Army Blimp Expected Here for Airport Ceremonies

CAVALRY BAND IS FEATURE

Legion Convention and Airport Opening to Be Big Occasion.

The Mineral Wells post of the American Legion will make a strong bid for the next convention of the 17th district, according to a letter received by Wayne C. Hickey, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

The Mineral Wells organization will come to Ranger Saturday and Sunday, November 10 and 11, for the two day convention of the post.

Hickey has been notified that the cavalry band of Mineral Wells, as well as all the members of the post, will be present for the two day party. Hickey predicted that between 450 and 500 legionnaires would be present for the dedication of the municipal airport and the convention.

Towns included in the seventh district, each of which will have delegations here, comprise Abilene, Albany, Anson, Baird, Ballinger, Brady, Breckenridge, Brownwood, Cisco, Coleman, Comanche, Cross Plains, Eastland, Eden, Hamlin, Lampassas, Llano, Lometa, Miles, Melvin, Moran, Mineral Wells, Ranger, Rising Star, Santa Anna, San Saba, Stamford and Sweetwater.

Tentative plans for the entertainment of the crowd, include dances, smokers and the dedication services of the new municipal airport. It is planned to have a parade Saturday afternoon, including bands from Ranger, Mineral Wells and Cisco and possibly Eastland and Breckenridge.

Saturday night a dance for the ex-service men, airplane pilots, and invited guests, will be held at the Carl Barnes post hall.

Dedication Rites.

At the same time a "stag" smoker will be held at the country club for those not caring to participate in the dance. The registration booth will be located in the lobby of the Gholson hotel.

Sunday morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock, the dedication services of the airport will be held. A platform will be erected in front of the steel hangar. A master of ceremonies has not been appointed but Hickey announced that Mayor John W. Thurman would accept the airport on behalf of the city. Mayor Thurman will be followed by the main speaker of the morning, who has not been selected.

At 10:59 o'clock the dedication service will close and at 11 o'clock (Continued on page 2)

Zepp Crew Gets Rousing Welcome in New York

The canyons of commerce of Lower Broadway, New York's financial district, were magically changed into a festive scene when Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, and his crew rode up from the Battery to City Hall to receive New York's official welcome. Paper and ticker tape came hurtling down from the skyscrapers as though a snowstorm were raging, and there were mighty cheers when Dr. Eckener's car passed.

HICKMAN'S BODY BURIED AT HOLY CROSS CEMETERY

Body Brought Across Bay in Secrecy, Neck Was Not Broken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The body of William Edward Hickman was buried in Holy Cross cemetery here yesterday, three hours after he was hanged in San Quentin state prison.

An autopsy showed that he was strangled on the gallows and did not die of a broken neck. He fainted just as the death mask was fitted over his face.

His body dropped down, breaking the force of the fall through the trap, which was sprung at almost the same instant that he fainted. Hickman's brain was slightly larger than normal, the autopsy showed. There were no traces of disease or abnormality of glands that surgeons regard as evidence of insanity.

The body of the hanged murderer was brought in secrecy across the bay from San Quentin and taken to a mortuary here where the autopsy was held. Then Hickman was carried to his grave in Holy Cross cemetery, unattended by relatives or friends.

Jurors Considering the Fate of Thomas Wilson

The jury ceased deliberation last night at 9:30 until Sunday, it was announced at Eastland.

EASTLAND, Oct. 20.—State and defense closed their testimony at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the trial of Thomas Wilson, an indictment for murder in connection with the slaying of Lucian Shook, who, with his brother, Leon, was killed near the shack in which he lived on an oil lease in the Leary district. Judge Elzo Been charged the jury and announced that each side would be permitted two hours for argument.

Frank Jenkins, special prosecutor, employed, he stated, at the instance of the mother of the Shook brothers, opened argument for the state. He was followed by J. S. Grisham and by R. N. Grisham, closing for the defense, and County Attorney J. Frank Sparks closed for the state.

The charge given by Judge Been to the jury was along statute lines. He gave the jury the law governing the responsibility of persons at the commission of an offense. Following are portions of the charge:

"You are further instructed that the mere presence of the defendant in this connection at the time and place of the killing, if he was present, is not sufficient to show that he was a principal offender, but the evidence must go further and show beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant either agreed to the commission of the offense or aided by acts or encouraged by words. Clyde Thompson to kill the deceased, if Clyde Thompson did, and unless you find and believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant agreed to the commission of the offense, if any committed by Clyde Thompson, if the said Thompson committed the offense, or aided by acts or encouraged by words the said Clyde Thompson to kill the deceased, if the said Clyde Thompson did kill the deceased, then you will find the defendant not guilty and that, too, even though you believe Clyde Thompson guilty of murder."

Equalization Board To Meet Residents Of City This Week

The first meeting of the 1928 board of equalization will be held Monday, Oct. 29. It is expected that a week will be required to interview those whose conditions for taxes have been raised.

The first day of the week's session will be occupied with representatives of the larger companies having holdings in this city. All of Monday will be consumed conferring with the major companies' adjusters. After Monday, however, residents will report at the time designated at the tax assessor's office.

Tuesday, Oct. 30, all residents of the following additions will confer: Commercial, McDowell, Melvin, Page, Mountain View, Standifer, Ray, Rawls, Blundell survey on South Rusk and South Commerce streets, and Blundell survey north of Main street and west of the Texas & Pacific right of way.

On Wednesday, residents of Hodges Oak Park, Original Town, Rice and Hodges-Young-Rawls additions will report. The residents of Burger, Young, Gholson, Hamilton, Dundick, Ranger Heights, Highland Park, Plateau, J. M. Rust, Strawn Road and Blundell survey east of Texas & Pacific railroad will be summoned.

Friday the residents of Cooper, Blackwell, Stuard, Lackland, Burke, Byrnes-Riddle, Hartman and Barber additions will be heard. Those owning no real estate but who are assessed for personal property are asked to appear on Saturday.

Only those to whom cards are sent need appear before the board of equalization. Those who did not render their taxes will not be summoned.

"Companionate Marriage" Is A Failure; Tries Death

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—True to her threat to attempt suicide because "her companionate marriage" was a failure, Mrs. Barbara Elliott, 24, of New York, today attempted to jump from the Delaware river bridge to her death.

The quick action of a bridge patrolman who held the struggling woman who wanted, she said, to dispose of herself and her expected baby, saved her from suicide.

In a note yesterday she said she wanted to commit suicide because she could not find her "companionate husband," Charles Elliott, who disappeared two weeks after the ceremony.

Attack Confession

The defense claimed that a statement made by the defendant to the county attorney had not been entirely voluntary and had been made under conditions prejudicial to the defendant, and the court instructed the jury to judge if the confession had been made voluntarily, and if not then it must not be considered as evidence against the defendant.

The court also instructed the jury on the law of duress and told the jury to decide if the defendant had acted under duress. The court also instructed the jury on conspiracy and the punishment of a person who might be found to have been insane at the commission of a crime. The court gave this instruction:

In case the jury find from the evidence that the defendant committed the act with which he is charged, but at the time of the commission of the act he was in

EASTLAND LOSES 19-0 TO EAGLES

Connie Smith's Passes and Altman Smith's Runs Are Features.

ABILENE, Oct. 20.—Outweighed 12 pounds or more to the man and facing a team constantly refreshed by inexhaustible reserves, the Eastland Mavericks enhanced their reputation for courageous fighting against hopeless odds and held the Abilene Eagles—last year almost the state champions—to a 19-0 count Saturday afternoon.

Once again Connie Smith, Mavericks' midget quarterback, stood out with long, accurate passes, hard tackling, pretty punt returns and good kicking.

It was another Smith—Altman, 175-pound fullback—who put the punch in the attack of the victors, scoring all three of their touchdowns.

Taking advantage of a strong wind at his back, Allen of Abilene punted as soon as the Eagles obtained the ball and after Eastland had kicked in return, Altman Smith made 18 yards on two plays to the Mavericks' 10-yard line. Four plays gained only eight yards and Connie Smith kicked out to his own 28-yard line where the Eagles at once resumed their drive. Short gains by A. Smith, Kincaid and Baldwin and then an 11-yard end run by Allen put the ball three yards from a score. But Allen lost four yards when he tried to circle Cheatham's end and on the next play Cheatham slung Murphy for a loss on a bad snapback from center. Allen put the ball on the four-yard line but Eastland obtained the ball on downs.

Then when Connie Smith punted 25 yards in the face of the wind and Murphy had returned nine yards to Eastland's 20-yard line, the Eagles began their third attack—a drive that the Mavericks

Buckaroos Do Not Look So Good In 19 to 0 Victory

The Breckenridge Buckaroos marked up a not too impressive victory over the Brownwood high school aggregation Saturday at Brownwood when they defeated the class A infants 19 to 0. Played a brand of football that featured fumbles and misplays, the Buckaroos failed to make the showing expected of them and predicted.

They opened the game with a dash when Robinson, Buckaroo quarterback, took Brownwood's kick-off on his own 10 yard line and traversed the intervening 90 yards for the initial counter. He scored the extra point by kick from placement.

Another touchdown followed in the first one's steps when the Buckaroos using straight football, advanced the ball to Brownwood's four yard line. Graham went over. Robinson missed the try for extra point.

After the second touchdown things rocked along in a bossome manner. Breckenridge fumbled and Brownwood recovered, and vice versa. Between the second touchdown and the third, made in the fourth quarter, the Buckaroos missed five chances to score. They either fumbled or lacked the opportunity punch.

The last counter came in the fourth frame when B. Magnus passed to T. Carey for 22 yards to place the ball deep into Brownwood territory. Magnus fumbled on the next play and Robinson scooped up the ball and went over the line. He missed goal when he attempted to kick from placement.

TEXAN SHOOTS WIFE AND SELF

Clark Urges Better Boy Scout Cooperation

Alex Clark, Eastland, president of the executive committee of the Eastland County Boy Scouts, today issued a statement in which he outlined the work for the coming months.

Clark's statement, in which he advocates closer cooperation between towns, follows:

"There are many things, of course, that I would like to see accomplished in the further advancement of scouting in the Oil Belt Council. Included in these are many things that should be accomplished, and there are a few other things that must be accomplished if Scouting is to maintain its proper place in the affairs of the people throughout the Oil Belt Council. Because of their importance I shall deal with the latter first.

"To begin with, the Scout program must be adequately financed. With this in view, there has been organized in the different towns committees to carry on the campaign for memberships within the next few days, and the friends of the Scout program and to all boys, everywhere, are urged to give the campaign their wholehearted support and enthusiastic cooperation, in order that this program, through adequate financing may be extended to every part of the council and made available to all boys of Scout age in this area.

"I would like to emphasize in this connection that the Boy Scout program is not what is known in civic affairs as an organization, but is instead, a program which is available to you for your boys and your neighbor's boys, to the end that they may become, through contact with this program, better future American citizens.

In order to obtain the best results from scouting, it is essential that, as nearly as possible, all boys of Scout age should come under its influence, thus eliminating the influence of boys who seek their amusements in unwholesome and uncontrolled diversions, and who range about through our respect-

GASOLINE TRUCK IN A SMASH

Train Hits Truck, Fuel Ignites, Burning Two Trainmen.

By United Press
EL RENO, Okla., Oct. 20.—Three persons were killed and two others severely burned when a gasoline truck was struck by a Rock Island freight train at Hydro, several miles west of here today. The injured were brought to El Reno on a passenger train.

The dead are:
E. M. Wilson, 60, driver of the truck.
Rex Blachley, 6.
Max Blachley, 4.

