UNIONS SAY BOARD'S ORDERS NOT BINDING

Dove of Peace Gets Feathers Ruffled at Commission Meet

TIDAL WAVE FLOODS PART OF TAMPA, FLA.

All Wires Down in Worst Storm Since 1887; No Lives Lost.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 26.—The city of Tampa is partly under water as the result of a tidal wave caused by the tropical hurricane swept through Florida last night and early today, according to a train conductor reaching here. A considerable amount of property damage was done throughout the state as a result of the storm. Thus far no lives have been lost.

All wires, both telephone and telegraph are down. Many signs and roofs of buildings were blown away during the night in and around Jacksonville, although no loss of life was reported. At 10 a. m. all efforts to communicate with the Florida cities south of here had failed.

Reports reaching here by mail early today stated that the port of Tampa was under water, and many streets of Tampa flooded.

A report from Tampa reaching the local postal telegraph office by mail was that it had the most severe storm since 1887.

The schooner Sedome of Mobile was abandoned in a water logged condition off Key West early today as a result of Tuesday's storm. The coast guard cutter Tampa was instructed to go to the assistance of the derelict. The cutter is now in Key West. Reports are that the

ROTARIANS PRESENT BOYS' WORK PROGRAM AT LARGE OPEN MEETING

Plans Include Formation of Scout Troops, Providing Camps, Playgrounds and Swimming Pools, Aid to Schools and Help With Problems of Youngsters.

Ranger Rotarians, their wives, sweeties and other guests, assembled at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night at an open session of the club, the principal object of which was to explain the boys' work program to the end in view that other civic bodies would join. The Boy Scout troop, recently organized under Rotary auspices, were features of the evening, the members serving as ushers and contributing a song, which was among the most popular features of the evening. They have not yet elected officers, but were commanded last night by Emmitt McBeal, Wier Hunt and R. L. Davis, corporals.

Although most of the program was a serious presentation of Rotary aims in connection with the work for boys, there were amusement features at the beginning, middle and end, which allowed everyone to spill whatever smiles and laughs they had on tap, accumulated or otherwise.

The program opened, with a Rotary songfest, led by H. S. (Hard-Boiled) Cole, after which came an amusing roll call in rhyme, written by Mrs. George K. Taggart. Among the gems of which was the couplet on the dental member, who "your teeth can fill, with standard tools or rotary drills."

Raymond Teal, hurrying into the middle of the speeches with a brand new funmaker, "The Fortune Teller," was perhaps the headliner. Raymond's mystic mind-reader was there with the goods, as was shown from the first question following Teal's description of his prodigy.

"What have I got my hand on?" Raymond asked, as his digits caressed a vast plain surrounded by a thicket of hair.

"Nothing," was the reply. Further questions of the blind-folded seer revealed that he could "guess" "watch," if the introductory question was properly phrased, that all were seventeen-jewel timepieces and all had numbers. Then there was a card with a girl's name on it, which gave the "seer" visions of soap. At announcement of this vision there was

KISSES DIFFER!

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Her husband said her kisses were mechanical, while those of another woman "vibrated with the very essence of life," Mrs. Marian Miller told Judge Sabath yesterday. He granted her a divorce. Mrs. Miller said her husband admitted she was more beautiful and had more personality than Miss Florence Taylor, named as co-respondent. "It is her kissing," Miller told his wife. "Your kisses are the dutiful kind, hers vibrate with the very essence of life."

PRAIRIE MISSES TWICE, BUT HAS FAITH IN LEASE

After two unsuccessful attempts to locate pay sand on the D. E. Tower lease, eight miles northwest of Caddo, the Prairie company has made a third location on the tract and will start drilling as soon as the rigging up is completed. Officers of the company stated that the two abandoned wells on the lease had been drilled to depths of 3,430 and 3,970 feet and abandoned without shooting the lime. Several good wells are said to have been brought in in that section and it is believed that by shooting the lime, a producer can be obtained on the Tower lease. The Prairie has a large block of acreage under lease in the territory and in the event that a well is brought in, it is possible that extensive developments will follow.

POLICE CHIEF APPOINTMENT CAUSE OF WAR

Board Splits on Reynolds; Votes to Elect Next Week "For Certain."

Will Call Bond Election for Hospital; Parking Change; New Engineer.

Certain establishments in Ranger, running in violation of the law, cannot be closed up at the present because the police claimed that the city commission is not back of them, Commissioner C. O. Terrell told the city commission yesterday afternoon in calling for immediate action on the long delayed election of a chief of police and the commissioning of the police department. Under the determined stand taken by Commissioner Terrell and backed by Commissioner Hodges, the commission agreed to settle the matter once and for all next Tuesday. The insistence of Terrell for a showdown revealed Terrell and Hodges in support of Chief Eugene Reynolds, Mayor Gholsion and Commissioner Davenport opposing him and Commissioner Teal, while favoring Reynolds at the present time unwilling to vote until he could see "where he stood." "I am not a politician and want to know what I am doing," Teal explained.

The dove of peace attended the inauguration of the two new commissioners and hovered lovingly over the city fathers throughout their deliberations attending the changing of Main street parking regulations, agreement on final settlement of the paving contract and the election of M. H. Redwood as city engineer. But it made for the door when Commissioner Terrell called for action on the police election, toward the end of the meeting.

"The people are expecting us to take some action at once," Terrell said, "and there is more criticism"

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Unless Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the famous slacker brothers, vacates "Bergdoll castle" on or before Nov. 1, steps will be taken by the government to obtain immediate possession of the imposing mansion, it was learned today. "Bergdoll castle" was ordered seized with the rest of Bergdoll's property under the trading with the enemy act. Notice has been served on Mrs. Bergdoll that she must vacate.

MINERS USED RELIEF FUNDS TO BUY GUNS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Relief funds for striking miners in West Virginia were used for the purchase of guns, A. E. Hester, a former confidential agent of the miners' union, told the senate labor committee investigating the Mingo mine war. Hester was a witness for attorneys for the West Virginia mine operators. Hester said he knew 700 guns were purchased with strike funds and delivered to the miners.

BEER HUNT ON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The election of a "beer and light wine" congress is to be sought next year by the country's "wet interests." They are preparing now for what they term a national referendum on the question of amending the Volstead law to permit general sale and use of these beverages. Their plan is to put forward beer and wine candidates in every state, both for the house and senate, as far as it is possible. Only thirty-two senators out of ninety-six are to be elected, and in most cases the sitting members will seek re-election. But in all the forty-eight states the entire house delegation will be chosen anew.

NEFF HEARS CRITICISM OF PRISON VIEWS

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—The session of the Texas League of Women Voters Tuesday afternoon was enlivened by an attack upon Governor Neff by State Senator Harry Hertzberg of San Antonio, just after the governor had finished a speech on the Texas prison system. Hertzberg is a member of the legislative prison investigating committee.

The senator declared Governor Neff is unfamiliar with real conditions in the Texas prisons. "He has drawn too rosy a picture," he said. He attacked Neff's appointment of J. A. Herring of Houston as chairman of the prison commission, his stand against the suspended sentence law and his abolition of the board of pardons. Governor Neff heard Hertzberg's speech but refused to comment on it.

In his own talk, the governor said everything possible is being done for the social and moral uplift of convicts, and that prisoners are being treated more humanely than ever before in this state. The governor said he intends to personally investigate all pardon applications.

