THOS. L. BLANTON SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

LIBERTY THEATRE IS PLACE

Indoor Speaking Should Draw Good Crowd to Hear Congressman.

The Liberty theatre has been obtained for the meeting of voters who will hear Congressman Thomas L. Blanton deliver an address urging support of Gov. Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee for the presidency, tonight at 8 o'clock.

The theatre will be comfortably heated and it is expected that a large number of citizens will attend the meeting. Everyone is invited to be present.

Originally it was planned to hold the speaking out-of-doors but the rapid drop in the temperature made it necessary to seek a meeting place and the theatre was rented for the occasion.

Congressman Blanton is a vigorous and able speaker. He has served 12 years in congress and during that time has established a reputation as a man who fights to put across the things that he believes in, his friends declare, and he can be counted on to give the people of Ranger some first-hand information about the national political situation.

Judge L. R. Pearson will deliver the speech of introduction. Mr. Blanton has been speaking in various cities of this section and everywhere he has been greeted by large, attentive and enthusiastic crowds.

3 KILLED IN BOILER EXPLOSION

Lumber Mill in Mississippi is Scene; Two Men Injured.

By United Press.
ETHEL, Miss., Oct. 30.—Explosion of a boiler at a lumber mill near here today killed three men and probably fatally injured two others. The plant was wrecked.

The men were standing around the boiler seeking relief from the chilly winds outside when the boiler exploded. Cause for the explosion has not been determined.

'YOU HAVE TEN DAYS TO LIVE'

Evangelist Tells Woman; Her Condition Becomes Suddenly Serious.

By United Press.
PRETTY PRAIRIE, Kans., Oct. 30.—Religious fervor brought about by the exhortations of an itinerant evangelist is believed by authorities here to have caused one woman here to slash her throat, a man and his wife to become suddenly deranged and a third woman to become deathly ill. It is said by those who attended the meeting that the evangelist brought the message that the universe was on the brink of the low woods and that there was little hope for anyone. Singling out one woman, the evangelist told her she had but 10 days to live. Relatives of this woman declare that she stood up well for a few days and then collapsed. She is reported in a serious condition.

Convinced by the preacher's argument that a great calamity was just around the corner, Mrs. Simon Stuckey attempted to commit suicide by slashing her throat. Worry proved too much for Jacob Graber and his wife and they broke down. They were confined in a hospital for several days until they regained mental composure.

The serious consequences of the evangelist's doctrine brought about a cessation of the revival. His whereabouts are unknown.

DECOY DUCK IS DECEYED

A farmer, residing near the Eastland-Gorman highway, told members of the sheriff's department this morning at Eastland that a wild duck he was planning to use this winter as a decoy, had been lifted from its abode and had vanished.

According to the man, he had clipped the tip of one wing of the duck to keep it from joining its brothers on their southward trek. He was to have been used to bring some of those same brothers to within shooting distance of the man's shotgun. "He couldn't fly. Someone picked him up and took him away," was the man's lament.

PLAN HAS WORKED IN FT. WORTH

Abilene Likewise Finds Institution is Success, R. M. A. is Told.

A "loan bank" which has enabled customers to come out from under the load of past due obligations and has caused merchants to collect accounts, many of which were years old, has proved a great success in Fort Worth and such an institution was urged for Ranger in an address last night by John E. Phillips, president of the Texas Association of Credit Men. Mr. Phillips was the principal speaker at the banquet of the Ranger Retail Merchants' association.

The loan bank advances an amount to the customer sufficient to pay his overdue accounts and he gives his note for the amount. The average note is fully paid by the end of 10 months. It bears 10 per cent interest.

The advantages of the plan are that the customer is given time to meet his various obligations and he pays a specified amount at one place instead of paying at the different stores owed. The bank has proved a financial success to those who invested in it as its capital has been increased from $10,000 to $50,000 and the stockholders have received 33 per cent dividends in two years besides 5 per cent placed in the surplus. How the institution benefits the business men is shown by the fact that one Fort Worth merchant has collected $18,000 in old accounts as a result of this plan.

Such in brief were some of the things that the Ranger Retail Merchants' association members learned from Mr. Phillips' interesting address. He told them of the Abilene loan bank which has loaned $9,400 and of its many borrowers only one is delinquent. Behind $14,500 while several others are "ahead" in their payments more than enough to offset the one delinquent.

As illustrating the increasing importance that credit is playing in the business of America, Mr. Phillips said that, in 25 years, credit had increased from 23 per cent until today it constitutes 78 per cent of the volume of business done by stores.

Fort Worth in the past eight months has had the largest percentage of collections of any city in the south, he said, attributing this largely to the work of the Retail Merchants' association. The credit men of that city meet once a week at a luncheon and go over the overdue accounts, he said.

Mrs. True Praised.
A "pay prompt" campaign that was staged in Fort Worth was told of in the newspapers were used in the newspapers and on billboards were used, and thoughtfully-written letters were sent out. People began thinking seriously about their credit and, the third month of the campaign the percentage of collections showed an increase.

Tribute was paid by the speaker to Mrs. Alice True, secretary of the Ranger Retail Merchants' association, who he declared was one of the leading secretaries in the state. Mr. Phillips was introduced by O. C. Peasey, a long-time friend.

