SPLENDID REPORT FOR DISTRICT READ AT METHODIST CONFERENCE

$147,000.00 COLLECTED FOR YEAR

Eastland, Ranger and Cisco Churches Are Making Steady Progress.

Dr. Paul B. Kearns, pastor of the Park Avenue Methodist church of San Antonio, who has delivered addresses at different times during the Central Texas conference of the Methodist church in session here, delivered the opening address of today's session of the conference.

Reports from the presiding elders of the conference took up much of the time at this morning's session.

Basing his address on the Scriptures found in the 24th chapter of Luke, "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" the second chapter of Acts, "Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye looking into the heaven?" and the 28th chapter of Matthew, "I, I, I, I am with you always." Dr. Kearns delivered a splendid address in which he developed the thought that we of today should not look into the past near into the future to find God, but find him in the present.

This morning's session was opened by Bishop Moore with the singing of two songs, "Love Divine," and "O, Worship the King." Dr. R. O. Armstrong led the opening prayer.

Splendid reports from the churches in the Cisco district in which is included the Ranger and Eastland churches, were made to the conference by the Rev. C. O. Shugart, presiding elder of Cisco.

Mr. Shugart reminded the conference that though this section is known as the "land of flowing gold," they must not take it literally. "We do have wonderful oil fields with new ones being discovered almost daily, but this 'flowing gold' flows mostly through pipe lines running to the big refineries outside the district and where the dividends are paid into the treasuries of the large oil corporations and not so much of it left in the district in which it originates," Mr. Shugart said.

Reports for the Cisco district showed a healthy growth of the churches and Sunday schools, and the collection of funds with which to pay off about 62 per cent of the obligations.

Two churches in the district, one at Carbon and one at Dublin, were destroyed by fire during the year. New churches have been erected on these sites and at Carbon the building is free from debt, while at Dublin the indebtedness is no greater than it was on the old church building.

The church debt at Cisco was reduced $900 during the year. A good portion of the debts at Ranger have been paid and both these churches have made splendid showings on other obligations, the report reveals.

One of the most notable achievements of the year in the district, Rev. Mr. Shugart said, was the completion of the handsome new church building at Eastland. He also said that the Eastland congregation, under the leadership of Pastor Frank E. Singleton, had made a wonderful showing in meeting other obligations and in (Continued on page 2)