After appointment of convention committees, reports of officers and recommendations, the Texas league of women voters in session here today took up the discussion of women in industry. Among the speakers on the second day's program was Miss Annie Webb Blanton of Austin, state superintendent of public instruction.

Mrs. Ruth Potts Spence of Dallas, was chairman of the conference.

MANY BACKERS OF EX-EMPEROR SHOOT SELVES

Several took their own lives at the time of the rout of the Monarchist forces, in which the casualties were today reported to have reached 2,000.

Others of the former emperor's party were removed to the military prisons.

HOUSE IS SPLIT ON UNSEATING OF BLANTON

"Severe Censure" Has Supporters Among Both Democrats and Republicans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The house appeared split today on the resolution to unseat Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat, of Texas.

While Representative Mondell, Republican floor leader and author of the ouster resolution, and a strong group of Democrats and Republicans were standing firm for expulsion, a large number of members declared their determination to have the resolution modified to one of "severe censure." Action on the resolution is scheduled for tomorrow.

Blanton was to return to the capital today from Wheeling, W. Va., and was expected to make a statement from the floor immediately upon his arrival.

The fiery Southerner will not resign his seat to escape the expulsion proceedings, his friends declared today, but will "fight to the end."

TRAINMEN'S HEAD QUIZZED BY BOARD AT FIRST SESSION

Inner Politics of Unions Probed Into; Few General Chairmen Appear at Conference to Discuss Strike Solution.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The decision of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen to strike was made solely against the 12 per cent wage cut ordered by the United States railway labor board.

This admission was made today by W. G. Lee, chief of the trainmen, under questioning by Ben Hooper, vice chairman of the board, at the opening of the conference between brotherhood chiefs and railway executives called to avert the Oct. 30 railroad strike.

The board's inquiry as indicated by Lee's examination, will aim to determine if the union leaders mean to flaunt the authority of the board. Lee stated flatly he did not believe that either the railroads or the employees were compelled to obey the board's decisions if they did not see fit.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The United States railroad labor board, now holding hearings here to determine whether the Big Four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's union have violated or are about to violate the wage cut which became effective July 1, today probed into the inner politics of the unions which led to the taking of the separate strike ballot by the trainmen.

Mr. Lee declared the difference between himself and the other unions arose when he issued a clean-cut statement pointing out that there was no possibility of reopening negotiations with the roads, using a strike vote as a club, because the labor board and not the railroads had ordered the wage cut.

Why Ballots Differed.

Lee, when called to the stand by Ben W. Hooper, "prosecuting attorney" for the labor board, declared the strike ballots of the other four brotherhoods violated his understanding of what the transportation act provided.

Lee told how the strike vote was taken, and the walk-out ordered. He told the board he withdrew from the joint meeting of the other unions because their strike resolution covered questions which he did not think were involved.

Wanted to Tell Truth. "I took the position," Lee said, "that for once in my life at least I wanted to tell the truth to my men about the facts as I saw them."

Lee read into the record a circular letter sent to his men while they were voting on the strike, in which he pointed out that wages must come down, and that 4,000,000 unemployed men were seeking jobs.

When Chairman Barton of the board called the meeting to order, shortly after 10 a. m., 500 union heads were grouped on the right hand side of the coliseum. A hundred heads of the great railroads of the country were seated on the opposite side. As Barton's gavel tapped, it broke up little groups of railroad executives visiting with the union chiefs, who will be fighting bitterly within a few days if the strike goes into effect. The summons to the two sides of the dispute was read by a clerk.

Strange Gathering. It was one of the strangest gatherings ever assembled at a labor conference in Chicago. Numbers of women were scattered through the hall. Among the early arrivals were fifty girl college students.

In citing the labor groups to appear, Chairman Barton said in his opening statement that the board was "principally moved by threatened tie-up of commerce."

Chairman Barton made it plain that the inquiry was being conducted entirely on the initiative of the board, neither the railroads nor the employees about to strike being concerned in bringing up the case. In his statement the chairman said, "The merits of the wage reduction decision in opposition to which the employees are threatening to strike, or any other decision of the board, not at this time in question, and no decision in regard thereto will be discussed. The question is simply, has there been a violation, and is one threatened."

General Chairman Absent. A squabble over representation of three unions, locomotive engineers, firemen and conductors, arose during the roll call. President of the unions declared they had full power to act. Barton stated it was not a question of whether or not they had full power to act, but declared the board called the chairman to the conference. The clerk was ordered to call the roll of general chairmen present at the conference. Less than 1 per cent of the general chairmen answered the call. And when the roll call was half through, only three had answered present, Barton stopped the clerk, and asked all general chairmen present to stand up. After a handful arose and it was explained that nearly all were members of the executive committee. Less than a dozen general chairmen of the conductors' organization who were not also members of the executive committee, were present. The same was true of the switchmen's and firemen's unions.

GUNS BOOM AS PRINCE OF WALES SAILS FOR INDIA

NEIGHBOR WHO CUT GRASS ALTOGETHER TOO GOOD

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.—Mrs. Bertha Wilson complained to Assistant Police Prosecutor Russick that she had too good a neighbor.

"He cuts my lawn, rathers up the papers, pulls out weeds and puts the fallen apples on the porch," she said. "I'll issue a summons for that guy," Russick said. "Perhaps I can induce him to take the house next mine."

BOTH I. & G. N. OFFICIALS AND STRIKERS "SATISFIED"

PALESTINE, Texas, Oct. 26.—Operation of freight trains over the International & Great Northern railway is steadily increasing, according to reports given out at the general offices here today. Strike leaders said they were entirely satisfied with the strike's progress, and that they expected G. M. Anderson, vice president of the trainmen's brotherhood, now en route from Cleveland to Houston, would take charge of the situation for the men.

Officials of the company stated today they are putting switchmen and road crews to work as fast as they can acquaint the new men with the railroad yards and working conditions. They also say they are getting as many men to take the places of the striking railway trainmen as they can use.

I. & G. N. REMOVES EMBARGO.

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—Freight embargoes, put into effect when trainmen on the International & Great Northern railroad walked out last Saturday, were cancelled today, according to word received here.

All International & Great Northern trains, both passenger and freight, are running as usual, it was said.

Strike preparations are going ahead on all lines here. The Missouri, Kansas and Texas today advertised for experienced men in event of a strike. Applications for places as trainmen are piling up in the offices of the Texas & Pacific, it was declared by officials of that road today.

CONSOLIDATION OF R. R.'S IS URGED BY CUMMINS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Consolidation of the railroads into a group of systems, much fewer in number than now, is the only practical solution of the railroad problem, Senator Cummins of Iowa, declared today before the senate interstate commerce committee. Consolidation and that alone, he said, would make possible equitable, fair and scientific treatment of all the roads on a basis that would provide the public with good service.

The Olympic was built by the Germans to lead the merchant fleets of the world, and while still unfinished was turned over by them to the reparations commission, under the Versailles treaty. She is 956 feet long and her interior space is equal to that of 400 eight-room suburban houses. Sir Bertram Hayes, a native of Birkenhead, is 57 years old and a bachelor. He has many friends in the United States.

DOVE OF PEACE GETS FEATHERS RUMPLED AT COMMISSION MEET

about this than any other one thing. If you are going to give those men their commissions, you should do so, and if you are not, then get somebody else."

