OIL HOPS ANOTHER 25 CENTS TO $1.75

RAISE POSTED BY PRAIRIE AND TEXAS COMPANY

Former Also Meets Price of $1.50 for Oklahoma and Kansas Made Recently.

Ranger and Burkburnett crude went to $1.75 per barrel at 7 o'clock this morning, both the Prairie Oil & Gas company and the Texas company posting a 25-cent raise over the $1.50 price which the Prairie posted Saturday and which was met by other companies. Other companies are expected to meet the new price immediately. The Prairie also announced that it had met the $1.50 price for Oklahoma and Kansas crude, posted two days ago by the Texas company.

Today's increase, the third since Sept. 28, has been expected for some days and while oil men are naturally pleased, there was not the surprise attached to last Saturday's increase. Predictions are being freely made that today's price is but a step in the advances that will send oil to $2 and possibly to $2.50.

Evidence of Revival.
Evidence that the increased prices have resulted in renewed activity can be seen on the streets and highways, in the shape of trucks loaded with workmen and supplies, and the higher the price, the greater will be the revival, in the opinion of oil men.

This is especially true as regards new drilling, which was greatly curtailed when oil dropped last spring.

No announcement was made as to the reason for the new price, but it is presumed that the resumption of industrial activity in the north has depleted the reserve stocks until the law of supply and demand is again working in favor of the producer.

None of the big companies have as yet undertaken an extensive drilling program, but their intentions are to start several wells in a few months. The Sinclair will put down a new well on the Davis tract west of town, near the operations of Barney Carter and E. McC. Moore of the Vulcan company. Carter now is held up on the Earnest by a fishing job at about 1,500 feet, which is about 400 feet above the pay in that section. He will drill another well soon, it is said. The Moore well, on a Davis "strip," 70x2600 feet in size, is down about 500 feet. It has been drilling about two weeks, but the going has been slow.

Other Extensions.
Principal interest in the Stewart-Walker pool west of Frankell is in the Riverie Oil company and Ramey & Jackson, joint operators, just east of the Caddo road. This well has just resumed operations after an accident which badly damaged the derrick. It is said the well broke loose and ran amuck, making considerable repairing necessary. This well is seeking the deep pay found by the Stewart and Tee Pee and a good producer will mean a considerable extension to the east, which appears to be the only logical direction, as other operations have blocked out the limits on the north and west.

PENNSYLVANIA UP.
By Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 7.—Another boost in price of 25 cents a barrel was announced here today for the principal grades of crude oil, by the purchasing agencies. The new prices follow: Pennsylvania crude, $3; Corning, $1.90; Cabell, $1.85; Somerset, $1.65; Somerset light, $1.90; Ragland is unchanged. This is the second advance in crude posted this week.

BOYS DECLARE COMMANDANT IS A DRUNKARD

Witness Says "If He Killed Thames He Was Drunk When He Did It."

By United Press.
GATESVILLE, Oct. 7.—The use of intoxicating liquor by employes and instructors at the state training school for boys is under inquiry by the state board of control, following a probe into this charge which started yesterday. Two witnesses testified that they had seen H. G. Twyman, who is accused of murder in connection with the death of Dell Thames, under the influence of liquor.

Superintendent King answered regarding the use of liquor. When questioned concerning one man, he said that he is a "privileged character."

E. H. Trapp, instructor in the tail-or department, testified he had seen Twyman drunk two or three times.

Saw Twyman Drunk.
Lee Simpson, the star pupil of the school, was introduced in an effort to show what the school can do with bright boys. On cross examination, Simpson declared that he had seen Twyman so drunk once that he had to be carried to his room by guards. Both Trapp and Simpson said they had seen Twyman drunk at a ball game, and that he was taken from the grounds. Asked how drunk Twyman was, the Simpson boy said "I heard he fell off his horse."

Chairman Powell asked Trapp if he knew whether Twyman was drunk the evening he is alleged to have

LYNCH DAVIDSON DECLARES BAN ON KU KLUX KLAN

Lieutenant-Governor Says Legislature Should Convene to Prevent Parades.

HOUSTON, Oct. 7.—Lieutenant-Governor Lynch Davidson today issued a statement in which he suggested calling a special session of the legislature to enact legislation preventing parades of the Ku Klux Klan.

"Every state official should through his influence in the balance for government by duly elected authorities and not by secretly organized clans and groups who tar and feather women and drag helpless men from their firesides," the statement declares.

Was Once Power.
"No doubt the Ku Klux Klan was the salvation of the South immediately following the civil war. My kith and kin from far and near, including my father, played a strong hand in its affairs. While the present Ku Klux Klan may have done some good and cured some evils, all of these things could have been reached by the properly constituted authorities. The little good that it has accomplished at the outset has been offset many times by the acts of violence and lawlessness, emanating either from the Klan itself or sets of men operating under the cloak of the law. The source is immaterial as lawlessness and lack of respect of the law is the result.

Should Face About.
"Many citizens of this land joined the ranks of the present organization because of the warm memories of the old Ku Klux Klan. Every good citizen of Texas who acted on impulses and became a member of this organization, should now face about quickly and strike down what threatens to be a serpent in our midst. The organization is striking at the very heart of its foundations and to create civil strife."

SOUNDS COLD!
WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 7.—The cold wave reached here this morning at 5 o'clock, resulting in a drop in temperature to 55 degrees. A further fall in temperature is indicated. Reports from the Fort Worth & Denver state that snow is falling on the Texas line.

W. Moyes of 400 North Breckenridge street. The officers here are requested to look out for the lads and hold them for their father.

RIDE TO DALLAS TO 'GET' NEGRO, THEN RIDE BACK

David Bunn Confesses to Long List of Stick-ups and Assaults on Women.

By United Press.
DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 7.—A mob of forty or fifty Fort Worth citizens journeyed to Dallas in automobiles early today, with the avowed purpose of getting David Bunn, negro, who is being held in the county jail here, in connection with the alleged robbery and attempted criminal assault at Lake Worth Tuesday night. The mob failed in its purpose.

