 8.—Will McClure, negro, said to be a strikebreaker, was killed by a blow on the head during a fusillade of rocks thrown by persons collected near the H. & T. C. yards here late this afternoon. Police officers were unable to determine who threw the rock that struck the negro. He was on company property when the blow fractured his head and killed him almost instantly, it is declared.

GREENVILLE MAN BEATEN.

By Associated Press.

GREENVILLE, Texas, July 8.—J. C. Andrews, employed yesterday by the M., K. & T. railroad as a laborer in the local shops, was attacked and severely beaten by a bunch of strike sympathizers while on his way home from work today. This is the first trouble since about 50 shopmen walked out last Saturday. Neither railroad or union officials would comment on the attack on Andrews.

MISSOURI GUARD MOBILIZED

By Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 8.—The entire national guard of Missouri, 4,021 men and officers, will be mobilized and ready for instant service at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, by order of Governor Hyde, Adjutant General Raut, acting at the executive order, called out the troops tonight upon information that a state of lawlessness and insurrection exists within the borders of the state.

FEDERAL MARSHALS GUARD SHOPS AT SLATER, MO.

By Associated Press.

SLATER, Mo., July 8.—Deputy United States marshals guarded the Chicago & Alton shops here tonight under command of United States Marshal Parshall for the western district of Missouri. Parshall explained to city officials and newspaper men that he had come here under telegraphic instructions from the department at Washington and that his orders are to prevent infraction of federal laws. Interference with interstate commerce or mails will not be tolerated, Parshall said.

After talking to Sheriff Cauldin of Slater and City Marshal Butts, Marshal Parshall conferred with leaders of the striking shopmen, including Leo S. Winkle, chairman of the federated shops crafts here. The union men and city officials assured him, Parshall said, that there would be no outbreaks and that the striking shopmen were peaceable Americans.

The conference with the union men was held in the trainmaster's office. B. L. Marquette, division superintendent of the road, was present.

KATY FIRST TO YIELD.

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—Announcement by officials of the M., K. & T. that eight local passenger trains had been taken off marked the first serious impairment of railroads entering this city since the beginning of the strike of the railroad shopmen. By Associated Press.

WORK ON ENGLISH CHANNEL TUNNEL WILL START SOON

LONDON, July 7.—The actual work on the construction of a tunnel under the English channel between France and England will begin soon as the result of the invention of a rapid boring device and the French movement to utilize German labor and machinery on the project in lieu of cash reparations.

These statements were made Monday at the meeting of the Channel Tunnel company, which was founded in 1870. Baron Emile Beaumont d'Elrianger asserted that tests of the new borer are expected to prove satisfactory and the new device will greatly shorten the time required to construct the tunnel.

The borer has rotary action and slices through the chalk formation, automatically ejecting the material excavated, providing itself with a moving steel shield and tubular tunnel plates.

ALL RESIDENTS TO BE LISTED IN CREDIT RATINGS

Merchants' Association Will Compile Data Like Larger Cities.

The work of preparing a credit rating of every firm and individual in Ranger will be started Monday by the Retail Merchants' association. Lists with name and other blank forms for the merchants to rate any of their respective customers overlooked on the association list will be sent out to each merchant, business and professional man in the city. Secretary Karl Jones announces. Those receiving the list will rate each individual on it and return it to the association offices. These lists will be compared and a rating will be evolved by the association for each case. It is expected that it will take sixty days to finally complete the work.

The need of this work has long been felt in Ranger and it was one of the first plans laid before the association by Secretary Jones on taking charge of the office last month. He explains that such a step will make credit better in every way here, as it will protect the merchant, the business and professional man and at the same time make it easier for persons deserving credit to obtain it. The system is patterned along the same lines as those perfected in larger cities.

At the present time the association offices is collecting accounts for members all over the country and making persistent efforts to realize on as many of the large number of bad accounts left here as possible.

NEW BILL WOULD ACCEPT HENRY'S PROPOSAL 'AS IS'

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A new bill calling for disposition of the government's nitrate and power project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., was introduced today by Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota. The senator said his measure had the endorsement of several members of the senate agricultural committee. Unconditional acceptance of Henry Ford's offer for purchase and lease of the Muscle Shoals property, including the government's interest in the steam power plant at Gorgas, would be provided in the bill.

The bill was identical with that introduced in the house by Representative Wright, Democrat, Georgia, but was given a senate title.

BOULDER, Col., July 8.—The body of John Fitzgerald, 20 years old, of Tulsa, Okla., was found at the foot of the "Third Flatiron," a mountain needle one mile west of Boulder, this afternoon. Youth Killed, Father Wounded as Guards Return Stones With Lead.

By Associated Press.

CLINTON, Ill., July 8.—James Fitzgerald, a striking Illinois Central shopman, was shot through the neck and his 14-year-old son instantly killed here at 1:30 this afternoon when guards opened fire on the strikers when imported workmen were being taken to the shops. The strikers were throwing stones at the guards and men when the guards opened fire.

Fitzgerald was on the street with the strikers and his son was sitting in the yard of a neighbor. A stray shot killed him instantly. The eight or ten men were being brought in from St. Louis.

OFFICIAL ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING AT STRIKER

By Associated Press.

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 8.—W. W. Watts, superintendent of terminals for the Southern railway here, was arrested late today charged with shooting at one striking shopman and pointing a pistol at another. He was released on bonds totaling $600.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The calling out of troops in Illinois, the assembling of soldiers in half a dozen other states and the intervention of the federal courts in the nationwide strike of railroad shop workers marked the close of the eighth day of the walkout tonight.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad tonight secured a federal injunction restraining picketing at the Aurora shops, while earlier in the day an injunction was issued at New Orleans restraining strikers from interfering with trains on the Southern Pacific. At Council Bluffs, Iowa, the Burlington obtained a temporary restraining order directed against striking shopmen in southern Iowa. Department of justice officials at Washington were investigating reports that strike disorders were interfering with the mails.

Riot Center Policed.

Lieutenant Governor Sterling of Illinois tonight ordered troops to Clinton, where an outbreak was threatened following a clash between Illinois Central guards and strike sympathizers in which a boy was killed and two men, one a striker, were wounded.

One bright ray appeared through the threatening strike clouds tonight when D. W. Helt, president of the Brotherhood of Signalmen, announced that he would withhold strike orders to 14,000 signalmen pending the preparation and submission of a program to the United States labor board.

Helt's announcement was made following an all-day conference with W. L. McMenimen, labor member of the board. This makes the second time within a week that members of the board have intervened to stop an addition to the strikers' ranks—a walkout of 400,000 maintenance of way employes having been prevented in this manner a few days ago.

Expect Men Back.

Many roads were preparing to open their shops the first of the week, when the ultimatum to strikers to return or lose their seniority rights will expire.

Efforts for an immediate settlement of the strike apparently stood still today following the statement yesterday of Chairman Hooper that it would be impossible to mediate so long as the men remained on strike. B. M. Jewell today reiterated his assertions that the first move toward peace must come from the railroads or the labor board.

Except for the disorders at Clinton, Ill., most of today's violence was confined to minor disturbances due to the efforts of the strike sympathizers to persuade the employes still on the job to quit.