Commissioner Davenport demanded to know how Terrell knew the department was without commissions and declared that they were commissioned. He depreciated the need of haste in the matter and suggested it be postponed until next week, or the next. On obtaining little action from this commission, Terrell demanded to know whether they were going to give Reynolds his commission or not.

"Reynolds should have his commission now," Terrell informed the others, "and if you want to fire him later, do so."

Davenport expressed the opinion that too many chiefs had been fired in the past and was informed that they had not been fired quick enough. It was contended by Davenport that he had no applications for the place of chief of police and that so far as he knew, no one wanted the job. He was reminded that Reynolds had filed application Monday for the office, but expressed the desire to wait until next week by which time other petitions would "likely be filed."

Terrell then moved that Reynolds be elected chief of police, which resulted in a tie vote. Terrell and Hodges voting for Reynolds and Davenport and Teal voting against him. Before Mayor Gholson could cast the deciding vote, however, Teal explained that he could vote no other way at this time although he favored Reynolds for the place and that he was not willing to elect a chief of police until the next meeting.

In answering contentions of Mayor Gholson that the matter was not of the utmost importance, Terrell declared that a number of complaints were heard in regard to a certain cold drink stand and a rooming house, which he mentioned by names, and declared that a certain man connected with the rooming house should be run out of town. "You can't get the police to do anything, as they contend that the city commission is not back of them," he added. Davenport expressed the opinion that there would be many complaints if the places were closed and disagreed with Terrell when the latter contended that about 90 per cent of the people of Ranger wanted the places closed. The discussion brought repeated tilts between Davenport and Terrell and on one occasion between Commissioner Hodges and Mayor Gholson. All differences were apparently patched up, however, when the commission adjourned.

To Call Bond Election.

As the final offer of business of the day, the commission voted to call an election on the proposed bond issue of $35,000, for the county-city hospital, the date to be announced as soon as preliminary arrangements have been completed. Mayor Gholson expressed the opinion that the county appropriation of $30,000 for the hospital would be available when needed.

The parallel parking regulation for Main street was repealed by the commission, on the petition of Main street merchants who favored the parking of cars at 45 degrees, as providing more room on the street for parking purposes.

All bids, asked for some time ago, on the expiration of the sanitary contracts, were rejected by the commission, which decided to ask for new bids, to include estimates for street cleaning. It was the opinion of the commission that the expenditure of $650 monthly for street cleaning under the present contract was excessive and that some plan for cleaning the streets by other means should be worked out. The employment of street sweepers and an arrangement with the sanitary contractors for hauling was suggested by Commissioner Hodges. Following a general discussion of the sanitary situation, the commission voted for a uniform charge of 50 cents for cleaning toilets instead of the 50- and 75-cent charge in effect now.

Settlement for Paving.

Final settlement with the McKenzie Construction company was agreed upon. M. H. Redwood, acting engineer, was appointed city engineer at a salary of $150 a month, his duties to include supervision of plumbing and gas connections. Contractors for the new Texas & Pacific station were granted permission to rope off half a block on Commerce street to be used for material.

CAN'T HAVE RANGERS UNDER PRIVATE PAY

(By United Press.)

AUSTIN, Oct. 26.—The attorney general's department today handed down an opinion to Adjutant General Barton, advising him that he has no authority to appoint more than fifty state rangers, including officers and men, even if their upkeep is provided by some public or private corporation.

General Barton had intimated that additional rangers might be employed during the strike, their upkeep being paid for by the parties employing them.

The employment of women in occupations listed as dangerous by the Wisconsin industrial commission is forbidden.

BEAUTY NAMED IN MILLION-DOLLAR LOVE SUIT

Mrs. Lillian Hendrick

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Society circles here was astounded at news of a $1,000,000 alienation suit brought in Burlington, Vt., by Mrs. Dorrit Van Deusen Stevens Woodhouse against her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse.

Equally surprising was the linking of the name of Mrs. Lillian Hendrick McClellan, noted beauty and social leader at Washington, who is mentioned by the wife in what she terms a "love plot" alleged to have been hatched by the mother and father of Charles Douglas Woodhouse.

Married in 1918. Young Woodhouse and the then Miss Stevens, both socially prominent, were married in this city Sept. 28, 1918. Since her marriage, Mrs. Woodhouse alleges in her complaint, her husband's parents have used every means in their power to break up the union. She charges that her husband's parents sought to alienate their son's affections and effect an alliance with the beautiful Mrs. McClellan.

In Washington yesterday Mrs. David Hendrick, Mrs. McClellan's mother denied there was any justification for linking her daughter's name with Woodhouse. She said: "She hasn't even seen him for more than a year. My daughter's beauty has been the cause of all her unfortunate troubles and attendant publicity."

Mrs. McClellan got divorce. Mrs. McClellan divorced her husband in Reno three years ago, less than four years after her debut in Washington society. Last September her engagement was announced to G. Vail Converse, millionaire clubman of New York and grandson of Theodore N. Vail, head of the New York Telephone and Telegraph company. Shortly after the announcement the engagement was annulled. Mrs. Hendrick said at the time that the engagement was a mistake, adding: "It was announced by Mr. Converse's brother, and was more of a joke than anything else. There was no real engagement between my daughter Lillian and Mr. Converse. However, there was a mutual understanding that they were to be married. This was annulled by mutual agreement."

Lorenzo E. Woodhouse is president of the Merchants' National Bank of Burlington. His town house at No. 625 Park avenue, New York City, is closed, as was the summer home at Easthampton, L. I. Mr. and Mrs. Woodhouse were out of town yesterday, and their son, who was said to be living in this city, could not be found.

'AMERICAN' IS PASSWORD THAT OPENS RUSSIA

(By John Graudenz, United Press Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 26.—"American sky correspondents" was all that was necessary in Moscow to open almost every door for us.

Be it the tramcar conductor or the sentry at the door, the shopkeeper or the population in general in the streets, the Americans are the highest estimated foreigners in Moscow.

Partly this is due to the announcement of the government papers that the Americans were the first and about the only people who came immediately to the rescue of the famine stricken sections without first investigating whether there really was a famine at all in Russia.

The French are today perhaps the most hated in Russia. "Séechas" (one moment) might mean from a minute to a month, or even longer than that. Four American correspondents arriving at Moscow made their first acquaintance with the word while waiting for an hour at the Moscow station after the official courier, who had accompanied them from Riga to Moscow, left us there with the word "séechas" behind.

Major Carroll of the A. R. A., too, had quite a few lessons of the real meaning of the word, whether it was the cleaning of the house for his residence and offices, or the organization of his food train for the arrival of the food itself from Riga. This, however, was partly caused through the delay at the Latvian side. Nevertheless, the Russians remarked admiringly what a remarkable feat the Americans had accomplished when the first food train left for Kasan—the famine region—within two weeks after the A. R. A. arrived in Moscow.

This slowness is by no means due to lack of efficiency. It is due to the Slavick nature and, secondly, it is due to hunger. "These people have had a constant boring in their stomachs for years. It affects the brain and the physical constitution of everyone," a German diplomat told me at Moscow.

There is another word characteristic for the Russian minds, "Neechevo," meaning don't matter, don't mention it, it can't be helped. "We probably all will die this winter of starvation. Neechevo."

