

ONE MORE STEP TO MAKE PEACE WITH GERMANY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Exchange of ratifications at Berlin of the "treaty of Berlin," finally establishing peace between the United States and Germany, is to be the next step in ending the nation's legal state of war with the Teutonic powers.

Following ratification by the senate last night of the German and also the Austrian and Hungarian treaties, the state department was in position to proceed with negotiations.

Appointment of diplomatic and consular representatives, however, will not be made for several weeks at least.

The senate votes on the German and Austrian treaties were the same, 66 to 20, and 66 to 17 on the Hungarian treaty.

The negotiation of commercial treaties is the next step to follow the peace treaties.

JUST LIKE OIL TOWN! MAN KILLED AT MEXIA

MEXIA, Oct. 19.—Following the killing of Dick Vance in a field in the western edge of Mexia Monday afternoon, Deputy Sheriff J. M. Bryant went to the city hall and surrendered to the sheriff.

Vance was an oil driller and had been in Mexia only a few days. He came to this place from Fort Worth, where his mother resides.

Deputy Sheriff Bryant made no statement. He was in conference with the sheriff late this afternoon.

TOM WEEKS' PLACE ON POLICE FORCE NOT FILLED

A vacancy on the police force, created by the resignation of Night Captain Tom Weeks Sunday night, will not be filled immediately, Chief Eugene Reynolds stated this morning.

The chief explained that the police department would endeavor to police the town with the present strength of six men until this number proved inadequate. No reason is given for the resignation of Weeks, who was the oldest man in point of service in the department, having been a member of the force for the last three years.

PROGRAM

TEMPLE—Ceil B. DeMille's greatest production, "The Affairs of Anatol."

MAJESTIC—Rupert Hughes' great story, "The Old Nest," all-star cast.

LIBERTY—William Russell in "Children of Night" and Charles Murray in "Her Painted Hero."

MANHATTAN—Shirley Mason in "Queenie," also comedy, Monte Banks in "Peaceful Alley."

MANHATTAN.

Shirley Mason, the William Fox star, will appear here today and Thursday in her latest Fox picture, "Queenie," at the Manhattan theatre.

If you see a box dropped off the train on that day with a sign attached to it reading "Shirley Mason," don't think that Miss Mason is in it. She is dainty, but not small enough for that—and, besides, no one would think of handling the tiny star so roughly.

TEMPLE.

"The Three Musketeers," a picturization of Alexandre Dumas' story and positively the crowning achievement of Douglas Fairbanks, is coming to the Temple theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday, and for genuine entertainment value promises to eclipse all entries for the season. Accompanying the production is a Metropolitan orchestra with a complete musical setting keyed to the theme of the picture and the presentation here will be one of the screen events of the season.

E. C. Jeffress, managing director for the show who arrived here today, and who attended the premiere of this picture at the Lyric theatre in New York, stated that "The Three Musketeers" is one of the greatest pictures that has ever been produced, and that Fairbanks has achieved a triumph in it that has seldom been equalled in the history of motion pictures.

"Every critic in New York praised the production," Mr. Jeffress stated. "Superlatives of the most unusual sort were used in their articles commending the greatness, the stupendousness, the beauty and attractiveness from every angle."

"The opening night at the Lyric theatre was a scene that will long be remembered in theatrical history," continued Mr. Jeffress. "Seldom has a reception like that been accorded any person, and for hours before the opening of the doors of the theatre, traffic was blocked by the thousands of people who endeavored to gain admission to the theatre. At the opening performance Mr. Fairbanks and Miss Pickford appeared in person with Charlie Chaplin as a guest. There were hundreds of persons prominent on the stage and screen among the first nighters, and it was necessary for Mr. Fairbanks to appear before them three times because of their enthusiasm."

MAJESTIC.

One of the finest casts ever assembled will be seen in "The Old Nest," the Rupert Hughes story of mother love and American family life, that will be shown at the Majestic theatre for three days, beginning today. The story is a film version of a short story that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and was produced by the Goldwyn company.

