"White Way for Ranger by Jan. 1," Merchants' Slogan

Committee Appointed to Determine Best Method Of Raising Funds; Will Study Advertising, Window Trimming and Card Writing to Increase Home Business.

"Fifteen blocks of 'white way' in Ranger by Jan. 1" was the slogan adopted at the meeting of the Retail Merchants' association last night. A committee was appointed composed of Edward Maher, Ray M. Newham and M. O. Burt to investigate and find out how the "white way" could best be secured. Senator A. P. Barrett addressed the meeting on the subject, as did several local men and a representative of the Western Electric company.

Among other business taken up by the meeting a report by Karl E. Jones was read covering the auditing of the association's books and the accounts of the first trade carnival. Mr. Jones stated that he had found the accounts in excellent order and that the books were among the best kept that he had ever audited.

It was suggested at the meeting that the merchants begin an extensive advertising campaign to educate the people of Ranger to buy at home. Along this line Irving Schwartz offered a plan that received favorable comment and at a later meeting may be adopted.

People Like Lights.

Senator Barrett declared that to make a city it was necessary at all times to do things just a little better than the neighboring towns to always keep just ahead of the procession. He thought that Ranger could be made the brightest spot between Fort Worth and El Paso, and he believed that the merchants could and would do this by installing street lights.

Mail Carrier Has $15,000 Monthly Income; Still on Job

DALLAS, Nov. 20.—An oil operator with an income of approximately $15,000 a month, is numbered among the small army of faithful mail carriers of Dallas who twice a day brave the weather to post through the streets under the weight of heavy mail pouches. He is Preston Lockhart, whose farm in Stephens county has developed an unusual showing of the "liquid gold."

Though oil was discovered on Mr. Lockhart's farm several months ago, the prospect of sudden wealth had no visible effect on the Lockhart family. Mr. Lockhart reported for duty at the post office each morning with the same punctuality as before and the extravagant tastes which often mark the "newly rich" failed to develop. Their little circle of loyal friends remains unchanged and even in the games of the Lockhart children with other youngsters of the neighborhood there is no touch of "snobishness."

Fifteen-Block Project.

A rough estimate given of the cost would involve probably $18,000 for the fifteen blocks. This cost, it is believed, will care for eight lights to a block and will be proportioned to the front footage. The estimated cost was placed at $2 per foot. Thus a merchant who occupied twenty-five feet of space would be required to pay $50. None of the figures given were definite and it is thought that the size of the project will cut the cost to less than $2 for each foot.

Nitro Blast Wrecks Derrick When Shot Comes Up With Oil

Great Southern's Baumgartner No. 1 Scene of Narrow Escape From Death; Debris Hurlled Long Distance; Timber Through Tank; Fire Completes Destruction.

Only a black spot is left today of an oil well derrick and rigging on the Great Southern lease, eight miles west of Ranger, following the explosion of a thirty-quart charge of nitroglycerine on the derrick floor yesterday afternoon. The charge was blown out of the hole by the well unexpectedly flowing. Following the explosion, all of the rigging that was not blown from the vicinity was destroyed by fire. The driller, tool dresser and nitro shooter, warned by the roar as the well began to erupt, ran about twenty feet away and threw themselves face down upon the ground. They escaped injury.

A heavy piece of timber was blown through one wall of a steel storage tank and part way through the opposite wall. This caused the loss of considerable oil. A nitro wagon driver standing close by heard the cries of the crew and barely had time to get his machine out of the danger zone. This morning the fire at the well had been extinguished.

The well, which is the Baumgartner No. 1, has been flowing by heads, the flows coming forty minutes apart. The last flow came unexpectedly. The thirty quarts had just been lowered, only fifteen minutes having elapsed since the last flow, when a head unexpectedly came on. The charge of nitro was blown to the top of the derrick and then fell back to the floor, where it exploded. In the meantime the crew, being warned by the sound of the flow's upward rush, ran about twenty feet away and threw themselves on the ground.