The two children were grandchildren of Wilson's.

The engineer and firemen of the train were burned by blazing oil resulting from the explosion that followed the crash. Both are expected to recover.

The freight train caught fire from the explosion and still was burning tonight.

CHILDREN FALL 15 STORIES

Jealous Scramble to Mother's Lap Results in Tragedy.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Two children, each jealous of a mother's devotion, fell to their death from the top of a 16-story building as they tried to clamber into their mother's lap yesterday.

Mrs. Milton S. Waldman had gone to visit her cousin, Mrs. B. R. Love, Jr., who lived in a bungalow atop a 16 story building.

Mrs. Love was not at home but Mrs. Waldman and her two children, Terrence, 4, and Benjamin, 14 months, went to the garden which adjoins the house.

Mrs. Waldman was holding Benjamin in her lap and the other brother seemed jealous of the attention bestowed on the baby. He tried also to clamber into his mother's lap.

Finally Mrs. Waldman attempted to placate the elder brother and in the resulting scramble both children fell over the ledge dropping 15 floors to the roof below. Both children were dead when they were reached.

HOPE ALMOST GONE FOR THE OCEAN FLYER

Faint Chance He May Have Landed in Remote Area.

By United Press
LONDON, Eng., Oct. 20.—Almost all hope has been exhausted today that Lieut. Commander H. C. MacDonald had landed on some part of the British Isles.

The former naval officer started from Harbor Guard, Newfoundland Wednesday in a Moth airplane with the intention of flying across the Atlantic. Only once on the long trip was his airplane sighted and that was about 700 miles east of Harbor Guard.

Stiff breezes were blowing from mid-ocean to the Irish coast about the time that MacDonald was scheduled to start his flight and some friends believe he might have landed in Ireland or Scotland.

"Dry" Leader Gets A Pardon, May Have To Serve 60 Days

By United Press
INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—Attorney General Arthur Gillion has begun a battle to force the Rev. E. S. Shumaker to serve the 60 day jail sentence from which he was pardoned by Governor Ed Jackson yesterday.

Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, was sentenced for contempt of the Indiana supreme court, and it was in this court that Gillion renewed his fight to place the dry leader in jail.

The attorney general filed a motion for an order which would direct execution of judgment, "despite a pretended pardon by the governor."

AUTO STALLS TRAIN TAKES LIVES OF TWO

Three Others Leap to Safety As the Crash Takes Place.

By United Press
ROSENBERG, Tex., Oct. 20.—Herman Hackerblade, 46, of Harlingen and his 5-year-old daughter, were instantly killed when the auto in which they were riding was struck by a southbound Santa Fe train near here late Friday.

Mrs. Hackerblade, another child and Joe House escaped injuries when they leaped from the car as the train crashed into the machine which was stalled on the track.

CLOSE CALL IN ACCIDENT

Two boys narrowly escaped serious injury Friday night when the Hudson coupe in which they were riding turned over at the intersection of the Thurber road and the Bankhead highway.

James and Sam Young, sons of S. A. Young, manager of the Ranger Cotton Exchange, were given medical attention at a local hospital after the accident. They were not seriously injured.

The car was crowded from the highway as it attempted to make the treacherous curve and was forced to take to the ditch. The car turned over once and landed in the field across the ditch.

James Young, regular army man stationed at San Antonio, was here visiting his father. The two brothers had been to Mineral Wells to see their sister.

The car was damaged to the extent of $600.

FIRECRACKERS.

Occasionally the United States government issues a bulletin which, even though filled with statistics, touches the imagination. Such bulletins are about as rare as mocking birds in the Arctic circle but the other day we received one from the department of commerce on "Fireworks."

A decrease of 2.4 per cent in the value of the fireworks manufactured in the United States in 1927 as compared to 1925 is disclosed. "Pin wheels, torches, rockets, sparklers, toy torpedoes, firecrackers and set pieces" are included in the total.

There are only 36 establishments making these products so dear to the heart of boyhood. At least that is all that reported. There is one such plant in Texas. The number in the nation has declined eight in two years. The value of the products is $5,884,000 and the number employed is 1,564.

THANKSGIVING—THEN AND NOW.

Only the small town and rural America know the joys of the old-fashioned Thanksgiving nowadays. In the cities the celebration of the traditional American feast day is being crowded out by tiny apartments with tiny dining rooms and tinier kitchens.

This, at least, is how Walter Pritchard Eaton sees it. He says: "It is a trifle difficult to wax sentimental over apartment B, 8th floor, as the old homestead, especially when you didn't move in until last May. Besides, the kitchen isn't big enough to cook an 18-pound turkey, let alone four mince pies, two pumpkin pies and a pudding. Anyhow, the cook never heard of mince pies.

"Cousin Jane's apartment on 48th street is no bigger. Hang it all—let's get the Jones and go down to a hotel. They are putting on a special dinner at the Biltmore. We can go to a show afterwards. And that is the new Thanksgiving in urban America, the poor, pale ghost of the old, with no particular reason for existence any more, except that traditions die hard.

"But isn't this one too fine to let die? Shall we not on Thanksgiving day, though our dwelling be a tiny apartment, make it a home where those nearest and dearest shall rally—even if they are a bit crowded—pushing the world into the background and giving us, especially the young folk, that sense of family affection and solidarity and mutual interest on which our nation rose to strength."

CAVALRY BAND IS TO BE FEATURE

(Continued from page one.) The official ceremony of the Legion for the dead of the world war, will be held with a local minister in charge. All will face west in silent prayer for one minute, while an airplane will fly over the field dropping flowers in memory of the ones killed while in France.

The Armistice Day church services will follow and will be held either at the airport or at a local church. Both places have been suggested.

The business session of the convention will be held following a banquet to be held at the American Legion hall.

The local auxiliary of the organization is planning entertainment for the women who attend the convention.

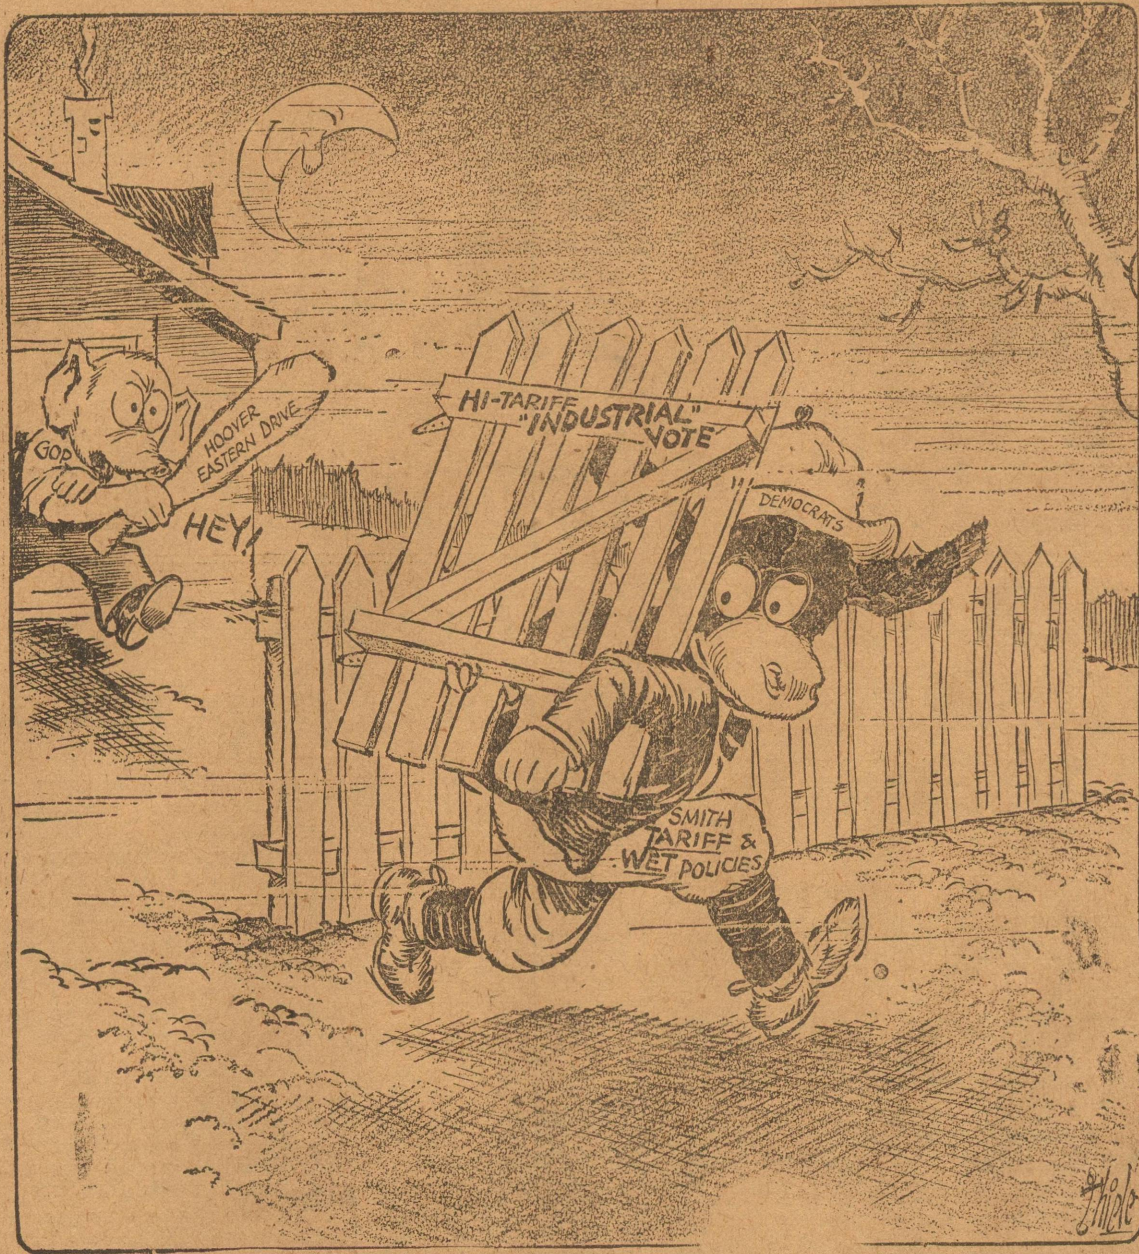

Blimp May Attend.
Hickey announced that a blimp from Dallas in all probability would be here. The small blimp is attached to a one thousand foot cable and is controlled from the ground. It carries several passengers.

It is not known just how many planes will be here for the occasion, but Hickey is assured that a large number will take care of the entertainment of the expected crowd.