The negro had been brought to jail here from Fort Worth for safekeeping, as it was feared an attempt might be made to lynch him.

Shortly before midnight a mob of several hundred, including women and children, gathered about the Fort Worth jail, and cries of "bring him out! Let's get him!" etc., filled the air. The mob charged the front doors of the jail, and were permitted to enter the corridor. Here the sheriff stopped them, and offered to let a committee search the jail. When they failed to find the negro, a conference was held, and it was decided to go to Dallas after the negro.

About twenty automobile loads of men started for Dallas, and were seen to pass Arlington. It is believed that many of these realized the futility of attempting to storm the Dallas jail, and turned back. The small section of the mob arrived here about 3 o'clock this morning, and after being around the jail for about an hour, they disappeared.

FACES MANY CHARGES.
FORT WORTH, Oct. 7.—David Bunn, negro, self-confessed robber of the camp of J. R. Zuch and H. E. Crowley at Lake Worth Tuesday night, will be tried for the offense Friday, Oct. 14, in the criminal district court. The indictment charging this crime was returned with two others charging him with robbing Miss Lillian Mulkey and W. H. Ketchum in Forest park Monday afternoon. The indictments were returned within thirty-six hours of the time that he had committed the Crowley crime.

Victims of the negro unfolded crime after crime as they flocked to the district attorney's office to identify him. Not in the history of the county has a single man been identified as the perpetrator of so many crimes. The negro was moved back to Tarrant county for identification purposes but was soon moved away again but where to, officers would not say.

The first persons to come up Wednesday morning to look at the negro were Miss Lillian Mulkey, 3300 Avenue F, and W. H. Ketchum, 3315 Evans street, Polytechnic. They were in Forest park Monday afternoon at a picnic of some of the employes of Sangers' store where Miss Mulkey works. They strayed off just a little after 1 o'clock to eat their lunch and while so engaged the negro came up to them and commanded them to walk toward the bridge at the south end of the park. A white man was coming along and the negro lined him up also. He tied the two men's wrists together with barbed wire and tied the girl with a handkerchief and after four hours of wrangling and making all kinds of threats he obtained $20.65 from her and $2.05 from Ketchum. The three were marched up to the car line by the negro who gave them care and caught the same and rode as far as the Frisco crossing where he jumped off.

Miss Mulkey picked the negro from among ten others and Ketchum who followed her in after the negroes had been switched about, also identified him. He was indicted for robbing each by the use of firearms.

SAYS RINGLING HAS NOT TAKEN OVER THE ROAD

O. H. McCarty of Ardmore Takes Over General Management; Fraser on Visit.

O. H. McCarty of Ardmore yesterday became general manager of the Hamon lines, it is announced at the road's general offices here. He takes over the duties of J. H. Fraser, but Mr. Fraser will continue to act as vice-president and director. The change is made, Mr. Fraser said this morning, in order that he might devote time to other interests.

Mr. McCarty is general manager of all the Ringling railroads, but Mr. Fraser emphatically denied the rumors that Ringling interests have taken over the Hamon line. Mr. Ringling has not a dollar in the railroad, it was said, although he owns the Wichita Falls, Eastland & Gulf, which is being operated in connection with the Hamon road; is interested in other Hamon properties and has assisted Administrator Ketch in making financial arrangements in New York, but that was all. Mr. McCarty takes the position merely because "he is a good man for the job," said Mr. Fraser.

The new general manager was out this morning on an inspection trip, but Mr. Fraser said there would be no changes in policy or personnel that would not come in the ordinary course of events. The only change made yesterday was the addition of C. J. Rhoades, formerly auditor of the Eastland, Wichita & Gulf, to the auditor's office.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser left this morning for Chicago. They will be away about a week.

3 MEN HELD IN PIPE THIEVERY ARE RELEASED

The three men arrested Wednesday by the police in possession of two loads of tubing said to have been stolen from leases near the city, were released Thursday afternoon by Justice of the Peace McFatter following an investigation. The justice stated that the ownership of the tubing in question was unknown to the officers and that it had been picked up by the men around abandoned operations. The trio were out of work, McFatter explained, and one of them had a mother and grandmother to support. The prisoners before being released were given a lecture and ordered to carry the tubing back to the leases. One of the number claimed to know the owner of some of the tubing and was told that he would be allowed to dispose of it, if he obtained written consent.

The man removing and selling fifty-four joints of tubing from the Lauderdale lease operated by the Sun company, disposed of the pipe at a local junk yard and left town before he could be captured, officers said.

PRAIRIE AND TEXAS EASE COUNTY FINANCES BY PAYING YEAR'S TAXES

EASTLAND, Oct. 7.—Though the payments did not have to be made until Jan. 31 of next year, two oil companies Wednesday paid nearly $60,000 in county taxes in order to aid Eastland county just at this time when such aid is not amiss, due to the recent failure of the county depository.

County Judge Starnes stated that the Prairie Oil & Gas company had paid $43,488 and the Texas company had paid $15,236. It is expected that within the next few days other oil companies will make their payments.

MUGGSY'S MEN MURDER FOUR OPPOSING YANK MOUNDMEN IN A RIOUTOUS BALL-BATTLE

National Champions Come to Life in Third Round of World Series Program and Beat Cocky Yankees to Their Knees by Overwhelming Play.

BIG CITY SERVICE!
By use of the Hall Furniture company's amplifier, the Times will be able during the remainder of the world series, to give fans play by play service, every movement being called out in less than a minute after the play is made in New York. It is able to do this by maintaining an open telephone line to Dallas, where the plays are relayed just as fast as they come off a direct wire from the Polo Grounds. Every ball, every strike, every movement will be detailed and fans may follow the game in its entirety. They will know who is up, who is on, who is out, at practically the same moment the play is made. All Ranger fans are invited to come around and enjoy the service. Elm street's the place; 1 o'clock is the time.

