WAR LEFT ONLY ONE CHAIR IN FRENCH TOWN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—For many months the little city of Colonge in the Alsace region of France possessed but a single chair and it was the property of the mayor. Colonel H. S. Todd and Bicknell of the Red Cross recently went to Chameroy to adjust some difficulties that had arisen to block construction of the Quentin Roosevelt Memorial Fountain, the details of which had been entrusted to the American Red Cross by the late ex-president Roosevelt.

Palace of Sweets Opens Metropolitan Candy Emporium

The "Palace of Sweets," Ranger's first candy palace, opened yesterday on Main street with a line of goods made in its own kitchens, which make the name really appropriate. Nearly every confection that is made was on display as were handsome boxes of chocolates wrapped under the firm's own trade name. A handsome soda fountain occupies the opposite side of the building from the candy stock. Within a week light lunches will be served also.

In the rear are many service tables. Yesterday at the opening music was employed for the afternoon and flowers were given women customers.

George Phillips is manager of the new business. He has as his assistant Steve Savanaki. At the head of the candy making department is James Anasi, who is said to rank with the best confection makers in the country. Every thing in the shop is of metropolitan style and according to Mr. Phillips, much money has been spent in fitting it out. This was done, he said, because his company has unbounded faith in the future growth of Ranger, and always they hoped to keep abreast of that growth.

The new firm will extend especially to the retail trade of this and surrounding country but will also do a wholesale business, and with other lines it will be the effort of the manager to put Ranger candy in many other points over the country.

New Schedule on Hamon Road Gives Longer Stopover

Effective today, the Ranger, Wichita Falls — Fort Worth railroad announces the following changes in its passenger schedule, which shorten the running time and allow travelers to reach Fort Worth earlier and leave later, although the schedules from Ranger and Breckenridge remain unchanged. The new schedules are:

Train No. 7, which under the old schedule left Fort Worth at 10:45 p. m., is now due to leave at 11 p. m., arriving at Ranger at 6 a. m., and at Breckenridge at 8:10 a. m.

Train No. 8 will leave Breckenridge at 8:30 and Ranger at 11 p. m., as at present, arriving at Fort Worth at 6:07 a. m., instead of 7:15 a. m. Passengers will be permitted to remain in sleepers until 7:30.

The newly arranged schedule will permit passengers taking the night train from Fort Worth to remain in the city fifteen minutes later, giving ample time to attend theaters in the evening. However, if passengers desire, they may enter Pullman cars at 10 o'clock. The change in the arrival at Fort Worth of the morning train will permit of early connections with other roads.

In re-arranging the schedule, it was said, the needs of Ranger people were specially considered. Officials state that the favorable weather of the last few days has permitted the maintenance department to place the track in excellent shape and it was thought that every load on the tracks at the present time would reach its destination within the next few days.

Santa Asks Ranger Times For Letters

Wants Little Folks to Send Letters to Him in Care of This Paper.

NORTH POLE, Nov. 20.—Received from Santa Claus today are to the effect that "a fellow certainly does hate to get up these cold mornings. He says that a blizzard is raging and that since fitting up his flat with gas heater 'I am more than tempted to remain in bed.'"

"You can tell my little friends," he continued, "that on account of several strikes I am afraid that there will be a shortage of toys this year. Don't these high prices beat everything? It may be that I can secure sufficient funds to tide me over from my old friend Krisis Kringle. He has a large supply but will be unable to deliver a lot of them on account of the wars in Europe, but he's such an old proffeer that I haven't decided what to do.

Lots of Horns.
"I am short on walking dolls, toy trains, aeroplanes and a lot of other things, but have a plentiful supply of all kinds of wind instruments, such as whistles, horns and the like. It might be well to have all the little folks notify me in advance as to just what they want so that I can get a line of what I shall need to get from Krisis Kringle. I feel sure that I can rely on the Times to serve as the medium of communication between us. Please forward all mail to me at the North Pole."

In answer to this communication from the dear old fellow, the Times sent the following wireless message and will ask all the little folk in the city to co-operate with it in fulfilling its obligations:

"Mr. Santa Claus,
"St. Nicholas, North Pole.
"Dear Old Santa,

"We are in receipt of your communication of the 20th instance and will be glad to co-operate with you in any way. We will immediately notify all the little folk of our arrangement and will forward all letters to you.
"Yours, as ever,
"THE TIMES."

The Times is already in receipt of several letters from children of the city, asking that their requests be forwarded to the genial old fellow. This has been done and any others received will be treated likewise.

Two of the letters were sent out by wireless this morning. They are:

"Dear Old Santa,
"Please bring me a walking doll, an aluminum domestic science set, a sewing machine, a doll wardrobe and trunk for Christmas.
Sincerely yours,
"ZADA WALTON."

"Dear Old Santa Claus:
"Please bring me a pair of boots, a tool chest, a pair of house slippers, a knife, a pocket book and a box of cream candy. I am a boy 7 years old.
"Yours truly,
"EDGAR WALTON."

The Woman's Exchange has received a box from a missionary school in Korea, the contents of which are the handwork of the pupils of Miss Dowd, formerly a resident of Ranger, now engaged in Presbyterian foreign missionary work. These articles were ordered in April and have just arrived.

The contents of the box include hand embroidered, hand-painted kimonos, doll bags, various kinds of fancy bags, hand painted tally cards, luncheon sets, coin purses and card cases. The box will be opened and its contents offered for sale next Wednesday in the Quaranty Bank building.

Army Recruiting Station May Be Made Permanent

Lieutenant Colonel E. H. Andres of Dallas, commander of the North Texas recruiting district, was in Ranger Friday inspecting the Ranger recruiting office, in charge of Sergeant McQueen.

The colonel was delighted, not only with the record established by the Ranger station, which he said was so good that he recommended that this be made a permanent station instead of a temporary one, as at present, he said. The colonel liked our town, or at least he said so, and the manner in which he said it and his observations of Ranger life and activities left no doubt that he was sincere.

Colonel Andres is an old friend of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hansford and he and Bob served in the same outfit in France, so there was personal pleasure attached to his visit, which he promised to repeat within a few weeks.

LAST SECOND SCORE GIVES OHIO TITLE

Defeats Illinois for Western Conference Honors for 1920, 7 to 0.

URBANA, Nov. 20.—Ohio State won the 1921 football championship of the western conference here this afternoon by downing Illinois.

It was the most spectacular finish seen on the historic Illinois field in years, the Ohioans triumphed 7 to 0, when Myers in the last ten seconds of play snatched a 37-yard forward pass from Workman and dashed across the Orange and Blue line for the only touchdown of the game.

Pete Stincheomb, brilliant Ohio half-back, kicked goal.

By winning today's game Ohio remained undefeated this season and has undisputed claim to the title. Both teams were keyed to a high fighting pitch and there was little visible difference in strength.

Illinois, weakened by the loss of Stegler and further crippled by injuries to Carne, brilliant receiving end, and to Walquist, Carney and Ralph Fletcher, fought stubbornly to check the rushes of the superb Ohio backfield.

Three field goals won Harvard's victory. Two of these goals were credited to Quarterback Buel.

In the center of the state is a little town that has never produced a celebrity beyond one citizen offering himself—at the request of friends—as a candidate for congress—and getting gloriously beaten. That town has never been the location of a sensational murder case; nor has it been exploited as the "coming queen city of the Golden West."

It is a quiet, a slow town. Nobody tries to push it to the front. Its citizens are satisfied with it as it is. Yet the town is known to a good many hundreds of people.

One thing has carried its name to strange ears—that thing has been trees. It has them in amazing numbers. They are orderly in rows set by the hand of man and they stand indifferently about where nature cast them. They stand in the middle of the quiet streets and along the walks of the same streets. Backyards and lawns abound with them. The courthouses lawn is an intermingling of native mesquites and hand-set hackberrys and chinaberry trees. So much do the people think of their trees that on one occasion an injunction was granted against a street building company to prevent it cutting a knarled old mesquite from the center of an important street.