Pieces of the rig were blown hundreds of feet away and with terrific force one heavy timber was driven through the steel wall of the storage tank. Fire immediately started, burning everything of combustible nature. The men who escaped were blackened by the smoke and dirt of the explosion until they were unrecognizable. The amount of oil being produced by the well is not known, but it is thought that it will be in excess of 500 barrels a day. The rig will be rebuilt.

NINE DEATHS IN BIG BLAZE AT NEW YORK

Detroit Hotel Fire Also Kills One; Three Others May Die.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Nine persons including an entire family of six, were suffocated and burned to death in a fire which swept rapidly through a five-story brick apartment house, 607 West One Hundred and Forty-seventh street here, early this morning. The fire originated on the ground floor and the flames spread so rapidly that by the time the firemen arrived the entire lower structure was burning and the occupants of the upper stories were cut off.

Thrilling rescues were made and a number of children were carried down the fire escape. The dead are Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, widow, Ruth Reynolds, her daughter; Mrs. Ada Frank, Ralph Giblin and his wife and four children. The fire, it is believed, was started among some baby carriages near the stairway by a cigarette butt which was thrown away on the ground floor. It spread rapidly up the wooden stairway and smothered out through the upper floors, before the firemen could get water to it.

The old adage that the "world loves a lover" does not apply to policemen. In time they become a hard-hearted lot. Witness: Last night a belle of dark-town and a son of the same place were uptown. They became very endearing on the streets. Terms strained through honeyed sweetness were lavished upon each other and caresses of the blissful kind were indulged in—very lover-like they were. But alas for love—a copper came along and said that their conduct was indecent and over night they languished in the bastille. Though it is said that "love laughs at locksmiths" it cost them $20.70 to get free. But still with the idea in mind that policemen are a hard lot as some folks say; there was a boy brought before the judge charged with stealing a Mexican's lunch. The boy, who is 18 years old, said he had lost his job in Fort Worth and rode a freight train into Ranger. He said he paid a brakeman 15 cents at Mingo to let him ride the train into Ranger. He kept back a nickel on the trainman, however, and bought 5 cents worth of cakes. He didn't steal the Mexican's lunch. Policemen being a "hard lot" it looked like the boy was headed straight for the street force to be started Monday. While the judge was telling him that Ranger wanted good industrious folks here who would get jobs and work and that he might go free, a policeman who prides himself on being "hard" was slipping the boy a silver dollar, and telling him where to get a good meal, and possibly a job. Yeh, policemen are a hard-hearted lot, some folks say.

JAP CAMOUFLAGE
The London report that the Japanese-American problem has been virtually settled undoubtedly emanated from Japan.

Japan proposes that she will stop immigration to America if those Japs now within our boundaries are made citizens. But it must be remembered she also made a "gentleman's agreement," which is itself a promise, to do the same thing many years ago.

That, however, is now beside the point. The Japs are now firmly entrenched within our borders, and with their amazing fecundity can furnish their own immigration, without and need of assistance from the mother country.

And the woman, approving the common sense of her predecessors on the teetotal plank, felt that he had, perhaps, unwittingly, paid the young women high compliment.

Who'd Have Thought It?
The Mid-Victorian Lady is a strict believer in the truth. Even white lies are inexcusable to her.

Yes, I told my right age," she said, "but I don't think it's a necessary question to ask at all, suppose by this time every one on the block knows that I'll never see 45 again, even though I haven't a gray hair.

REASON NOT PERTINENT.
Senator Harding's statement that he cannot visit Mexico for a conference with its leaders without the "permission" of Woodrow Wilson would seem to be based on the diplomatic ceremonies of the middle ages.

In a business concern, if one man were going to succeed another, and both knew it, and the world knew it, for that matter, and the incoming and outgoing executives were not exactly friendly, as in this case, the new man would feel that it was perfectly proper to do any consulting he might wish, without any particular concern as to whether it would be displeasing to the man he succeeded.

Call Your Floor.
They were discussing home dishes as they entered the elevator in the office building on Thirty-sixth street, right in front of the Woman. And the Woman listened with both ears to the talk of "salmon with drawn butter sauce, boiled mackerel, and, oh, yes, I fry the halibut and...

