MOODY AT EASTLAND DENOUNCES KLAN

RANGER WILL HAVE BIG FLOW OF PURE WATER

Filtering Plant Nearing Completion; Material for New Standpipe Arrives.

Within the next 30 or 45 days the city of Ranger will be supplied through its water mains with water the people may use in any way they desire, even to drink, with full assurance that it is pure and good and healthful. Notwithstanding the lack of rain in the last six weeks and the fact that Ranger uses upwards of 600,000 gallons of water daily, Haganman lake is holding up splendidly and there is ample water for a long time to come.

Bordeau Bros., who have the contract to build the filtering plant, have almost completed the brick and masonry work. The city is now awaiting arrival of the equipment, which has been shipped by the International Filter company of Chicago, the same company that installed filtering plants for Austin, Corsicana and Marlin. This may arrive any day and will be installed at once. After it has been placed the public will be invited to inspect its operations. It is the latest up-to-date equipment for filtering plants that has been made and is guaranteed to purify water to make it fit for any use. It will supply the city with 1,000,000 gallons of pure water daily and may easily be enlarged to 2,000,000-gallon capacity.

The Chicago Bridge & Iron works has its men here now building the 20,000-gallon wash water tank that is necessary to wash the filter beds. As soon as that is completed, the workmen will turn their attention to the 500,000-gallon capacity standpipe that is to be placed on Eastland hill, directly behind the City-County hospital, on a site some eight or 10 feet higher than the present standpipe. This tank will be 40 feet in diameter and 53 feet in height and will have several times the capacity of the present standpipe. It will insure adequate water to every part of Ranger and give splendid fire protection.

The Ranger water supply, when the filtering plant has been completed, will stand the tests of the Texas state board of health and the federal requirements, and the additional water mains and new standpipe will give such fire protection as will decrease the city's insurance key rate.

DESTRUCTIVE STORMS SWEPT ACROSS FOUR MIDDLE WEST STATES

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—At least two men were killed and property damage running into millions of dollars was caused early today by cloud-bursts and cyclones which swept four middle western states. J. N. Schley, 32, and Claude Barrett, 19, were killed by floods near north Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where the storm struck the hardest. The two Iowa farmers were drowned when they attempted to rescue a herd of cattle. In addition, other Iowa cities, and portions of Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska were hit by wind and electric storms.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 19.—Ten prisoners were in an Osage county jail today as a result of a raid last night by Sheriff Cook, who descended upon the alleged "booze palace" in the Osage nation section of Tulsa, it was learned this morning. The sheriff confiscated the gambling devices and some of the money on the gaming tables. All the booze had been ditched, it was said, before the raid was made.

Brelsford To Speak In Ranger Tonight For Mrs. Ferguson

Former State Senator H. P. Brelsford of Eastland will speak in Ranger at 8 o'clock tonight on issues of the state campaign and in the interest of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for governor of Texas. He proposes to give a fair, full and logical exposition of the controversy that is the chief contention in the run-off primary of next Saturday and everybody wishing to be informed is invited to hear him.

B. H. PEACOCK, CITY ENGINEER, HAS BUSY TIME

Ranger's New Official Now Directing Laying of Many New Water Lines.

B. H. Peacock, a young man and graduate of the Texas A. & M. college, has been appointed by the Ranger city commission as city engineer of Ranger, succeeding the late M. D. McKimmon, who lost his life in the McCleskey hotel fire the morning of July 24. He is a son-in-law of A. J. Sandifer and, having been in Ranger frequently in the past, is well acquainted with conditions, beside having interests here that attach him to Ranger.

Mr. Peacock, upon receiving his appointment, lost no time in getting to work. He is engaged just now putting down about 1,800 feet of new water lines in the Cooper addition, closing up all dead ends and making extensions. This will result in better service to present water consumers and will add about 10 new customers who have been waiting to buy water from the city but have been prevented because the water lines were too distant to enable them to make connections except at prohibitive expense.

The city of Ranger is laying about 4,000 feet of new pipe, according to Frank A. Brown, superintendent of the city's water system. Extensions have been made where they were badly needed and many dead lines have been opened, in consequence of which many new water consumers have been added and the city's revenue from water increased. Two carloads of four-inch and six-inch cast iron pipe has just arrived and is to be laid along the west end of Pine and Hodges street, pipe will be laid along Pine street to Homer street, thence along Homer street to the Hodges Oak Park addition and along its various streets. Water consumers there who have been worrying along with an insufficient water supply will be able to get all they need and wish. It is expected that this pipe will be laid within the next 30 days, by the time the new standpipe is completed and ready to be put into service.

SUPPLY OF FRESH WATER FOR PORT ARTHUR PROPOSED

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 19.—Fresh water from the Sabine river coming to Port Arthur via the salty Neches river is a project now being worked out by Orange business men, according to Mayor Sol White of Orange. "The plan is to supply Port Arthur, Nederland and Port Neches with fresh water and forever solve your water problem is being seriously considered by a group of Orange business men," White said.

"We have convinced ourselves such a plan is feasible. Tunneling under the salty Neches and coming across with fresh water can be worked out by proper engineering." The mayor said J. Lutzer Stark, Orange capitalist, is now in the east making an investigation as to the possibility of the movement. "The chamber of commerce here now has ten projects for securing a water supply for Port Arthur territory."