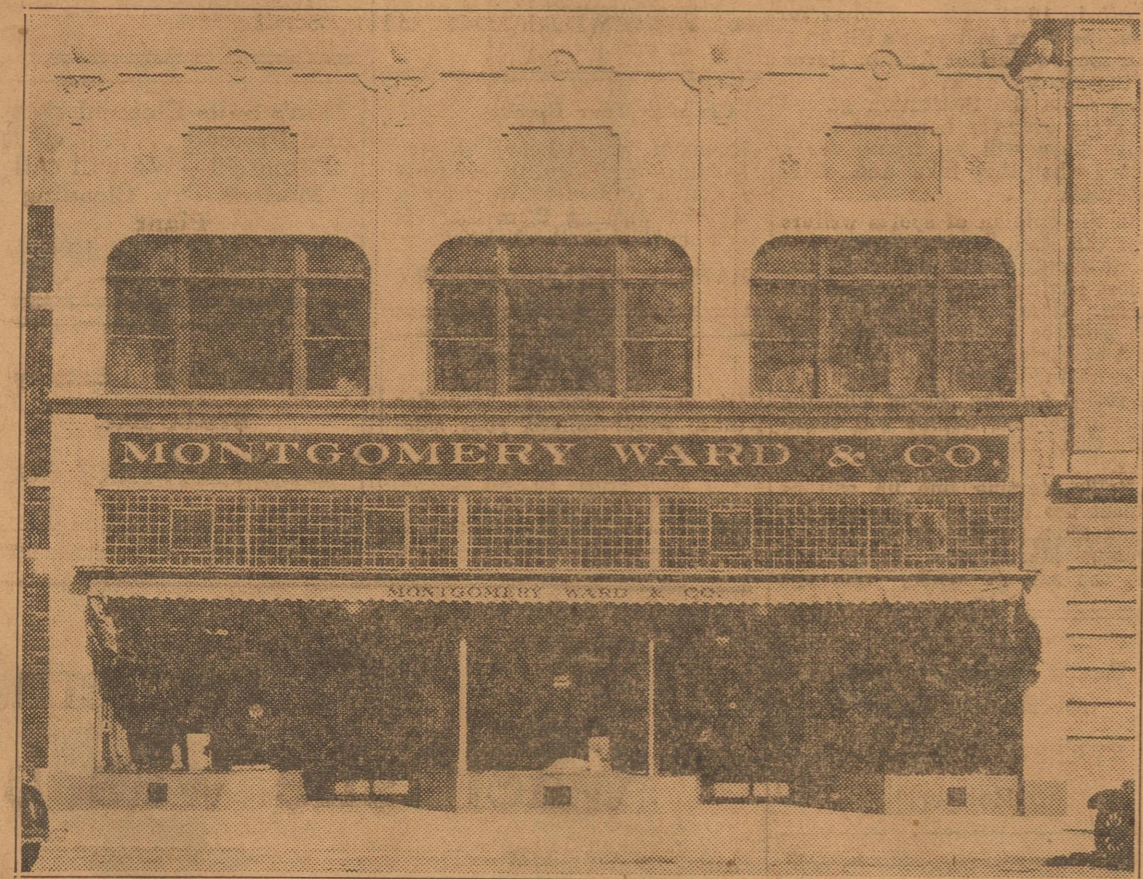

England and Wales Are Struck By 100-Mile-an-Hour Gale

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 16.—Gales which battered vessels in the English channel and the North Atlantic ocean for 48 hours moved inland over England and Wales today, causing widespread property damage. Reports from scattered sections indicated many persons were injured. At least one was known to be dead.

In Southern Wales, the gale was estimated unofficially to have reached 100 miles an hour. Many streets in Cardiff were closed to prevent pedestrians from being killed or injured by falling masonry. A falling tree was reported to have killed one man at Bristol.

Buildings were damaged in several sections and telephone and telegraph lines were disrupted. In London, ambulances treated 12 pedestrians.

Beautiful Building in Readiness

The handsome two-story building just completed by L. H. Flewelling and L. R. Pearson is the latest addition to the business section of Ranger. Montgomery-Ward will occupy the building. The big new store will be opened Saturday. F. A. Wagner, the manager is shown.

MAN FREED ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Self-Defense Wins Acquittal on Boom-Time Killing Charge.

"Not guilty" said the jury and Fred Jordan today was freed of the charge of having committed murder seven years ago. Conductor Mike Figue of the T. & P. railroad was shot to death during the oil boom and recently Jordan is said to have confessed to the shooting. His plea was self defense and only three minutes was used for testimony by the defense, according to information from Eastland. The jury was out 45 minutes.

Dry Agents Raid New York Resorts

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Fifty federal agents early today made their second concerted drive on New York night clubs and spas, raiding 21 places and taking 30 prisoners.

The places visited by the agents ranged from office buildings to the gay resorts in Greenwich village. None of the better known night clubs were visited today. The squad was sent out in five groups of 10 each and made a whirlwind campaign. None of the federal forces were augmented by city policemen.

County Ships Cars Dressed Turkeys

A carload of dressed turkeys is being shipped out today from the new dressing plant at Eastland, said Ben Whitehouse, federal agriculturist of Ranger, who visited the plant yesterday. Thirty-five workers are employed there. More turkeys are needed to keep the plant going at capacity.

Vice President-Elect in Message

The outstanding American citizen to send personal message to the boys of Our Heroes class, at First Methodist church, and whose letter will be read Sunday to the class by its instructor, M. F. Peters, was Vice President Charles Curtis. The fact that Senator Curtis formerly taught a large class of young men of the Methodist church during his residence at Topeka, Kan., is indicative of his interest in Sunday school work.

OKLAHOMA CYCLONE KILLS TWO

Three Others Are Injured When Twister Hits Orlando, Okla.

ORLANDO, Okla., Nov. 16.—Two persons were killed, three others injured and thousands of dollars in damage done when a severe southeast wind swooped down upon a corner of Orlando last night.

Mrs. John Stevens and Ernest Theford were killed and John Stevens, Walter Theford and Theo Draper were injured. The twister, which struck in a "united" area, demolished the Stevens home and tore the Theford home into pieces. Mrs. Stevens was killed in the debris of her home. Her husband, seriously injured, now is in the hospital in Guthrie.

The Theford youth was badly injured when the twister truck his home three blocks from the Stevens home, and died later in the Guthrie hospital. Walter Theford and the Draper youth were saved by one of the quirks of fate. Both Theford boys and Draper were in the barn and Walter Theford and Draper had just stepped outside when the gale struck. Timbers of the barn fell on Ernest Theford, fatally injuring him. His brother and Draper were only slightly injured.

Combat Fog as a Flying Liability

CLEVELAND.—Fog will lose its terrors for the air pilot if the hope of members of the International Illuminating Congress is fulfilled, according to Dr. M. Lukiesh, Cleveland illumination specialist. The congress, he said, has promised every assistance for the development of aviation through scientific and adequate lighting of landing fields, air route markers, beacons and for planes themselves. Plane lights, it was said, would make practicable safe landings on unlighted fields.

According to Dr. Luckiesh, the congress also will work toward safer highways. Better lighting research activities looking toward improved working conditions for factories and schools, as well as better lighting in the homes, also will be conducted.

"Many researchers are still necessary and a great amount of work and ingenuity will be involved in interpretation of scientific data," he said. "We need knowledge, but that knowledge is useless if left uninterpreted and unused."

