AMERICAN GUNMEN IN IRISH WAR

'WHITE WAY' ON MAIN STREET NOW CERTAIN

Property Owners on Other Streets Are Now Being Interviewed.

The "white way" along Main street, at least, is almost a certainty. Property owners and merchants have been interviewed and in nearly every case they have endorsed the move. This information was given out this morning by M. O. Burt, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association, who is also one of the committee to work out plans for the project.

Mr. Burt said that no contracts had been entered into but he felt safe in saying that Main street would be lighted. The property holders and merchants along other streets have not all been seen yet but the committee is sure that in every case they will be willing to bear their part of the cost.

It is pointed out by the leaders in the move that the cost will not be excessive in proportion to the good that will be derived. These men say that it is only investing capital which will be a source of revenue that would be continually in existence. One merchant has expressed the opinion that the outlay will be returned in added business in less than sixty days.

It has not yet been decided what kind of a light will be used. This decision is being held in abeyance until all interested have endorsed the move, then a meeting will be held and a vote taken upon the different schemes submitted.

Such sentiment as has been expressed favors a single 400 candle power light to each pole, to burn only until midnight. It is thought by those that have expressed an opinion that this class of lamp would give the merchants the greatest return, and at the same time the price for current would be such as the city would be willing to pay.

Advocates of this class of lamp believe that after midnight the need for light is almost nil, since all the theaters and business houses are closed, and only a few are on the street.

MONTENEGRINS STILL MOURN KOSOVO DEFEAT, FIVE CENTURIES AGO

By Associated Press. PODGORITZA, Montenegro, Nov. 29.—No people are received in Montenegro with such general confidence and such frank welcome as Americans. A United States passport furnishes an all-sufficient entry to any part of the country. The people have a touching belief in the disinterestedness of Americans in striking contrast to the aloofness and suspicion with which they greet other foreigners. This is due largely to the generous attitude of the United States toward Montenegro during the war and to the widespread relief work done by Americans.

The Montenegrins, who are almost exclusively of the Greek Orthodox church, are Serbian fugitives from the Turks. They speak the Serbian tongue, but instead of deeming themselves on a par with other Serbians, they believe they are a sort of Serbian aristocracy.

Walking arsenals. The Montenegrins as a rule are extremely poor and live in thatched huts. The men generally carry quite an arsenal of weapons in their girdles, which they regard as their most precious possession. Even the priests carry rifles. The women, though often beautiful, perform most of the menial tasks and soon lose their good looks. Large families are the rule.

The people are melancholy and fatalistic and believe in vampires, fairies, witches and ghosts. They believe that disease is brought by evil spirits. To keep out these spirits or "djinn," they always close their windows tightly at night.

With the exception of a few fertile valleys, Montenegro is a mass of jagged, gray rocks, with little patches of earth that have been patiently gathered by the peasants from the roadways and valleys and carried to sheltered nooks. These little plots are jealously guarded and carefully cultivated. They produce only a few handfuls of grain, yet entire families depend upon them for sustenance. The men are brave, proud, courteous and honest. Patriotism is a passion with them. They regard personal valor as the highest virtue. They show their solidarity with the new kingdom of Croats, Slovaks and Serbs by the mourning which they still wear in commemoration of Kosovo, the fatal battle, in which Serbian independence was stamped out by the Turks for five centuries.

Both men and women wear a crimson cap with a broad border of black silk, as a token of mourning for their defeat.

JUDGE RAMSEY TO SPEAK IN RANGER IN JANUARY

Judge W. F. Ramsey, governor of the federal reserve bank at Dallas, has notified the Chamber of Commerce that it is impossible for him to be here, at a luncheon meeting of the public for pressing regret that his visit here is to be postponed. Judge Ramsey is expected to be in Ranger in the early part of January as the committee would be able to come to

'MASTER MIND' OF OMAHA MAIL ROBBERY HELD

Said to Have Confessed Part in Taking $3,500,000 From Train.

International News Service. KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—Keith Collins, bogus army officer and alleged "master mind" in the world's greatest train robbery, is held in custody here today by postal authorities, following his sensational capture early yesterday at Westville, Okla.