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 7.—Coming suddenly to life after a forty-eight hour slump, the Giants rose and battered the cocky Yanks almost to a pulp in the third game of the world series here this afternoon.

Awakening with murder in their eyes the National league champions slaughtered four Yankee pitchers and won in a riot by a score of 13 to 5. Overwhelming play by the Nationals had the Yankees at their mercy throughout.

The third inning looked like another Yankee holiday, as they fell on Toney for a volley of hits that netted four runs. But Shawkey, with an easy victory staring him in the face, lost control and with the bases full walked in two runs. Quinn relieved him and the Giants, with re-awakened hopes, tied up the score. Then in the seventh the National league champions fell on Quinn and drove him from the box. Rip Collins fared no better and Huggins was forced to send in a recruit, Rogers, to stop the massacre. The Giants sent twelve men to bat in the round and scored eight runs. Both teams added another in the eighth, but the triumphant Giants made short work of the Yank batters in the final inning of the game.

The score:

TAX REVISION BILL WILL PASS WITH CHANGES

Amended Measure Includes Repeal of Tax on Freight, Passenger and Pullman.

By FRAZER EDWARDS, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Sweeping amendments demanded by Republican progressives in the senate, today were written into the Fordney-Penrose tax revision bill.

With President Harding's approval of the radical changes, the reluctant acquiescence of the "old guard" and the support of the agricultural "bloc," the early passage of the compromise measure was apparently assured.

The main changes are:

1. Increase of maximum surtax rates from 32 to 50 per cent.

2. Repeal of tax on freight, passenger and Pullman charges.

3. Repeal of the $2,000 exemption of corporations, estimated to yield $60,000,000 additional revenue.

4. Retention of the capital stock tax, estimated to yield $75,000,000.

5. Repeal of all business taxes, such as those on soft drinks and proprietary medicines.

6. Increased maximum rate of the state tax from 25 to 40 per cent on the states above $100,000,000.

There is still discussion on the 15 per cent corporate income tax, some leaders urging the present 10 per cent tax with a graduated scale on incomes above $50,000,000 a year.

The question of a 1-cent increase on first class postage is still unsettled. The Smoot sales tax proposal has been definitely rejected.

DEAD IN PARIS TRAIN CRASH MAY TOTAL 40
PARIS, Oct. 7.—Additional bodies were found early today in the debris of the two trains wrecked in the St. Lazare Station tunnel Wednesday night.

It is believed the death list may go to forty, as some of the fifty injured are in critical condition.

Yanks—Miller lined out to Frisch after taking two strikes. Frisch made a beautiful stab at the slashing drive. Peckinpaugh grounded out, Rawlings to Kelly. The crowd went crazy when Ruth came to bat, and he fanned out, swinging hard at the first and third strikes and taking the middle one. The crowd went wild again when the Bambino struck out. Toney got a big hand. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants—Burns flew out to R. Meusel. Bancroft went out, Ward to Pipp, on a weak roller. Frisch singled to right field. Young walked after fouling one and taking a called strike. With two on, Kelly grounded to McNally, who threw him out at first. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning.

Yanks—R. Meusel doubled to left field on the second pitch. It was a pop fly that dropped in left center and which neither Burns nor Bancroft could reach. Pipp sacrificed, Toney to Kelly, putting Meusel on third. Meusel was caught at the plate when Rawlings took Ward's grounder and threw to Snyder, Ward being safe at first. McNally forced Ward at second, when he hit to Bancroft. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning. Yanks—Devormer went out, Rawlings to Kelly. Baker batted for Rogers and flew out to Meusel. Miller was out, Frisch to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Giants—Devormer went behind the bat for the Yankees and Fester to left field in Ruth's place. E. Meusel singled to center and stole second as Rawlings struck out. Snyder singled to left, scoring Meusel. Barnes flew out to left. Burns doubled to left, Snyder stopping at third. Bancroft went out, Ward to Pipp. One run, three hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning. Yanks—Devormer went out, Rawlings to Kelly. Baker batted for Rogers and flew out to Meusel. Miller was out, Frisch to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

PREVENTION OF FIRE SUBJECT OF DRILLS HERE

Fire Prevention day was observed in the Young and Cooper schools this morning with special exercises, fire drills, talks by Chief Murphy and a special demonstration at the Cooper school by the fire department. The governor's proclamation was read to the students and the need of fire prevention stressed by Murphy. Fire drills were discussed by the chief and the pupils advised what to do in case of emergencies.

At the Cooper school, the auditorium on the third floor of the building was emptied in thirty-five seconds and the entire building emptied in one minute and thirty-five seconds in the fire drill staged. The short time used is regarded as quite a record in view of the fact that only two exits were used. Fire drills were also held yesterday at the schools and the entire Young school with over 400 pupils emptied in seventy seconds. Fire prevention day this year falls on Sunday and as a result was observed on Friday at the schools.

choked the Thames boy to death. "Must Have Been Drunk." "If he did kill the boy, he was drunk when he did it," Trapp replied, "for I have seen him when he would have been justified in killing half a dozen boys." He said he had seen Twyman choke boys whom he thought he had been drinking. Trapp has been seventeen years at the school. He declared he had seen Twyman slap boys on the jaw, punch them in the stomach, and kick them on the shins. Once, he said, Twyman hit a big Mexican boy in the stomach and knocked him down. Trapp declared that it is common for the boys' captain to kick the boys on the shins.

Cursed Boys, Too. "Did Twyman use profanity?" asked Powell. "He was a pretty wicked man," Trapp said in answer. He declared he had often heard Twyman curse boys. Trapp declared he had never seen a brutal whipping at the school, but had seen punishment he thought too severe. "What?" asked Powell. "Pulling toes is too severe. The boys fear that more than the strap. Chin chucking, whether harmless or not, should be prohibited, and stomach punching should be cut out," Trapp replied.

ARMY'S FUND FOR RELIEF TO DATE IS ABOUT $1,000

Will Hardly Reach $1,500, Chairman Thinks, Though Ranger's Needs Are First.

