Smith and Hoover Speakers Will Debate Here Tonight

CAPABLE SPEAKERS ON STUMP

Street in front of Liberty Theatre will be roped off.

L. R. Pearson, Ranger attorney, announced this morning that Eastland county democrats would have a speaker present tonight at 7:30 o'clock to answer the speech to be made by Cecil L. Simpson, Dallas attorney, who will speak in the interest of Herbert Hoover for president.

Permission was given to Lon Hayden and Pearl Long last night by the city commissioners to hold the speaking in front of the Liberty theatre on South Rusk street. A portion of the street will be blocked for the occasion.

Simpson, a Hoover-Democrat, was brought here under the auspices of the Eastland county Hoover club. He arrived this morning.

An able speaker upholding Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York will speak at the conclusion of Simpson's address.

A number of Eastland residents have signified that they will attend the political speaking. A large crowd from Ranger is expected to attend the opening salvo of political barrage in Ranger. In case of bad weather the speaking will be held in a nearby building. However, it is believed that the weather will permit the joint Smith-Hoover speaking to be held outdoors.

Senator Pat Harrison Says Hoover Can't Take "Cool" Advice.

Special to The Times.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Senator Pat Harrison, who is the southern member of the advisory committee of the democratic national committee, declared yesterday that Governor Smith's trip into the south and the border states has already shown the absurdity of republican hopes of making inroads on the "Solid South" and has brought home to the Hoover leaders the seriousness of the situation confronting the republican party. He said:

"There is consternation in the republican camp. Mr. Hoover and his aides in Washington are in such a political frenzy that even the president advises them to be cool—not to become stampeded. The situation has become so tense, that on yesterday they called Mr. Hilles, national committeeman of New York, and Mr. Machold, the New York state chairman, down to Washington. The newspapers were told that this was one of the most important conferences yet held in Mr. Hoover's behalf. Undoubtedly, it was a very important conference. Just how important it was will be noted in the fact that Mr. Hilles and Mr. Machold were told to return to New York immediately and take charge of the campaign. In other words, Mr. Hoover put the New York fight up to them. We have it from official sources.

"The feverish activity of the colonels and lieutenants in the Hoover camp do not fit well with the soothing admonition of the white house staff but, of course, as a matter of fact, both Mr. Hilles and Mr. Machold know the situation better than those in Washington. They know that what Mr. Hoover needs is a little action rather than a little quiet and for months they have been endeavoring to bolster up the boys out in the other states by prediction of 'good news' from New York, but the 'good news' is not forthcoming. As a matter of fact in New York there is nothing but 'bad news' for the republican management. It was bad enough when Mr. Smith, after eight years of magnificent service to his state, became the presidential nominee; it became 'worse news' when Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated by acclamation by the democratic state convention. As a result of the candidacies of Governor Smith and Mr. Roosevelt it is high time that Mr. Hilles and Mr. Machold were called to Washington. The result of the conference speaks for itself.

Urge Honor Rule With Reservation

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—Retention of the honor system at Texas university with abolition providing for reporting of students seen cheating by their classmates has been voted by the students. The poll shows 1,109 favorable votes of 1,494 in a campus election yesterday.

While the poll was favorable for retaining the honor system at the university it does not constitute final action, which will be taken by President Benedict and student officers. The poll on the system was taken to learn students' opinion of the system.

DYNAMITE IN SCHOOL STOVE TWO ARE HURT

Probe Shows Window is Forced, Motive is Mystifying.

By United Press.
VERDI GRE, Neb., Oct. 17.—An investigation was started today to determine the cause of an explosion that partially shattered a pine schoolhouse northwest of here and injured two small children.

Deputy Sheriff A. L. Smith said today after an investigation that dynamite or gunpowder had been used and that one window had been forced. The explosion occurred yesterday during the noon recess. With a terrific roar, the stove exploded, tearing holes in the floor and wrecking the room. The stove was blown into hundreds of pieces.

The two children were in the room at the time and were injured but both will recover, it was said today.

Miss Agnes Motzicks the teacher, had just kindled the fire but had gone to the far end of the room and escaped injury.

TWO CHINESE ARE KILLED

BOSTON, Oct. 17.—A report received at police headquarters shortly before noon today stated that another Chinese had been slain this morning.

This is the second tong outbreak in Boston within 24 hours, a Chinese laundryman having been slain last night in the south end.

Equalization to Begin on Oct. 29

The board of equalization to act upon city taxes will go into session October 29, it was decided at the regular meeting of the city commission held last night at the city hall.

Cards summoning local taxpayers to appear before the board in regard to the raising of renditions will be mailed at intervals. Members of the board will be paid for their services, the commissioners decided.

The board will consist of three members and will be assisted by E. A. Ringold, tax collector and assessor. Nine names of persons were submitted by members of the commission last night. From this list four names were selected from which appointments will be made.

Those selected as likely members of the board are Garvin Chastain, E. V. Bollinger, A. N. Hartman and Howard R. Gholson.

It is thought that a week will be required to interview all of the property owners whose renditions are considered to be subject to raise.

Those who did not render their property will not be summoned to appear before the board.

A Bear-i-tone?

Denver's zoo has a singing bear, if this picture can be believed. At any rate, an alert photographer snapped the above shot the other day while Bruin was making a noise that resembled High C. Being a bear, it follows that the singer must necessarily be a bear-i-tone.

HIGHWAY BODY TO RECOMMEND MOODY'S IDEA

Suggests One Member From Each Senatorial District to Make Report.

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—Governor Moody suggested today formation of a committee of 31 non-legislative members to be appointed for the purpose of drafting a highway improvement program which would be submitted to the next legislature. This committee, composed of one member from each of the senatorial districts of the state, would discuss various proposals for bettering the highway system and draft from them a report to the legislature. Steps for both revenue and construction methods could then be taken, largely from these recommendations.

The governor mailed out letters today to members of the senate and house requesting that each senatorial district have a conference and name a member of the committee. This committee is to meet in Austin before the convening of the legislature for appointment of a sub-committee which would consider all proposals and report back to the entire body.

800 BARRELS THE ESTIMATE OF NEW WELL

C. M. Root, Eastland County Operator, Has Big Well Near Breck.

Special to The Times.
BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 17.—Hitson No. 1 of C. M. Root of Eastland county, three miles west of the business district of Breckenridge, continued to hold the center of interest in petroleum circles, steady improvement being shown in the output of this, the latest discovery in Stephens county.

