Special Session If Called May Be Busy on Highway Questions.

By United Press

AUSTIN, April 26 .- In the event the governor calls a special session of the legislature to validate the highway bonds, State Superintendent of Public Instructions S. M. N. Marrs will urge that she submit the subject of a supplemental appropriation for the state available school funds to increase the percapita school apportionment to $15 per capita.

If the supplemental appropriation is made, it should be done as early as practicable, Marrs said today.

He warned that if the per capita appropriation is allowed to drop to $12 per head next year, the scholastic districts must meet the conditions in the following ways:
Increase the local maintenance

Reduce the length of the term. Reduce salaries or the number

It is not known whether or not the special session will be called. The governor has the matter under con sideration, and it is understood that she is calling into conference some of the leading lawyers on constitutional law in Texas before she will make her decision. It is also understood that nothing else but the validating question will be considered.

LET TEXAS FOLLOW SUIT

The New York legislature recenty enacted a law against pistol toting that should go a long ways toward putting a stop to it. It is a law that other states should enact, Texas especially. It is the most drastic law of its kind known. In addition to making it a felony, the punishment is made to fit the crime.

The first time a person is caught committing a felony while armed with a revolver, besides the regular punishment for the crime committed, an additional sentence of from five to ten years is imposed; for the second offense, the additional penalty from 10 to 15 years is imposed;

pistol toting. If a criminal knew he would get an additional stretch besides his regular punishment, he would think twice. Pistol toting is too common. Something must be done to eliminate the pest. Pistol toting is about as bad as drinking, colors. Friends can not tell when they gambling and using narcotics. It have new costumes since they are inputs the law abiding man at the mercy of the thug. No law ever enful you feel in a new color? ### ALL PLATFORMS ARE OUT.

Every gubernatorial candidate has announced his or her platform. The people now can read and digest them and vote as they please. This paper is not fostering the candidacy of any one. This paper wants Texas to have a real business administration free etc., seem to take years off our of suspicion, and one that will insure ages.

No woman looks older than the one the tax payers one dollar's worth of service for every dollar spent in salaries to officials.

This paper wants to see a governor elected that will toster education by building up the common schools.

This paper wants to see the shacks removed from the campuses of the institutions of higher education. This paper wants to see more paved highways in Texas. This paper wants to see fewer and better laws passed. If by some hook or crook, the University, College of Industrial Arts, Agricultural and Mechanical college and other institutions could be taken out of politics and developed then Texas would prosper. If men elected to office would play less politics and do more good then conditions would be better for all concerned.

BOYS' WEEK.

Preparations are underway for the proper celebration of Boys Week and Defense Day in Texas. Ranger will be in line. Boys are the greatest assets we have today. Boys are the future citizens of the republic and the ones who must carry on the flag of the great republic that stands for equality before the law and justice to all. Boys should be encouraged. Too many parents do not pay enough attention to their sons. The father who makes a companion of his son and sets the right example will never see a boy grow up and develop into a bad man. Train your boy in the way he should go and be proud of him. This aper as well as the editor is a great vocate of the Boy Scout movement. The movement that fosters manliness in the youth.

The Babe is in actual danger of his fame, his pay and his job this year. He is no longer the Yankee baseball team. He is just an outfielder on a team with several colorful youngsters who will steal his place in the affection of the fans as soon as he fails to Ruth has been a poor business man but he was shrewd enough to know that it was strictly a business proposition for him to play Ruth baseball this season. The $52,000 contract, which expires this season, was given to him for being Babe Ruth and even the big-heatred Col. Jake Ruppert will not renew a $52,000 a year contract for an outfielder who can b replaced at any time by Ben Paschal and Nick Cullop who can play just as well and hit as well as the Babe has been hitting recently.

The Yankees, during the height of the Babe's glory were a colorless ball club. But they are not a colorless club now. In Tony Lazzeri, Mark Koenig and Lou Gehrig, the team has three spectacular players who also have that appeal to the stands that baschall known as color.

If the Babe doesn't deliver he will soon be forgotten because the baseball fan has no room in his garret for memories. He is concerned principally and entirely with what is being done on the field.

The Babe is in better physical condition than he was last year but he hasn't been able to get going and he is of the temperament that is subject to dangerous worry.