Reports from committees soliciting funds in the Salvation Army's appeal show that but little over $1,000 has been subscribed and pledged in Ranger since the campaign started Monday. All committees have not reported to headquarters, according to Jack Jarvis, chairman, but indications are that the total amount collected and pledged will hardly reach $1,500. The lack of response on the part of the people of Ranger is attributed by the advisory board of the organization to the erroneous idea that the larger part of the funds obtained will be sent out of town.

The needs of Ranger will come first, Jarvis said, and pointed out that while the budget of the Salvation Army call contributions to the state institutions, such as the girls' home, the Salvation Army hotel, etc., that such contributions would be made only in case of a surplus. The sum of $3,700 was used in Ranger last year, he explained, in relieving conditions and more will be needed this year as the result of unemployment. At the present time, with less than $1,500 pledged and collected, the Salvation Army is "short" more than $2,000 of the amount that will be needed here for the coming year. From the small amount collected so far, it is stated, there apparently will be no surplus to send out of town.

Last year, it was pointed out, $3,700 was spent in actual relief in Ranger and 1,600 people, or about 10 per cent of the population, were assisted. No organization in any other city has been called upon to assist one out of every ten inhabitants, Jarvis said. Not only will more funds be needed this year because of unemployment conditions, but the prediction is that the coming winter will be a hard one and more people will be in need of help.

The Salvation Army, it was pointed out, is primarily a religious organization, dispensing charity as a means to an end. It spends whatever is necessary to relieve conditions. Administration expenses must be paid out of the funds raised or the organization could not function, it is explained. Funds are raised through the year by other means to help defray these expenses.

The extent of the religious activities of the Salvation Army is shown by the attendance at indoor and outdoor meetings last year, the advisory board points out. Total attendance at these meetings is given as 24,516 for the year. Other statistics tending to show the scope of the Salvation Army work follow: Christmas dinners, 520; children given toys, 400; meals supplied, 1,382; railroad tickets, 21; garments given away, 1,112; shoes given away, 108; persons afforded temporary relief, 1,604; total value of relief given, $3,786.88.

RANGER MAN'S BODY SENT TO MISSOURI

The body of Charles Waddell, local barber, killed in the automobile accident Wednesday morning on the Thurber road was sent on the Sunshine special this morning to Chillicothe, Mo., former home, for burial. The body was accompanied by O. E. Anderson, brother-in-law of the dead man, who arrived in Ranger last night. Waddell is survived by his mother and two sisters and is said to have left home some five years ago.

RIDE TO DALLAS TO "GET" NEGRO, THEN RIDE BACK

company, was the next victim to identify the negro. Bunn was already under indictment for this but it was the first time Wallace had seen him. Wallace was robbed at his place of business Aug. 11 and a watch, ring and $15 taken from him. The watch was recovered at Bunn's house.

Mrs. D. W. Simpson, who was attacked at her home at Stop Trueland on the Cleburne interurban on Sept. 28, came to the jail and was taken up to the fifth floor where the negroes again fell in line. She walked down the line and back once and said "That is the negro." She made him walk a little and talk some before she was positive. Indictments charging the negro with an assault upon her and robbery with firearms were written and sent to the grand jury by W. H. Tolbert, assistant district attorney.

Mrs. A. A. Connelly of Hodge, who was criminally assaulted on Aug. 9, went up and looked over the negroes and immediately picked the negro out. (She was attacked while in her home on the Kellar road and battled with the negro who tied her and then overcame her. She also was sent before the grand jury.)

Raymond H. Buck, city prosecutor, who was forced by a negro to aid in robbing his home last summer, also identified Bunn as the negro who had robbed him and his home. Bunn did not seem to be the least bothered and would talk and walk for each of his victims as they asked and at times would reach back and get his cap and put it on when someone wanted to see him with his cap on. The negro will be tried for robbing Crowley with the use of firearms as the officers have the confession and positive identification of eight persons in the case. Judge George E. Hosey has already drawn the special venire to hear the case.

Mob Bumps Into "Dan." When the automobiles arrived here, the ringleader entered the jail and conferred with Sheriff Dan Harston. He returned in a few minutes, and declared that Harston said the negro was not in jail here, and that he would not permit a searching party to enter the jail.

The crowd grumbled a little and then appointed a committee of six to make another attempt to gain permission to search the jail. The committee returned almost instantly, declaring that Harston had refused again.

"Be Gone," Dan Says.

"What shall we do now?" the ringleader asked. "We will face three machine guns, but it is up to you fellows." There was another consultation, and then the men returned to their machines and drove off. One of the machines was stopped on the viaduct by the city officers, and the occupants taken to the city hall on suspicion. After a conference, they were released, however, with the warning to return immediately to Fort Worth.

Bunn is scheduled to be tried in Fort Worth Oct. 11.

DISAPPEARANCE OF BANK'S HEAD A VEILED MYSTERY

Drops From Sight, Leaving Automobile With Engine Running on Bridge.

CONYERS, Ga., Oct. 7.—Charles Reagin, president of the Bank of Rockdale, has disappeared under the most mysterious circumstances.

County authorities announced today they had failed to find the slightest trace of him, after a search of many hours. Reagin left his bank at 5 p. m. yesterday to drive to his farm, across the Yellow river, the same stream that yielded the gruesome victims of the Williams "murder farm." A short time after dark, his automobile was found by negroes standing on a bridge over the river. His engine was running, and his lights burning. All the doors were open.

Why The First Aid To Good Health Is Pure Blood

Waste Products in the Blood Cause Many Forms of Rheumatism, Skin Disorders, and A Lowered Vitality.

Many People Do Not Understand Nature's Warning.

