

TEN YEARS FOR 'JAKED' HIGH-JACKER

THREATS MADE OF VIOLENCE AT GALVESTON

Governor Told Workers Will Be Run Out or Killed.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 22.—Threats have been made to the effect that when the state troops are withdrawn from Galveston the workers now employed on the docks there will be run out of town or killed, Governor Hobby said today in his second message to the legislature.

That this result will obtain is believed by many well informed persons in Galveston, the message continued. "I would not have entertained even the thought of removing the troops without providing means of protection in place of the troops. This means has been temporarily provided by an agreement between the city authorities of Galveston, a committee of Galveston citizens and myself.

Sreks State's Best Interests. In submitting for your information the circumstances and conditions necessitating the sending of troops to Galveston, I would say the question involved is whether the best interests of the state should be served or subordinated to a local controversy.

With two deep cuts, one behind his right ear and the other over his right ear, Johnnie Heard is in the Ranger hospital, the victim of two high-jackers. With $100 on his person, he was induced by two men last night to go with them to Tiffin.

In a statement to the police, Heard said he did not know the names of the men but had worked with them yesterday loading a car of ice for the B. & B. Ice company.

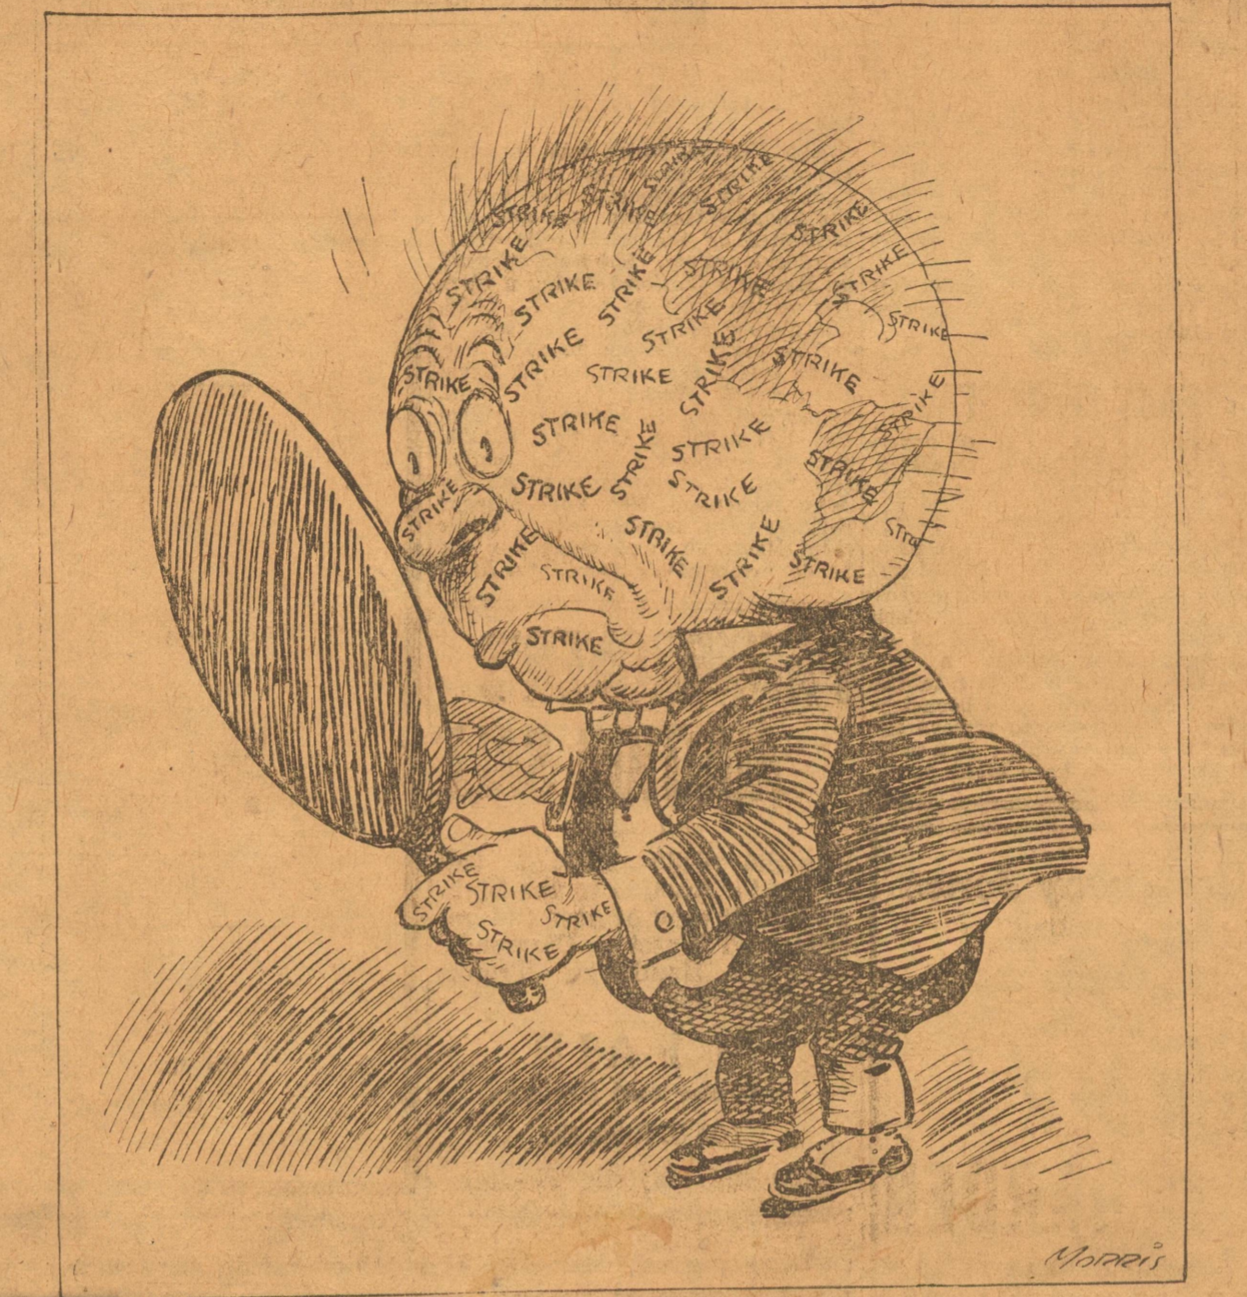

One of the men was about 20 years old, he said, five feet eleven inches tall and would weigh probably 160 pounds. He had red hair and was freckled face, and was dressed in a black shirt, and dark hat.

THOMPSON ON TRIAL NOW FOR ROBBERY OF EDWARDS; BANDITS BOUGHT WHISKEY

State Objects to Testimony Intended to Show Nature of Game Interrupted by "Jaked" High-Jackers; Thompson's Split $410.

EASTLAND, Sept. 22.—R. F. Thompson, the high-jacker on trial in Judge E. A. Hill's court here for the robbery of Cleve Barnes, from whom he and four companions took $600 in an alleged gambling house over a Ranger garage September 7, was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary after thirty minutes of deliberation by a jury yesterday afternoon.

An attempt of the defense to introduce testimony bearing on the exact nature of the establishment in which the robbery took place and to which Thompson persistently referred as a "gambling joint," was defeated by Judge Hill at the objection of Joe Burkett, prosecutor for the state, on the grounds that its introduction was not germane to the case.

Sidewalks at Once to H-K Depot

Sidewalks from the Hamon-Kell passenger station to the Texas & Pacific tracks will be built at once. All property owners over the distance have agreed to have the walks constructed and the McKenzie Construction company has promised to do the work at once.

Four street lights will be placed along the thoroughfare by the city provided the light company will agree to take the extra load.

The agreement to build the sidewalks at once was secured by the streets and sidewalks committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The promise of the McKenzie company to begin immediate construction was secured by M. Alexander yesterday afternoon.

Will Help Trade Carnival. He declared that nothing would hold back the success of the association's trade carnival that is now under way like the present condition of Lamar street between the two depots.