500 WITH MRS. CONLEY.

Mrs. Charles Conley entertained the members of the 500 club and their husbands, Tuesday evening. This date happened to be Mr. Conley's birthday and there was a birthday cake with the requisite number of candles and the guests amused themselves trying to guess the number of candles thereon, but it proved to be that guessing a man's age even with the evidence before one, is as elusive as guessing a woman's age.

There were four prizes given, two to the ladies and two to the gentlemen. Mrs. Pullen won the first prize for the ladies, a bulb bowl, and Mrs. J. B. Haden the second prize, a tube of tooth-paste. Mr. Harry Reid won the first prize for the gentlemen, a gold pencil, and Mr. Ed Horrigan the second prize, a leather memorandum case.

The decorations for the evening carried out the Halloween motive and cider, "hot-dog" sandwiches and pumpkin pie further suggested the season, such refreshments bringing back to mind the days of the barnyard dance given in the season of the harvest moon.

FIRE DEPARTMENT TO REFILL EXTINGUISHERS

As a means of encouraging fire protection in Ranger, the fire department has arranged to refill fire extinguishers at a reduced cost, under a plan announced today by Chief Murphy. The chemicals in the extinguishers become inactive after several months and should be changed, the chief explained, and expressed the opinion that a large number of individuals here, would be ineffective in case of fire. The charge for the work by the fire department is said to be less than half of the commercial rate.

BORROWED $10 STARTS TOWN OF 18,000 SNAKES

Down at Brownsville Is Man Who Has Largest Collection in World.

By International News Service
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26.—Down on the Mexican border, within a stone's throw of Brownsville, is a prosperous little village with a population running into the thousands that had its start on a borrowed $10 bill. There are no traffic cops on the streets and Sunday is just as good as any other day in this unusual little municipality.

Another unusual feature of this peculiar little town is the fact that there are only a few human beings counted among its population of thousands and that very few of these speak English.

Snakeville, Texas, is the town end the man who founded it, William A. Snake King.

Here is the story of how the municipality of Snakeville sprang from a borrowed $10 bill.

Time to Settle Down.
Twenty years ago William King, having wandered three times around the globe in various capacities from the seaman and stevedore to common laborer, decided that it was time to settle down and take a more serious outlook upon life.

Being more or less of a naturalist by instinct, and his world wanderings having further developed this tendency he decided on the job of supplying circuses and zoos with wild animals as a profession.

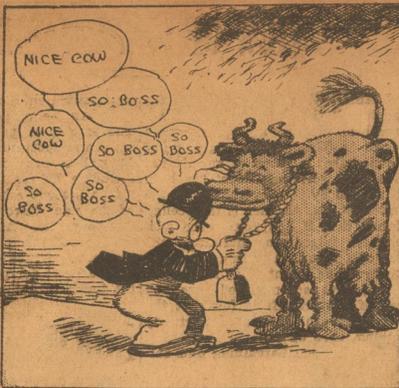

With ten cents in his pocket he borrowed a $10 bill for one month at the rate of $1 interest and began his career. With the borrowed money in his pocket he sauntered down the sleepy main street of Brownsville and purchased a fine specimen of a bull snake from a Mexican peon who had just captured it in the foothills back of Matamoros, Mexico. He sold it almost immediately to an Eastern zoo and the snake king was launched upon his business career.

18,000 Reptiles.

From the bull snake purchased from the Mexican peon King's collection has grown until now the town of Snakeville boasts of a population of 18,000 reptiles, to say nothing of the various species of parrots, monkeys, lizards, lions and other beasts. Sooner or later every known species become inhabitants of Snakeville and remain residents of the various concrete houses and runaways until sold.

At the present time the business has grown so that King has seventeen animal buying stations throughout Mexico and South America.

"HUSBAND PRODDERS" TO LINE UP DELINQUENTS

By International News Service
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Creation of the official position of "county husband prodder" has been decided on by the Los Angeles county board of supervisors.

The duty of the "husband prodder" will be to collect from delinquents who have been ordered by the "failure-to-provide" court to support their wives or children.

Judge Summerfield, who handles the failure-to-provide cases, and Presiding Judge Schenck, of the superior court, appeared before the supervisors and pointed out the necessity for such an official.

Judge Summerfield stated that about $100,000 a year was being collected through his court. He added that much of the money ordered paid was lost because there was no one to follow up the cases.

MANHATTAN

A play which it is said thrills with vital interest will be shown at the Manhattan theatre today and Thursday. It is a Fox play called "Rose of the West," and is described as a vivid photoplay to the northern wilds. The scenes are laid in a country that is visited only occasionally by Indians and the patrol of the northwest mounted police.

The story is that of a brave woman who fights against the plan of her brutal husband to sell their daughter for a gold field he has secretly discovered. At one point, her husband absent for several years, is supposed to be dead, and Rose La Belle is about to marry the head of the mounted police, when her husband reappears. The situation as described is intensely dramatic and full of suspense. "Rose of the West" is declared to be one of the strongest plays of its kind.

The Master-Rebuilder

"Her Lord and Master," which will be shown at the Majestic theatre Wednesday and Thursday there would be less need of censorship and fewer complaints about motion pictures. "Her Lord and Master" is a clean, wholesome production free from gun play, sex element and melodramatic absurdities.

It presents Alice Joyce in as charming a role as she has ever portrayed. The character of Indiana furnishes her material for clever picture studies of the spoiled child who becomes the obedient wife.

Holmes E. Herbert plays opposite Miss Joyce and presents a British aristocrat in capable manner. He has a role that could easily be overacted and spoiled; but this artist begets a temperance in drawing his character with a result that is entirely satisfactory.

The production was directed by Edward Jose, and shows that his reputation as an expert director is well founded. He has placed his action in exquisite scenic backgrounds and presents each scene with appropriate lighting effects.

The cast, which includes such names as Walter McEwen, Frank Sheridan, Marie Shotwell, Louise Beaudet, Eugene Acker, John Southard and Ida Waterman, is well chosen. Each member is an artist in his or her line.

The entire production is praiseworthy and excels the stage version in which Effie Shannon and Herbert Kealey were co-starred. The picture should enjoy even greater success than the play. It is one that will entertain the entire family.

joining room. An intensely dramatic scene arises when Ann declares she killed Devereaux in self-defense, but the sudden intervention of a disinterested party clears up things and leaves Ann facing greater happiness because of the love and sacrifice she has shown.

Low Cody is good as the polished villain, Devereaux, and Charles Richmond has the role of the husband.

Without doubt this production is the most interesting and brilliant of any yet seen in which Miss Talmadge has the leading role. She plays the part of a pretty young stenographer and later the role of a noble and loving wife with all her sympathetic charm. Herbert Brenon directed the picture.

The acting of Norma is superb. She is seen in the role of Ann Hanniwell, a pretty stenographer, who, through no fault of her own, is compromised by her employer's son, Frank Devereaux, in a questionable cafe when the place is raided. Devereaux succeeds in hushing up the affair, however, and Ann considers the incident closed.

She marries in a couple of years, "Lafe" Regan, a man of wealth and social position. Later Devereaux comes back from France and starts an affair with Ann's young stepdaughter. Just at the same time when Ann goes to Devereaux's apartment to save her stepdaughter, Regan also goes in defense of a friend of his. Devereaux resents his interference and a quarrel ensues in which Regan shoots Devereaux.

He does not know that his wife witnessed the tragedy from an adjacent room.

COOL WEATHER ENDS CHOLERA EPIDEMIC

By Associated Press.

