SINCLAIR PIPE LINE WALKER FOUND DEAD IN WATERS OF CREEK

A. B. Roberts, Missing Since Friday, Believed to Have Fallen From Concrete Dam; Officers Leave Body in Creek.

A body, which was later identified as being that of A. B. Roberts, a pipe line walker of the Sinclair company, was found yesterday at 12 o'clock floating in Caddo creek, near the Ledbetter camp, fifteen miles north of Ranger. Behind the dead man's right ear and a little above it was found a deep wound. Evidence showed that the body had been in the water for several days and the pipe line department of the company was missing for several days.

When found the dead man was barefooted and his walking shoes and a straw hat were lying on the opposite bank. Near his body was a bundle of clothing which he is supposed to have been carrying. Seventeen dollars in money was found in his pockets.

Slipped From Dam. How Roberts died is not known but the supposition is that he was crossing a concrete dam across the creek and slipped and fell, striking his head in the fall. Several inches of water is running over the dam and its top is very slippery. The body was found in shallow water about fifty feet below the dam.

On information that could be obtained, the man ate breakfast at Strawn Friday morning and started to the Ledbetter camp. He had not been seen from that time until his body was found floating in the creek.

Left Body in Water. A call was placed to the Milford Undertaking company and both John E. Milford and his ambulance driver, E. F. Adair, went to the Ledbetter camp, arriving late in the afternoon. Mr. Milford was told that Stephens county officials had examined the body about noon and left it in the water. They, however, took the clothing lying on the bank and the money the dead man had in his pocket.

With the exception of two foremen at the camp, none of the men would assist in rescuing the body. Mr. Milford took the matter up with the officials of the pipe line department, who issued orders that the men in the camp render all the help they could. The men, however, threatened to quit their jobs before they would go near the body, which was badly decomposed.

The four men waded into the stream, attached ropes to the floating body and by the aid of boards, finally dragged it up the steep bank of the creek. It was loaded into a truck and brought into Ranger, where it is being held by the Milford company pending funeral arrangements.

LINCOLN AND ERVIN REMAIN IN CITY RACE

In the election being held today to fill the vacant place in the city commission, the race has dwindled to two entries, R. D. Lincoln and R. A. Ervin. Dr. C. O. Terrell withdrew early yesterday and late yesterday afternoon Dr. W. C. Palmer also had his name removed from the ticket.

Because of the nature of his profession, Dr. Palmer decided he could not do the place justice if elected and believed that for the best interests of the city he had better step down in favor of the other entries.

The election is being held at the fire station on Fifth street and little interest is being displayed as to its outcome. At 11:30 this morning only eighty-seven votes had been cast. It is doubted if half the voting strength of the city will turn out to cast their ballots.

As in state elections the polls will close at 7 o'clock and it is expected that the winner will be announced at that hour.

THIRTY-THREE INDICTMENTS BY GRAND JURY

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES. EASTLAND, Sept. 14.—Both the district courts were again called together this morning and began work in earnest. The grand jury, after a session today, returned indictments against three of the men who are said to have had part in the robbery of the Oklahoma cabaret in Ranger last week. One of the men, R. F. Thompson, has three indictments to face for robbery and one for attempt to kill. Charlie Mims is charged in three indictments with robbery and in one for attempt to kill. Dan Hamilton has one charge against him and that for robbery. It is expected that these cases will be among the first placed on trial next week when the criminal docket will be taken up.

Among the thirty-three indictments returned by the grand jury last Thursday, the following are in jail and their cases are expected to be called at an early date: Homer B. Strosnider, forgery; Paul Varner, theft of automobile; George Stone, robbery; Frank Wentworth, two indictments, one for theft of $450 and another for burglary; Herbert Sanders, two indictments, one for burglary and another for theft; L. F. Sehill, two indictments, one for robbery and another for theft; W. G. Kelly, forgery; Joe Jackson, theft; Clarence C. White, theft; Ben Gieger, burglary; Clarence Parin, two cases, one for burglary and another for theft.

N. Y. WOMAN CAPTAIN IN ARMY OF ARAB PRINCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A New York woman, Anna L. Fisher, formerly a Red Cross worker in France and later a Near East relief worker in Syria, is a full-fledged captain in the Arabian army of the Prince Feisal at Damascus, according to E. M. Newman, of Chicago, who has returned from five months in the Near East. At present Miss Fisher is in charge of the industrial education of women and children in Damascus; but in the event of war she would be expected to take her part as an Arab army officer, which Mr. Newman says, she is quite ready to do.

Although the French have deposed Feisal, the Prince's Arabian army is virtually intact and he hopes that a solution of the Arabian question may be reached by which the "Allies" will carry out their promises of an independent Arabian state," Mr. Newman said.

CORPUS DESIGNATED AS 'LEAVE AREA' OF LEGION

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 14.—Reminiscence of A. E. F. days, this city has been designated by the Texas department of the American Legion as the official "leave area" of the state.

While the picturesque touch will be lacking that was present when the Yanks of the A. E. F., in olive drab and with their "musettes" filled with extra socks, cigarettes and souvenirs, journeyed to such famous watering places as Nice, Biarritz, Menton and Monte Carlo, nevertheless plans under consideration by city authorities promise the legionaires a good time when they visit their state "leave area." A ten city located just a few yards from the breakers at North Beach is to be one of the attractions for the former soldiers.

In accepting the offer of Corpus Christi citizens the state organization extended them a vote of thanks and instructed officers of the legion to give the project adequate publicity among the members.

SOVIET FIRM ON GUARANTEES FROM POLAND

RIGA, Sept. 14.—Russian Bolshevik peace delegates, who have arrived to meet representatives of Poland and negotiate the armistice and peace treaty, consider this meeting merely a continuance of the Minsk conference. Adolph Joffe, head of the Soviet delegation, said the Bolshevik terms were never answered by the Poles at Minsk and no counter proposals were submitted. He said the Poles merely criticized the Russian terms then and before the conference was proceeded here the Poles must make known the terms upon which they would base a treaty.

POLICE SEIZE STILL BUT LIQUOR MAKERS ABSENT FROM PARTY

A whisky still going in full blast was captured by members of the police department last night at 11 o'clock, together with several gallons of corn whisky. The outfit was located in a house in the Paige addition and though of small capacity, was complete in every detail. At 8 o'clock a cordon of police was thrown around the house to await the arrival of the owners of the whisky-making layout. At 11 o'clock they had not appeared and the police moved in. Chief of Police Eugene Reynolds and Detective Dick Rust led the raid.

H-K TO OPEN NEW TOWN OF JIMKURN SOON

TOWNSITE NEAR BRECKENRIDGE TO BE TERMINUS OF RAILROAD HAMON ANNOUNCES. Announcement has been made by Col. Jake L. Hamon, president of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad company, that the new town of Jimkurn, about nine miles north of Breckenridge, will be opened on Monday, Oct. 4. The new townsite which has been named in honor of James M. Kurn, of St. Louis, president of the Frisco railway system, will be the terminus of the Hamon road and inasmuch as it now looks as though the northwestern extension of the Breckenridge oil field will extend to Jimkurn and beyond, it is expected that the 2,000 lots comprising the new townsite will be disposed of on the opening day of the sale.

INDICTMENT NOT RETURNED AT EASTLAND

Several Other Cases Are Dropped For Want of Evidence.

The grand jury of Eastland county after investigating the charges against E. A. Ringold, former city tax assessor and collector, of embezzlement and altering tax receipts, failed to find sufficient evidence to indict. This information was contained in a report received this morning from Eastland.

The charge against Mr. Ringold followed an audit of the city's books where it was alleged that he embezzled $4,000 and altered tax receipts. At the time the charges were brought Mr. Ringold placed enough money in the treasury of the city to cover his alleged shortage. When the warrant was issued for his arrest the city commission asked for and received his resignation as tax collector. The school board that he also served as collector retained his services regardless of the charges against him.