According to reports yesterday afternoon, the well was making 35 barrels an hour.

The Humble company has laid a three-inch line to the well which made 325 barrels the first 24 hours and which since then has been showing constant improvement from a depth of approximately 3,230 feet.

A large number of visitors is to be seen at the well day and night.

Much of the offset acreage to the northeast is owned by the Breckenridge Gasoline company. However, the discovery well is well within the lease of 160 acres which comprise the farm.

GASOLINE FORMULA GUARDED

Borger Man Claims Secret Process is Sought by Plotters.

By United Press.
BORGER, Tex., Oct. 17.—Fearful that a secret process for distilling crude oil for gasoline will be stolen from him, M. P. Euchre, formerly of the Alamo Refining Co., here recently placed armed guards at his present refinery near Borger. The secret process, he claims, enables him to get nearly twice as much gasoline as other processes do.

With the last two weeks Euchre reported that several attempts have been made to get into the plant where he now is demonstrating the worth of the process to the Phillips Petroleum Co. That company purchased the rights to the process some months ago.

Convinced that the attempts to enter the place were part of a plot to steal his formula, Euchre came here from Tulsa to take personal charge of the camp.

AIRPORT, MEET OF LEGIONAIRES ARE DISCUSSED

Rotary Club takes Up Important Topics at Today's Session.

Joseph M. Weaver of Eastland, president of the States Oil Corporation was called to Dallas unexpectedly and was unable to speak to members of the Ranger Rotary club at the regular luncheon and meeting held at the Gholson Hotel today noon.

A musical program consisting of violin duets by Misses Olga Mitchell and Evelyn Long, and a piano solo by Miss Nell Tibbels, was presented by Andy Anderson, president, and the program committee for today's session.

Harry Henry appeared before the club members and asked their aid in entertaining delegates to the 17th district convention of the American Legion to be held here November 10 and 11. A committee to work with the Legion, consisting of J. T. Hughes, B. H. Murphy and Howard R. Gholson, was appointed.

A committee composed of F. R. Yonker, Wayne C. Hickey, Walter Harwell and Edw. R. Mahery was appointed to work towards the completion of the municipal airport. Hickey and Charles J. Moore made short talks relative to the airport dedication services.

Guests of the organization were Charles J. Moore, Harry Henry, Charles Edwards, Esker Curtis, and Misses Nell Tibbels, Olga Mitchell and Evelyn Long. Visiting Rotarians included Buck Taylor, Carrizo Springs, Texas, and Jim Beard, Eastland.

BULLDOGS TO PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY AT 4

Lineup Will Be Shifted Around for the Thurbur Game.

Finding no cause for prolonged rejoicing in the small margined victory over the Eastland Mavericks last week end, Coach Esker Curtis of the Ranger Bulldogs will send a crew of rearranged first string men and a number of the second team against the Thurbur Miners, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Lillard Field.

The Thurbur high school aggregation will encounter a different array of Bulldogs than which met the Eastland Mavericks—an end will be shifted to the backfield in an arrangement that Curtis has been working on since the first conference game, and other re-arrangements are likely.

An admission charge of fifty cents will be made. Tentative arrangements call for a game with the strong Polytechnic high school team of Fort Worth here November 17.

Wife Killed By a Woman; Freed

FARMERSVILLE, La., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Naomi Day, 30, niece of a former Arkansas governor today stood acquitted of the slaying of Mrs. Mittle Midlin near here last August.

The jury last night found her not guilty of manslaughter after deliberating one hour. Mrs. Midlin was shot to death after she found the defendant and Dr. Midlin in a car on the roadside. Defense witnesses testified that Mrs. Midlin fired the first shot.

GERBER, Calif., Oct. 17.—C. Fred Holmes has 20 acres of yellow corn that grew at the rate of nearly two inches a day. He planted it Aug. 1. Four days later it was five inches tall, and 50 days later it ranged from six to eight feet tall.

Five Mexican Rebel Leaders Put to Death

By United Press.
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—Five rebel leaders, all of whom were captured after being wounded several months ago, were executed at dawn yesterday by federal troops in the state of San Luis Potosi, it became known today.

Brief dispatches today contained information concerning the federal action. The five men were members of the grand army of liberation and included General Jacinto Loyola, who was known as the inspector general of the revolutionary forces in that state.

Several months ago, the rebel forces in that area engaged in a brief battle with federal troops. The casualties were not great. General Loyola and four of his lieutenants, however, were wounded and captured. Since that time, they have been in hospitals recovering from their wounds. Monday night the five were taken from the hospitals, given a brief trial and sentenced to die before a firing squad.

MAROONED BY A SNOWSTORM

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 17.—Scores of workers were digging in to gigantic snowdrifts on Pike's Peak today in an effort to reach two men and a woman marooned on the cliffs of the mountain.

The three persons were Axel Simonson, his wife and J. L. Nichols, all of Colorado Springs. They climbed to the summit Monday and soon afterwards were marooned by a blizzard.

All telephone wires were down and authorities have been unable to communicate with the trio. Workmen were clearing the road preparatory to attempting dispatch a rescue train today.

Reloute Traffic, Paving Goin On

Paving work, which has started on Commerce street between Main and Mesquite streets, will necessitate a change in the routing of traffic from the east and west.

Traffic from the east and going west along the Bankhead highway will be routed west on Main to the intersection of Rusk. A left-hand turn will be allowed on Rusk and the motorists will go south to Mesquite street to rejoin the highway. Traffic from the west on the Bankhead highway will be routed west on Mesquite to South Rusk, then north on South Rusk to Main and down Main to the highway.

Although a left hand turn will be allowed to go south, one will not be sanctioned to go west on Main street.

The left-hand turns at the intersection of Main and Rusk were abandoned over a year ago.

Commerce street is being repaved and several weeks will be required to take care of the work. The old brick on the street will not be torn away, W. E. Burke, contractor, said.

Most Valuable Player
Freddy Lindstrom, the young third baseman of the New York Giants, probably will be the winner of the National League's most valuable player prize.

The contest may be close, as there is considerable sentiment among the writers of the western circuit for Jim Bottomley the first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals.

But the opinions expressed by the writers from the major league cities during the world series indicated that Lindstrom, at the moment at least, had a lead in the contest.

The ball players who were willing to express their opinions seemed to think that Lindstrom had the edge on all the other candidates. They rated Burly Grimes as one of the outstanding workmen of the season, but they feel that a pitcher shouldn't be rated on the same basis as a player who has to be in there doing something big day after day.