When the matter of the street lights was placed before the commission yesterday the fact was brought out that the body had approved the plan several weeks ago and asked the light company to install the lights at once.

At that time the company said it would get to the work as soon as possible, but no action has ever been taken.

Fairbanks Fights Battle With Gang of East Side Thugs.

"Many a true word is spoken in jest," says the old adage. And one may amplify the axiom by remarking that expressing the true word through jest frequently 'puts it over.'

There are a lot of significant truths in "Reggie Mixes In," the Douglas Fairbanks play to be seen at the Opera House theatre on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and they hit home without resentment being felt because they are presented in a happy-go-lucky spirit. Persons will accept these bitter pills with a smile because they are sugar-coated, and yet benefit by them to the full extent.

For instance, in every audience that witnesses "Reggie Mixes In" there is bound to be at least one girl who is "stringing" an admirer—one who doesn't love him while she is flattered by his attentions; and to her the screen episode is going to have a deep meaning.

Reggie, in the story, is a wealthy young man who has reached that time when youth responds to the mating instinct; but among the cigarette smoking, cocktail drinking, frivolous girls of his acquaintance, there is not one who seems to measure up to his ideal of the "only girl." Yet, one Dorothy Fleming, of the "fast set," seems a bit different from the others, so he proposes marriage in faint hope that she may refuse him; but she accepts.

All the time she is engaged to him, she is tolerating the advances of another shallow creature like herself, amused by his love-making for the time, and certain that she may always go back to Reggie. Reggie himself is an American youth, and his eyes are wide open, so seeing Dorothy playing him false, he calmly goes out and gets himself a girl of the right kind.

Other members of the cast are, Lillian Rameau, mother of Marjorie Rameau, William Quinn, Barney Sherry, Lloyd Hamilton, Dorothy Wallace, Cleo Ridgely and Yvone Gardelle.

In the new picture Mr. Cody has enlisted the services of several four-legged thespians. "Boots," a bull-dog of unusual intelligence, adds a high percentage of clean-cut amusement and certainly deserves a place among the canine stars of the screen. "Julius," a mouse, fond of high priced hosiery and powder-puffs, delights as a precocious rodent. A couple of hard-working rabbits complete the menagerie.

"Occasionally Yours" was adapted to the screen by H. Tipton Steck from a story by Elmer Forst.

STREET CAR CONDUCTOR WITH CHERRY GREETING

International News Service.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22.—Here's a tip from a preacher on how street car companies may obtain ten times their present prices.

Rev. Dr. William F. Anderson, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, has made the tip public.

He says that on one of the other of two street cars on which he rides almost invariably to his home here are two types of conductors.

One responds to the bishop's "good morning" with a grunt, giving the impression that the world is full of gloom.

Real joy, however, comes from a ride on the other conductor's car.

Bishop Anderson said that, in answer to his greeting, back comes a "good morning" from the conductor that is infectious in its good cheer. This conductor, too, tells his passengers something interesting and asks them how they are getting along.