Mr. Wilson, of course, is under no obligation to ask Mr. Harding to confer with the Mexican leaders. The result of that conference would be no concern of this, as he would be under no obligation to carry out its conclusions.

Personally I agree with Mr. Bryan that the Democratic party should be re-organized for the next battle, but we are in favor of leaving him out of the organization.—Dallas News.

They say the cost of Columbus's voyage of discovery was only $1,000, but they fail to add that we're been paying for it ever since, plus war tax.—Knoxville Journal and Tribune.

THE WOMAN WHO SAW

The Lucrative Swimmer's Hole.
The Woman, who honestly believed the bathing season to be a thing of the past, recently saw how hasty was that judgment on passing the Maine memorial monument at Columbus circle.

"Here's 2 cents, Mike!" a shivering water rat, with a scapula dripping on his bosom, called gleefully, as he ploved his way toward the Woman and deposited his gains with his dry partner on the edge. "That's thirty-free now, ain't it?" he almost whispered.

"Five black heads and a red one, disappeared simultaneously. The small pool surged roughly as the boys struggled and plowed. The familiar face came up first, however, the tawny hair dripping over his forehead, his eyes wide with excitement. Somehow the Woman was glad he had it. Making his way over to the edge as fast as his flapping soaked pants would permit, he grinned broadly at Sunny, the precious coin clenched high in dripping fist.

Truly, the city boy has the advantage over his country cousin, thought the Woman as she left, for when was the barfoot had ever paid in anything but stripes for visiting the old swimmer's hole?

By Their Shoes Ye Shall Know Them
Down Prince street they came, a group of jolly young women who had met evidently by appointment outside a board of health clinic near Broadway.

At a crossing they halted. The eternal excavations of New York city blocked their progress. To turn back would mean the possible losing of the train that would carry them up town in time for the opening chorus.

"Tinker Bob" Stories
by Carlyle H. Holcomb

IT WAS THE KING IN THE CAVE.

The call that came from the outside was the call of a friend of Mr. Wolf. It was coming to the twilight hour again. It was getting dark, and it was time for Mr. Wolf to go out again into the Forest and frighten all of the dwellers.

"There is a call for you at the door," said Tinker Bob. "Are you going to let the fellow in?"

"No one dares to come in at that door. If he did, he would not go out alive," answered Mr. Wolf as he looked toward the entrance.

"But I'm inside," said Tinker Bob, "and I am going out alive and you couldn't stop me, nor anyone else in the Forest."

Mr. Wolf didn't know which way to turn. "Please let me go out to see my friend and I will not do any harm to-night to anyone in the Forest, not even the King," he begged.

"Do you think you would know the King if he should come along?"

"Of course I would know him. I have seen him many a time in the Forest and he could have killed him and had him out of the way, but I didn't want to."

"Please let me go out to see my friend," said Mr. Wolf.

"All right, go out to see your friend, but remember what you said."

Mr. Wolf got out of that cave as quickly as ever he could and he didn't stop running till he came to the opening in the midst of the Forest. His friends who were calling him followed his footsteps to the opening and there they stopped, for they, too, saw the strangest sight that had ever appeared to them before.

It was the great white spirit that Mr. Wolf had seen some days ago. Really, it was Lady Duck with her wings spread out and her head down. They were terrified.

Mr. Wolf, seeing her first, said: "Oh, great spirit, was it you who frightened removed 307 1-2 tons of mussel shells from Little river at points on his property in Pemiscott county, in Southern Missouri, through which it flows. He said the shells were worth $28,280.

The court, in a lengthy decision handed down this morning, granted the rehearing.

Gratz's suit for treble damages is based on a Missouri law which entitles the owner to triple pay from any one that should dig up and carry away any substance that is really.

In a previous suit Judge Dyer rendered a verdict in favor of McKee declaring Gratz had no title to the shells.

When the case was taken to the court of appeals, Judges Sammons, Carland and Munger, in a written opinion, decided Gratz had not proven his title to the shells, reaffirming the lower court.

A rehearing was asked.