Thomas P. Lee Declines to be Nominee for Texas Governor

Former Sheriff Of Childress County Believed Murdered

CHILDRESS, Texas, Aug. 19.—Sheriff Jim Crane of Childress county and all of his available deputies are at work on the theory that Mel J. Dwight, 63 years old, ex-sheriff of this county and candidate for reelection in the run-off, was shot in his own garage early Sunday by an unidentified person or persons, dying Monday. The suicide theory has been definitely discarded by Sheriff Crane.

At 11 o'clock Monday morning the grand jury was reconvened to hear a charge by Judge R. L. Templeton of this district relative to the shooting. The jury had been discharged Saturday.

Dwight died at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. His skull was fractured at the base of the brain. A bullet entered his left temple and passed clear through, coming out above his right ear.

Judge Templeton said he would charge the grand jury to make a full investigation. The dead man was an old-time peace officer of West Texas and an ex-cowpuncher. He was sheriff of this county some years ago. He was in the run-off campaign with John E. Compton, now city marshal of Childress, and was generally known as an anti-klan candidate. The race was very close in the first primary, Compton having a plurality of only 90 votes.

During the campaign a statement was printed in a local newspaper that Dwight had applied for membership in the klan and had been turned down.

In answer to this statement Dwight a few days ago issued a categorical denial that he had ever applied for klan membership. He said he would put $100 in each of the three Childress banks, to be given to the schools if anyone could produce any application for klan membership bearing his bona fide signature.

RANGERS MAY BE SENT TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—Adjutant General T. D. Barton and Capt. Frank Hamer, commanding ranger companies state headquarters in Austin, discussed today the advisability of sending rangers to investigate the fatal shooting of Mel J. Dwight at Childress, the anti-klan candidate for sheriff in the run-off primary, who was found early Sunday morning in his barn with a bullet in his head and died Monday afternoon.

These bonds were formerly pledged to the director general of railroads, but redeemed and now go to the Irving bank, Columbia Trust company, New York. They are 6 per cent securities. Redemption of the bonds means that the I. & G. N. railroad has paid its debt to the government.

5 MEMBERS OF BOATING PARTY DROWN IN LAKE

Four Young People of Floydada and One of Dublin Meet Death Near Crosbyton.

CROSBYTON, Texas, Aug. 19.—Death lay in wait at Silver Falls lake, near here, Sunday afternoon, to seize five young people of Floydada, three of them belonging to one family. They were boating on the lake and the boat overturned near a large concrete dam where the water is 30 feet deep. The dead are:

Frank Fawver, 23; Miss Virgie Fawver, 20; Milton Fawver, 17; Ernest Gregg, 20, and Leona Luttrall, 18.

Miss Esther Harry was in the boat when it overturned, but was rescued. All of the young men could swim, but the two girls who drowned could not and the young men were drowned trying to save them. A number of persons were on the bank, about 100 feet distant, when the boat went over and went immediately to their assistance, but too late to save them. The bodies were brought to the surface after a short time and efforts made to resuscitate them, but to no avail.

The Fawver young folks were children of G. L. Fawver of Floydada and had lived all their lives on a farm near here. Miss Luttrall was the daughter of Rufus Luttrall, a farmer of the Lakeview community, near Floydada, and Ernest Gregg's home was in Dublin.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 19.—Stewart and William Armstrong were held here today on charges of murder in connection with a gun fight near Fouke, Ark., near here, yesterday afternoon, in which three men were shot to death.

Charles and Jim Dixon were killed together with Walter Armstrong, an older brother of the two Armstrong boys who are being held. The elder Armstrong was killed, according to officers, when he attempted to halt the battle between his brothers and the Dixons. The fight is declared to have been the outcome of bad feeling between the two families.

KLAN WILL NOT GET PERMISSION TO PARADE

It has been rumored here for the past week that the Ku Klux Klan intended to parade in Eastland one night this week, but no definite announcement has been made so far as is known. City officials stated this morning that it was not deemed best for the klan to parade and that should they desire to or attempt to do so they would be requested not to parade. Chief of Police Elmer Lawrence of Eastland said this morning that he felt sure the leaders of the klan had no desire to and would not put on a parade against the will of the authority of the city.

Unusually Cool Weather Prevails On Atlantic Coast

Unusual August weather has been reported all along the Atlantic coast, from Northfield, Vt., where the mercury dropped to 40 degrees last night, to Richmond, Va., where the low mark of 54 was registered.

ANGRY WORKMEN ENDANGER LIVES OF PASSENGERS

Governor Neff Makes Address and Madame Schumann-Heink Sings at Meet.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 19.—The lives of more than 300 persons aboard the Argentine steamship Steuriano were imperilled when two bombs exploded aboard the vessel while it was on the high seas, according to reports received here. Fires broke out after the two explosions and it took the crew and many passengers more than three hours to extinguish the flames.

The steamship is manned by a non-union crew and there was a sharp conflict with the maritime workers' federation just before the ship sailed from port here Friday. An attempt was made to sink the ship while it was in port. A bomb was discovered aboard the ship at that time and was taken off.