"It's worth ten times the regular fare to ride on that man's car," declared Bishop Anderson.

TEN YEARS' EFFORT FAILS TO SALVAGE U. S. SHIP

By Associated Press

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 22.—The cruiser Yankee, which was wrecked on Hen and Chickens reef in Buzzards bay 12 years ago and which sank and was refloated only to go down again after drifting a few miles, has been finally lost to the navy. Wreckers who have been trying for several years to remove the hulk of the sunken cruiser as a menace to navigation, have blown it up.

timbers of the old Yankee are now scattered on the floor of the bay.

The Yankee, which was formerly the coastwise passenger steamer El Sud, was in transport service during the Spanish-American war and was continued on the naval rolls afterward as a cruiser. She went aground on Hen and Chickens during a thick fog on the night of Sept. 23, 1908, and slipped off into deep water.

The navy's attempt to float her, made under the direction of Naval Constructor Washington L. Capps, failed and private bids were called for. As a result, the first notable use of compressed air for marine salvage in this country was made by John Arbuckle of New York, a sugar refiner. He bought Peary's arctic ship, Roosevelt, and made her the headquarters of his operations. After three months' work with the compressed air method the Yankee was raised and started in tow for this port.

She ran into a storm during the night, heavy seas thumped her weakened frame and one of the air ports broke. The Yankee went down again off Dumpling Light and, although the Arbuckle wreckers renewed their efforts, and other salvaged outfits did their best to bring her to the top, she stayed there for ten years before she was blown to pieces.

Lew Cody Has Many Loves in New Film.

Lew Cody, the famous love-making star of the screen, finds all sorts of amusing and serious adventures in "Occasionally Yours," a Robertson-Cole super-special, which opens at the Temple theatre Wednesday for a run of two days.

This is Mr. Cody's third starring vehicle for Robertson-Cole and presents him in a role equally as interesting as the characters he portrayed in "The Beloved Cheater" and "The Butterfly Man." The story of the picture is one of romance, yet full of realism, and entertains while it instructs. It is the type of screen play that will linger long in the memory.

Mr. Cody is surrounded by a cast of the first water. Betty Blythe, a leading woman of the screen who has won recognition for her ability as an actress and for her beauty, plays the leading feminine role. As a vivacious young widow she is at the very peak of her art.

Elinor Fair, the winsome, dark-eyed Southern lass, who scored a success as the invalid girl in "The Miracle Man," plays an ingenue lead.

Panthers Again Beat Little Rock, in Tenth Inning

SPORT WORTH. Sept. 22.—Fort Worth won a tense, much-tied battle from Little Rock here Tuesday. The game went ten innings before the Panthers put over the winning run on three singles and a sacrifice fly. A Little Rock threat in the first of the tenth had set the crowd on edge and the quick and decisive punch of the Panthers left nothing to be desired in the way of ending a perfect day.

The Cats hopped off in the lead in the opening round. Singles by Sears and Williams and Hoffman's long fly to deep center counted one run.

The Travelers promptly tied it in their next turn at bat. Hunter singled to right center. On a hit and run, McGinnis singled through short. Fields struck out in attempting to bunt, but Gleason singled to center, scoring Hunter.

The Panthers added one more in the fourth and another in the fifth. A walk to Haworth, followed by clean hitting, was responsible for the run in the fourth. Henry hits by Williams, Hoffman and Haley counted the Cats' third run.

A walk and a hit, followed by McGinnis' drive to third, which took a bad hop over Haley's head, enabled the visitors to tie it up in the sixth. Both teams then remained scoreless until the tenth, though each several times was in a position to score.

Robertson went the route for Fort Worth. He was nipped for eleven safeties and walked two men, but escaped unscathed in all except two rounds. Little Rock used four pitchers. Chief Yellowhorse lasted less than an inning. Hoffman's double in the first sending him back to the showers. Fields, who succeeded him, held the mound until the fourth when he was relieved by Jonnard. Masters took the mound in the tenth with the bases full and none out. He fanned Phegan, but Robertson, the opposing twirler, lifted a long fly to center on which Hoffman scored with ease.

Dr. Hodges Is Miracle Man

EASTLAND HILL ROAD SOON PASSABLE

Makes Mex. Laborers Work

A public spirited man has attained and is attaining the almost impossible. The man in question is Dr. R. H. Hodges and he is making a crew of Mexican laborers break into a trot when they move and he is curving Eastland hill into a smooth highway. Other men might construct the road over the hill as cheaply and as efficiently as Dr. Hodges but how he gets a Mexican laborer into a trot is his own secret. Perhaps it might be explained by the fact that the doctor is out here eight hours a day dressed in khaki trousers and shirt and showing them how.

Dr. Hodges is the chairman of the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce which is responsible for the work now being done on the Eastland hill and is serving without pay.

"If You Like Good Roads—"
The repairs on the road are only temporary, being made with the idea in mind to making it passable until the county builds a permanent highway over the spot. Many donations have come in to help bear the expense and the city has given $200 for that purpose.

A sign has been painted and is hung near the highway where every passerby can see it which says: "If You Like Good Roads Donate." By this means Dr. Hodges has received quite a sum. People who use the road constantly are glad to pay a few dollars to have it repaired.

Many other folks are helping in various ways. Asa Carlton, teaming contractor, has assigned teams to the work for two days. Both the McKenzie Construction company and Fleming & Stitzer are lending tools for the work. The White Tree garage keeps the tools in condition without charge. Ice and water also are furnished without charge.

Dr. Hodges expects to have the hill in good condition by the end of the week. In the meantime those who care to help will find Dr. Hodges at the hill and he will take their donations and no questions asked.