Collins was heavily shackled when taken off the train this morning and was hurried to the postoffice building. Charged with having planned the $3,500,000 robbery of the mail train while between Omaha and Council Bluffs, Collins is said to have confessed to his part in the affair.

Postal authorities claim that he obtained more than $1,000,000 of the loot in the form of non-negotiable Liberty bonds and papers and $25,000 in cash.

Irish Atrocities Committed by Each in Guise of Other

Sinn Feiners Wear British Uniforms and Vice Versa, It Is Charged.

By Associated Press. DUBLIN, Nov. 29.—Sinn Fein Volunteers and the British soldiers and police are each accused of masquerading in the clothes of the other. Consequently it has become very difficult to ascertain the true facts and fix the responsibility for many of the reported outrages in Ireland.

Men have presented themselves at houses in British uniforms and their deeds have been attributed to government agents. But official denial has been issued and the charge has been made that the men were masquerading in uniforms captured in one of the numerous raids on troops or police.

The same kind of story comes from the Sinn Fein side. Men claiming to be Volunteers are alleged to be government agents in disguise. This is complicated enough, but the difficulty is increased by the fact that criminals appear to be impartially masquerading both Volunteers and soldiers and using the incidents of the conflict as opportunity for looting. An instance arose the other day in the Dublin police courts in which a man was charged with committing various burglaries and it was shown that he had offered some of the stolen property back to the owner if payment were made him as a Sinn Fein Volunteer instrumental in recovering it.

TURKS WILL RENEW AUSTRALIAN OFFENSIVE UNDER MOSCOW ORDERS

International News Service. CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 29.—Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalists, is preparing to open a general offensive on the western front against the Greek and other allied troops, according to information received here today.

Fighting is already under way at some points. Moscow is said to have sent orders to the Turkish Nationalists to lead the attack against Armenia.

MINNEAPOLIS ALSO ON LOOKOUT FOR CLARA HAMON

By Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—Local police and private detectives are searching today for Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, said to be wanted in Ardmore, Okla., in connection with the shooting of Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman and millionaire oil man. A woman reported as answering the description of Mrs. Hamon is said to have registered at a local hotel here on Thursday night, but no trace has been found of her since. She is said to have been the former wife of the millionaire's nephew and a nation-wide search is being made for her.

SENATE WILL INVESTIGATE W. F. NAVY CABLE DISPUTE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The entire matter of landing cables in the United States, including the recent controversy between the state department and the Western Union Telegraph company, will be investigated by a senate committee, it was announced by Senator Kellogg today. The senator said the inquiry would be held in connection with his pending bill which proposes to empower the state department to regulate cable connections in this country.

GERMANY RECOGNIZES MEXICO.

International News Service. SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 29.—President Frederick Eberts, has extended the formal recognition of the government of Germany to the De la Huerta government of Mexico.

Two Special Trains Bring West Texans to Ranger Convention

By HAMILTON WRIGHT Special Correspondent STAMFORD, Nov. 29.—Two special passenger trains carrying complements of sleeping cars and baggage cars will probably be impressed into service to bear hundreds of Panhandle and South Plains members to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual convention to be held in Ranger sometime in January, according to a statement given out by headquarters here today.

"Anywhere from 2,000 to 5,000 West Texans will attend the Ranger meeting"—that is the way the size of the crowd is being estimated by local officials this length of time before the big pop-wow at the oil field metropolis.

W. K. Whipple, field representative of the organization, who returned yesterday from an extensive trip throughout the Panhandle and South Plains, declared that in every town he visited from five to thirty members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced their intention to "take in" the Ranger convention. Summing up the large attendance expected from those parts of the Panhandle and Plains sections, it is figured that at least two special passenger trains will be required to handle the crowds. Acting upon this basis plans are already being made for the operation of a special train from Amarillo and another from Lubbock or Plainview, carrying Pullmans and other equipment, which will come direct to Ranger without making stops, other than those desired by the organization in picking up large groups of members who desire special accommodation.

When the organization's questionnaire has been returned from all the towns in the West, showing who will attend, arrangements will be made immediately to get the special transportation facilities for the occasion. When asked by organization field representatives if they will attend the Ranger convention members instantly reply: "You bet we are!"

