YANKS GRAB FIFTH GAME, SCORE 3-1

THREE NATIONS UNITE TODAY AS ONE COUNTRY

Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador Join Hands to Form Republic.

By Associated Press.
TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Oct. 10.—A new nation having an approximate area of 100,000 miles and a population of 4,000,000 came into existence today when the governments of Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador ceased to function and the Provisional Federal Council of the Central American federation, composed of those countries, will take charge.

The new republic lies between Mexico and Nicaragua, with Tegucigalpa as its capital.

The pact of the union was signed early in January of this year at San Jose, Costa Rica, by the three mentioned states and Costa Rica, whose national assembly rejected it later by a vote of 19 to 20.

Nicaragua Holds Out
Nicaragua refused to sign the pact on account of differences with its neighbor states about the interpretation of the Bryan-Chamorro treaty, which gave to the United States special right for the construction of a new interoceanic canal through its territory.

Similar considerations apparently prevailed in Costa Rica but in both countries the public opinion is divided and a Unionist party is endeavoring to bring about, some time, the union of Nicaragua and Costa Rica to the federation. If this comes to a fulfillment, the population of the new nation would be increased by 1,000,000 inhabitants and would extend its boundary down to Panama.

Racially One
The union of these sister republics has been a national aspiration since eighty years ago when political troubles destroyed the Federal Republic of Central America which, as a whole, liberated itself from the Spanish power in 1821 and maintained its unity until the forties. They speak the same language, Spanish, have the same religion, Roman Catholics, and are of the same race, predominantly Indian, except in Costa Rica, where the white race prevails. Since the Spanish conquest they have had identical legislation and the same culture.

The text of the treaty of union provides for a government modeled on the lines of the constitution of the United States, with three separate branches, the executive, legislative and judicial, although the executive is modeled more on the Swiss system. A constitution embodying these provisions was finally approved by the constituent assembly which met in September at Tegucigalpa.

After Half Century At 'Draw' 'Kick' In Royal Flush Proves Fatal Blow For Aged Player

By United Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Medical Examiner Nammack reported today that Philip Brenner, 67 years old, a retired tailor, had died of cerebral hemorrhage, superinduced by a royal flush. Brenner was playing in a 10c limit-family poker game last night at the home of his son-in-law. In one hand, all the players stood pat before the draw and there was considerable raising. This continued after the technical draw, and Brenner suddenly collapsed. The medical examiner, seeking a cause for the stroke, found that Brenner had held a "once-in-a-lifetime, hand, ace, king, queen, jack and ten of hearts."

$2,000 IN SCRIP BEING HELD FOR DEPOSITORS

Remainder of $50,000 Guaranty Deposits Paid Out to Last Penny.

Approximately $2,000 in scrip issued by the Retail Merchants' Association against accounts in the Guaranty State Bank is being held for depositors who have not collected their additional 25 per cent on the assignment of accounts, President Humes of the association said today. The remainder of the $50,000 in deposits has already been handled by the association and has been checked out to the last cent, Humes said, thus demonstrating that the association is fully capable of handling such an undertaking. All persons making assignments of their accounts and receiving 75 per cent of the face value, were notified that the remaining 25 per cent would be paid them in scrip on their presenting receipts. In the majority of cases the assignees collected the scrip promptly.

HOYT ADDS ONE MORE JEWEL TO HERO'S CROWN

Giants Lose Chance for Turning Point in Series By Crushing Defeat.
By United Press.
POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 10.—Waite Hoyt, the Brooklyn high school boy, added another sparkling jewel to his hero's crown today when he won his second world series game for the Yankees, defeating the Giants, 3 to 1, in a bitterly fought game.

His victory made the score three and two in games for the series and gave the Giants a severe setback, who had looked upon victory in this game as the turning point.

Hoyt started out poorly in the first inning, when the Giants got their only run of the game. McNally fumbled Burns' grounder and started the trouble. Frisch singled off the pitcher's glove and Young walked, filling the bases. Kelly singled and the only Giant run of the game was over.

Art Nehf, the southpaw pitcher, started off in fine form. The Yanks got to him, however, in the third inning, when McNally walked, reached third on Schang's double and scored on Miller's sacrifice fly.

Babe Ruth, playing with an awfully sore arm, singled to open the fourth inning, on a hunt that took the Giants completely by surprise. Bob Meusel slashed out a double that put Babe over the pan, went to third on an infield out and counted the last run on a sacrifice fly.

The fifth game of the series was played under ideal conditions and was witnessed by a crowd of 35,000.

Harry Harper, lefthander, is expected to pitch tomorrow in the sixth game for the Yanks, while McGraw may call on either Jess Barnes or Pat Shea.

Germans are alleged to be smuggling counterfeit safety razor blades and pencil cases into Paris where street hawkers sell them for one-half the price of the genuine article.