Others who were investigated by the grand jury and released are Edna Billings, Alvey White, C. Lester, Tom High and Boyd Penn.

Penn was arrested and charged in justice court with having stolen a mule. Penn claimed that he bought the mule and was not guilty of the charge against him.

CONVICTS RUSHED TO FIELDS

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 14.—Every available convict in the Texas penitentiary is being rushed into the cotton fields on the state farms to gather the cotton which has been opened by the past week of hot weather. The crop is greater than could be picked by the regular personnel of the prison farms, and the prison commissioners are trying to get as much out of the fields as possible before rain falls. The state farms will produce between 7,000 and 8,000 bales this year, the commissioners believe.

Salvation Army Fund in Need of Workers; Aid in Collecting Money Urged

The Salvation Army has justified itself in Ranger. With her entire life yet before her, a 17-year-old girl has been lifted from the sordidness of wile, whiskey-drinking nights followed by days of remorseful memories and has been placed in the Salvation Army rescue home at San Antonio. Mrs. F. F. Mullins, wife of the captain of the local Salvation Army corps left last night with the girl for San Antonio. There she will be taught to forget the things she has learned of all that is bad and will be taught a useful way to earn a living. Such work as this, and to care for the hungry, the bedless, the lame and the sick, is why the army is asking that Ranger provide it with a $10,000 working fund to be used both as a housing and relief fund.

WITNESSES FOR STATE ARE ABSENT

Insufficient Evidence to Prove Charges, Says County Attorney.

The curtain was run down yesterday on another of the more vivid criminal cases which found their inception in Ranger during the boom time of Ranger's civic infancy.

The culmination came when joint charges of murder on two counts were dismissed at the request of the county attorney at Eastland against Fonzo Barnes and Leon Wilson. The charges have been pending since last October when the double killing occurred. The county attorney explained that he lacked witnesses and evidence to prove guilt.

The fatal shooting occurred in a Pine street house, operated by a Marjorie Grill. At the time police were told that Barnes and Wilson were in the house when Shriver and Gallagher entered. Reviving an old dispute between Gallagher and Barnes, the gunplay followed. Gallagher was the first to fall. Shriver was killed instantly. Gallagher died a week later at Dallas, where he was taken for treatment.

Besides the Grill woman several other girls were in the house at the time of the shooting. Exact details of the affray have never become widely known.

Dismissal of charges against the two Ranger men exonerates them of all guilt in connection with the killing.

AUTOIST TOSSED FORTY FEET BY TRAIN SUFFERS ONLY BROKEN NOSE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14.—Robert Lewis, a negro, suffered but slight injury at 10:30 o'clock this morning when an automobile he was driving was struck by a Rock Island train at the Forsythe boulevard crossing.

Although the automobile was wrecked and Lewis thrown forty feet the only injury he sustained was a broken nose.

Dr. Harry Greenfield, 7219 Lindell boulevard, who attended Lewis said that the latter's escape from death was miraculous.

TEMPLE THEATRE

The picture at the Temple theatre, aside from telling an exciting story, contains artistic scenes that are a rare delight. It is "The Right to Love," produced by George Fitzmaurice and featuring Mae Murray and David Powell, the same talented players who were in "On With the Dance."

Miss Murray is seen as Lady Falkland, wife of the British representative at Constantinople. He is a dissolute man, who has hired a Prince Stanislaus to compromise Lady Falkland. In this way Lord Falkland hopes to secure a divorce and marry his mistress, Lady Edith, Colonel Loring, an American, played by David Powell, strikes up a friendship with Lady Falkland and in a clash with her husband, and Prince Stanislaus, Loring kills Lord Falkland. By a twist of fate, he is acquitted in the subsequent trial.

Miss Murray and Mr. Powell are seen to excellent advantage, and the other members of the cast, which includes Holmes E. Herbert, Alma Tell, Mavey Helman, and Frank Lose, give creditable performances. Ouida Bengere, adapted "The Right to Love." It is a Paramount release.

LAMB THEATRE

Locklear's Feats Benefit Mankind. "A crusader for science."

In these words men who knew him have honored the memory of Lt. Omer Locklear, the daredevil aviator.

The greatest "stunt flyer" the world ever saw, Locklear never performed a daring exploit above the clouds for the sake of challenging Fate, for the applause of the crowd, or even altogether for the sheer joy of the game—though the joy of the game did have something to do with it. He carried out his feats because he knew they would one day be useful to all men.

"The first man who looped the loop," he declared, "was casted rash and foolhardy. They said he would soon break his neck. Five years later it was a part of every aviator's training to loop the loop, and Pegoud had not broken his neck. He was not doing a stunt when he fell."

"When I first did my trick of stepping one plane in mid-air to another, I was rash and foolhardy. I was unmarialed. But I convinced the authorities that there was no danger at all for me, and that, furthermore, there was a distinct benefit in it for the world."

Locklear's feat of stepping from one plane to another, if generally practiced by aviators during the war, might have saved many lives. One of the most daring feats of a war aviator, almost worthy of Locklear himself, was performed by a British observer. After a duel with a German plane the Britisher noticed that his pilot was wounded. Suddenly the pilot's hand left the "joystick" and the plane began to move erratically.

Like a flash the observer left his seat climbed over the side of the fuselage, along the wing and into the pilot's seat. He took the stick and brought the machine safely to earth. The pilot recovered from his wound.

Locklear performed many feats similar to this before he discovered that it was possible to change planes thousands of feet from the earth. On one occasion he was flying at a great height when his pilot noticed that the engine was not working properly. Locklear at once crawled out and fixed the engine.

"The Skywayman," a spectacular drama of adventure above the clouds, with Locklear as the star, is playing at the Lamb.

PORTO RICAN SUGAR GROWERS REJECT CUBAN OFFER TO FORM COMBINE

The Associated Press
SAN JUAN, Sept. 13.—The Porto Rican Sugar Producers' association has replied to a request to join Cuban sugar interests in an effort to prevent refiners from forcing down the price of raw sugar that, while the local association could not join officially with Cuba in such an effort because of federal laws, Porto Rico would not make shipments of sugar except as sold.

The cable received from the association of Hacendados y Colonos de Cuba said:

"In view of the unjustified lowering in prices of raw sugar which endangers sugar growers' interests to the exclusive benefit of refiners, we invite you to inform us if you think it possible to obtain joint action to adopt legitimate measures to avoid grave losses in the present and coming crop."

Following the receipt of this cable a meeting of the board of directors of the Sugar Producers' association was called and Eduardo Gonzales was authorized to send this reply for the association:

"Federal legislation prevents joint action. We assure you that our policy is to sell before shipment and not to offer in advance."

All Shriners who will participate in the Charity Ball Game on Sunday, Sept. 19, are requested to meet at Municipal Park at 5:00 p. m. on Wednesday evening, Sept. 15, for practice.

Houston Plans Extensive Trade Trip in Mexico

By Associated Press
HOUSTON, Sept. 14.—Arrangements practically are complete for the trade trip of Houston merchants into Mexico. The excursion will start on Oct. 7 and, according to schedule, the party will reach Houston on the return trip on Oct. 30.

The full quota of 100 business men is expected to make the trip, which will take in all the principal trade centers of Mexico. Co-operation by Mexican government and railway officials as well as American chambers of commerce at Tampico and Mexico City, has been assured.