But it was not always so. Years ago the town had no trees beyond those that grew of their own accord. Then a dreamer had a vision of a tree-shaded town and he made the other folks see the pleasures that could be derived from such a place. A tree setting orgy took place. Almost every available spot was planted. Newly married folks took up the practice and today, soon after a newly married couple—or an older one—moved into a new home a tree planting is staged that has in time become almost a rite. The result has surpassed even the vision of the dreamer.

Trees help a town in many ways. They give it an air of peace and quiet and dignity not acquired in any other way. Ranger, it is said, is an ideal location for the growing of certain kinds of trees, and here too, is a dreamer—many dreamers in fact—who have talked of the move but have never acted.

The time for action is near at hand. Soon it will be tree planting time.

KING BUSINESS PICKING UP.

The late war for democracy and the downfall of the autocrat seems to have merely stunned and not killed the species. King Constantine still is hopeful that he will yet be able to ascend his throne, free and untrammelled by any limitations raised by his subjects. The king, being a Christian, probably likens himself to Job, believes he has been afflicted to test his faith.

He should be a fatalist, to conscientiously believe that he was predestined to rule because of accident of birth. His subjects must be fatalists, to believe that they should be so ruled.

Next we shall hear from Wilhelm, who also holds the same notions.

Hungary clamors for a king, 'tis said. Russia secretly cherishes aspirations to have some highborn figure head lay down the law—so 'tis said.

Verily, the king business is picking up again. People never know what they want when they've got it. Some folks don't even like the certain innovations in this country as well as they thought they would.

STONE CRUSHER AT TIFFIN WILL SPREAD NAME OF RANGER WHEREVER BUILDERS WORK

Largest Plant of Kind in Nation Crushes Giant Cliffs into Cement Like Dust, With Giant Machines.

The mention of the word gold conjures visions of its luring seductiveness that has driven men and women on and on seeking the ease and power that its possession brings. Around it is interwoven the romances and tragedies of a thousand years. Men have gone into the wild, wide places of the earth in quest of its glint. They have died fighting the thirst of the deserts and the cold of the northern regions. All that they have done in looking for the element the search of which is to be more seductive than the hot breath of the vampire.

One can gaze at a cliff of stone and not a pulse is quickened. It is just a dead substance, nothing more. It has none of the potency of gold. No romance is there—the cliff of stone has stood there probably since time began. Yet such a cliff of rocks—just that and nothing more—backed by an everlasting ledge, is being daily turned into gold or its equivalent. The mint is the ponderous machinery of the Thurber Earth Products Company, located near Tiffin. Stone, the commonest of all substances, is poured into the giant jaws of five crushers and turned into a commodity that makes the ledge of rock a ledge of gold.

Eats Away Cliffs. Little by little a giant shovel, aided by steam drills and dynamite, is eating away the face of the cliffs that confines Palo Pinto creek to its course.

Crushers that have an insatiable maw, that takes a carload of stone at a gulp, grind the largest boulders into millions of pieces that vary from dust to the size of a small apple.

"Dinky" engines that appear to be toys draw "dump" cars back and forth over the tracks that have been built. Endless conveyors of rubber carry the millions of atoms to screens from whence they are allowed to drop into their proper bins. At the screens stand men who seem to know what they are about.

Alongside the bins is a loading track that has automatic loaders. Here cars are loaded with ton on top of Ranger crushed stone and shipped to the marts of the world.

In time even as Bedford, Mass., and Llano, Texas, granite, have become known over the world, "Ranger crushed stone" will be known where builders congregate. It is being utilized for a hundred uses. Everywhere where concrete is used, crushed stone is its base. Railroads are ballasted with it, and it is the surface for miles and miles of good roads and will be used for that purpose for all the years that are to come.

Over the entire state there is not another such plant as that of the Thurber Earth Products company. It is doubtful that if another plant in the United States can compare with it in size. It's output for one shift is thirty-five carloads. This could be doubled if necessary by adding a night gang. Two additional gangs of eight hours each could triple its output. At present about 50 men are employed. If the ocean demands it this number will be raised to 150.

"It's Ranger Stone." Every loaded car that is drawn on the Main line of the Texas & Pacific tracks carries a message of Ranger to the world. Wherever great construction is going forward, of concrete and steel—there also will go the products of the Thurber company. Builders will jolly pick an atom from a car and say, "It is Ranger stone. Laborers will tell each other that it is 'Ranger stone.'" The visitor watching the process will wonder what is its source and some one will tell him that it is "Ranger stone." Perhaps in time red placards will be pasted on the side of the outgoing trains stating that it carries "Ranger crushed stone." Thus a rocky cliff—the commonest of all the natural resources—is being turned into the equivalent of gold, and over the country is carried the word that its home is in Ranger.

In the transformation of the cliff into the commodity that is sold, one sees the ruthless power of the machinery that has been installed by the company at a cost of $500,000. The water becomes fascinated as the giant steam shovel or the Brown hoisting machine lifts stones that appear to weigh tons, and place them in the little dump cars. These stones and a myriad of smaller ones are torn from the face of the cliff by dynamite that has had a hole bored for it by steam drills. Into this mass of debris the shovel sends its teeth, lifting ton after ton until the cars are full.

Toy Engines. The train of cars are drawn to a high platform by one of the toy engines and they dump themselves into the maw of a giant crusher, that takes car after car at one bite, as it were. The crusher with grinding cogs that seem to take pleasure in their power crushes holders of hundreds of pounds in weight into a million smaller pieces.

These pieces are carried up by an endless conveyor until they reach a screen, circular in shape. The screen shakes out the smaller pieces and carries the larger ones to another crusher where they are again ground into yet smaller atoms. The process is followed again and again until the result is that in the loading bins repose "crushed stone" in sizes from dust to fragments three inches square. Five different sizes are made. This will fill every need of the builder. The dust, which has an appearance like cement, is used to cover roads where crushed stone has been laid. It acts as a binder containing a large content of the properties of cement, it grows harder and harder as time passes.

At present the plant is averaging shipping about eight cars of its products each day. This small output is occasioned by inability to obtain cars regularly. At times cars would be plentiful and at other times they cannot be secured. With

Under his direction the cliffs of stone return their equivalent of gold, and sends its message to the world. E. C. Britton, of Thurber, is manager of the company. From his office the sales end is also handled. M. H. Haganman is a large stockholder, and it is on his land that the supply of limestone is located. This ledge runs back three miles and is almost inexhaustible.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE SENATOR WILL WORK FOR NEW MARKETING SYSTEM

By Associated Press. FARGO, N. D., Nov. 20.—Dr. E. F. Ladd, first United States senator elected as a candidate of the Nonpartisan League, announced here that his first aim in congress will be to promote a better system for marketing the grain and other food products of the farm.

"It is a serious problem that faces congress," Dr. Ladd said. "Something must be done and within the next few years if we are to save the farming industry from demoralization. Even now the most of the men left on the farm are middle-aged and elderly—the younger men are looking for greater opportunities.

Futures Are Gambling. "I believe that dealing in futures on shorts—selling grain in which the seller never had an equity, which never existed and which will never be delivered, is a species of gambling which does not stabilize prices or benefit the producer or consumer. It is a matter which every legislator ought to study until he has a just comprehension of it and then consider whether it is not worthy of his attention.

The co-operative movement must go hand in hand with helpful legislation in improving the situation. Farmers must come to own their buying and selling organizations. Crop Loans Necessary. "If legislation is passed making funds from federal reserve banks and federal land banks available to these organizations, farmers will be able to hold their grains until they are needed, instead of dumping them on the market at the end of the harvest.

COLONEL OUSLEY WILL RETURN TO TEXAS A. & M.

COLLEGE STATION.—Nov. 20.—According to an announcement made last week, Colonel Clarence Ousley will return to A. & M. college. Colonel Ousley was formerly director of extension of the A. & M. college, and during the war period was assistant secretary of agriculture. Since the close of the war Colonel Ousley has been editor of the "Star of the West," a journal published under the auspices of the Navy League of America. President Bizzell has announced that Colonel Ousley would give a series of lectures on "Government and Citizenship" at the college during the winter, and also assist the extension organization in the normal program fostered by the college for 1920.