The players also seemed to think that Dazzy Vance did a better job of pitching on his own than Grimes did.

Praise From Hendricks
Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, who has quite a ball player in Hughie Critz, is one of the most enthusiastic boosters of Lindstrom.

"Lindstrom not only was the greatest ball player I saw all season, but I don't know of any other third baseman I ever have seen that had a thing on him," Hendricks said. "He is about the best all around player I have ever seen, and he hasn't reached his best form yet."

My, What a Man!
Hendricks also rates Dazzy Vance as one of the greatest pitchers of all time.

"It that big fellow ever got into a world series he would be the sensation of all time," he said. "I never saw a pitcher who could do as much all alone as he can. If he had a ball club behind him he wouldn't lose more than a couple of ball games a season."

"His career is strikingly parallel to that of Walker Johnson. Walker never got a chance to show until he was past his prime, and Dazzy never may get the chance. "Dazzy and one hitter would be a whole ball club."

May Swap Meusel
It seems to be accepted as a fact that Bob Meusel will not be playing with the Yankees next season. There hasn't been anything particularly wrong with his game in New York, but the Yankees will have to give some of their good players away to make some deals during the winter, and the New York fans wouldn't rebel if Meusel was passed along. He never has been popular in New York.

It is understood that the White Sox want him, and will send Bill Falk to New York in the deal.

"They can talk all they want to about trading him, but that young fellow will have something to say about it," Irish Meusel, his brother, said, during the world series. "I know he will not want to go to Chicago, and if he does go they'll have to give him plenty of money. And I understand the White Sox don't want to put out much money."

"I know there isn't a ball player in the big league who can talk in money better than Bob. I got him his first game in baseball, and he talked himself into more dough than I was getting, and he always made more money than I did."

Frogs Will Try to Keep Their Record Of Wins Unbroken

Special to The Times.
FORT WORTH.—Coach Matty Bell was swinging his black snake with a will at his Horned Frog camp the first part of this week driving his charges at full blast in preparation for their game with the Texas Aggies at College Station next Saturday. So far the Frogs are undefeated and with an opportunity of going throughout their schedule without taking the small end of a count, Bell is ribbing his boys up with heavy scrimmage and long talks.

"You have the prettiest opportunity ever given a football club," said Matty, "in all the years of coaching, I have never had such a situation handed me." Long hours of drill and signal work with the quitting signal coming only with the darkness will be the order of the day throughout the week.

The return of Red Eddleman to the line-up has left the Frog squad intact for the trip. The big half-back who has been suffering with a broken little finger, is back in uniform and from indications will start against the Farmers Saturday.

That the Frogs have picked a tough time in which to engage the Station boys is recognized by all football followers in the state. Smarting from their first and only defeat of the year at the hands of the Centenary Gents last Saturday, the Aggies will be tearing their hair when they take the field against the Frogs. Critics who know the ways of the Aggies team will journey to College Station expecting a ripping, tearing and slashing Farmer team. Coach Bible will have his boys fighting for their first conference game.

While Matty's boys will rule as the under dog by at least two touchdowns, there are followers of the Purple team that predict a Frog victory. In the last three years the Purple has always been the under dog but have managed to win one and tie two of the three games. This year, while the dope has matched the teams more evenly than before, the Frogs are still rated just a little lower in the football scale.

An official holiday has been declared at T. C. U. and the entire student body will follow the team on its invasion of Farmland. Besides the students, several hundred outside supporters of the squad will make the trip. Special trains have been arranged and a low round trip rate granted. It is estimated that between 800 and 1000 will journey to the Station Saturday.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—Determined to wipe out their recent defeat by the Centenary Gentlemen with a victory over the T. C. U. Horned Frogs in what will be the first conference tilt of the season on Kyle Field Saturday, Coach Dana X. Bible's Texas Aggie grid charges are hard at work in an effort to correct all weaknesses shown in the tilt with the Louisianaans and in an effort to get their offensive team play functioning perfectly.

The Aggies are looking forward to one of the hardest battles of their schedule when they meet the Horned Frogs, and it is likely that the result of the T. C. U.-Aggie tilt will have an important bearing on the outcome of the conference title race, for both teams are considered to be among the strongest contenders for the flag this season.

In their games thus far in the season the Frogs have the edge on the Aggies, having scored a decisive victory in each of four contests while the Aggies are credited with three victories and one loss in their early season games. That the Frogs have one of the strongest teams in several years is indicated by the fact that they scored a 19-3 victory over the Simmons Cowboys, who were playing all of their men regardless of eligibility under southwest conference rules, while the S. M. U. Mustangs were barely able to nose out a 6-0 victory over the same team with a large number of Simmons players ruled out under conference rulings.

The Frogs have a real triple-threat team entered in the conference race and promises Coach Bible's eleven a hard battle. In kicking, especially the Horned Frogs have an advantage if the results of early games can be taken for an indication.

Both teams are expected to resort to an open method of attack and if they continue the style of play which they have used in their non-conference games, there will be thrills a plenty for the spectators.

To the 5000 who daily become owners of the new Ford car

THE service obligation of the Ford Motor Company and its dealer organization is now growing at the rate of 5000 cars a day. It is to these new car owners that this message is addressed.

The new Ford is a remarkably fine car for one that costs so little. It is simple in design, constructed of the finest materials, and built to unusually close measurements.

These are the reasons it performs so wonderfully. These are also the reasons its service requirements are so few and the up-keep cost so low.

When you receive your new car, the dealer will explain the simple little things that should be attended to at regular intervals to insure the best performance. He will also tell you something of his own facilities for doing this work promptly and at small cost.

With the purchase of your car, you are entitled to Free Inspection Service by your dealer at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles. This service is due you and we urge you to take full advantage of it. Proper care during this breaking-in period means a great deal to the life of your car.

Included in the Free Inspection Service is a check-up of the battery, the generator charging rate, the distributor, the carburetor adjustment, lights, brakes, shock absorbers, tire inflation and steering gear. The engine oil is also changed and chassis lubricated.

No charge whatever is made for labor or materials incidental to this inspection service, except where repairs are necessary because of accident, neglect, or misuse.

The labor of changing the engine oil and lubricating the chassis is also free, although a charge is made for the new oil.

We believe that when you see the good effects of this inspection you will continue to have it done regularly throughout the life of your car.