The excursion train will leave Houston over the Southern Pacific railroad, and be transferred to the International and Great Northern at San Antonio. The train is scheduled to arrive in Laredo at 8 a. m. Oct. 7, and after a two-hour stay in that city will leave for Monterey, the first scheduled stop in Mexico. After a day and night in Monterey the Texans will proceed to Tampico, arriving there Oct. 11. Three days will be spent in Tampico and then the trip will be resumed with San Luis Potosi as the next stop. From this city the excursionists will go to Queretaro, arriving Oct. 16, and after five hours will proceed to Mexico City, arriving there the same day. The travelers will remain at the Mexican capital until Oct. 22 and then go to Guadalajara for a three days' stay. The remainder of the itinerary follows: Oct. 26, Leon and Aguas Calientes; Oct. 27 and 28, Torreon; Oct. 29, Saltillo, and Oct. 30, Laredo and Houston.

NO BIDS ON HUSBAND SHE OFFERS TO SELL

ROCKLAND, Mass. Sept. 14.—The market in husbands was decidedly bearish today. Bids were well under offering prices. Sales were nil.

Every mail which the local post office sent to the home of Carleton Russell contained offers, inquiries and questions naively regarding Mr. Russell, who is offered for sale by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Russell, proceed to be used to rear their seven children. In all there were more than a hundred letters.

One from New York:

"My Dear Mrs. Russell:

"I have read your letter to the city editor of the New York American. A number of my friends and myself are interested in your case. We would like to know more about his character, and also what kind of a husband he makes—whether he pays much attention to his home, wife and children.

"Send a picture of him! I will do my utmost to get all my friends to buy tickets to the lottery.

"The letter was signed Bertell Robins, Delancey street, New York City.

The lottery phase of the sale, the Russells sadly admitted, would have to be dropped, owing to legal bars against lotteries, and all money received for chances on Mr. Russell is being returned.

Another letter was from a sales company offering Russell a position.

Mike Troy, an old-time showman, called to offer the husband a job in his show, which (is it just a coincidence?) happens to be right next door to the Russells.

Eagles Victory Brings Bout Over Place of Last Contest

Special to the Times. ABILENE, Sept. 14.—Abilene fandom tonight is in the turbulent condition of a mess of home brew in the final stages, when the amateur brew-master lifts the lid of the crock, sniffs doubtfully and then with a faint smile of hope declares: "Oughta have lotta kick." The situation has just that.

after much persuasion, and Josh Billings carrying the load for our boys. Then Bubbles McDonald, who had made it from Fort Worth as quick as he might and motored from Ranger, hove onto the ball pasture and took charge of things. Laboring under the two run handicap, the Nitros were to suffer further reverses in the fifth, when the Eagles started another bombardment. Allison led with a bunt, which he defeated, White sacrificed, Bogus doubled to deep left and Charlie Clapp caught it, then crashed into the boards and dropped it. Allison was held at third, expecting the catch. Segrist called for the squeeze and could not reach Red's pitch-out, putting Allison into a chase between third and home in which he was caught when Bugs pegged to Tate and Allison stuck up his hand and diverged the ball. He was out for interference.

Harding succeeds Hill. Segrist then tripled to right, scoring Bogus. Kizzar walked and reached second while Segrist tallied in a double steal, the fault being that the play at second was missed, by Tommy, who held the ball too long. Segrist had plenty of time to get home before the ball could be returned by Galloway.

Tommy walked two more birds, then let Medina lift a foul to Tate. He held the Birds the remaining three innings. Clapp's single, York's sacrifice and Young's single gave the Nitros their first run in the first inning. They were hitting Gomez soundly in the opening innings and the game closed with a drive that Charlie Clapp belted to center, but Bogus grabbed, that looked like a pair of bases, maybe more.

Galloway and Tate opened the fifth with hits but Mooney's bunt caught Galloway going to third, Lovelace grounded hotly out to Gomez and Ezell was called out on a bunt strike. Manager Jim was hit in the back, in the sixth inning and advanced when Tate singled to right. He and Tate both went ahead when Gomez Hill balked and Jim scored when Mooney poked out to Milam, which could not have caught Jim. He ran up on the peg, tossed to Segrist and caught Joe Tate, who had left second when he saw Milam cock back his arm for the shot to the plate. It was a double play out of the ordinary. Jim's run left the score Abilene 5, Ranger 2.

The Nitros would not quit fighting. They refused to believe they were trounced and in the eighth started another rally, Clapp leading with a single through short to center. York forced him. Young tapped to short which would have had York going to second, but Grady White dropped Medina's toss and all hands were safe. Manager Jim raised a tall fly back of second for White. Tate, who hit three pinch blows today, knocked Jack and Bugs ahead with a bunt to center. Jack scored on the blow. Mooney drove to left, but Milam was in the way.

Lovelace walked to start the ninth. Ezell swung and dropped a twister in front of the plate. He was out at first. Tommy taking second, Tommy Harding hit to second, sending the other Tommy to third. Charlie Clapp drove to center what looked like a blow, but Bogus took it on the side run. He could not stop Lovelace from scoring after the catch. One to go. Harding was held at first and started down a moment later. He slid way round the bag and Grady White took Allison's throw. There was doubt in Bubbles mind as to the outcome and he had Tommy hold position until he could trundle over to look at it. Then he ruled "out" and the game was over.

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 13.—Paul F. Weihenheimer of Corvallis, Ore., senior in the University of Oregon here, where he has specialized in rhetoric, has submitted in satisfaction of the requirement for his honor thesis a novel of Oregon life, 175,000 words in length. This novel, entitled "The Gray Boulder," has won commendation and is said to display much literary power.

Fort Worth, Dallas and Cisco have been suggested as neutral battle grounds. A wire from Rip Galloway, representing 500 fans, demands that the seventh match be played at Cisco, that fans of both sides may have a chance.

Pep Pemberton was chased from the coaching lines in the eighth, for too much talk. He was full of fighting conversation all afternoon. Tuesday tells the tale.

Clapp's catch of Bogus' two base hit, then the crash into the fence, was a hard break, costing a run later. It was a game try. Charlie ran a silver in his finger in the bump, nothing serious, however.

A scanning of the total scores to date shows that Ranger has compiled twenty-one and Abilene twenty in the three victories apiece.

Jack Dempsey is still the fighting machine with the man-killing punch that he was when he won the title from Willard in July, 1919. He showed that when he dropped Billy Miske in the third

NITRO NOTES

Fully 300 of the true and loyal were present and there probably would have been more, had the Texas & Pacific railroad made good with its promise of a special train. They came on the Sunshine Sunday night, on the 2.55, on the afternoon train which hove in at 4:45 and by automobile.

Many of the fans are staying over, to see the game if the toss is made and it fails for Abilene.

Those who came late today were fortunate in that the game did not start on time because of the umpire. It was some time before Pat Croson could be prevailed upon to take his half of it.

There was further delay in the eighth, when the first sack became detached and Bubbles McDonald called on T. T. Wood, veteran race track man who is ground keeper for the Eagles, to repair it.

A confab at this time over the playing of the seventh game also consumed time. It was the first intimation that Nitro fans had that there was any doubt about a toss-up on the part of the Abilene sportsmen.

The Ranger fans made out as much to-do as the Eagle rooters. One time when a bush fell over the stands, an Eagle rooter wanted to know "Why don't we hear anything from the Holy City, meaning the Ranger delegation."

The Holy Cities did root and never gave up, just like the Nitros.

Clapp's catch of Bogus' two base hit, then the crash into the fence, was a hard break, costing a run later. It was a game try. Charlie ran a silver in his finger in the bump, nothing serious, however.

Brutus Hamilton. BY NORMAN E. BROWN. A boy from the Show Me state has shown American athletes the way in all around ability and has a right to dispute with a Norwegian army captain the claim to the title of greatest all-around athlete in the world.

The lad we speak of is Brutus K. Hamilton, student at the University of Missouri. Hamilton and Capt. Heige Loveland, the Norwegian, finished the decaathlon—the test of all-around ability—in the Olympic games with averages so close that a recount in the complicated system of scoring points was necessary. Loveland won out in this recount.