The rehearing today led to the declaration that while the mussel was a migratory animal, ownership of the mussel shell would be determined in the same manner as the pelts of animals on land.

Reopening of the case was ordered.

The original suit was filed in 1916.

me so in the cave where I live? Do tell me quickly."

"Mr. Wolf, I have not seen you since the time you were calling your mate, and you said you wanted to see the King of the Forest, and run away."

"Oh, great spirit, pray tell me if you can, who it was that talked to me in my cave. I could hear him speak, but I not see him. It was the most terrible thing that ever happened in all my life."

"Mr. Wolf, I will tell you who it was. Do you know you were untrue? You said you wanted the King to help you find your mate, but instead you went away from here and planned to destroy the King. Now all of the Forest creatures know about it, and they will come to you and destroy you if you plan to harm the King. Mr. Wolf, it was Tinker Bob, King of the Forest, who spoke to you in the midst of your cave."

Ten Reasons Why Business Outlook Appears Favorable

International News Service.
WELLESLEY, Mass., Nov. 20.—Ten reasons why the business outlook in the United States is favorable and why business men should assume a more optimistic attitude are given by Roger W. Babson, famous statistician. Here they are:

"First, the working people in this country are in possession of the great majority of the bonds issued by the United States government during the war. This is a very favorable sign, for it shows that the great mass of people are in a sound financial condition.

"Second, that as a result of the coming of national prohibition two and one-half billion dollars previously wasted in this industry yearly is now available for business projects that are more useful and more likely to promote the welfare of all people.

"Third—that in spite of the widespread opinion to the contrary, the federal reserve bank system has been an important factor in stabilizing financial condition in this country.

"Fourth, that advertising is now an influential means of moulding public opinion. This profession has now reached such an advanced and scientific stage in its development that it is a logical means by which the people of the country can be convinced that, contrary to their present opinion, business is really on a firm basis and that there is no cause for the present depression.

"Fifth, that the argument that the fall-off of our foreign trade will prove ruinous is ill-founded, for such trade only constitutes 5 per cent of the total. What little stoppage there has been in this field, therefore, is of little or no consequence and will have no noticeable effect on the general business outlook.

"Sixth, that recently the standardization of manufacturing processes has been increasing with such amazing rapidity that there has been a considerable reduction in the cost of commodities. This is a permanent influence of no mean importance and should not be slighted in any consideration of the future of industries in general.

"Seventh, that all statistics gathered recently offer overwhelming proof that seasonal fluctuations in production in this country are rapidly decreasing. This will prove to be very beneficial, as it

BLACK-DRAUGHT AS A PREVENTIVE

When You Begin Feeling Bad With Feverishness, Headache, Cold, or Constipation, Give Your Liver a Tonic—Take Black-Draught.

Candler, N. C.—"I don't believe there is a better medicine made than Black-Draught; I have used it and my mother's folks used it for colds, feverishness, headache and deranged liver." This statement recently was made by Mr. C. B. Trull, a well-known farmer on Route 3, this place.

"I have, before now, begun feeling dull, a headache would come on, and I would feel all full of cold, and take a few doses of Black-Draught and get all right," adds Mr. Trull.

"Last year my brother had measles, flu and pneumonia. They wired us; I went to Camp Jackson to look him up. Down there different ones were using preventatives. I stayed with him. The only thing I used was Black-Draught. It kept my system cleansed and I kept well and strong."

By keeping your liver and stomach in good order, you stand in little danger of catching serious ills that occasionally spread through town and country.

Get a package of Black-Draught and have it ready for the first symptom of a disordered liver.

Most druggists sell Black-Draught—Adv.

Educated Rat Helps Man Prove His Superiority

A rat of letters proved conclusively again today that age-old assertion that the male species of the human race is the peer of his mate. Whether or not Mr. Rat was of a literary turn and was trying to quench his thirst for knowledge, when he met his untimely end, can only be adjudged by the nature of his environment—a waste basket full of letters.

When George T. Hemmingson, city secretary, walked into his office at the city hall today he found the female office help in a flurry of wild excitement. Perched upon several chairs in the room, the force was loudly calling for assistance.