You will find the Ford dealer very helpful in keeping your car in good running order for many thousands of miles at a minimum of trouble and expense.

He operates under close factory supervision and has been specially trained and equipped to do this work promptly, thoroughly and economically.

Amarillo Looks to Be the 'Class' of Panhandle Teams

Special to The Times.
AMARILLO, Oct. 17.—Although Amarillo is doped to slide through its District No. 1 football schedule without much trouble, the fact that every team in the district is pointing for the Sandies is likely to make it hard at times for Coach Russell Smith's charges.

The Golden Sandstorm, following an impressive 7-0 victory over Roswell, N. M., last Saturday—made more impressive by the fact that Bob Walker, the Sandies' ball-toting ace, was out of the lineup taking a well-deserved rest—goes into the conference struggle this Saturday against Plainview. The Bulldogs aren't conceded even an outside chance, but the Sandies, fearing over-confidence, are working as hard for Plainview as they would for a state title game.

The Lubbock Westerners, who will battle the Sandies at Lubbock November 3, are known to have a smooth-working machine, but whether their battle cry, "Beat the Sandies!" will instill enough fight in them to stop the powerful Sandstorm attack is doubtful.

The Vernon Lions, too, are working hard with the Armistice day game with the Sandies in view. Coach Weir is rounding his team into shape rapidly, and while it didn't show up any too brilliantly in defeating Plainview last week a few more weeks of drilling should develop some real opposition for Amarillo.

Wichita Falls doesn't look so well on paper. They were beaten rather badly last week by Ardmore, Okla., being on the short end of a 24 to 0 score. A week earlier Ardmore was trimmed 41 to 0 by Norman, Okla., high, the same team that bowed to the Sandies in Amarillo's first game of the season, 20 to 12. On paper, this gives the Sandstorm a tremendous advantage over the Coyotes, but these figures mean little. Coach Bud MacCallum is noted for developing his grid machinists slowly but thoroughly, and by the time the Coyotes and Sandies clash in the final game of the district, he is expected to have developed an attack that will give Amarillo at least a few bad moments.

The loss of Harvey Black, star signal barker of the Coyotes, through ineptibility, will be felt keenly by MacCallum. Black, it was found, had played three years of high school football before going to Wichita Falls last year.

Electra is the dark horse. The oil city between Vernon and Wichita Falls always has a strong contender in the race, but this season's strength can't be gauged until the district campaign is well under way.

Quanah, whom the Sandies meet next week, is not expected to finish very far up in the class A race. Their showing last year, and the fact that they have nothing upon which to base a suddenly strong team this year, puts the Indians more or less in the background among the district teams.

The Sandies so far have met four teams—among the strongest in three states. They beat Norman, Okla., 20 to 12; were nosed out 7 to 6, by the strong Central high team from Oklahoma City; swamped Liberal, Western Kansas champions last year, 34 to 0, and ran wild over the champions of New Mexico—Roswell—74 to 0. Thus they go into the conference race in mid-season form.

100 PER CENT CHILD TO BE SELECTED. In response to the drive that continued through the summer, a selection is to be made soon for the school child who is 100 percent perfect. This drive sponsored by the P. T. A. and Child Welfare club, directed by Miss Henrietta Ablard, is to stimulate perfection in the health of the child. Before selecting, the child must have a certificate showing that a thorough examination has been made by a doctor, and that all defects, if any, have been corrected. The picture of the child will be published.

YOUNG SCHOOL P. T. A. The Young school P. T. A. met yesterday afternoon with a good attendance. Mrs. M. R. Newnam opened the program with a piano solo. Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, past president of the Texas Congress of Mothers, gave the history of the Texas Congress of Mothers and its work, also "The Children's Code," and other measures of child work, which was enjoyed by every one. Mrs. J. A. Shackelford, president of the club, presided over the business meeting. A splendid report was given by the officers and committees. Mrs. Harry Bishop was elected delegate to the convention which meets in Amarillo Nov. 12. The history of the Young school was also given by Mrs. Maddocks, the first president of the Young school P. T. A. Plans were made for the Halloween carnival to be given Friday, Oct. 26 for the benefit of the school.

ENTERTAINS WITH BIRTHDAY DINNER. Mrs. W. E. Pool entertained with a birthday dinner, at her home on Pine street yesterday. The living and dining rooms were prettily decorated. A large birthday cake was the center decoration for the table. The gifts were placed around the cake. After dinner, a theatre party was enjoyed. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watt, Misses Rena SoReille, Elva Swagerty, Jackie Baker, Herman Adelle and Durad Pool.

1920 CLUB TO STUDY INDO-CHINA. The 1920 club will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Gholson hotel. The subject of the afternoon will be "India and Indo-China." Those on the program are Mrs. A. J. Ratliff, leader, Mrs. O. L. Phillips, "The Natives," Mrs. F. G. Yonker, "The Jungles and Their Inhabitants," Mrs. C. D. Wood, "Indo-China."

FIRST BAPTIST W. M. U. BAKE SALE. The W. M. U. of the First Baptist church will have a bake sale at the Paramount hotel Saturday. COOPER SCHOOL P. T. A. There were 25 present at a called meeting of the Cooper Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon. Mrs. R. V. Stokes was elected third vice president and Mrs. Roy T. Earnest was elected press reporter. Mrs. Earnest was also elected delegate to the convention in Amarillo. Plans were made for the Halloween carnival which promises to be different from any carnival ever held at the school before.

DIZZY, NO APPETITE Since Taking Black-Draught This Man Is Eager For His Meals and Feels Much Better.

Harrisburg, N. C.—Mr. M. F. Fink of this place, says: "It must have been fully twenty-five years ago that I began taking Black-Draught regularly. It wasn't so long after I married. "I was in town one day, and while talking to a friend I stooped over to pick up something. When I straightened up, I felt dizzy. I spoke to him about this and how I had not felt like eating. "My friend told me to take some Black-Draught. I knew my mother had used it, and so I bought a package. When I got home, I took a good, big dose, and the next night, another. In a few days I felt much better. I was hungry and the dizziness was gone. "A good many times I have had this dizziness and a bad taste in my mouth, or headaches, and then I take Black-Draught and get better. I do not have to take it very often. We buy from five to seven packages a year."

Theford's Black-Draught has been found to relieve sick headaches in thousands of cases that were due to constipation. Containing no mineral drugs, it acts gently, yet promptly. Try it. NC-193

AWNINGS For Homes SEE Joe Dennis Auto Works Ranger, Tex.