Hamilton has a right to question Loveland's supremacy. The American won two first places in the ten events included in the test. Loveland failed to capture one event. Loveland won out by scoring more consistently in the dashes, high jump, pole vault, 1500-meter run, shot put and discus throw. While Hamilton won the shot put and 100-meter dash and did fairly well in the discus throw, javelin throw and broad jump, he finished poorly in the list in the distance events and the high jump.

The defeat of the Missouri student was a huge disappointment to him and his teammates. With the title of all-around champion athlete of the world, which Loveland acquired, went the cup donated by the late czar of Russia. The American stars hoped to capture this cup and bring it to the United States. Jim Thorpe won the decaathlon and the trophy at Stockholm in 1912, but the great Indian had to forfeit the cup because his amateur standing was questioned. Hamilton and his teammates were sure he had won out the Norwegian and would bring the trophy home until the recount awarded it to the European star.

PROHIBITION TALK IN CAFE CAUSES FIGHT, $1 FINE. CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Olaf Stensteth, 5915 Dorchester avenue, a student at the Swedish Biblical institute, paid a fine of $1 and costs in Judge Irwin R. Hazen's court yesterday as a result of a prohibition lecture in the cafe of Louis S. Emerg at 3658 South State street Friday night.

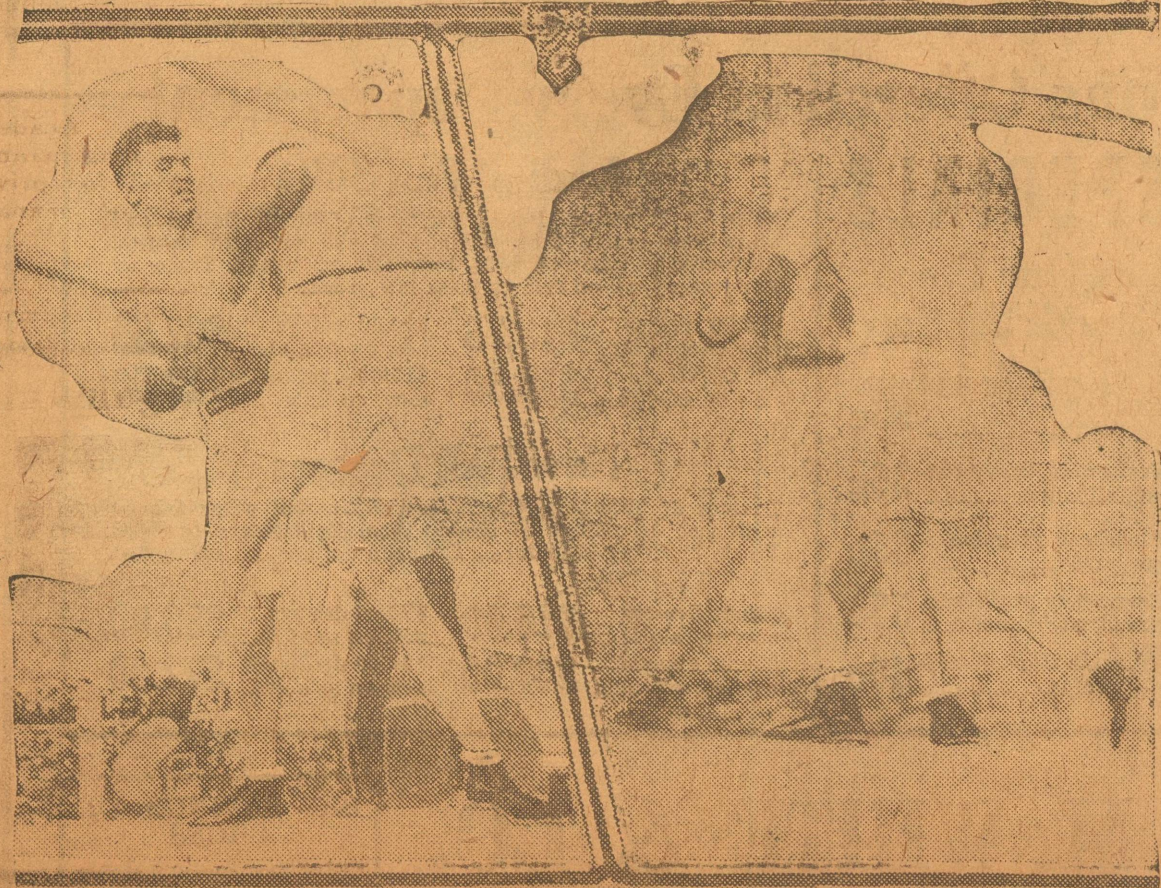

"I stood on a chair and told that instead of drinking they should read the Bible," said Stensteth's stance through an intercom. "Somebody threw a bottle at my head and that made me angry. Then I started to fight."

Judge Hazen imposed the fine after warning Stensteth against such "disorderly conduct."

WHEN DEMPSEY ENDED MISKE'S CHAMPIONSHIP HOPES

Jack Dempsey is still the fighting machine with the man-killing punch that he was when he won the title from Willard in July, 1919. He showed that when he dropped Billy Miske in the third round at Benton Harbor Labor day. Miske—called the most formidable contender—never had a chance. A right cross to the chin did the business after Dempsey had nearly caved Miske's body in in the second round and had dropped him earlier in the third with a right to the jaw. Miske had stayed the limit with Jack in previous bouts.

HEL-LO-O-O-O PETE!

In two more shakes of a lamb's tail I'd have been between the sheets—but I got taken with another large idea for Camel Cigarette ads that's so bright you can phone 'em to cut the current because you just had your lamps lit!

Tell you, it's a whale of a stunt! Everybody right quiet—and hats off! NOW—far as I know or ever heard, there never has been one of those zippy slogans under that big display name "Camel." I'VE GOT ONE—get me? Put both your ears close to the ground and get the rumble of a broadside like this:

Once it meant an animal—now a Cigarette!

Wow, Pete! I'll testify that's a stoneless peach! Spread it like I've dented it in here—and you've uncorked an eye-ful! Suppose you'll want to call me old Mr. Hammer because I hit the nail on the head!

And, bet real money that if this slogan stuff keeps me awake the rest of the night, I'll wire and offer it to R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. before you hit the deck! And, I'll be spending some of the proceeds for noon eats! In the "lang-wage" of Jigger Jones of Joplin, "you tell 'em old yacnt, you've got the sales spirit!"

Blowing out of St. Louis at 10.12 tomorrow with a bundle of business. Cf for Ohio. Got something on me mind!

Till I get it off—

Shorty.

Ex-TRY! Ex-TRY! Just got a wire, I sold em that slogan! Get at a hot one!

CARL BARNES.

Carl Barnes' body rests today in Bullock cemetery. For more than two years it has lain in foreign soil, the victim of warfare as interpreted by the Hun.

He was drowned on the torpedoed Tuscania, in the icy waters of the Irish sea. It was not his fate to be stricken in the flaming storm of the battlefield. His fate was to be drawn down into the roiling waters, victim of an assassin unseen.

Nevertheless it was a soldier's death. He faced the unseen terror of the deep, the danger that might come any moment, unannounced. Death overtook him there, before he had his chance to face shot and shell, the bayonets of the Hun.

And we are sure that when this nature end came to him, Carl Barnes did it as a soldier, calmly, unflinchingly.

Ranger legionnaires and citizens paid reverence to the fallen youth when his body arrived in Ranger. Few of us knew him personally, for the Ranger had passed away. But the legionnaires had seen their comrades die; they knew death's stings. And they felt it in being able to participate in the last rites for one who had died nobly.

They were proud to express their sympathy for the bereaved relatives. They were indeed that Carl Barnes would rest in Ranger soil. As Ranger's first to fall, as the man for whom the American Legion post is named, it is particularly appropriate that his body should be returned to the town where his name will be perpetuated. The wounds of grief are reopened, it is true, but they heal the quicker now that the cause they repose where he may be a solace to the bereaved relatives.