SAMARA, Oct. 26.—Cholera has about run its course along the Volga for this year and, as the weather grows cooler, is disappearing very rapidly in spite of the weakened condition of the famine-stricken population and the unsanitary condition of impoverished refugees crowded into camps where there is absolute lack of sanitary precautions.

Vital statistics are lacking but the testimony of medical men who have wide knowledge of health conditions in the Volga districts indicates that the death rate among persons who were taken with cholera ranged from 50 to 75 per cent. This was attributed to the undernourished condition of the population and lack of facilities to treat the malady.

SOLDIERS AS FARM OWNERS.

Canada, which some time ago set aside 200,000 acres in the Porcupine forest reserve for soldier settlement, now announces the taking over of 162 acres in the province of Saskatchewan for the establishment of a township to be inhabited exclusively by former soldiers. The name of the town will be Lens. It will be planned, built and managed by ex-service men. The Canadian plan for soldier settlement has had, according to all reports, a very desirable effect on the back-to-the-land movement and is doubly commendable because it combines the two-fold result of equitably compensating the soldiers for their war service and at the same time strengthening the economic situation through increased production.

It is a deplorable reality that similar measures of relief and construction in the United States have developed but little beyond the discussion stage. The United States has vast tracts of arable lands still undeveloped. There are thousands of acres in southwest Missouri awaiting settlement. It requires but little capital, less capital than perhaps any other independent enterprise; but it does take tenacity, hard work and stubborn resolution to make a success out of any kind of undertaking. Farm prices just now are not encouraging, but practically every other economic factor is encouraging. Cities are over-crowded, unemployment prevails and the high cost of living is much higher in the cities than in rural communities. We need men to develop our vast uncultivated regions. We have those men, but we lack sufficiently attractive inducements to put them where they would best serve themselves and their country.

LENGTH OF TRESSES
DOESN'T MEASURE BRAINS, SAYS COLLEGE PREXY

By Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—Judging a girl's fitness for business by the length of her hair as an employment standard, has little more to recommend it than the selection of a man because he wears a bow tie or a four-in-hand, in the opinion of Dr. William W. Guth, president of Goucher College of Baltimore. While a little vanity is good for any woman, "bobbed brains" are a more vital subject than bobbed hair, according to President Guth.

"It is difficult to see why this harmless feminine whim has aroused such widespread discussion," Dr. Guth added, "unless, perhaps it is true that we delight in making mountains out of molehills. For, all the evidence visible from a college office points to the fact that the young girl of today is aiming toward a standard not to be compared with uniform coiffures—the standard of real usefulness in the home, in the community and in the world of business.

"So much has been said about the vanities and frivolities of the modern girl that it is only fair to point out that the average girl of today is far better equipped mentally than the girl of a generation ago. The girl of today wants to be useful as well as ornamental."

METHODISTS TO HONOR FIRST U. S.
'CIRCUIT RIDER'

Francis Asbury Braved Perils of Wilderness to Establish Church in America.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—American Methodism will unite at Washington tomorrow to honor the memory of its own St. Francis whose landing at Philadelphia 1771 will have its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary according to announcement from Methodist headquarters here today.

On a bleak October Francis Asbury stepped from the ship after fifty-two days of sleeping on the deck, hard fare and hardships for his portion. Asbury joined the Methodists as a boy of thirteen. At sixteen he heard his call to preach. At twenty-two he was ordained and at twenty-six volunteered and was accepted for service in America. He was poor but friendly folk in Bristol, England, fitted him with a new suit of clothes and gave him ten pounds. When he took up the torch at Philadelphia he carried its flame from Boston to Savannah and as far west as Ohio.

America's First Bishop.
Not alone was he the pioneer bishop of Methodism, he was the first bishop of any church consecrated on American soil. He was the originator of Methodist missions, and the first Sunday school on this continent was the child of his endeavor. He sent his preachers to the forest depths, most destitute settlements of human habitation and wherever a group of log cabins were gathered thither would a man of prayer come to point to the city which hath foundations and claim the hamlet for the Empire of Christ.

Francis Asbury, scattered as good seed in all sorts of soil, 16,500 sermons. In the thirty years of his life he travelled 270,000 miles, presided at 225 conferences, ordained 4,000 preachers, read 100 pages a day, often with his saddle for a study and its pommel for his desk. He crossed the Alleghenies sixty times. When perils of the wilderness had every ill that the flesh is heir to.

U. S. NOW TAKING LONG DISTANCE VIEW OF DISARMAMENT MEET

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—As the opening of the arms conference approaches, visitors in well-informed circles in Washington gain the impression that all hope of any drastic change in world armament has been abandoned by the government of the United States. Rather is the feeling abroad that if the conference succeeds in introducing definitely the idea of a reduction in armament and rouses public attention in the matter it will have accomplished much by way of a start. It is felt that the various governments can do virtually nothing, save on the old Paris lines of haggling and bargaining and balancing, unless a phalanx of public opinion is built up in their respective countries and this should be a long business.

The original proposition of a naval holiday, as between the United States, Great Britain and Japan, has lost backing. The state department has developed more of a "long distance" perspective of the whole conference. April is spoken of as a likely month for the winding up of the first assemblage, but it is not improbable that this closure will be in the nature of an adjournment to the autumn of 1922 and that during the recess various committees will be hard at work upon issues involved in the negotiations. The general trend is away from an attempt such as was made at Paris to compress the great problem on hand—the greatest in history—into a limited period of discussion and negotiation.

It is felt that the prime business of the conference is, first, inquiry, then publicity, eventually the formation of world opinion enabling the various delegations to approach the vital interests of the powers concerned in such a way as would react favorably on a limitation of armament by those nations. In broad principle there is to be no hurry and few illusions, the Harding administration resting content with the attainment

According to the announcement Methodism intends to present to the nation Asbury's statue in bronze on a site in Washington which has been granted by congress and President Harding will unveil the statue and give a brief eulogy.

GIRLS HUSBANDLESS SUICIDE IN TRIOS

TOKYO, Oct. 26.—"Shinju," or suicide by pairs of lovers who find obstacles, are a recognized commonplace in Japan, but recently several cases of trios seeking death together have come to the public notice.

In one case a geisha and her lover decided to seek happiness in another world, and another geisha, who heard of their intention, was so charmed with the romanticism of the idea that she insisted on being one of the party. So the three hired a boat, tied themselves together and found death in the ocean near Osaka.

In another instance a school girl decided to take her life and told two other girls of her intention. The two friends wished to show her their loyalty even until death, and one morning the three small corpses were found on the beach, firmly tied together by their sash strings.

On the whole, suicides by women, which have always been fairly common, have increased greatly.

Hard times make it difficult for many men to earn money sufficient to allow them to take wives. As a Japanese girl considers it a disgrace not to marry, many of the left-overs are seeking relief in death.

JOHN STAGNER
COULD NOT EAT
ANY SOLID FOOD

"I gained six pounds in weight on my first bottle of Tanlac and it has just about made me over," said John M. Stagner, 1609 Common st., Houston, well known railroad man.

"For about three years I couldn't eat meat or eggs or anything heavy and lived almost entirely on milk and broths and other liquid foods. My kidneys bothered me a good deal and I fell off in weight until I was hardly more than skin and bones.