It is Wonder Town. "Ranger possesses many advantages over other towns for the holding of a convention of the kind which we are going to stage," said a representative of the organization today. "In addition to offering metropolitan hotel facilities, it is a wonder town. Thousands of people know Ranger familiarly from the newspaper accounts, but many of them have never seen the town since it settled down to a fast though quiet growth," he declared. The traditions of the oil fields and the vast stories that have gone out have made Ranger the one place for the convention in 1921, they all say.

Not only will the meeting bring thousands of West Texas Chamber of Commerce members from West Texas, but it attracts hundreds of big men from all over the United States. The cream of the business and industrial life of the West being present in one large group gives to the manufacturer and big business man of the North an opportunity to mingle and talk trade and business. Last year the convention was held in Dallas, but it attracts hundreds of big men from all over the United States. The cream of the business and industrial life of the West being present in one large group gives to the manufacturer and big business man of the North an opportunity to mingle and talk trade and business.

The delegates to this convention will exact quite a lot of entertainment from Ranger in the way of trips to the oil field and places of interest. It will be a visit of great men who will size Ranger up and may increase its population and business interests.

'BOTTOM OUT' OF MEAT PRICES, CHICAGO SAYS

International News Service. CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—Chicago, the meat center of the world, quoted prices this morning that are nearer the pre-war rates than at any time during the year. Local retail dealers declared this morning that the "bottom had fallen out" and that the period of normalcy would be reached within a very short while.

Pork loins, that sold three months ago for 38 to 45 cents a pound, are now bringing 22 to 27 cents a pound.

OPPOSE STOCKYARDS SALE

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Charles Lyman, secretary of the national board of farm organizations; Florence Kelley, secretary of the National Consumers' League; and Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National Consumers' League, issued a joint statement today, expressing opposition to any plan for divorcing the five big meat packers from their stockyards properties by court decree, as tending to interfere with the enactment of controlling legislation.

INTERNATIONAL ARMY TO VILNA THIS WEEK

International News Service. LONDON, Nov. 29.—The International Army of the League of Nations, composed of British, Belgian and Spanish troops, will be moved to Vilna before the end of the week to occupy that district until after the plebiscite, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Geneva today.

Denmark, Holland, Sweden and Norway have promised to furnish troops, if it should become necessary to reinforce the army of occupation.

BRITAIN WILL NOT JOIN IN EMBARGO ON GREECE

International News Service. LONDON, Nov. 29.—Earl Curzon, the British foreign secretary, has notified Premier Leguerra of France that Great Britain will refuse to put a formal embargo on Greece in the event of the return of Ex-King Constantine to Athens. The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that Great Britain seems it premature to raise this question and the question of the revision of the Treaty of Sevres at this time.

POLICEMAN SHOT BY BANDITS.

SALINA, Kan., Nov. 29.—Patrolman Thomas Carson, who was shot by train bandits, who it is believed he detected in the act of boarding a fast United States mail train in the railroad yards here this morning, died almost instantly. Other patrolmen found him lying in the snow.

DR. C. M. COLLINS, PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR, TO QUIT

Will Work for Orphanage Endowment; Prominent in Civic Life.

Dr. C. M. Collins yesterday tendered his resignation as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, to take effect Jan. 1, in order that he may take charge of the financial campaign for the Reynolds Presbyterian orphanage, located at Albany. This orphanage, which started five years ago with five inmates, has grown until it now harbors 150. It has in that period accumulated considerable property, including a large farm and a twenty-acre tract adjoining the Albany city limits. It has been supported by the Abilene presbytery, but recently it was taken over by the Texas synod of the Presbyterian church in order that its usefulness might be increased. Dr. Collins will have charge of a campaign for $150,000, with which it is proposed to build two permanent dormitories to replace the one recently burned, and a dining hall. The brick school building is at present being used to house the children, and school work is being done in shacks. It is proposed by the synod to make this one of the most complete charitable institutions in Texas.

Civic Worker. Dr. Collins has been in Ranger since Nov. 1, 1919, coming here direct from service with the Y. M. C. A. at Bordeaux and Toulouse, France. Prior to the war he was pastor of the Denton church. During the year he has been in Ranger he has taken a prominent place in all phases of community activity as well as religious work. He was an active team worker during the Chamber of Commerce drive and led the sing-sings at the daily luncheons. It was through this work that he gained the especial regard of Ranger business men. He is now chairman of the chamber's entertainment committee.