Missouri, Kansas and California were among states that had either assembled troops or were prepared to do so in case disorders occurred.

Schedules Disrupted.

Train schedules were further disrupted as a result of the strike today, the M. K. & T. announcing the cancellation of 43 trains in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, while the Chicago & Alton abandoned all service in and out of Bloomington, Ill., due to disorders there.

U. S. MARSHALS MAY ACT.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Advices received by the department of justice concerning disorders at various railroad centers in the Middle West, resulting in interference with the mails, caused Acting Attorney General Goff to begin preparation late today of a report on the situation to be laid before Attorney General Daugherty when he returns to Washington Monday.

Several messages on the general situation have been received by the department, it was said, and the matter of action by United States marshals wherever the need arises was discussed by Mr. Goff and his aides.

GERMANY'S FATE NOW HINGES ON FRENCH STAND

Insistence on Reparations Will Overthrow Republic, Washington Belief.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Germany, facing a political and economic situation generally admitted as most serious, in the view of American officials, must look across the Rhine to France for necessary relief. France, it was stated today, must loosen her grip on the reparations situation to lighten Germany's financial plight or there will be utter collapse of the former strong central power and a radical regime arise from the ruins.

Help from the United States, it generally is maintained by officials here, only can be given Germany in the form of loans of private capital and Germany can obtain loans only through the offer of sufficiently protected securities to protect investors.

Must Have Concessions.
Under the present reparations scheme, it appears to officials here, all German resources are pledged to the making of allied payments and held closed by France, so that unless Germany can obtain concessions to permit the pledging of some of her potential wealth as security, all hope of financial assistance from without must be abandoned.

The situation in Germany financially and economically has been known to officials of the American government by means of reports from American representatives of the state and commerce departments. All of them were said to agree very closely as to general conclusions.

France Holds Key.

All express the opinion that France holds the key to the problem of the rehabilitation of German finances and on her attitude on the collection of payments due under the reparations clauses of the Versailles treaty depends the existence of the present Wirth government in Germany. Even should Germany meet the reparations installment of 50,000,000 gold marks due July 15, it was declared to be beyond reason that further payments could be expected in the near future. Germany, it was explained, must make purchases by means of loans in America, England and other countries and with the still decreasing value of the mark, the purchases could no longer be made.

Barter Only Option.

The suggestion was made in an informed German quarter today that there must be recourse to the system of barter if Germany is to go on at all. It is fully realized by the Germans that any such plan would encounter bitter opposition from the labor interests of the country with which Germany seeks to barter but that in their opinion as obtainable here, is the only course open to the maintenance of German industries.

PLAY WITH HAMMER COSTS CISCO BOY'S EYE

CISCO, July 8.—Joe Bailey, the 11-year-old son of W. F. Dodson, had the misfortune to lose his eye. He was waiting Friday morning at a blacksmith shop for a passing car to take him to Cisco for treatment and was playing with a hammer and iron at the shop, when the steel struck him in the eye, completely destroying it.

This boy, with two companions, was bitten by a dog on June 18. The head of the dog was sent to a laboratory at Fort Worth and pronounced to be infected with hydrophobia, and the boys have been taking preventive treatment of 21 days since being bitten. There has been no indication of hydrophobia developed in either of the boys.

SANTA FE TRAIN SPLITS SWITCH; SIX BADLY HURT

By Associated Press.

BURRTON, Kan., July 8.—Six persons were seriously injured here late today when Santa Fe train No. 4 crashed into an open switch and ran into a string of oil cars, which caught fire. The passenger train, eastbound, ran into the open switch at the junction of the Frisco, just west of the Burrton depot.

The dining car and buffet car were telescoped and all of the injured were in these two cars.

PRESIDENT SPENDS ONE WEEK-END AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, July 8.—President Harding returned to the White House late today from his week's automobile tour home.

FARM AND TRADES UNIONS JOIN HANDS AT RALLY HELD IN CISCO

Candidates in the coming primary should be made to answer one question to obtain the labor vote, speakers at the county-wide meeting of farm and trade unions at Cisco yesterday declared in urging the ballot as the most powerful argument.

"Are you in favor of organized labor or do you favor the open shop?" is the question which all the candidates should be required to answer with an emphatic "yes" or "no," the gathering was told. Each speaker in turn urged organization as the effective remedy for the present situation. The gathering voiced its approval of a simplified recall law, patterned after the one in force in California.

The meeting was called by the Farm-Labor organization in the Labor Temple at Cisco and was attended by trades and farm union men from all over the county, including a large delegation from Ranger, who were sent to learn the purposes and intentions of the proposed affiliation between the farmers and the federated labor organizations of Eastland county.

President Neal, resident of Gorman presidio, as head of the farm-labor movement in this county. One of the main objects of the farm-labor movement, it was announced, is the elimination of the food speculator and a direct system of marketing.

A picnic of the union men of the county will be held at Cisco on July 21, the day preceding the primary. Lunch will be provided by the Cisco labor unions and everyone is invited to attend, it is announced. The next meeting of the Farm-Labor union will be held on Aug. 8, the place to be announced later. All local unions will be asked to have strong delegations present.

SENATE TRIES G. WASHINGTON FOR VOLSTEAD LAW VIOLATION

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Reading in the senate from the "writings of George Washington." Senator Thomas E. Watson, Georgia, submitted evidence to prove that "the father of his country converted a runaway negro into West Indian freewater."

Senator A. O. Stanley, Kentucky, interrupted to say:

"I do not wish to interrupt, but I am a little surprised at that statement. I was under the impression that George had his own stillhouse and made his own liquor."

Took Eye Opener.

"I am not prepared to say whether that is correct or not," replied Senator Watson, "but in the biographies it is said that the first thing he did on arising in the morning was to take a drink of rum and at his dinner table he always had cider or beer and finished up with two glasses of Madeira wine."

"Do you believe that is the reason he never told a lie?" asked Senator Stanley.

"That certainly is one of the reasons," replied the Georgia senator.

Senator Watson brought up the subject to dispute the charge made in the senate recently that Washington never bought or sold negroes. He read the following letter, dated Mt. Vernon, July 2, 1766, addressed to Captain John Thompson:

"With this letter comes a negro (Tom), which I beg the favor of you to sell on any of the islands you may go for whatever he will fetch, and bring me in return for him."

Treat for Sterling.

At this point Senator Watson expressed regret that Senator Thomas Sterling, South Dakota, one of the sponsors for the dry law, was not present. Then he continued the reading of the letter as follows:

"One hoghead of best molasses; one hoghead of best rum; one barrel of molasses; if they are good and cheap; two small pots mixed meat, five pounds each, and the residue, much of little, in good old spirits."

"That was in clear violation of the Volstead law and the Willis Campbell anti-beer act," objected Senator Watson. "Here was the father of his country converting a runaway negro into West Indian freewater."

PROPOSED OREGON LAW WOULD PROHIBIT PRIVATE SCHOOLS

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8.—Private schools in Oregon will be prohibited if an initiative measure to amend the section of Oregon's laws making education compulsory receives the approval of voters next November. The initiative petition, which is fostered by Scottish Rite Masons, obtained 50,000 signatures in two days.