THIS HAS HAPPENED Sybil Thorne, spoiled and pampered, has consummated a sorry marriage with a drunkard. Richard Eustis, whom she met on ship-board, was fascinating and seemed desperately in love. Throwing discretion to the winds Sybil married him after an acquaintance of five days. On their honeymoon in Havana he becomes horribly and almost constantly intoxicated. Within two weeks there are bitter quarrels, followed always by reconciliations. Finally, when Sybil threatens to go to another hotel, her husband rushes from their apartment, leaving her to do as she chooses. Sybil's mad marriage is particularly disastrous because she was engaged at the time to Craig Newhall, a fine chap. Craig, who is in Boston, knows nothing of her marriage. Sybil took a trip to Cuba with Mabel Blake, a social worker, and met Euis on ship-board. Mabel, meantime, has met an American named Jack Moore, and becomes engaged herself. The first time Sybil left her husband Mabel and Moore persuaded her to return to him. But now that Richard has left in a towering rage, Sybil resolves to go alone to another hotel.

Now go on with the story: CHAPTER XXII Emotional reactions, thought Sybil disinterestedly, were extremely fatiguing. She would not go tearing after Richard. She would not cry, or sob, or pray. She repressed a faint inclination to laugh. "No hysterics," she told herself sternly. And, being a creature of habit, she powdered her nose and straightened her hat. She looked about the room, taking in every detail—much as one looks upon the dead, to remember forever something one will never see again. Then she took her bag, and proceeded soberly to the elevator.

At the Ingle Terra she engaged a room, and leaving orders not to be disturbed, undressed, and slipped into the white satin nightgown that Richard said made her look like a vestal priestess. She was glad that she was so tired—so utterly, painfully weary. There were aches in the back of her knees, and it was good to stretch between the cool sheets. Good, too, to be alone. Completely exhausted, she slept until late forenoon, and woke with a guilty start, and an oppressive feeling of impending disaster. She phoned for ice-cold orange juice, and black coffee, and took a cold shower that made her tingle.

The sun was shining, and the streets were full of people bound for their siestas. Dressing hastily she sought the sizzling Prado and hurried to the Seville. She saw clerks glance at her curiously, and wondered if they knew she had left the hotel the night before. The lights were burning in their room. Perhaps Richard had not returned. She turned the knob quietly.

"Maybe he's asleep," she thought. "Poor little boy!" She tip-toed across the threshold. Sprawled across the bed, dressed even to his shoes. She moaned. An empty bottle lay on the floor. Rich's favorite drink—Havana rum. His coat sprawled where he had flung it, an open bill folded its contents. Cards and letters littered the floor, and there was paper money, sticky with the sugary liquor Richard loved. Absently Sybil stooped for the coat, and shuffled the confused papers together. It seemed as if she was always tidying after Rich. Socks and shoes and soiled linen. He never hung anything up, or put things away.

"Richard!" she called, bending over him. He did not start at the sound of her voice, but began to breathe noisily. As she turned away, shuddering, her glance fell on the papers she still held. On top was a squar white card. Isabella Petite Amistad & Cognac Una Triguena Abajo Triguena? Triguena? Sybil's brows drew together thoughtfully. The papers slipped from her fingers and fluttered to the bottle on the floor. Then, without a backward glance, hard on her little French heels, she left the room. Ten minutes later she was with Mabel and Jack Moore at the Pasaje.

"There's no use talking, Mab. Please, Jack! It doesn't make any difference what you say. Wild horses couldn't drag me back. There's a boat this afternoon, and I'm going to get it. You can come or not just as you choose, Mabel. But, Sib, we haven't anything ready! How about your trunk?"

"I'll send a message to the manager. He'll take care of it all right." "Where's Rich?" "Asleep." "Does he know you're going?" "He doesn't care what I do." "Oh, Sib darling, if you run away, there'll be hundreds and hundreds of miles between you and Jack, can't you reason with her?" Sybil's mouth hardened, and her eyes were cold as steel. "Listen," she began firmly, "I didn't intend to tell you. I'll never tell anyone else. Last night after you people went, Richard was horribly abusive. I left him, and went to the Ingle Terra. This morning I woke all brimming with wifely love and idiotic devotion. I thought Rich might be sick. I felt sure he would be repentant. And I meant to forgive him once more, and start in all over again. Exactly like a poor adoring fool, you see. So I hurried back to the Seville, and up to our room. "There lay my husband. Drunk, across the bed. An empty bottle on the floor. And beside it a little card. Do you remember, Mab, the card we saw on the boat? The purser showed it to us. It said 'una rubia' on it, and the purser told us it meant the girl was Boston. This one said Triguena. I know that means brunet, because Richard says love is a matter of types, and you see he likes dark women." "Sybil—oh, my dear!" "Her name is Isabella, and she lives downstairs somewhere." Sybil was talking rapidly—disconnectedly now. "My husband particularly likes girls with dark eyes and olive skin." "Sybil—darling—don't!" Mabel threw her arm protectively across Sybil's shoulders. "You poor girl—don't, dear!" Sybil contemplated the ring on her left hand thoughtfully. "Why not?" she demanded.

WHIRLWIND BY ELEANOR EARLY

Sybil's brows drew together thoughtfully. The papers slipped from her fingers and fluttered to the floor.

Gently Mabel drew her closer. "It's so horrible." She shivered. "And—besides—perhaps Richard didn't go there. Maybe he just found the card." Sybil sat up very straight, and shaking Mabel's arm away, turned her level gaze upon her friend. "Don't be a dumb-bell, Mab," she admonished. Moore shifted his incredulous glance from one girl to the other. "Perhaps," he offered lamely, "I had better go over and talk to him."

"Good Lord, no! Leave him alone. What good does talking do?" Sybil was angrily determined. "I don't mean to be rude, but you'll have to let me handle this my own way. Are you coming with me, Mab—or aren't you?" Mabel turned to her fiance. "Could you come too, Jack?" "Not a chance, dear. I have to make Santiago from here. But why don't you go ahead with Sybil? We'll let Eustis sleep until you get out. Then tonight I could drop over there, and tell him that I'm through. I suppose he knows how to reach you at home, Sybil?"