REDS CAPTURE SEBASTOPOL. HOLD ENTIRE CRIMEAN PENINSULA

The Bolshevik forces fighting General Wrangel's army have captured the important harbor of Sebastopol on the Crimean peninsula, have forced Wrangel and his aides and army to evacuate that port and are now in control of the entire peninsula according to recent dispatches from Constantinople. French warships conveyed Wrangel and his wife and staff from the captured city. American destroyers aided in removing the wounded and refugees from the harbor. The photo of Trotsky, Lenin's minister of war, is the most recent one of the red leader's chief aid.

Man Who Fired First Shot of Civil War Now Teacher at U. of T.

AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—Celebration of Armistice Day here recently renewed memories of a war, the conclusion of which is not celebrated in the south, and brought to light the fact that the man who fired the first shot of that war at Fort Sumpter is a member of the law faculty of the University of Texas. The man is Judge W. S. Simkins, and in discussing the incident, he said that by mere chance he happened to start actual hostilities of the Civil war.

Cadets Handled Guns. "I was 18 years of age at the time and a member of the cadet corps of the military academy of South Carolina. The men of this cadet corps were the only commanding the harbor. We were sent down to Murrey's island on the south side of the Fort Sumpter in order to protect the channel into the port of Charleston and prevent aid being brought to Fort Sumpter. We built up strong fortifications and mounted a battery of four big guns which commanded the channel.

"In December of 1860, South Carolina had just seceded from the union," he said, "and Colonel Anderson of the United States army was in charge of the federal troops of the government post of Fort Moultrie. Governor Pickens of South Carolina made a demand on him for the surrender of the fort to the state. The fort was in the Charleston harbor on Sullivan island, and was easily accessible from the land side. Colonel Anderson, fearing the fort would be taken from the land side, secretly transferred his entire force to Fort Sumpter. This was a move for greater safety, for Fort Sumpter was situated a good ways from the mainland and was entirely surrounded by water.

"On the morning of Feb. 10, 1861, I was on post as sentry, pacing back and forth along the fortifications we had thrown up. In the early dawn I spied the masts of the 'Star of the West' as she made her way toward the channel. She was clearly outlined against the red sky of the early dawn. I called the sergeant of the guard. I was relieved of my sentry duty and placed as gunner on the number one gun of the battery. The 'Star of the West' steamed into the channel. As she got opposite my gun I opened fire. Soon the others joined and the 'Star of the West' turned her back and made for the open sea."

HARDING HAS NO PLACE FOR HAYS IN HIS CABINET

Hays, Republican national chairman, who supervised the recent national campaign, has been completely eliminated from the list of eligibles for the Harding Cabinet, it was learned from an official source today. This upsets the Republican precedent under which the national chairmen have almost invariably been made Postmaster-General.

The attitude of the president-elect, it was stated tonight is the direct result of the hostility shown by Hays toward Senator Harding's candidacy in the campaign for the nomination. It was due chiefly to the chairman's own ambition to become the nominee of the party.

$8,590,000 FOOD STOCK AT COST.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 20.—The American Stores Co., which operates 400 retail grocery and meat stores in eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, began this morning, according to an announcement given out yesterday, selling at cost its entire stock of foodstuffs, inventories at $8,590,000. The move, according to the company's president, Thomas P. Hunter, is to get to bed rock on food prices and enable the company to go into the market to buy huge quantities of new canned goods, groceries, bottled pickles and other lines of merchandise at a figure which will put the stores on a permanent price basis, so far as possible. One big feature of the reduction announcement is the fact that bread will be sold at 8 cents for a 16 ounce loaf. That price is approximately what bread was selling for before the war.

Cochran Well Was Making 4,000 When Shot; Increases

The Prairie Oil & Gas company shot its Cochran No. 6, about a half mile from the city of Breckenridge, yesterday and it was seen to go over the top from the city. The well was making 4,000 barrels before the shot. The increase of flow is not known as yet.

GRAHAM, Nov. 20.—Graham, South Bend, Eliasville and Breckenridge are to be connected with a new standard telephone and telegraph service, according to information given out here today by O. A. McBrayer, former owner of a portion of the telephone franchise between Graham and South Bend.

Judge Bateman and R. L. Moore are said to be the owners of the new company which is to be known as the Oil Field Telephone & Telegraph company.

According to McBrayer, telegraph offices will be maintained at each point where the business justifies, with the main office probably in Graham. The line is to connect with the Western Union Telegraph lines and the Southwestern system at Graham.

MICHIGAN SOAKING "WET"

International News Service. LANSING, Nov. 20.—Michigan is "wetter" now than it has been at any time since prohibition went into effect, says Fred L. Woodworth, commissioner of the state food and drug department, charged with the enforcement of the dry law for the state.

The condition of which Woodworth complains is due, he says, to a direct leak from the bonded warehouse to bootleggers. This leak, he says, has been prominent in recent weeks and its effect marked in large cities.

RESIGN? WHY? ASKS SUPERCARGO WHO HASN'T MADE VOYAGE IN YEAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—F. J. Blake, house detective at the hotel St. Regis, who was named by J. F. Richardson, investigator for the congressional committee investigating the shipping board, as a man still on the payroll of the board as "supercargo" and one who had never put to sea, admits the truth of these charges, but explains that he had been "waiting at home" under orders of the board and that he was subject to call at any time—and would report for duty whenever called.

"I applied for a job as supercargo in September, 1919," Blake says, "and was appointed the same month. For four months I was on the active list at the Brooklyn navy yard.

"In December they put me in charge of light cargo that was to go to Scotland via Baltimore. The ship was scheduled to sail Christmas Eve, but, since I had made other plans for that evening and the cargo was such an unimportant one, I deferred sailing for that day.

"When my chief in Washington (F. J. Fielding) learned that I had delayed sailing, he was mad as hops and ordered me to go home and wait for further orders. What alternative had I to obey? I went home and waited, and have been waiting and drawing my $175 per ever since.

"In June I accepted this job at the hotel. Why not? I would not have been criticised had I written novels or painted pictures while waiting for the shipping board. Why not utilize my spare time by being a detective? I am still subject to call to active duty, of course.

"And what will you do when the board finally calls you? Resign?" Mr. Blake was asked.

"Certainly not," replied the detective.

"The board has done right by me and I'll be loyal to them."

This Brand Makes Arc Lights Look Like Street Cars

DENVER, Nov. 20.—"I caught these two birds throwing rocks at an arc light out in front of Lakeside park. They were drunk as $700 and had been fussing with a Tramway conductor because he wouldn't haul them to town free," said the officer who presented Robert Pitt and Roy Ferrise before Magistrate Rice in police court Monday.

The street car conductor testified that the two men boarded his car and had asked if they might ride free. On being refused, he said, they decided to throw rocks at the lighted car, but were so drunk that they mistook the street light for the car and began laying down a barrage of "street apples" on the offensive arc lamp.

"I can't have you fellows taking out your spite against the Tramway on harmless electric lights," ruled Magistrate Rice. "Twenty-five and costs each."

WILDCAT AT ITAN FLOWS AFTER SHOT

Murray Black of Black Bros. reports upon returning from Big Spring and Itan that the Colorado Oil company's well near Itan went over the top yesterday from a depth of 2,640, five feet in the sand. The well came in three days after a shot was exploded, and is said to be flowing better than 400 barrels. The well is in the same stratum as the Underwriters well, a producer for several months. Five locations have been made in the vicinity.

Oil Production For Last Quarter Tops All Others

International News Service. AUSTIN, Nov. 20.—Oil production in Texas for the quarter ending Sept. 30, is valued at $67,747,350. This sum there has been paid the gross tax of one and one-half per cent, which is equal to $1,014,710.25, or nearly $200,000 in excess of any previous quarter in the history of the state, according to records here.

VOLUNTEERS BADLY NEEDED BY RED CROSS

Unless Workers Come Forward, Ranger Campaign Will Fail.

Total memberships secured for the Red Cross in the fourth roll call had obtained $2,000 last night. This is only one-third of the amount the leaders of the movement think that should be obtained for the organization's work in Ranger. Monday it is planned to put several men teams into the field in an effort to bolster the membership to the required amount. J. B. Owens has been appointed chairman of this work.

