CITATION ISSUED IN OUSTER SUIT

JUDGE STARNES HAS TEN DAYS TO FILE HIS ANSWER

Dealings of County With Road Contractors at Bottom of Suit.

Special to the Times.

EASTLAND, Nov. 2.—Judge E. A. Hill of the Eighty-eighth district court today directed that a process be served in the old ouster suit against County Judge C. R. Starnes, which was refiled in his court yesterday. Under the process Judge Starnes will have to file an answer to the allegations set forth in the ouster petition, filed by the so-called Citizens' committee.

This suit was first filed on Sept. 1 in the Ninety-first district court. Judge George L. Davenport, however, refused to issue a citation in the case, after the accusations made against the county judge had been submitted to the grand jury and Judge Starnes exonerated by that body on Sept. 16. It is not known whether any new specifications are coupled with the ouster petition.

Up until this afternoon the process issued by Judge Hill has not been served on the county judge. It is understood that he will have ten days in which to file his answer to the charges.

MINE STRIKE SPREADING IN MIDDLE WEST

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Strike of soft coal miners spread rapidly throughout the central states today in protest against the abolishment by court order of the check off method of collecting union dues.

Miners in Ohio and Indiana walked out, tying up many mines. In Illinois, Iowa and other states a strike was considered by local organizations.

Chief officers of the United Mine Workers of America, meeting at Indianapolis, considered calling a general strike of its entire membership. Mines were not in a financial condition to meet a strike, as a result of a large amount of unemployment throughout the industry. This was said to be the chief deterring factor to a strike call.

Instructions were sent from general union officials in Indianapolis to all locals, instructing them regarding the check off injunction. If mine operators refuse to use the check off method, it will be a violation of their contract with the unions, the labor chiefs declared.

Nearly 30,000 miners had walked out today. Most of these are in the Indiana coal fields.

WOMEN TO HELP PLAN DEMOCRATS' CAMPAIGN

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—Development of the Democratic national committee into the most militant and efficient organization within its capacity and dissemination of facts concerning the shortcomings of the present national administration among the average citizenship is to be the policy of Cordell Hull, the new Democratic chairman, as outlined today to the Associated Press. Hull expected to leave late today for Washington. Women here today mapped out the part they are to play in bringing the Democratic party back into power.

Mrs. James Campbell Cantrell of Kentucky, met with other members of the Democratic national committee at the suggestion of Cordell Hull of Tennessee, new chairman who succeeded George White of Ohio.

"Many states have neglected to place women on the party's state committee," said Hull. "If we are to successfully bring the party back into power, a strong organization of women is necessary."

Several national Democratic leaders stayed over here today for conferences to follow the adjournment of the session of the national committee here yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Nine thousand one hundred and three persons were killed in the United States by automobiles and other motor vehicles, except motorcycles, during 1920, the census bureau announced today.

MORE STUDENTS IN CITY SCHOOLS THAN LAST YEAR

First Report of Year Shows High School Has Made Big Gain.

An increase of over 50 per cent in the enrollment in the High school is shown this year over last, according to the figures compiled by E. O. McNew, superintendent of schools, for the first six weeks of the school term. An enrollment of 234 pupils, including 141 girls and 93 boys, is shown at the High school this year as compared with a total enrollment of 154 last year. An increase of eight pupils is shown in the enrollment of the Tiffin school.

Slight decreases are shown at Cooper, Young and Central ward schools, which are offset, however, by the addition of the Merriman school and the opening of the negro school, bringing the total enrollment of the schools this year to 1,861 as compared with 1,785 last year or an increased attendance of seventy-six. The Glenn school and the Copeland school, which were in operation last year have been discontinued and the pupils transferred to other schools.

The enrollment by schools for this year follows: Merriman, 69; Tiffin, 92; Cooper, 270; Young, 426; Central, 741; High School, 234; the Negro school, 29.

Girls are in the majority in Merriman, Young, High School and the negro school.

REOPENING IN NEXT FEW DAYS IS PREDICTED

If Negotiations Fail, Depositors Are Protected by Guaranty Fund.

The F. & M. Bank of Ranger closed this morning for the announced purpose of reorganization. The institution was closed by its board of directors and not by the state banking department, officers of the bank explained, and as the result of heavy withdrawals during the past two or three weeks due to rumors afloat. Officers and friends of the bank expressed the belief that the reorganization negotiations now under way would be completed in the near future and the bank reopened under a new organization without the state banking department taking charge.