Dr. Collins also took an active part in organizing the Ranger Shrine club, one of the strongest clubs in Texas, and is its first president. He is a member of the Rotary club and was honored by that body by being sent as a delegate to the international Rotary convention at Atlantic City last summer.

"My father's dead and I'm blind in one eye and my mother's sick. Won't you come to see me?"

This is the appeal of a little 5-year-old girl, who says she is a real Baptist, in a letter to Santa Claus this morning. It was written in the childish faith that Santa would come to see her, and he is coming to see her, if he has to use up two or three aeroplanes getting to her.

"I am a little girl, just 5-years-old," one writes. "Father is dead and I am blind in one eye. I have no brothers and sisters and my mother has been operated on," she writes. "She isn't able to work and we are living with grandma. Dear Santa, I will write you, what I would like for you to bring me for Xmas. I am a little Baptist too."

"I want a pair of kid-topped white shoes (No. 10) and two pairs of white shoes (No. 8) and a dolly and a French harp."

It is just such incidences as this that the "Times" Christmas Cheer Funds intend to show a real Christmas this year. The fund is gradually growing, but in order to make the affair the grand success that it should be for the needy folk of this community, who have no chance of seeing a real Christmas, unless assistance is given them, it will be necessary that all give their mite.

The Seybold camp has given a quantity of canned goods for the Christmas baskets of the needy and the Bon Ton bakery has offered to furnish bread. A number of the business men of the city have given money and promised baskets of food to the Salvation Army direct in behalf of the "Times" and the Salvation Army's endeavor. Others are needed and the little that is needed will hardly be missed by those that have it.

RAILROAD'S SAND CAR MAKES EXPENSIVE BED

It is against the peace and dignity of the state to sleep in a railroad sand car, and for the privilege the city felt justified this morning in assessing a charge of $11.70 against five men for so sleeping. Not being able to pay the tariff the men will be asked to donate some service to the city as a balm to its dignity, as it were.

ENGLISH TOWNS NOW MENACED BY PLOTS OF IRISH TERRORISTS

Royalty Guarded After Great Conflagration in Liverpool; Wholesale Arrests in Ireland, 10,000 by End of Week.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 29.—Fifteen of the principal cotton warehouses of Liverpool were ablaze here Saturday night, with every indication of incendiarism, and police say they can prove it was the work of Sinn Feiners. Several fires were burning at once, which made the work of checking them very arduous. This is believed the opening wedge of a campaign of terrorism which Irish fanatics intend to wage against the people of England.

International News Service. LONDON, Nov. 29.—Wholesale arrests by British troops and the Black and Tan police continue in Ireland. Approximately 1,000 persons have been arrested during the past eight days and 10,000 are expected by the last of the week.

New prisons and iron pens are being constructed to accommodate the captives. All military chiefs of the Sinn Fein army and prominent civilian leaders are being arrested.

British army officers at Londonderry have been warned to leave the city or suffer death at the hands of the Irish republican leaders, according to a dispatch received here today by the Daily News. The News's correspondent states that it is reported that Irish-American gunmen have arrived from United States.

Looting broke out at Cork during another flare of incendiarism. The soldiers dispersed the looters.

RANGERITES HONOR MEMORY OF JAKE HAMON

International News Service. ARDMORE, Nov. 29.—Thousands of Oklahomans gathered here today to pay their final respects to Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman and multi-millionaire promoter, who died from the effects of a bullet wound. The funeral was preached with interment in Rose cemetery at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

While funeral tributes are being paid to the deceased, police and special detectives of Oklahoma are continuing their search for Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, his beautiful secretary, who is charged with the shooting.

Today at 2 o'clock, Jake L. Hamon was buried in Rosedale cemetery, two miles south of Ardmore. To his passing Ranger paid respect. All trains on the Hamon railroad for a short space of time ceased to run. The E. B. Reid Furniture company closed its doors for the day. A wreath of flowers was sent to the funeral by the Chamber of Commerce, together with a letter of condolence to the widow.