Chevrolet to Have 6-Cylinder Model

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 16.—General Motors' answer to the Ford model was seen today in the announcement of a six cylinder Chevrolet to sell at approximately the same price range as the old four cylinder Chevrolet.

The announcement came a few days after Ford had taken a leading in motor car production with a daily output of 6,000 cars. Ford had relinquished the lead for a year or more to Chevrolet. Although neither company will admit a business battle, officials generally have said there is some doubt whether the market can absorb the tremendous output of which the two are capable.

Farm Relief May Be Enacted Soon

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 16. President-elect Hoover is hearing reports from Washington that Congress is at its opening short session may enact farm relief program thus obviating the necessity of an extra session after March 4. Hoover promised an extra session in the closing days of his presidential campaign unless adequate relief was afforded during the short winter session, which at that time seemed improbable.

WOLF IS LIABILITY TO COUNTY

Trappers Will Be Obtained; Other Counties Experience Shown.

Turkey raising and sheep and goat-raising would benefit a million dollars a year if the wolves in Eastland county were eradicated, declared Ben Whitehouse, federal agriculturist today, following yesterday's wolf conference in Eastland.

Plans were made to destroy the wolves in the county. Trappers will be obtained. The federal government will assist and will super-vise the trappers. Raisers of goats, sheep and turkeys from all parts of the county attended Thursday's conference at the city hall in Eastland.

Thousands of dollars loss are caused annually in this county by wolves, Mr. Whitehouse estimated, and the presence of the wolves keeps many people out of the industry of raising goats, sheep and turkeys. Therefore by eradicating the wolves, many hundreds, even thousands of acres highly suitable for the raising of turkeys, sheep and goats would be so used.

Palo Pinto county about a year ago inaugurated an anti-wolf campaign and more than 500 wolves have been killed. Brady in 1922 shipped out six carloads of dressed turkeys. This was before the wolf extermination began. Last year, 66 carloads of turkeys were shipped out.

PLANES SEARCH SNOWY PEAKS FOR THE LOST

Three Hundred Persons Are Hunting for Four Missing University Students.

SANTA ROSA, Calif., Nov. 16. Three hundred volunteer searchers today trekked over the snow-covered slopes of three mountains in search of four California university students who have been missing a week.

In addition, three airplanes flew over the region in which Miss Anna Ransperger, her twin sister, Nina, Robert H. Keeler and John Dempster are believed lost. Led by peace officers and rangers, the search party strung telephone lines behind them in order to keep in constant communication with their base which was to be established at Lakeport.

Turkey Trot In Progress at Cuero

CUERO, Tex., Nov. 16.—A carnival spirit pervaded this town today as thousands of persons assembled here to celebrate Turkey Trot day.

A feature of the celebration will be the parade of turkeys through the main street of the town. Five bands will head the parade while auto decorated with bunting and other floats will have positions in the rear of the turkey parade. The institution known as Turkey Trot day was inaugurated here 16 years ago. The last Turkey trot day was held in 1922. On one occasion 12,000 turkeys were used in the parade through the downtown section.

Re-enlist After Few Hours Out

ALBANY, N. Y.—After sixteen years in the United States army, Sergeant Boyce F. Kirby, now in the recruiting service, was a civilian. But only for a few hours. His enlistment expired at midnight but by noon of the next day he was back on the job as right hand man of Col. Raymond Sheldon.

"Leave the army? Nothing doing," Kirby said. "I'm satisfied right where I am, and I'm here to stay." Kirby began his services in 1912 at Columbus.

BANK ROBBER NEAR DEATH PAL IS DEAD

Second Holdup in Oklahoma Town Within Year Results Tragically.

MARIETTA, Okla., Nov. 16.—Haynie Liddell, 35, lay badly wounded early today shot by a posse last yesterday as he and his pal Colbert Keel, 55, an Indian, sought to rob the First National bank here. Keel was killed by the posse that wounded Liddell.

Liddell, according to Sheriff Randolph of Love county, was near death. It was reported after the attempted robbery that both of the bandits were dead. Liddell was unconscious for several hours after the shooting, apparently saved from death by a steel jacket he was wearing, the sheriff reported.

It was shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday when the bandits entered the bank and took $10,000. As they stepped out of the big door of the bank, they were met by the fire of a posse, hastily organized. They reached their auto when Keel fell dead and Liddell was wounded. Liddell, if he lives, will have to answer charges in connection with the robbery of another bank at Marietta last year in which Sheriff Long and one of the bandits were killed. Liddell was involved in this robbery by the confession of a bandit.

Two conference games will be played tomorrow in the oil belt. Eastland Mavericks will play their final official game of the year at Cisco.

Breckenridge and Cisco Are Scenes of Conference Games

Two conference games will be played tomorrow in the oil belt.

San Angelo Bobcats invade Breckenridge. Although Angelo is minus the services of their full-back, who was over-age, the Bobcats are expected to put up a good fight though the odds now favor their heavier opponents, who have the further advantage of playing at home.