Preceding the banquet, excellent music was given by the orchestra led by J. M. Edwards. The merchants and their wives then joined in singing several favorite songs under Mr. Edwards' leadership. Amusement was created by having the ladies whistle a song while the men sang it.

Edwin George Jr., president of the Retail Merchants' association, was the toastmaster. Mayor John Thurman in entertaining fashion introduced the members of the board of directors of the Retail Merchants' association. After humorous references to each one, he concluded by commending their work highly.

Mrs. M. F. Peters gave an enjoyable reading, accompanied at the piano by Miss Belya Dixon. Mayor Thurman then was again introduced for an interesting address on the spirit of Ranger's citizenship and the progress this city is making.

Mrs. True made a report on the secretary's school which she attended. (Continued on page 2)

Eastland County Sets Pace In Oil Activity

With 42 drilling operations, Eastland county again led the deep producing counties last week in oil prospecting. There were no material completions in the county for the week, although several wells scattered over the county are nearing the pay and should be completed this week.

Figures on other counties were Stephens, 27; Shackelford, 21; Palo Pinto, 13; Coleman, 50; Brown, 82; Comanche, 5; Callahan, 7; Erath, 6; McCullough, 2; Hood, 2; Parker, 1; San Saba, 1; Burnet, 1.

The feature of the week was the completion in Erath county of the Eastland Oil Company's Smith No. 1, a 23,000,000 cubic foot gasser, at a depth of 3,292. The top of the lime was hit at 3,277 and the pay was from 3,254-92. It tested 23,000,000 cubic feet at a rock pressure of 1,450 pounds. The well was completed Wednesday of last week and should give impetus to operations in that vicinity.

A resume for last week's operations in this county follows:
Chestnut and Smith Corporation No. 2 Brashear, plugged back to 3,585 and shot with 30 quarts, 3,567-80 with an estimated flow of 10 barrels. Shot 30 quarts, 3,058-65, cleaning out.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 30.—The steamer Mauretania reported to the Ports Head radio station at 2:10 p. m.—which is 7:19 a. m. Eastern Standard Time—today that she had been in communication with the Graf Zeppelin and that "all was O. K."

A moderate gale was blowing, the steamer reported. She gave her position as latitude 45 degrees 53 minutes north, longitude 41 degrees 40 minutes west.

The position given was approximately 575 miles northeast of Cape Race. It would indicate a speed of about 50 miles an hour since the report of the Graf Zeppelin's position at midnight was received in Berlin.

AIR MAIL LINE FOR ONE DAY

To Ranger, is Suggested as Feature of Airport Dedication.

By United Press.
DALLAS, Oct. 30.—Aviators at Love field today were invited to fly to Ranger No. 10 to attend the two-day celebration in connection with the opening of the new airport there. The invitation was extended by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce. The airport consists of 115 acres. A steel hangar is being constructed and will be completed soon.

Ranger's aerial program on the occasion of the dedication of the municipal landing field two weeks hence is gaining state-wide attention. In this morning's Post Worth Star-Telegram the main banner across the top of the front page of the second section deals with the celebration here and the writup follows:

Ranger's two-day celebration for opening of its 115-acre airport, concluding event of the Fort Worth Aerocade, Nov. 8-11, may be made the occasion for an interchange of good will between the two cities through the medium of air mail.

"If a stamp of approval is placed on plans of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce by the United States Postoffice Department, mail will be carried from Fort Worth to Ranger and from Ranger back to Fort Worth the afternoon of the opening date.

"The mail, if carried, is expected to consist largely of messages of greeting from Fort Worth business men, unable to make the aerocade trip, to Ranger business men, and reciprocal messages from Ranger.

"S. M. Gaines, superintendent of railway mail service for the Eleventh district, favors the idea, he told Wayne C. Hickey, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, yesterday afternoon. Hickey and Charles J. Moore, chairman of the Ranger Airport committee, were in Fort Worth yesterday afternoon to determine if it were possible to stage the mail trip Saturday, Nov. 10.

Plan Outlined.
"Hickey's plan is to have a Texas Air Transport plane leave Fort Worth at 2 p. m. Nov. 10 with a cargo of mail for Ranger. Arriving at Ranger 45 minutes to an hour later, it would deposit its load, take on Ranger's quota to Fort Worth and leave the airport there at 4 p. m. It would arrive after its return trip about 4:45 or 5 p. m., in ample time to connect with the National Air Transport ship leaving for Kansas City Saturday, Nov. 10.

There are only two official games in the district this week—Brownwood at Eastland Friday and San Angelo at Ranger Saturday. San Angelo and the Bulldogs are the only contenders for the championship who will have a game "that counts." The weather has turned footballistic—and it looks like a crowd of 5,000 for ever before.

HILLSBORO, Texas, Oct. 30.—Two transient cotton pickers were the principals in a tragedy here today and as a result Earl Adams of Houston is dead and R. C. Ball of Fort Worth is in the county jail. The men had come here from the west and both had been drinking, according to occupants of the house where they stayed. Ball accused Adams of the theft of his money and pistol. Adams told him where the pistol was and Ball secured it and returned, demanding his money.

Adams is said to have told Ball to shoot and Ball did, the bullet entering Adams' throat and coming out at the back of the neck. Adams staggered several blocks to a filling station where he fell and was carried to the sanitarium, where he died a few minutes later. The men are believed to have had no previous trouble.