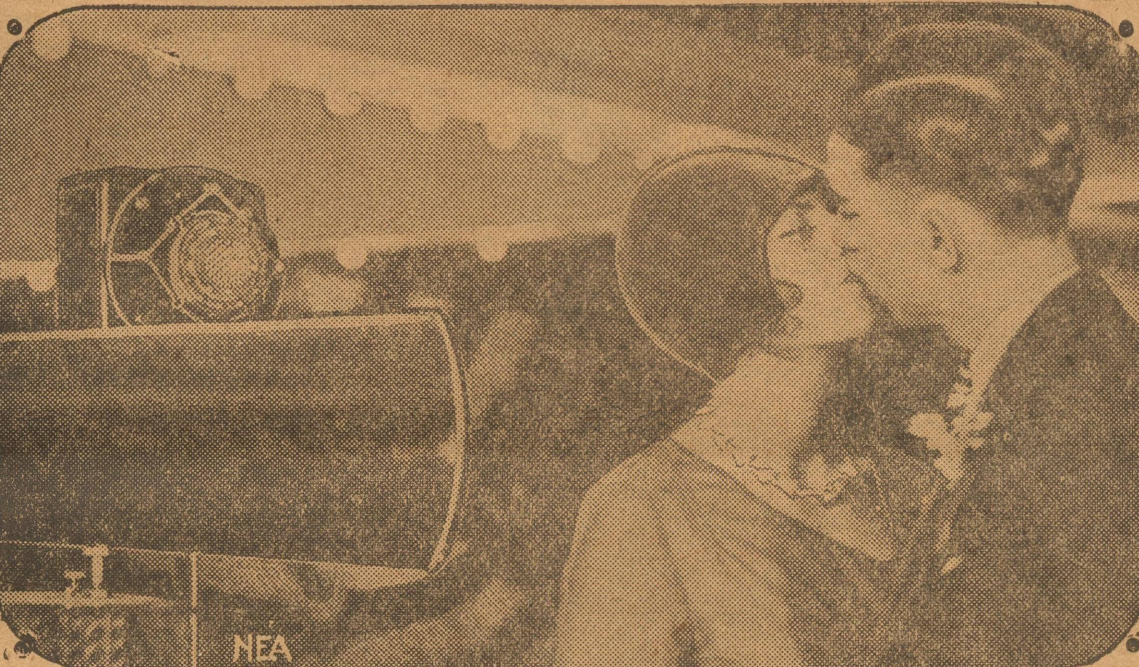

Planes will be here to take up passengers for a small charge, with a percentage being paid into the airport fund.

The Alexander-Eaglecock company has written the chamber of commerce that, if possible, seven planes and pilots will be here. The

When men first discovered how to use a buggy, a couple were married in one. Then came successively the automobile and balloon and airplane, and couples were married in them. Now television is being perfected, so it was perfectly natural that a wedding should be broadcast. JURORS CONSIDERING FATE OF THOMAS DAVIS

(Continued from page 1) a condition of mental insanity as above defined, you will say by your verdict, 'we, the jury, acquit the defendant on the ground of insanity.'

The court also gave the jury the law on suspended sentence, instructing that if a person had not previously been convicted of a felony and that the punishment meted out to the defendant was not more than five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary, then the jury might recommend to the court that sentence be suspended.

There are those at Republican headquarters who whisper that what broke up the glee club fests was the fact that Senator McWhorter always insisted on joining in the singing himself, but there are two schools of thought concerning the senator's part in the campaign.

Chairman Work contended that anything was preferable to having McWhorter sing for the cause and that it would be better to have him speak, since he insisted on lung work. But Mr. Hoover decided that McWhorter's singing would be the least of two afflictions. He reasoned that no one would ever stick around while McWhorter was talking, but that his voice might draw crowds and that the best interests of the party demanded the senator be kept singing.

Nevertheless, there is denying that McWhorter's Hoover songs are as good as any of the Smith songs and lower above the numerous songs made up for vice-presidential candidates at Houston and Kansas City.

Take "H-O-O-V-E-R" which goes to the tune of the famous song, "Mother."

H is for the hell he'll give the enemy,

O is for the oil, but we don't care, O is also for our opportunity,

V is for his virtues—net Bill Vare E is for efficiency, that's him all over,

R is for Republicans, that we. Put them all together, they spell HOO-OO-VER,

He'll lead us on to victoreee!

The tune of this one is that of "The Sidewalks of New York."

Herbert Hoover is our candidate; We'll all vote next November To give Al Smith the gate.

Dry's will stand together To hush the popping cork. We'll trample the old brown derby On the Sidewalks of New York!

And if you remember "Two Little Girls in Blue," you can sing this:

Two little boys in blue, Herbie and Charlie, too, Please don't reject 'em! We must elect 'em!

They mean a lot to you. Two little boys in blue Who lead the G. O. P. Charlie and Herbie will beat the Brown Derby And save our prosperitee!

ARMAMENT REDUCTION DISCUSSED

Should Be Gradual, Thinks the British War Minister.

By HENRY T. RUSSELL (World Copyright 1928, United Press)

LONDON, Oct. 19.—"Paradoxical as it may sound I believe the greatest menace to International good will today is the effort that is being made to force disarmament too rapidly upon the world," is the opinion of War Minister Sir Laming Worthington-Evans.

The man who is responsible for Britain's press "Contemptible Little Army" made the statement to a United Press correspondent at the close of a chat at his office in Whitehall.

"A reduction and a limitation of armaments," he added, "are obviously most desirable; but each nation must be the final judge of what armaments it requires for its own defense and its own safety." "During the conversation, Sir Laming, in addition to discussing the future peace prospects of the world, revealed details of his personal career indicating that he was a 'self-made man' and one who, for twenty years, worked far into the nights as a corporation lawyer and financial expert. "To attain my life's ambition of entering politics and public life," he explained, he was forced to do "because I was not born with a silver spoon in my mouth."

Illustrating some of his ideas of disarmament, the minister drew a parallel between that and the problem of temperance reform:

"Excessive drinking," he said, "is a curse and most nations are taking steps to prevent it. Some favor prohibition, but none would endeavor to force prohibition on its neighbors, I am not going to express an opinion either for or against prohibition as a national policy, but here, in England, its adoption is unnecessary. High taxation and varied forms of enjoyment have no doubt had the effect of halving the consumption of liquor; and the younger generation is growing up on water and soft drinks. But apart from that, public opinion has gradually grown so strong that excessive drinking is now a social crime which is universally condemned. You never see a drunken man nowadays. Nevertheless there would be a widespread revolt against compulsory abstinence.

"With armaments a similar course seems probable. World opinion condemns excessive armaments and as it spreads and grows each nation will be more and more subject to its influence.

"The experience of the great war, and the fear of even worse horrors, have made a very large public anxious that everything should be done to make war impossible. So public opinion has already gone a long way, and the statesman's duty is to foster and develop this opinion so that ultimately there may be agreement—international agreement—limiting armaments.

"But let the statesman beware if he attempts to force even that which he may be convinced is for the world's good. There is danger of reaction, even of quarrels, arising which will check that healthy public opinion and give grounds for those interested in the financial aspects of armaments production to steer their government into provocative competition."

The minister then explained that so far as Great Britain was concerned, when he became secretary of war in 1921, the army estimates were 86,000,000 pounds sterling ($430,000,000) for the year.

"Each year they have been reduced," he pointed out, "and my present estimates are 41,000,000 pounds. No other nation can show anything approaching the same rate of reduction."

Sir Laming then went on to say how, compared with 1914, the establishments of the army for the present year, including regular army, territorial army and re-services, were lower by 250,000 men. "We have in fact nothing more than an empire police force," he continued. "I do not fear, therefore, any detailed examination of the position from a British point of view, but I hold nevertheless that each nation must be allowed to determine for itself what are its minimum requirements and that while it is more useful for the nations to confer and remove suspicions by supplying the fullest information, anything like an attempt at compulsion would be more harm than good."

The Kellogg anti-war treaty was described by Sir Laming as "a great step forward." If nations renounce war as a policy, he said, "Why should they not reduce armaments? Public opinion in every country will demand an answer to this question and I have no doubt there will be a quickened movement toward the end we all desire."

PRESIDENTIAL RACE NEARING HOME STRETCH

G. O. P. to Turn Loose Oratorical Guns. Smith in the East.

By United Press

FARGO, N. D., Oct. 20.—Both parties will turn on the siren full blast now for the final two weeks of the most intense presidential campaign in many years.

Herbert Hoover is about to make the most important speech of his campaign in New York Monday night—his personal effort to break the grip of Smith on New York's 45 electoral votes.

The republicans are massing their final strength behind the prosperity issue. President Coolidge without directly mentioning Hoover has just emphasized in a speech at Fredericksburg, Va., the prosperous condition which he believed the country had achieved under the republican administration.

Former Secretary of State Hughes is about to take the stump for Hoover. Vice-President Dawes and Elihu Root will be present at Hoover's New York meeting to bestow their blessings—Dawes with a speech and Root by a few remarks as honorary chairman.

Governor Smith has referred to praise given him by Hughes and Root. Democratic literature quotes from speeches of both in praise of Smith's ability. Their function now is to argue that Smith is good but Hoover is better. The republican campaign has been held under restraint for this final burst of heavy artillery as the campaign ends. The democrats, however, have no such batteries left in reserve. Governor Smith has just concluded his second speaking tour and is now about to concentrate on the eastern states, Maryland, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON — Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter, friend of the people and champion of their rights every four years, has thrown himself into the presidential campaign and is busily engaged in organizing Hoover glee clubs.

Forced to employ his inventive genius along with his artistic talents the senator has produced a brand-new set of Hoover campaign songs. He explains, himself, that he found a menacing shortage of Hoover songs. He found, in fact, only one and invariably noticed that as soon as one of his glee clubs had sung that one over a half dozen times, the members began to dribble away to their homes. On the other hand, the Al Smith people had a lot of songs about their candidate and could string them out for a whole evening.

There are those at Republican headquarters who whisper that what broke up the glee club fests was the fact that Senator McWhorter always insisted on joining in the singing himself, but there are two schools of thought concerning the senator's part in the campaign.

Chairman Work contended that anything was preferable to having McWhorter sing for the cause and that it would be better to have him speak, since he insisted on lung work. But Mr. Hoover decided that McWhorter's singing would be the least of two afflictions. He reasoned that no one would ever stick around while McWhorter was talking, but that his voice might draw crowds and that the best interests of the party demanded the senator be kept singing.

Nevertheless, there is denying that McWhorter's Hoover songs are as good as any of the Smith songs and lower above the numerous songs made up for vice-presidential candidates at Houston and Kansas City.

Take "H-O-O-V-E-R" which goes to the tune of the famous song, "Mother."

H is for the hell he'll give the enemy,

O is for the oil, but we don't care, O is also for our opportunity, V is for his virtues—net Bill Vare E is for efficiency, that's him all over,

R is for Republicans, that we. Put them all together, they spell HOO-OO-VER,

He'll lead us on to victoreee!

The tune of this one is that of "The Sidewalks of New York."

Herbert Hoover is our candidate; We'll all vote next November To give Al Smith the gate.

Dry's will stand together To hush the popping cork. We'll trample the old brown derby On the Sidewalks of New York!

And if you remember "Two Little Girls in Blue," you can sing this:

Two little boys in blue, Herbie and Charlie, too, Please don't reject 'em! We must elect 'em!

They mean a lot to you. Two little boys in blue Who lead the G. O. P. Charlie and Herbie will beat the Brown Derby And save our prosperitee!

To The Campaign

Special of The Times.
NEW YORK.—From republican Philadelphia, from Hoover's home state of California, from the Northwest, the Atlantic coast states and from Dixie, contributions to Governor Smith's campaign fund are coming into democratic headquarters.
Some of the donors, who describe themselves as "former republican voters," "a poor rancher," "a financially-strapped father of eleven children," a "farmer's wife" a boy of nine and a girl ten years old, tell of their eagerness to show their admiration of Governor Smith's western speeches and Colonel Herbert Lehman's radio appeal for funds.
F. S. Mook of Elmonte, California sent two dollars and said: "I had to buy a radio in order to get the high spots of your speeches as we haven't a paper in Los Angeles county that will print the chief parts of your campaign speech. I am only a poor rancher but was determined to get a radio to hear you, even if I had to mortgage the place."