DO YOUR VOTING Every citizen who has not expressed their preference for sanitary sewer should remember that there is a poll to be taken. The polls are open at the fire hall. It will take but a few minutes to do your bit.

Selection there is no particular scrap such as enviously the late mayor. Nevertheless, one of the things that must be better fitted for the than his opponents. The only discoverer who that best man is, we have a full ballot. The general interest of a community is seldom more, a full ballot will be an expression of personal interest in civic life. Whoever is elected, if the vote is not unanimous, will be forced to bear the burden of many persons are watching the results, that results are expected to be a small vote, on the other hand, would indicate small interest in the affairs of the office are congratulatory and properly, and the successful aspirants will not feel so impelled to be zealous in his efforts.

BREEDING TROUBLE A few years ago railway managers of country would froth at the mouth if one suggested that there was a "black list" for railway employees who through carelessness of other culpable causes had been mixed up in accidents or who were believed to have strayed from the path of rectitude is generally believed. At that time few men were "blacklisted" for "agitating," because there were few "agitators."

Now comes the open announcement in Chicago that many of the striking men "will never be taken back." There's a plain and open black list for individual right of contract doesn't help these men much, or their families. They are free to work, provided they seek some other line of endeavor, it seems; provided they drop back at which they are skilled and try something of which they know nothing.

Few men who have reached maturity and learned a vocation can change to another without great difficulty. To deny them a chance to work at the trade they know is virtually denying them the right to work.

And yet some people wonder why workmen band themselves together in labor unions. True, the union is not always powerful enough to help them, but they have more chance than standing alone. This decision of the railroad managers if permitted to stand, will breed labor troubles in the future. It will be remembered with resentment—and fear—by the men who are "taken back."

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

A Contribution to Uncle Sam.

At a little French place where tea bars are served, as the Woman was placidly sitting in the hot water, watching the coming of the tax collector, she heard a sharp voice announce, "I don't know how it is, but I never can get letters into a mail box as other people do. I always have trouble of some kind with 'em. If it is wet under foot, I am sure to drop them. If I have anything else in my hands, I put that in the box instead. Sometimes I lose them altogether. Now here are four letters I should have posted before we came in. Every one is important. Don't help me get them into the first box we come to."

Having satisfied her thirst, though the tea bag would have yielded a cup more, the Woman rose to go. There on the table next hers she saw the small pile of letters. Gathering them up she hurried after the owner, who had just gone out. Taking them gratefully, the lively little lady said, "That's the way it always is. Now I'll get these posted before some-

DOWN CAME BOBBY OWL

This little Thorn-apple bird that little Willie Shrew made out of a few feathers and a tiny apple was a very crazy looking creation. Tinker Bob looked at it and then at Willie but could not understand just why it all happened. But King Tinker was very careful not to allow Mr. Shrew and his companion to know that he was looking. Really, this companion of Willie's was as interesting as the Thorn-apple bird. For he had big black eyes and extra large folds of skin under his arms.

"Not One Sparrow Falteh—" The Woman was hurrying through the crowd in the shopping district on Saturday afternoon, bent upon doing a day's shopping in two hours. She was mentally weighing the relative merits of a dark blue taffeta and a Shantung pongee when her glance was arrested by a sight that was causing her fellow shoppers to pause and murmur pityingly to one another.

In the corner of the stone ledge in front of the show window of a big department store was a tiny newsboy curled up fast asleep, a newspaper clutched in his dirty little fist, serving as a covering. Honking motors and bustling crowds did not disturb him. He slept the deep sleep of an exhausted child, who knows he must make his bed where he finds it.

"I don't suppose he has any one to care for him," the woman heard some one say. Just then an old Italian woman, huddled under an all-enveloping black shawl, came bearing down with a bundle wrapped in a newspaper under one arm and a bunch of bananas under the other. She, too, saw the little newsboy and stopped. Carefully selecting the two best bananas from her bunch, she laid them down beside him on the ledge and hurried on, a kindly smile lighting up her wrinkled old face.

"What's that verse in the Bible about even sparrows being taken care of?" mused the woman, as she passed on with the crowd.

asked Willie, as he looked again at the Thorn-apple Bird and began to laugh, for it really didn't look much like a bird.

"Chuck, chuck, chuck, if Bobby Owl doesn't come down here, you climb up over the edge of the log and squeal a bit, then he'll surely come down. I know he would like the taste of a fat little Shrew about as well as he would a Jay Bird. Then when you see him coming down after you, just scamper off the log and hide in your tunnel!"

"But what are you going to do all the time he is coming down after me, pray tell me?" Willie Shrew was afraid he would be left alone.

"Chuck, chuck, chuck," said his companion, "I'm going up this tree to the first limb and there I will hide till I see him on the log and the moment he arrives I will fly out of the tree and then the fun will begin." Then he ran up the tree just like Sammy Squirrel.

Tinker Bob all of this time was wondering how this fellow was going to fly out of the tree. It was growing dark and in the distance the King heard the cry of Bobby Owl, "Hoot, hoot, hoot, hoot."

The cry was getting louder and plain-er for Bobby was coming closer. He flew right by the Thorn-apple Bird without even noticing it. He did not see it, because the Creature did not move. Suddenly little Willie Shrew climbed onto the log and began to dance a jig around this funny creation. Now you can bet these movements did not escape the big eyes of Bobby Owl. No sooner did he see Willie Shrew acting so smartly, than down he came, as though he intended to teach this careless fellow a lesson for his folly. But when he came to the log Willie was not there, and Bobby was so angry that he grasped the Thorn-apple Bird, and then the fun began. We'll know tomorrow.

Tomorrow—It Was Johnny Squirrel.

HOIST THE TARIFF.

Just when Republican campaign orators are working themselves into a frantic state of alarm over the urgent need of higher protection against the 10,000,000 able-bodied workers of Europe who died in the world war, American exports show a further increase and the world a marked decline. It is a terrible story that the reports for the month of July reveal—a $25,000,000 gain over June in exports, a decrease of $16,000,000 in imports. Already in the first seven months of the year 1920 the United States has shipped over $1,400,000,000 more goods abroad than it has received from other countries.

If that does not prove the necessity of sky-high tariff schedules at once to keep out the products of pauper foreign labor, what will? It is enough to make the Home-Market club put crepe on the door of its headquarters and the American Protective Tariff League proclaim a period of national mourning. The republic cannot long escape perishing from poverty.

If Europe could only find the means to pay it could take more American products. The surest way to prevent that disaster is to keep it from sending goods here to help pay its bills. The United States has set out to win the trade of the world. To be supreme it only needs to raise its tariff schedules to the top notch; then there will be no more imports, only exports, and we shall all swim in prosperity for the rest of our lives. Senator Harding knows. Only last week he promised a California friend a higher tariff on lemons. That may save Hiram Johnson's state.—New York World.

After the First Year. Wives try to reform their husbands during the first year of married life. After that they try to keep them from getting worse.—Sioux City Journal.

DON'T QUIT NOW

The Senate committee is said to be divided as to continuing the inquiry into the Cox charges. The Republican members are reported in favor of abandoning the present line of investigation and moving on to Pittsburgh to ascertain what the liquor crowd has been doing or planning to do, for the Democratic candidate.

The public will be glad to learn who special interests, if any, have lined up behind the Cox candidacy, but there is plenty of time to find out about that. Meanwhile the Republican financial trail has been getting warmer. If abandoned now the Republican members of the committee might possibly be suspected of deciding to quit when the quitting is good.