Sybil wrinkled her forehead perplexedly. "Honestly, Jack, I don't know. He knows I'm from Boston, of course, but I don't believe he knows that the family is at Wian. If I ever mentioned it, he has probably forgotten it. "Oh, if he wanted to come to Boston, he could find me. Directories and phone books, you know. "Anyhow, I've planned exactly what I shall do. Nobody need know I've been married at all. If Rich cables, or tries to get in touch with me so that Mother would know, I can tell her he's just a crazy man we met on the trip that I don't care a bit about. And you will stick with me, won't you, Mab?" "You know I will, Sib." "Well then—I guess that's settled. Will you grab a fertoing, and hustle down to the steamship office and get us a stateroom? We have round-trip tickets. Mab's coming along like a good girl—aren't you, dear?"

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

In all history, no Indian was ever known to have constipation. Nor need YOU. He chewed the bark of a tree called cascara. Today, we have the candy Cascaret. Cascaring the bowels never forms a laxative habit. If already formed, an occasional Cascaret will usually break the habit. For cascara strengthens the muscular walls of the bowels, and their need of any aid at all grows constantly less. What other cathartic has this characteristic? The writer knows of none.

An evacuation brought gently about by cascara will, nine times in ten, be followed by full functioning of the bowels on the morrow—and for days after. For there is no REACTION as with sickening salts, or any of the man-made purgatives that go through one's system like a bullet. Physicians tell us cascara is the ideal laxative—and the tongue tells us candy Cascarets are its ideal form. At least a million people know this: what a pity there are any who don't! Especially parents; because children love to take a Cascaret. After which, for days-on-end, the bowels will be seen to work of their own accord.

CASCARETS They Work While You Sleep!

The Graf Zeppelin, on its flight to the United States, carried a stock of aged wines and liquor which was dispensed by two stewards. Every time we pass a roadside hot dog stand, it becomes harder and harder to realize who won the war.

Manufacture of carbon black from natural gas is a growing industry in Texas, and now employs about 1,500 people.

"Oh, I suppose so," Mabel concurred dubiously. "Angel!" approved Sybil, and turned briskly to Jack.

"I'll help Mabe back," she told him, "and if you'll come to take us to the boat after you make the reservations, we'll be all ready." When Jack had gone she turned helplessly, to hide the tears that stung her scorching lids. Fumbling in the depths of a big beaded bag, she found a handkerchief, and pressing it to her trembling lips, began to bite its lacey edge, until it became a tattered little rag. Her bravado had vanished, and all her crisp, efficient manner.

"Oh, Mab!" she whispered, and it was such a wreny, defeated little whisper. "Oh, my dear—my dear—whatever shall I do?" (To be continued)

OIL MEN ANNIHILATE SPACE WITH AIRPLANE

Sail Through Clouds to Meet Business Associates Far Away.

(Editor's Note: The author of the following article is a noted oil man and formerly was financial writer for a New York newspaper.)

By S. F. VALENTINE
In San Angelo Standard

Today, space means nothing to the modern oil operator. At 10 o'clock Saturday morning Frank Pickrell, vice president and general manager of the Texas Oil and Land company, had George Henshaw, president of the Henshaw Oil Corporation on long distance telephone. Pickrell was at Big Spring and Henshaw was in his office at San Angelo.

An important matter pertaining to development in the Howard Glascock oil field was under discussion and a point was reached when maps became necessary—Pickrell said, "all right, I'll be in your office at 12 o'clock."

At 10:15 Pickrell was in his Ryan Brougham 5-passenger plane, accompanied by Stacy B. Dorn, head of the land department for the West Texas and New Mexico area for the Marland Oil company, the writer and J. Harold Mangain, the pilot.

At 11:45 the party stepped out of the plane at the municipal airport at San Angelo—the 12 o'clock appointment was kept.

Air Trip Delightful.
The writer was traveling as a guest of Pickrell and the one hour and thirty minutes in the air was very delightful. Not being a seasoned aviator many impressions were indelibly written—impressions that the seasoned traveler of the air never notices.

The Ryan Brougham plane, of course, is enclosed with the pilot seated in front—the next seat was occupied by Stacy Dorn and the writer, the rear seat by Pickrell. The engine was running slowly when we tipped in—just warming the engine up a little the pilot said—Pickrell pointed to a roll of cotton, saying, "If you will put a little of that cotton in your ears you will not notice the propeller quite so much and the altitude will not bother you." He was then reaching for some cotton for himself—Dorn, who is not seasoned as an air bird himself and I began stuffing our ears.

The indicator was showing that the engine was making 1,500 revolutions per minute—the pilot released the brakes and the plane began moving—a few feet more and I noticed that the wheels were still revolving but not touching the ground—I turned around and shouted at Pickrell that we were off the ground—he smiled and nodded—he was watching Dorn and I—not the ground—the get away was so smooth that one never missed the ground—it only appeared that the ground was dropping from under us.

Viewed Oil Field.
A few minutes more and we sighted the derricks of the Howard-Glascock oil field—Pickrell leaned forward and said to tell the pilot to swing over to the left a little, he wanted to see what was going on at Settle A-5 and A-2—the order was carried out from an altitude of approximately 1,000 feet reading of the Tag Altimeter.

Cheaney

Special to The Times.
"Grandma" Walton is reported better. She has been real sick for some time.

J. O. Snell fell off of the Jess Buckwell store last week while doing some work on the roof and has not been able to walk and since. He was badly hurt in his feet and legs.

The water system at Cheaney has been greatly improved and we hope it is giving good satisfaction. Our school will suspend the 11th and 12th and may suspend until peanuts are dug.

A few from Cheaney attended the barbecue and bridge opening at Meniman last Saturday and all report a grand time. A real old fashion barbecue with plenty of hospitality.

V. V. Cooper has a crew on the Cheaney cross road putting in get-ways for the water on the new road that is greatly appreciated by all as a stitch in time saves nine. Mr. Cooper knows just what, where and when to do.

Singing and Sunday School was well attended and a good interest is being taken. A move is on foot to buy a piano for the singing as we lost ours by rats and mice. So if anybody has a real good piano and wants to sell same cheap he might deal with O. S. Milton, O. D. Strickles or R. R. Browning. The new rig is up on the J. O. Calvert place and drilling will start soon.

Preaching at Cheaney next Sunday by Bro. Frank Skaggs. Also Sunday School at 9:30. All are invited to attend.

Peanut digging will start around Cheaney next week if no more rain comes.

Quickest Way to Sweeten Stomach

PERHAPS that sour condition of your stomach is due to an over-stimulation of gastric acid. A sour stomach isn't very pleasant, and isn't very easy to excuse when there is so simple a way to remedy it. To neutralize the harmful acid and put your stomach in good order take a little "Pape's Diapepsin"; after meals, or whenever the need is felt.