In a letter addressed to Colonel Lehman, finance director of the democratic national committee, B. M. Tighe of Philadelphia says:

"Enclosed please find $13 representing contribution of $1 each from thirteen former republican voters who wish to help toward seeing the democratic nominee elected.
John Sumner of Yale, Michigan, sent $1 and said:
"I am a farmer and paid off three mortgages in Wilson's administration and now I fail to keep up expenses."
With eleven dollars enclosed—a dollar from each of his children—R. J. Schulmann writes from Louisville, Ky.:

"I wish that it was possible for me to respond to Col. Lehman's radio appeal for funds with a real contribution but the fact is that I've got some pretty healthy campaign, not to mention innumerable other expenses, myself, in raising a family of eleven children. Anyway here is eleven dollars one for each child (George, Margaret, Edward, Joe, Henry and Jack still in school) and nine votes (Mamma Rich, Louise add husband, Ida, Bob and wife, Mary and myself). We're pulling for you, praying for you, Al."
Sends "Wilson Dollar."

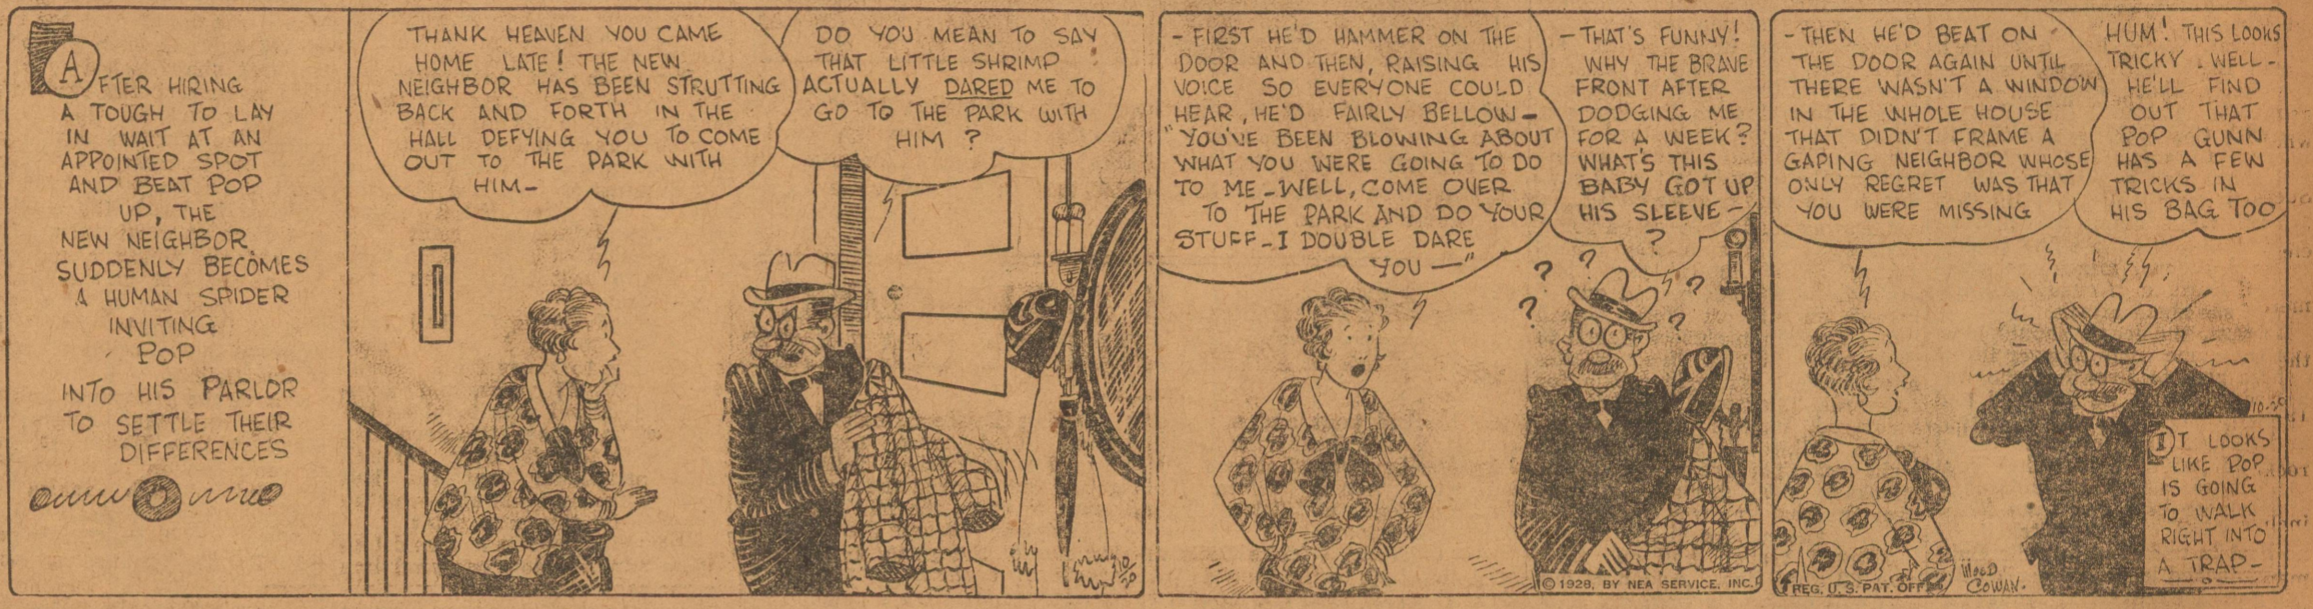

Mrs. E. J. Murphy, a farmer's wife living on the Minnesota side of the Red River Valley of the north, calls Governor Smith the "champion of our cause" and writes:
"To elect Secretary Hoover president would force the farmers of America to eat black bread and do without sugar again, not from choice this time, but rather from necessity. We all know, from very bitter experience, what the Coolidge agricultural policy has done, to this vast northwest.

"Courage to your heart and strength to your arm, Governor Smith. We are listening to your radio messages and we believe you are the man for the hour, and the champion of all that is fair and square."
A dollar that was framed on the wall of William Bryson's home at Delsea Drive, New Jersey was sent by him to help Governor Smith fund.
Mr. Bryson writes:
"This is the first dollar taken from crops grown on my truck farm during the Wilson administration. Because of it being the first bill taken in we had it framed and retained it as a good-luck omen. Here it is, hoping it will bring Governor Smith success."

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Grondin of Milford, Michigan, answered a radio appeal for funds with a check of $5 contributed by their young sons. They wrote:
"Five dollars is a very small amount and will not go far toward swelling the fund, but it goes to you with the best wishes from us who are the parents of five young children. Later on, if possible, we will send you more. Since Governor Smith's nomination picture cut from a newspaper has been placed on the wall and our boys are told of all the good qualities that go to make Governor Smith the great man he is."
Wilfred Grondin, sent one dollar and said:
"Here is a dollar. I am sending you to help you get to be our next president. I earned the money working in the garden. I am nine years old and in the fifth grade. Our family is all pulling for you. Hope you will win out."
Little Helen Melba O'Brien, of 120 East 88th street, New York, has just had a birthday. She says:
"Miner Enthusiastic."
"Mother told me Colonel Lehman was talking on the radio last week and that he said you needed more money to help elect Governor Smith to be our next president so I am sending five dollars I got for my birthday. I do not need it as I got a lot of other presents. I asked my Daddy for five dollars and I am sending that also. I hope Governor Smith will be elected and that he will be in the White House when I am ready to vote. I am just ten years old now."

A Civil War veteran's widow, Mrs. F. A. Bond, asks that her "mite" be added to help in Governor Smith's good work. She writes:
"Am a widow of a Captain of the Confederacy of the Civil War, and a Southern woman, also an Episcopalian. I earnestly hope you go to Washington to represent the honest government we so much need."
Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, of Scranton, Pa., writes:
"The last time I voted was for my good friend Eugene V. Debs. This year I shall vote for something real and warm and human, not for a newspaper myth. Please accept my check and the good wishes that go with it. Note also my campaign slogan:
"We had an honest Abe
We want an honest Al."
A republican who cannot see any hope for the miners through his party, sends a check and signs himself Charles J. Rotter, of Tamaqua, Pa., he writes:
"I am a republican but I cannot see any hope for the miner by being one, so I am sending you a small donation to help you in your campaign, which is the greatest step in your life."
F. B. Baldwin, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, describes himself as a poor man, a mason and a trustee of the Presbyterian church. He enclosed two dollars in his letter: "Al Smith" campaign. I am only sorry that I am not able to make I am a poor man, the deflation of this a thousand times larger. But agriculture practically destroyed all my savings. My work takes me among the farmers. If any fair-minded person could see the distress and ruin that the farmers as a whole have passed through in the last seven years, he would not only be concerned but his heart would bleed if one atom of brotherly love remained in his soul. This contribution comes from a mason and a trustee of the Presbyterian church."

BULLDOGS AND MOUNTAINEERS BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

MITCHELL'S 95-YARD RUN IS IN VAIN; BOTH TEAMS LACK A PUNCH

Visitors and Locals Have Chance to Score; Bird Shines.

Playing the first double-header in the history of West Texas football, Ranger came out with one victory and a tie Friday. The tie was achieved by the "varsity" who found the Mineral Wells Mountaineers a plenty stubborn outfit and a 0-0 score was the result. It remained for the Ranger "second team" to contribute the victory—a 33 to 7 win over the Thunder Miners.

Mineral Wells has a fullback named Bird and that's exactly what he is. That 200-pound chunk of muscle battered the Ranger line with Coach Curtis shooting in reserves to stop the onslaught. And there was a powerful rangy halfback named Browder on that Mineral Wells team, too, and he could certainly grab those passes. The Bulldogs, minus the services of Garland Himman, did not show a sustained attack.

At that, the locals should have won the game when Brewer threw a short pass to Browder who was tackled so hard he fumbled and Mitchell, Ranger guard, caught the ball as it shot into the air and raced 95 yards across the goal line. It was a thrilling gallop. A mountaineer in a desperate lunge from behind caught Mitchell by the heel in mid-field but the Bulldog wrenched loose. Ernest Whitehall guarded him from Mountaineers who were gaining as the lad with the ball grew weary on his long run. But it meant nothing. The referee had blown his whistle as soon as Browder was tackled, consequently the ball was dead.

The class B team has been scored on only one time this year and they have won all their games by good margins—that is of course until the game in Ranger Friday.

They started off with a rush against the Bulldogs. Three line plays gained 25 yards to Ranger's 40-yard line. The visitors were halted and Brewer got off a poor punt to Ranger's 30-yard line. Whitehall gained six yards through right tackle but McLaughlin's fumble resulted in the Mountaineers gaining the ball on their own 45-yard line. They gained a first down but two passes were incomplete and they lost the ball on downs. Whitehall on an end run made five yards, Caraway gained five through the line and on a spin Caraway gained five more. Whitehall went around end for three yards to the 50-yard line as the first quarter ended.

Caraway made two yards for a first down. A spin play culminating in a lateral pass lost ground. Whitehall punted out of bounds on Mineral Wells' 5-yard line. The Mountaineers kicked to their own 20-yard line. Whitehall all slashed off right tackle for 11 yards. Caraway fumbled but recovered. Ranger losing three yards. Whitehall went through right tackle for five yards. A bad snaphack lost ground. A pass over the goal line was incomplete.

Passes Are Used.