It cannot be said that the residents of the city have not shown a desire to support the Red Cross. If the evidence shows that the roll call will not be the success hoped for it leaders think it is because the needed number of workers do not appear to help.

It is said that even if for one day fifty or even as few as twenty women would get behind the move and work in pairs and trios that the membership would reach the figure set for it. Yesterday probably five women were on the downtown streets. One day only one appeared.

The roll call has until Thanksgiving day, Nov. 25, to run.

will be begun at the mission Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Cement Sidewalks Laid Immediately in Hodges Oak Park

Twenty-eight hundred feet of cement sidewalks and macadamized roads will be laid in the Hodges Oak Park addition within the immediate future, according to an announcement Saturday by M. W. Poole.
Contracts on 1,750 yards have already been given and the work will start immediately, but some delay may be experienced in the remainder. The street work will hardly begin until spring, owing to the fact that there are several wells to be made and work of this nature cannot be handled satisfactorily in the winter. However, should the present weather continue, some of the work will probably be done.
The sidewalk will measure four feet in width and extend from the Ford garage up Main to Hodges street and east, on the left hand side of Hodges to Cypress street. Upon the completion of this, the work will be continued on both sides of Cypress and Page streets, it is said.
Later some 1,100 additional feet of sidewalk will be laid, as well as a probable extension of the work to the sidewalks of the addition.

TENANTS LEAVE CROPS. DENISON, Nov. 20.-A new phase of the situation facing cotton growers in North Texas revealed in the statement of a prominent land owner of this section who says that no less than a thousand acres of cotton is going to waste because the tenants, refusing to pick it, have abandoned the farms and are seeking work in the larger towns and cities. As a result the labor market in this section of the state is becoming glutted and farmers are begging for tenants.

Much Violence
in Arkansas Laid to Night Riders

By Associated Press

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 20.—Responsible sentiment in this state is running strongly against night riding which has been undertaken in this and other cotton growing states to prevent the ginning and marketing of cotton at the present low price. Representative planters, bankers and business men feel strongly that this lawlessness is giving the south a "black eye."

At a recent meeting of the Arkansas division of the American Cotton association here, nightriding was condemned as an act of gross ignorance. Gov. Brough has taken a vigorous stand against night riding and he has had further support, among others, from Claude Fitzpatrick, president of the Arkansas Bankers association. All the forces of the state and local governments in Arkansas are now cooperating to prevent further lawlessness in the cotton ginning centers.

This counter movement is believed to be doing much to stop the activities of night riders. Mass meetings have been held in many towns and the co-operation of the citizens has been proffered officers in maintaining order.

Much Violence.

Acts of violence for which night riders have been given credit in Arkansas have taken various forms. In addition to the burning of gins, warehouses and other property, farmers who attempted to market their cotton have been threatened with death or severe punishment, and in some cases have been badly maltreated. Negro families have been intimidated and driven from their homes because they sought employment or work as cotton pickers. Hundreds of cotton gins in various sections of the state have been nested with warnings against continuing to buy and gin cotton, the threatened penalties for not heeding the plants and forfeiture of the lives of the owners.

In one county eight men are now awaiting action of the grand jury on a charge of setting fire to a gin, and in another section of the state three white farmers have been sentenced to a year's imprisonment and assessed heavy fines for intimidation of negro cotton pickers.

TREAT WORKER AS HUMAN BEING, MINE OPERATORS
TOLD BY LABOR LEADER

By Associated Press

DENVER, Oct. 20.—Adoption of a "broad and humanitarian policy" by the American Mining congress in dealing with labor was urged today by James Lord, president of the mining department of the American Federation of Labor, in an address before the annual convention of the American Mining congress. He was the only representative of labor on the program as announced in advance by the congress.

"The worker," Mr. Lord declared, "will not be satisfied to be a mere cog in the machinery, but must be taken into account as a human entity."

"Neither the workers nor the operators alone can satisfactorily adjust joint questions. They must be worked out in voluntary joint conference. A chaotic situation exists throughout the world. Readjustment of the world's economic affairs will occur in the same proportion that industrial peace is maintained and established."

"The miners and operators can adjust any problem that affects the mining industry. No one else can or should. All problems regarding wages, hours, conditions of work, competitive and legislative matters can properly come before a joint conference for discussion."

"An earnest, intelligent effort to adjust the differences of worker and employer along democratic lines means more peace and greater efficiency here at home and safeguards American interests internationally."

One of the largest building material firms in Cuba is run by a woman, Miss L. Bellard, who is only 24 years of age.

"I can't get home and back here in time. I have to look after my husband's lunch."

WOMAN JUDGE HAD TO GET HER HUSBAND'S LUNCHEON

LONDON, Nov. 20.—A woman's domestic duty rather delayed the first case tried by a mixed jury at Bath Quarter sessions. At lunch time the recorder ordered the trial to be resumed at 2 o'clock. A woman juror instantly protested:

TEMPLE

When Ben Ames Williams' story "Toujours de L'Audace" was published in the Saturday Evening Post recently, it instantly created a sensation. Perhaps millions of persons read the story and now that it has been adapted to the screen for Wallace Reid under the name of "Always Audacious," it doubtless will attract much attention. "Always Audacious" will be shown at the Temple Theatre for three days beginning today.

In this remarkable photoplay, Mr. Reid plays two roles—those of Perry Danton, a wealthy clubman and dilettante, and Slim Attacks, a crook. Both men were born on the same day and both are alike two peas. The crook conceives the idea of doing away with his double and assuming his place in society and in the business world. He causes Danton to be shanghaied and with the aid of confederates personates him successfully until Danton turns up determined to regain his own. How this is accomplished makes a highly interesting story and the climax is one of the most amazing ever seen in a motion picture.

Of course, there is a pretty love story of which Margaret Loomis, the leading woman, is the central figure. Mr. Reid doubles in many of the scenes as Danton and Attacks with surprising results.

MAJESTIC

The headliner at the Majestic the first half of the week is "The Bower of Harmony" presented by new producers, Robert and J. D. Lindley, and presented by the Lindley Sextette. The producers themselves are the only two male members of the cast, the other four being the French Sisters and a trio from our sister republic Mlle. Gabrielle, Simonne and Clairette Hamel. The Harmony is in jazz and classic selections on the various brass instruments, and in a few song bits by the French girls.

Wells, Virginia and West, a happy combination of mother, father and son, and between whom there doesn't seem to be more than a year or two difference in age, will be an added feature of the bill. Their act is primarily a dancing skit, and real fast and fancy stepping at that, but there is a song or two by the lady member of the act.

Francis Townsend, Thaddeus Wilber and Iva Edmondson will offer a rapid fire comedy skit called "The Smart Aleck." The theme deals with a bright and impetuous youth who seeks to win the hand of a rich man's daughter and the test papa puts him through to determine whether he loves the girl or her money.

Pitzer and Day, in musical comedy moments, and the Sterling Rose Trio, European Aerialists and trapeze artists will complete the bill.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 20.—A nationwide producers' strike to combat the falling prices of farm products was urged in a call sent out today by the National Farmers' union to local unions throughout the country. The organization represents producers of grain, cotton, wool and live stock. Its membership is said to approximate 800,000.

JEFFERSON'S BIBLE, ARRANGED BY HIM IN 'PROPER' SEQUENCE, ON DISPLAY AT UNIV. OF VIRGINIA

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 20.—A novel three-day celebration has been planned for the alumni and undergraduates of the University of Virginia over Thanksgiving holiday. A special schedule of events is carded for November 25, 26 and 27. For some of the alumni the 26th will be a red letter day, for on that occasion they will attend sessions of an alumni school.

Thanksgiving is the date of the annual and historic Virginia-North Carolina football game and provision is being made to care for more than 5,000 visitors on that day.

As guests of the university, these forty will witness the game on Thursday. On Friday, for a few brief hours, they will forget that they are tired business men, and, conducted by members of the faculty, will visit again the class rooms where, as carefree youngsters, they studied for degrees.