Also to the widow M. H. Hagaman has sent the following telegram: "Our city mourns with you in the death of Mr. Hamon, who has contributed more than anyone else to our prosperity. It grieves me and our city to learn of his death."
M. H. HAGAMAN, Mayor of Hamon.

The dead man was sole owner of the Hamon railroad, and many of its employees were in attendance at his funeral. He also was a stockholder in the E. B. Reid Furniture company. It is conceded by civic thinkers that in his building the railroad from Dublin to Breckenridge he did more for the future and present prosperity of Ranger than any other man, and it was considered fitting that the Chamber of Commerce should convey its respects, as the official voice of the city, to the honored dead.

BABY FOUND WAS PARTLY FROZEN IN FOLDS OF BLANKET

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29.—A laughing, blue-eyed baby girl, six months old, is thawing out in the city hospital today after having been found abandoned on a lot near the Bethesda Maternity and Foundling Home, with its hands, feet and the back of its head frozen. Frank Shehan, heard a wail of protest when he passed the lot at 6 a. m. The little Miss Dan, with only a pink and brown blanket for a house, was distinguished with life in the outdoors and crying loudly.

The crying soon stopped when the tiny delirious was placed in a cozy hospital bed after a warm bath. Its smile showed a new tooth the size of a rice kernel. Nurses vied with each other in caring for the infant. They rubbed its little head with olive oil to stimulate the black hair that is creeping out there. Then breakfast was served and eaten with a relish. The founding was dressed in cotton baby clothing of a medium quality.

Guard Royalty

Police precautions are being taken today to guard King George V. It is known that the royalists have opened their eyes to the fact that the British government is not the only one who is interested in the business districts of Scotland. Yards have been picked men for five force to protect the Palace in addition to the British secret service men. They are employed as gardeners in the palace grounds. All persons are to leave the home of the royal family carefully scrutinized.

Government Denial

The Irish government has reported to Ireland or that anything to do with the conflagration. "We have the most efficient secret service in the world and certainly know it if American men had been imported from the United States," said an official of the Irish office. The same government department denied that the Irish prisoners were to be interned as prisoners of war, was stated that their trials would be opened within a week and that where evidence had been secured the soldiers and police would be against them. The government will seek long terms of imprisonment instead of the minor terms asked for heretofore. Scotland Yards has created a special department to deal with the outbreak of violence throughout England. Squads of detectives were dispatched to strategic points this morning and firemen have received special orders to keep on the alert.

PROMPT LOCATION OF MISSING YOUTH SHOWS POWER OF PUBLICITY

Yesterday the Times, at the request of the father of the boy, asked concerning the whereabouts of Paul Oakford, Friends of the young man notified the Times today that he was in Cadiz working for a drilling contractor. The information has been forwarded. This is only an example of the power of the printed word.

BOLSHEVIKI HIRING CHINESE MERCENARIES

International News Service. LONDON, Nov. 29.—Four thousand Chinese-picked troops arrived at Moscow to protect the Kremlin, the seat of the Soviet government," says a Central News dispatch from Helsinki today. A large number of Chinese are employed in the Russian Red army, the dispatch says.

DINER NOT DRUNK; JUST MANSFIELD, OHIO

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 29.—Visitors to the city should beware how they give tips in the cheaper restaurants. When a stranger gave the waitress in a quick lunch restaurant a tip of one dollar, the proprietor called the police and placed a charge of intoxication against the customer, but the latter proved to the satisfaction of the officers that he was perfectly sober, though a little reckless with tips.

'T WAS THE NIGHT OF THE EMBASSY BALL THAT 6 BOTTLES OF SCOTCH TEA DEPARTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The mysterious disappearance of six bottles of Scotch whiskey from the British embassy during the most brilliant ball of the Washington season, has cast a gloom and an atmosphere of suspicion over the entire capital. Practically all members of President Wilson's cabinet were present, including Secretary of State and Mrs. Colby, Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker, Postmaster General and Mrs. Burleson, Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels, Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Meredith, six associate justices of the peace of the United States Supreme Court, every ambassador in the city and most admirals in the navy and generals in the army also were among the guests.