Mineral Wells' ball on their own 20 yard line. And now Mr. Bird got busy. He went off right tackle for nine yards. He hit left guard for 15 yards. He went off right tackle for six yards. He was dragging one or two secondary defense along for yards after being tackled. But he tired and Mineral Wells had to punt—kicking to Ranger's 30-yard line. Seay

Bustin' Babe—Larrupin' Lou

Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, those home-run hitting twins of the New York Yankees, are now barnstorming about the country, showing the baseball fans how they socked those terrific clouts that ruined the St. Louis Cards. Babe's team is called the "Bustin' Babes" and Lou's the "Larrupin' Lous."

SAN ANGELO AND LOBOES FIGHT TO TIE

Dope Bucket Upset As Bobcats Fight Cisco Loboes 13-13.

A badly bitten bunch of Cisco Loboes dragged themselves into their fair near the big dam Saturday night, heavy in heart, weary in spirit and mad externally, internally and in between.

Out on the plains a crew of San Angelo Bobcats were giving vent to yells of elation. It was their night to howl.

For the first time in history, the San Angelo high school eleven came out of their hole, fought, scrapped and hammered their way to a 13 to 13 tie with the highly touted aforesaid Loboes.

It was the brilliant passing of Baker, the streaky runs of Baker and the elusive end swings of Massey that enabled the Bobcats to put over a touchdown in the first six minutes of play and play the Loboes to a tie. When Baker missed goal from placement after the second touchdown, their chance to beat the Loboes was shattered.

Hooks and Slides

Wouldn't Give Up

It seems in order to rap out a few pretty words about Virginia Van Wie, the young Chicago golfer, in connection with two very well known phrases in sports—"competitive spirit" and "don't give up."

Miss Van Wie was runner-up in the national woman's golf tournament this year and she got to the finals merely because she refused to quit and kept on fighting to win.

A less hardy soul would have cracked most of the clubs in a bag after taking a ten on the first hole during the qualifying round. A ten meant certain elimination from the ranks of the qualifiers. Instead of getting sore, Miss Van Wie went out and shot the remaining 13 holes in such a neat fashion that she finished just four strokes back of the medalist.

That wasn't all that came up during the tournament that established her as a woman of fighting heart and courage. In three of her matches to reach the finals—she was down at every turn. That is the order of things a la Hagan.

That she lost in the finals can be accounted for by two reasons. One is she simply went off her game—and the other is she met Glena Collett.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The Cleveland millionaires are interested in Averill and Johnson, San Francisco outfielders. . . . a scribe out there says $100,000 has been offered. . . . And The Aggies Bow to T. C. U.

By United Press.

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 20. Texas Christian University held its record of no defeats for this season when it won from Texas A. & M. here this afternoon, 6 to 0.

In addition to no defeats, the T. C. U. aggregation has not had its goal crossed this season.

Both teams were even at the half, then Howard Grubbs, T. C. U. backfield star, started the drive that upset the Aggies when he ran 39 yards to place the ball on the Aggies' 28 yard line.

This performance was all that was needed to start the T. C. U. gang going and after a series of line smashes, Griffith carried the ball over for the only touchdown of the game.

A blocked punt and a penalty combined to cheat the Ranger Junior college out of at least a tie with the strong Wichita Falls junior college at Wichita Falls, Friday afternoon.

Although the Wichita Falls aggregation took to the showers with them the elongated end of a 9 to 0 score, they had their party in the early minutes, and resorted to a severe defensive attack to stop the driving Rangers.

The first scoring of the game came when a Wichita Falls back carried the ball over for the initial touchdown, employing straight line plunging tactics. The point after touchdown was added.

A few minutes later, Knight's punt was blocked and recovered by Taylor who was downed behind his goal for a safety. It was tea time for the home crew.

The Rangers opened with a terrific offensive drive in the second quarter and Berry, Ranger, carried the ball 64 yards for a touchdown. The ball was called back and put into play, however, after the referee ruled that Trammel was holding.

Although outweighed, the Rangers carried the ball to within the shadow of the cross-bars and up rights time after time, only to lose it on downs.

After advancing the ball from their own 30 yard line, Baker shot a pass to Halsey for 30 yards, another for 17 yards, and completed a lateral pass to place the ball on the Loboes' two yard line. Hamberlin took it over through tackle and Baker sent the ball through the uprights and over the crossbar for the extra point.

After the Bobcats had held Cisco on San Angelo's two yard line in the second quarter, Baker fluked a punt out of bounds on his own five yard line. Edleman fumbled however, and San Angelo recovered on its own one yard line. Baker punted to Little who was forced out on San Angelo's 20 yard line. A pass, Van Horn to Little was completed for Cisco's initial marker. Kellogg missed goal from placement.

A fumble by Baker in the same quarter enabled the Loboes to take the ball on San Angelo's 33 yard line. Employing straight football, Edleman and Kellogg advanced the ball to scoring distance and Edleman went over. Kellogg kicked goal.

San Angelo's second touchdown, and the one over which the Loboes are grieving, and which played havoc with a much battered dope bucket, came in the fourth quarter, after Baker had broke loose for a 42 yard gain and then passed to Smith for the counter. Baker failed to kick goal from placement.

The Bobcats excelled the Loboes in end runs and passing and the work of the brilliant Massey almost obliterated that of Little, the mainstay of the Loboes. On line work and punting, however, the Cisco aggregation had the edge.

A crowd of 2,000 saw the game. San Angelo made 11 first downs and Cisco 9.

One of the newspaper fellows, in looking over the Yale football squad at New Haven, ran across the only person in captivity who ever injured both ankles while walking on his hands.

One of the Yale officials pointed out "Tippo" Greene, a veteran guard.

"There's the only fellow in the world who broke both ankles while walking on his hands," the Yale man said. "Somebody told him he could strengthen his wrists by walking on his hands. He tried it one day, fell over and sprained both ankles. Can you beat that?"

Although the football season isn't far enough along to start talking about all-America players, it is interesting to note the early ballyhoo from the Pacific Coast about the young men out there who may get the big honor this year.

Offhand, you hear it mentioned that Jesse Hibbs, at Southern California, will repeat. He's a tackle. And Hoffman of Stanford will prove the best fullback in the country. Carroll at Washington is another great back. Phillips, the California end, is a good bet. And so are Post of Stanford at guard, Barragar of Southern California at center, and Avery, California end.

Only one pitcher in the National League hit three home runs. Elliott of Brooklyn gets the honor. No pitcher in the junior circuit hit as many. Jones of Washington came closest with two.

Big League pitchers to hit one home run this season are Aldridge, Roy Smith, Barne, Donohue, Rixey Malone, Sherdel, Rhem, Alexander, Henry Johnson, Shealy, Zackary, Walberg, Grove, Ruffing, Van Alstyne, Uhle, Van Gilder, Thomas, Barnabas, Faher, Blaeholder and Gray.

Something New In Regalia Of "Pep" Of Cheer Section

By United Press.

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 20.—The University of Wisconsin and probably other schools of the Big Ten will be able to give their football teams a "big hand" this season. The athletic department at Madison already has made provision to enlarge the hands in the cheering section there.

It has ordered 2,000 pairs of mittens, with white palms and cordial backs, which it will sell to student rooters for a half dollar a pair. The mittens are large enough to be worn over regular gloves and will add appreciably to the noise and color present in the cheering stands. They are in two sizes, the smaller for the co-eds and the larger for the men.

The innovation had its inception in an acute case of green pepper indigestion. Henry Koper, Jr., 21-year-old Kenosha youth and a freshman at the University of Wisconsin last year, is the inventor of the gloves, and it was he who ate the peppers.

"My chum and I ate dinner downtown here one evening about two months ago," Koper explained. "I had some green pepper salad and very soon after eating it started to feel sick. I went home and was unable to go to sleep. I thought of a thousand things as I lay awake, and among them was the idea for the two-color cheering mitten."

Koper and his friend, Charles Unbehau, have obtained patents on the device, have started a company and at present are engaged in a high pressure selling campaign at the various Big Ten Universities. Already their venture has provided enough funds to take care of their own university expenses with a comfortable margin.

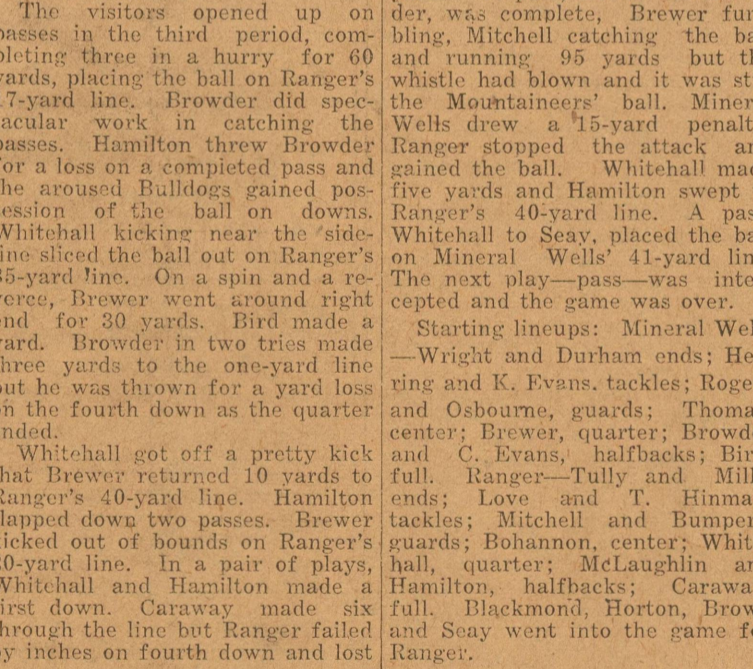

Two Killed as Train Strikes Car; 1 Hurt

By United Press.

OSBOURNE, Kan., Oct. 20.—Two men were killed and another remained in a serious condition today as the result of a motorcar hitting a Santa Fe freight car here last night.

Robert Hull, 40, of Concordia, and Herbert Bell, 26, of Osbourne, were killed, and R. V. Garrison, 26, of Osbourne, is in a serious condition.

Happy to Be Together Again

If you don't know it, and you really should, the gentleman at the left is Walter Johnson and the one at the right is Owner Griffith of the Washington Senators. And they both look so pleased here because this photograph was taken a few moments after Johnson had signed a three-year contract to manage the Washington Senators, his first love in baseball and the team for which he pitched his way to immortal fame.

American Horse May Try Again

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Billy Barton, the American horse who finished second in the last Grand National steeplechase, and Tom B. Cullinan, the young Irish jockey who rode him, may join forces again for another attempt to secure the blue ribband of the steeplechase track.

EASTLAND LOSES 19-0 TO ABILENE EAGLES

(Continued from page 1) could not turn back. Allen, Smith and Kincaid marched to the two-yard line and Smith hit the middle of the line for a touchdown. Shackelford missed the kick. The score was made at almost the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter Eastland had a slender chance to score. It was on a long pass by Connie Smith to Cheatham who was covered by two men, one of whom slapped down the ball. The pigskin took an erratic spin and had Cheatham happened to have been facing that way he could have caught it with an open field.

Passing Begins. Salkeld, Abilene's famed pass receiver of last season, missed a neat one right in his hands early in the third quarter. After Allen of Abilene punted, C. Smith stepped through almost the entire team on a 12-yard return.

Mavericks flashed an attack almost immediately after. With the ball on their own 20-yard line, Allen of Eastland hit right guard for five yards; Smith hurled a pass for 18 yards to Brawner and then Smith sifted through left tackle for 14 yards. At this juncture Salkeld was banished from the game and Abilene drew a penalty to its own 24-yard line.

Another punt exchange and then more passes by Eastland, the first, Smith to Foster for 11 yards.