(NAMED AFTER PRESIDENT JAMES M. KURN OF THE FRISCO R. R.)

Northern terminus of the Wichita Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth R. R., is 9 miles north of Breckenridge, with which town it is being rapidly connected up.

The Newest Town in Texas

Right in the heart of the new Stephens county oil development and the extensions of the Breckenridge and South Bend fields, where gushers are being brought in daily, with wells now being drilled adjacent to the townsites and new camps being established by the larger oil companies preparatory to drilling.

Will Be Opened Monday, Oct. 4

The JIMKURN townsite is ideally located and perfectly drained, thus assuring healthful conditions lacking in so many oil towns. A running stream of deep, clear water full of fish and swimming holes, flows at the edge of town—affording both food and amusement—and adding to its advantages as a good town in which to live.

Better opportunities for making money were never offered the small investor or persons seeking a new location for any line of business in a new town promising to set a new record in growth. JIMKURN is destined to be the distributing point for a vast oil and ranching territory, it being the nearest railroad town within a radius of a score or more of miles to the north, east and west and the only outlet to the south.

Lots Are Reasonably Priced

The usual oil field prices do not prevail at JIMKURN, where every lot in the townsite has been priced at a figure so attractive that the entire townsite should be sold out on opening day. Lots in JIMKURN range from $10 for residence property to $2,000 for the best business corner and what's more, they can be bought just like paying rent, the terms of sale being: Twenty per cent down and balance in eight equal monthly installments.

How to Reach Jimkurn

JIMKURN is easily reached from Dallas, Fort Worth or Ranger via the W. F. R. & Ft. W. R. R., which, in connection with the Frisco, operates the Oil Fields Special, a through train carrying Pullman sleeping cars, leaving Fort Worth every night at 10:45 o'clock.

The Day is Monday, October 4

Better take a day off and join the crowd bound for JIMKURN on October 4 and get in on a ground-floor investment that should make you some money in what will probably be the liveliest and fastest growing oil town in North Texas.

CO-OPERATIVE SELF-HELP.

Speakers at the Retail Merchants' banquet Monday night brought out a point which every booster for Ranger should bear in mind. That point is that no town has become great in spite of itself and without the co-operation one with another of the townspeople.

Mr. Alexander gave a practical application to the point when he said that merchants in giving out gift tickets during the Trade Carnival should remind the customer that practically all merchants in town, in all lines of business, also are giving out these tickets. Mayor Hagaman told how in the pre-oil days Ranger served a large territory because of the integrity of its merchants, which in itself is a form of co-operation. Other speakers told of communities which had won pre-eminence in growth because the inhabitants pulled together for the common good.

These truths are fundamental. All agree with them in the abstract, but it is easy to overlook applying them in practice. Ranger property owners and wage earners must stand together or fall together. The prosperity of the city as a whole means prosperity individually. Only a few individuals can prosper unless the community does. The proper procedure, then, is to see that Ranger gets the business, even if you do not handle it in person. Not only should non-competitive lines boost each other, but if a dry goods merchant, for instance, for any reason cannot make a sale he should recommend a competitor whom he thinks is able to fill the want. He should be upright in his dealings, because any chicanery on his part brands the entire town in the minds of the customer. In brief, be just to the visitor, be honest with him, let him know what Ranger offers him. That was the slogan of the banquet. Observance of it will achieve permanent results.

THE DIVORCE "EVIL"

Chief Justice Benedict of the New York supreme court announces that he has a remedy for the divorce evil. The judge would compass this desirable end by prohibiting the marriage of either party during the life of the other.

Undoubtedly the judge's formula would reduce the number of divorces. Whether it would reduce the divorce "evil" is another question. To properly decide one must first define the divorce evil.

One school of thought contends that all divorce is evil. Another seeks to make divorce easier to obtain, believing that any unhappy marriage is evil, just as is poverty or ill health or other factors that affect human happiness. Between the two extremes are many compromise positions.

The judge himself appears to compromise on the issue. He would not absolutely prohibit divorce, but he would punish those who sought it—the innocent party as well as the guilty. He would bar those who have made one mistake from another chance at the relation which all agree offers the human race the greatest chance for happiness.

The school of thought which advocates quick and easy divorce does so from the belief that any unhappy marriage is evil; that it is a social disease which should be eradicated. A happy person is a good person, they say, and no person tied to a loveless or distasteful marriage is happy, and therefore cannot be good. They argue that under the best of circumstances the course of marital life cannot be determined without actual trial, and if the trial proves it unsatisfactory, the bonds should be severed.

All factions, from those who would make divorce impossible to those who would make it as easy to obtain as a new hat, contend that they seek to preserve the sanctity of the home. The majority sentiment of the present day condones divorce. It is generally recognized as a cure for hidden infidelity which affected the social fabric. It is recognized that the sanctity of the home should be preserved and the rights of children protected, but whether this can be done best by a flat prohibition of divorce, by severe laws which recognize only the most serious offenses as cause for breaking the contract or by lenient statutes which would permit mere incompatibility as just and sufficient cause, remains undetermined.

Two of these methods have been tried. The first has been found to give an appearance of morality. Conditions exposed by the revelations of the second have belied the truthfulness of this point of view. Would the third or easiest road to freedom remedy matrimonial unrest and contribute to the well being of the home? That is the question America must settle. That is, settle temporarily, for no problem of human relations has ever been settled for all time; by one generation for the next.

Did you see—on yesterday's picture page—those Olympic athletes—making a bee line—for the island of Rapa—which is a paradise for men?