Ball is married and has 10 children, all of whom were here except two, who are married. Adams has a mother in Mangum, Okla., and a wife in Houston.

ANGELO'S TEAM IS FAST ONE

Biggest Game in West Texas Saturday on Ranger Field.

The banner gridiron conflict in West Texas this week will be fought on the Ranger field when the battling Bulldogs meet the fighting Bobcats from San Angelo Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Both teams are undefeated and the right to continue in the race for the district championship will be at stake. Each eleven has a tie in its record—which counts half a loss—and the team that loses Saturday will be eliminated from the running. And one team must win too—there can be no more ties, for a draw game would be almost as bad as a defeat, as it would count another half a loss for each team.

San Angelo's team electrified the entire State two weeks ago when, picked to lose to the Lobos by 30 points, they fought the heavy Cisco eleven to a standstill. The score was 13-13—and everyone who saw the game says that the Big Dam team was lucky they didn't lose. The Bobcats gained 50 yards more than Cisco did—that's how good a team San Angelo has.

"Red" Massey, Bobcat quarterback, far outshone the dashing Little of Cisco in that game two weeks ago, and Baker, captain of the team, was hailed as one of the greatest passers the district has ever seen. Just how dangerous the Bobcats are may be deduced from the fact that when the Lobos went into the lead, San Angelo came right back and—in two plays—had a touchdown. First, they tore off a big gain on a lateral pass and then they made another breath-taking advance on a forward pass—something like 80 yards in two plays that were pulled off as fast as lightning.

One of their favorite devices is the lateral pass. A back starts off, for instance, as though on a run around left end. As he is tearing along, another back speeds along behind him. "Zip" to the shoulder goes the ball to the back who is behind and then protected by a screen of beautiful interference, he gallops down the field. It is a pretty play to watch—if it is not being used against your team. The effect is startling because the defensive players have their eyes on the man with the ball and are heading for him when the ball is suddenly yards away in the hands of another man. And those fellows toss the oval around like a basketball. They don't seem to be able to drop it at all—they just don't miss.

The Bulldogs can win that game Saturday only by getting in there and fighting from start to finish. They are meeting a team that is not as heavy as Ranger—but boy, how fast and tricky they are!

There are only two official games in the district this week—Brownwood at Eastland Friday and San Angelo at Ranger Saturday. San Angelo and the Bulldogs are the only contenders for the championship who will have a game "that counts." The weather has turned footballistic—and it looks like a crowd of 5,000 for ever before.

With one or two exceptions, all of the 53 Eastland county rural schools have been opened for this year's work, Miss Beulah Speer, county superintendent, announced this morning.

The schools which have not opened should start work within the next few days, inasmuch as farm work is about over.

A number of the schools were a little late in opening, due to the harvesting of the peanut crop, and other urgent agricultural work.

Of the 53 schools, 11 of them have organized and work is well under way. These schools, however, opened early and on scheduled time.

The Dothan school, of which Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood is principal, had its formal opening Monday morning, at which time a short program was given. Miss Pearl Donoway and Mrs. Sims are the other two teachers of the school.

With the exception of the school at Olden, all of the independent schools, which have a scholastic record of less than 500, have been visited by Miss Speer. She indicated that she found the schools progressing better this year than ever before.

Big Damage Suits Brought Against 2 Thrill Killers

By United Press.
ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 30.—Two wealthy Oglethorpe university students, George Harsh and Richard Gallogly, faced first degree murder indictments here today and damage suits totaling $150,000 flowing out of the "thrill holdups" that ended in tragedy.

A Fulton county grand jury returned formal charges against them 48 hours after their arrest for the holdup-slaying of E. R. Meeks, grocery store clerk, and Willard Smith, drug store clerk. Police said they took the indictments calmly.

Meanwhile Mrs. Mary Belle Smith, widowed at 19 by one of the slayings, has filed suit for $100,000 against the two youthful defendants while I. V. Ellis, manager of the store where Meeks was slain, has sued for $50,000. Ellis was wounded in the holdups.

PAVING SUIT BEING TRIED

Taking of testimony in the Hodges estate's suit against the city of Ranger, members of the city commission, and W. E. Burke, paving contractor, started this morning in the Eighty-eighth district court at Eastland.

The jury in the case was not selected until nearly 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the rest of the afternoon was consumed in the argument of a long list of exceptions. The names of all Ranger men summoned as prospective jurors were stricken by the attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Turner, Seaberry & Springer are representing the Hodges estate and E. DeGraffenreid and L. R. Pearson are attorneys for the defendants.

It is expected that the case will not go to the jury until Thursday morning. The plaintiffs have a long list of witnesses summoned and the city also will place a number on the stand, including some 15 citizens of Ranger.

The suit was filed some months ago to stop that portion of a paving program which affected streets abutting on the property of members of the Hodges estate.

City attorneys announced that a similar suit filed by residents of Cooper addition, Ranger, would go to trial as soon as this one has been completed. The paving work in Ranger has been halted since the two suits were filed.

Tomorrow is circus day—Sells Floto Circus Day—and long before dawn the big circus trains will have rolled into the T. and P. yards coming from the west en route to winter quarters at Peru, Indiana.