And then came one of the most brilliant plays of the game—a rifle pass right through the middle of the line, Connie Smith to McCullough for 17 yards. On the next play, McCullough gathered in a pass for six yards to the Eagles' 29-yard line. But the attack halted and Abilene launched an offensive that carried the ball to Eastland's five-yard line where the Mavericks got the ball on downs as the game ended.

The Mavericks played the game with only one substitution—Brawner for Norton. Abilene used some seven or eight. Abilene made 19 first downs to eight for Eastland. The Mavericks tried 26 passes of which seven were completed for 69 yards and two were intercepted.

Starting lineups: Abilene—Bentley and Salkeld, ends; Black and Shackelford, tackles; Baker and T. Barber, guards; Lusby, center; Kincaid, quarter; Baldwin, R. Allen, halfbacks; A. Smith, full. Eastland—Cheatham and Foster, ends; Mayo and Daniel, tackles; Moser and Taggart, guards; King, center; C. Smith, quarter; Norton, McCullough, halfbacks; H. Allen, full.

Fencing Rules Standardized

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Standardization of fencing rules for the entire world is now being planned by the principal French and Italian fencing societies. The sport is rapidly regaining its old prestige in Europe, and despite the fears that it would encourage a return to duelling for the settling of personal quarrels, it is reported that there has been a remarkable diminution in the number of "affairs of honor" during the past year.

Particular interest is being paid to the question of foil contests. In Italy, buttons are frequently drawn off at the last moment—and should an accident occur the absence of the button causes blows to be attributed to a swerved feint. In France, however, the button must be certified by the judges of a contest at the close as well as the beginning of a match.

Sword contests are attracting less attention than formerly, and the new rules, to be submitted to the International Fencing association, will merely call for closer inspection of blades and adequate thickness of body protection.

BAILEY WINS GRAIN AWARD

Word was received here Friday from Ben Whitehouse, vocational agriculturist, that W. M. Bailey, farmer of the Bullock community, had won first and second prizes and the sweepstakes on the samples of higeri he entered in the State fair at Dallas.

Bailey was awarded $20 in cash. In addition to giving a number of the grain heads to the Chamber of Commerce for the general county exhibit at the fair, Bailey entered an individual display of the choice heads.

First Picture of Tunney and Bride After the Wedding

Despite Gene Tunney's reluctance to have photographs taken of his wedding to Mary Josephine Lauder, wealthy heiress, in Rome the other day, NEA Service and the Times succeeded in getting this remarkable pose. Taken in the garden of the Hotel Russie at Rome immediately after the ceremony had been performed, it shows the wedding party. From right to left are Mrs. Edwin Dering, sister of bride; Mrs. Tunney, Gene Tunney and Dr. Carnes Weeks, best man. Minnot Saunders, Paris manager for NEA Service, made a special trip to Rome to get his picture and rushed it to Cherbourg, France, just in time to catch the Berengaria, bound for New York. At New York NEA Service representatives engaged a special tug, boarded the Berengaria at quarantine and rushed the picture to the telephoto office for immediate dispatch to all parts of the United States.

MINERS LOSE 33 TO 7 HERE

"Pud" Hammett sparked in the Ranger second team victory over the Thurber Miners in the second game of the football doubleheader. The quarterback, who has been recently held as ineligible for "varsity" games, ran and passed in veteran fashion. The score was 33 to 7. The visitors' lone score came in the final quarter when an end except out to the sideline unnoticed.

McLaughlin made two touchdowns, Hammett one, Murray one and Brown one—the latter on a blocked punt and a 35 yard run. McLaughlin kicked two goals and Hammett one.

The afternoon was a strenuous one for some of the Ranger players as they saw action in both games.

The "double header" resulted in "something doing each and every moment" in the words of the sideshow spikers. As soon as the first half of the Mineral Wells game was over, the Thurber and Ranger second teams started their game and, when the half was up, the Mineral Wells game was resumed. As soon as it was over, the last half of the Thurber game was played.

The officials had to work hard as they were no chance to rest from 3 until almost 6 o'clock.

Starting lineups: Thurber—Adams an Eubanks, ends; Estes and Marrs, tackles; Fulbright and Arrendale, guards; Roberts, center; Perry, quarter; Barlow and Dorris, halfbacks; Gibson, full. Ranger—Bishop and Black, ends; Blackmond and Brown, tackles; Blackwell and Basset, guards; Horton, center; Hammett, quarter; McLaughlin and King, halfbacks; Murray, full. Substitutes for Ranger: Smoot, Miller.

DECISION TO BUILD AT ONCE IS ANNOUNCED

Work On New House of Worship For Eastland Baptists To Be Begun Within Thirty Days.

(Eastland Telegram) Dirt will be broken for the new Baptist church within the next thirty days according to Pastor W. T. Turner, unless unforeseen circumstances cause further delay. Final decision to let the contract for the new house of worship was reached by the building committee on Wednesday night. The architect's plan has already been adopted but specifications must be prepared before bids can be received. All is in readiness to begin actual construction as soon after contract has been awarded as workmen and material can be assembled.

The finance committee had not finished its work of soliciting subscriptions according to the report submitted at the Wednesday night meeting, but with the subscriptions already secured and the prospective gifts that will be made when actual construction begins the committee felt justified in letting the contract. In the meantime soliciting of funds will be pressed, as many have indicated their willingness to aid after being assured that the work will proceed.

The house to be built will have an auditorium with a seating capacity of six hundred and eighty, and ample room for a thoroughly standardized Sunday School of six hundred. A basement under the auditorium will provide ample room for kitchen, social rooms, dining hall and other facilities that belong to a modern church building. The Sunday School annex in the rear of the auditorium will be three stories in height and will be adapted to Sunday School and young people's work.

New Oakland To Be Shown Soon; Is Creating Interest

An entire new line of Oakland All-American Sixes, embodying exclusive style and performance features consistent with the pioneering achievements of the Oakland Motor Car company, will go on display in the very near future. G. J. Boyd, of the Boyd Motor Co., Ranger, Texas, announced yesterday.

While no details will be disclosed until the public showing, the new Oakland is distinctively original and different from any car now on the market, Mr. Boyd stated.

"Popular features of the first All-American Six will be combined, in this latest offering, with a host of refinements in performance and body design that will make the car an outstanding attraction on the highways and boulevards of America during the coming months," he said.

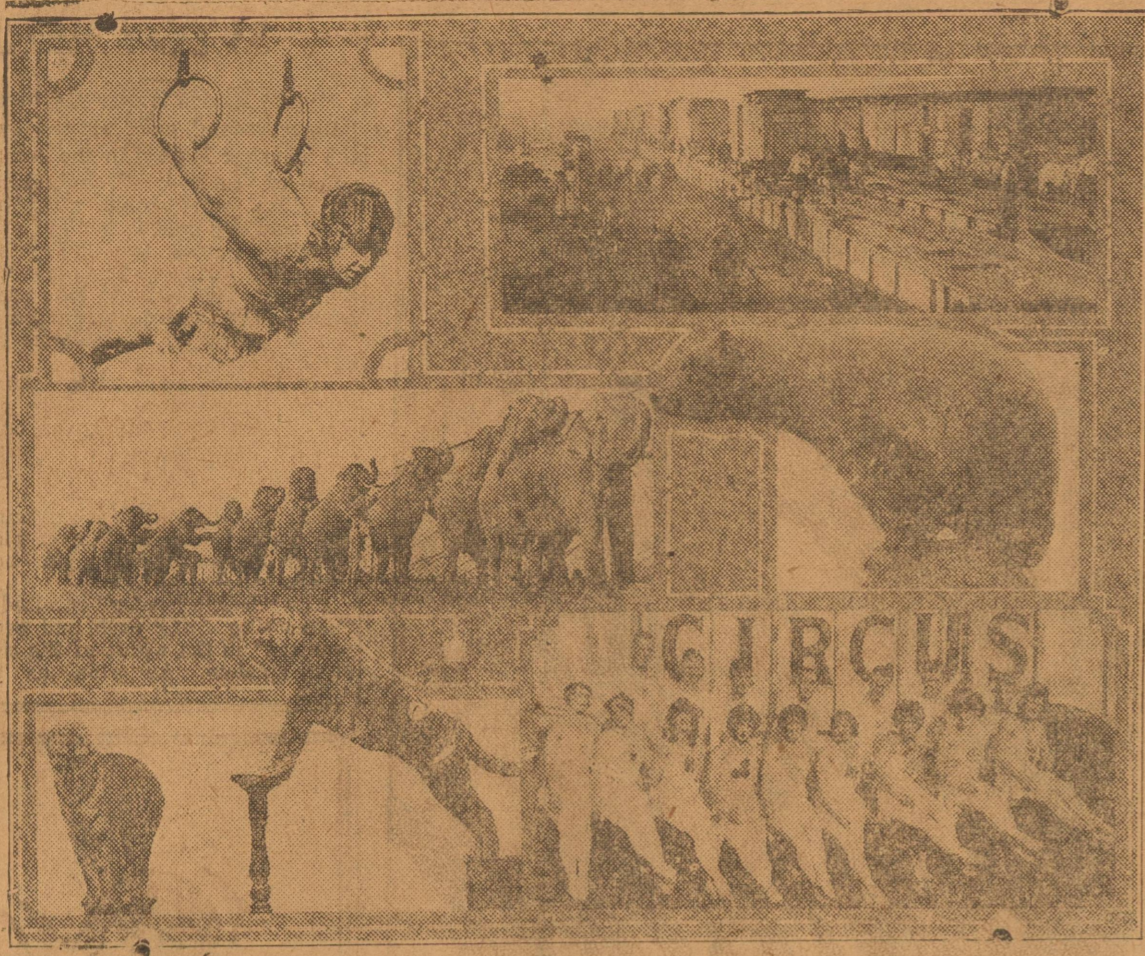

"The new car represents the cumulative experience of more than twenty years of successful automobile building on the part of the Oakland Motor Car Company, plus the vast facilities of General Motors.

"Into its development have gone the pooled resources, creative ingenuity and experimental facilities of Oakland and General Motors Research Laboratories, General Motors Proving Grounds, and craftsmen of the Fisher Body organization.

"Particular interest attaches to the new all-American because of the record of the Oakland company for having introduced into the automotive field more new features than any other manufacturer. Among the Oakland-pioneered advances are four-wheel brakes, Duo finish, the harmonic balancer, the G-M-R cylinder head, foot-controlled head lights, oil filter, air cleaner and fuel pump.

AUSTIN—Contract awarded for construction of 20-mile stretch of highway No. 130 in El Paso county.

Will Be Here Soon

Just a few more days and the big Sells Floto Circus will arrive in Ranger. Wednesday, October 31 is the day and there will be two performances, afternoon at 2, evening at 8. Hundreds of circus performers, sixteen elephants, fifty seven clowns, three hundred beautiful horses, the side show and the forty den menagerie—everything that goes to make Sells Floto the biggest circus in the country today. And what is more important, Manager Zack Terrell of the circus guarantees that it will all come to Ranger. Not an act will be omitted. Everything will be here.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Okla.

That it takes cooperation to build a city.

That in order to do big things, citizens must be organized to accomplish them.

That citizens who have faith in the home city must back that faith with work and dollars.

That the people of modern cities have proven themselves aggressive and wide-awake.

By cooperating in making it a bigger and better city.

By instilling home pride in the minds of all the people.

By dwelling together in peace and harmony.