The amendment provides that every child between the ages of 8 and 16 years must attend a public school under penalty of the parent or guardian being guilty of a misdemeanor. Exceptions are made for children physically unable to attend those living a mile and a half or three miles from school, according to ages, and those receiving private instruction, provided that such children must report every three months for examination by a school official. The act would take effect Sept. 1, 1926.

his list of indorsers as the "best men of the city." He predicted that the indorsement of his opponent by the Citizen's committee would elect him county attorney. In reviewing his record, Mr. Flewelling declared that he had been corporation judge of Ranger for two years and had been a good one.

He promised that if he was elected county attorney Eastland county would have law enforcement and that if 100 good men would tell him that he had failed to make good this promise he would resign.

H. A. Collins, in presenting his claims for a second term as county tax assessor, declared that a second term was customary for men in office who had made good and that the records of his office and his life were open to the closest inspection. He declared that his part in law enforcement was to see that all property in the county was rendered.

C. E. Sims, who is opposing Miss Ulaa Howard for county superintendent, declared that Miss Howard had held the office for two terms and that this was long enough. He paid a high tribute to his opponent as a woman and an office holder, but made it plain that three terms in office did not meet with his approval.

Watch Your Pants!

"If you let ladies get mixed up too much in politics, the good old days are gone," Mr. Sims said, after illustrating his point with an account of one of the henpecked husbands of the comic "strips." The comic artist depicted the woman of the house seated in an easy chair in comfort, while the man of the house was clothed in a dust cap and apron and armed with a broom. On his answering the door bell a caller inquired if he is the man of the house, to which the mistreated husband replies that he "used to be, but that the good old days are gone."

"If you let the ladies get mixed up in politics too much, the good old days are gone," Mr. Sims told to his audience.

V. V. Cooper, candidate for county commissioner spoke briefly, telling of his thirty years' residence in Ranger and declaring that if he were elected he would strive for good roads, economical administration of county affairs; employment of Eastland county labor on the work, and fair wages.

Mr. Cooper declared that if it was found that any corporation or individual was indebted to the county that he would be in favor of exerting every effort to protect the interests of the county.

Wade Admits Riling.

Wade Swift, candidate for constable, spoke briefly, pointing out that he was one of the candidates not indorsed in the citizens' committee ticket and that he was riled up about it. He declared that he would put himself in the hands of the Rotary or Lions club of the city and that he would resign without a trial if he was ever connected with anything underhanded in office.

P. P. Palmer told his hearers that his stand on law enforcement was well known; that he was one of the

PALMER TAKES OVER MAJESTIC UNDER NEW NAME

W. B. Palmer, proprietor of the Liberty theatre, who has been associated with H. S. Cole in the operation of the Lamb and Majestic theatres, will open up the old Majestic tomorrow under separate management and a new name. Henceforth, Mr. Palmer announces, the Majestic theatre will be known as the Liberty, the name under which Mr. Palmer operated until recently.

The new Liberty theatre has been renovated and two large blow fans have been installed for the comfort of patrons.

Mr. Cole will operate the Lamb theatre.

first men to condemn lawlessness here and the laxness of the officers in enforcing the law and that he still condemned it. He declared that if he were elected, sixty days would see the end of such conditions.

C. C. Hamilton, also out for constable, took issue with his opponents and declared that officers alone could not clean up the town or do the things that Palmer had promised to do. They must have the proper authority to take direct action, he said. He declared that the lawyers of the city would testify as to his activity when a paper was put into his hand. Mr. Hamilton said that Ranger was one of the best towns he had lived in, considering everything and that he was not seeking office for the money alone but because of his interest in the town.

Pledges Educational Support.

O. F. Chastain, candidate for representative, was introduced in glowing terms by L. R. Pearson, chairman of the meeting. Declaring that he had been "investigated" by he knew not whom, Mr. Chastain pointed out that he had been a Sunday school superintendent for twenty years, had never tasted a drop of whiskey or sworn an oath and that he had risen from a country school teacher to occupy a chair in the State university. Nine-tenths of the people of Eastland stand behind him in his race, he said. He declared that his opponent, B. W. Patterson of Cisco, had failed to accept his challenge to debate.

In dwelling upon the needs of rural schools for representation in the legislature, Mr. Chastain declared that the legislature had appropriated $1,000,000 for the eradication of ticks and only $2,000,000 for the rural schools of the state. He explained in detail the need of a man acquainted with the needs of the schools being elected and was of the opinion that if he was elected he would probably be made chairman of the educational committee.

CHAMPION PIE BAKER CANDIDATE FOR SENATE

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Mrs. Anna D. Olesen, the 37-year-old Democratic senatorial nominee in Minnesota, can make as good a pie as a political speech and can raise children, chickens and garden truck as successfully as she can raise political issues.

This is the opinion of Miss Abigail Dyer Thompson, Minneapolis Democratic woman leader, who represented Mrs. Olesen at the Democratic national committee's executive committee conference here.

Mrs. Olesen was too busy house cleaning at her home in the little town of Cloquet, Minn., to come to Washington, so she wired Miss Thompson to represent her. Mrs. Olesen had to put off her housecleaning beyond the usual time for such domestic enterprises because she was too busy all spring driving from town to town in the Ford sedan given her by the Democratic women of Minneapolis, winning votes in her fight for the Democratic nomination for Senator Kellogg's seat.

Besides, she hasn't any time to lose unnecessarily with trips to Washington or elsewhere when there is the whole state of Minnesota to travel over to tell the voters why they should send her to the senate instead of returning Senator Kellogg, her Republican opponent.

INDIANS ADVANCE IN INDUSTRY AND EDUCATION

By United Press.

SARANIC LAKE, N. Y. July 7.—It is becoming evident to even those opposed to the plan that the money being spent by the state for the education of the St. Regis Indians is bringing results.

Indian farmers on the reservation north of here, who have taken the agricultural course, last season raised record crops, despite the fact that it was a poor farming season. This year they are planning for even better results.

As a result of education, Indian children are also proving the mental equals of white children. In some studies they are superior, as it was a little Indian girl of 11 who this spring won the Franklin county spelling contest. She is Ruth White, the daughter of Chief Moses White of the St. Regis tribe, and will contest at the state spelling contest at Syracuse.

GEN. PERSHING'S GROOM EXEMPT FROM QUOTA LAW

Photo Astride General's Horse Wins Him Admission to United States.

NEW YORK, July 8.—It was a photograph of himself astride General Pershing's war horse, "Casey Jones," that saved John Cassullo and his bride, Marie Masone, from deportation. His claim of citizenship, his plea of service in France, his former residence in New York were as nothing against the quota law. It was the photograph of John, mounted upon old "Casey Jones," that turned the trick.

Members of the Immigrant Appeal Board in Washington took the view that any man who had stood so close to General Pershing as to be entrusted with the care of the horse the General rode triumphantly into Germany was worthy to re-enter this land of the free. And, moreover, to bring in the girl he had won overseas.

Admitted After 26 Days.
So, after 26 days of anxious captivity in the detention quarters at Ellis Island, John was yesterday made welcome in the land he had served on three great battlefields. Maria was let in temporarily under a bond of $500, with a hint from Uncle Sam that when her time is up she won't really have to go back.