The director, Reginald Barker, is well known for the many fine productions he has made for Goldwyn.

In the cast Mary Alden plays the leading role, that of the mother, who appears first as the young matron with her six children of school age. Then, a little older, with greying hair, she is their companion and adviser. Finally, they grow to manhood and womanhood, leave the old nest and strike out into the world for themselves. Here, the poignancy of Miss Alden's acting as the old mother is irresistible.

Other players in the cast are Helene Chadwick, Cullen Landis, Dwight Crittenden, Nick Coggley, Louise Lovely, Billie Cotton, Molly Malone, M. B. ("Lefty") Flynn, Roland Rushton, Fanny Stockbridge, and the children who played in the Booth Tarkington "Edgar" comedies, Johnny Jones, Lucille Rickson and Buddy Messenger.

Miss Katherine F. Worley, who presides over Nebraska's state board of control, directs the expenditure of more than $5,000,000 biennially.

GERMAN PAPER LAMBASTS U.S. RHINE TROOPS

By FRANK E. MASON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—Frequent laudatory articles in the German press contrasting the behavior of the American troops of occupation in Coblenz with that of the French and British forces have proven too much for the Germania, Chancellor Wirth's organ to bear. In a leading article by a staff reporter, the Germania tries to show that the Americans aren't as angelic as they have been painted.

"It is a common expression that the conditions in American occupied territory are made favorable and bearable for the German population than in French or British areas. This belief that Americans have not caused the population in their zone as much annoyance as it has suffered in neighboring areas is far from true. Unfortunately one must say that the case is quite the opposite."

American Demands.
Germania then follows with a long article on the inexorable demands of the American officers; the leading indictments in the list of atrocities run as follows:

1. "An American officer demanded that one of the rooms in his lodging be refurnished with new wallpaper. His wife picked out the wallpaper, which cost 250 marks a roll, which any German would consider expensive and luxurious. After a half year the American woman decided that the tails of the birds of paradise printed on the wallpaper were of an unpleasant yellow color. She demanded that the city commandant order a painter, who repainted the tails; the question of the cost, naturally, meant nothing to her.

2. "Another landlady complains that a family consisting of two persons requires no less than thirty-two towels and twelve to fifteen tablecloths monthly.

Rough Stuff.
3. "A sad chapter in the history of the occupation is made up of the daily assaults on the population by Americans, especially after the first of the month, when they have received their pay. Too free use of alcohol is in many cases the cause. The American authorities have it in their power to put an end to this undisciplined and barbarous condition by energetically punishing the guilty parties. Perhaps the insignificant penalties are responsible for the fact that there has not been improvement."

The Germania goes on with a detailed picture of how difficult it is for a German hausfrau to get dinner in a kitchen where the American officer's wife is also doing her cooking, and tells of one case where the German woman installed her cook-stove in a toilet room as the only place she could cook in peace.

After the superlative adjectives the German press for two years has liberally expended in describing the conditions in the French area, especially in the small towns where colored troops have been quartered, the attack against the American forces seems a trifle ridiculous. "The battle of the kitchen range," may be serious during the conflict; but, after all, it is not as dreadful as the official book of atrocities which the foreign office has given out, in which not a single American case is mentioned.

The Germania finds the American punishments of its soldiers too light. Only a few months ago another Berlin writer attacked the Coblenz forces, declaring that in the worst days of Prussian militarism the Kaiser's officers had never dared lay such severe sentences on soldiers as the American military courts are meting out to offenders in the Rhine army.

SMALL LEASES FINE QUARTERS FOR TRIAL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Oct. 19.—Arrangements for taking care of the large number of attorneys, officials and others who will be here during the trial of Gov. Len Small on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state of large sums while state treasurer, were being completed today.

An attorney understood to represent Small, obtained a lease on a three-story apartment building. This is expected to house the governor and his party. There is a restaurant in the basement of the building.

It is probable that the trial will not be set before Nov. 1. Preliminary motions and other delays will take up several weeks. Local court attaches do not expect the trial to end before the first of the year. A jury panel, consisting mostly of farmers, has been drawn for the next term of court.