By pulling together to make honest industry and fair and square dealing on the part of all. By good-will and enthusiasm. Enthusiasm means a common opposition to all things that hold a city backward, which in turn means a cleaner, happier and finer city in which to live and a better city in which to do business.

Landslide Buries One Worker Alive

By United Press. ST. CATHERINE, Ont., Oct. 20.—One man was reported buried alive and at least nine others were seriously injured late today when a landslide occurred on the Welland canal, five miles north of here.

The slide came at a time when 45 men were engaged in building a dock on the canal for the Ontario Paper Mill. The construction foreman was unable to offer any reason for the accident.

The injured were taken to St. Catherine's hospital. The identity of the man reported smothered under the rush of dirt was unknown. The slide covered an area estimated to be 40 by 60 feet.

J. C. Penny Company To Open Store In Eastland Next March In West Main Building Constructed Especially

(Eastland Telegram) The J. C. Penny Company will open a store in Eastland about next March and will occupy a new store building on West Main street just opposite the Connelley Hotel, according to George M. Harper of the Eastland Storage Battery Company, who has sold the real property site to outside interests who have planned to construct the building. The J. C. Penny Company is said to have signed a long-time lease on the lot on which the building will stand has a 55-foot front and a depth of 100 feet. The building will occupy the whole front of the lot and extend back to a depth of 75 feet, but a 15-foot frontage will be cut from one side, extending back the whole depth, which will be sublet to another tenant, so that the J. C. Penny store will have a frontage of 40 feet and a depth of 75 feet.

The building will be one-store and is to have a 17-foot ceiling on the ground floor. It will be of brick building, with the standard J. C. Penny Company front. The company's office will be over the store at the front. A merchandise balcony 30 by 55 feet will be built at the rear of the store for the ladies ready-to-wear department.

S. Kellum Shields, of the J. C. Penny Company real estate department, was in Eastland Thursday making final check on plans for the building. He said that so many Eastland patrons had frequented the company's stores in Ranger, Cisco and Breckenridge that it was decided good support would be possible in Eastland and it would be advisable to put in a store here.

"The J. C. Penny Company takes special interest in the welfare and progress of each city and town where it has a store," said Mr. Shields. "The J. C. Penny Company managers always find time for civic work, they affiliate with local civic clubs and in every way throw the weight of the J. C. Penny Company influence into every good project for the advancement of that community. So it is a good thing for any town or city to have a J. C. Penny Company store."

This is the 26th year of operation of the J. C. Penny Company. The company now operates 1,024 stores and it is understood that by the time the building will be ready for the Eastland store it will be numbered about 1,075. Work on the J. C. Penny Company building is December tenth.

at the home of Mrs. C. A. Smith on Elm street. The house was beautifully decorated throughout in the Halloween motif.

Piano solos were given by Miss Nell Tibbels and Mrs. F. P. Brasher. Miss Helen Howdeshell and Mrs. C. D. Davis favored the members with vocal solos. The two numbers rendered by Miss Gillian Buchanan, violin, accompanied by Miss Nell Tibbels, piano, were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. C. E. Maddocks gave a very inspiring talk on the work of the Child Study Clubs and the Parent-Teacher associations.

The games and contests for the afternoon were very original and created much excitement which was climaxed by the appearance of a witch in quest of her stolen cat. While looking for her black cat she favored many ladies by reading their palm and predicting them much for the future.

Delicious refreshments of cake, salad, nuts, mints and coffee were served.

Those registering for the afternoon were: Mmes. W. W. Mitchell, E. H. Mills, F. P. Brasher, E. E. Martin, Charles Hummel, Bill Brasher, Dick Elliott, V. W. Wetter, J. K. Pevehouse, W. R. Ament, H. ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE.

Wednesday evening Miss Mae Vestal entertained a party of friends with bridge at the home of Mrs. George E. True in the Ghoson addition. The house was attractively decorated with mockingbirds, owls, bats and cats. Pumpkins of orange paper with figures on them in black numbered four tables. Tally cards in Halloween designs showed each his place. The spooky atmosphere was soon dispelled and at a late hour Mr. Sam Brimberry was awarded the motto "Out Where the West Begins" for high score. Mr. Odie Kinney was consoled with a book on "How to Play Bridge."

Cake, with ice cream molded in the form of pumpkins, were served to Mrs. V. Hopkins, Mrs. June Pearson, Misses Gladys Johnson, Letha Wetzel, Helen Howdeshell, Elizabeth Cotton, Charlotte Ratliff, and Messrs. V. Houkins, D. A. Harkrider, O. Denney, R. L. HERE is as rare an opportunity in dresses as J. C. Penney Company, in its long years of apparel-achievements, has yet succeeded in presenting!

A manufacturer, eager to gain in his field as enviable a reputation for value-giving as we enjoy in ours, produced these dresses... in strict accordance with his usual high standard of quality, but at a substantial concession from his usual price.

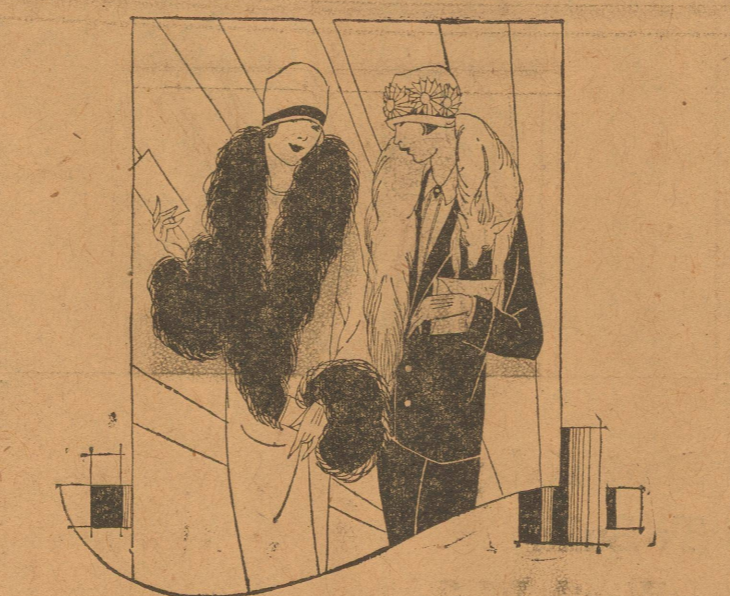

We sent a Committee of Three to choose the cream of his models—and the committee's verdict was "a fascinating collection."

"MARVELOUS" DESCRIBES TULSA'S OIL EXPOSITION

Special to The Times. TULSA, Okla.—To study the most modern methods employed in exploration for oil and gas, in producing these when found and transporting them to the markets, and their utilizations ranging from dust laying to perfume and fruit extract manufacture, delegates interested in the petroleum industry are coming to Tulsa this week from more than thirty foreign nations and all the states in the union for the International Petroleum Exposition and Congress, October 20 to 29.

National associations connected with the industry, national, state and city geology, paleontological, agricultural, industrial, civic and commercial organizations are holding their major conventions during the World's Fair of the Oil Industry, as the Tulsa event has come to be known.

More than half a thousand of the foremost manufacturers for the industry are represented in the displays of nearly 300 exhibitors who occupy two lineal miles of booths and 200,000 square feet of display space in open air lots.

Of the 250,000 expected to attend there will be many who will learn for the first time the great part the industry has assumed, directly and indirectly, in their lives. Petroleum has eliminated cinners and dust which were once so closely associated with railway travel; eliminated the old unwieldy stoves and lamps; provided comfortable and independent travel in automobiles and airplanes; provided hundreds of medicinals, dyes, tonorial needs, flavoring extracts, perfumery essentials, lubricants, waxes and thousands of other things so necessary and so little thought upon.

While the men and women who have had years of experience in the oil industry may spend their time to advantage hearing experts discuss scholarly papers on all phases of the industry from mud laden fluids to elimination of noxious mercaptans, and examining the many exhibits to study the utilizations of principles in physics, chemistry and other of the sciences; the amateurs and persons of no information in the industry will find the exposition thoroughly enjoyable.

Weigh Pencil Mark.

Of the twelve steel derricks on the grounds, six will be in operation throughout the oil show. Drilling, however, will not proceed beyond 600 foot depth because below that there is a proven gas sand. Powerful steam, gasoline, diesel and electric engines and motors, ranging in weight of from a few pounds to several tons are in the open lot displays.

The array of geological specimens to be shown is said by recognized geologists to be the largest and finest ever presented in the United States. To add interest to the micro-paleontological displays microscopes will be provided for the visitors so that they may examine the minute fossils found in various strata. The Askania-Worke company of Germany is demonstrating the wonder instruments of geophysics, the torsion balance, the magnetometer and the seismograph. With these instruments the geologist learns the most hidden secrets of the earth. Many other very interesting instruments, such as the chainometer balances which weigh a pencil mark or a sun beam as easily as chip of rock, make up the exhibits in the Scientific and Technical building.

Other educational features are: a miniature lease showing pumping wells in action, storage tanks, boilers and water tanks; United States Bureau of Mines exhibits showing: safety car, safety bull wheel and other safety features, miniature bubble towers and equipment used in the manufacture of natural gasoline, and an operating model of a crude oil refining plant.

Special features of the exposition are the organization of a permanent association of pioneers of the industry, and the fourth annual first aid meet of the safety section of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association with the national safety council co-operating.

All of the veterans of the industry who have been in the oil business for fifty years or more will be honored. The Grand Old Man of the oil industry of the world will be selected on a basis of length of service in the industry and will receive the exposition's gold medal. The official host to the old timers is Joseph H. "Uncle Joe" Evans, president of the Devonian Oil company, who entered the industry sixty-three years ago.

What is being done to make the oil fields and plants of the industry as safe for workmen as the business office will be shown by means of demonstrations, moving pictures, posters and other interesting mediums.

Entertainment Features.

The social amenities and wholesome diversions are not missing in the program of the oil show. Although it is the policy of the exposition to keep out all entertainment and selling concessions from the ground because of the possibility of their becoming a nuisance, there will be an Indian village made up of the best dancers and singers of the Ponca, Sac and Fox, Ootow, Creek, Pottawatomie, Quapaw, Cherokee, Choctaw, Kaw, Kiowa and Osage tribes.

A golf tournament will be conducted by the exposition at the Tulsa Country club. The matches will be played in flights of sixteen players each and all matches will be for eighteen holes except the championship match in which agreement may be made for thirty-six holes. At least fifty beautiful silver loving cups and medals will be awarded to the winners.

On October 27, gridiron fans may see the elevens of Tulsa and Phillips Universities clash at McNulty park. There is an intense spirit of rivalry between the teams and last year Phillips dealt Tulsa University its only defeat. Boxing and wrestling matches are also scheduled for the exposition period.

The Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Civitans, Optimists, American Business, Traffic and Cosmopolitan clubs, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, will mobilize during the exposition to serve visiting members. Foreign delegates will be the speakers at the meeting for the furtherance of international understanding.

Numerous banquets will be held. On the opening day of the exposition visiting newspapermen will attend a press banquet at which Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the boards of the Bethlehem Steel corporation and the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company, will be the principal speaker. Schwab will officially open the exposition at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

All of the exposition proceeds, from the introduction of Schwab by Harry H. Rogers, president of the Exchange National bank of Tulsa, to the closing ceremony will be radio-cast. KVOO will send out the message of Governor Henry S. Johnston to the veterans of the industry, the banquet address by Schwab, and the talks of other national leaders at the numerous exposition affairs.

Loud speakers distributed about the grounds of the exposition will bring the messages of candidates in the presidential race, market quotations, sport results and other items to the visitors.