Authorities here have ordered the arrest of many members of the Maritime Workers' federation, following the attempted destruction of the vessel.

The steamship was bound from Buenos Aires to Puntueza Arena.

Edwards Declares Miller Is Choice Of Political Bloc

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 19.—Will C. Edwards, Denton editor and candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke here Monday afternoon. He was introduced by Joe T. Leonard of the Gainesville Register.

"Barry Miller told a Gainesville audience the other day he couldn't understand how I could run independent of all blocs," Edwards said. "Of course, Barry can't understand such a thing, for his whole political career has been mainly as the representative of some special group or interest from the time he served the old brewery interests as lobbyist and paid orator down to now, when he is the nominee of the farm-labor union. Because of his own miserable conception of politics, it is simply because Barry's comprehension that any candidate should seek to serve the whole people fairly and justly, and naturally he is puzzled by an opponent whose platform consists of but two planks—a square deal and honest service to everybody."

"Judge Miller is the self-confessed nominee of a secret, oath-bound political bloc, the farm-labor union. He is committed to every plank in that bloc's platform, for he swapped his support of their legislative program for their nomination of him. And the reason he's cussing the Ku Klux is that he hopes thereby to make Texas democrats overlook those facts and make them forget his own political record."

Barry Miller, he said, favored repeal of the open port law and favored putting the state into the insurance business. Edwards said he was for retaining the open port law and against the state going into the insurance business. "In his Gainesville speech, Barry talked about my pussy-footing," he said, "when in the first campaign he gunned all over Texas making farm-labor speeches at farm-labor picnics appealing to the 'horney-louved son of a toil,' whom Barry loves so well every time he runs for office."

REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE TO CHOOSE AGAIN

Houston Man Is Unwilling to Handicap Party If Robertson Defeats Ferguson.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Aug. 19.—In a formal statement issued late Monday, Thomas P. Lee of Houston, nominee of the Texas republicans at their recent state convention in Fort Worth as their candidate for the governorship of Texas, declines positively to accept the nomination. He wired also to R. B. Creager of Brownsville, republican national committeeman for Texas, that he would decline the honor.

Mr. Lee was apparently willing to accept the nomination when it was made and a few hours later wired Mrs. Miriam Ferguson that he hoped she would be the nominee of the Texas democrats in their run-off primary and he wished her success in her further campaign, regarding his candidacy for the office on the republican ticket as an empty honor. Thereupon Creager gave out a statement demanding that Lee should resign the nomination which he considered an empty honor. In his wire to Creager, Lee recalled that Texas republicans had nominated Ferguson's campaign manager as their candidate for the U. S. senate two years ago and he did not think it inconsistent at this time to compliment Ferguson on his stand relative to the klan.

Lee's Statement

Lee's statement declining the nomination follows: "To the members of the republican party of the state of Texas: "Owing to my inability to be present at our convention at Fort Worth, I take this means of conveying to you my deep and sincere appreciation for the great honor you conveyed on me in nominating me as unanimous choice as the candidate for governor of our great state. "I did not seek this honor and requested many members of the party not to permit my name to be placed before the convention since I felt there were other good republicans in our state who could serve our party interest in this capacity better. The republican party in the state of Texas is composed of as fine a patriotic and representative body of men and women as can be found in any state in the union, and their political assemblies are a credit to any party any time, anywhere. Certainly no patriotic citizen would decline an honor conferred by them if it were possible for him to accept. No personal sacrifice should be too great for him to make in showing his appreciation of their care by waging an active, energetic campaign with a will to win regardless of his prospects as to who his opponent might be. "Regretless of the rumors that have come to me here to the contrary, the above are my sincere convictions and the interpretation, willfully or otherwise of anything that I have said or done, to the contrary, is utterly false. However, other false quotations or incorrect interpretation of my communication to James E. Ferguson by one or two of our own people who have made some rash and injurious public statements that would handicap my best efforts for party success, realizing this, I several weeks ago notified the proper parties that I respectfully declined the nomination. "These parties have declined to accept or make public this fact, insisting that I reconsider or at least defer announcement until after we can have a conference in Houston on Aug. 26. This latter request I would be pleased to grant if I could do so with justice to myself. However, public statements heretofore made by one of our people make this impossible. "Odds Favor Robertson. "Touching on the political situation. (Continued on page three.)"

PRINCE OF WALES LOSES AT GAMING TABLES AND RACE TRACK IN FRANCE

DEAUVILLE, France, Aug. 19.—Two days ago the Prince of Wales arrived here for a little recreation and today he is about 100,000 francs poorer as a result of friendly play at the races and gaming tables. Jules Westbaum of Philadelphia is said to have prospered at the gaming tables while the prince was a heavy loser.

CANDIDATE FOR LEGAL COUNSEL EXPOSES ENEMY

Moody, Seeking Office Attorney General, Says Klan Seek His Defeat.

Declaring that the Ku Klux Klan is a foolish, vicious and dangerous organization being put up as a substitute for the church and home, Dan Moody of Georgetown, candidate for attorney general of Texas, discussed that organization as the leading issue in the present political campaign in Texas for more than two hours before one of the largest crowds that has ever heard a political speech in Eastland this year in an open air meeting on the courthouse lawn last night.