Numerous Ranger fans will view the games, some planning to go to Cisco, that being the nearer city, while others will motor to Breckenridge as that is expected to be the scene of the more evenly-matched game.

Arrest Another In Show Holdup

HOUSTON, Nov. 16.—A man who gave the name of Sam D. Dees, 24, of Oklahoma, was arrested late Thursday as the second of two bandits who Wednesday night robbed a motion picture theater at Humble and engaged in a gun battle with two deputy sheriffs.

D. W. Rawling of Waco shot during the fight is believed to be dying. Deputy Sheriff Harvey Fields also wounded in the back is expected to recover. Dees told Sheriff Binford that he participated in the robbery.

RADIO MESSAGE 14 PL Radio Messages to Liner to Be Probed

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Rumors that the Lampert & Holt steamship line wireless Capt. Wm. Carey of the Vestris not to send out an SOS on Sunday when the ship first showed a decided list opened another avenue today for Federal Attorney Chas. N. Tuttle's investigation.

Tuttle immediately issued subpoenas for officials of the radio Corporation of America calling upon the mto produce copies of all radiograms that passed between Carey and Sanderson & Son, agents for the Lampert & Holt line.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The congress campaign investigating committee will meet in McAllen, Tex., to make inquiry into primary and general elections.

HE HEARS 'VOICE' OF WIFE

So He Writes in Last Letter Before Taking Poison.

NELIGH, Neb., Nov. 16.—Ernest Witmer, young farmer, who, he said, killed his wife on Sept. 26 because she smoked cigarettes, committed suicide in his cell in county jail here last night.

Witmer took strychnine in making away with himself. It was believed to be part of a vial he had purchased to dispose of his wife. Witmer killed his wife, first placing poison in some beer she drank and when this failed to kill her, he beat her over the head with a singletree and hammer. Then he buried the body in a cornfield where it remained until remorse drove him to confess the crime to police.

In great pain from the effects of the poison he took, Witmer refused to tell doctors what kind of poison he used so an antidote could not be administered. A letter to his mother told of his suicide plan and he recounted hearing voices in his cell that he believed were messages from his slain wife.

"It must be her calling to me," he wrote. "I am going to her."

SLIGHT BITE OF A MAD DOG KILLS WOMAN

Disease Takes 38 Days to Develop to Fatal Stage.

HOUSTON, Nov. 16.—Rabies contracted when she handled a pet dog 38 days ago last night proved fatal to Mrs. Rosie Elfbury, 57. She died in convulsions at a hospital.

According to her husband, Geo. W. Elfbury, she became infected when she helped to place a pet dog in a city pound wagon. The dog had become mad and had killed several other dogs in the neighborhood. When she placed the dog in the wagon, she received a slight bite on the finger.

The bite was so slight, however, that Mrs. Elfbury ignored it. A short time later, infection set in and two days ago, she was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition. The Pasteur serum was administered but it was too late.

Want Ads Cause Numerous Smiles

MANILA.—Truising qualifications for employment often are cited by the many Filipinos advertising for positions through the Bureau of Labor.

There is, for example, the 29-year-old gentleman "with five years experience as municipal chief of police and four years as clerk and municipal secretary," who "wants to be employed as watchman."

A Filipino musician who declares himself to be "healthy and robust" declares that he "plays contrabass at first sight with ten years experience."

Also there is a bookkeeper "who finished the second year in the College of Liberal Arts with three years experience as such," whatever that may mean. One young man "with three years experience as clerk, salesman and typist, desires to work in any of the three positions he has held."

Virtually all the applicants would class as accomplished linguists in any other place than the Philippines. Those asking only $30 a month salary usually speak at least three languages. One "lady typist" who desires only a "reasonable salary" cites among her qualifications the fact that she speaks English, Ilocano, Tagalog, Visayan and a little Spanish.

Whoofus Whiffletree's Woozy Wonderings

Here's the way they view a certain matter in Lubbock: "The Lubbock coaches insist that they fight their battles on the gridiron and not in the assembly room as others are wont to do.
"If we can't whip them on the field, we're not going to dig up any eligibility protests," Del Morgan said, "and since they beat us fairly and squarely, we're giving them credit for having a powerful football machine."
He was referring to a rival team in the Panhandle but his words could well be taken to heart in other districts over the State—one, anyway.
The way that Cisco's move against Ranger is viewed by a sports writer in another city is thus set forth by Wes Hodges of Breckenridge:
"The Lobos are in hot water themselves and may have to take a little of the medicine that they have been trying to hand other clubs this year. Slatton, right tackle and a regular one, was brought before the committee on the charges of age, too."

Ranger Runner Is Enrolled in T. C. U.

Special to The Times.
FORT WORTH.—Homer Shipp of Ranger, Texas, freshman in Texas Christian University here, was one of the runners last spring in C. C. Pyle's cross-country race from Los Angeles to New York. Shipp was forced to drop out of the race in Arizona on account of a bad knee, although he continued with the party as far as Ohio as trainer for Kenneth Campbell, another entrant from Ranger. Shipp was winner of the oil belt athletic meet in 1925 and district winner for two years in the interscholastic league meet, representing Ranger.