That is the reason Ranger is to see this big circus this year. According to the arrangement, not one act or wagon will be out of the show when it arrives here. There will be no splitting, in fact, the Sells Floto circus does not split the show. They only play the cities that they know can give them enough business and patronage to warrant their coming.

Here are some of the good things coming tomorrow: Two big circus trains of sixty cars; 16 elephants, 40 dens of wild and rare beasts of the jungle, all in the menagerie, over 400 horses used in performance and for hauling the show to lot, 500 famous circus performers including the Riding Hannefords and George, the riding clown, the Flying Wards, Irene Ledgett and her elephants, Terrell's Liberty Horses an act consisting of thirty-six beautiful Kentucky thoroughbreds, Bert Sloan, the marvel of the slender wire, Erma Ward, considered the greatest of all lady aerialists, ePter Talo and his wild lions and tigers, John Hellof and a big polar bear number, Effie Bairden, Betty Baxter, Blanche Wells, Mabel Hickey and a score of lady riders, 57 clowns headed by Jimmy Davison, a native Texan and Spader Johnson the big side show filled with freaks and strange people collected from all quarters of the globe.

All these and many other good things are coming with Sells Floto Circus tomorrow.

Going Up!

Nightly, now, her smile is winning new hearts all over America. She is lovely Corinne Burton, whose New York home is the New Weston Hotel. Her march to fame includes a season each in "The Music Box" and "The Scandals," and now, under Chas. Bowers' direction, she's going up in the movies!

"I don't believe in overlooking any point which may help make your presence pleasing," says Miss Burton. "Recently, I learned the method of caring for the hair, which is all the rage among New York girls, now. It's so easy. All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush every time you arrange your hair. It makes my hair so easy to dress and holds it in place wonderfully. It has gotten rid of my dandruff. It keeps my scalp and hair so clean and comfortable that I don't shampoo half as often as I used to. It gives my hair such a silky, soft and lustrous appearance that friends comment on it."

Danderine is not oily. It removes the oily film from each strand of hair, restores its natural color, gives it new lustre. It dissolves dandruff, cleanses and invigorates the scalp. It is delightfully fragrant. All drug stores have the generous 35c bottles. Lovely, gleaming hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents.

W. M. U. HAS SOCIAL.
Thirty-two members of the W. M. U. of the Central Baptist church met in the Alafhean classroom of the church for a fifth Monday social. The room was attractively decorated with orange and black and large baskets of yellow and orange chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Barker, the president, appointed several committees to supervise the two meals the W. M. U. is to serve the Methodist delegates who will be in Ranger in November.

Games and contests were played, after which a delicious salad and orange juice course was served by Mrs. George Rogers, John Ogg, D. F. Woodell, B. V. Bollinger and L. C. Blakely.

ENTERTAINS SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS.
Mrs. R. R. Sanders entertained her Sunday school class of 8-year-old boys of the Central Baptist church with a Halloween party. Bobbing the apple, eating doughnuts on the string and other Halloween games were played. Those present were Bill Mitchell, David Blakely, Glenn Wade, and Dick Heath, R. M. and Bill Robinson, O. A. Hill, Dean Crawley, Walter Fraker, Jack Lyons. Mrs. Blakely assisted Mrs. Sanders.

FIRST BAPTIST W. M. S.
The First Baptist W. M. S. met yesterday afternoon in a quilting and business meeting. Two delegates were elected to attend the convention, which meets in Mineral Wells, Nov. 14. It was unanimously voted to complete the paving in front of the church on Marston street. A rising vote of thanks was extended the paving committee—Mrs. Hodges, Rheimon and Walker.

SUNSHINE MAKERS' PARTY.
Mrs. O. S. Driskill entertained her Sunday school class, the Sunshine Makers, with a party at her home last evening. The decorations carried out the spirit of Halloween as did the games played during the evening. Refreshments of hot chocolate, sandwiches and cake were in the Halloween color scheme of yellow and black. Those enjoying the party were Hazel Barker, Verna Deane Newell, Annie Laura McClellan, John and Bob Driskill, Helen Blakely, Deda Mae Belknap, Anita Crawley, Louise Killespie, Maxell Shirley, Ray Lavorn Gillespie, Hazel Mae Ervin, Cordelia and Mildred Herwick, Helen Goforth, Katherine Barker, and Mrs. Ervin and Mrs. L. LAGRAVE IS NEAR DEATH

By United Press.
EL PASO, Oct. 30.—Paul Lagrave, for 16 years secretary of the Fort Worth team of the Texas league, was critically ill in a hospital here today. Physicians said he was at "the point of death."

Jake Atz, manager of the team, Mrs. Atz and George Anderson, close friend of Lagrave, were at his bedside. Lagrave is suffering from tuberculosis. He came here in the early summer.

CAUSES OF DOWNFALL OF BUCKAROOS GIVEN

Four-Year Backs of Cisco, Breck's Mediocre Wing Strength Pointed Out in Advance of The Game.

"How come?" the fans ask concerning the lop-sided way in which the Cisco Lobos walloped the burly Buckaroos of Breckenridge. "Ain't we been reading all the time about how strong and heavy the Bucks were? Didn't they beat Eastland 50 points and hadn't they swept aside all opposition? How did Cisco swat them so unanimously?"