Time and again Cassullo asked the immigration authorities what became of the American citizenship he says was offered him on the battlefield when he went with Remount Squad 303, into the great Argonne offensive. He said:
"I thought I was being brevetted when Captain Rosenberg, of the Remount Squad, filled out my application for American citizenship. I thought I had won the right to be called an American which no quota law could challenge."

His Papers Found.
Lawyers got a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Manton. John and Maria had already been placed upon an outgoing ship bound for Italy. Stephen J. Rotondi, of No. 50 Court street, one of John's lawyers, went to Washington to run down the citizenship papers while Frank A. Margiotta, another of his counselors, kept a watchful eye upon the Ellis Island officials.

Captain Rosenberg had filed Cassullo's claim to citizenship, citing his gallant service in France, but it had been buried in a pile of dust-covered papers shipped back to Washington after the armistice. The formality of signing the articles had never been consummated. Technically, John Cassullo, "first class horseman" and keeper of "Casey Jones," pet war horse which Colonel Babcock gave to General Pershing to ride into conquered Germany, was still an Italian and inadmissible to the United States because the Italian quota was exhausted.

Mr. and Mrs. Cassullo are at last at home to their friends at No. 537 West Fifty-ninth street.

MILLIONAIRE RED MUST GO TO PRISON

The Illinois State Supreme Court has upheld the conviction of William Brass Lloyd and eighteen members of the defunct Communist Labor party, and they must serve prison sentences for advocating overthrow of the government. Lloyd is the millionaire son of the late Henry D. Lloyd, newspaperman, who married a daughter of ex-Governor Brass. Mr. Brass was part owner of the Chicago Tribune. Lloyd was sentenced to from one to five years and to pay a fine of $2,000.

LOST AVIATOR CLIMBS TREE, ESCAPES PANTHER

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The war department received Tuesday an exhaustive narrative by Cadet Raymond White of the Illinois air service of his misadventure in the cypress swamps of Florida, during which he took to a tree for safety from a panther he thought he heard close at hand. After relating how his airplane was wrecked in the swamp and his efforts to wade out he thus describes the panther episode:

"Having dug my way through such thicket-infested swamps for about six hours I finally stopped to rest. Deciding then that it was useless to continue in this mosquito and reptile infested swamp, I picked out a dry spot near a pine tree and spent the night. Since I did not smoke I did not have any matches with which to build a fire, which would serve as a signal to the searching planes which would soon be sent out for me from Carlstrom field. After fighting mosquitoes for some time I finally dozed off to sleep while standing against the tree.

"During the night I was awakened by a piercing scream which I thought was either a panther or a bobcat. Listening for a few minutes I heard a noise in the undergrowth and I immediately climbed a small tree where I remained during the night. After prowling around for some time toward morning the panther disappeared. At daybreak I descended from the tree and continued on my westerly course."

Upward of more than 700,000 American homes, schools, churches, halls and office buildings are equipped with radio receiving stations, and more than 15,000 stations have been licensed by the government for transmitting wireless messages of one sort or another.

European Women Outnumber Men by 25,000,000, Excess Largely Widows

BERLIN, July 8.—Man's minority on earth as compared to woman, a fact even before the war, has been increased by that conflict until today it is estimated there are 25,000,000 more women than men in Europe alone.

Official statistics published here show that the surplus of women in Europe has increased by 15,500,000. Before the war there were 1,038 women to every thousand men; now the proportion is 1,111 to 1,000. The rising surplus has been most marked in Russia, where the number of women has grown from 1,042 to 1,299 for every 1,000 men. This is on the basis of figures for fifty-two governments.

The situation has also been notably changed in Germany, Austria, Jugoslavia, Great Britain, Luxemburg, France and Italy. In Germany, exclusive of Upper Silesia, there are 1,100 women to every 1,000 men, whereas before the war there were about 1,026. On the contrary, the number of surplus women has decreased in Denmark, Norway, Sweden and the Netherlands. An outstanding feature of the situation is that girls of marriageable age are in the minority in the surplus, most of those in the excess classification being of elder years and many of them widows.

FLOATING OF FIRST RED INTERNAL LOAN SUCCESS

MOSCOW, July 8.—The soviet government's first internal loan is a success, according to the Russian newspapers, the ten million pood bread loan having already been subscribed. Although exact figures in the provinces are lacking it appears that the peasants have directly subscribed 4,000,000 poods, the workers 3,000,000 and state institutions 3,000,000.

Russia's 1922 grain crops, according to present estimates, will reach a minimum of 3,500,000 poods (63,000,000 tons), or 1,000,000,000 poods more than those of last year, acting Premier Kameneff told the correspondent today.

From virtually all sections of Russia, except the north, reports are pouring into Moscow showing that the grain is flourishing in ideal weather beyond the fondest hopes of early spring. If the yield is as large as expected it probably will be Russia's greatest crop since the war.

To prevent the dress being copied, a Paris dressmakers' establishment has decided that all costumes shall be signed by the designer, and carry finger-prints for identification.

WOULDN'T FIT POLITICS.

Some months ago, court circles were all agog over the truth serum, which absolutely prevented a person telling a lie. It was hailed as the greatest friend of justice, for all a suspect would have to do would be to take a shot and then tell the world that he was innocent, and the state would be spared the expense of a trial.

Unfortunately, the discovery was flouted, and languished before it could be applied to candidates. Not that candidates would lie or anything like that. But they sometimes deceive themselves as well as others.

But fill them full of scoposomethingsorother, and the dance halls and bathing pools would be deserted while a merry citizenry listened to aspirants spill their own beans. Suppose Candidate Brown, for instance, got up and said that while he really wanted the office because he thought it was a good job and that while he had had no experience in the work and was somewhat blind as to some things that other folks could see, he proposed to get elected if he could, despite his knowledge that Candidate Black would be more efficient and in every way more desirable. And so on and so on.

It would simplify elections, truly; except that candidate Black would probably do about the same thing. Then there wouldn't be any election, for everybody would be too weak from laughter. And the old officers would stay in office forever.

Perhaps it is just as well that scopowhatisit is a dead issue.

INDIAN ACE, HERO OF GREAT WAR, SETS OUT TO FIND HIS WIFE WHOM HE SAVED FROM INVADING HUNS

(Daily Oklahoman.) For the second time in the forty-six crowded years of his eventful life, Capt. William Sunset, Cherokee ace, globe-trotting adventurer, started a long quest the other day.

The first was started twenty years ago for his uncivilized Indian parents, who gave him to an adventurer when he was a small boy. The second, began recently, is for an Alsatian wife, whose life he saved during the world war, and his two babies.

Able, because of his war wounds, to provide them only the most meager necessities, he returned home the other day to find them gone. Sunset has been living in Okmulgee, working on pipe line construction crews and at other forms of uncongential labor. For he will never fly again. War injuries forbid that. And now, deserted by his wife, he has started a second quest.

Captain William Sunset, known in the Lafayette escadrille as Flowbert W. Richister, declares he has fourteen German planes credited to him officially while in the French service. In addition to that, he claims seventeen unofficially. He holds the French croix de guerre and the Belgian war cross. He has been wounded dozens of times and has been shot down five times, once in flames.