Senator H. P. Brelsford of Eastland introduced Mr. Moody. He said the people of Texas were being called upon to make a decision on Aug. 23 that meant more to the future welfare of this government and the people than any question that had arisen within the past thirty years that he and all other citizens who

BRITISH HAVE MUCH FAITH IN MIRACLE CURES

Lure of Lourdes, in Southern France, Draws Pilgrims From England.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Widespread belief in supernatural cures at Lourdes, the "miracle place" in southern France, continues, notwithstanding the scoffing of science.

A committee of 50 English physicians recently examined the case of a girl who was supposed to have been cured of blood-poisoning by a Lourdes "miracle."

Cure Not Proven.

"On the evidence submitted, the cure is not proven," the physicians reported.

Nevertheless, Father Woodlock, a Jesuit priest who is in charge of the English pilgrimages to Lourdes, reiterated his belief in Lourdes "miracle cures."

"The report of the committee of physicians does not shake my faith," he declared. "I still believe, from all the circumstances of the case, that the cure was supernatural. There is no reason why God should not suspend for a worthy purpose the operations of the great natural laws which He has made. The scepticism manifested in regard to the Lourdes cures is the outcome of unfair judgments, and not the result of evidence."

Pilgrimages Continue.

Meanwhile, English pilgrimages to Lourdes continue as numerous as before. One party of 1,500, from Liverpool, started to the shrine a few days ago after the publication of the physicians' report—the pilgrims firm in their faith of Lourdes supernatural cures, scientific reports to the contrary notwithstanding. According to the tradition a shepherdess of Lourdes was directed to the medicinal spring by a vision of the Holy Virgin, more than 50 years ago. During these years many thousands of pilgrims from all parts of the world have journeyed to Lourdes, and, according to accepted statements, a great many who went there afflicted came away cured. Medical science does not deny that there have been many such cures. But it attributed them to autosuggestion rather than to miraculous or supernatural causes.

BIBLE THOUGHT.

Fear the Lord, and serve him in truth with all your heart: for consider how great things he hath done for you.—1 Samuel 12:24.

CAUTION ON LA FOLLETTE VIEWS.

The more thoughtful politicians of both old parties advise caution in denouncing the platform of the La Follette party, and to avoid an unpleasant boomerang old leaders are reminding their followers that of the 31 planks presented from his state since 1908, all of which had, at some time been called "radical" 26 have been enacted into laws by both democratic and republican administrations.

While the epithet of "socialism has been hurled at the LaFollette platform and measures it is pointed out that of the 13 planks submitted by Wisconsin in 1908, 11 have since been enacted into laws, and of the 18 propositions submitted in 1912, 15 have been written into the federal statutes, one has been partly enacted into law, and one was in the republican platform of 1916. The 1924 Wisconsin platform has not been entirely without honor from the republican party, since it favored adjusted compensation for the veterans of the world war, which a republican congress enacted over the veto of the president, and section 13 contained in substance the fundamentals of taxation for which the progressives in congress fought and which were substituted in the law for the Mellon plan.

Pending the time when the two old parties can mass their batteries for an attack, leaders of both parties are content to state that the platform is wholly impractical.

SALVAGING PUBLIC SCHOOLS

To make the public school system, both elementary and higher education, attain its greatest usefulness to the American people, three things are quite important.

First, extend industrial education until about one-half the time is spent on text books and the other half on learning trades and making boys and girls useful citizens.

Second, establish a public school savings system where every child will learn as early in life as possible to accumulate small savings instead of learning to spend money faster than they earn it.

Third, sell school bonds direct to the taxpayers in small denominations and keep the interest money at home among the people who pay the bills.

With these slight reforms put into effect, the public educational system might save our country from becoming a nation of soft-handed white collar non-producers.—The Manufacturer.

Attorney General Stone frankly deprecates the political influence that controls the office of public prosecutor in this country and thus pollute the administration of justice. Under the law the attorney general controls the remedy—that is, if the politicians permit him to exercise his duties. The great difficulty seems to be that most officials are but figure-heads—the real "force" keeps under cover.

The department of justice is seeking the cancellation of 20 oil prospecting leases in the Indian reservation, 18 of which were issued by former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall.

The retail cost of food in 14 of 19 cities in which surveys have been completed by the labor department, increased from 1 to 3 per cent last month.

Phone Permits Several to Listen or Talk at Same Time

To save time in large offices and eliminate the necessity for making repeated calls on the telephone, a small switcher board, transmitter and receiver have been combined into one compact instrument that can be placed on top of a desk or in any other convenient position. With it, the speaker can communicate with a number of offices and receive replies at the same time. It is designed especially for executives and managers.

Figuring Water Required on a Farm

A certain quantity of water is required as the daily output of every water-supply system, whether it is pumped by wind or other power and a storage tank must be provided for holding the water until it is used, and for caring for the surplus. If a windmill is used to pump the water a tank large enough to hold a three-day supply of water should be provided in order to furnish water over a period when there is little or no wind. If engine-driven pumps are used the tanks need only be large enough to hold a single day's supply, as the engine can be operated at any time regardless of weather conditions.