COPPERS' BALL WILL SHOW NEW VESTMENTS IN ALL THEIR GLORY: THEY'RE "BIG TOWN" CLOTHES

In solemn convocation the members of the police force last night met and decided to hold the policeman's ball Thursday night, Dec. 9 at the Summer Garden. The solemnity of the occasion arose from the fact that the entire membership had just passed through the ordeal of having a group photograph made, adopted in their new uniforms, which were worn for the first time. The new dress is complete from cap to "billy." The clothing is of blue serge ornamented with brass buttons and gold braid. The cap has the wording "police" across its brow. Along the seam of the trousers is a white stripe which lends a military air to the whole regalia. However, the great commander of respect is the "billy" that hangs at a strategic point, near the "coppers' good right hand.

'WHAT'S IN A NAME?' NOTHING YOU SAY? ASK THIS YOUNG FELLOW

"What's in a name?" has been asked a million times, and always the answer has been: "Nothing." However, one young man in Ranger will disagree, because his name being what it is caused him to spend some time in the bastille. The police of a neighboring town wanted a man for a felony. The local officers, scouting around, found this young fellow. The names were the same, and he admitted it. He filled a general description given, and the result was that he spent several hours in the city jail while the fact was established that he was not the man wanted.

So much in a hurry was the American soldier to get home that he left behind $375,000 in Liberty bonds, $3,000,000 in back pay and allowances, and $90,000 in interest due on Liberty bonds bought from deductions of his salary.

Second Boxcar Found Ablaze in Few Weeks' Time

A boxcar standing among a congregation of loaded cars was found afire Saturday night in the Hamon-Kell yards. The flame was at the end and on the outside of the car. An engine stood by to separate the cars in case of need. The fire department, however, extinguished the blaze before material damage was done. The cause of the fire is not known. This is the second case of this kind in the yards of the railroad company during the past few weeks. On the other occasion the car was found burning and the evidence pointed to the fact that oil had been poured inside it and ignited. A cause could be given for the fire Saturday night. It cannot be explained how a car could be burning on the end through accidental causes.

"So odd of us to meet, wasn't it?" said Brown Eyes. "I haven't seen you since graduation."

"Is it that long?" responded the Tall One. "Still keeping up your music?"

"Oh, yes," answered Brown Eyes. "Mother doesn't like me to, but I think it is just thrilling. One gets such weird things to eat."

The Woman grinned over her commonplace ham sandwich. Just then Brown Eyes reached for the salt.

TWO WOMEN FINED FOR NOT REMOVING HATS IN THE COURT

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Equal suffrage for women means that they must not wear their hats when in his court room.

Justice of the Peace F. P. Aring declared when he fined two women $5 each for contempt of court when they refused to remove their hats.

When the justice called the court to order he said, "Everybody will please remove their hats."

Mrs. Oscar McCann and Mrs. Frederick Ritter failed to do so. The court hesitated a moment, but the two continued to wear their hats.

"Five dollars and cost for contempt of court," said the justice. If women can have equal suffrage with men they can also remove their hats in my court room."

The police departments of the country are going to be heavy losers when the government ban goes on "jake."

The meeting was carried on in a most interesting manner, with the program of the institute's annual meeting, held in Washington last week. It was one of the most notable meetings of oil men in the history of the industry and matters of vital interest were discussed by individuals well qualified for such assignments.

In past years comparatively small interest was taken in oil matters by the general public, but oil has now become a universal necessity and people who use it for various purposes include practically the entire population of the country. As a sequence to such discussions as those in Washington, the public is enlightened as to the questions of supply and consumption, probable resources of the oil fields of this continent and those of the Old World, and kindred matters. The difficulties encountered by the American oil man in his efforts to maintain a steady trade are made known and thereby the falsity of prejudiced statements against the industry are exposed. In attacking oil interests because of gasoline prices, the idea uppermost in such attacks seems to be that oil should be almost as cheap as water.

Through forums such as the American Petroleum Institute, the facts can be made known, so that all consumers of oil may be correctly informed. Many important phases of the oil situation were brought out in the Washington meeting, including the menace of foreign monopoly, due to international agreements whereby foreign oil fields are to be controlled in the future by non-American, if not anti-American combinations. The fact was emphasized that organized efforts are being made in coming years to wrest from America the oil prestige which has been acquired by it. Another matter was the necessity of adopting new programs for the expansion of American oil activities abroad. The prospects of depleted American supplies from home fields were made known.