The Republican state committee has ascertained that the voters who refrained from entering the late primary will overwhelm the Democratic party in November. The American party has it all figured out that McGregor will beat No. 1 by 162,000 majority. It's hard lines for the Democratic party in Texas—according to the opposition.

MR. G. IS GIVEN A SPEECH. Now Tinker Bob was still in the midst of the Forest. No one knew just where. Jack the Wood Rat was not anxious for him to return for he was afraid that Mr. Grasshopper Mouse might cause him some trouble. But Mr. G. Mouse didn't go to see the King at all. He went to see Chief Porky. I am going to tell you the very words he said to the Chief—after young Sammy Squirrel brought him down from the tree. "Listen to my story," said he to Chief Porky. "I'm in a peck of trouble with this smart Jack the Wood Rat and I want you to help me out. I don't want to do anything bad, but I must punish that fellow."

Chief Porky rubbed his eyes and said, "What did he do to you?" "What did he do to me?" exclaimed Mr. G. Mouse. "I could better tell what he didn't do to me. Just because I am small he dropped a stone on my tail. Then he cuffed me and sent me rolling in the foot. Then he chewed my ear, and pinched by nose till I couldn't breathe. And mind you, I'm making for him a snit of pajamas out of the best oak leaves I could find, because the King said Jack the Wood Rat was cold when he slept."

"Well, what can I do for you? He never did anything to me."

"Al-ha! I have a plan that will fix him if you will help me carry it out. Loan me one of your sharpest thorn quills and I will ask you for nothing more." Chief Porky thought this a very strange request.

If you will ask me for nothing more, I will give you one." Mr. G. Mouse said he would ask for nothing more. So Chief Porky took from his tail a long sharp thorn quill. The longest he could find. Mr. Grasshopper Mouse put it over his shoulder and started away, and Chief Porky climbed up into the tree to have another sleep.

"Now Mr. Jack, you'll put your pack right on your back, and make your track, right thru a crack, out of your shack, to some wood stack, when I get back," Mr. G. Mouse laughed to himself to think of such a thing. Hush! He suddenly hears a peculiar sound with which he is quite familiar. Then he spies a long black creature on the end of a log.

With the greatest care he slipped behind this cunning fellow, who sat upon the end of the log and sung and sung as though he was alone in the Great Forest. When he got very close he took from his back the thorn quill, and raised it high above his head and speared the careless creature thru the back.

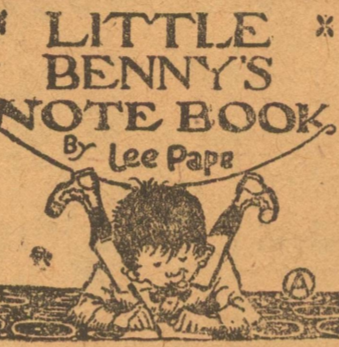

Who was this creature? Oh, it was another Forest Cricket who sang as the he owned the whole woodland. When Mr. G. Mouse had swallowed this big black cricket he felt better and braver, and soon reached the door of the King's palace. And then the fun began!

JOHN-A-DREAMS

CXLVI. DREAMS OF COURTSHIP.

You must be very careful not to confound dreams of courtship with dreams of love-making. The two classes are entirely independent of each other—for I need not tell you that love-making and courtship do not always go hand in hand. The very first rule to observe in differentiating the two is, that there must be no intimacy of any sort in a dream of courtship. Instinctively a maiden knows that she is being wooed, even tho not a word is spoken. And if you find yourself with a man, in the open, particularly at springtime, and though he says and does nothing, she knows that this goes through his mind:

Woo the fair one when around, Early birds are singing; When o'er all the fragrant ground the flowers are spring; When the brookside, bank and grove All with blossoms laden, Shine with beauty, breathe of love, Woo the thair maiden!

Can you visualize the dream? If it ever comes to you through the dark reaches of the night, you may count the coins in your purse and in as many months as you find pieces of silver or copper, you will be a happy bride. But, mind you, there must be no hugging, no kissing, not even holding of hands in this dream. Merely the knowledge on your part that it is Spring, that you are with the man you care for, and the instinctive knowledge that his heart beats for you.

A grave problem will confront you when you are being wooed by a man who, though you know he loves you, stands mutely aside and merely follows you with moist eyes, as though he could almost cry out the words, "will you marry me?"

Say that upon the altar of her beauty You sacrifice your tears; your sighs, your heart; Write till your ink be dry; and with your tears Moist it again; and frame some feeling line.

That may discover such integrity. . . . If such a man seems to woo you in such a manner, you will deeply sympathize with him, you will often feel as though you should marry him and yet there is something in your heart that will whisper to you that love's great adventure does not lie in his hands—you must then wait for the next dream in which the same man appears. If he repeats the performance of silent admiration, you may safely accept him when, in real life, he comes to you; for your friendship and sympathy will change to

Curious crowd examining auto wrecked by bomb explosion.

Officials, immediately after the terrific explosion before the J. P. Morgan & Co. bank in Wall St., work on the theory that the explosion might have been caused by an auto colliding with another machine loaded with nitro-glycerine. The presence of two wrecked cars at the scene was the basis of that theory. This was discredited when it was pointed out that a load of explosives would not be passing legitimately through the heart of the city.

It is now believed this car played no part in the disaster. Behind the wrecked auto and before the sub-treasury can be seen the statue of Washington which was chipped by metal fragments hurled by the explosion.