"Tanlac is rapidly putting me in good shape and I know if one bottle could do me as much good as it has that I will soon be a well man. It is the only medicine I have been able to find that helped me a bit."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by the Palace Drug Store.—Advertisement.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER COMPANY
128 William Street, New York

How to make it

Use level measurements for all materials

1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar
Grated rind of 1/2 orange
1 egg and 1 yolk
2 1/2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 cup milk
1 1/2 squares (1 1/2 oz.) of unsweetened chocolate (melted)
1/4 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening. Add sugar and grated orange rind. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift together flour, salt and Royal Baking Powder and add alternately with the milk; lastly fold in one beaten egg white. Divide batter into two parts. To one part add the chocolate. Put by tablespoonsful, alternating dark and light chocolate, into three greased layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

FILLING AND ICING

3 tablespoons melted butter
3 cups confectioner's sugar
(Powdered sugar may be used but does not make so smooth icing)
Grated rind of 1/2 orange and pulp of 1 orange
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 egg white
3 squares (3 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup orange

Put butter, sugar, orange juice and rind into bowl. Cut pulp from orange, removing skin and seeds, and add. Beat all together until smooth. Fold in beaten egg white. Spread this icing on layer used for top of cake. While icing is soft, sprinkle with unsweetened chocolate shaved in fine pieces with sharp knife (use 1/2 square). To remaining icing add 2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate which has been melted. Spread this thickly between layers and on sides of cake.

Round the Sport Circle with Jack Veieck International News Sporting Editor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Like a good many world's series the recent one between the Giants and Yankees brought forth its unheralded hero.

Babe Ruth, Carl Mays, Bob Meusel and Waite Hoyt, of the Yanks, were among those expected to shine. Hoyt did shine, and his wonderful pitching will long be remembered by those who saw him turn the Giants back in two games.

Of the Giants most critics looked toward the pitchers for the stellar stuff, and Phil Douglas and Jess Barnes came through in grand style by salting away four games between them.

He was Johnny Rawlings. Rawlings, the lucky guy. Rawlings, who came from a tail-end club and played one of the greatest aggressive and defensive games that could have been asked of any player.

Giant sympathizers held their breaths in dismay when Baker started that hit toward right field. It looked safe, sure, but Rawlings dove for it, fell, recovered himself and got Baker by an eyelash.

Judge Landis said: "What goes up must come down"—but few folks ever see one of Ruth's come down if he gets a good toe hold at the plate.

Anent the Ruth-Landis controversy it seems that the coming winter will bring developments that will tend to prove that sentiment among the magnates is on the side of the Big Bambino, even though they are standing firmly behind the commissioner in everything he does.

The ruling that caused the trouble is narrow and unfair. It could easily be changed so that the name of a major league club could not be used in connection with a barn-storming trip and that would leave all players free to storm around among the barns as much as they pleased.

A very prominent magnate, who asked that his name be not mentioned, predicted to the writer a few days ago that the teeth will be taken out of the rule when the big league moguls get together during the coming cold snap.

Going to be another hot time among the minor leaguers at Buffalo next December. John Farrell and Mike Sexton have sent out notices urging all the good arguers to be on hand.

HOOSH FOR INDIANS; WHY THEN, 'POOR LO'?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Peyote, sometimes called "Indian hoosh," one of the last survivors of the family of John Barleycorn, was saved at least temporarily to the American Indian by the senate.

A plea by Senator Owen, Democrat, of Oklahoma, in whose veins there is Indian blood, caused the senate to strike from a house bill a provision authorizing the bureau of Indian affairs to suppress use of peyote, a beverage made from the cactus bean.

Senator Owen told the senate that it was used in Indian religious ceremonies. Senator Curtis of Kansas, another member of Indian descent, interjected that it was used sometimes without any ceremonies, but the senate, on a viva voce vote, supported Senator Owen's plea.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—Georges Clemenceau is dangerously ill at his villa at Vendee. Three doctors are in attendance on the aged "tiger," but no bulletins have been issued. His condition is reported so critical that not even his most intimate friends are allowed to see him.

MALTESE CAT SETS FASTING RECORD OF NINETY-NINE DAYS

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 26.—Ninety-nine days without food or drink—That's the starvation record established by a Maltese cat at Fairplay, Colo.

Its ninth life was almost gone when it was rescued by Gwendolyn and Lawrence Gwinn, Jr., children of Dr. L. M. Gwinn, from an old box in which it had been imprisoned. The children found the box in an old barn.

When the cat jumped from the burning building it is believed it landed on the edge of the box in the barn and that the box turned over, imprisoning it.

The cat was a handful of skin and bones when it was taken from under the box. It could not stand. It could not even stick out its tongue to lap up milk. It could not even meow.

FIFTY MILLION PRICE SET FOR COMPLETE CITY

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Does anyone want to buy a complete, modern, up-to-date town fitted with all conveniences? Price, only $50,000,000.

The name of the town is Gretna, specially built during the war and in easy reach of four great railroad systems. The British government is the seller and is ready to make special concessions for a cash deal.

Gretna was a great war-time product, specially constructed for the purpose of producing cordite explosive. But after November, 1918, the cordite industry declined somewhat, and as the British government has no particular war in view at the moment it has decided to wind up the business.

The site covers 9,200 acres. There are 312 well-built houses and sixty hostels. The churches number six. Two movie houses each accommodate 1,100. There are a couple of public halls capable of holding 1,800 people.

A central kitchen is capable of cooking for 10,000 people daily; a special laundry can deal with the needs of 6,000 persons every week. Houses Last 200 Years.

All the houses are guaranteed to last for 200 years at least. The gardens surrounding them were laid out by experts. Naturally, the town being built by public money, no possible expense was saved.

But then there are wonderful factories, marvelously equipped. The town has seventy-eight miles of standard gauge railroads and forty-seven miles of narrow gauge. It has water works which supply 10,000 gallons daily; the finest glycerine distillery in the world, while the plant for dealing with sulphuric acid, ether and gas is the last word in scientific accuracy.

The laboratories are marvels of their kind, and the power station is one of the finest in Britain. But all now stand deserted.

Anyone putting down the $50,000,000—for which the British treasury will be duly grateful—can utilize it as all three if so desired.

BROADWAY ROBBERY NETTED ONE MILLION

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Loot in Broadway's sensational mail robbery is now estimated at approximately $1,000,000 and officials of banks which lost heavily when four sacks of registered mail were seized from a mail truck while the driver was held at the point of a pistol were charging culpable laxity on the part of local postoffice authorities, it was declared.

The reason for criticism of the postal authorities, it was said, was the fact that no guard accompanied Frank Haveranck, the chauffeur of the truck. Further, it is alleged, there seems to have been knowledge among subordinate postal employes of the value of the shipment.

Detectives under Police Inspector Coughlin, who began their investigation within half an hour after the robbery, were inclined to believe the robbery was planned with "inside" knowledge, as the thieves apparently knew exactly which four sacks of the eleven contained in the truck were filled with bonds. It would have been very difficult also for outsiders to have known which truck contained the registered mail, as many of them are coming and going all night long in the vicinity of the substation.

THE GREAT NEED. Park Orator. My friends, if we were each of us to turn and look ourselves squarely in the face what should we find we needed most?

A Voice from the Crowd. An India rubber neck, mister!—Edinburgh Scotsman.

BOXING NOTES

By JACK VEIOCK, International News Sporting Editor. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Champion Jack Dempsey has taken a headlong flop into vaudeville.