Served in Three Armies. He saw service in three units, the Foreign Legion, the Lafayette escadrille and the United States army. He entered the United States army after a daring escape from Germany in a purloined German plane.

His wife is an Alsatian who lost her family in the war. She owes her life to the valor of her husband.

Sunset's life has followed the path of great adventure. At four years near Antwerp, and in the crash he suffered a broken rib and a smashed foot. Early in 1915 he was assigned to Lafayette escadrille. A month later he got a machine gun bullet in his knee.

He Is Captured By German Patrol.

In 1916 came the end of his career as a combat plane flier. With eight machines his squadron attacked eighteen German machines. In the battle a German shot him down with his machine in flames. He was badly wounded. At 800 feet he lost consciousness and when he awoke he was in the hands of a German patrol.

Through an error he was sent to an infantry prison camp at Rastatt, where he was placed in a hospital. The scars of his burns remain. While in the hospital, he says, blood was repeatedly drawn from his veins to sustain a wounded captain of Austrian troops. As a result his health is broken.

One night under cover of darkness he slipped out of his barracks through a sewer pipe. He crawled for eleven blocks in this pipe under ground. He emerged near a hangar and hid under the tail of a German scout plane.

He Escapes in German Plane.

After a while he managed to start the plane and left the German prison camp behind him.

After being returned to duty he was assigned to an American squadron. He flew once more over the German lines. On this flight he discovered that his days as a flier were ended.

He had suffered an injury to his spine. His nerves were badly shaken and he would no longer endure the strain of flying a machine. He was returned to America for duty as an instructor, but was soon discharged from the flying service.

Thus ended the flying career of William Sunset.

DEATH FATE OF YOUTH WHO WASN'T YELLOW

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., July 8.—"I did it because I didn't wish the fellows to think I was yellow."

Fourteen-year-old Thomas Murray smiled bravely as he uttered these words, immediately before he died of ghastly burns. He was speaking to his father, seated beside the hospital cot.

Wednesday night the boy was playing "stump the leader." The leader climbed a steel signal tower along the New Haven railroad tracks. Murray followed half way, then stopped.

"Come on! Don't be yellow!" cried the leader. Stung by the taunt the boy climbed up to the platform.

"Do this if you can," he called to his fellows, and bent perilously over the edge of the platform. Accidentally he touched a high tension wire. He was hurled back to the platform, his clothes afire.

For two days he lay unconscious in the hospital. Then, a moment of clear thought, his explanation to his father, and the end.

EX-JAZZ HOUND LIVES 36 YEARS AMONG LEPERS

By R. A. DONALDSON (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—From the lonely solitude of the rock-board leper settlement of Kalawao, on the island of Molokai, Brother Joseph Dutton has sent to the "world outside" greetings on his 79th birthday.

Brother Dutton has been at the Kalawao settlement for 36 years. He has never set foot off the lonely island since he first went there, when, fired by ideals of service to humanity, he began his ministrations to the leper boys and young men, himself always under the shadow of the living death.

Brother Dutton is the true successor to Father Damien, the martyr priest and first worker of the settlement, who was so deeply admired by Robert Louis Stevenson, and whose work Stevenson defended in the famous "Father Damien Letters."

Unlike Father Damien, who fell a victim to leprosy after years of devotion to nursing the unfortunates of Molokai, Brother Dutton has always maintained his good health. He is a civil war veteran, having retired after the close of hostilities with the rank of captain. He was at that time something of a Beau Brummell, dashing, gay, and loving the pleasures of life.

Suddenly, in his 35th year, it dawned on him that he was wasting his life. He determined to salvage it through religion. His religious fervor aroused, he entered the Trappist monastery at Gethsemane, Kentucky, and determined to bury himself from the world and spend his days in self-abnegation.

While in the Redemptorist monastery in New Orleans, he chanced upon a magazine describing the work of Father Damien and his work among the lepers in the isolated Kalawao colony on Molokai island.

Inspired by the work of the great priest who had dedicated his life to easing the pain of the hopeless outcasts, Brother Dutton determined to go to Molokai. He got in touch with Father Damien, who bade him come. Early in the summer of 1886 he sailed from San Francisco, and on July 29 reached Kalawao. From that day to this, he has never left the settlement.

"I expect to die on Molokai," Brother Dutton declared on his 79th birthday. "It is my home, and I am happy here—happy because I can live for others, and especially for those who need care and comfort and friendship as they wait for death in this lonely spot. I have had a full life but I did not begin to live until I came to Kalawao."

NITROS' RALLY IN NINTH FAILS TO BEAT BRONCS

SAN ANGELO, July 8.—San Angelo won the rubber game of the series from Ranger today 3 to 2. A Nitro rally in the ninth inning fell one score short of tying the score. Although Lybrand yielded but four hits, three of them by Greer, Muns bested him in a hurlers' duel, scattering seven blows and fanning nine batsmen, several of them when hits meant runs. Manager Flagg protested the game in the fifth, when Umpire Jones called Lybrand out straggling second for White's alleged interference at bat. Only one of the Broncs scores and none of Ranger's were earned.

LEAGUE GETS 4TH RECEIPTS OF $824 NET

Ranger took in nearly double the Stamford, Lubbock and Sweetwater gates on Fourth of July, it was revealed yesterday afternoon when President Northern of the league dropped in and explained the standing of the league and what was to be done with the Fourth of July receipts. At the end, he departed with a check for $824 and some-odd cents, representing the holiday receipts here. Stamford was next with $540, Lubbock with $440 and Sweetwater last with $273. "League Games" Pooled and Split.

Ordinarily, Fourth of July and Labor day games are divided among the teams equally, which would have given each one about $275 for the laboring on the Fourth. This year, however, the league was about $2,000 in a hole for the pay of umpires, the president's and other salaries, and it was voted at the Abilene meeting to devote the receipts of the day to this purpose. The shortage, President Northern said, was caused by bad weather and poor attendance in the early part of the season and with more interest in the second half race, would not occur again.

Ranger was third in receipts for the first half, being led by Amarillo and Stamford. Paying out of this money makes it necessary for the "endowment fund" to be raised again this month. Have checks ready, fans.

ROTARIANS COMBAT LIONS NEXT SUNDAY

There are just three more days beginning today, in which folks who must have their baseball right now may see the Nitros perform. Back home from San Angelo, they take on the Broncs in a return engagement Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The fans who miss those three days will have to wait nine more before they can get action on the home lot. Monday, be it remembered, is ladies' day and all of the fair rooters are urged to attend as guests of the management.

Next Sunday, however, the real "blast" is to appear. For on that date—Sunday, July 16—the Rotarians and the Lions are to tangle in their first, last and only appearance this year, in a dyed-in-the-wool effort to have a real baseball victory to crow about. Tickets will be on sale this week. Get in line early. Those who delay may have to climb the fence.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 8.—Earl Caldwell, 40 years old, was shot and killed Wednesday by a burglar who robbed the Caldwell home of $20, and a St. Bernard dog of Caldwell's was shot in the leg in attacking its master's assailant. The burglar-murderer escaped before arrival of police.