WHIRLWIND

BY ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Sybil Thorne, bride of two weeks, leaves her husband on their honeymoon. She is returning from Havana with Mabel Blake, a Boston social worker, with whom she took the voyage on which she met Richard Eustis, who wooed and won her in five days. On their wedding night Richard becomes intoxicated and remains in that condition the greater part of the time. Sybil, disgusted with him, leaves him, returning to Boston with Mabel who, meantime, has become engaged to Jack Moore an American who she met in Havana.

regarding her marriage with him. Because of her persevering love for John, Sybil fears that she may not love Craig enough to marry him. Then she meets Eustis and life grows more complicated.

Now go on with the story:

CHAPTER XXV
Sybil leaned comfortably back in her deck chair.

"Mother wasn't very well you know, and they packed me off to boarding school about as soon as I could walk. Dad had plenty of money then."

"From the beginning I was a square peg in a round hole. If a little girl at convent school doesn't conform to the standard pattern of propriety, she fits about as well as a little skunk at a garden party. Nobody had much use for me except the Mother Superior—and she didn't see me often enough to count."

"So I grew up into a rebellious, discontented child—the product of my environment. All an accident, you see. If Mother had been well, I could have lived at home.

Association with Tad and my father would have made a different girl of me.

"Then when I was 12, I went to see his regiment over. Another accident—missing out that way. I almost went crazy with grief."

"And pretty soon they told me he was 'missing in action.' Presumably killed," his lieutenant wrote. They were getting blown up in columns. Millions of men came through alive. Tens of thousands were killed. Life or death—it was just an accident."

"I became a different person when I knew John was dead. I had always been an idealistic little thing. Sort of rebellious and arrogant on top—but underneath—oh, my dear, I used to be quite sweet and nice. But then my hopes died, and my dreams—and all my lovely ideals."

"It was after that I started running round and making a fool of myself. And I got a reputation you know. If John had lived, I would have married him, and been an exemplary little wife. I would have had three children by this time, and been a model of all domesticity, really."

"Then Daddy died. And Tad married the wrong girl. And—oh, my dear. Of course, there's no use talking, but—"

Mabel patted her hand comfortingly.

"There, dear. Don't get yourself all excited. But Mabel, what chance have we anyhow? Circumstances of circumstances. Buffeted around—"

Sybil's marriage has been particularly unfortunate because of her engagement to Craig Newhall, who has loved her devotedly for several years. Mabel hopes that a quiet divorce may be obtained, and that Sybil may still marry Craig. But if Sybil is going to have a child that complicates matters.

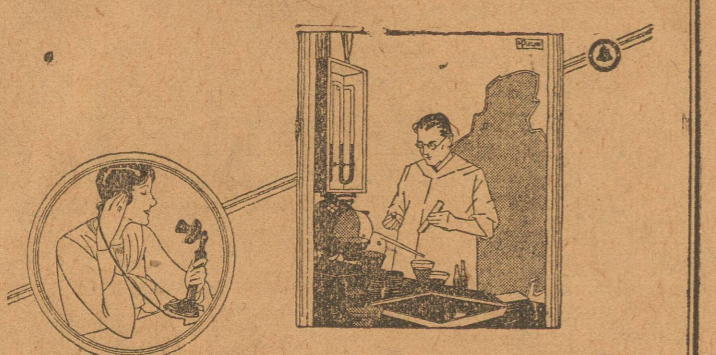

Prior to her engagement to Craig Sybil loved John Lawrence, a soldier who was sent to France on the eve of their marriage and never returned. Following the death of her father and the marriage of her brother, Tad, to Valerie West, a selfish and flighty little thing, Sybil suggested to Craig that she take a vacation with Mabel in order to reach a decision

CHRYSLER

Chrysler's only real competition is Chrysler

THE first Chrysler established a margin of superiority over all other cars in style, performance and value that has been maintained ever since. . . The true competition Chrysler has to face therefore is with Chrysler—to make sure that each succeeding Chrysler is better than the Chryslers that have gone before. . . Public demand for the newest Chryslers today tells how well Chrysler has succeeded. Chrysler's largest production is just now beginning to satisfy that demand. . . The public is delighted with the new style that re-styles all motor cars—new slender-profile radiator, arched-windows and the graceful sweep of the new "air-wing" fenders—avoidance everywhere of the bulky and cumbersome. . . And with Chrysler's smooth performance, riding luxury and safety—"Silver-Dome" high-compression engine, using any gasoline; internal-expanding hydraulic 4-wheel brakes, efficient in any weather; and hydraulic shock absorbers. . . Other cars seek to compare themselves with Chrysler in style, performance and value which really do not compare with Chrysler at all. Chrysler's only real competitor is—Chrysler.

"In town! This weather!"
"Well, Fall's almost here, you know, Sybil. Here it is September, already."

They had dinner together at the Touraine. Valerie was late, as usual. She was very dazzling as she came flying in. American beauty was the vogue just then and Val's ensemble was unquestionably stunning. The color heightened her glowing cheeks, and the bit of mole about her high collar was most becoming.

"Hello, everybody. Sorry I'm late. Win Wingate was at Barb's tea—and he's a perfect howl. I simply couldn't get away. Why, Sib, what's the matter? You look like a wreck. Guess Havana's fast life got you, darling. Too many cocktails make crows' feet."

Sybil could have choked her. "I'm all right," she said evenly. "Thanks for your solicitude."

Craig pressed her arm lovingly. "I thought Sybil looked wonderfully well," he lied loyally.

She felt his eyes on her all through dinner, searching, anxious—so kind and good. And she thought, irrelevantly, of other eyes—mad blue eyes, that devoured her body and soul. And she wondered, as she toyed with her salad and smile across at Craig, what had happened to Richard.

There had been a wireless message on the boat from Jack Moore, lacking altogether in detail. Everything fine," he had radioed. "Of all the dum messages!" sputtered Sybil, and showed it to Mabel. "It doesn't mean a thing."

"Oh, yes, it does, and I think," opined Mabel coolly, "that Jack is quite worthy of being trusted."

That was the day the redoubtable Mr. Moore, fortified by a few drinks, dropped round to the Seville for the avowed intention of telling Richard what he thought of him. He delivered himself with scant forbearance and considerable eloquence, saving his finishing touch for his grand finale.

"Sybil and Mabel," he proclaimed, wiping his forehead, for the strength of his endeavors had made him hot and moist. He smiled with sardonic satisfaction.

"Sybil and Mabel," he announced, "sailed this afternoon."

Richard looked at him blankly. "Sailed?" he repeated stupidly.

"Yes—sailed! . . . And you've lost one damn fine little wife, prodded Moore savagely.

"You don't mean Sybil's really gone?"

"That's exactly what I mean. And what's more," gibed Jack, "she never wants to see you again."

"The devil she doesn't!" Richard sprang angrily to his feet. "You keep out of this, Moore," he threatened. "Sybil's my wife."

"More's the pity," taunted Jack. "We'll take care of our own affairs," countered Richard furiously. "And I'll thank you to mind your own business."

Jack smiled maddeningly. "Don't thank me," he begged politely. "Because you know—really, Eustis—I've already got my finger in the pie."

Nonchalantly he fingered the offending card of Isabella Petite. "I wonder," he speculated idly—"how do you get that way, Eustis?"

He flipped the soiled pasteboard contemptuously. "Isabella Petite," he read. "Amistad and Cognac. Una triguena. Abajo. . . . Grounds for divorce if I'm not mistaken, my friend. I think, if you don't mind, Goodby, Eustis. You might tell Isabella, if you see her again, that I think Mrs. Eustis owes her a vote of thanks."

Outside the room, Moore squared his shoulders and drew a deep breath. Downstairs he scribbled a radiogram: "Don't worry. All's well."

And Mabel, when she received it, smiled. "The darling fool," she murmured. "He doesn't know what he's talking about."

For weeks Sybil waited fearfully for word from her husband. Every time the telephone rang she feared a message. She watched for the postman as she had watched once, years ago, when every day brought a letter from John Lawrence. Nervously she sorted the mail, looking always for the foreign stamp that would mean Richard was still in Havana.

Jack Moore had written that he understood Eustis had moved from the Seville to a smaller hotel in the suburbs, where John Arnold had become friendly with an American widow and had financed the opening of an American Tea and Coffee Shoppe, of which they were co-partners.

Richard was probably in on it too, wrote Moore. Living expenses were high in Havana, and he had reason to believe that Eustis had already found himself in debt.

Away from the glamour of his presence, Sybil put Richard calmly down as an adventurer and a philanderer.

"I don't care that for him!" she would say, and snap her fingers derisively in the lonely darkness of her bedroom.

But then, when sleep would not come, she would put her hands wildly to her head to still the maddening beat in her temples. And, by and by, she would lie quietly on her back, with her arms stretched along her fevered body.

"O Love! O Fire! Once he drew With one long kiss my whole soul through My lips, as sunlight drinketh dew."

"I hate him! I hate him!" she sobbed, and her heart was full of loathing.

Weeks passed, and there had been no word. Once, as she glanced apprehensively through the day's mail, she remembered that she would not know Richard's handwriting if she should see it.

"I never even had a love letter from him!" she reflected bitterly. The car rings he had given her she had left on her dressing table at the Seville. They had been his only gift. The little sapphire euclet she had worn as a wedding ring had mysteriously disappeared, and Sybil regarded its loss as a good omen.

"I've nothing," she told herself, "to remind me of him—not a keepsake nor a gift. . . Nothing to haunt me but wretched memories."

She thought less often of John Lawrence, and more frequently of Craig Newhall.

Special to The Times. Quite a few of the Dan Horn farmers are digging peanuts. Some have begun thrashing. Most of the cotton is gathered, although a few farmers are not through yet. W. B. Starr and sons and several of the neighbor boys went to the fair at Dallas Saturday, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Speegle and children and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Speegle and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Laster and family at Seranton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Adams have returned from McComey.

Miss Verda Gilbert, who is teaching at Seranton spent Tuesday night with Miss Ethel Starr.

Woodard McCulloch, who was run over by a car in Cisco recently, is rapidly improving.

Mrs. Sam Hull visited Mrs. Hattie Sawyers at Seranton Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Veda Livingston spent last Wednesday night with Misses Bernice and Eunice Bradshaw.

Marvin Weed and family of near Putnam were Sunday visitors with his mother, Mrs. W. M. Weed. W. T. Horn and Miss Alda Mae Peavy were married recently. We extend to them our congratulations. Mrs. A. G. Speegle and sons are at Ira visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. C. King.

Family Menu

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Stewed pears, cereal cream, potato omelet, cinnamon toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked cabbage with bacon, Boston brown bread, ripe olives, bread pudding with meringue lemonade.

DINNER—Rabbit pie, smothered onions, jellied cranberries, entrée, deep dish apple pie, milk, coffee.

The following bread pudding is delicious and particularly good for children.

Bread Pudding With Meringue
One cup stale bread crumbs from soft part of loaf 2 cups hot milk, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 eggs 1-4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Add crumbs to hot milk and let stand covered, until cold. Add one whole egg and one yolk beaten until light, sugar, melted butter, cinnamon and salt. Beat well and turn into a buttered baking dish. Bake in a slow oven for about an hour. Remove from oven and cover top with jelly. Beat white of egg until stiff and dry. Beat in 2 tablespoons powdered sugar and a few drops of vanilla. Pile roughly on top of pudding and put in a slow oven for 15 minutes to puff and color for the meringue. Serve either warm or cold.

AMARILLO—Tri-State fair held here recently was success.