NEW FLAG FAILS TO REPLACE OLD IN GERMAN MIND

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The black, red and gold flag of the German republic is less in evidence than any other of the dozen or more official emblems town and city of the country. The most popular banner is the black, which wave from houses of every white and red of the former empire. In some provinces and in a number of towns the republican flag has never been flown, is not recognized, and cannot be purchased. Even in Berlin, seat of the government, the flying standards of the empire outnumber those of the republic, which appear generally to be restricted to necessary official use or to popular demonstrations in favor of the new regime. The red flag of the communists usually flies side by side with the republican colors during any popular parades or manifestations. Merchants Balk. The only definite effort to prevent the use of the flag of the republic has come from the mercantile interests, which are strenuously seeking authority to retain their old colors—the flag of the empire with the outline of an iron cross in the upper right hand corner. It is argued that this flag was known in nearly every part of the world before the war and that its abandonment would handicap German shipping, which is seeking with all available means to regain its pre-war prestige. The government has indicated that a referendum may soon be held to permit the people generally to decide whether the demand of the mercantile interests should be granted. Each German state holds proudly to its old colors—the black-white of Prussia, the blue-white of Bavaria, the green-white of Saxony, and, among the German residents, the yellow-white of Upper Silesia. East Prussia flies the flag of the empire, and declares it will have no other. Supporters of the republic profess confidence that the great majority of the people would willingly support the republic in an emergency, notwithstanding the widespread attachment to other flags.

Rural School Teachers Need Pay; Can't Get It Unless Some Bank Will Become Depository for School Funds

Rural school teachers cannot be paid until a depository for school funds is selected and this cannot be done because no bank has bid for the deposits, is a statement of Miss Ulala Howard, superintendent of instruction for Eastland county, in a public appeal to bankers to become depository for these funds. Miss Howard's letter follows: "The rural schools and smaller independent districts of our county have no depository. The state department of education has refused to send the state funds until a depository is secured by the commissioners' court for these funds. "If the 50-cent apportionment was set aside the first of October as was planned by this department, Eastland county has about $4,000 with which our teachers could be paid their salaries for September. But we have no depository! "I have been informed that, although the advertisements were made according to the regulations of the law, that no bank made a bid. The statement that no personal nor surety bond would be accepted was erroneous. The only bond provided for by the law, and therefore the only bond that can be required is a personal bond signed by two or more sureties. Teachers Need Pay. "The teachers are needing their pay and some of them are needing it badly. The county judge has informed me that the commissioners' court will select any bank in the county as depository that will bid not less than 1 1/2 per cent without further delay of advertising, as he has been advised that the proceeding will be legal. "The bond will not be as heavy as heretofore, owing to the fact that there will not be so much money involved. The law requires that the amount of bond be estimated by the county superintendent for a sum that will cover the amount of funds coming into the hands of the depository during the year. I can assure you that the amount of this bond will not be more than $50,000, although it was $100,000 last year. I feel sure the depository will not lose anything whatever, by bidding a small per cent. "Shall the schools of Eastland county suffer because no bank is willing to take over these funds? Will the banks of Eastland county fail to stand by the rural schools of our county? I believe they will not fail us. "ULALA HOWARD, "County Superintendent."

WORTHAM MAY BEGIN DRILLING ON TOWNSITE

William McGinn, formerly head of the publicity bureau of Breckenridge and Crystal Falls, is now at Wortham, he says in a letter to the Times. If other developments follow the Meadows well, there will soon be a town-site drilling campaign there, rivaling Breckenridge and Burk Burnett, he believes. The chief interest now is in the Bounds well, one mile north of the town.

POSITIONS THAT PAY WELL AND ARE ALWAYS TO BE HAD

The perfecting of typesetting key-boards has brought new and unusual opportunities in the printing business. The business that gives development to great minds. Positions of this kind always have paid well and perhaps always will, and doubtless they will always be plentiful, because the printing business expands as civilization develops. Anybody who could learn to operate a typewriter can learn to operate a typesetting machine. If you want to learn how to do the work of a monotype machinist; if you want to learn to do the work of an intertype or a linotype machinist; if you want to learn to operate any of these machines; if you want to learn the work of the business office—if you want to get into a work that will always pay you well, and if you can spare three to four months for preparation, write for Prospectus to American Publishers' and Southern Publishers' TYPE-SETTING DEPARTMENT of the GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.—Adv.

EIGHTH INNING BATFEST GIVES GAME TO GIANTS

Mays' Slip on Grass Gives Nationals Chance to Cop; Babe Hits Homer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A slippery spot on the turf may have cost the Yanks another lap in the world series pennant chase yesterday.

For seven innings Carl Mays had gone along without trouble, his underhand serving turning the Giants back even more effectively than in the first game of the series.

That Mays was game clear through showed then in the emotionless manner he disposed of Bancroft and Frisch.

Both teams counted again in the ninth: The Giants when George Kelly got his first hit of the series, a double to left, and came home on Meusel's one-base slam to the same territory.

FILM SMILES -and so forth By Hi Speed

FILM TITLERS HAVE NO MERCY ON HUBBY

THE title of an oncoming film suggests the dollar mark as an appropriate design for "The Husband's Trademark."

who insists that the trademark for some married men should be a ball and chain.