The facts and admissions brought on during the present week warrant the inference that bigger disclosures await the summoning of informed witnesses. The Ohio reconnaissance has shown financial plans of magnitude, intensity and daring. Glances into other and unmistakable determination to get the money. From Treasurer Upham's right-hand man the committee has learned that the "cities list," so far from being a grotesque exaggeration, the prail of a wag who had imposed on Cox, was in point of fact, an understatement. But the golden lands have not been explored. No real Capuans of the Checkbook have been placed on the stand.

The public would like to hear from the Eastern sector. Give the public a glimpse at the Thompson terrain Cleveland and its hinterland are no mean territory, but their resources are insignificant when compared with the fabulous wealth of New York. Cal Thompson. Let us hear what the Oriental Maharajahs have been doing, or intending to do, for the Grand Old Party.

Other information, too, has come to the public. It is not official, to be sure, but it is impressive. The reported declaration of a former Senator and former candidate for the Republican presidential nomination on the question of campaign funds cannot be ignored. Mr. Weeks of Massachusetts has been quoted in reply to Gov. Cox's charge of a $15,000,000 total, that it is worth $15,000,000 to the business men and financiers to get rid of the present administration. Call Weeks along with Thompson. And if the committee is still unconvinced as to the Cox charges, call Gov. Cox. Prove or disprove the Cox charges. Don't quit now.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

RIPPLING RHYMES

FEET OF CLAY. At times some saintly writer has made a hit with me, some sane and forceful fighter against iniquity. Without too much preaching, great truths his books expound, the truths that should be reaching this weary world around. And every time I read him, I think, "His life's a some!" The soul sick people need him, to bring their sunshine home!" And I assume he's living like those of whom he writes, no thought or longing giving to arid days and nights. Then comes some ickily scandal, some drama rank and coarse, in which that saintly vandal is creeching for divorce. And thus some actress winning is shrined in all our hearts; she seems remote from sinning and all the sordid arts. The moving films unfold her in strictly moral shows; wherever we behold her, our admiration grows. We christen her "Our Lizzie," and praise her till we're hoarse—and then she knocks us dizzy by asking a divorce. A lot of us old wedges still look on wedding rings and solemn marriage pledges as being sacred things. And now we find them tiring, these gifted gits and men; they had us once admiring but never will again.

CALIFORNIA STAGE HELD UP EACH YEAR FOR 22 YEARS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 13.—Announcement of a reward of $500 for the arrest of the man who has fallen into the habit of holding up the stage between Cedarbrook and Miami, in the mountains, near Yosemite National park, has been posted upon orders of Governor Stephens.

The robbery of the stage between Cedarbrook and Miami, according to Sheriff John Barnett of Madera county, has occurred annually for the last twenty-two years. He added the opinion that the man who originated the custom was succeeded about twelve years ago by a bolder and more elusive outlaw. The twenty-second annual hold-up occurred July 24, providing thrills for four

JUSTIFIED IN CONTROL OF OIL LAND

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.-Nationalization of the underground oil of Mexico is thoroughly justified, General J. B. Trevino, secretary of industry, commerce and labor in the Mexican government, declares in the September issue of Petroleum Magazine, published here today.

"Mexico's right to pass laws nationalizing the oil mines in accordance with the socialization of all means of production and distribution which are conducive to the uphold the interest of public welfare and the right of the sovereignty of the state to direct domain" is established, writes General Trevino.

"To accuse this law as immoral and unjust," he adds, "is to make war against the law of the land and against the institutions of the government. This war, whether waged against Article 27 of the constitution by nationals or by foreigners is anti-patriotic and unjust."

Throughout this article, which is translated from the Spanish, General Trevino argues the "direct dominion of the nation over the subsol." This is the substance of the constitutional provision in question.

"If we consider the true condition of the oil mines and make a deeper study of the situation and grant the ownership of the surface of the land and a perfect vertical delimitation of this land," he writes, "we would find that the owner of the surface may own all the minerals and all the oil directly under the soil but not so under the soil of any of his neighbors. But inasmuch as petroleum lies in large underground lakes or deposits it is impossible to delimit physically these underground reservoirs in accordance with the ownership of the surface of the land."

"It is illogical therefore to argue that these interests have the right to the ownership of these deposits of petroleum in the subsol of the nation simply because they have made geological studies and have reared great plants to exploit the mineral resources."

"Mexico endeavoring to enforce the nationalization of the mines, has used in no way any right that might by any sense hurt the rights of acquisition of the owners of the surface of the soil, respecting their right as owners."

General Trevino adds that "neither political science nor political economy nor even jurisprudence has been willing to concede the right of the natural resources of a nation to individual ownership when these resources become the life of that nation. This principle of national ownership must be applied to oil which has a fluid nature and travels in underground rivers which become impossible of physical delimitation."

KISSING WIFE, OR ANY OTHER WOMAN, ON STREET IS CRIME IN MADRID

By Associated Press MADRID, Sept. 14.-A severe reprimand and a marine not to let the misdemeanor occur again has just been administered to a visitor to Madrid who, when he assisted his wife into a cab at the door of his hotel on the Puerta del Sol, kissed her good-bye.

A policeman on duty close by witnessed the offense and remonstrated, threatening to take the man to the police station, whereupon the visitor—a traveler in many lands—smiled and said: "Do your worst. Take me to the station house and we'll see what the punishment is for kissing one's wife."

The policeman led him off to face his captain, on his hearing the nature of the charge, was even more severe than the ordinary policeman. He informed the offender that ignorance of the law was no excuse, but that he had committed a serious offense against the laws of Madrid, which forbids a man to kiss any woman while in the streets of the city, with or without her consent. He, however, let him off with a caution.

La Libertad, commenting on the affair, says "the worst kind of prostitution and libertinage are permitted under the very nose of the police of Madrid without any effort to stop them, but a respectable man may be dragged through the streets to a police station for kissing his wife."

Chinese Hold No Animosity for Rebel Leader

PEKIN, Sept. 13.—At the moment when a military fiasco appears to have broken the power of the "Anfu Club," for several years the dominant element in Chinese politics, there is evident a spirit of tolerance toward Marshal Tuan Chi-jai, the "bell wether" of the organization and to whitewash his activities in the recent events, even among his political opponents.

The aged field marshal, former premier, generalissimo of the army and leader of the now defeated Anfu faction—he is somewhere about 64—boasts that he never reads the newspapers and those who seek to minimize his culpability assert that he was led into error through a long series of misrepresentations by the chiefs among his adherents, and especially by the ambitious General Hsu Shu-chen, widely known as "Little Hsu." One of Tuan's virtues said to be that he never has been known to leave any of his constituents in the lurch, no matter what their faults might be and this fidelity has at times cost him dearly. The Peking Leader, organ of the Chihli or opposition party, editorialized Tuan as "one of the most spectacular careers of modern China" from which "there is much for the present and future leaders to learn, much for them to emulate and much to be warned by."

The editorial continues: "He has repeatedly proved himself the champion of the republican idea in the concrete. His opposition to Yuan Shih-kai's monarchical scheme was a telling factor in the preservation of a republican form of government and his championship of the republic at the time of Chang Sun's attempted restoration of the Ching dynasty needs no elaboration.

"He has realized his mistake and has asked the president to allow him to resign. Retiring to private life at this juncture he still carries with him the respect of the president, of his opponents who have demanded no retributive punishment for him and of a great number of people."

SMELLING SALTS NOW USED TO CHRISTEN SHIPS

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Champagne is obtainable if you can find who has it, but it's altogether too valuable to waste in christening a ship. David Murphy recently launched the Edmont in the Quabog river, at Brookfield. He didn't waste any liquor fit for drinking, but just brought out a bottle of smelling salts and sprinkled 'em over the vessel's bow. "They'll be christening ships with powder puffs next!" exclaimed the builder disgustedly.

Gambling Mania Ma de Lisbon Brilliant Town; Didn't Pay; Closed

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 14.—Gambling, which flourished here to an extraordinary degree after the armistice, has suffered a severe check at the hands of the new government headed by Premier Baptista. Up to two months ago the gambling houses remained undisturbed, but since Baptista's government took office the law has been rigorously enforced and today there are few visible signs of the prosperity the gamblers have enjoyed for a year.