While there is still great quantities of oil to be drawn from American territory, the vast consumption of the commodity promises to force a continuance of intensive drilling. This means that the flood tide of home production may diminish at a period near at hand—much nearer perhaps than the average optimistic oil man may realize. And in order to provide for this contingency the alternative of American operations in fields in foreign countries become imperative. These matters were given attention at the institute's annual meeting and the necessity of the "open door" policy in international oil operations was elucidated in convincing terms. In all regards, it was a meeting of genuine importance to the oil industry of the United States.—Oil and Gas Journal.

SPRINK PUTTEE HOSE IS FURTHER REASON FOR SHORT SKIRTS

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Wheeling society girls are setting a pace for Dame Fashion. Bare legs, painted legs, gauzy nothings and other "freak work," imported from Paris, Louisville and other French centers of fashion, all have been taken up by American society women. But it remained for the ultra-exclusive Wheeling briois to institute a new "leg gear," a patriotic fad, and that is the "sprink puttee" hose, close wrapped around the shapely limb in place of sock or stocking. They come in all colors. As a matter of fact, several girls have appeared on the streets wearing the new spiral hose made of cloth to match their gowns. The spiral hose has several advantages over the semi-fashionable woolen sock or the open-work stockings. One young one said: "They are easy to put on, they keep the limbs warm and dry and fit snugly all around. They can be worn with gowns cut rather short, and they give one a feeling of security below, such as overseas hosiery had."

The first two young damsels who appeared on one of the principal streets during the rush noon hours in "spirals" blocked the sidewalk for a distance with "insistent" onlookers. The girls wore them "high and tight."

Four One-Armed Men Collect Living World Owes Them

(By Ernest W. Sparks.) There were a dozen pan-handlers on the streets plying their vocations of working on the sympathy of the public. There were blind men, and crippled men, and men without any legs, and one that did not seem to have anything the matter with him at all unless it might have been the disease commonly known as "the shivers" over me a living. That was yesterday today they are still there—the majority of them. For four one-armed men were also noticed on the streets. However, there was a difference. One was "kicking" a team and doing good at it. One was painting a sign, and his work showed that he was an artist. Another handled a service car with speed and dispatch. The fourth one-armed man was a negro—and he was pushing a wheelbarrow with all the vigor of those who had both hands. He had a steel hook in the place of the member that was lost. It is probable that any one of the men without hands could stir on the cold streets and make as much money as any other pan-handler—but they do not. They do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay in spite of their handicap.

WITNESS MAKES EYES AT JUDGE AND JURY IN DIVORCE TRIAL

There was a request performance in the Supreme court at White Plains recently. The request came from Justice Morschauer, presiding at the suit for absolute divorce brought by Henry H. Tilley, a wealthy contractor of Mount Vernon. Miss Mary Dowers, former maid to Mrs. Tilley, gave the performance, an imitation of the way her mistress flirted with the co-respondent, Clarence Dugan, secretary to a vice president of the New York Central, in the presence of her husband, who is going blind.

When the court first told her to illustrate how Mrs. Tilley acted, the maid bowed her head and said she didn't want to do it. "What did you see her do?" asked the husband's lawyer. "I only saw her make funny eyes at Dugan," said the maid. "Now, show the jury just how she made those eyes," the court directed. The maid then bent her head with a flirtatious air, puckered her lips and made eyes at the jury. The jury was all attention. No one fell asleep.

Next Justice Morschauer ordered the witness to give him the same demonstration she had given the jury. So she flashed her eyes at the judge. "I think that is making faces," was his only comment. Mrs. Tilley stared at the witness so hard during her testimony that the maid collapsed, and court was adjourned ten minutes before she went on with her testimony.

'SHORTY' HEREAFTER WILL PAY HIS FINE 'FORE HE HOISTS 'EM

"Shorty" was in last week charged with drunkenness. This morning he was in again under the same charge. He pleaded guilty, and in lieu of cash will probably help the boys for a few days on the streets. When "Shorty" was pleading he declared that he was not ever arrested until he was broke and that in future when he felt like "lifting a few" he was coming over to the station and pay his fine first.