A rat had taken up his abode in the waste basket. Here that he was, Mr. Hemmingson faced the intruder in his den.

At this juncture details are confusing. It is not exactly known whether Mr. Rat bumped against Mr. Hemmingson's foot as he leaped from the basket or whether it was the latter's training as a football player in Iowa that stood him in good state.

The result was the same—Mr. Rat hors de combat. A funeral, befitting to his rodent majesty, was outlined, and the remains sealed in a perfectly good velvet, emblazoned with the city's address, and thrown into the waste basket, where it is hoped that he will absorb such knowledge as is befitting his aesthetic sense.

ABANDONED WELL COMES TO LIFE AT BROWNWOOD

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 20.-Considerable excitement was caused in the oil fields near here recently when an oil well "came to life" after being abandoned for about a year. The well at present is reported to be producing a steady flow of oil. Originally it had been drilled 1,500 feet and abandoned as being not worth developing.

DESEMOMONA WELLS WILL SUPPLY DE LEON'S GAS

Special to The Times. DE LEON, Nov. 20.-Five million feet of gas from six Desdemona wells is the best preventive that this city has against a fuel famine this winter. This developed from an investigation of the local gas situation, according to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Interruptions in service due to broken pipe on the new line caused the investigation.

DEEP TEST TO GO DOWN IN HOWARD COUNTY

Special to The Times. BIG SPRINGS, Nov. 20.-Announcement has been made to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce representative here that W. J. Ruble, O. H. Stewart and associates of Pennsylvania will begin a deep oil test on the J. B. Wheat ranch in the northeastern part of the county. Material for the test is said to be on the way. These Pennsylvania men are very enthusiastic over the prospects in the Big Spring country.

VICTIM ARRESTED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 20.-At just noon one day pickpockets relieve L. P. Schuster, a salesman of No. 811 East Fifth street of his purse and $25. One hour later thieves stole his grip while he was riding on a Hollywood street car. Half an hour after the loss of his grip, he discovered that his room on East Fifth street had been entered by burglars and most of his remaining property stolen. Five minutes later he was thrown out of the hotel after accusing the elevator operator of being the burglar. At Central Police Station ten minutes after having been thrown out of his hotel and just after he had drawn a loaded revolver from his pocket to explain to Detective Sergeant Lyons that he was ready to defend the remaining portion of his property, he landed behind the bars on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

TAD'S TID-BITS

International News Service. No Heavy Ever Lost Title Under Age of Thirty Years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.-There was quite some talk about heavyweights and their ages at Jack Doyle's billiard joint last night.

Some of the gang insisted that Jack Dempsey right now is better than he will be a year from now. One guy insisted that at twenty-six a heavyweight champion was sitting pretty. He figured that they start to go back at twenty-seven or twenty-eight and blow their laurels when they pass thirty.

The fellow had figures, too. He showed that no heavyweight champion ever lost under the age of thirty.

The list follows: John L. Sullivan at the age of thirty-four was knocked out by Jim Corbett. Jim Corbett was past thirty when he was knocked out by Fitzsimmons.

Fitzsimmons was thirty-seven when he kissed the canvas at Coney Island and Jim Jefferies was made the champion. Jim Jefferies was thirty-five when Jack Johnson put the skids under him at Reno.

Jack Johnson was thirty-seven when he played the dying gladiator to Jess Willard at Havana, Cuba.

Willard claims that he was thirty-two

TAMPA WOMAN WAS IN CONSTANT MISERY

Mrs. Graves Suffered for Years From Rheumatism—Asserts Every Pain Disappeared Soon After Taking Tanlac.

"It is such a relief to be free from rheumatism that I just can't tell how 'happy' I feel," said Mrs. Mary E. Graves, Box 269, R. F. D. 8, Tampa, Fla.

"For many years I had been troubled with rheumatism. About two years ago my left shoulder and knee began to swell and hurt so bad I could hardly stand it. My left wrist also swelled up and pained me so much that I just had to keep a bandage around it all the time. My arm hurt continually and I couldn't turn over in bed or hardly make a move at all without being in pain. I used so much liniment that my whole arm was blistered, but all I could get was just a little temporary relief.