INTRODUCING "CAPTAIN BILL," LICENSED PILOT

Here is "Captain Bill," in private life Mrs. Hannah Schuyler, of Far Rockaway, N. Y., who has the distinction of being the second woman to receive a pilot's license from the New York board of steamboat inspectors. Mrs. Schuyler passed the examination with flying colors. Explaining her desire for the license, "Captain Bill" said: "My husband takes out fishing parties of men and, in addition, is often asked to take out parties of women who want to fish. But he has often complained that when he takes out women he finds that they talk too much about everything in the world but fishing. Now he will take out the men, and I will take out the women. Simple, isn't it?"

CHILD'S WELFARE CLUB MEETING.

The organization that has looked after the milk and ice fund and its distribution during the summer months, met Tuesday afternoon at the Business Women's room in the Marston building, to plan for the winter's activities. Mrs. C. O. Terrell presided.

Many plans for the comfort of the poor and the helpless were discussed, but especially noteworthy is a plan that the organization is formulating and hopes to be able to execute, that is the serving of milk daily to the children in the first two grades of school. It takes women of large vision to see the far-reaching effect of this movement and it is to be hoped that these plans now in embryo will ripen into full realization. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 24, and all who have been members, or who wish to be members of this organization are requested to be present.

PROBATION CHIEF CALLS BOYS BETTER THAN GIRLS

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Boys are now "the little angel children" of Chicago mothers.

Boys are better morally than girls, in Chicago at least, Joseph L. Moss, chief probation officer said in an interview today.

"Girls are not only worse than boys, but the girls are showing no improvement while the boys are gradually raising their moral standard," Moss stated.

"Last year there were fewer boys brought into juvenile court than the previous year, while the number of girl delinquents increased."

At the age of 80, Miss Marie Lanta's business women.

Government statistics show that approximately 12 per cent of all marry before they reach the 20.

STRIKE OUTLOOK BRIGHTER. Although the railroad strike is not of the woods, there seems to be brightness ahead which warms the hope of shortly emerging into sunlight.

The brotherhood chieftains met promptly and without quibbling accepted a conference with the railroad board, postponing the completion of their strike plans to do so. Although they may have no official word of what is to be proposed, the members of the board have been published throughout the country and are known to them. This program includes acceptance of the 12 percent wage cut of July 1 and the ending off of the strike, and the payment of the railroad executives to ask for further cuts at this time. Evidently this program is acceptable to the labor leaders, or they would not consent to enter the conference.

In fact, if press dispatches are to be relied upon, the brotherhood would have made an agreement to effect last week, but were cold-shouldered by the executives, and the strike call resulted.

The proposition is now squarely before the railway executives. If they balk, then we can have a strike, because it cannot be expected that the side can give all the way.

The welfare of the country is more vital than the union busting campaign which capital appears to be definitely under way, and of which the railway managers seem to be a part. Railway capital, especially, cannot afford to be high and mighty. Today, it is like the Russian oligarchy, rich, maybe, but without money. They are suppliants at the public trough, and in no position to issue their private grudges to the other end, as the steel trust and West Virginia mine operators do.

The labor board or some similar national should rule. Neither workers' organizations or great corporations should any longer be allowed to interfere with the welfare of the country. For arbitration and judicial investigation will give either what it justly deserves and feuds which are relics of industrial mediocrity should not be tolerated.

Now let's hear what the railway executives have to say. If they agree with the board's proposals, there will be no strike. If they refuse, then the onus of a national disaster lies on their shoulders.

England is to find a use for its surplus obsolete warships by selling them cheap to be broken up for junk to give unemployed workmen a job. This will hardly be taken, however, to prove the economic value of great armaments.—Springfield Republican.

Germany's richest man is on trial for war profiteering, which seems to show there must be some law there prohibiting individuals from succeeding where the government failed.—Kansas City Times.

The Mexican government desires to borrow money from the U. S. A. This is one of the situations in which business promotes friendship.—Washington Star.