Legislation to Control Packers Expected to Provoke Clash When Introduced in Coming Congress

By Bascom N. Timmons
Special to Times:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—At the very outset of the short session of Congress, which will begin in a few weeks, there will be a clash over the question of legislation to control the great packing interests.

The clash will come first in the Senate, where the measure for the control of the packing industry is the unfinished business.

Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, one of the authors of the Kenyon-Kendrick bill, is in charge of this proposed piece of legislation. He has announced that he intends to force it to the front and keep it before the Senate until it is disposed of.

Senator Kenyon intends, if possible, to drive the bill to a vote before the holiday recess. He realizes that the opposition will endeavor to delay it and to hold it back until the closing of the session when it can more easily be blocked.

Interest Intense.

Intense interest is felt in the bill by consumers, live stock men, farmers, and of course, all the packing interests, big and little.

Organization of livestock producers in Texas and elsewhere are demanding the passage of adequate legislation. Their approval of the pending bill which would create a Federal Livestock commission and impose strict regulation on the packing interests. The bill aimed especially at the "Big Five" the leading concerns in the packing industry, which, according to the reports of the Federal Trade commission, dominate the packing business.

Farmers are also demanding legislation to control and regulate the packers. The farmers of the United States are organized as never before. From 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 of them are united in such prominent organizations as the American Federation of Farm Bureaus, the Grange and the Farmers' Union.

Organized Farmers Powerful.

The organized farmers are becoming a more and more potent factor in public affairs, in politics and business. In many Congressional districts, members of the House and Senate take their political lives in their hands when they oppose demands of the farming interests, united and organized as they are fast becoming.

Pressure and intense pressure, at that will be put on Congress from the farmers to enact a law to control the packing industry. On the other hand the packers are a business, commercial and political power. They have many influential friends in Congress and they are intent on blocking any bill which would seriously affect them. As an illustration of this they succeeded last session in heading off many efforts to get a measure for their control put through Congress. Figured in Campaign.

Control of the packers was discussed to a considerable extent in the campaign. The division of sentiment on it is not on partisan lines. However, the situation with respect to passing a law to control the packers is surcharged with big politics. Much significance will be attached to the action taken by Congress.

It is well known that in big business circles and among conservatives of both parties there is objection to further extension of the power of government over private industry. Some evidence of this has been given in the sharp criticism that has been leveled at the Federal Trade Commission for its reports on the packers—reports which raised many objections to features of the packing business as conducted by the "Big Five."

The argument that there is already too much Government interference with business has many supporters. Strong efforts are expected from conservative quarters to balk the passage of a bill to regulate the packers. If these efforts succeed, there will be a storm of criticism from farmers, livestock men, consumers and other sources.

Why Hudson Utility Appeals to Business Men

No Hudson owner forgets this fact in his appreciation of Super-Six economy.

He knows Hudson is the supreme performance type among all the world's cars. Its stock car records in speed, hill-climbing, acceleration and endurance have never been matched.

Engineers who aim at such performance distinction usually ignore such elements of economy as fuel, oil and tire mileage.

But Hudson's notable speed, its 72% added power, and 80% greater efficiency means no extra cost in its operation.

Its speed and power do not come from great motor size and high fuel consumption. The exclusive Super-

Six principle gets 76 H. P., from a light, conventional motor that formerly developed 42 H. P. at maximum.

Vibration that wasted about half the power of the conventional type is almost eliminated by this type. Nearer approach does not seem possible.

That means that even extraordinary calls impose no strain or abuse on Hudson. It accounts for the way Hudsons retain new car ability when they have grown old in point of years and use. It removes the costly burden and annoyance of frequent repairs and service attention.

With all the other desirable things men find in Hudson, this accounts also for the additional triumph of true economy.

Strikers Cork Will Soon Be Out of Danger

Nov. 20.—The Sinn Fein prisoners who ended their hunger strikes will pass the danger line within four or five days. Six weeks ago they were on the road to hunger according to Dr. Pearson, British home office physician, who is attending the prisoners. He added:

"Within four or five weeks they will regain their strength and within a year they will return to normal condition."

"They are all taking nourishment at a remarkable rate and at regular intervals. They are all in the best of spirits. History presents no parallel to this remarkable experiment, which proves conclusively that the human brain is able to go an unlimited period without food."

Got White of Egg Firm.
"I started feeding the men at 3 o'clock Friday. Their first nourishment was eight ounces of albumen water, consisting of the white of one egg with water. I next massaged them with cod liver oil."

"At 6 in the evening I gave them their second meal, consisting of one teaspoonful of beef juice and two and a half ounces of water. A second massage was administered at 9 the same evening."

"I thought it safe then to give the prisoners stronger nourishment, and they ate each food with an ounce of babies' digested food, suitable for infants three to six months old."

"The first real stimulant was given the men at midnight, when an egg flip sherry was offered. The men took this eagerly."

"The prisoners are actually living skeletons. Their limbs are no thicker than walking sticks."

He Was Hungry at Last.
John Crawley, 27, one of the prisoners, greeted Dr. Pearson this morning with a smile and said: "I am able to eat anything now. I am hungry."

The physician smiled in return and gave him some baby food. The cheerfulness of the men is welcomed by the doctors as an aid in regaining health. It is remarkable that none of them developed scurvy, which afflicted MacSwiney. This is attributed to the excellent care of the nurses.

On Saturday the doctors left the prison for the first time in ten weeks and walked about the park unmolested.

PLEASURE, NOT CRIME, TO SIP HOME BREW

International News Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—Does drinking "home brew" at home constitute a disturbance of the peace? It does not, at least that's the law as interpreted by Judge John M. Kennedy, of the North Municipal Court.

"Five women and six men arrested recently at the home of Mrs. Mary Glouosky, 320 Wyman avenue, faced Judge Kennedy on a charge of disturbing the peace. When the Judge learned that they were arrested for sipping glasses of the "home talent" stuff he promptly discharged them."

The cantonal government of Basle has recognized the right of women to occupy the pulpits in that country.

GERMAN PRISONERS IN RUSSIA DRIVEN INSANE BY SUFFERINGS; SENT TO ASYLUMS ON RETURN

STETTIN, Germany, Nov. 20.—Every contingent of German war prisoners returning here from Russia contains a number of mad, unshaven, haggard men who have been made insane by sufferings during the months in Russian prison camps.

In three weeks the German government sent 200 of these men to insane asylums and sanitariums for treatment. A few have periods of violence, and during these periods must be kept under guard, but the majority present a listless, vacillating aspect. They look about with dull eyes, or sit quietly weeping, unconscious of the fact they are home again.

The families and friends of the insane soldiers are allowed to greet them and to give them food and clothes before they are sent away for treatment.

Almost all of the prisoners exhibit the most intense bitterness not only toward Russia, but toward the German government as well. One of them, who had lost a leg and an arm and who, it was learned, had been taken prisoner early in the war and had been confined in many Russian prison camps, shook his fist at a German flag when he arrived and cursed his country, his people, and all other countries and peoples.

"To ——— with Germany!" he shouted. "That is not my flag and Germany is not my fatherland."

He then turned to the other prisoners and pointing to his wounds, said:

"This is what Germany has done to me. This is what a kindly Fatherland has permitted. Why didn't they exchange me? Because I have only one leg and one arm? I lost them fighting for Germany and all the thanks I've had for it were the rotten years in a Russian prison."

DRY LAW BARS MANY DELICIOUS DISHES FROM RESTAURANT MENUS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Failure of the internal revenue department to use alcoholic grant permits for cooking purposes has removed from the menus of restaurants and hotels "some of the most popular and delicious dishes," William H. Hiest counsel for the Society of Restaurateurs of New York declared in a letter to Federal prohibition commissioner Kramer, made public here.

Declaring the ruling of the Supreme Court in the Street case reopens the question of the authority for and correctness of rulings of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Mr. Hiest urged that applications for these permits "have the prompt attention of the internal revenue collectors."

The Supreme Court, he asserted, has pointed out that the prohibitions of the eighteenth amendment run specifically against "intoxicating liquors" when used for "beverage purposes," meaning that there is no inhibition for the use of such liquors for cooking purposes.