Colony News

A special and executive meeting of the Colony P. T. A. were held Friday afternoon to attend to unfinished business and elect a new president. Mrs. Eakin having resigned. Mrs. Lloyd Richardson is now president; Mrs. W. S. Healy, vice-president. Various committees were also appointed. The organization now has fifty-one members and gives promise of doing good work. A hearty welcome is extended to all visitors. Patrons of the Colony community are requested to attend the next meeting which will be held in the auditorium of the school Friday evening, November the sixteenth, at eight-thirty.
Perhaps what is lacking in solving the traffic problem these days is a little horse sense.

BABY NOT GAINING? LOOK TO HIS DIGESTION

Babies can't gain when souring waste in a clogged digestive tract is forming gas, making them colicky, constipated and miserable. Just try the method doctors endorse, and millions of mothers know, and see how your baby improves. A few drops of purely vegetable, harmless Fletcher's Castoria makes the most fretful, feverish baby or child comfortable in a jiffy. A few doses and he's digesting perfectly and gaining as he should. To get genuine Castoria, look for the Fletcher signature on the wrapper.

BY THE WAY—

cism from Chapman?

That was the spirit in which Coach Chapman gamely took defeat in other years. And this columnist, for one, believes that Coach Chapman doesn't want to win this year on a forfeit. We will go further and say that we don't believe there is a player on the Cisco team who, down in his heart, wants to win on a forfeit.

It's a keen disappointment to lose a game. Other teams in this section know it more truly than do the Cisco fans—for the other teams have lost oftener. But someone has to lose. This year, it was Cisco. But there are other seasons ahead—other opportunities. Fate has not been unkind to the Lobos. Look at Brownwood, who has not won an official game this year. Eastland, with light, young and inexperienced boys, has won a single conference game. Breckenridge, with high hopes, had to drink the bitter dregs of defeat on two occasions—26 to 0 and 31 to 6.

After all, what is Cisco objecting to? Hammett, whom they charge is playing his fifth season. This is denied by Ranger. But is five years so bad, after all? Cisco did not think so in 1924, when Ernie Wilson played his fifth season. Cisco did not think so in 1925, when Pinky Alsabrook played his fifth season. Mind you, Cisco admits that these two stars played five years.

But we are not interested in what has past; we are interested in the present, and the future.

Football has been kind to Cisco. It has made the name of the city known throughout Texas. Will Cisco endanger Oil Belt football which has meant so much to the Lobos? The re-opening of the Hammett case, with the season almost ended, has plunged the district into chaos. Three teams are under fire. The charges, now made with the season nearly over, may cause interest and attendance, which have grown year by year in the Oil Belt, to fall back to what they were six years ago and the district may drop into the ruck of the extreme South Texas loop which is regarded so contemptuously by contenders over the state.
Why not let the best team represent the district?—whichever the games prove to be the best team. In that way, all the other cities of the Oil Belt can take pride in the victories won by their district champion. We want our district to go as high as it can. If Abilene wins the district title, its team becomes OUR team and not just Abilene's. If Cisco wins the district, it is no longer Cisco's team but OURS to all the fans of the Oil Belt.
Let us forget the disappointments of defeat. Let us be friends. Let us have peace. Only in unity can we go forward. Rivalry, yes; but enmity, never. Let us have no Samson tearing down the pillars of the temple and destroying all—himself included.

Blondy Fires BOTH BARRELS AFTER RULING

Blondy Cross of the San Angelo Standard who never leaves you in doubt as to his meaning heads one article in his paper "Snoopers Get Busy in Bell's Football Race—Cisco after Hammett and Breck Questions Massey." And the next day when he learned that Hamberlin of Angelo had been ruled out, Blondy wrote about "gumshoes and detectives" to use his cutting phrase. Part of his comment follows:
"Had San Angelo wished to professionalize its athletics, San Angelo at the start of the season could have hired any number of football players now pasturing with other clubs in the district. There is no need to go into details unless the boys put the thumbscrews to us, but we often wonder, for one thing, how it is a certain trio of ambitious young athletes who named their price to play football at San Angelo high school and were refused, suddenly hooked up at another school in the district and seem well satisfied."
"And it is often wondered how Cisco and Abilene come up year in and year out with football stars hailing from Brownwood, Stamford, Comanche, Weatherford, Anson or similar towns and do it legitimately. Some day either Cisco or Abilene is going to produce a football team composed solely of youngsters who were born there or had lived there the major portion of their young lives and had worked their way up through the grade schools there, but when that day arrives neither you nor I will be on earth."
"It was a brave and noble organization that singled out Hamberlin and the little San Angelo club Wednesday night in Abilene for disciplining. It took courage, didn't it, for representatives of teams that outweigh this little San Angelo club 20 pounds to the man, teams blessed with veteran material and plenty reserves where the little San Angelo team has none, to snoop around, gather sufficient evidence to show that an ambitious kid apparently had misled his coach about his age in order to get to play football? It took great courage, didn't it, to rob that little team of its victories on the field of battle and to so cripple it that it stands slight chance of ever winning another game."