MANY DONATE TO FIREMEN'S UNIFORM FUND

Approximately $100 in unsolicited donations was made to the fire department this morning by Ranger citizens, retail firms and business interests, as evidence of their good will and appreciation of the work of the firemen. The donations included $25 from the Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company, the sum of $10 from the negroes of Ranger and over $60 in varied amounts from a number of stores and individuals. The sum will be used to swell the winter uniform fund secured by the department in proceeds from the ball last night.

The $10.00 donation from negro residents of the city was presented by the porter in the Guaranty bank building who stopped Chief Murphy and explained that ten members of his race wanted to donate to the uniform fund and would feel hurt unless the firemen accepted the money. Chief Murphy stated that he wished to express the appreciation of the department for the generous support given them by the people of the city and that the whole department were exceedingly grateful.

RINGGOLD ATTENDS TAX ASSESSORS' MEET

The convention will remain in session for three days and is expected to take up the question of a uniform rendition of property values over the state and certain legislation sought by the members. Over 200 members of the association are expected to attend the convention.

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 19.—R. R. Welsh, 23, of Commerce, Texas, sent up from Dallas county for highway robbery, was killed by a guard at the state prison here late yesterday, according to announcement made by authorities today. Welsh was shot by Guard Chessire after being trailed by bloodhounds for more than two miles when he tried to escape, according to the reports. Welsh had been here only three weeks.

CAR STOLEN

A Ford speedster belonging to J. A. Gray was stolen yesterday morning from in front of the J. T. Berry lumber plant according to the report received by the police department. The car which was painted yellow, was equipped with a home made body. The license number was given as 14581.

FARMER SHOT

DEWEYVILLE, Texas, Oct. 19.—A "Mr. Clavens" was arrested and placed in jail here early today in connection with the probably fatal wounding of George Stevenson, prominent farmer and rancher, who was found, his right arm almost severed and his breast punctured by a charge of buckshot, at sundown yesterday. Stevenson was in a critical condition today. Physicians said he could not possibly live.

DOG HILL PARAGRAPHS By GEORGE BINGHAM

A big mass meeting with a fine speaking was scheduled to take place at the school building Saturday night. However, so many people decided that as the weather was so hot and the room would be so crowded they would stay away to make room for somebody else, only a few were present.

BLANTON AND R. R. MAN PASS NAUGHTY WORD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—A near fight was precipitated on the floor of the house of representatives Tuesday when Representative William J. Burke of Pittsburgh, member of the Order of Railway Conductors, in replying to a speech of Representative Blanton touching the contemplated railroad strike questioned the Texan's veracity.

Burke replying directly to some utterance of Mr. Blanton's shouted, "The statement you made is false. Blanton hurled back that it was true, to which Burke again vehemently charged the contrary.

Members Take a Hand. "You're a liar," yelled Blanton. "You're a damned liar," replied Burke.

Both members were standing on their feet, Burke in the pit of the house and Blanton before his seat, two rows away. Blanton started for the aisle and Burke, moving toward him, was intercepted by Sergeant at Arms Joe Rogers, while members crowded in front of Blanton.

The incident grew out of a harsh attack by Mr. Blanton on the railroad brotherhoods for their contemplated strike, delivered during the general debate on the bill continuing the emergency tariff law until Feb. 1. The Texas member, referring to the strike, said it was an industrial war declared by the railroad brotherhood chiefs and he expressed the hope that Majority Leader Mondell would drop a resolution placing at the disposal of the president all of the forces of the government to put down "this insurrection," which meant suffering for the people, a famine in coal and the loss of a vast amount of time and money.

COURT MAKES NEW RULING ON PISTOL TOTING

AUSTIN, Oct. 19.—"A man going in an ox wagon twenty miles and having to camp at night may have been held a traveler in times past, but it would certainly license pistol carrying, with all its train of evils, in these days of swiftly moving automobiles," the court of criminal appeals held today in affirming judgment of the lower court in the case of Paul George of Williamson county, fined $100 for carrying a pistol.

The court held that a person is not a traveler unless he is on a trip which takes him away from home for more than a day.