"I had about lost faith in medicine when at last I decided to see what Tanlac would do for me. In about a week I could tell I was improving, and I continued to get better until now I feel so well I can't tell I ever had rheumatism at all. The swelling and pains have all disappeared and I am as active as I ever was in my life. I sleep soundly and when morning comes get up feeling just fine."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros. and in Eastland by Butler Drug Co.—Adv.

PROGRAM

LAMB—Nazimova in "Madame Peacock," and Pathe News.

MAJESTIC—Musical comedy, complete change of program. Country Store Attraction, Douglas Fairbanks in "The Matrimaniac."

TEMPLE—William S. Hart in "Sand," Franklin Farnum and Mary Anderson in "Vanishing Trails," episode 4.

MAJESTIC SUNDAY.

The popular musical comedy favorite, actor and producer, Will Morrissey, has added new laurels in the production of "Buzzin' Around," a miniature musical comedy revue, taken from the Casino Theatre, New York's popular summer success. Mr. Morrissey is the producer and author of the Overseas Revue, which is scoring such a tremendous success in the Marcus Loew theatres.

In "Buzzin' Around," Mr. Morrissey has given the patrons of vaudeville something more than a mere girl act, so commonly seen by the vaudeville audiences. Seemingly Mr. Morrissey is never at a loss, for furnishing spectacular revues for the variety stage and in each of his offerings he has the faculty to outclass the preceding ones, as in the case of "Buzzin' Around," a scenic investiture of unsurpassed beauty, with a wonderful cast of fifteen clever artists. Not only has Mr. Morrissey placed the principal roles in the hands of a capable case of players, but has surely used a trained eye in selecting the exceptionally clever and versatile chorus.

The act retains all the atmosphere of a big musical comedy production, as it takes one whirling through forty minutes of fun, songs, dances, side-splitting situations and pretty girls, so cleverly conceived and arranged, that any of the good points that the original production held, are lost.

Jack Hallan, the principal comedian, needs no introduction to patrons of vaudeville, as he will be well remembered as the featured funmaker, in "The Phun Phunds" and "Love and Kisses," two of the funniest musical satires which played over the Marcus Loew circuit. "Little" Margaret Osborn, a thrilling and active little dancer and comedienne, Gladys Gerrish, a dainty subrette, with a winning smile, and heaps of personality; Paul Murry and Morton Morrell, clever singers, dancers and comedians. Just put that combination together, sprinkle it with beautiful girls, and you have "Buzzin' Around."

TEMPLE.

Have you a double? A well-known authority on such matters has made the statement that every tree, flower, man and woman, has somewhere a physical double.

In Wallace Reid's new Paramount picture, "Always Audacious," which will be shown at the Temple theatre Sunday, Perry Danton, a young San Francisco millionaire, wasn't aware of the fact that he had a double, until the latter, who was a gentleman crook, had slung him, and usurped his place in society. Then he got busy, made his way back to San Francisco and the excitement starts.

Wallace Reid plays both the millionaire and the crook and the results are said to be two of the most unique roles he has ever portrayed. Margaret Loomis, famous as an interpretive dancer and leading woman of the screen, has the role of Camilla Hoyt, opposite Mr. Reid. Clarence Geldart is Theron Ammidown, his executor, while the three crooked accomplices of Slim of Slim Attucks, known as Jerry the Gent, Denver Kate and Molly, the Bel, are ably interpreted by J. M. Phillips, well-known screen heavies. "Danie Midgely is Mrs. Rumson, and Gny Oliver plays Martin Green the newspaper reporter.

HUNGARY WANTS CHARLES BACK AS EMPEROR

By GEORGES MORESTHE, Staff Correspondent of the International News Service in Hungary.

BUDAPEST, Nov. 20.—Hungary is waiting and looking for a king. Townsfolk and peasants all agree that no one but a king can govern the country. To these people the word republic simply means a separation from Austria.