CLOTHING TORN FROM PEDESTRIANS BY TERRIFIC WALL STREET BLAST

In this pile of clothing ripped from pedestrians when the bomb exploded in Wall-street were found shoes containing human feet and other gruesome objects. The clothes were blown up against the J. P. Morgan building, where they are shown. Nearly two score persons were killed and 300 injured.

BODIES AND BATTERED WALLS SHOW EXTENT OF DISASTER

These bodies, laid in a row along the side of the Morgan bank building and the pockmarks on the marble walls show graphically the extent of the damage wrought by the explosion of the bomb before the bank in Wall-St. Many of the bodies were either burned or cut beyond recognition by flames and bits of iron from the explosion. Dispatches state that persons hundreds of feet away from the scene of the explosion were seared by flames which accompanied the blast.

HOW EXPLOSION LEFT HORSE AND WAGON NEAR SCENE

One of the harrowing sights that met the gaze of the crowds after the bomb explosion before the Morgan bank building in Prominent among those present were Enrico Caruso, who delighted the audience with his songs, and Capt. Ugo d'Annunzio, son of the famous poet-warrior.

West Texas Body Will Ask Passage of 'Blue Sky' Law

By Associated Press
SWEETWATER, Sept. 22.—Efforts to secure at the next session of the legislature a drastic "blue sky" law to protect the people of the state from the insidious attacks of the "grafter" will be put forth, according to Porter A. Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The unbounded prosperity of West Texas has been spelled with capital letters throughout the Southwest until every crook, sharp and itching palm artist has treaded his way, unfolding speciously beneficial propositions that out-dazzle anything ever attempted in fiction. These schemers have every conceivable proposition for the town, the individual and the chambers of commerce. Unless care is exercised before recommending them or their propositions are thoroughly analyzed before they are furthered, many West Texas towns and individuals will be defrauded. The organization I manage has been unusually active recently in ferreting out these base schemers and following the trail of others, sending out advance notices to the towns that they are contemplating taking as prey, with the result that we have been enabled to overcome their activities in a large measure. However, the warnings we send out cannot bring results unless the towns and communities themselves cast aside every proposition that looks suspicious. Wolves in sheep's clothing are prowling the West in constantly increasing numbers. Every town should put a bounty upon them. Eradication by all honest means should be resorted to. We are proposing to bring about legislation that will keep these grafters from even presenting propositions that are sinister and dubious. Bona fide propositions properly conducted will always receive the careful consideration of the organization and the support they merit. But for the other designers we have perfect abhorrence and strictest prosecution."

COUPLE FOUND DEAD; WHO DIED FIRST, IS QUESTION COURTS MUST ANSWER

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 22.—Who will get the estates of the late Orville Allison and wife, who were found dead at their country home here some weeks ago, is puzzling Columbia lawyers. Each made separate wills and left all of their property to the other. Both died without direct heirs and the point involved is: Which died first? If Allison died a natural death and died before his wife, she would have inherited his estate, and hence her heirs would eventually inherit both estates. If she died first his heirs would inherit. They were found in their yard, where they had evidently lain for 10 days. No one knows which died first.

There is a strong belief that Mrs. Allison gave her husband poison by grinding jimson weed seeds in their coffee, and even though they drank the coffee together and he died first her criminal act would disbar her heirs and they could not inherit any part of the estate. There also is ground for belief that their death was the result of a suicide pact, so the issue reverts back to the question, who died first.

Big Navy Program Opposed in Japan; U. S. Not Feared, They Say

TOKIO, Sept. 22.—There was a debate in the Japanese Diet recently between Premier Hara and a representative over the question whether it was necessary for Japan immediately to expend a large sum in an attempt to keep abreast of the United States in the building of warships. The discussion was briefly reported by cable at that time but the beneficial report of the speech delivered by Ichizo Hattori, who criticized the action of the Japanese government in asking for a naval appropriation and the reply of Premier Hara permits of a more comprehensive presentation of the argument.

Mr. Hattori interpellated the government asking why it introduced "the present colossal estimates for armaments in an extraordinary session of the Diet pointing to the naval expansion scheme which was being pushed forward by a certain country." "By a certain country" presumably the navy minister meant the United States," said Mr. Hattori. "It must be remembered, however, that America is trying to expand her Pacific squadron simply because she misunderstands Japan."

"The Americans are laboring under the misconception that the Japanese are a very dangerous people, wedded to militarism and aggressiveness. Being obsessed by this mistaken notion, they are anxious to complete their naval armaments against all emergencies on the Pacific. America has always been a country which sets store by peace and I do not believe the government thinks that she is doing all this for aggressive purposes.

"Supposing the present naval and military estimates were carried through the Diet, though they ought to be introduced in the next session of the Diet as a measure not requiring very urgent attention. What impression would be caused in America? Americans would ascribe sinister intentions to the Japanese Diet which, notwithstanding an unfavorable economic situation and the restoration of peace went the length of carrying the estimates through at an extraordinary session.

"I am not opposed to proper provision for national defense but I do not see why this program should be deferred to the next ordinary session of the Diet."

"Japan and America are the only countries in the world which are going in for naval expansion. In my opinion, it is too feeble an argument to say that the Diet must approve the estimates at once, because America is building many warships and because the presentation of the estimates to the next ordinary session would cause delay in the completion of the naval program."

FORTY-FIVE DAYS OF RAIN SETS RECORD AT TOYAH

TOYAH, Sept. 22.—The semi-aridity of the Pecos country, made laughable in story and news items in years gone by, has at least temporarily been evanesced, for rain has fallen forty-five consecutive days in Toyah and the Pecos country.