The amount of water required for all purposes from isolated water-supply plants, is, on the average, as follows: For all household and toilet purposes allow 25 gal. for each member of the family; allow 10 gal. for each horse, 10 gal. for each cow, 2 gal. for each hog, and 1 gal. for each sheep. Applying the rule, the minimum allowance for a family of five persons for household purposes only will be 125 gallons. In order that ample pressure will be obtained at all cocks the storage tank should be elevated at least 10 ft. higher than the highest tap and the higher the tank the greater will be the pressure.

Easy to Start an Avalanche

Avalanches have sometimes been started by trivial causes. The tinkle of sleigh bells or even a whisper, has been known to set them off in the Alps, and many lives have been lost by a climber shouting to his companions. Several years ago, a caravan of sleighs was overwhelmed by a sliding mass of snow and ice, supposedly started by the sound from the bells. Thick stone barriers have been erected high on the mountain slopes to protect travelers.

Tractor Guided Like Wheelbarrow Takes Place of Switch Engine

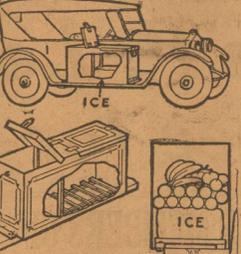

Run by storage batteries, a small electric truck for switching cars and towing lighters on canals has proved successful in Germany. It is guided somewhat like a wheelbarrow with two long handles between which are the starting and control levers. The tractor has power sufficient to pull or push seven small freight cars.

Detachable Running-Board Ice Box

A detachable running-board ice box of the kind shown in the illustration has been found to be of great value on camping trips. It is made of heavy galvanized iron, has a compartment for the ice, upon which fruit and soft-drink bottles can be placed, and another compartment for bread, cakes and food that must be kept dry. Two hinged covers are fitted to the top, as indicated, and a slat grating is provided in the bottom to allow easy drainage. The whole arrangement is fastened to the running board by means of four bolts passing through two angle-iron brackets, which are riveted to the ends of the box, and through holes drilled through the running board and bushed with ferrules. The ferrules are turned up out of brass stock and are threaded with a fine-pitch thread so as to permit screwing them into the wood; these have a nice appearance when the box is detached than plain drilled holes. A drain hole is drilled through the bottom of the ice compartment and through the running board. A 3/8-in. nut is soldered in this hole and a screw plug fitted in, a rubber washer being provided under the head.

Mr. Moss, manager of the Moss Gin company, bought the bale, paying 27 cents per pound for it, which was about three cents above the market price.

A $50 premium was made up by local business men and paid to Mr. Mallard. A premium is also to be given for the second bale to be ginned and sold in Eastland.

Dip branches of cauliflower in separately, fry in deep hot fat and drain.

Baked Stuffed Squash. Onions, Pepper or Tomato—One cup sifted bread crumbs, one small onion, chopped, one-half cup milk, two tablespoons melted shortening, one-half cup chopped ham or meat, one tablespoon minced parsley, salt and pepper and thin slices of bacon cut in half. Mix all ingredients except ham and stuff into cavities, combining with vegetable pulp. Skewer bacon on top of each one, sprinkle with more crumbs, bake slowly, basting with any shortening, until tender.

Asparagus Timbale.—One bunch asparagus, one cup medium-thick white sauce, one-half cup cream, one tablespoon gelatine, salt, pepper, and milk. Cut the tips from the asparagus and cook in salted water until tender but still shapely; cut remaining stalks in small sections and cook down until soft enough to strain, using the water as a puree. Soak gelatine five minutes in two tablespoons cold water, then add to the asparagus puree together with the wanted white sauce. When partially cool, season, and fold in the cream, whipped. Pour into wet timbale or other small molds to set and chill.—From the Designer Magazine for September.

LEGIONNAIRES GET STARTED ON THEIR REUNION

Destruction of Argentine Passenger Steamer by Bombs Attempted Two Times.

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 19.—Texas members of the American legion and visitors attending their reunion are attending the sixth annual convention of the Texas legionnaires, which opened here yesterday morning. State Commander M. W. Sherwood presided.

Following an address of welcome by Mayor Fred S. Abney of Brownwood and an address by Mark McGee on behalf of the Isham A. Smith Robert M. Wagstaff of Abilene extended welcome for the legionnaires in the seventeenth district, and response to all were made by Maj. Gen. John C. Townes of Houston.

Madame Schumann-Heink, a special guest of the legionnaires, sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," and "Taps," and said it gave her the greatest satisfaction and pleasure to sing for the soldier boys.

Neff Talks of Peace. "We have the battles of peace that are just as important as the battles of war," said Governor Neff. "If we are not now willing to fight the battles of peace, the soldier boys who have fallen in France have fallen in vain. I came here to sound a call to arms, a call to the battles of peace that are now being fought and will continue to be fought on Texas soil.