The big fellow had to choose between the footlights and idleness. His contract will keep him busy twenty weeks.

Dempsey's action means that he does not expect to defend his title before late in the winter or early next spring. Well, he has nobody to defend it against, at that. At least, not right now. He has disposed of every contender he has met. They're all through, though there is a chance that Willard may really try another comeback.

Meanwhile Eddie Kane is grooming Tommy Gibbons for a crack at the Dempsey togo about next fourth of July.

Tommy is being built up for Dempsey. He is a sensible fellow. He didn't jump into the heavyweight division and go after the champ the first thing. He is willing to bide his time, but he'll soon be ready. He boasted a string of sixteen straight knockouts as this was written.

During the recent world's series Gibbons and Kane came east. They combined business with pleasure. Gibbons looked like the proverbial million dollars. He's getting big, but is carrying real muscle, not fat.

The two Eddies, Kane and Long, are in partnership now. They have headquarters in Chicago. A recent mail brought news that they have signed up Tommy Comiskey, of St. Paul, and Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute. The former is a 150-pounder. The latter scales 112 without trouble. These lads are stable mates of Tom Gibbons, Rob Roper and Sammy and Joe Mandell, who are under Kane and Long Management.

Billy Shade, who set Australia on its ears, made his Eastern debut at the Garden a few nights ago and drew a tough one in Fay Keisler. The Baltimore buster, though he won a judge's decision.

The pair were so evenly matched, it happened, that neither made the impression expected of him, but against two other opponents they could furnish some night of entertainment.

Bring two fighters together, or two boxers, and you are liable to stage one of those drab affairs most any time. But a fighter and a boxer—that's the dish the average fan likes to see.

Jack Rogers, who has been teaming with Dumb Dan Morgan for many a day, rises to remark that he has a good one to introduce around Gotham or any man's town in Elmer Hogan, the Michigan welterweight. Elmer is a 145-pounder and he recently won the Wolverine welterweight title by kayoing Rocky Smith at Detroit.

No punch used by boxers is more consistently effective than the left hook. Jim Corbett pointed this out when he was studying the styles of Dempsey and Carpenter before the big fight. Tom Gibbons, in his rise to heavyweight prominence, has demonstrated it time and again.

Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, and Jack Britton, king of the welters, are strong exponents of this punch.

Johnny Curtin, a candidate for high honors in the featherweight division, is another boy who, since he found out he had a good left hand has come rapidly to the front. Curtin recently beat Chick Suggs, New England featherweight, with his left hook. Now he wants the best of 'em. And it is not so long ago that he was just boxing around, unheard of.

ALIENS BARRED ENTERING U. S. BY REAR DOORS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The bureau of immigration of the labor department, struggling with the requirements of the present immigration law, because of the quota limitations, has a new problem.

Thousands of those being turned away from this country are going to Canada and to Mexico in an attempt to come in by the back door. Inspection service and available guards at border points are limited in number. They have always had their hands full. There are thousands of miles that are unprotected, and Caucasians slipping across the border are hard to detect. This is particularly true when they are European nationals who learned the English language before essaying an entry into this country.

The problem so far as Canada is concerned has been largely cared for by recent orders in council of the Dominion government just communicated to the labor department. These orders provide that no adult can enter Canada with less than $500 cash in pocket, and that every person over 10 and under 21 must have $250. Heads of families must have the cash for every member of the family brought in.

Mexico is, however, a real and serious worry to the labor department. A high official stated today that as thousands of places where one can practically step across the Rio Grande there is real danger of an extended illicit traffic in aliens. There are reports to the labor department showing persons on either side of the border who watch the policing force and who can domicile a few persons at a time without fear of detection. They are turning this to a profit in violation of the law.

Secretary Davis and other officials have under consideration methods to meet the situation. It is known that word is going back to many European countries that the way into the United States lies through Mexico, and literature advising this method of approach has been apprehended by officials.

General Nelson A. Miles, the famous Indian fighter, heard of Masterson's conduct in the long battle and made him second in command of a detachment of eighteen scouts. Later he became sheriff of Dodge City, formerly Fort Dodge, Kan., and in subsequent years he drifted to Trinidad and Denver as sheriff. Although he was required to kill men to maintain the peace during his term as sheriff, Bat Masterson, during all his fifteen years of Broadway, was reticent about all the shooting except the incident in which he hunted down and killed four drunken cowboys in Dodge City between sunset and sunrise, to avenge the killing of his brother by one of them.

Bat was one of the last survivors of the old West, but he never capitalized his past, never became a circus plainsman. He had counted Theodore Roosevelt among his personal friends. In his sporting comment here, Masterson was forever lambasting prize fighters, for whom as a class he had no great admiration. He was a familiar figure for years, however, at the ringside in Madison Square Garden.

BAT MASTERSON, FAMOUS GUNMAN, DIES IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Bat Masterson, credited with having killed twenty-eight men in his time, died at a desk in the famous "old Carban" office of the New York Morning Telegraph, of which he was sporting editor in his last years, writing a story.

William Barclay Masterson began his career as a gun fighter at the age of 20 in a town called Adobe Walls, by killing a man in a poker argument. They took the deceased outside and the poker game went on. The men rolled up in the blankets when the game had come to a peaceful finish and went to sleep. But, fortunately, the ceiling of the adobe house fell on Bat and his bunky sometime during the night, and they extricated themselves from the wreckage in time to intercept a band of 200 Indians, led by a negro deserter from the United States cavalry bent on massacre.

Masterson and his friend began firing and this aroused the other men of the town, preventing a surprise. For fourteen days the Indians, led by the negro ex-cavalryman, continued to attack the town. On the fourteenth day Masterson himself killed the negro, and the siege abated.

General Nelson A. Miles, the famous Indian fighter, heard of Masterson's conduct in the long battle and made him second in command of a detachment of eighteen scouts. Later he became sheriff of Dodge City, formerly Fort Dodge, Kan., and in subsequent years he drifted to Trinidad and Denver as sheriff. Although he was required to kill men to maintain the peace during his term as sheriff, Bat Masterson, during all his fifteen years of Broadway, was reticent about all the shooting except the incident in which he hunted down and killed four drunken cowboys in Dodge City between sunset and sunrise, to avenge the killing of his brother by one of them.

JOBLESS MEN WILL BE SUPPLIED WITH MEALS

GALVESTON, Oct. 26.—Quarters now occupied by 100 jobless men here will be outfitted with a range and meals will be prepared for them, it has been announced by the Galveston Employment association, which has interested itself in the welfare of the unemployed. The men themselves will do most of the work. Serving of meals will start as soon as arrangements are completed.

BRECKENRIDGE MAN SAYS HE WAS WHIPPED BY UNMASKED MEN

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 26.—Warrants for the arrest of three men on charges of aggravated assault were issued Tuesday after J. W. Casey, 25 years old, of this city was given thirty lashes with a strap by three unmasked men. Casey said he knew one of the men.

Casey said he was placed in an automobile by the three men and taken to the country. Three miles out of Breckenridge he said they overpowered him and bound his arms with wire. The trio then tied Casey to a tree, saying, "We are going to beat you up," then started using the strap. After a threat by Casey, he said, they did not apply the strap so hard. After the thirty lashes they released him and went off toward Mineral Wells in their car. Casey walked half the way back into town and was picked up for the rest of the way by a passing car.