There are lots of angles to the affair. For one thing: When Breckenridge played Eastland that slender end—Cheatham—who scored all four of the touchdowns against Ranger was unable to play. He got into the game near the end, though, in crippled condition, and the Maverick offense at once started with a 60-yard advance for a touchdown. Cheatham catching a long forward pass for the score. Of course, Cheatham is only one member of the Maverick eleven when the Green and White machine won by such a wide margin, the Lobos said: "These Buckaroos are plenty powerful." So the Lobos, humble in spirit from their tie the week before against the hitherto lightly-regarded San Angelo Bobcats, go into the proper frame of mind to meet Breckenridge. The Ciscoans figured they were going to have to give all they had and they entered the game almost as highly worked up as the Bobcats had been the week before.

The Buckaroos made the mistake of rolling up enormous scores—and this would have caused all their dangerous rivals in the district to "point" for the game with them. If Breck had gotten by Cisco, Abilene would have played at their highest possible speed and, if Breckenridge had hurdled that obstacle, Ranger would have been ready to play their greatest game of the year when they took on Breckenridge. Being ranked as the most dangerous team has its disadvantages.

Instead of being content with 20 point victories, the Breckenridge team won by such wide margins that after the Eastland game you heard all over the district: "We've got to watch the Buckaroos." Doubtless, the members of that team heard that too and that did them no good.

The Buckaroos apparently developed too rapidly and reached top form too soon. Other teams have been brought along more slowly—Abilene, for instance—and those who count the Eagles out of the race are too previous.

The day before the Cisco-Breckenridge game, this writer pointed out that the Lobos had two backs—Little and Eddleman—who were playing their fourth season. Stars who have played that long are steady; they are not likely to crack under the strain of a crucial struggle. Little and Eddleman, it might be mentioned were the chief ground-gainers in that much discussed game.

On the other hand, the Buckaroos lacked the steadiness under heavy fire that usually is gained only by three or four years of campaigning. They are largely a second year team. They met their first rugged opposition of the season. Their plays did not work just as they had against lesser foes. This was disconcerting. The pace got hot, and they crumpled. Their line did not open holes through a line that was about their equal in weight—the first time this season that they have faced adversaries of equal poundage. And even when they flung their passes, the receiver would obligingly drop them, otherwise they would have scored in the second quarter and that might have caused them to brace and get going.

—which appeared the day preceding the game—the Breckenridge ends were declared as not on a par with the remainder of the team. The first touchdown was on a 16-yard run around end by Little who simply outran the secondary, with practically no interference. And Little dashed wildly around throughout the afternoon—or until he went out of the game, anyway.

SAM MORRIS OF PARKER COUNTY IS ANNOUNCED

"Fighting Parson" of Weatherford To Speak In Carbon For Hoover Thursday Night.

Rev. Sam Morris, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Weatherford, will speak at Carbon in the interest of Herbert Hoover for president, next Thursday, November 1st, at 7:30 n. m.

Rev. Mr. Morris is a graduate of Simmons University of Abilene, and finished as president of the scholarship society, and is known among his friends as "The Fighting Parson." He was a star football player on the Simmons Cowboy team for four years.

He represented Simmons as an intercollegiate debater four years and his team did not lose a contest during the last two years. He represented Simmons in oratory during the same four years. In his senior year he defeated representatives of Baylor University, St. Edwards University, Texas Christian University and the University of Texas and went to the semi-finals in the National Oratorical Contest, where he competed with seven other states. He is leading the fight for the Hoover forces in Parker county.

Many people in this section heard him speak over radio KFBQ of Fort Worth on the night of October 14th. His speech brought complimentary letters from the following states: Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky, North

SEVEN STATES MAY DETERMINE PARTY VICTORY

Four of Texas Probably Would Likely Place Smith Or Hoover In the White House.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Tennessee has 12 electoral votes, North Carolina 12, Kentucky 13, Missouri 18, Oklahoma 10, Virginia 12 and West Virginia 8.

Broadly speaking, they all come under the category of "doubtful" states. By almost any method of computation, Governor Smith needs at least four of them to win the election. On the other hand, it is quite conceivable these seven states might defeat Hoover. The consensus of opinion among political writers and politicians now seems to be that Hoover's chances are bright in Oklahoma, Kentucky and West Virginia and that Smith has an edge in Tennessee, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia. Even money bets, however, are being made in most of these states.

In 1924 Coolidge carried West Virginia by 31,000, Kentucky by 24,000 and Missouri by 76,000. Davis carried Oklahoma by 29,000, Tennessee by 26,000, North Carolina by 93,000 and Virginia by 66,000.

In these states prohibition and religion seem to be the most important issues, with some difference of opinion as to which is swaying the most voters.

Democrats have been worrying about Oklahoma ever since the Houston convention. Oklahoma votes Republican whenever it likes. It is dry and Protestant. It appears to be sour this year on the Democratic state administration and the Hoover organization has functioned more smoothly than Smith's, which has been plagued by numerous such as those of Ex-Senator Owen and the Tulsa Tribune.

Smith went to Oklahoma to deliver his speech on intolerance and nearly all reports agree that it had no great effect. Some trend back toward Smith lately has been claimed, but Republicans are claiming the state by from 50,000 to 75,000.