Ranchmen assert that the splendid rains have made possible ranges tributary to this city sufficient to pasture from 20,000 to 25,000 animals. More than 2,600 head of cattle have been shipped into this vicinity in the last three weeks. The frequent rains have brought a good growth to the grass and weeds and of "filaree" which should be made to return something to the ranch owners who suffered during the drought of two, three and even four years ago.

The fertile soil of the trans-Pecos country is not surpassed by that of the Nile Valley in Egypt and is no more desiccated in its natural state. The rains have put abundant moisture in the ground so that they have brought vegetation to the acme of perfection, mutually accomplishing what transformation can be made in this section of the country when irrigation has been brought out of the dream stage.

HAIL OF BULETS WHEN RAIDERS GO AFTER YEGG-MEN

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 22.—One bandit was shot to death, another was wounded probably fatally and Detective Quinn was shot and wounded severely early today when a detective squad raided an alleged outlaw den in the residence section of this city.

Archie Dennison, said by the police to have been a safe cracker and gunman, with a long string of aliases, is dead. He was the man who shot Quinn.

Cowboy Hill, alias Chief, alias Arthur Baker, alias Johnson, alias Armanda, is near death in the Mercy hospital, his body being riddled with shotgun bullets. Joe Forrest, third member of the gang, recently released, police say, from a prison in New York, is in a police cell.

Violat Cochran and Mrs. "Billie" Calhoun were arrested with Forrest.

The fight which police say clears up a number of crimes here, was started when officers led by James O'Reilly, captain of detectives, forced the rear door of a flat occupied by the suspects.

Upon entering the house, O'Reilly first saw Forrest and commanded him to put up his hands. Dennison, partly clad, stepped into the room. He also was ordered to submit to arrest.

"Never!" Dennison shouted, pulling a revolver from his pocket and rushing around the corner.

Detective William Culver fired at Dennison, part of the shot hitting him in the face. He staggered into another room, followed by Quinn. Captain O'Reilly followed, forcing Forrest into submission.

Hill was attempting to escape by a rear gate, a revolver in each hand. Detective Robert Bartley, with a riot gun, was in pursuit.

The first shot from Bartley's gun hit Hill, who staggered and opened fire on the officer. None of the shots fired by Hill took effect. Bartley sent two more charges into Hill.

Search of this house later disclosed a suit of burglar tools, a can of nitro-glycerine, fuses and other equipment.

LOCKLAND, O., Sept. 22.—A. J. Dennison, who was killed, and a man believed to be Milton Brion, alias "Cowboy Hill," who was wounded, probably fatally, when in a gun battle with police at Toledo, Ohio, today, are said to have been identified in Cincinnati as being two of five men who were implicated in the attempted robbery of the First National bank at Lockland, December 23, 1919.

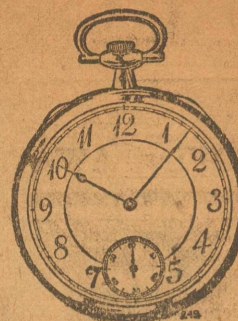

Last week Detective Cal Crim, of the Crim Detective bureau, who had been working on the case, received information that the robbers were in Toledo. He gave this information to the Toledo police, who as a result raided the alleged den of the robbers in the residential section of the city, killing Dennison and probably fatally wounding Brion. A reward of $5,000 had been offered by the Lockland bank for the arrest of the men.

On the afternoon of December 23, 1919, five men in an automobile drove up to the Lockland bank, and while they remained outside Dennison and Brion are said to have gone into the building and attempted to hold up the clerks and several patrons. The robbers fled, when a woman clerk pressed a button under her desk, sounding a burglar alarm.

Although the vicinity of the bank was searched, no trace was found of the robbers at the time.

The wages of from $4 to $6 a day with meals and lodging is attracting hundreds of women to the harvest fields in the West.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

There isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

- In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.
- For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.
- For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

Who Gets Your Hand-Bills

You pay out good money for a lot of paper stock, and more good money to have your message printed on it.

Then comes the problem of reaching your prospects. Mailing out circulars is expensive and they usually reach the waste-basket without even being opened at that.

The next best way is to give Willie or Jimmie half a dollar and an armful of circulars with strict orders to shove one under every door in town.

Willie (or Jimmie) does nobly until the tempter comes along to inform him "they're bitin' swell down to Skinner's Creek,"—and your precious circulars are delivered in one big expensive bunch—into some ash-barrel!

That same amount of money invested in newspaper space would bring better and surer results, and the cost is cheaper. Three thousand 9x12 circulars containing the same amount of type as the ordinary department store advertisement costs $29.25. On top of this, Willie (or Jimmie) must have his fifty cents or a dollar.

An advertisement in the Daily Times of the same size costs only $23.52 and your message is delivered to people who are willing to pay hard-earned money to receive it. People do not throw something that costs a nickel in the ash-barrel. On top of this, consider the prestige of the two mediums. Sit down and figure this out.

It is the only medium through which you can really reach the people of this community. Going into almost every home and being read by an average of four people to each family, you can readily see the value of newspaper space in reaching the greatest number of prospective customers.

Advertise in the Daily Times and reach the nine out of every ten who do not read or receive your hand-bills.

Have our Advertising Manager call and show you what a sure result-bringer our Newspaper space is.

J. BARLEYCORN TALKED ABOUT IN WASHINGTON

Many Anti-Liquor Societies Meet to Further Prohibition Move.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The fifteenth international congress against alcoholism opened here yesterday for a six-day session with delegates from most parts of the world present. Originally, the congress was to have assembled in 1915, but having been postponed year by year because of the war, its present meeting will be the first since that at Milan, Italy, in 1912.