This fine remedy removes the cause of the trouble and promotes normal, healthy digestion. "Pape's Diapepsin" is sold by all druggists at 60 cents a package, and is the remedy which is recommended by millions because it gives immediate relief in all cases of difficult and painful digestion.

Be sure, therefore, to provide yourself with "Pape's Diapepsin" today, so that stomach pain and digestive troubles need never worry you again. Or your stomach causes you discomfort. This form of relief has helped many who thought their disorders could not be helped.

Only Time This Was Ever Done in History of Newspapers.

(Editor and Publisher) When newspaper men of Memphis gather together after the final editions and "shop talk at thirty" the conversation inevitably gets around to Ralph L. Millet, political editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, and his idiosyncrasies, his beats and his brilliant stories.

And always one gem in the veteran Millet's picturesque career is mentioned and dwelt upon at length and with many chuckles. It concerns the time back in 1916 when he was editor of the Memphis Press and did something no editor is believed to have done before—or since.

He continued a piece of one-column art from page one to page four. It came about this way: One day an elongated Western Union messenger boy stumbled into Millet's office with a telegram that should have gone downstairs.

Ralph looked at the youth and what aghast, remarking, "How tall are you, son? You're about the tallest kid I ever saw."

The boy replied he was six feet four. And Millet, always on the lookout for the unusual, immediately called in a photographer and a picture was run on page one with a little story, written by Ralph himself.

The next day and the next tall boys flocked to Millet's office, and the editor saw he had started something. Since every boy seemed to be a little taller than his predecessor, Millet conceived the idea of finding "the tallest youngster in Memphis."

"We had good art for a week," Ralph says, "then the thing sort of died down." But one day just as Millet was about to declare a winner the grand climax was reached—and hence this story. A sixteen-year-old lad of some six feet eleven inches (some say seven feet nine) crouched under the ceiling of the editor's sanctum and expressed a desire to enter the contest.

And so another picture was made. Millet ordered a one-column cut, full length, two pages only. The cut came back from the engravers on the home edition deadline. It was the longest cut he ever saw, Millet says. Back in to the composing room it was rushed, and pretty soon the make-up editor burst into Millet's office.

"Mr. Millet, that's cut's too long. With all your streamers and that box feature, it won't go on page one, unless we tear the make-up to pieces, and we ain't got time. What'll I do?"

Now Ralph is noted for his quick decisions. It took him but a second: "Cut him off just above the knees and I'll manage him on page four!" he ordered.

That day the Memphis Press carried in its page one an almost knee-length picture of a very young man, at the bottom of which was the notation: "Continued on page four."

And on page four the delighted reader saw the remainder of the youth, including the feet.

The whole town chuckled. Many laughed out loud. One or two readers, old timers say, called the office and in a hysterical voice attempted to tell how pleased they were. Everybody remembers it.

Even Mr. Millet, who recalls it now and then with a sheepish grin: "When I die, and go to that land prepared for newspaper men, I'll not be remembered, I fear, for my one or two little beats, but only as the man who once continued a piece of page one art to page four."

And the Shop Talkers agree with him.

Abstract of judgment, Oil Well Supply Co. vs. A. (C. A.) Lewis, $16,159.48.

OIL DRILLING ACTIVITY OVER LARGE AREA

Work Is Reported In Every Direction About Eastland and Results Are Very Encouraging.

Activity in the Harbin pool, five miles south of Eastland, eased up slightly the past week, with the bringing in of two wells on the Coon and Webb farms, but announcement was made of intention to drill two more locations, so that no let up is in prospect for this field for some little time to come.

Although the completed wells were rated as small producers, the wells in this field have a comparatively long life, and because of the shallow depth, the operators are going ahead with plans to develop the acreage between the Arkansas Fuel Oil Corporation's Connelley lease on the North and Southern Oil & Production company—Hoffmann & Page's Webb-lease on the south.

W. A. Stiles and W. E. Davis are planning to drill a test on the west side of the field. Although the location has not yet been made, Mr. Stiles stated that the well would probably be located in the northeast corner of the J. S. Butler tract.

Harbin & Hefflin are cleaning out their No. 2 S. N. Coon preparatory to placing it on the pump. It is rated somewhat better than the No. 1 Coon, the south offset, which is making around 10 barrels. Upon completing this well it is understood that they will move their machine to the McGee farm and drill a diagonal offset to the No. 1 Coon.

After a 20-quart shot Southern Oil & Production company and Hoffmann & Page's No. 2 C. T. Webb is estimated an eight to 10 barrel well. This well is the southeast offset to Harbin & Hefflin's No. 1 Coon, and is located in the northwest of the the northwest 1-4 of section 26, block 2, H. & T. C. Ry. Co. survey. The well record shows 19 feet of sand at 1251-70.

Arkansas Fuel Oil Corporation completed their Jacob Lyleria for a small well the early part of this week.

Hoffmann & Page ran the 6 5-8 inch casing at 935 feet Friday night on the Moore & Lester Fossil No. B-1 to shut off water and avee.

Late Field Reports Frank Beatty is underreaming 8 1-4 inch casing at 2050 feet on the Arab Gasoline Corporation's No. 1 Williamson in Stephens county.

Consolidated Gasoline company is taking about three million feet of gas from the S. A. Hopkins No. 1 Jones, completed last week, having laid a six-inch line to the well. According to T. F. Gordon, superintendent of the Hopkins Company, the well tests better than five million cubic feet open flow.

After drilling 10 feet of new hole on its No. 1 Ammerman, Root Drilling company was fishing for five-inch tools Friday night at 3100 feet. This well has been a producer for several years, and is now being deepened with the expectation of getting a well in either the Lake sand or the Black lime. The Ammerman No. 1 is located several miles west of Eastland between the highway and the M. E. & T. railroad tracks, and east of Root Drilling company's Kirklint well, which recently came in for 300 barrels after being deepened. The Kirklint is still making 180 barrels daily.

Frank Day is moving in material for J. F. Lewis & Company's T. M. Johnson Well No. 4, about two miles north of Eastland on the east side of the Breenkridge highway. Johnson No. 3 was recently completed for two million feet of gas.

Frank Cortis spudded in this week on the No. 4 Johnson of W. B. Smith, et al, just north of the J. E. Lewis & Company Johnson lease.