There are three pretenders to the throne. Admiral Horthy is at present "Governor" of the state duly appointed by a national assembly. He remains a candidate for the throne. Emperor Charles II of Austria and Hungary is also hopeful of regaining and of wearing the crown. It is pointed out here that he left the country at the end of the war, but he never abdicated. Popular during his short reign, he remains so now, for the people realize that he did all in his power to put an end to the war. The only fear on the part of the people is that Charles' reversion might meet with disfavor among the rulers of bordering states, who intimate that his popularity might influence the inhabitants of provinces taken away from Austria by the Treaty of St. Germain.

The other pretender is Archduke Joseph, who for a few months took the reins of power after Bela Kun and his Red associates had been overthrown by the people. He had to resign following a strong protest from the Entente nations that he was considered to be allied politically to the Hapsburg families. In the strict sense of the word Archduke Joseph is not a pretender, neither would he be a candidate for the throne. When the matter is mentioned in his presence he merely says, "I have but the interests of Hungary at heart. I am not a schemer. I am of the firm opinion, that Hungary should never again engage in a war."

There are some persons who would favor young Archduke Othon, Charles' son, as king, with Admiral Horthy as regent. Whoever the candidates be, one thing is certain in Hungary, a king is needed, and a king there will be.

Brilliant Runs Feature as T. C. U. Beats Simmons

Special to the Times.

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20.—T. C. U.'s undefeated football machine maintained its undefeated record for the season today when it won from Simmons college of Abilene, 31 to 2. Long runs by Rowson and Jackson and the consistent line plunging of Ryan, the Christian's full-back, decided the game. The forward pass was ineffective for both teams.

T. C. U. scored in the first minute of play, when on the first play after the kickoff Rowson circled the end for sixty-five yards, being downed on the Simmons seven-yard line. On the next play Ryan bucked through for a touchdown.

Another touchdown came four minutes later, but Simmons braced and there was no scoring during the second quarter. In the third, Rowson fumbled a punt, recovered it and raced seventy yards down the field for a touchdown. A thirty-yard broken field run by Jackson was the outstanding feature of the fourth touchdown. A field goal was added by Ackers in the last period.

Tabor and Urban led the Simmons attack, which though unable to score, showed flashes of brilliancy. In the final quarter Simmons took the ball to T. C. U.'s eight-yard line before being held for downs.

Rowson fumbled Douglas' pass when he dropped back to punt, and was forced to fall on the ball behind his own goal line for a safety, giving Simmons two points.

Ottoman Collapse Permits Study of Ancient Culture

Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Recovery of the "lost chapters in the career of man" hidden in the ancient buried cities of Western Asia is an imminent possibility and an American responsibility, Dr. James Henry Breasted of the University of Chicago, reports. Dr. Breasted, who is professor of Egyptology and oriental history there, has recently returned from a survey of most of the important buried cities of the Near Orient.

The collapse of the Ottoman Empire has opened the birth-lands of civilization to unrestricted investigation, Dr. Breasted said. "It is evident," he added, "that there rises before us an opportunity unprecedented in the history of humanistic research."

Strong Back Needed. "The great centers of human life in the ancient world, the mighty cities and capitals of Babylonia, Assyria, Persia, Palestine, Syria, Asia Minor, Egypt, the region where the earliest civilized societies arose out of savagery and barbarism to bring civilization to barbarian Europe—all these treasures of human records which are rapidly perishing in the whole region about the eastern end of the Mediterranean lie there silently awaiting the spade of the excavator."

It will be possible to clear up the leading ancient buried cities of Western Asia within the next 25 or 30 years or perhaps a generation, given sufficient funds and adequate personnel, according to Dr. Breasted. The task rests with American orientologists, he said, because no other country has the available resources.

QUEEN MARY'S MILLINERY.

All the way from New Zealand, then via New York to me, comes the word that Queen Mary of England has trimmed a hat for her daughter; and the daughter, in a letter to the prince of Wales, wrote: "You can imagine what it looks like." This was the "sitting out" gossip of the prince to a young woman with whom he talked during a dance he was attending in New Zealand.