"Whatever the division of opinion as to the justification for the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act," the letter said, "it seems to be generally understood that the kind of traffic and the kind of liquors which it has the intention to prohibit have not been prohibited, while the rights and privileges which were allowed by the eighteenth amendment are absolutely denied. Whiskey and other highly alcoholic spirituous liquors are being freely trafficked in, while innocuous and nonintoxicating light wines and beer have been particularly swept from the market."

Before the Russo-Polish hostilities began the Russians were being returned rapidly, but it is now estimated that at least 280,000 Russians are still in German camps, 90,000 of whom are the troops interned when they crossed the East Prussian frontier when the Polish offensive was in progress.

The German government has expended 30,000,000 marks for transportation of Russians home, and 90,000,000 marks to bring German prisoners out of Russia.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Avery Whites, merchandiser and "numbers" boss, who lives on what is given them by the other half of the world—are arriving in Chicago in large numbers from the East.

"The East is getting too hard-boiled," said "Jim" Hardy, whose last address was New York. "It's hard to work the sympathy racket on them, they've been stung so often. We all come West in the winter."

In Japan the women raise silk worms and feed them after which they reel their silk to help to meet the high cost of living.

VANCOUVER MEN PLAN TO MAKE CITY FREE PORT

International News Service.
VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 20.—Plans to make Vancouver the first free port on the North American continent are being considered by business men in western Canada. It is proposed to establish a foreign trade area in which goods for trans-shipment may be handled without paying a duty.

Facilities for grading, reconditioning, packing, remanufacturing, foreign merchandise for re-shipment will be provided. The manufacturing establishments would save customs duties and delays incidental to the handling of dutiable imported raw material and eliminate the restrictions connected with the use of bonded warehouses. Duty would be paid on goods originated for the Canadian market and shipped out of the foreign trade area.

Free areas have contributed greatly to the growth and development of many of the important European seaports. In view of this fact it is surprising that free areas have not been adopted in American or Canadian ports. Changing Vancouver into a free port, industrial experts declare, would prove a wonderful factor in developing the foreign commerce of western Canada.

RED PLOT TO BOMB FROM AIR IS DISCLOSED

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Disclosure of a bolshevik plot to "bomb every big city in the United States, simultaneously, from airplanes, within the next year," was announced by immigration authorities at Ellis Island.

The revelation was coincident to the recapture of Paul Mozuris, known to secret service operators as a desperate radical, who escaped from the immigration station last June by leaping out of a window and swimming to shore.

Mozuris, who was re-arrested at Kalamazoo, Mich., was brought here with sixty other undesirable aliens, heavily guarded by immigration officials. The party traveled in two special cars from Chicago and the far west.

"Mozuris is a man of very excitable temperament when he gets to talking about plans of communists," an immigration officer said. "At first he said the city was going to take place within two years, but after reflection changed his statement and said: 'Yes, it will be within the next year.'"

Instead of being deported forthwith to Lithuania, Mozuris, because of his alleged defiant attitude when questioned by department of justice agents concerning the Wall street explosion, will be held for further examination.

HEAVY GIRL BABY.

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 19.—Oil City is the home of the largest baby girl in the world, a 14-pound daughter being born to Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Brown. Both the mother and baby are doing nicely. Physicians and medical men state that the baby is not only the largest girl ever born in Oil City, but one of the largest in medical annals. The weight is vouched for by the doctor and does not include clothing.

A record sized baby boy, weighing 17 pounds, was born here nine months ago.

MANY AGENCIES OFFER HELP IN CURBING RATS

Special to the Times.

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—The rat population is about 18,000,000 and the annual property damage will run well above $75,000,000. These figures are based upon careful investigations by the U. S. Public Health Service throughout the state. Rats not only destroy and pollute food in kitchens, pantries and cellars, but they burrow under granaries destroying grain and feedstuffs as well as damaging houses and barns by undermining them.

Anti-rat campaigns have been started from time to time and they have been attended by some success. However, the spread of the rodents throughout the state during the past two years has been so great that a determined effort will be made to exterminate them during the next twelve months. This campaign is being conducted by the A. & M. college extension service, the state health officer, the U. S. Public Health Service and the agricultural department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The rat is prolific to say the least. A male and female will under ordinary circumstances bring up a family of 120 or more rats within a year. It is probably this tendency to increase rapidly that gave the rat a place in fable and song of the Middle Ages, notably the weird story of the "Pied Piper of Hamelin."

Came Out of Asia.

Many creeds and races have originated in Asia and pushed outward over the world, but none have been more irresistible than the genus Mus. First came the black rat, or Mus rattus, striking Eastern Europe about the middle of the sixteenth century. It was followed closely by the brown rat, or Mus decumanus, which spread rapidly throughout the continent, reaching England about 1728 where the Jacobites were delighted to attribute its coming to the new House of Hanover. The rat entered America through the various ports shortly after overrunning Western Europe. The black rat came first and the brown rat followed becoming notorious for its destructive habits in the city of Chicago where grain elevators and stock yards held forth ideal conditions for rat breeding.

The rat plague in Texas has become particularly serious during the past few years, and various agricultural and educational organizations have assumed the role of the Pied Piper and are endeavoring to hit upon the note which cleared the little Austrian village of Hamelin.

Complete information upon rat damage, traps, poisons and other methods of extermination may be obtained by writing to Dr. Oscar Davis, state health officer; A. & M. College extension service; U. S. Public Health Service; or the agricultural department of the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

JAPANESE CAPTURE MEXICAN TRADE IN ELECTRIC BULBS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—Japan has captured the Mexican trade in electric light bulbs. The Japanese are offering the bulbs at prices about 20 per cent lower than the prices of American firms.

The Japanese are also taking possession of other important fields. They are selling crockery at prices about 25 per cent lower than the prices of American exporters.

The Swiss have control of the Mexican trade in watches. An American, having broken his watch, recently tried to buy an "Ingersoll." He could not find the American watch, but was offered Swiss substitutes in nearly all stores.

THOUSAND D. S. O.'S AWAIT MODEST HEROES OF GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Nov. 20.—More than 1,000 distinguished service orders are awaiting delivery to recipients with whom the war office cannot get in touch. Most of the beneficiaries were officers in the world war. They have now been absorbed into the civilian population and are apparently more concerned with their private affairs than with the receipt of awards for gallantry while in the military service.

The notion that army men covet ribbons, bands, medals, certifying to their bravery and efficiency in military work, seemingly does not apply to these heroes, who went into the army to do the best they could and see no reason why any fuss should be made over the performance of duty, even though that task may have involved great personal risk and courage. Officials of the war office are plainly puzzled over this attitude, and, in the hope of locating the proper persons without further delay, have issued the following notice and appeal:

"We cannot do anything until the men cited for the award write to us, informing us of their addresses. Officers who have not received their decoration are asked to write. It is desired that they should attend for investiture by the king before the end of the year."

HANDCUFFED RIDER WINS BET BUT CAN'T COLLECT UNLESS HE WEARS CHAINS THREE MONTHS

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Tony Pizzo of Los Angeles, ex-navy sailor and professional daredevil performer, sat in his room at the Hotel Commodore yesterday afternoon doing violence to the English language in anathematizing all dare-devil stunts, wagers, stakeholders, and every mile of road between New York and Los Angeles and back again. He was cramped up in a chair between the bed and the window, trying to write a letter with his wrists handcuffed to a bicycle. The bicycle looked battered and worn. Tony looked mad all through.

"I just completed a ride of 10,623 miles from New York to Los Angeles and back, on a wager of $5,000 that I couldn't do it in ten months with my hands locked to the machine. I do the stunt in seven months, coming back here hot foot after eating, sleeping and living with that inanimate bike—only to find that I got to wear that piece of jewelry three months longer to get the $5,000," he said.

Pizzo, in what he thinks was an unwise moment, left the navy to go back to his old job as a professional daredevil actor for the movies. Somebody, he wouldn't say who, made the wager that he couldn't ride his daredevil bicycle to Los Angeles and back, handcuffed to himself, and he took it. He left New York April 24, 1920, his handcuffs secured by a chain to the wheel and sealed by Mayor Hylan. He carried a letter from Secretary of the Navy Daniels to the mayor of Los Angeles.