Ancient Order of Henpecked Sill Flourishes After Six Thousand Years

In a recent news item regarding the proposed convention of the Ancient Order of Henpecked Husbands, the past grand high domestic was quoted as saying the order was founded 3800 B. C., says the Philadelphia Record.

This probably is correct, as the celebrated Assyrian Queen Semiramis is "the first henpecker mentioned in history, and it was probably her consort, Ninus, who founded the order, which still flourishes. From Semiramis and Ninus on history bristles with accounts of subdued husbands and dominating wives. It is said that Ninus, after subduing surrounding tribes and strangling lions and other wild beasts with his bare hands, would meekly wash the dishes and then go down in the cellar to avoid the scolding of Semiramis. Finally he disappeared from history and Semiramis ran things with such a high hand that the friends of poor Ninus, to keep his memory green, organized the great order which has lasted nearly 6,000 years.

at Salamis, where he broke the Persian invasion, was acclaimed the greatest of all the Greek commanders and immediately became the most important man in Athens. In fact, his word was law with everyone except his wife, and Plutarch records the fact that Themistocles once privately unburdened himself to his son with the information that Mrs. Themistocles was the greatest person in the world. "For," said he, "the Greeks rule the world; I rule the Greeks, and your mother rules me."

New Decoration Schemes Just Aren't

The passing of the Fourth left hostesses destitute for color schemes and house decorations, as for several weeks before its coming its approach was sounded at practically every affair—nothing left now until the fall holidays set in, but cut flowers and potted plants. The gardens in Ranger have done their part in house decorations for the past weeks, and all flower growers are gratified at the success they have had in raising sweet peas, nasturtiums, and gladiola. The latter flowers are very beautiful and prolific and do especially well if the bulbs are planted in the fall.

The Fourth passed, as far as the social calendar is concerned, with the greatest quietness. There were very few parties, and from the contributions that have been sent in, one might judge that the major portion of our society set spent the day asleep, but judging by the great number of cars and pedestrians on the streets all day and late into the night, there must have been something doing somewhere.

If this was a weather calendar instead of a social calendar it might read like this: "The next six days an unbroken calm." However, there will be one or two things to ruffle the calm and to set the social waves in motion.

A BRIDGE LUNCHEON.

Among the prettiest affairs of the week was the bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Frank Champion in honor of the Twentieth Century club, at her home on Cypress street, Friday afternoon. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock. The table was very attractive in its decorations of shasta daisies and place cards painted in sweet peas. House decorations of gladiola lent a pleasing background to the luncheon setting.

After the guests had partaken of a delicious course luncheon, card tables were arranged and bridge was played during the afternoon. Mrs. Frank Brahney made high score, receiving as a favor a lovely Philippine night-gown. The low score favor, a cut glass vase, went to Mrs. Mary C. Blair.

Those enjoying this delightful afternoon were: Meses. J. S. Blair, John Thurman, F. A. Brown, William Denning, E. L. McMillen, A. Neil, Walter Cluney, Frank Reames, William Conway, F. L. Brahney; Meses Edna Brashier, Hortense Campion.

THE NEXT REGULAR CLUB MEETING WILL BE WITH MRS. WALTER CLUNEY.

FORTY-TWO CLUB HAS PICNIC.
Thursday night the members of the Forty-two club enjoyed an outing and picnic lunch at Spring lake. The crowd met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Ashford at 7 o'clock and motored out to the lake, where lunch baskets were unpacked and a bountiful lunch was spread. It is reported that "there was worlds of fried chicken" so that being the case, it would not be hard to imagine that all the other good things that go with chicken were on the menu also. After lunch a story-telling hour was enjoyed.

Those participating were: Meses. and Meses. A. W. Townsend, Spurgeon Reynolds, Walter Harwell, Walter West, J. L. Heydon; Mrs. J. V. Fouts of Rotan; Meses. Thelma Phillips, Evelyn West, Johnnie Fouts of Rotan; Meses. J. C. and David Heydon.

The club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Reynolds Wednesday evening.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL TUESDAY NIGHT.

Everybody is requested to remember that there will be an ice cream social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Bohning, on the corner of Blundell street and Strawn road Tuesday night.

This social is being given by the East Side Circle of the Presbyterian church, and these ladies have arranged a good time for every one who comes. Free cars will leave the Presbyterian church at 8:15 o'clock, so not having a way to go will be no excuse for non-attendance. It will be a moonlight affair with the Bohning lawn as a setting.

MRS. DODSON TO GIVE MUSICAL.

Mrs. J. M. Dodson will honor her guests, Mrs. Robert Wilson and daughters, of Amarillo, Wednesday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 p. m., with a musicale. The Meses Wilson are musicians and will appear on the program, as will the hostess and some other local talent.

D. A. R. CHAPTER MAY BE ORGANIZED.

All those who are eligible to membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution and wish to organize a chapter, are asked to communicate with Mrs. William Clegg by letter or in person. Of course the work of organization is necessarily slow, unless members have already obtained their papers, so in order to get the chapter organized by fall, those interested are asked to give this matter their immediate attention. One of the most delightful mid-summer parties of the season was enjoyed by numerous friends of Mrs. N. J. Novakovich and her son and daughter at their home on Walnut street, Friday night. The home was especially decorated for the occasion and the many lanterns, together with various Fair East colors gave the receiving suite the appearance of an ideal Japanese garden. There was music, dancing and various games for amusement and entertainment.

Refreshments of Manhattan punch, brick cream, and de luxe cakes were served to the following guests: Meses Esther Yonker, Dora Watson, Evelyn West, Eleanor Alworth, Phyllis Williams, Margaret Brown, Katherine O'Shea, Oreta Smith, Mabel Stafford, Beatrice Dreby, Mary McGinnis, Marguerite Novakovich, Margaret Calhoun; Meses. LONDON WANTS SKYSCRAPERS LIKE NEW YORK

LONDON, July 8.—Some day, in the city of London, great business offices will tower to the skies, hundreds of firms and thousands of employees will work in them far above the London fog in winter, high in the clear, pure air in summer.

Some day—but when? New York, a long, slender finger known the world over as Manhattan Island, climbed skywards as the only solution to her difficulties. London, especially that small area of business London—confined by long custom within the walls of Old London, presents today a spectacle of hopeless congestion unparalleled in the commercial history of any great city. Thousands of firms are crying out for increased accommodation, thousands more are trying to gain offices in the city, rents are fabulous.

Must Construct Higher Buildings. "There is only one way out," said the head of a great city firm, "London must build higher buildings. There will then be room for all."

The law which governs the erection of buildings in London was designed to safeguard Victorian London. In those days buildings were made of wood and brick and stone. This is the age of steel and concrete—the age of the fireproof building. "What would happen if fire broke out in a skyscraper?" is the favorite argument of the anti-skyscrapers.

The London skyscraper of the future will have a pipe built into it running from the top to the bottom. At each floor this pipe will have an attachment for a fire hose, and on the street level a nozzle to which the fire engine could be attached.