"America is the great missionary spirit of the world. Our battles have not been by accident. On the contrary, they have been by divine design. In America, here beneath our flag, is man, in keeping with the eternal program, to fight out the battles of civilization. Our civilization did not come into being by accident. Through six thousand years of mingled joy and gloom the children of men have been marching on, ever on. Millions of martyrs have fought and fallen in the building of the empire we enjoy today. Our forefathers at Plymouth Rock dedicated this western continent to religious and civic liberty. The first legislative body in America was opened in prayer. The first time such a thing had happened in the history of the world.

"Civilization climbs upward and upward. Here in America we take our last stand in the fight to make civil and religious liberty the inalienable right of every man. To be an American citizen now-a-days is a grander honor than it ever was to be a king. I would not trade my poll tax receipt as an evidence of my American citizenship for any crown that ever pressed the brow of any king."

The two conventions will continue through Wednesday. In conjunction with the legion convention the Ninth-tenth division's annual reunion is also being held here and La Societe de 40 Hommes at 8 Chevaux, the legion's playground organization, opened its program of funmaking Tuesday.

Approximately 1,000 delegates and visitors were present for the opening of the legion and auxiliary convention Monday. The attendance is expected to reach 3,000 by Tuesday.

PIRATES HAVE WON RIGHT TO LEAD LEAGUE

Steady Team Work and Star Individual Plays Carry Them to Top.

By FRANK GETTY, United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The mid-season threat to the Giants' supremacy in the National league came from a not entirely unexpected quarter—Pittsburgh.

Bill McKechnie had been promising us all season that if he could just get his boys out of a rut and start them hitting the whole Pirate machine would start to function co-ordinately and just raise all kinds of trouble around the older circuit.

Sure enough, once the Pittsburgh aggregation got over the hill they sailed along with scarcely a break, causing all kinds of trouble for the rest of the clubs and transplanting some of the creases in the Giants' pants to their brows.

McKechnie was justly proud of his infield. Grimm, Maranville, Traynor and Wright, in mid-August looked equal, in point of mechanical perfection and quick thinking, to any set of infielders in the league.

When it came to batting, Traynor and Wright were outshining Groh and Jackson of the Giants, although of course, Kelly exceeds Grimm as a first-sacker and sticker, and Frisch can bat rings around the "Rabbit." Perhaps, everything considered, the Giants' infield is strongest in the long run, but on mid-August form it had nothing on those hustling Pirates.

The Pittsburgh outfielders cannot hit with those of New York, but are faster. Meusel, Wilson and Young were hitting around .315, and .342 respectively, when Cuyler, Carey and Barnhart could not produce than .375, .276 and .272.

Gooch and Earl Smith have been doing good backstop work for McKechnie, and hitting well over .300. Gowdy and Snyder of the Giants are also pounding the ball.

With a bad start, the Pirates clambered out of the second division and into the runner-up position in less than a month in mid-summer.

The Pittsburgh pitchers were consistent and this in a large degree was responsible for the success of the team. McKechnie has seven twirlers—Yde, the unbeatable south-paw; Kremer, who pitched well all season; the veteran Cooper, who was at his best in August, another south-paw; "Spec" Meadows, who needs no introduction; Morrison, a curve-ball pitcher; Pfeffer, Card cast-off, and Stone, a rookie. The idea is to keep the first five rotating with the other two in reserve.

The Pirates have been doing some nifty base-running, McKechnie being one of those who believe that a little pilfering here and there, and a hit stretched now and then, may mean the difference of the winning or losing column before the scoreboard boy goes home. The Buccaneers lead both leagues in stolen bases, with more than 100 to their credit. The Giants have stolen less than 50.

Another team that demands attention, coming up out of the ruck, is the St. Louis Browns. Out in St. Louis, a month or so ago, George Sisler drew rancous razzberries when he warned the wise ones to watch his men work; before mid-August he had them up to within five games of the pacemakers; and there was trouble galore for any club that went up against the Browns.

The American league race has developed one of the best in years. The Red Sox made their threat, and looked like world-beaters; over in Boston they gilded up the sacred cod-fish and elected Lee Fohl mayor; but the joy was short-lived and the beans grow cold as father waits nowadays for a Boston victory. Then came the Senators with a rush, and, for a time, they upset tradition by making the pace. Detroit took up the white man's burden for a bit, everybody figuring on some way to beat the Yanks. But the latter, thanks almost certainly to Babe Ruth's magnificent example, kept climbing back up to top. Now the Red Sox are gone, and the Browns are come as a late season threat.

SANDE RIDES FILLY, SALACIA, IN GREAT RACE

Overcomes Much Delayed Get Away and Wins by Two Lengths.

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A gallant effort after a bad break of luck—particularly if it be crowned by unexpected victory—is what sportsmen cheer.

The runner who stumbles at the hurdle, but goes on after the field; the tennis player who sprains an ankle, but fights back with the set point against him; the pitcher who takes up the burden of a six or eight-run handicap against him, and blanks his opponents until his team-mates come to life and overcome the lead; these are the heroes of the sport world.

It is not often that such efforts grace turf performances to such an appreciable degree that horse and rider become the heroic vertex of a storm of cheering such as rose at Saratoga a few days ago when Sande rode Salacia home.