Both Hoover and Smith made speeches in Tennessee and Smith's chances were subsequently thought to have improved. Here the Republicans are divided factionally, the Democrats have an effective organization and the racial issue has been dragged in against Hoover to meet the religious issue.

Governor Horton and Senator McKeeler, both dry and both re-nominated this year, are leading the fight for Smith. The result is likely to be close.

In Kentucky, which also has the religious issue, both parties are exploiting the race problem. Dry Senator Barkley and the states ticket are warring for Al Smith, but the Republicans are confident and the Democrats only hopeful.

Two or three months ago it was commonly said in Virginia that the state would go for Hoover if the election was then held. Virginia still may be considered doubtful, but there has been a trend toward Smith, according to observers on the ground. Bishop Cannon has been the principal Hoover campaigner, but has been bitterly fought by Senator Glass and Governor Byrd. The religious issue has been worked overtime against Smith and a reaction to it is said to have developed. Many Virginia politicians expect the election there to be the closest within their memory.

WHIRLWIND

BY ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED

Sybil Thorne, Boston society girl, has scandalized her little world by having a baby and failing to present its father. Sybil was quite properly married, but there are a great many people who decline to believe it.

She married Richard Eustis during a vacation in Cuba. They met on shipboard and were married after an acquaintance of five days. Two weeks later Sybil left him for great and serious cause. She meant to keep the marriage secret until such time as she might quietly secure a divorce. But, to her dismay, she learns that she is going to have a child. Passionately rebellious at first, she loves her baby wildly from the very moment of his birth.

Before her marriage to Eustis Sybil had been informally engaged to Craig Newhall, who has loved her devotedly for years. Before she knew Craig there had been another man—John Lawrence, who went to France with the A. E. F. and never returned. He sailed on the eve of his contemplated marriage to Sybil, and left her thoroughly heartbroken.

Meantime Mabel Black, Sybil's dearest friend, weds Jack Moore and Sybil is matron of honor. She reproaches herself for having neglected the baby during the preparations for Mab's wedding.

Now go on with the story:

CHAPTER XXXIII

Sybil held her baby on her lap, and twisted his yellow ringlets in and out.

"I've an awful, clammy feeling," she said, "as if something dreadful was going to happen to him."

She clutched him to her heart, and held him so tightly that he cried in fright, and dug his small fists against her face, to free his little body from her embrace.

Tad, picking out idle notes at the piano, stopped his humming to laugh.

"Eve said that to Adam," he remarked, "whenever Cain or Abel got a cold in the head. All mothers have the same 'clammy feelings'—and the offspring invariably survives."

Mrs. Thorne drew her purple shawl about her narrow shoulders and shivered.

"I've got so I believe the Lord is never going to be through punishing us," she confessed dimly. "Though if He ever let anything happen to that baby, it seems as if there'd be nothing else to live for."

They all worshiped Teddy, and declared staunchly that he was "a real Thorne." He was a handsome little fellow with endearing, small manners. It was, for instance, his adorable way to sidle his soft, baby hand into the hand of one or another of his worshipping relatives. He was an affectionate baby and unusually demonstrative. When he was tired he liked to be held, and, with one hand clutching his own yellow curls, would lay the other confidently against the cheek of the person who held him.

Christmas came, and Teddy, at eight months, was lovelier and more winsome than ever. Tad brought home a small tree in the back of his car, and it was Valerie who begged to decorate it. She hung the baby's stocking, and bought him toys enough for a dozen children.

Then between Christmas and New Year's she sold her pleated silver crepe—only slightly mussed—and her scarlet Russian blouse to Dolly Weston for $42 and purchased with the proceeds a broadcloth baby coat of rosy tulle with a beaver collar.

"You musn't, Val!" remonstrated Sybil.

"Why not?" she demanded. "I love him more than anything."

After the holidays Mabel phoned.

"Sybil dear," she pleaded, "you simply must help me find an apartment. We came back yesterday, and went directly to Aunt Emmas. But Jack's as nervous as a wretch with auntie putting around. And we absolutely must get into a place of our own."

"My dear, I never was so happy in all my life. Jack's perfectly wonderful. But hell die if we stay here—I know he will."

"Rents are something dreadful. A hundred and twenty-five for any place you'd look at. Seventy-five for the most miserable little kitchen."

"I'm dying to see the new apartments on Commonwealth—electric refrigeration and everything. I suppose they're simply out of sight—but we've got to get somewhere—and that's all there is to it."

"Jack says he doesn't care what it costs. He's like that. The most extravagant creature you ever saw. Why, on our honeymoon, he simply MADE me buy everything I as much as looked at. Oh, darling, it's simply too good to be true. I keep pinching myself to see if I'm really awake."

Sybil met her that afternoon. A new Mabel, in abbreviated skirts and French pumps.

"For 10 years," she explained, surveying her stubby vamps complacently, "I've been dressing like a stylish stout. Now I'm on a diet and I buy my clothes in the misses' department."

Sybil laughed. "Marriage," she observed, "is like the things you eat—one girl's meat, and another girl's poison."

"Well, my dear, the dose you had would have poisoned anyone."

Mabel nibbled a bran muffin, and toyed abstemiously with a salad of beets and eggs.

"Please don't think me too nervous for words," she burst out suddenly, "but why don't you get a divorce, and marry Craig? Is it because of that boy who was killed?"