When you have that feeling of fatigue; when you lack the energy you need for the day's duties and pleasure; when you are troubled with pimples, blackheads, bad boils, sores or some other skin eruption; or when you have rheumatic pains in the muscles and joints, don't wait until you collapse in a state of nervous prostration, or until in your weakened condition you contract some serious disease, but start at once to get the waste products out of your blood. Nature has certain peculiar ways to warn us. Fortunate, indeed, is the person who knows her danger signals. Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have relied on S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality. The same qualities which give S. S. S. its beneficial effect in clearing your blood of waste products make it extremely desirable for keeping your blood in good condition. S. S. S. may be had at any drug store. Write Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 715 S. E. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga., and let him help you regain your health and strength. Give him a full description of your case. He is helping people every day (without charge). Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores.

REMEDY FOR CANCER TO BRING DISCOVERER HUNDRED THOUSAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A prize of $100,000 for the discovery of a medicinal remedy to relieve cancer has been offered by an anonymous donor through the Cosmopolitan Cancer Research Society of Brooklyn, it is announced. The reward will be known as the Cosmopolitan cancer prize and was made in anticipation of the observance of national cancer week, Oct. 30 to Nov. 5, when physicians, surgeons, chemists and scientists will hold nation-wide clinics and conferences dealing with the disease. Requirements of the award call for method of treatment, formulas and full information, with therapeutic proof in at least fifty cases.

KANSAS CITY HOTEL CLOSED A YEAR FOR DRY VIOLATION

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 7.—Federal Judge A. S. Van Valkenburgh and United States District Attorney C. C. Madison have set a precedent for the entire country in a court order, issued here, closing the Hendryx hotel for a period of one year, because liquor sales had been made there.

Padlocks are to be put on the doors, and the building, which rents for several hundred dollars a month, must remain unoccupied during that time. This is a more severe punishment than a fine, and it hits the owners instead of the lessees.

W. E. Dunigan, prohibition agent, testified he had had fifteen complaints against the place and that his men had bought liquor there.

PROGRAM

TEMPLE—Charles Ray in "19 and Phyllis," also big comedy. MAJESTIC—"Dangerous Curve Ahead," also Harold Lloyd in "Never Weaken." LIBERTY—Buck Jones in "Get Your Man," and Rollin comedy, "Bubbling Over." MANHATTAN—Viola Dana in "Life's Darn Funny," also Pathe News and Review.

American life and character, told in terms of drama and humor which enters so largely into "Dangerous Curve Ahead!" and which characterized "The Old Nest," and "From the Ground Up," soon to be released.

Another original screen story by Mr. Hughes is "The Wall Flower," which is said to continue and strengthen the vein of genuine, human and humorous reflection of real life which makes "Dangerous Curve Ahead!" stand out so far ahead of the ordinary screen feature production.

TEMPLE

Charles Ray is a 19-year-old country dude, and add, in love with 16-year-old Phyllis, in his latest feature picture, "Nineteen and Phyllis," which is the attraction now at the Temple theatre. It's one of the most entertaining things Charles Ray has ever done and the role of the small town swell offers him the opportunity of employing all his clever little mannerisms that have made him so lovable.

Charles has a great rival in the person of Jimmy Long, who has more money than Charles, boasts the only dress suit in town and drives his own roadster. Though Jimmy is fat and homey, Phyllis is fascinated by the dress suit and the roadster and Charles feels things cooling off between them. He determines to have a dress suit too, and orders one by mail. It arrives just in time for a big dance, and Charles proudly dons it expecting to outshine everybody at the dance and win Phyllis again.

But his love conquest has not gotten as simple as that. His father bade him stay at home that night and he had to climb out of his attic window and slide down the roof and in the process of sliding down he ran into somebody else trying to climb up. They scrambled for a while and then as Charles was bemoaning the loss of his silk hat and dress suit, he discovered he'd captured a burglar and was in line for a big reward and the rest of the picture gives Charles ample time to triumph over Jimmy and win Phyllis for all times.

JAZZ STILL POPULAR.

By Assoc. Press. EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 7.—Jazz is not dying in El Paso, judging from sales at local music stores. A canvass of music houses showed that for every piece of classical or semi-classical music sold for phonographs there are fifteen pieces of jazz music sold. In the sheet music line there is practically no sale of classical or semi-classical music here, only about one piece in every three or four hundred sold being of the better class, dealers said.

MRS. STETSON SAYS CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS TO BUILD SPITE WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, formerly first reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city, has obtained a temporary injunction to prevent the erection of what she described as a "spite wall" at her residence adjoining the church.

The site of the residence was formerly owned by the church. Counsel for Mrs. Stetson told Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel that the church authorities were planning to remove an ornamental iron fence between the church and the residence and erect in its place a blank stone wall fifteen feet high, which would cut off her light and air.

Mrs. Stetson was excommunicated from the church about ten years ago.

ALL WRONG AT GATESVILLE.

According to press dispatches from Gatesville, it has been a travesty on discipline and corrective training that has raged in the boys' training school there. Military discipline and punishments appear to have been based upon ignorance, if not wilful malice. The enforcement of obedience appears to have taken the character of maniacal violence induced by the anger of uncontrolled minds, rather than a calm and determined dispensation of command.

Certainly boys may be heckled into a seeming obedience and subservience by use of the strap, by "toe pulling" and standing at attention until exhaustion is reached, and by physical maltreatment at the hands of grown-up men, whom they are physically unable to resist even if they knew no double portion of punishment would follow such resistance.

But that is no way to redeem delinquent boys and turn them out into the world to be worthy citizens. Such methods can only force a servility born of physical fear. It cannot teach them that their ways of life and habits of thought are wrong and should be changed. Rather, it is more liable to turn them out into the world with a hardened heart and a determination to return the buffets the world has forced upon them. Thus will the purposes of the institution be controverted by the very methods it uses.

There of course must be some punishment for wrong doing at the Gatesville school. But any system that allows boys to be kicked and struck and beaten at the whim of any employe, with no record of it, no rules by which the extent of punishment may be governed, is intolerable. A shakeup would appear absolutely necessary.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS By GEORGE BINGHAM

Fletcher Henstep, after years of practice, is beginning to show some ability as a trader. One day this week he took his mule over to Bounding Billows and swapped it for a hog. Starting home the hog got contrary and didn't want to go so he stopped and swapped it for a ham of meat. Then further down the road a man saw the ham and wanted it, and Fletcher swapped him it for a good rifle, and when he reached home his wife asked him where the mule was and he held up a nice rabbit he had just killed.