The Widener filly, sturdy daughter of Ultimus out of Queen of the Water, was carrying top weight in a race against the best mares in the country. And she was left at the post. Not left by just a few leaps, but the last of the field was a sixteenth of a mile away before the three-year-old started to run.

Earl Sande was up, and horsemen supposed he would ease Salacia up and not start on any wild-goose chase that could only, they said, lead to a lot of unnecessary effort.

Sam Hildreth and Jack Joyner, veteran trainers, swore and turned their backs away from the track as Sande let the filly out, under restraint. Salacia was fairly flying after the field, which was rounding into the stretch in a cloud of dust, but it seemed like such a hopeless chase that the trainers damned the boy for taking a chance on ruining the mount.

Only a few others watched the filly, their eyes intent on the race. But Salacia was gaining ground at every bound. Sande found her full of run and let her go.

Down the backstretch Salacia had been a furlong behind the leaders; rounding the turn she was up with the trailers, flying.

"Look at Salacia, she's running away," the crowd began to shout, although most of them counted her out of the race.

When straightened into the stretch still seeming to be running easily, the Widener filly made a final spurt. Earl Eanda, greatest rider of the American turf, settled down to ride as only he can.

Past the field like an arrow went Salacia. Twenty yards from the winning post she was two lengths out in front, and she won by that much.

The ovation that greeted her and Sande was like that accorded the winner of a great stake event.

Men and women went wild and crowded around. Some unofficial clockers caught Salacia in record time.

NATIONALITY OF THE ARMENIAN TO BE DETERMINED GENEVA, Switzerland.—The involved legal question "what nationality is an Armenian?" will be taken up at a series of international conferences here this summer. For the past two years, a half-million Armenians in Europe have had no recognized nationality and therefore no passports. Lack of a passport throws serious difficulties in the way of travel, business and even residence. The largest number of refugees involved in this question are found in Greece, Syria, Palestine and Egypt. The first of the conferences will take place here next month, being the annual meeting of the International Near East association, a body associated with the league of nations. The presiding officer will be an American, Charles V. Vickrey of New York, who is the general secretary of the Near East relief.

REPUBLICANS WILL HAVE TO CHOOSE AGAIN

(Continued from page one) tion in our state, as I see it, as a matter of party principle we have eliminated the possibility of our drawing support from the pro-Robinson faction. The anti-Robinson faction since the initial primary must be of necessity pro or anti-Ferguson, therefore it is apparent to me that we, to be successful, must draw our support from the good men and women in both the latter factions that believe we could elect our candidate.

"Judging from the results two years ago under substantially the same existing conditions in the democratic party and the past is the best guide for the future, it is my judgment Mr. Robertson will be the democratic candidate. I might hope for an increase in crude oil within the near future, but my judgment of the general situation in Texas leads me to believe that we will not receive it."

"I will only add that I have received from our people in Texas a great many more communications of commendation on my wire to Mr. Ferguson than I have of criticism."

Million Persons Ill Daily Through Health Carelessness

THE alarming increase in infectious diseases throughout the country has stirred national, State and municipal health authorities to extraordinary activity to stem the tide of sickness and remove the causes of death. The officials seeking to prevent this wide spread of illness are calling upon the public to aid them in their fight, because most of the disease now rampant is due mainly to public carelessness or neglect of ordinary precautions.

In the opinion of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Commissioner of Health in Chicago, there are on an average 3,000,000 persons ill all the time. He says that forty-two per cent of this illness is preventable, which means that every day there are over a million men, women or children shut in and suffering when they could be healthy and happy had they applied personal sanitary measures.

The recent announcement of the United States Public Health Service that smallpox has had outbreaks in thirty-five States has called attention to the fact that most of the cases of this disease are carried from one city to another and from one State to another by sufferers who fail to take proper protective measures.

It has been found that much of the communication of diseases is due to carelessness in the use of drinking vessels. An investigation in Chicago, reported to the General Health Bureau, gave the results of analysis of twenty common cups or glasses. Nine were taken from schools, three from hotels, five from railroad depots, two from stores, and one from a children's home.

All of these revealed the presence of germs to a dangerous degree. It was evident that these glasses carried virus that would spread pneumonia, diphtheria, influenza and other general and contagious diseases. The Chicago bacteriologists infected guinea pigs with the germs so obtained. Five developed abscesses six became very ill and two died, one of a pus infection and the other of typical diphtheria.

"It need hardly be said," concluded the report, "that the Commissioner of Health is heartily in favor of single-use drinking cups and that their value from a sanitary standpoint is beyond question. It, no one need use it. That is within one's absolute control.

Dr. Frank J. Monaghan, Commissioner of Health in New York City, says:

"When any one ill from an infectious disease drinks ice cream soda or any other drink at a public place, his saliva touches the glass. This glass if not properly cleansed will transfer the saliva and the germs through the drink served the next person. Thus, it does not demand any imaginative process to understand how the common drinking glass spreads infectious diseases.

"Avoid using the common drinking cup," he advises. "When you stop for a glass of ice cream soda or any other drink at a fountain where you can see how the glasses are cleaned, do not give your order if the cleaning is not properly done. At all public places, drinking glasses should be sterilized by being washed in hot soda solution, and then rinsed in hot water. If this process is not used, then paper drinking cups should be used.