FIVE THOUSAND O. E. S. DELEGATES AT FT. WORTH

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—When John Findlater, worthy grand patron, rapped for order at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon fully 5,000 persons were crowded in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, where the annual session of the Order of Eastern Star is being held. For two hours prior to the beginning of the meeting delegates had been streaming through the one entrance of the large hall, being passed in only upon presentation of proper credentials or after being vouched for by someone already inside. The meeting is open only to members, matrons and patrons of the order, as several business matters, including proposed changes in policies, will be discussed during the three days' convention.

Wednesday afternoon and night delegates will be entertained with a tour about Lake Worth via the Meandering Road and with a supper at Moslah Temple Mosque. No other entertainment is scheduled during the convention. Mrs. Lela M. Skinner of Keystone Chapter No. 9 is general chairman of the entertainment committee.

MAN FOUND DEAD IS IDENTIFIED BY FATHER

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26.—J. G. Farmer, 33 years old, who was found with a bullet hole in his head, about two and a half miles east of Handley, on Village creek, late yesterday, was identified by his father, Joseph P. Farmer, Rural Route 2, Tarrant county. An inquest over the body was held by Justice of the Peace J. W. McGain.

SKY-HIGH RENTS IN NEW YORK CAUSE BIG DROP IN MARRIAGES

MARGERY REX.
(Written for International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Marriages are falling off in Manhattan. This is true in spite of a recent bulletin from Washington that statistics for 1921 are expected to prove this a record year for weddings in the United States.

Reports say that 1,000,000, perhaps 1,500,000 marriages will establish a new high mark for this country.

But New York city and surrounding boroughs show no such increase in number of brides and grooms.

The numerous marriages themselves are said to be of great benefit to business conditions, since man and woman approaching the new estate and after entering it spend money lavishly for clothes, furs, jewelry and millinery. They also patronize hotels and theatres and bring joy to the hearts of all those who serve them on their honeymoon path.

But whether marriages boom business, or better business booms weddings, is a matter of conjecture.

Figures of Municipal Bureau.

However, that may be, it is curious to note New York has not joined in the merry procession in vast numbers.

A visit to the municipal marriage license bureau showed the state of affairs.

In 1920 records show 43,324 licenses were issued here. During the nine months of that year, ended in September, 32,205 permits to wed had been given out. Only 31,496 were issued this year up to the end of September.

Michael J. Cruise, New York's official cupid, said:

"It's the housing situation. Many of the young couples reveal by their conversation while here getting licenses and going through the ceremony that they expect to go back to live in the homes of the parents, often with the girl's folks, and sometimes in the home of the bridegroom.

"This is a bad condition. It does not make for happiness to start a new life within the dwelling of a former generation, under the inspection of older relatives.

"I believe that many young men have established themselves in New York in business who are unable to take a bride elsewhere to make a new start, and rather than put up with a makeshift type of housekeeping and not have a home of their own they postpone marriage.

"Give New York city enough living quarters and see the marriage rate go up.

"That is why outside of this great, congested city increased marriages are taking place with the coming of easier times."

June, 1920, found this department with 5,002 licenses issued, while the same month of 1921 brought only 4,940 demands for certificates.

At Vital Statistics Bureau.

The bureau of vital statistics announces that in these last nine months of 1921 only 44,811 marriages were recorded as taking place. In 1920 the bureau files show during the same period there were 48,983 weddings.

These figures concern not only New York city but surrounding boroughs.

June was a notorious laggard this year, since this department has record of but 7,085 matrimonial unions for 1921, as against 9,368 in 1920.

J. H. Gibbons of this bureau, said regarding the reported high marriage rate announced through Washington:

"We really don't know how there can be even as many as we record in New York and surrounding boroughs. The cost of living of course, is coming down somewhat. But rents are still high; 1917 was a big year—before going off to war many young men got married. Then there was a lull for a time. In 1919 and 1920, when the men came back, were periods of readjustment and reunions, so there were many marriages in those times."

But in all civilized countries it is said that all previous matrimonial records have been broken, excepting only Germany, where the increase is normal.

In England, despite the rumored shortage of eligible men, 400,000 couples married last year while only 100,000 wed in the previous twelve months. France and Italy also claim a record rush to give up single blessedness.

Nevertheless most countries, it is said, show an increase in applications for divorce. Many of the unhappy unions are attributed to the haste to wed which antedated or accompanied the war. But Germany and France are worried about the tendency to sever marital bonds since an increase in marriage and greater population are the desires of these war-ridden lands.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 26.—"I do not believe the body of a man found shot at Miami, Fla., is that of Warren C. Spurgin, absconding banker from Chicago," W. F. Seitric head of the Burns Detective agency, said today.

The Burns man added that his operatives located Spurgin in Chihuahua, Mexico, shortly after his disappearance, and that he had been under surveillance since.

"It would have been impossible for him to have made the trip to Miami without our knowing it, and he could not have gotten there in time to commit suicide on Friday, according to may latest reports," said Mr. Seitric.

'KNOCKING THE PROPS OUT,' TO BE SERMON TOPIC

The separation of families on Judgment day was pictured to a large congregation last night at the tent meeting by Evangelist L. C. Garrison in his sermon on "The Judgment." The book of life will be opened on that day and secrets of man's heart revealed, the evangelist said. The witnesses were enumerated as the deeds, acts and thoughts of man during his life. "It shall be a final judgment with God, the supreme judge of the highest court from which there are no cases appealed," he said.

There are two certain events, the evangelist stated: the coming of Jesus Christ and the general judgment of men, nations, and the world. The two great classes, he said, would be up for judgment, the righteous and the unrighteous with the Savior as the righteous judge who cannot be bought over by favor. The basis of the judgment will be what you have done with Jesus, Who is pleading for men, he said, "for he that being often reproved and hardeneth his neck shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy."

Fourteen of the congregation united with the church following the sermon and special pleas. Evangelist Garrison will preach on "Knocking the Props Out," at tonight's service.

TRADE CARNIVAL REBATE CHECKS READY

The checks on the holiday trade carnival rebate are now ready for all merchants who participated in the carnival last December and who are still in business, M. O. Burt, secretary of the Retail Merchants' association announced this morning. The checks can be obtained at the offices of the association in the Guaranty bank building.

The rebate is being distributed in accordance with the decision reached Monday night at a membership meeting to pro rate the balance of $1,035.75 remaining from the carnival fund, among the merchants who were assessed 1 per cent of their gross sales for expenses.

PETERS DISSECTS BIG TOWN COMMERCIAL BODIES

Manager J. E. T. Peters returned last night from Fort Worth and Dallas where he went to investigate the "innards" of the chambers of commerce in the two cities and their relations to the merchants' association.

As the result of the action taken Monday night by the retail merchants here, it is not expected that a report will be made on the dual relations of the Fort Worth and Dallas bodies.

SWEET ADALINE:

One of the Nobles has invited me to the Shrine party Friday night and Dad has promised me a new dress to wear. It is funny, you know, there is something mystic about the Shrine that causes the papas to loosen the purse strings. The Humes dress sale comes in handy. They have all those beautiful Famous Tailleux dresses reduced so the women can buy 'em now without causing their dear ones heart failure. There are some lace dinner gowns also at a wonderful price. Now you better believe I intend to look like a million dollars. Well, sweetie, I must close as I have to give a Chinaman a music lesson.