Longhorns Have a Slight Edge Over The Horned Frogs

Special to The Times.
FORT WORTH.—As the all-important game with the Texas University Longhorns approaches, Coach Matty Bell of the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs is busily engaged in polishing up his offense and training his men against the Steer formations. Bell is working for perfect execution of scrimmage with three teams rotating from offense to defense.
The Longhorns will be followed to Fort Worth by a special train load of 1500 rooters and the Long horn band. One of the biggest crowds of the year is expected to witness the fray. Coach Clyde Littlefield and the Steers left Austin Friday morning, coming by Dallas where they will work out this afternoon. He is bringing a roster of 25 veterans on the journey.
Since 1924 the teams have met only twice, the Orange team coming off with a 13-0 victory in Fort Worth in 1924 and a scoreless tie resulting from last year's tilt on a rain soaked field at Austin. Never in the history of T. C. U. has a team from the institution gained a victory over the Longhorn team. Bell's boys will be trying for a record when they take the field Saturday.
In the opinion of sports writers over the state the two teams are about evenly matched, with the Steers having a slight edge if one exists. Comparative scores give the Bovines a slight margin but such statistics are not reliable.
From indications the Frogs will be working for the Steers with the knowledge that defeat will eliminate them from the conference race.
Bell's starting line up will be almost the same as started for him against the Rice Owls last Saturday. Martin and Walker will get the call at ends, although

"I remember her when she was beautiful"

It WASN'T so long ago either. Her complexion was the envy of every girl and woman. Her radiant manner was felt the instant she entered the room. . . . But now you'd hardly know she was the same person. Her animation is gone—her clear skin is sallow. She's always tired—often irritable. Here's what has been said about countless women all over the country. Yet, all this could have been prevented. The cause, often constipation, is so easily removed by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Happily, thousands of women have made this discovery. By regular eating of ALL-BRAN they have regained all that they lost in beauty and health.

But you need ALL-BRAN—not "part-bran"
It is the "bulk" in bran that relieves constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has a large amount of bulk. This bulk absorbs moisture and carries it throughout the digestive system. In a part-bran product there is seldom enough bulk to do this work. That is why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran—and brings 100% results.
How different from dangerous pills
How much better than habit-forming drugs and laxatives! Which become useless unless the dose is constantly increased—and sometimes injure the system. How much pleasanter than sickening medicines! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a delicious cereal. Serve it with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey if desired. Use it in cooking too. Mix it with other cereals—for health! Just eat two tablespoonfuls in some form daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.
Keep ALL-BRAN always on hand—a package of health. But be sure it is genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't risk part-bran substitutes. At best, they can be but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at all hotels and restaurants. On dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

RIVERSIDE Tires

We guarantee what others promise—don't buy conversation—buy mileage—definite and assured.

Before you buy your next tire, make sure what protection you get, what assurance you have that the tire will deliver the full mileage you expect.

Find out whether the seller is trying to get you to accept a so-called "standard warranty" or "tire insurance plan" or whether he is willing to back his tire with a plain, legal, written guarantee that will give you a definite number of miles of honest road service. When you buy "Riversides" you actually buy a definite number of miles, for after all it's mileage you want for the dollars you spend, after the tires are on your car.

AFTER CLOVER LUCK. LEMOYNE, Pa.—Lots of luck should come to Mrs. D. C. Pentz of Lemoyne, if there is anything in the superstition that the finding of a four-leaf clover brings good fortune.

In a lot near her home one day she found more than 300 four-leaf clovers.

Every leaf she finds she presses and dries, and keeps in a glass-covered frame.

Although she has "kept an eye out for them ever since I can remember," Mrs. Pentz has found all but about 500 of the leaves in the past year, she said.

RUN-DOWN

Weak, Pale

A FEW years ago, I lost weight and suffered from weakness," writes Mrs. Harry Canup. "I was pale and in a run-down condition. I suffered quite a bit with my side, and was very nervous. My mother was a great believer in Cardui, as she had taken it. She advised me to take it. I took about five bottles. I gained in weight and strength; was much better after taking Cardui."

Mrs. HARRY CANUP, 225 N. 7th St., Muskogee, Okla.

Pains, Nervousness

"IT is now seven years since I suffered from nervousness and with my back and sides," writes Mrs. J. J. Fannaly, Jr. "I had tried many remedies, but seemed to get no better. Several friends recommended Cardui to me, and so I started taking it. When six months were up, I had gained flesh and felt so much better. The pains were gone. I had been in such a run-down condition that I took Cardui for a year. Now I can recommend it to any woman who suffers the way I did. I am now completely well. What a great thing it is, to be able to say this!"