The Dog Hill preacher had an interesting sermon last Sunday and was holding the entire and undivided attention of the congregation until Miss Fruzie Allsop came in wearing her new dress.

Profs Can't See Fun in Boy and Girl Freight Car Trip to Wild West Show

By International News Service BOULDER, Colo., Oct. 7.—Officials of the University of Colorado Summer school refuse to disclose the names of more than a score of students who were suspended from classes for three days because of an unauthorized two-day "outing" that included a trip to Cheyenne, Wyo., via the "box car route."

Ten young women students and thirteen boys, all said to have been garbed in khaki trousers and "O. D." shirts, were in the party that rode some atop freight cars and others prone "on the rods," most of the distance between this city and the Wyoming capital.

Although university authorities are quoted as saying they consider the impromptu vacation trip to have been an innocently conceived prank, they believe it was of a character to warrant severe discipline. The students, according to stories that might reflect unfavorable comment upon the university. The suspended pupils resumed their classes after three days' absence.

CAMPBELL HAS GOTTEN RID OF HIS TROUBLES

"There is no telling what my troubles would have led to if I had not found out about Tanlac, and I feel very grateful for what it has done for me," said J. P. Campbell, 3416 Canter street, Houston, Texas.

"Some years ago I was taken down with a trouble no one seemed to understand. I was operated on twice but got no relief and kept getting weaker and more nervous all the time. My stomach was out of order, my back hurt me dreadfully and I had intense pain in my left side without ever a let-up. I was constantly taking laxatives and was hardly ever without a headache.

"Tanlac reached my case after everything else had failed and I am feeling like a new man now. I do not suffer any more pain in my back and side and my headaches are gone. I sleep fine and can eat anything I want without any trouble afterwards. I certainly am strong for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by the Palace Drug Store.—Advertisement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The scene is an American army camp a year hence. The nondescript, hit-or-miss uniform of the speaker marks him as a new recruit.

"Sergeant," he insists, "I gotta have a new pair of pants. These are all shot to h—"

It is the sonorous but carefully-modulated voice of a lieutenant from West Point who interrupts the vivid description of the equally raw recruit.

"Your language is atrocious," he is heard to say, pointing an accusing finger at the unabashed doughboy. "Were you not examined as to your knowledge of spoken English when you were admitted to the military service?"

"In addressing the sergeant upon the subject now under discussion you should make your words known by pointing out that the physical state of your trousers is such that it becomes necessary for you to respectfully request that a new pair be issued to you. Do you follow me?"

"I got you," returns the recruit, "but I also gotta have a pair o' pants, English or no English, and there you are."

But the lieutenant had fled, convinced that the war department's hope of any army where the mal-treatment of the English language was as odious an offense as the dirty mess-kit or a rusty rifle at inspection was impossible of realization.

New Recruit Requirements. All of which merely leads up to the statement that army officers, in recruiting men during the campaign now in progress throughout the United States, are to enroll as members of the military establishment only "fine, young, upstanding, able-bodied men, physically fit, educated in the primary subjects—at least—and citizens of the United States."

"Men who cannot read and write English," the war department declares, "are not desired in the new army and will not be accepted for enlistment."

It is explained that the army is to continue its educational system, but that it is not going to take the man who cannot read or write and teach him those things which he should have learned in childhood.

In other words, the American army of the future is to be an army to brag about as far as educational standards are concerned.

When the prospective soldier faces the doctor he will find the tests difficult to pass unless he is very nearly a perfect man. All recruiting parties have been notified that special regulations 65 1-2, of the war department will be rigidly enforced.

These regulations relate to the physical examination of candidates and give the standards which go to make up a good soldier briefly, as follows: Regulations Are Strict.

"He must see and hear well; his heart must be competent to stand the stress of physical exertion; he must be intelligent enough to understand and execute military maneuvers, obey commands and protect himself, and he must be able to transport himself by marching as the exigencies of military life may demand.

"In addition," says the war department, "he will be wearing the uniform of the United States, and a certain dignity must be his at all times. The inferior men cannot fulfill these demands."

It's going to be a high-brow old army—you can take the word of your Uncle Sam for that. Enlistments are to be so handled that the army will not exceed 150,000 men at any time; therefore high officials of the war department expect that the standard of men obtained will be the highest the army has ever had. It is stated that the allotment system will be used in obtaining men and that each corps area will be authorized to enlist men to fill vacancies only. Reports will be called for frequently to assure the department that the enlistments do not exceed the number of vacancies. The new recruiting regulations raise no bar against the enlistment of men with previous service, providing that they can measure up to the new standards. If a man wishes to come in again, however, he must enlist for three years, while the man who has not served an enlistment may choose between one year and three years as the term of his service.

No Recruiting Agencies. No general recruiting stations are to be established for the time being, but the work will be conducted by the various posts, stations and camps of the army scattered throughout the nine corps areas. From each of these parties of officers and enlisted men are to be sent to nearby towns to search out the best of the young men who wish to enter or re-enter the army and to take them to the nearest post or camp. Boys who are less than eighteen years of age are not to be accepted under any circumstances.

At the same time the recruiting is going on Secretary of War Weeks and officers of the general staff are busily engaged in a general redistribution of organizations, as they work out the strengths of army units under the new enlisted strength of 150,000 men.

ST. LOUIS ENDS ARGUMENT OVER CITY'S FOUNDER

By Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—A dispute as to who founded St. Louis has been settled, in the opinion of the Missouri Historical society.

The society asserts Pierre LaClede, French fur trader, was the founder. Records of the society show that LaClede directed Auguste Chouteau, 14 years old, to land on the site of the city. Chouteau with a party set foot here Feb. 14, 1764, according to the records and LaClede arrived later but was recognized as the founder.