The common drinking cup, as pointed out in Bulletin No. 57 of the United States Public Health Service, when improperly washed between users is largely responsible for the communication of: tuberculosis pneumonia, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, tonsillitis, influenza, measles, infantile paralysis and colds.

Dr. Charles V. Chapin, of Providence, R. I., one of the most noted sanitarians of the country, says: "Indirect contact is far more important than direct. Perhaps the use of a common glass for drinking is the best example of a mode of indirect contact. It was also the first which the public learned to appreciate and avoid. The common drinking glass is going, but unfortunately has by no means gone. Even if the Board of Health neglects to enforce the law against it, no one need use it. That is within one's absolute control.

There are many persons who will not water a horse at a public fountain for fear of glanders who will themselves drink out of anything.

Because of the agency of the common glass in the spread of the diseases that now are taking their toll in sickness and death the local health authorities are directing their first steps toward the detection of those violating the law forbidding its use.

Forty-four States have such laws, and these are supplemented in many cases by municipal ordinances. Because of the great number of public places, soda fountains, schools, railroad stations, theatres, hotels, restaurants and other places where these are used, it generally is impossible to cover the whole territory except at long intervals. For this reason most of the health boards are asking the public to aid them in their campaign by reporting such violations as come to their notice.

It is hoped through this means to remove the peril that lies in the path of children who are too young to discriminate or care, or adults who are thoughtless or neglectful of the comfort and health of others. Many civic organizations, such as the Parent-Teacher Association, settlement houses, Chambers of Commerce and other groups are working with health officials to eradicate the menace to health.

The application of united effort to this step, it is believed, will heavily reduce the illness that now needlessly claims one million persons each day.

PEOPLE DON'T EXCUSE PIMPLES—GET RID OF THEM

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are doing almost miraculous things for people who had tried many things in desperation trying to get rid of pimples, blotches, bumps, eczema, "breaking out." That more than two million packages are being used a year just proves its wide use and tremendous popularity with the people whose skin it has cleared up. Any dealer can supply you with both the Ointment and the Soap. So there is no excuse to keep being bothered with your skin troubles. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

ICE HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

- If you get cold and have no fire you can go to bed and keep warm.
- If you were hungry you could eat most any food without cooking, provided it was fresh.
- If someone stole your clothes you could wear a barrel or a sugar sack.
- But when it is 104 in the shade you can't buy at any price the satisfaction that is frozen into a 25-pound chunk of ice.

PROPER LIGHTING REDUCES ACCIDENTS IN FACTORIES

Not four out of ten factories are properly illuminated, in spite of the fact that it has already been demonstrated that proper illumination in industries yields a very large return upon the money invested.

In the report of a survey of lighting conditions in factories recently completed it is stated that, although light is one of the prime essentials in modern manufacturing, it is too frequently one of the last to be appreciated.

"Good lighting lessens the work of the hands and shortens the time required to accomplish the task," the report goes on to say. "It is through correct lighting that the worker can move along with his work without using unnecessary energy to dodge shadows. It increases his confidence in himself and so he works with greater sureness.

"The highest accident figures are found in poorly lighted plants in December and January. In the modern daylight plant, adequately lighted by electricity in dark hours, the difference is not noticeable, except that the majority of accidents happen either on Mondays or Saturdays."

REMARKABLE COLLECTION OF ORIENTAL RUGS TO BE SHOWN IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK.—A remarkable collection of Oriental rugs, expressing the gratitude of various groups of American and Greek child refugees in Palestine and Greece for American assistance, is now on its way to New York for exhibition here during the Christmas season.

The rugs, woven in a score of refugee camps on native wooded looms, carry a variety of unusual designs, including portraits of Presidents Wilson, Harding and Coolidge, the American flag, the coat of arms of the United States, and the five-pointed star which has been adopted as the emblem of the Near East relief in its refugee work abroad. The borders of the rugs carry golden rule mottoes in Armenian and Greek, expressing the gratitude of the refugees to their American benefactors.

Rug-writing is one of the oldest methods of formal official expression in the east. This collection of rugs, presented to the American relief representatives in Athens and Beirut, is the largest single group of such formal tributes in the history of near eastern countries.

When it was suggested to the refugee committee that Americans would object to the use of the American flag in floor rugs, the explanation was given that these rugs are not intended for floor use but are wall decorations or hangings. Throughout the Near East, the walls of houses and palaces are decorated, not with pictures and paintings, but with exquisite rugs.

The largest counterfeit United States dollar in history was recently seized by customs agents in New York. It was a rug reproducing a silver certificate, brought in by a Chicago Greek, to whom it was given by refugee workers in Athens. Federal agents explained that it is illegal to import any reproduction of American currency. The rug is six feet by four and reproduces exactly the color scheme of the one-dollar bill. The American motto "In God We Trust," has been adopted as a trademark by the refugee rug workers in one of the Near East relief industrial schools in Armenia.

"You have built up a remarkable business. Why not save some of your advertising money and run along on momentum for a while?"

"Well," replied Wrigley, "we have had a fine, fast trip west from Chicago so far, but how much progress do you suppose we would have made if they had taken off the locomotive?"