Speakers from fifteen countries are on the program. Those from the United States will include William J. Bryan, Attorney General Palmer and Secretary Daniels, who will discuss phases of national prohibition. In addition to the speeches, the congress will stage a pageant illustrating the anti-liquor movement in this country. An exhibit also will be held of materials and methods used in the world campaign against liquor, and of the development in the manufacture and sale of soft drinks.

A number of national and international organizations and societies will hold meetings and conferences during the congress but at hours supplementing its regular session. These societies include the World Prohibition Federation, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, the Anti-Saloon League of America, the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association and others.

Alcohol as affecting health was the theme at the opening session. Dr. Eugene L. Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute, New York city, discussed the relation of alcohol to modern health ideals and Dr. Charles R. Stockard of Cornell university recounted the latest scientific investigation in this country of the action of alcohol on the brain, the nervous system and on heredity. Beer and light wines will be the center of attention Wednesday. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley will discuss "The Proposal for Beer and Light Wines in the United States from the Economic and Political Viewpoint," while others will tell of these beverages as intoxicants and causes of alcoholism.

Wright Furniture Company to Erect Concrete Building

The Wright Furniture company, whose stores were burnt in the Pine street fire, will rebuild at once. A building permit was issued this morning by the city to the company and calls for a 5,000 concrete structure. The new building will be erected on Rusk street on the site of one of its burned buildings.

This company has maintained temporary quarters in the Racine building on Rusk street since being burned out. It had sufficient merchandise in its warehouse to open with a complete stock.

I.
Animal figures decorate many of the newest winter fabrics, but one of the very striking designs is a row of girls holding hands, embroidered just below the waistline across the front of a blouse. The material is orange georgette and the embroidery is of harmonizing silks done in the outline stitch, the quaint, old-fashioned dresses of the maidens being embroidered in checks. A band of dark blue satin finishes the bottom of the blouse, the sleeves and the straight collar.

II.
Many are the uses of the stylish, well-made suit, for with a change of blouse it can be adapted to every informal occasion. Especially attractive is a suit of modern shade dray de laine with a big swathing collar of gray squirrel. The style is Russian blouse effect and the corded girdle fastens at side back, the ends being finished with long tassels of self color silk. Smocked sides give a fullness to the coat that is youthful looking.

III.
For a smart, simple blouse, dark blue georgette embroidered in silk was chosen. A pretty design is worked on the front, back and shoulders in golden crown, turquoise and pink. A narrow girdle ties in back.

IV.
A whole case of gingham is being sold this week for 35 cents per yard. This price is very near the cost mark. The good quality and pretty patterns will appeal to shopper.

NO FAVORITES PLAYED AT JIMKURN, SAYS HAMON

JIMKURN, Sept. 22.—Although the townsites of Jimkurn will not be formally opened until Monday, Oct. 4, interest in the new town, which is located midway between the extensions of Breckenridge and South Bend oil fields, is quite marked. In spite of the fact that hotel and moving picture theater men are trying to talk the townsites officials into permitting them to purchase lots and erect buildings in advance of the opening, Col. Jake L. Hamon, president of the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth railroad, who is opening the new townsites, has announced that no lots will be sold prior to the opening and that none will be reserved in advance. It will be a case of first come, first served.

Jimkurn is the northern terminus of the Hamon railroad that runs from Dublin to Breckenridge, and is being rapidly completed from Breckenridge, the grading being 80 per cent finished and ready for the laying of heavy steel rails. In order that the expected crowds may be handled without any possible confusion, arrangements have been made to convey all prospective lot purchasers from Breckenridge to Jimkurn by automobile on the opening day.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Tablets That Are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—Adv.

STOKING IN NAVY KEPT ATHLETES IN TRIM FOR CONTESTS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 22.—Coal heaving on the battleship South Carolina has kept the midshipmen of the football squad in condition this summer. They worked at it steadily during the three months of the cruise to Hawaii and other Pacific ports, according to Commander George H. Laird, who had charge of them during the period, and were in need of no other kind of training.

The football men were kept together on the South Carolina, but had few opportunities of shore practice; the exception was at Honolulu, where the party was ashore for three afternoons and did some kicking and formations.

JUDGE FLEWELLEN IS NOW PROUD PARENT

It is Judge Flewellen now. Tuesday, and days before that, many folks called him just plain judge, others said "Lonz" and still others addressed the police court squire as "Flew"—but no more.

It is Judge Flewellen now. The reason is the added dignity of a new-made father with his first born, and his appearance who arrived Tuesday.

The mother and child are doing well.

After Thorough Trial a Detroit, Mich., Man Endorses Pe-ru-na

The following letter written from Detroit, Michigan is no snap judgment expressed on the merits of Pe-ru-na, the well-known catarrh remedy, but rather a mature, sober opinion formed after a full year's trial.

This is the way Mr. Michael Fako of 906 East Palmer Avenue, in the Michigan Metropolitan, writes: "After using PE-RU-NA for about one year will say I have found it a very good medicine for catarrh. It has helped me a great deal and I am very well satisfied. I have gained in weight, eat and sleep well, my bowels are regular and better color in my face."

"PE-RU-NA has done wonders and to me is worth its weight in gold. I shall continue to use PE-RU-NA as long as I live and recommend to my friends who are troubled with catarrh." Nothing can be more convincing than an endorsement of this nature from an actual user. There are many people in every community whose experience, in using Pe-ru-na, has been identical with Mr. Fako's. It is the standby for coughs, colds, catarrh, stomach and bowel disorders and all catarrhal conditions.