Water would be pumped up into the building, and if the pressure was not sufficient to reach beyond the eighty-foot level, electric pumps at this point would take up the water to the very top of the building. When the experts talk of the difficulty of pumping water higher than eighty feet, it is interesting to note that today the fire brigade has means of throwing water over the dome of St. Paul's cathedral, which is 360 feet high. New York does not worry about fires.

No one who has seen New York can advance the esthetic objection against the skyscraper. These great buildings have a dignity and a beauty and a poetry of their own. In many parts of London they would, of course, be out of place—in Threadneedle street, for example; but in Kingsway, which is wide and light, and is rapidly taking on the appearance of an American thoroughfare, skyscrapers could be built with advantage.

GIRL CONFESSES

SLAYING FATHER THOUGHT SUICIDE

LAKEPORT, Mich., July 8.—Mary Luedtke, 15 years old, is held by the officers here on the charge of killing her father, George Luedtke, 55, by slashing him across the right wrist with a butcher knife. He bled to death.

Mary confessed Friday, the officers say. The coroner's jury found a verdict of suicide. The father's body was found in the kitchen and it was supposed he had hacked his wrist with the knife which lay near him.

The girl declares that her father came into the house Tuesday afternoon in the absence of her mother and three brothers and tried to attack her. She says she defended herself with the knife. The father, she declared, threw up his right hand as she struck and the blade hit him on the wrist, severing the artery.

Potato-Booze Howls Betray Convict Who Sets Up Own Still in Sing Sing

OSSINING, N. Y., July 8.—Bernard Conway, who was a burglar until he was caught at it, has been placed in solitary confinement in Sing Sing prison because he so far forgot his position as a convict as to engage in a little private distilling enterprise.

Had Conway been a man who knew when he had enough he might have had his daily shot of liquor for some time to come. He had discovered the potent possibility of the well-known potato when mixed with sugar and some mysterious things, and gone to it. The result was pleasant and astonishing.

All that he had to do then was to be temperate; but this is what he failed to be. He was suffering from a long thirst, and, too, he had let a convict friend in on the rum project.

Conway with a friend proceeded Tuesday to celebrate with the potato juice concoction and in no time at all Conway felt that he must sing.

Singing, at certain times, is against the prison rules. Likewise making rum out of potatoes. So when Conway attracted attention to his party he was promptly locked, alone, with a headache, in dark and narrow quarters. And his still in the prison print shop was located and destroyed.

CONVICT LECTURER WHO 'REFORMED' IS CAPTURED

CHICAGO, July 8.—John Francis Glynn, "post convict," widely known because of his lectures before Rotary and other clubs on his own "reformation," is again behind the bars, after attempting to rob and assault a woman and firing several shots at detectives who captured him in a desperate battle.

Glynn had just completed a tour of the United States, lecturing before large audiences and displaying a motion picture in which he was the star. By way of diversion he entered the home of Mrs. John McCafferty Wednesday night, bundled up all the jewelry, silver and other portable property he could find, and then attempted to attack Mrs. McCafferty, threatening her with death if she made an outcry. On a couch bed nearby were her two little girls. One of them awoke and began crying.

"Silence that brat or I'll blow you all to kingdom come," said Glynn, as he brandished a heavy revolver. Mrs. McCafferty succeeded in quieting the child and Glynn then started to attack her, when her son in an adjoining room, heard the uproar, came in with a pistol and Glynn leaped out of a window and ran. Detectives took up the chase and captured Glynn only after all his ammunition was exhausted and he had been severely beaten.

DAME NATURE A JOKE!

Rain Dries Air, Sun Cools Earth. Rises Before It's "Up," Sets Before It's "Down."

WASHINGTON, July 8.—A rain-storm dries the air; more goes up than comes down; as the sun sets the air grows warmer; the hotter the sun grows, the cooler the earth becomes; the sun rises before it is up and sets after it is down; these are strong statements and sound like a fairy tale, but they all are true.

Dr. W. J. Humphreys, quoted in the annual report of the Smithsonian institute, made public recently, explains all of them. They are well known to scientists, if not to laymen.

As everyone knows, Dr. Humphreys declares, water evaporates and is taken up into the air as vapor. This action is continuous all over the earth and the atmosphere soon would become soggy if it weren't dried. Rain is the collection, or condensation, and precipitation of these moisture particles, consequently, the more it rains the less water there is left in the atmosphere, or the drier the air becomes.

The sound of Dr. Humphreys' paradoxes appears to contradict the old saying "whatever goes up must come down."

Explains Air Circulation.

However, as the writer expressed it, vertical circulation in the atmosphere is only gravitational action, consisting in the sinking of relatively cold and therefore dense air, and rising of warm and light air. Contracted air descends, expanded air ascends. Therefore, mass for mass, the volume of ascending air always is larger than the descending.

In terms of mass, also, Dr. Humphreys says, descending air is less than ascending, for air, while rising, contains immense quantities of water in suspension, which does not return to earth with that air but as rain, hail or snow. The air that rises from the land surface is greater in mass by at least 20,000,000 tons a second, the measure of world precipitation, than that which descends, he says.

The third paradox is merely a way of stating that the warmest part of the day is not at noon when the sun is at meridian or overhead, but later. That is because the surface of the earth and the lower layers of air continue to absorb more heat from the upper layers for a time after the latter have been receiving the maximum amount of heat radiation from the sun.

Says Evidence Is Strong.

While it is not conceded universally that the next puzzler, "the hotter the sun, the cooler the earth," is true, Dr. Humphreys states, evidence in favor of it already is strong. There are a number of explanations offered. The first is that increased radiation from the sun causes earth's air currents to flow more rapidly, bringing down a greater quantity of cooler air from high latitudes to lower. He rejects this explanation, however.

The temperature of the sun varies, and sun spots are eruptions caused by heat activity. It is known, he continues, that earth's temperature varies with spot activity; that the cooler spots there are on the sun, the cooler the earth temperature becomes, and vice versa. Also, that the sun's corona in large measure is only so much dust, must interfere with passage of radiation through it. Hence: Hotter sun, more spots; more spots, denser corona; dense corona, less radiation received on the earth and warmer climate ensues.

Another explanation is the heat-absorbing quality of ozone, which exists in greater quantity in upper air. He concludes that the denser corona stops passage of a per cent of the ultra-violet rays, part of which, acting upon cold dry oxygen in the upper strata, form ozone.

Maximum Spots—Less Ozone. In times of maximum spots then there must be less ozone. But ozone absorbs a great amount of earth radiation, therefore if the earth should be receiving an increased amount of heat at this time, it nevertheless might grow colder because of the coincident depletion of the heat-conserving ozone blanket. It also is said that cirrus cloud or cirrus haze is more prevalent in earth's atmosphere during spot activity, and this blanket of cloud shuts out part of the solar radiation.

The reverse paradox then, which also is found to be true, may be accounted for in the same way. Sun's atmosphere is clearer during spot minimum, and although there may be less heat coming from the sun a larger percentage is permitted to reach the earth through the thinner blankets.

The paradox of the sun rising before it is "up" and setting after it has gone down, is explained by the sending of light waves when passing through the air. A stick, when placed in clear water, appears to bend; a light ray, when sent through the air, does bend. The rays from the rising sun are bent when they strike the air envelope.