Sybil pushed her sundae away, and cupped her chin reflectively in her palms.

"Why not?" she demanded. "I love him more than anything."

After the holidays Mabel phoned.

"Sybil dear," she pleaded, "you simply must help me find an apartment. We came back yesterday, and went directly to Aunt Emmas. But Jack's as nervous as a wretch with auntie putting around. And we absolutely must get into a place of our own."

"My dear, I never was so happy in all my life. Jack's perfectly wonderful. But hell die if we stay here—I know he will."

"Rents are something dreadful. A hundred and twenty-five for any place you'd look at. Seventy-five for the most miserable little kitchen."

"I'm dying to see the new apartments on Commonwealth—electric refrigeration and everything. I suppose they're simply out of sight—but we've got to get somewhere—and that's all there is to it."

"Jack says he doesn't care what it costs. He's like that. The most extravagant creature you ever saw. Why, on our honeymoon, he simply MADE me buy everything I as much as looked at. Oh, darling, it's simply too good to be true. I keep pinching myself to see if I'm really awake."

Sybil met her that afternoon. A new Mabel, in abbreviated skirts and French pumps.

"For 10 years," she explained, surveying her stubby vamps complacently, "I've been dressing like a stylish stout. Now I'm on a diet and I buy my clothes in the misses' department."

Sybil laughed. "Marriage," she observed, "is like the things you eat—one girl's meat, and another girl's poison."

"Well, my dear, the dose you had would have poisoned anyone."

Mabel nibbled a bran muffin, and toyed abstemiously with a salad of beets and eggs.

"Please don't think me too nervous for words," she burst out suddenly, "but why don't you get a divorce, and marry Craig? Is it because of that boy who was killed?"

SEVEN STATES MAY DETERMINE PARTY VICTORY

WASHINGTON, Tennessee has 12 electoral votes, North Carolina 12, Kentucky 13, Missouri 18, Oklahoma 10, Virginia 12 and West Virginia 8.

Broadly speaking, they all come under the category of "doubtful" states. By almost any method of computation, Governor Smith needs at least four of them to win the election. On the other hand, it is quite conceivable these seven states might defeat Hoover. The consensus of opinion among political writers and politicians now seems to be that Hoover's chances are bright in Oklahoma, Kentucky and West Virginia and that Smith has an edge in Tennessee, Missouri, North Carolina and Virginia. Even money bets, however, are being made in most of these states.

CHERRY'S TEAM WILL PLAY IN CISCO FRIDAY

Team That Scored Twice on Cleburne Will Meet Lobos.

Blair Cherry's North Siders of Fort Worth are coming to the Oil Belt.

The former Ranger coach will bring his eleven to Cisco for a game Friday against the fast-flying Lobos.

This will be resumed a rivalry between Cherry-coached and Chapman-coached teams—a rivalry that during the four seasons Cherry was in Ranger, produced some of the most exciting games in the annals of the Oil Belt district.

Blair has been handicapped at North Side by the fact that he had few veterans to work with but he has produced a strong team as evidenced by their good work against the always-strong Cleburne Yellow Jackets.

North Side lost the game but scored two touchdowns. Captain of North Side is Boswell, husky tackle. He is a member of the family that has produced more noted football players perhaps than any other in Fort Worth—including a member of the famous Center College eleven a few years ago.

The game Friday at Cisco will start at 3:30. Admission charges will be 25 cents less than for conference games.

Baylor and T. C. U. Clash This Week Is a Vital Game

Special to The Times. FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—With their last non-conference game past, the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs began work this week in preparation for their tough schedule of four remaining games.

The remainder of the Purple season will be a series of card games with Baylor, Rice, Texas and S. M. U. furnishing the opposition in that order. Two of the contests will be played on their home field while two will take place on foreign heaths.

On Nov. 3, the Baylor Bears will journey to Proglund for one of the deciding contests of the season. While the Bears have lost one game, they are still very much in the competition and their 28-6 victory over the strong Centenary Gentlemen on the latter's home field, stamp them as real opposition. The Frogs' 6-0 victory over the Texas Aggies has suffered some in prestige in comparison with Arkansas' crushing 23-12 verdict over the same team. It looks as if the Farmers will not be in it this year.

Nov. 10 the Frogs will journey to Houston for a game with the Rice Owls. The Wise Birds flashed unexpected strength to hold the strong Texas University Longhorns to a 13-6 score last Saturday.

Whoofus Whiffletree's Woozy Wonderings

Football is getting "bigger and better" every year out here in the Oil Belt. Not only in the skill of the teams but in the incidental features of the games.

The Abilene pep squad boys the other day put on an unusual stunt when they formed three human pyramids—each being four "stories" in height—the top boy of each pyramid holding up a banner and the letters "A. H. S." were fluttered to the gaze of the assembled thousands.

And over at Breckenridge, the girls of the Buckaroo pep squad released 50 pretty balloons tinted in the school colors and a pretty sigh the tiny balloons made as they fluttered into the sky and slowly faded from view.

All the pep squads stage excellent maneuvers between halves.

And can't that Ranger cornet player make the instrument do its stuff in that semi-solo number? If he haven't described this in a technically correct manner, we aren't the music editor anyway. But it reminds us of that S. M. U. war song when the cornet trills, chirps and almost sings.