He arrived in New York on his return trip Saturday noon, expecting to divorce the wheel which had stuck closer than a brother, sleeping with him in country hotels, bathing with him in wayside creeks and always present at meal times three times a day. Then he discovered that the contract read he must wear the wheel three months longer.

"I'll never take a stunt like this again," he said, "but there were some interesting things about it. The hardest was answering fool questions. There are forty fools in every village and every one of them asks questions. You got to answer them to get rid of 'em. I had one bad accident that came poor divorcing me from the wheel. Coming down the Sierra Nevada, a six-mile coast into Reno, I went into a bluck hole and broke the saddle and came near breaking my pelvic bone. But I managed to ride as far as the Reno hospital, where they put the wheel to bed with me after a stiff fight to amputate it. We were in that bed, the wheel leaning against the side and I unable to turn over much, for two weeks. I damn which I hated the worst, the bed or the wheel, when we left there.

"It is 800 miles across the Mohave desert, with sixty to 135 mile rides between villages, and no water along the way. I nearly choked a dozen times getting through. That is the original prohibition country. One night I was riding along, longing for water, when I came upon an automobile standing in the moonlight beside the trail. Two nice, white haired old people—a man and a woman—were sitting in it, leaning back, asleep. I thought, as I came up and asked them for a drink. They didn't stir and I shouted at them with my parched throat splitting. Still no answer, and I went up and looked closely. They were dead. There wasn't a drop of gas or water in their outfit and it was easy to see what had happened. It was sixty-five miles to the next settlement. I made it and a party went back to get the bodies, but the next morning I went on and I never did hear the names of those victims of the desert.

"Somebody saw me giving an exhibition in Chicago, and thinking I must have a lot of money, went out to Des Plaines and held me up in a lonely road and robbed me of all my money—$6. I tried to get my gun out of the holster when I came around a bend upon two men standing beside a Ford, and covering me with a shotgun, but gave it up. One of the funniest things that happened to me regularly was the way nice old ladies who ran country hotels or took me into their farm houses on the way, begged me to release myself from the bicycle just for this night, so I could rest. 'Nobody will ever know,' they invariably said. They couldn't understand the nature of a wager."

In the fall of 1919 Pizzo performed a similar feat by riding handcuffed to his machine, from Los Angeles to New York in five months and fourteen days. Once on the way he made 228 miles in seventeen hours.

Prohibition in Mexico Depends on Who's Made Dry

By LOUIS P. KIRBY
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20.—Prohibitionists whose cause has taken a fearful slump in Mexico, are to receive the help of prominent women in Mexico. An anti-alcohol society has been formed by the women here and plans are on foot for the organization of similar societies in various parts of the country.

A few weeks ago it looked as though prohibition had gained a strong foothold in Mexico. Then it was discovered that prohibition did not mix well with Mexican politics.

talked of the disappearance from the land of the Tepees in ancient days, because of the havoc wrought by pulque.

But when the cantinas were ordered to close their doors from Saturday at noon until the following Monday morning each week, the restaurants and hotels were forbidden to sell liquors during the same weekly "dry" period. This brought protest from "upper circles," the members of which rarely or never enter cantinas, but profoundly enjoying their bottle of wine or cognac in more refined surroundings.

The government would not venture to favor the wealthy by modifying the "dry" regulations. It might have meant revolution if the cantinas had been kept closed on week-ends and the restaurants and hotels had been permitted to remain "wet."

The "dry" regulations were impartially enforced as far as anything can be enforced impartially in Mexico, but the "wet" pressure was so strong that there was a sudden return to the old system, and all drinking places remain open now throughout the week.

JUDGE BASES SENTENCE OF MOTOR CAR DRIVER ON PARABLE FROM BIBLE

International News Service.
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Mayor William H. Gilmore of this city announces that law founded on the Bible is good enough for him. A local man charged with not having the tail-light burning on his automobile was arraigned before the mayor and fined $3. The accused protested and said it was a poor law under which he was fined and he did not think it would hold water in court.

The mayor responded that any law founded on the Bible was good enough for him.

The defendant said he could not see where a tail-light of an automobile had anything to do with the Bible. The mayor looked pityingly at the accused.

"Do you remember," he remarked, "that story about the Ten Virgins, five of whom had lights and five of whom didn't? Well, if you do you will remember that the Lord wouldn't have anything to do with the five without lights, and neither will this court."

Miss Hanis Smith an Englishwoman, lately admitted to the fellowship of the Institute of Chartered Accountants, is announced by the institute to be the first and only woman chartered accountant in the world.

BIG GUNS ROAR IN RHINE VALLEY AS YANKEES STAGE SHAM WAR; HUNS FEAR RECALL BY HARDING

COBLENZ, Nov. 20.—Rumors that Warren G. Harding may recall the American army of occupation from the Rhineland soon after he is inaugurated as President of the United States are not interfering with activities of the American colony of 20,000 centering at Coblenz.

The troops are completing their fall maneuvers in the vicinity of Kaisersech, where daily battles with real ammunition are being "fought." The Rhine Valley resounds with the rammading of 75-centimeter and one-pound guns, which are being used with percussion shells as a screen for infantry advances against the wooded hills in which are scattered targets representing the imaginary enemy. The troops are using machine guns and service rifles in their attacks.

The tremendous government reservations in the rugged hills afford the Americans a finer opportunity for war maneuvers than ever before was enjoyed by American troops, and Major General Allen's forces are making the most of their unusual advantages to accustom themselves to the use of live ammunition under conditions where the results of their bombardment are visible, as in actual battle.

General Schotbach, commander of the Swiss army, and many other foreign officers are observing the maneuvers, devoting special attention to the artillery work.

The suggestion that the Americans may be withdrawn appears to be distasteful to the German natives, who apparently prefer the Yankees to any other force of occupation and wish them to remain as long as any foreigners are occupying Germany.

General Allen and the Americans on the Rhineland Commission occupy the position of referees and are generally acknowledged as lions who smooth out the many difficulties arising between the more vitally interested nations.

Speculation is rife as to what nation will send troops of occupation to Coblenz in the event the Americans are withdrawn. Neither the British nor the French desired to have the Rhineland Commission headquarters located in their areas and consequently Coblenz was selected, although it is a small city with inadequate housing.

The German population is especially hostile to the French and the Belgians, and express a preference for British troops in the event the Americans are withdrawn.

Coblenz has been thoroughly Americanized and the tradespeople, who have adapted their shops to serve the dough-boys, are greatly alarmed over the prospect of losing the patronage of the well-paid Americans.

Most of the soldiers in the Army of Occupation enlisted for three years and few of them seem to feel that they will be withdrawn.

The order prohibiting soldiers from marrying German women no longer is effective, but men who take German wives now are sent to America on the first available transport from Antwerp.

SEA CAPTAIN'S GUNS QUELLED MEETING OF HUNGER-CRAZED CREW

International News Service. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Twelve hunger-crazed, fear-stricken seamen from a twenty-three-year-old schooner, the Rose Mahoney, as the ship silt and rocked in the seas of a heavy gale off the California coast.

After nearly seventy days at sea a raging gale caught the five-master, striped it of its sails and nearly sent it to the bottom. The food supply was gone, the pangs of hunger were on the men. Captain Genevieux, the youngest clipper-ship captain of an American vessel, had orders to go to San Francisco. When the storm abated the ship was off San Pedro, several hundred miles down the coast. Captain Genevieux gave orders to "tack" and make for the home port farther away. It was then that the crew attempted to take things into their own hands. They deserted their posts and demanded that the vessel put in to San Pedro. Orders were orders to the young captain and he told the crew that they must make for San Francisco.

Like a flash the sparks of discontent and strife rose in a flame of mutiny. The men tried to take command. Captain Genevieux, young in years, but stern in experience, faced the mutineers.