BREAKFAST—Sections of grapefruit, cereal, cream, baked codfish balls, spider corn bread, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Creamed eggplant on toast, beef and celery salad, molasses bars, sweet elder.

DINNER—Baked white fish with egg sauce, riced potatoes, tomato jelly salad, raisin and cranberry pie, milk, coffee.

With the coming of cold weather corn breads and muffins gain popularity. Well baked corn bread is not difficult to digest since it is extremely crumbly and breaks into small particles convenient for the action of the gastric juices.

Spider Corn Bread

One cup corn meal, 1-3 cup white flour, 2 cups sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter.

Mix and sift white flour, salt and soda. Add to cornmeal and mix thoroughly. Gradually add eggs well beaten, sour milk and molasses. Beat mixture hard for two minutes. Heat an iron frying pan very hot, add butter and turn spider to cover evenly with melted butter. Turn in batter and bake 25 minutes on the middle grate of a hot oven.

JOAN ON STAMP.

By United Press.
PARIS.—The first stamp bearing the likeness of a woman in France will be issued next year upon the anniversary of the Battle of Orleans. Competition has been opened for the artists of France for the best portraits of Joan of Arc.

According to the best authorities nothing is known of how Joan looked save that she was "robust and well proportioned." Joan herself testified to this effect when tried by the English.

According to Henri Wallon, Joan's biographer and conceded the greatest living authority upon the French heroine, it is apparent that the huge quantity of statues and paintings of Joan that exist are all products of the artistic imagination. The stamp competition will be for a portrait of the maid in full armor.

WHIRLWIND

BY ELEANOR EARLY

CHAPTER XLVIII
"Oh, Sybil, don't!" implored Mrs. Thorne. "You know I loved Teddy as if he were my own. You and Tad have grown away from me, and I'm such a lonely old woman. I'll miss Teddy more than any of you."

She put her hands to her face, and silent tears stole between her poor, thin fingers. Then Sybil was on her knees, with her face in her mother's lap, sobbing as though her heart would break. Valerie came and sat on the arm of her chair to stroke her slim shoulders lovingly, and Tad dropped a kiss on her bowed head.

"Mother, dear," whispered Valerie, "we'll never let you be lonely again."

She caught Tad's tear-dimmed glance, and raised her eyebrows interrogatively.

"All right," he nodded. "Mother, dear, listen. You're going to have another little grandchild. I'm going to have a baby! Honestly—in three more months. I think I've been so smart to keep it a secret. We meant not to tell you for a little while yet. The longer we waited the cleverer I felt. But now, you poor dear, I want you to stop your crying, and tell Tad and me you're glad. Tad's son! Aren't you thrilled, Mother—and Sib—Sib, dear—can't you be glad too? Another little baby—to make life bearable now that Teddy's gone. Oh, please tell me you are!"

"Tad! Is it true?" They turned to him together, Sybil and her mother. And their surprise was so genuine, that Valerie laughed aloud.

"Well, I like that! Of course it's true. Don't you suppose I know?" Then they laughed—the two women who never expected to smile again—and, throwing their arms about Valerie, kissed her. "Oh, my dear!" breathed Sybil, and, catching a sob with her teeth, bit her lips. "I think it's wonderful, Val," she cried. "And I never even suspected. I never was so surprised in all my life. Three months—why, Val?"

Mrs. Thorne was counting quietly on her fingers. "June—that's lovely," she whispered through her tears. "Tad, I'm so glad."

She kissed him tenderly. "I guess I've something to live for after all. Your baby—"

Her hands dropped idly in her lap, and she fell to musing. "Tad was a lovely baby, Valerie. Such a fine, healthy boy. And he never gave me a minute's worry. Sybil was fussy—but Tad—land sake's alive. I often said you'd never know there was a baby in the house. Teddy was a good baby, too. Remember when he was cutting those first teeth? The poor little tyke—"

Sybil slipped quietly from the room. A few minutes later Tad found her at the telephone.

Sybil had worn a black frock to Teddy's funeral, and on her shoulder a bunch of the anemones she had scattered on his casket. She sat on a high-backed Spanish chair that she had dragged to the table on which the telephone stood, and she rested her head wearily against the shield of red and gold that ornamented its tall carved back.

On the table tall candles cast a wan light on a bowl of white roses that diffused the heavy odor that comes with funerals, and a profusion of cut flowers.

She sat with her back to Tad, but he caught a glimpse of her pale face in the mirror. And he thought she looked like a penitential little saint in her black dress, with the candles flickering, and the breath of mournful sweetness all about her.

"But, Sib—you don't mean that. Teddy's not really dead—not your little Teddy."

He was staring at her as though he believed her crazy, and his face was gray and drawn as hers.

"I wouldn't tell you, Craigie, if it wasn't true. No, dear, I haven't gone insane. Teddy's dead. I know, because they put him in the ground, you see. Underneath the snow. And they let me dress him very warmly, and put his toys in his casket, like pagan mothers do."