Just when we were deciding that maybe a little novelty in the way of yells would be welcome—you see we witness 30 games a season so some of the "Hold that line" and "Hit 'em hard" yells grow a trifle shop-worn—why along came the Eastland pep squad with that "Touchdown, Mavericks" chant that sounds like an Indian war dance rhythm, with the big drum beating like a tom tom. Evidently an Abilene fan had the same kind of idea about it that we did—for up at Abilene a couple of weeks ago as the chant with its weird swing and war-drum background swung on and on like a tribe of Sioux working themselves into a frenzy—an Eagle fan burst forth with a shriek that was a good imitation of a warwhoop.

All of these things add to the games' appeal. The enthusiasm of the pep squad and the fans of the town communicates itself to the players and makes it possible for them to put forth more effort than they are capable of doing, paradoxical as that sounds. How else could a boy weighing 150 hold his own with a lad outweighing him 30 pounds, take all his heavier antagonist can administer and get up with a grin for the next play?

Out at San Angelo when the embattled Bobcats fired the shot heard 'round the world—we are referring of course to their 13-13 tie with Cisco—someone had an inspiration that was worthy of a genius. The day of the game was set aside as "Dad's Day" and the fathers of the Bobcats were given chairs on the sidelines. On the back of each chair, in large characters, was a number. Each father's number was the same as his boy wore on his jersey. And with dad's eye looking on and dad's voice calling encouragement, those smaller and less experienced San Angelo players achieved the "impossible"—they outplayed the famous Lobos.

LITIGANTS IN FIST FIGHT

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 30.—Two men, evidently thinking the wheels of justice turn too slowly, tried to speed up matters and bring them to a quicker culmination when they battled in county attorney's office just before the case was to be taken up in district court.

The men were Paul Dickson and A. E. Clifford of Milford, and were awaiting trial of a civil suit and as they were waiting in the corridors they came to blows.

About half dozen licks were exchanged, the officers said, before they were separated. One of the men suffered a cut lip.

Charges of $16 were assessed against each participant after charges of affray had been filed against them.

Drunk Threatened 100 Days in Jail

By United Press.
 WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 30.—R. V. Gwinn, justice of the peace, and county officers frankly entered into a kill or cure conspiracy aimed at a man accused of having purchased whisky with money needed for the care of a wife and five children.

"When he gets drunk, he stays drunk, sometimes a month at a time," the man's wife complained to Judge Gwinn. "He's just starting on a drunk now and I don't believe anyone can stop him."

The man had been arrested the night before.

"I'll stop him," the judge retorted and called the man before him.

"I'm going to continue your trial on this charge," the judge announced when the accused was brought in. "But I'm going to instruct every deputy in town to keep watch for you and to arrest you if they see you drunk, and if they bring you in here, you'll get 100 days in jail."

AIR MAIL LINE FOR ONE DAY JUMP

Chicago at 7:30 a. m.

"Gaines sent telegrams to postal authorities at Washington yesterday afternoon inquiring if the plan would meet with their approval.

"There is no air mail line running through Ranger now. It is probable that if the trip from Fort Worth were made, envelopes showing that their contents were mail carried over the first air trip to Ranger would be available.

"Hickey and Moore were in conference with D. W. Carlton, aviation commissioner of the association of commerce, and members of the aviation committee while in Fort Worth yesterday.

"They described the two-day event at Ranger Nov. 10 and 11 as an elaborate celebration in which the 15 or 20 planes in the Fort Worth Aerocade would play a principal part. The Fort Worth Aerocade, completing a 900-mile swing around West Texas, will arrive in Ranger about 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon en route back to Fort Worth.

"The parade through Ranger's downtown section, a major event of the two days, has been set for 5 p. m. Saturday so that Fort Worth envoys, arriving some two hours earlier, can participate.

One of the Fort Worth Aerocade personnel will make one of the dedicatory addresses at services to be held at 9:30 a. m. Sunday. A plane from the Fort Worth caravan will be the first to enter the 60x60 foot all-steel hangar. The plane will be that of the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil company. The plane was selected because it was in the Ranger oil field that the company had its inception. The Texas Pacific Company will furnish oil for all planes in the aerocade at the three over-night stops on the route. Chestnut & Smith will furnish gasoline to the caravan.

Finders Weepers In This Instance

By United Press.
 EL PASO, Oct. 30.—Finding a liquor cache proved unlucky for Dolores Quintana and Jose Rocha. Quintana pleaded guilty to transportation of liquor found on a mountain side and was fined $125 by Federal Judge Charles A. Boynton. Rocha pleaded not guilty and was held for trial.

Quintana said he saw a man hiding the liquor as he was gathering wood one evening. He said he invited Rocha to go with him next day and get it.

Two custom officers they passed later, becoming suspicious, halted them and found the liquor.

Makes Life Sweeter

Children's stomachs sour, and need an anti-acid. Keep their systems sweet with Phillips Milk of Magnesia!

When tongue or breath tells of acid condition—correct it with a spoonful of Phillips. Most men and women have been comforted by this universal sweetener—more mothers should invoke its aid for their children. It is a pleasant thing to take, yet neutralizes more acid than the harsher things too often employed for the purpose. No household should be without it.

Phillips is the genuine, prescriptive product physicians endorse for general use; the name is important. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. registered trade mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.