According to the record, George made a trip from Taylor to Austin—less than forty miles—returning home the same day. The trip took four hours. He was arrested for carrying a pistol during the trip.

BIG CROWD OUT FOR FIREMEN'S DE LUXE BALL

The comfort of the Ranger Fire Department during the coming winter became an assured fact last night when crowds thronged the Summer Garden during the progress of the Firemen's Ball, given for the benefit of the winter uniform fund. Every foot of floor space was occupied and the ball continued through midnight to the strains of the Kentucky Six dance orchestra, which was engaged by Chief Murphy for its initial appearance in Ranger. All of the 502 tickets for the ball were sold yesterday afternoon and seemingly every purchaser made it a point to attend. Late comers found difficulty in getting on the floor.

The large crowd had disastrous effects on the negro cake-walking contingent who were to perform as a special feature, the blacks developing stage fright at the last moment and declined to go on the floor. "Snowball" a diminutive negro dancer was roped in by the firemen as a substitute and performed without any qualms of modesty or conscience.

As the result of the wholehearted support of the Firemen's Ball over $400 was cleared for the uniform fund, after expenses for music and incidentals had been met.

VERMONT HAS DROUGHT.
WESTFIELD, Vt., Oct. 19.—Weather conditions unprecedented within the memory of the oldest inhabitant have prevailed in this border country for several weeks. Lack of rain has caused brooks to go dry, and in the towns of North Troy, Newport, Barton and Coventry, and Stanstead, across the Canadian line, use of electric power has been abandoned because of the water shortage. September passed without frost.

In several towns the water supply has become so low that it has been condemned for drinking purposes and firemen are obliged to depend upon the lakes or ponds when called upon to fight fires.

STEEL CORSETS TO SHIELD N. Y. POLICE FROM GUNFIRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A five pound "steel corset" made of canvas and Norwegian steel plates, will drape the bosom fronts of New York police engaged in perilous work in the future. The corsets resemble a section of a coat of mail.

Ten such "corsets" have already been purchased by the police department and these will be distributed among the bomb, Italian and Safe and Loft squads.

GENTRY CIRCUS APPEALS TO PAPA AND MAMMA, AS WELL AS KIDDIES

Ferocious animals and charming girls, jungle kings and barnyard pets are curiously intermingled in the performance of the Gentry Bros. show and wild animal arena, which is to exhibit in Ranger on Oct. 21, and which will no doubt, provide a jolly, joyous, jingling holiday for the folks for fifty miles around.

According to Robert W. Thompson, one of the advance men who was in the city recently, a mile-long street parade starts the day's circus frolics, in which hundreds of animals, both wild and domestic appear, along with four bands, a steam and

AFTER STAYING IDLE 12 MONTHS IS BACK ON JOB

"Only a man who has to work for a living knows what it means to get back on the job after not hitting a lick of work for a whole year. I lost twelve months straight time on account of stomach trouble. One of the worst cases I guess any man ever had. Tanlac not only made me a well man again but built me up 19 pounds in weight. I am writing all my friends in other cities to tell them of the wonderful news."

The above statement was made by George B. Lowe, well known employe of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., living at 451 McGowan St., Akron, Ohio.

an electric calliope and many hand carved, gold-leaved wagons; the parade is scheduled to appear on the downtown business streets of the city at noon, show day, and it is reported as worth going many miles to see.

Greatly Enlarged.

The Gentry Bros. show, which for years was known as the "children's delight," and spoken of as "Santa Claus' only rival in the hearts of children," has in the past few seasons, been greatly enlarged, retaining all the stellar features that appealed to the young, and adding all the newest ideas in circusdom, so that now the children take father and mother, instead of the folks taking the children, as of yore.

Free exhibitions on the grounds, preceding the big show, please the little ones and also the grown-ups, and the side show gets into action immediately after the return of the parade; an outstanding feature of this assortment of wonders is Sultana, the "fiercest brute alive," a new arrival in this country and as yet unclassified. The first exhibition in the big tent starts at 2 o'clock, and the night show commences at 8 o'clock.