"Shorty's" suggestion was endorsed by the chief, the assistant, the sergeant, city attorney and police judge. As was explained to him the department had much rather have the cash than the person of the offender.

'STRANGE HOW WOMEN SUFFER'

Says Tennessee Lady, and Will Go Suffering, She Says, When Cardui Is Right at Hand.

Caryville, Tenn.—Hoping her experience may benefit others who suffer from disorders common among women, Mrs. Charles Rains of this (Campbell) county, says: "I had womanly troubles till I couldn't rest, couldn't sleep, and was nervous and suffered a great deal of pain in my head, limbs and back. I would get to the place where I couldn't move without a great effort.

"For years I had known of Cardui, and it is strange how a woman will just go on suffering when the best remedy in the world is right at hand—but we do!

"But finally the pain was worse, my suffering so great I knew I must do something. A friend mentioned Cardui and we sent for it. One bottle helped me.

"I took a course of Cardui and gained my strength, built myself and felt like a new woman.

"Can I recommend Cardui and gladly, for it is a God-sent remedy for suffering women. I hope you suffer with troubles common to men they don't wait, but sure remedy at once."

South Sea Island and 40 in Harem Willed to Yankee

FRANKLIN, Mass., Nov. 29.—Robert A. (Bob) McClain, formerly of San Francisco, ex-marine and soldier of fortune, wrote the War department today for confirmation of the report that he has been willed the empire of Sultan of Llang-Llano and the Sultan's harem of 40 dusky wives.

The little empire is an island in the South Seas. The possessions include valuable pearl fisheries. Fifteen hundred subjects dwell in this land of palm trees and sunshine.

McClain once saved the Sultan's life and was adopted as the Sultan's son. It happened back in 1900 when "Bob" as a member of the Second Marines was ordered to the island, at the extreme end of the Philippines.

McClain says he rescued the Sultan from some men who were beating him. Now the Sultan is dead and McClain is informed unofficially that the empire, harem and all, awaits him.

But McClain was married last May to Miss Ethel Miller at Wrentham, Mass., so he is going to disband the harem if the War department confirms the address from Llang-Llano for Mrs. McClain plans to go to the South Seas. McClain is working as a mechanic.

WALKING STICK HANDLE MADE OF MANE ELBOW

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—A mahogany walking stick, the handle of which was made from the elbow of a human arm, is one of the gifts received by Lieutenant H. P. Peck, formerly with the army finance division at Manila, from a Moro datto of chieftain prior to his embarkation for America. The cane is of beautifully grained wood, while the elbow joint forming its handle represents the death of a mad priest or hermit who attempted the life of the datto.

The cane is supposed to ward off evil spirits, says Lieutenant Peck.

Thomas Meighan is starred in William DeMille's movie from Leonard Merrick's novel, "Conrad in Search of His Youth."

PASQUALE, SENTENCED, SAYS COUGHLIN BABY IS LIVING

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 29.—Augusto Pasquale, "the Crank," sentenced to live imprisonment, solitary confinement, for the kidnaping of 13-month-old Blakely Coughlin, by County Judge Swartz.

A few minutes after being sentenced, "The Crank" told Sheriff Hamilton that his confession of the death of Blakely was false and that the child was still alive.

"After all this is over," he said, "I will tell you all about it, and you can get the baby back."

By "all this," Pasquale referred to his signing numerous papers authorizing George H. Coughlin, father of Blakely, to draw all of the remainder of the $12,000 ransom money, which is on deposit in banks, and transferring to Coughlin title to the farm at New Gretna, N. J., and the jewelry, all bought with the money. "The Crank" did this voluntarily.

Sheriff Hamilton is most emphatic in asserting his belief that "The Crank" is now telling the truth. "I believe we will get the baby back," he said.

Judge Swartz suspended sentence on the second degree murder indictment, holding it in abeyance to be used in future should events make it necessary.

"Is it true," the sheriff was asked, "that Pasquale said the state police had tortured him and that he wants to go to the electric chair to save himself from them?"

"Absolutely true," the sheriff replied. "He made that assertion in the presence of three state troopers and I heard