Recently a proposition to erect a memorial for Chouteau was discussed. The historical society announced that Henri Chouteau, a direct descendant of Chouteau and a member of the society, offered to pay the cost of the memorial provided the monument would name Chouteau as the founder of the city. The offer was declined.

Recuts Tombstone. Then the descendant had an inscription on the tombstone of Chouteau recut. The society declared the original inscription gave the birth of Chouteau as 1750 and said he was sent by LaClede, but in the recutting claimed that the date of birth was changed to 1740, making Chouteau's age when he arrived here 24 and making it appear Chouteau was the founder.

Both sides in the controversy finally agreed upon Father Lawrence J. Kenny, professor of history at St. Louis university, as arbiter in the matter.

Father Kenny, in his findings, verified the position of the society and said authentic records show that Chouteau's mother was born in 1733 and that if Chouteau was born in 1740 as maintained by his descendants, his mother would have been only seven years old when he was born. The arbiter suggested that Chouteau be credited as a coworker of LaClede.

BLAZING PIGEONS, FLYING FROM FIRE, FALL LIKE ROCKETS ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 7.—When an employee of a wholesale produce firm here dived through a second-story window to escape flames which were consuming the building, hundreds of pigeons followed him. As they emerged from the broken window the black background of night made noticeable spots of flame on wings and tails of many of the birds. Their course was over the Mississippi river. Fanned by the motion of flying, the flames spread until the birds were enveloped, and many of them, like falling rockets, dropped into the stream.

INDIAN OFFERS SELF FOR BLOOD TRANSFUSION BY International News Service LYNN, Mass., Oct. 7.—William J. Lewey, a full-blooded Micmac Indian, is a lover of his fellow men. Actuated by no thought of material gain, he has offered himself to the medical profession for skin grafting or blood transfusion purposes. He asks only that he be given a "fighting chance to recover." According to Lewey, his only purpose is to benefit suffering humanity, and if medical science can devise other ways in which he can do so he is willing to volunteer his person. Lewey is now a factory employee.

FOSTERING TALENT. "Isn't your boy Josh a help to you?" "Not much," admitted Farmer Cornstossel. "He's too artistic. He says puttin' his hands to the plow is liable to spoil his technique on the ukulele."—Washington Star.

SNAKE FIGHT OFF. ALEXANDRIA, La., Oct. 7.—Five hundred persons, according to reports here today, gathered at Colfax, thirty miles from here, to witness a scheduled fight between a nine-foot rattlesnake and a king snake. Odds favored the king snake. However, after two hours of waiting, the rattlesnake decided it was not his day to scrap and the bout was indefinitely postponed.

THE CHANGEABLE SEX. Sillicus. I am thoroughly convinced that all women are the same. Cynicus. Don't you believe it. Even one woman isn't the same for any considerable length of time.—New York Sun.

MACHINE DIGS TUNNEL AND LINES IT WITH CONCRETE

By PAUL H. EGOLF, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—A machine which can tunnel underground in any desired direction, removing the earth in its path and leaving behind it a finished conduit, with concrete-lined walls, is the latest thing in subterranean construction work.

The new device is the invention of Milton R. Sheen of Philadelphia, and was given its first practical demonstration recently, when it dug a tunnel under Fifth and Grange streets here in record time.

In four hours the machine constructed eighteen feet eight inches of perfectly-lined conduit, fifty-two inches in diameter. Its best record in the test was five feet eight inches of finished tunnel in an hour.

Traffic Not Interrupted. The beauty of the invention lies in the fact that any amount of sewer main, water main and conduit construction can be carried on beneath streets without causing any interruption to surface traffic. The machine can construct tunnels up to twelve feet in diameter. Engineers, contractors and officials connected with the Philadelphia Department of Public works predict that present day methods of engineering underground will be revolutionized with broad adoption of this device.

Another Leak! SEATTLE, Oct. 7.—Secret compartments have been built in railway coaches used between this city and points in British Columbia for storage of liquor being smuggled over the Canadian border, federal agents here say. The statement was made in connection with an indictment whereon several railroad men and an express messenger were arrested, accused of having stopped a train at an exclusive country club north of here to unload Canadian whisky.

Line With Cement. The motors and gearing are in the center of the steel drum, also the control which directs the operation. Electric lights and seats for the operators are provided. Directly behind the motors and gearing is a helical-faced cam, which places the special constructed lining blocks. The blocks, when pushed into place by the machine, cause an expansion which brings all the heads of the blocks directly behind the close contact and advances the steel drum. The lining is thus fitted into the surrounding earth without disturbance, as though it were a part of it. More tar may be used as the lining may be laid dry, as desired. The blocks are placed in a spiral in order to give which keeps the cutting head in contact with the earth.

Special control permits the machine to be raised, lowered or shifted from side to side, enabling it to tunnel in a straight or curved course. Indicators and transits are set up at the rear of the tunnel in order to insure an accurate course for the bore.

The only excavation work in connection with the operation of the device is the digging of a hole large enough to lower the machine to the required level of the projected tunnel. Once set, the current is turned on, and the steel drum leaves the excavation and starts on its underground journey, without causing any disturbance on the surface of the ground.

MANHATTAN LANDMARKS GIVE WAY TO PROGRESS

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Two historic landmarks—the Union Square theatre and the Morton House—which have stood for half a century in Union Square, at one time famous as the center of New York's rialto, are to be razed to make way for more modern structures.

The Union Square, built and opened by Sheridan Shook in 1871, began as a variety house. Later it became a first-class producing house in which many of the famous actors and actresses of the present day made their debut. It was there that Charlie Chaplin, now famous moving picture comedian, made his debut in New York, with a small part in a specialty company which lasted a week and was a fiasco. Later the theatre was turned over to Keith, who operated it as a vaudeville house for many years, after which it became a burlesque stock house.

The history of the theatre and the Morton House, are closely linked, as they adjoined. The latter was a great place for the meeting for the actors and managers.