OUT OUR WAY

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON There seems to be a serious lack of good campaign jokes. Most of those heard around here to date have been pretty awful. Two s—amples:

"What's the first thing Al Smith will say when he gets in the White House?"

"Good morning, Mr. Hoover!" (That's the end of that one.)

"What's the most important letter in the alphabet?"

"H. It's the beginning of Hoover and the end of Smith."

If anyone knows any worse campaign jokes than those, please send them in for publication.

The only other one your correspondent knows was pulled by a gent who wired in to a radio station the other night:

"F. Rather he drunk with Smith than hungry with Hoover."

Senators Curtis and Robinson, the two vice-presidential candidates, have both been heckled and both have fired back some hot shots, Curtis evening lapsing into mild profanity.

Heckling is a nuisance to any candidate. There's always likely to be some shrewd old duck in the crowd who may have been plotting his trap weeks in advance. Even the best platform speakers sometimes lose in an exchange of repartee with hecklers. The recent Robinson and Curtis episodes have reminded some older members of this generation of Roosevelt's cropper during a Wisconsin speech in 1912.

A voice in the rear of the hall several times repeated loudly: "I'm a Democrat!"

"Well, why? Roosevelt finally demanded after several interruptions:

"My father was a Democrat, my grandfather was a Democrat, my wife's father was a Democrat, my wife's grandfather was a Democrat, and I'm a Democrat."

"Suppose," shot back Roosevelt, "your father, your grandfather, your wife's father and grandfather had each been a damn fool—what you do be?"

The colonel must have thought that was going to end it, but before the crowd could laugh the heckler shot back:

"A Bull Moose!"

Chairman Raskob showed good sense in hastening to repudiate talk about Candidate Hoover's drinking. Hoover has been one of the few high officials in Washington whose name is not mentioned in discussions of drinking in high places. He has seldom if ever been seen at drinking parties and it is common report that he has not served a drink in his house since he entered the cabinet. One hears that the Republican candidate can remember how many drinks he had had in his entire life, which, if true, means not very many.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER WASHINGTON—The forthcoming election will be the first since 1922 in which none of the original "Newberry senators" will be voted out of office.

There were 46 in that band of regulars who put through the Spencer resolution to seat Truman H. Newberry of Michigan after it had been shown that some $200,000 had been spent to elect him despite a state law limiting his expense to $2750.

FAMILY MENU

BY SISTER MARY BREAKFAST—Sliced peaches, cereal cooked with chopped figs, cream, liver and bacon, corn muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of tomato soup, cheese crackers, fresh fruit salad, peanut butter bread, milk, tea.

DINNER—Chartreuse of rice and meat, stewed celery, head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing, lemon jelly cake, milk, coffee.

The dinner main dish uses up the left-overs from the post roast of beef served for the previous dinner. This chartreuse is most palatable and good to look at. A well buttered brick-shaped pan is lined with cooked rice. This is filled with meat chopped and seasoned and made moist with "left over" gravy or milk or tomato juice and a slightly beaten egg. This is covered with a layer of rice and steamed 45 minutes. Turn out on a hot platter and cut in slices to serve.

Lemon Jelly Cake. One-half cup butter, 1 3-4 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 2 cups flour, 1 cup milk, 4 1-2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon extract.

Cream butter and gradually sift in sugar, beating hard. Add 1-2 cup flour and mix thoroughly. Mix and sift remaining flour, salt and baking powder. Add yolks of eggs well beaten to first mixture and add dry ingredients alternately with milk. Add flavoring and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into four layer cake pans which have been oiled and as an issue against them. And it is also worth pointing out that 27 of the 41 senators who voted against the seating of Newberry are still on the job. Only 13 are missing as against 34 of the Newberryites and at least half of those 14 either died, retired or resigned. Certainly no senator ever lost his job because he voted against seating Newberry.

Furthermore, of the nine Republicans who voted against Newberry only one has been defeated at the polls—Sutherland of West Virginia on a close vote. Norris of Nebraska, Borah of Idaho, Capper of Kansas, Jones of Washington and Norbeck of South Dakota are still important figures in the Senate. LaFollette of Wisconsin and Ladd of North Dakota are dead and Kenyon resigned to go to the federal bench.

The 12 Newberryites still in Congress are Curtis of Kansas, Edge of New Jersey, Hale of Maine, Keyes of New Hampshire, McLean of Connecticut, McNary of Oregon, Oddie of Nevada, Phipps of Colorado, Shortridge of California, Smoot of Utah, Warren of Wyoming and Watson of Indiana. Johnson of California, who refrained from voting while under pressure from both sides, also remains.

Quite a few of the dozen virtually have lifetime leases on their jobs. All of them have been up for re-election since the Newberry vote and some of them were saved by large campaign funds. Hale of Maine, despite bitter opposition, has been re-elected twice, the second time at Maine's recent election.

Hale was the only one of the dozen up before the voters this year. The others are serving terms ending in 1931 and 1932.

Some of the Newberry casualties have had lame-duck appointments. Kellogg of Minnesota became ambassador to Britain and later secretary of state. New of Indiana became postmaster-general. Poindexter of Washington was made ambassador to Peru and has just been badly licked in an attempted comeback in the 1928 primaries. Other distinguished Newberryites defeated since that famous vote have been Bursum of New Mexico, Calder of New York, Cameron of Arizona, Cummings of Iowa, Ernst of Kentucky, McCormick of Illinois, Pepper of Pennsylvania, Townsend of Michigan and Wadsworth of New York. Others have had narrow escapes.

Transfer of lien, O. L. Wilkerson Lbr. Co. to Continental Savings & Building association $500, part of lot 2, block 96, Cisco.

LIONS ORDER ONE THOUSAND CHINESE ELMS

Airplane Landing Field In Eastland Discussed At Luncheon and Sites Suggested.

The Eastland Lions club at today's meeting let a contract with Baker Bros. nursery of Fort Worth for 1,000 Chinese Elms for shade trees this number and more having been ordered by Eastland citizens to be planted in the city. The contract price of $1 per tree calls for the planting of the trees and a guarantee to replace any that should die before June 1 1929.

The club also discussed the proposition of an airplane landing field for Eastland. A number of propositions were discussed but nothing definite done in the matter. The club president, Donald Kinhard appointed a committee to raise funds with which to pay $250 which amount the Lions agreed to underwrite for the illuminating of the new Eastland county courthouse.