Screen queens quickly discover that "A Lady's Name" is never taken in vain when it gets into publicity.

There is a limit even to dissipation. "Pleasure Seekers" in countless towns can thank their stars for the picture show.

Good news! "Discontented Wives" are to be all assembled in one film.

"Pilgrims of the Night" indicates that resort to a hymn-book may sometimes bring up a film-title.

Tips for Travelers There should be a stiff war-tax on tickets for "A Trip to Mars".

Despite the general impression that all news gatherers use lead pencils, reporters for Selznick News use a camera.

Miracles of the movies continue. "The Desert Shall Bloom" despite the drought some folks complain about.

In acting as Conway Tearle's leading lady in "After Midnight", Zena Keefe demonstrates the unselfishness of screen stars.

Some Fitting Titles For gamblers: "Bucking the Tiger". Moonshiners: "Outside the Law". Poultrymen: "The Chicken in the Case".

Divorcees: "Love Is an Awful Thing". Servants: "Through the Back Door".

PROGRAM

TEMPLE—Norma Talmadge in "The Passion Flower," and comedy.

LIBERTY—"The Other Woman," (all-star cast), and Mutt and Jeff comedy.

MANHATTAN—William Russell in "The Lady from Longacre," also a Sunshine comedy, "A Devilish Romeo."

MAJESTIC—Rudyard Kipling's "Without Benefit of Clergy," and comedy, "The Tourist."

MAJESTIC.

If Rudyard Kipling had never written any other story than "Without Benefit of Clergy" he would still be one of the greatest authors of the world.

If every one of the greatest features that have ever been made were wiped out, "Without Benefit of Clergy," as shown at the Majestic theatre yesterday and will run two more days, would, in itself, proclaim the greatness of the art to future generations.

In its revelation of a wonderful love; in its amazing power to move the human heart; in its intensity of emotion; in its superb acting, its mysticism and its colorful and perfect presentation; in its very simplicity, "Without Benefit of Clergy" stands alone. It is the screen's greatest triumph.

It tells the story of the love of an Englishman for a Hindu girl, whom he bought with gold. It was but an episode in his life, but it was her whole existence. As transferred to the screen from Mr. Kipling's own scenario, it grips the emotions with an even greater intensity than the story.

Enough cannot be said of Virginia Brown Faire as Ameera. It is hard to believe she isn't really the dusky-skinned, adoring, 16-year-old heroine. Thomas Holding is excellent as Holden, and such characters as Ameera's mother, Holden's servant, the money-lender and the old soldier are wonderfully portrayed by Evelyn Selbie, Boris Karloff, Otto Lederer and Nigel de Brulier, respectively.

James Young's direction is superb. Mr. Young has many splendid pictures to his credit, but nothing that touches "Without Benefit of Clergy."

MANHATTAN.

The story of "The Lady from Longacre" has action in abundance, and not a little mystery. This Fox photoplay opened at the Manhattan theatre last night, and judging from the enthusiasm expressed by the audience, it scored an emphatic success.

WILLIAM RUSSELL

"THE LADY FROM LONGACRE"

The photostory of a lord who wouldn't be an aristocrat, and a princess who didn't want her heritage.

Also a Sunshine Comedy—"A DEVILISH ROMEO"

William Russell, the star, appears as Sir Anthony, and there isn't a moment that "Tony," as he prefers to be known, doesn't hold his audience's wrapt attention.

The story is that of a "scapecracker" lord, "Tony" (William Russell) finds adventure galore when he rescues from conspirators a princess who has fled from her kingdom.

"The Lady from Longacre" is live entertainment.

TEMPLE.

One of the most unusual love stories ever brought to the screen, is that told in Norma Talmadge's latest picture, "The Passion Flower," adapted from Jacinto Benavente's successful stage play of the same name.

"The Passion Flower" is a story of old Spain, of its peasantry and their everyday lives, with the center of the story, Acacia, one of its beautiful daughters, called the "passion flower" because of her wonderful beauty and intense, passionate emotionalism.

Acacia, who loved her dead father with deep devotion, is heartbroken when her mother marries Esteban, a much younger man. She scorns her stepfather with all the hatred of her soul, refuses to call him "father" and never allows him to approach her.

time her hatred is aroused more profoundly until her heart is filled with misgivings at what the future may hold for them.

The story of Esteban's love for Acacia, its revelation to the mother in a crashing climax and subsequent tragedies that finally give way to a happy ending forms a picture that will enshrine Norma Talmadge more dearly in the hearts of her host of admirers.

TO KEEP OR NOT TO KEEP WINE GLASSES, IS PROBLEM

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Thin, glistening wine glasses, hundreds of dozens of them worth thousands of dollars, are stored away in the big hotels of New York and the stewards don't know what to do about it.

Prohibition made the glassware useless for the hotels, most stewards feeling it dishonorable to past memories to serve ginger ale and impotent grape juice in the fine old wine glasses.

A Fifth avenue hotel announced it had written off $109,000 on glassware at its after-prohibition inventory and others estimated their idle drinking accessories at sums almost as high.