The gambling mania began to manifest itself as soon as the war ended. Magnificent clubs on which big fortunes must have been spent suddenly sprang up like mushrooms; gilded, glittering clubs, splendidly furnished, such as Lisbon never dreamed of possessing. Palaces belonging to the old aristocracy were rented at incredible prices and transformed into "The Majestic," "The Palace Club," "Maxim's," "Palais Royal" and dozens of others on the same scale, with restaurants, ballrooms and gambling rooms; everything being perfectly planned and carried out on the most modern and expensive lines. Hundreds of smaller imitations followed, until it may with truth be said, that not a street in Lisbon was without two or three gambling houses.

A great change came over the humdrum social life of Lisbon, where nothing in the way of amusement ever happens beyond theatres and moving picture shows. The club-restaurant's excellent cuisine attracted fashionable crowds, constant relays of American and English tourists spent their money lavishly and

FRONT PORCH CAMPAIGN FOR WOMEN IS POPULAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—A new "front porch campaign" among women of the Republican party which was inaugurated in the Middle West several weeks ago, has spread to the Eastern states and promises to be the rage among women politicians, according to an announcement at Republican national headquarters here following a meeting of women party leaders.

The plan as explained by its originator, Mrs. Manley L. Possen, national committee woman of Minnesota, is for a woman to hold a political meeting on her front porch, with five-minute speeches for Harding and Coolidge. Afterward the hostess may display a Harding and Coolidge banner in her window. The system is an endless chain. Mrs. Possen said, and has spread rapidly through the Middle West.

The use of water cars threatens to extinguish the women water carriers for centuries an institution in Jerusalem. "I am already engaged,"—Judge.

smartly dressed women coming nobody knows from where were a doubtful source of attraction in the streets by day and at the clubs by night.

Employees Go Wrong. This condition existed for well over a year. Then well known firms were robbed by trusted employees.

An officer, who wore the Cross of War, shot himself after losing large sums of money, which were not his. Young men belonging to the best families fell into disgrace.

A campaign was then begun by part of the Portuguese press, headed by the Seculo and the Situ-cao. Columbus of letters from parents and well known Lisbonites were printed daily, disclosing demoralizing facts and exhorting the government to close the clubs. The governments, however, rapidly succeeding each other, had other things to attend to. And the gambling continued.

When the Baptista government came into office strenuous measures were taken. The magnificent clubs, the glittering restaurants, the smart foreign women all disappeared, as suddenly as they had burst upon the scene a year ago.

For a week carts and camions conveying roulette tables and other gambling paraphernalia to the police stations formed the chief attraction of the Lisbon streets.

Frequent attempts have since been made to reopen resorts. Recently the Palais Royal club was re-established, ostensibly as a restaurant. Three days after it was closed by the police after a raid.

TRACHOMA BLINDING MANY THOUSANDS IN ORPHANAGES OF EAST

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 14.—Blindness is no less prevalent in the Levant than it was in biblical days. Trachoma is responsible for most of the sightless men, women and children who wander through the streets of Cairo, Jerusalem, Damascus, Smyrna and Constantinople. Throughout Armenia, Anatolia and Syria trachoma has been the malady which has given the American Committee for Relief in the Near East more trouble than all others combined. It is especially bad among children. It rages in the orphanages where little Armenians, Greeks, Jews and Turks have been gathered by philanthropic organizations which are endeavoring to nurse war-torn Turkey back to normal health.

In an effort to check the ravages of trachoma and save well children from infection, the American Committee for Relief in the Near East is establishing an eye hospital in Constantinople where all the trachomatous children from the various orphanages in the city will be isolated and given the best possible treatment for the disease. The Turkish government has placed a large hospital with many cottages at the disposal of the Americans, rent free and it will be staffed chiefly by Americans under the direction of Dr. Blanche Norton, an American relief doctor who has just recovered from trachoma which she contracted while treating Greek orphans in Anatolia.

The new hospital will accommodate about 1,000 patients.

In addition American relief workers are working out a campaign against trachoma which they hope the various governments in the Near East will take up. The Constantinople eye hospital is designed as a center from which a general educational and preventive campaign against trachoma may be launched.

All the treatments so far devised for trachoma are extremely painful. Dr. Blanche Norton, who is just recovering from the malady after five months of treatment, says the pain of the daily treatments is so excruciating that she can hardly understand how frail patients die from the nervous shock. It is the hope of the American committee that the Rockefeller institution, or some similar institution will devise treatments for the malady which are less painful and more certain of effecting a permanent cure.

WHOOPIING COUGH MEDICINE "ALIBI" BRINGS $100 FINE

DENVER, Sept. 13.—Frank De Rosa, charged by state officer Walter Byron with a violation of the prohibition law, appeared before Magistrate Rice, Thursday.

"Guilty?" inquired the court. "Nope," replied the defendant. "Did you have any liquor in your possession?" asked the magistrate. "Well, yes I had a little," responded De Rosa. "I have the whooping cough once in a while and I need a little slug in the elbow at such times."

"Just how much whiskey did you have?" continued the magistrate. "Oh, just a little—just a little in case of sickness—eight or ten barrels of it I guess. Not an excessive amount, I'd say. Whoopin' cough is so dangerous, you know at this time of year."

"Hundred an' costs," said Magistrate Rice.

BRITISH WAR FILM 'TOO REALISTIC' FOR PEACETIME SHOWING

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The British public has just learned from the report of a government committee that a moving picture film prepared by direction of the war office at a cost of $117,000 was destroyed after the armistice by government order because it was considered unsuitable for exhibition in peace time. The film was intended by the government to show what might have happened if England had been invaded by the Germans but it was not ready to be exhibited before the signing of the armistice and consequently was never publicly produced.

The Star reports that the film was a masterpiece of realism. There were many scenes depicting the British countryside under enemy rule, taken from real incidents obtained from Belgium and France, and "battles" were arranged in which actual army corps took part.

William Davies, a well-known pageant producer, was given carte blanche by the war office, which supplied all accommodations needed and a staff of naval and military officers to insure every detail being correct. German uniforms, helmets, rifles and other paraphernalia from prisoners of war were appropriated to equip the "invading forces."

A special cinema camp was established in the neighborhood of the inland town of Chester, so that airplane and Zeppelin raids could not interfere with the production. For two or three hours on a number of days, a railway station at Chester was closed to the public, in order that British and "German" troops might be filmed entraining and detraining. One of the principal difficulties was to induce British soldiers to appear in German uniforms.

The mimic fights were far more real than the biggest fighting fiction films have ever shown, says the report.

HOPS FOR HOME BREW

ROME, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Home brewers are making the hop growing district of central New York rich. There is a greater demand for hops—the flavoring ingredient of beer—than ever before and the greatest crop per acre in the history of the industry is now maturing. It will run more than 2,000 pounds to the acre and $1 a pound is freely offered. A hop crop costs 35 cents a pound to produce so that an acre will net about $1,500. Some growers have 100 to 200 acres, and the big growers look for a profit for the season of from $100,000 to $200,000.

Buyers are flooding the hop sections and many small buyers have gone into the market for hops, which they will put up in three pound packages and sell with a can of malt and a printed circular of instructions.

EAGLES WIN TITLE

RALLY IN FIRST WINS FOR EAGLES

Carter Ineffective; Phillips Holds Ranger to One Hit

ABILENE, Sept. 14.—Ranger's pennant hopes were blasted here this afternoon when the Nitros pinned their faith to Nick Carter and the curve finger wasn't right. The Eagles got to him in the first inning and hammered in three runs. Lefty Adkins finished the game, with one day's rest, and held the Eagles scoreless the rest of the way. He yielded six hits, which put him in hot water on more than one occasion, but always managed to pull out.