INSANE PATIENT FORCES DOCTOR TO TAKE POISON

By Associated Press. MADISON, Fla., Oct. 7.—Pat Sherlock, a patient at Yates sanitarium here, an institution for mental defectives, seized Dr. Yates and forced a teaspoon full of poison down his throat.

"You have made me take a lot of medicine and now you've got to swallow this," Sherlock, who is a powerful man, said.

Before losing consciousness Dr. Yates screamed for help, and attendants broke down the door to the room which Sherlock had locked. A stomach pump was used on Dr. Yates and physicians several hours later pronounced him out of danger. Sherlock was placed in the county jail.

'MAGNETIC' DOESN'T HALF TELL THE TALE!

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—Irma Hellwig, manager of an embroidery factory at Plauen, a girl with a magnetic personality, has been acquitted by a Berlin court of a charge of embezzlement.

Fraulein Hellwig, who held her employers and the whole male staff in subjection, had been sent by the firm to Leipzig, where she was to make purchases in the amount of $5,000. She spent only $2,500 for her employers, the remainder being used to buy various articles for her own wear.

A prosecution followed, and the girl was summoned to court to answer the charge.

Her counsel, half way through the proceedings, submitted a number of love letters addressed to her by each of the partners.

It was disclosed further that one of the two members of the firm, without the knowledge of the associate, had authorized Hellwig to spend for herself half of the money entrusted to her.

Other amorous letters addressed to the girl by the firm's 60-year-old bookkeeper, the electrician, the 60-year-old night watchman and the junior clerk also were read. Fraulein Hellwig then was discharged amid a storm of applause.

ROAD SUIT IS TO BE STARTED IN COURT TODAY

Three Citizens of Ranger Are Among Those Selected for Special Jury.

EASTLAND, Oct. 7.—Testimony in the road suit of the Citizens' Committee against the Fleming-Stitzer Construction company and the commissioners' court of Eastland county is expected to be opened here this afternoon. Judge E. A. Hill, yesterday sustained a large part of the special exceptions filed by attorneys for the defense to the petition of the plaintiffs and after considerable effort a jury was empaneled before court adjourned. Three Ranger citizens: W. D. Gwynne, W. R. Kelly and L. Theo Harris were among the number selected for jury service in the case.

The morning session of court today was consumed in the reading by attorneys of the petition and answer, the positions of the plaintiffs' petition, to which exceptions by the defense were sustained by the court, being eliminated.

The main issues in the case as expressed by attorneys for the defense are: First, whether or not the ways and means in which the road contract was let were subterfuge to sell the road bonds for less than par value and accrued interest; second: whether or not the contract had been abandoned by the Fleming-Stitzer company. The issues as defined by the plaintiffs were along the same lines except that the words "and not for cash" were added in regard to the disposal of the bonds, and "members of the co-partnership" to the second issue.

The jury selected is composed of the following: B. A. Tanner, W. C. Reynolds, W. A. Clements, B. F. Mann, W. D. Gwynne, W. R. Kelly, L. Theo Harris, W. R. Gilbert, J. G. Lasater, Charles Yancey, B. W. Rayburn and B. N. Taylor.

IRISH RIOTERS DEAL DEATH TO PEACEFUL MEN

By United Press.

DUBLIN, Oct. 7.—Extremists, seeking to prevent a peaceful conclusion of the Irish problem by the peace conference called for tomorrow in London, today continued the outrages which have made this week's casualty list read almost like those of the pre-armistice period. Armed and masked men, claiming to be members of the Irish Republican army, entered a number of houses in Charles during the night. They attacked and seriously injured a number of young men of the town, who were not especially identified with politics. Many of the victims were left lying unconscious, and several were reported as likely to die today. There was no trace of the intruders.

PARTS OF WASHINGTON TO BE CEDED AS "FOREIGN TERRITORY;" ARMS PARLEY BOOZE TO FLOW

Hotels Entertaining Members of Foreign Delegations Will Place Floors at Their Disposal. Which Will Be Termed Foreign Territory—Where Liquor Will Be Available.

By W. H. ATKINS, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Husky two-fisted drinkers of other days in dry Washington are waiting impatiently for the days of the big arms parley. Because—

Private bars are expected to spring up and blossom with all the dazzling trimmings of what are now called the good old days. Every hotel will be a mecca for the thirsty. The bars will be immune from interference from pesky dry law agents.

Each leading hotel will have reserved for the swarms of delegates and their staffs large suites of rooms, and in some cases whole floors of these large hostilities will be placed at the disposal of the peace envoys. For the time being, and until the arms parley is ended, such quarters, wherever they are, will enjoy all of the extra-territorial rights guaranteed to the foreign embassies and legations. Such quarters for that period are held to be foreign territory, within the meaning of international law and time-honored ethics in diplomatic intercourse.

If most foreign diplomats do not drink whisky, wines or other high voltage liquors they have hosts of friends who do. It will be a gala period for hospitality. Gloomy will be the quarters of a visiting delegation which does not have its large quota of guests, distinguished and otherwise, and its inexhaustible supply of the liquids that cheer.

Washington will become one of the real "wet" spots in America, and protected in its wetness by diplomatic immunity.

Aside from the purely official headquarters, with all the needed appointments for entertaining, the homes of Washington's star entertainers among the so-called residential set will for that period become gay oases.

Just to remove all doubt and handicaps on the point of an abundant liquor supply for the foreign delegations and their guests while here the barriers have been torn away to allow the uninterrupted flow of foreign liquors through our ports.

The liquor stock soon to enter by coast routes will be brought by the delegations as a part of their luggage, or be shipped from foreign countries, consigned to accredited foreign diplomats resident here.

Officials who have had a hand in clearing away the red tape to permit free entry of such liquors are expecting a veritable flood. The dregs scarcely will think of trying to stop it. Their pleas at the state department, if made, probably would be fruitless. It's a question of international courtesy. And during a peace meet, aimed at stopping bloodshed between nations, the very thing that the state department will scrupulously avoid is 'discourtesy.'

In Paris the surplus of women is greatest between the ages of 20 and 29.