"I am master of this ship," he told them. "If I decide to tack off shore that will be the course followed. Should I decide to run across to China that also will be followed." With that he drew two revolvers. The men returned to quarters. Several days later another ship was sighted and food was secured for the men of the Rose Mahoney. She arrived in San Francisco safely.

CHEMIST SAYS EAT WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

By Associated Press. ADELAIDE, Australia, Nov. 18.—Dr. Hargreaves, a distinguished Australian chemist declared at a conference of master bakers here that the nations which eat white bread were getting close to the border line of neuritis. He advocated brown bread, saying that modern science demanded that wheat should be milled whole.

He said that, undoubtedly, campaigns in favor of whole meal bread will be shortly launched in the United States and England, and it behooved Australia to take prompt action. The members of the conference agreed with the doctor's observations, but said that Australians, with the exception of cranks and dyspeptics, refused to eat brown bread.

FREE TRIP To Breckenridge Oil Field

Commencing Today

To any citizen within a radius of 150 miles of Breckenridge, investing $500 or more in the Breckenridge Northern Oil Syndicate the syndicate offers to pay all expenses to Breckenridge and return. This offer is made purely as an effort to inspire the confidence of the many people in the nearby cities who wish to invest. To any one wishing to investigate these statements further, the above offer is open. If every statement made in this circular is not absolutely true, you are under no obligation to invest with us, and your trip to the field will be entirely at our expense. We cannot make a broader guarantee to the public that we are offering a square deal, and when you have finished reading this announcement, we want you to decide at once as to whether or not you care to accept our offer.

OUR LEASE

The syndicate owns a 10-acre lease, approximately one and one-half miles northeast of the court house of Breckenridge, and which is thoroughly proven for heavy production. The syndicate will drill and complete one well on this lease. The Humble company's gusher, making 2,400 barrels, came in on the 9th approximately 500 yards from our location. The Hoffmeier No. 2, estimated at 3,400 barrels, came in on the 12th, also only a few hundred yards from our lease. In addition to these two latest completions, there are many other heavy producers on all sides of us, which have been brought in within the past two months.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION

The Breckenridge Northern Oil Syndicate is organized under the Breckenridge Unit System, which not only guarantees a square deal, but also conservative management of affairs. The Syndicate owns absolutely all tools, tankage, machinery and other equipment necessary in the drilling of the well, and keeping its production up to a maximum after completion. The unit holders own their pro rata part of this equipment, and shall receive their pro rata part of any and all money received from the sale of such equipment. This equipment will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000, which means that practically half of your money can be returned in case we break the good record and drill the FIRST dry hole in the field. The trustee guarantees that so long as he shall remain as the trustee, the combined salaries for clerical assistance and office expense shall not exceed $200 per month.

NOW DRILLING

Our well is now drilling, having spudded in November 19th, and with reasonably good luck, it should be completed by New Years Day. We guarantee to do everything in our power to have it completed by that time.

THINK THIS OVER

A 5,000-barrel well will pay over 300 per cent monthly on our capital, which is $85,000. Only one well on ten acres, thereby insuring a long lived well. All equipment owned by unit holders. No salaried officers. 8-16 of gross production from full ten acres to Syndicate. 100 per cent of this production to unit holders in monthly dividends, after deducting the actual cost of upkeep. Completely surrounded by heavy producers, ranging from 900 to 9,000 barrels each. Only 850 units of $100 each to be sold, and practically half of them now subscribed. We reserve the right to return any remittance in case of an over-subscription. We anxiously solicit the most rigid investigation. As first stated, we will pay all expenses for you to come and see for yourself.

SELLING FAST

Our units are selling fast. Fill out the attached coupon and mail to us at once. If you wish to visit the field, advise us by wire and we will meet you.

DEATH CLAIMS WOMAN AWAITING TRIAL FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND WHOSE AFFECTION SHE HAD LOST

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—Death yesterday saved a wife the humiliation of being tried as a murderess when Mrs. Carleen Kelly, 27, died in the city hospital.

Outdone were Ibsen and the wildest pranks of the eternal triangle when Mrs. Kelly shot and killed her husband, Walter G. Kelly, in a corridor on the twelfth floor of the Boatmen's Bank building on April 21.

"I shot him."

That was her only testimony at the inquest. Later she told how the third point of her particular triangle calmly proposed that they make the husband choose between them. She refused because she knew what his choice would be.

Because six operations during the seven years she was married failed to restore her health, Mrs. Kelly was released four days after the killing on $15,000 bond. Her health never since returned.

Mrs. Kelly's was a tale of intermingled love, notes in shorthand, two women fighting for the affections of the same man and then death. After she slew her husband, she told in detail what prompted her action.

Kelly was a passenger agent for the Chicago & Alton railroad. Their married life was a calendar of sickness and frequent separations and half-hearted reconciliations.

Shortly before the fatal day she changed upon a shorthand notebook in his effects. Mrs. Kelly reasoned that no one would be carrying such notes around if they were of a purely cold business nature. In them she scented the warmth of a secret love.

Notes Reveal Romance. To a typist friend she went, and there saw the synopsis deciphered. About the feet of another woman whose name the notebook gave, she saw strewn the wreckage of her own married life.

One night she followed Kelly to the other woman's house. He answered the ring, she said, and remarked: "You've got me with the goods. Let's go home."

She insisted on seeing the "other woman." He refused and forced her to accompany him home. Next day Mrs. Kelly called upon the woman and pleaded with her to make her husband return. The woman refused, she asserted, and declared Kelly loved her more than his wife.

Mrs. Kelly said she was offered this proposition: "The only thing for us to do is to have the three of us meet. We'll make Walter choose between us. If he picks me, you must get a divorce and let me have him. If he chooses you, I'll give up my love."

NEW YORK DEER HUNTERS EFFEMINATE, SAY GUIDES

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Deer hunters say that deer are plenty in the Adirondack woods, but they are "frightfully shy and hard to see." They take flight at the crackle of a twig.

Antagonists carry thousands of hunters to the big woods, and along every road, for at least five miles on either side, there is a belt of country where the still-hunters and drivers rattle the rigges and swamps for game.

The deep woods are not as hard searched as in the old days, when shooters carried packs on their backs and went to the wilderness and built little lean-to camps. The result is said to be that deer are quite plenty in the "back" country, and over-abundant in the "near" country.

Old John Worden says he is just "plumb disgusted." He, personally, can go anywhere, and find his way to any place in the woods. But his boy went for him and you can have him back. Shoots Him in Corridor.

The wife declined, because she was certain the choice would be adverse. She went to Kelly's office and renewed her pleading. He was obstinate. The next day she purchased a revolver and went again to the office building.

Mrs. Kelly called her husband into the hall and after exchanging a few words fired several shots. Two of them penetrated vital points and he died almost instantaneously. She waited in an adjoining office for police to arrest her.

Despite the charge against her being murder in the first degree, she was released on bond because of her failing health. She remained with her mother in Pekin, Ill., until Sept. 1. Her condition then had become so bad she was removed to the St. Louis city hospital. A complication of diseases caused her death.

IN A CLASS BY HIMSELF Miss Passay: "My fiance is so different from other men." Miss Pert: Of course he is since he has "proposed to you."—Boston Transcript.

She will be buried in Pekin.

FOUR-LEGGED ROOSTER

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 20.—Now the four-legged rooster! With four perfectly-shaped legs, a full-grown rooster is parading the barnyard of H. H. Burres of Harris, Mo., according to a letter written by Burres to Superintendent of Parks W. H. Duna, offering to sell the rooster to the Swope Park zoo.

Duna said the offer would be declined, as the city does not desire any freak animals in the zoo.

CLOSING OUT SALE

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

We will give to Charity $100 if anyone will submit proof that this is not a genuine closing out sale and that this sale is being given for the purpose of fraudulent and untruthful advertising. We stake our reputation as Ranger merchants, for over 23 months, that we are actually going to close out our entire stock and give up the Ladies' Ready-to-Wear business in this city. We also want our many friends to know that prices quoted here are in many cases less than we bought the same goods for at wholesale. However, we are going to close out the stocks and everything must go regardless of former costs or any profits. If you want the best of merchandise at lowest prices, we want you to visit this sale.