Phillips of Abilene deserved a win. He held the Nitros without a safety until one man was down in the ninth, when Galloway singled to right for the only Nitro blow during the game.

Carter had been offered a $100 bonus for winning the game. He was nervous.

Not the money but the importance of the contest. Allison, first up for Abilene, was walked. White bunted a popup to the box and Nick missed it. It went for a hit. Segrist slammed a vicious liner down by third base which went for two sacks and scored Allison. Kizziar walked, filling the bases. Robinson hit one to right over the drawn-in infield and White and Segrist counted.

Adkins relieved Carter. He walked Milam before he found the plate, again filling the bases. Then he forced Medina to hit a short fly to Mooney, on which Kizziar was held at third. Then he fanned Phillips for the third out.

That ended the scoring. Abilene threatened in the third when Segrist hit a hot liner to Ezell. It was too hot to hold. Kizziar bunted and Ezell muffed Lefty's toss to second. This put two on and none out. Robinson fanned but Milam singled through the infield, jamming the sacks. The rally was nipped by a spectacular double play when Medina hit a hot on the Joe Tate. Jody played it to the plate and Young relayed the ball to first, killing both runners.

A double by Allison nipped Ranger's chances to score in the second. With Tate on second Lovelace hit a line drive which White held onto and tossed to Medina for the last out.

In the fifth the Nitro's filled the bases with two down, but Jack York pinch-whiffed.

In the ninth Galloway singled between first and second for the only Nitro hit of the game, with one out, but Phillips was at the helm and Jim only got as far as second.

Nine men reached first on Phillips. Three of these reached second and one of them saw third. It was Abilene's day.

Thus ended game, season and pennant hopes.

PIPE LINE MAN FOUND DEAD IN CADDO CREEK

May Have Fallen While Walking Concrete Dam Across Stream.

Abody, which was later identified as being that of A. B. Roberts, a pipe line walker of the Sinclair company, was found yesterday at 12 o'clock floating in Caddo creek, near the Ledbetter camp, fifteen miles north of Ranger. Behind the dead man's right ear and a little above it was found a deep wound. Evidence showed that the body had been in the water for several days and the pipe line department of the company reports that Roberts had been missing for several days.

When found the dead man was barefooted and his walking shoes and a straw hat were lying on the opposite bank. Near his body was a bundle of clothing which he is supposed to have been carrying. Seventeen dollars in money was found in his pockets.

Slipped From Dam.

How Roberts died is not known but the supposition is that he was crossing a concrete dam across the creek and slipped and fell, striking his head in the fall. Several inches of water is running over the dam and its top is very slippery. The body was found in shallow water about fifty feet below the dam.

On information that could be obtained, the man ate breakfast at Strawn Friday morning and started to the Ledbetter camp. He had not been seen from that time until his body was found floating in the creek.

A call was sent to the Milford Undertaking company and both John E. Milford and his ambulance driver, E. F. Adair, went to the Ledbetter camp, arriving late in the afternoon. Mr. Milford was told that Stephens county officials had examined the body about noon, and left it in the water. They, however, took the clothing lying on the bank and the money the dead man had in his pocket.

With the exception of two foremen at the camp, none of the men would assist in rescuing the body. Mr. Milford took the matter up with the officials of the pipe line department, who issued orders that the men in the camp render all the help they could. The men, however, threatened to quit their jobs before they would go near the body, which was badly decomposed.

The four men waded into the stream, attached ropes to the floating body and by the aid of boards, finally dragged it up the steep bank of the creek. It was loaded into a truck and brought into Ranger, where it is being held by the Milford company pending funeral arrangements.

RINGOLD NOT INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Several Other Cases Are Dropped for Want of Evidence.

The grand jury of Eastland county after investigating the charges against E. A. Ringold, former city tax assessor and collector, of embezzlement and altering tax receipts, failed to find sufficient evidence to indict. This information was contained in a report received this morning from Eastland.

The charge against Mr. Ringold followed an audit of the city's books wherein it was alleged that he embezzled $4,000 and altered tax receipts. At the time the charges were brought Mr. Ringold had fled enough money in the treasury of the city to cover his alleged shortage.

The warrant was issued for his arrest. The city commission asked for and his resignation as tax collector. The board that he also served as retained his services regardless of charges against him.

Who were investigated by the grand jury and released are John B. Bly, white, C. Lester, Tom High and Pean.

N. Y. WOMAN CAPTAIN IN ARMY OF ARAB PRINCE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A New York woman, Anna L. Fisher, formerly a Red Cross worker in France and later a Near East relief worker in Syria, is a full-fledged captain in the Arabian army of the Prince Feisal, at Damascus, according to E. M. Newman, of Chicago, who has returned from five months in the Near East. At present Miss Fisher is in charge of the industrial education of women and children in Damascus; but in the event of war she would be expected to take her part as an Arab army officer, which Mr. Newman says, she is quite ready to do.

Although the French have deposed Feisal, the Prince's Arabian army is virtually intact and he hopes that a solution of the Arabian question may be reached by which the "Allies will carry out their promises of an independent Arabian state," Mr. Newman said.

CORPUS DESIGNATED AS 'LEAVE AREA' OF LEGION

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 14.—Renunciation of A. E. F. days, this city has been designated by the Texas department of the American Legion as the official "leave area" of the state.

While the picturesque touch will be lacking that was present when the Yanks of the A. E. F., in olive drab and with their "musettes" filled with extra socks, cigarettes and souvenirs, journeyed to such famous watering-places as Nice, Biarritz, Menton and Monte Carlo, nevertheless plans under consideration by city authorities promise the good time when they visit their state "leave area." A ten city located just a few yards from the breakers at North Beach is to be one of the attractions for the former soldiers.

In accepting the offer of Corpus Christi citizens the state organization extended them a vote of thanks and instructed officers of the legion to give the project adequate publicity among the members.

H-K TO OPEN NEW TOWN OF JIMKURN SOON

Townsite Near Breckenridge To Be Terminus of Railroad Hamon Announces.

Announcement has been made by Col. Jake L. Hamon, president of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth Railroad company, that the new town of Jimkurn, about nine miles north of Breckenridge, will be opened on Monday, Oct. 4. The new townsite which has been named in honor of James M. Kurn of St. Louis, president of the Frisco railway system, will be the terminus of the Hamon road and inasmuch as it now looks as though the northwestern extension of the Breckenridge oil field will extend to Jimkurn and beyond, it is expected that the 2,000 lots comprising the new townsite will be disposed of on the opening day of the sale.

Ohio's first woman's jury returned a verdict for the defendant in an eviction case.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14.—Robert Lewis, a negro, suffered but slight injury at 10:30 o'clock this morning when an automobile he was driving was struck by a Rock Island train at the Forsythe boulevard crossing.

Although the automobile was wrecked and Lewis thrown forty feet the only injury he sustained was a broken nose.

WIFE KNEW NO ENGLISH; NATURALIZATION HELD UP

ASTORIA, Ore., Sept. 14.—Wives of applicants for naturalization must learn the English language and otherwise qualify themselves for citizenship before the applications of their husbands will be favorably passed upon, according to a ruling handed here by Circuit Judge Parham.

The decision grew out of the application of a Norwegian. The judge learned that the man's wife was unable to speak English and he continued the husband's application until next June, coupling the limitation with the requirement to learn English.

CONVICTS RUSHED TO FIELDS

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 14.—Every available convict in the Texas penitentiary is being rushed into the cotton fields on the state farms to gather the cotton which has been opened by the past week of hot weather. The crop is greater than could be picked by the regular personnel of the prison farms, and the prison commissioners are trying to get as much out of the fields as possible before rain falls. The state farms will produce between 7,000 and 8,000 bales this year, the commissioners believe.