"Teddy was hanged, Craig. He choked to death, when I went out to see a man I used to love. Oh, they say he was watching the snow flakes, but I know better. He was looking for his mother. With his little nose pressed against that ice pane, in his flannel nightie, shivering in the cold, waiting for me."

"And I didn't come, Craig. I'd gone to see this man. He's going to be married very soon. She's a nice little girl—nice like I used to be. Her name's Kitty, and he says she's his salvation. But he wanted me just the same. Only then the telephone rang—and Teddy was hanged."

"Sybil—darling—don't!" She put her hand against his lips.

"Yes, Craig. I've got to. Let me tell you, Craig."

With a touch of wildness she clutched his hand.

He knelt then beside her, and took her cold fingers in his and held them warmly. She leaned against him, and he was aware poignantly of her loveliness and desirability. And the glamour of her presence enfolded him as it always did.

When aman of profound nature has loved a woman for many years, and been denied the fulfillment of his love, there may rise from this denial a sort of protective tenderness. A rare and lovely thing like a wraith of passion. And it embraces the object of his adoration gently as the perfume of a summer's night. It is an exquisite beatitude, and diffuses the precious fragrance of a gracious dream.

In some magnetic way Sybil felt herself enfolded in the spiritual garment of Craig's love.

But when he raised her hand to his lips and kissed her fingers, one by one, she drew them away.

"No, Craig. Not yet. I've come to ask you something. But you must hear me first."

"Yes, darling." He soothed her gently, stroking her knees.

"I've been a bad girl, Craig." "No, no, Little Sweet."

It was his turn to put fingers across her lips.

"No, Sybil. Dear little, good little girl—No."

"But I have, Craig. Listen. The man I went to see was John Lawrence. He didn't die at all, Craig. It was all a mistake. He's been very much alive. Mabel knew him first—she didn't know he was John, you see. She thought his name was Roger Caldwell. He's a real estate agent. And Mabel was looking for an apartment. And when the agent came I was there, don't you see? And it was John Lawrence.

"He'd had amnesia, Craig. He wasn't killed at all. He'd only forgotten. And when he saw me he fainted. And then Mabel and I revived him, and he knew me—Oh, it's such a dreadfully long story, Craig."

He pulled her short skirt down over her silken knees, and held his peace.

"And that night," she said, paling as she told it, "I went to see him. I went to his apartment, Craig. And I wanted him to make love to me. He told me about the girl he is going to marry, and he said she was his salvation, and his compass and everything. And still I wanted him to make love to me. You see I am a very bad girl, Craig."

He was silent.

"And then," she said, "he asked me if I had had lovers, Craig. And he came and took me in his arms. And kissed me. And then the telephone rang. And it was Mabel. And Teddy was dead, and I didn't know it then."

"Poor little girl. Sweet little, dear little girl."

He reminded her of a monk on his knees, telling a litany. A beautiful litany of infinite sweetness.

"Craig—darling." She put her lips to his ear. "I'm not very desirable any more. A little while ago—when you loved me—I had Teddy. And I was very happy. Now Teddy is gone. And I feel very old. Could you love me now, Craig?"

"Oh, my dear. My dear." He buried his face in her lap.

"I wish you could," she whispered, "but if you can't, it's all right, Craigie. I don't really think you would. I'm so miserable, you see. Men never love desirable women. Of course you don't want me. I shouldn't have come. But I wanted to know, Craig. I wanted to be sure."

She rose unsteadily to her feet, and when she swayed he caught her, and held her close. And she was as sweet in his arms as her anemones.

"Oh, my darling. My poor hurt little darling."

"You love me?" she murmured. "I love you so," he whispered. "I love you so—"

Then she raised her face, all wet with tears, and he kissed her pale white lids so gently she scarcely felt his lips.

EVIL THAT KIDS DO By United Press. LOS ANGELES.—Life's darkest moments are just as likely to predominate in ones' childhood recollections as those of rosier hue, it was shown by tests recently conducted at the University of California.

Under direction of Dr. Kate Gordon of the psychology department, 750 students were tested to determine whether pleasant or unpleasant incidents occurring in childhood were most prominent in their minds.

The result, Dr. Gordon says, disproves the old theory that the circus and ice cream cones are more apt to be remembered than the spanking and stomachs.

"Married Life" Not Worth While Blames Wives' "Nerves"

"Weak nerves," said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady-nerved, radiant woman you once were. Take a teaspoonful of Tanlac after meals and before going to bed and if it doesn't soon make a new woman of you—doesn't rid you of that tired, strained feeling—go back and get your money.

Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

METEOR FRIGHTENS NATIVES BOHOL, P. I.—A huge meteor roaring through the heavens by night and exploding with a tremendous detonation terrorized the inhabitants of Bohol.

Following the explosion, which was like a tremendous thunder-clap, the entire province was lighted up by a great flare. The meteor fell behind some mountains and searching parties have started to look for the exact spot. This was the third meteor whose fall in the Philippines has been recorded.