This angle varies according to well-known laws, but on the average the light from the sun is bent 34½ seconds of degree, so that the upper limb of the sun when first seen is half a degree below the horizon. As the angular diameter of either sun, moon or star is less than this fraction, it follows that when the sky is sufficiently clear the whole of either may be seen before even its topmost portion geometrically is above the horizon.

While the reverse is not absolutely correct astronomically, it is added, when sun, star or moon set, because of the slight modification of refraction due to earth rotation, nevertheless the difference is exceedingly slight. Consequently, as the light rays are bent upward by earth's atmosphere, the sun has gone down before it is seen to set by a terrestrial observer.

PLOW HORSE'S DEVOTION COSTS HENRY A SALE

GALENA, Ill., July 8.—James Funston, a farmer, had contemplated the purchase of a tractor for farm use, but because one of his faithful plow horses saved his life he will continue to use horses to till his land.

Funston was using a cultivator on a hillside when the plow tipped over pinning him underneath. The horses became tangled in the harness, but did not run away.

After being under the plow for an hour Funston saw one of the horses look back, then the animal walked to the side of the plow, pushed it several times with his nose and rolled it off his master. Funston had suffered a broken leg.

MOLTEN METAL, STEEL WORKER'S RESTING PLACE

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—While cleaning the hearth of a furnace at the Midvale Steel company plant at Nicetown, Andrew Polterak, 46 years old, was killed when he was buried under four tons of molten metal.

Polterak was a furnace man at the plant and was at the bottom of the pit when the spout, from which the molten metal is released into crucibles, suddenly opened, the metal pouring over him.

Stunned workmen stood at the top of the furnace, unable to give assistance, as Polterak was covered with the molten metal in less than a second and his body disappeared. Officials of the plant said death was instantaneous, as the metal immediately absorbed the flesh and bones until nothing was left.

The accident was identical to one of 17 years ago at the plant when a man was killed in exactly the same manner and the steel ingot in which his body had been consumed was buried with usual funeral ceremonies. The bar was buried in a section of the yard of the plant.

An effort will be made to have the metal in which Polterak was killed buried in the same manner, although the size of the metal mass, which weighs four tons, may make this impossible.

Polterak is survived by a widow and six children, the youngest 12 years old.

WOMEN TO PARTICIPATE IN HAWAIIAN POLITICS

HONOLULU, T. H., July 8.—Nineteen women have been chosen as delegates to the coming Republican convention which will draw up a platform for the party in Hawaii. This is a considerable increase over the number of women ever sent to a previous convention and is taken by politicians to indicate rapidly increasing strength in the female vote.

Changes in the Organic act to permit women to hold political office in the territory are now pending in congress, and the likelihood of a woman being sent to Washington as delegate to congress in 1923 is now seriously considered.

"SORT OF A HABIT"

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—Following the marriage here of Robert Pyatt, 26 years old, and Mrs. Edna Pyatt, his brother Edward's widow, it has been learned that four of the Pyatt boys had married three sisters. The three sisters' maiden name was Harris, and they are second cousins to the Pyatt boys. All reside in Cherryville, Mo. Mrs. Robert Pyatt said she could not explain the intermarrying of the families, except it was "sort of a habit."

ELAINE HAMMERSTEIN HAS FINE ROLE IN NEW PLAY COMING TO LAMB

There is advance assurance that when Elaine Hammerstein opens Monday at the Lamb the attraction she will then present will give her legion of admirers the greatest amount of satisfaction her work has ever created on the screen. "Evidence" is the title of Miss Hammerstein's new photoplay, and Niles Welch is again leading man in Miss Hammerstein's support.

"Evidence" tells a story of stage life, in its early incidents, and then takes the leading actress into the home of an aristocratic family who resent an "actress" being foisted upon them as a relative. How Miss Hammerstein, by her artistry, makes the actress impress her personality favorably upon the snobs who oppose her is declared to be the best piece of acting this favorite star has ever exemplified.

The story runs along with increasing interest until in its final moments there is a "trick finish" to baffle the plot detectives. The surprise is complete for Miss Hammerstein, as the actress-wife finds herself in a situation that seems to be overpowering. But with a twinkling, by one speech and quick action, she turns the tables on her tormentors and emerges in triumph to greet her husband in the happiest of endings.

SOME HUSBANDS WILL DISAGREE WITH MOTHER

CHICAGO, July 8.—Miss Allie Wise, 16, of Texarkana, Ark., and Clarence Williams, who were arrested a week ago at the request of the girl's mother, were married by Judge Harry W. McEwen.

The mother relented, stating that she "guessed it was better that they get married than be kept in jail."

PRACTICAL JOKER IS DAINTY GLORIA SWANSON

Gloria Swanson showed marked propensities as a practical joker during the filming of "Beyond the Rocks," her new Paramount picture showing at the Liberty theatre today, when she made Rudolph Valentino, her leading man, the butt of a practical joke which caused hearty laughter. During the filming of a scene in an Alpine tavern, Mr. Valentino, seated in the dining room, finds a lace handkerchief which he learns belongs to one of the ladies in the party. He lifts it to his nose and is entranced by the delicious perfume, which brings back memories of a romance of the past.

Miss Swanson conspired with the property man in preparing a duplicate handkerchief in which was concealed several pieces of garlic!

At the last rehearsal before shooting the scene, Miss Swanson whispered to Sam Wood, director, to note the result. Slowly and with a beatific smile, Mr. Valentino lifted the dainty kerchief to his nose and then a look of infinite disgust overspread his features, followed by one of surprise, till the shrieks of laughter from the star and others told him it was a joke.

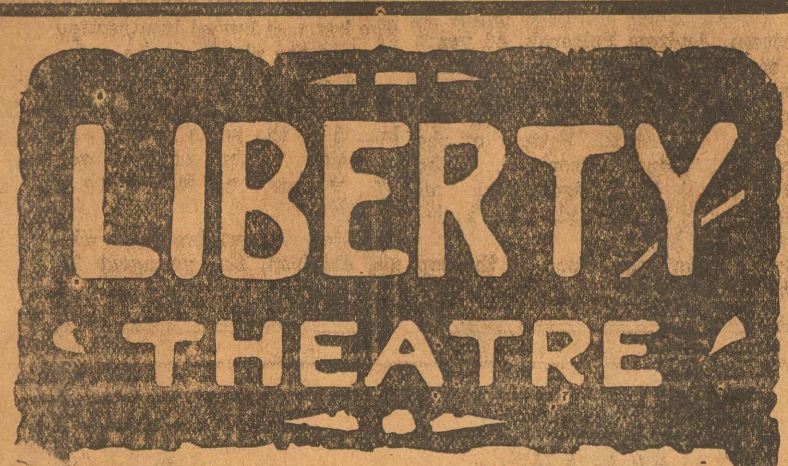

GIVES BIRTH TO CHILD IN SPEEDING FLIVVER

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Philip Heim, a contractor, is ready to admit the stork can put his "flivver" to shame when it comes to speed. The stork overtook him and Mrs. Heim while they were rushing to a maternity home.

Heim stopped near the residence of Mrs. A. L. Kitselman and awakened occupants of the house. The mother and babe were cared for until a physician came. Some time later the Heims proceeded.