Outside Capital. The negotiations now pending contemplate the reorganization of the bank with outside capital. In case the bank does not reopen the depositors will of course be paid, the deposits being protected under the state guaranty fund, it is stated.

If the reorganization of the bank is perfected, it is pointed out that Ranger will have two town banks, free from boom trown paper on inflated values, which should establish a sound foundation for the city's future financial structure.

As the result of the rumors circulated, including possibly the rumor of a change of organization, the officers, directors and friends of the bank have been working under very trying conditions during the last few weeks in keeping the bank open. It is stated, and in many quarters are considered to have accomplished something that very few banks would have been able to do under the circumstances. It was through the loyalty of a great many of the depositors and friends of the bank that they were able to accomplish this. The bank officials said, and took occasion to express their appreciation to those who assisted them.

Gradual Withdrawals. It is explained that there has been no steady run on the bank but a few withdrawals a day for the last two or three weeks, some of them for large amounts, which consumed the cash on hand. Ranger men are said to have been working in Austin on the reorganization plans and to have expected that the deal would have been completed last night. On account of a hitch at this time it was not completed.

Interested parties however are said to be on the way here from Austin and there is a possibility of the bank reopening within a short time.

The banking situation of the city was discussed at the noon luncheon of the Rotary club today by members and other business men who were present as guests. John M. Gholson, president of the F. & M. bank, stated in a short talk that plans were under way for reorganization of the institution and would have been completed but for the withdrawal of deposits in the last few weeks. He stated that while there was a possibility of the bank not opening, he was confident that the plans for reorganization would be completed and that the city would have two strong banks in the near future.

DEAN LAW NOT CONSTITUTIONAL BURKETT SAYS

Will Argue That Conflicting Penalties for Offense Make it Invalid.

AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—State Senator Joe Burkett of Eastland is here today to attack the constitutionality of the Dean prohibition law from a new angle, in submitting an appeal to the court of criminal appeals. He announced that he would attack the law from a conflicting standpoint, holding that back in 1909 the legislature passed a law declaring it a misdemeanor to "unlawfully sell intoxicating liquors."

At that time, he said, local option was in effect in numbers of counties of the state, and the law was passed primarily to make the unlawful sale of liquor punishable, but that it has never been repealed, and the Dean law does not carry a clause repealing all laws in conflict with it. Thus, Mr. Burkett's conclusion is that there are two laws against selling intoxicating liquors now on the statute book of the state, one making it a misdemeanor, and the other declaring it a felony.

He will present his case this afternoon. He is representing clients C. J. Oates and Leland Oates.

SHALLOW STUFF NEAR FRANKELL GETTING PLAY

V. M. Robinson of Fort Worth, is erecting a derrick and will start drilling at once four miles east of Frankell. The location is near a good "little feller" brought in by the Sims company on the Jackson lease last week.

The territory is regarded as especially promising with four sands, one at 1,500, one at 1,700, a third at slightly over 1,700 and a fourth at 2,200 feet. Considerable development is expected in that territory during the coming months.

BODY OF SHEEPMAN FOUND NEAR SONORA

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 2.—Sutton county officers were investigating the finding of the body of James G. Barton, 40, sheepman, on a ranch near Sonora, according to meager telephone reports. AUSTIN, Nov. 2.—Colonel Alvin E. Owsley of Denton, former assistant attorney general and now an officer in the American Legion, will make definite announcement on Nov. 15 as to whether or not he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor against Governor Neff in the primaries next July, according to State Senator Joe Burkett of Eastland, who is here today. Burkett said he received a letter from Owsley to that effect.

MAYOR CASTS DECIDING VOTE WHEN COMMISSIONERS SPLIT

Dr. Shackelford Becomes City Health Officer; Logsdon Wants Pay for Smashed Auto; Contractors Employing Mexican Labor to Be Protected; Some Laughter.

M. L. Davenport of Eastland, was picked as chief of police of Ranger from a field of four local men yesterday afternoon by a majority of the city commission. Davenport's election came on the second ballot taken by the board and followed the vote taken on the candidacy of Haden Neal, real estate man. The names of Eugene Reynolds, who since the resignation of George T. Cooper of Fort Worth on March 1, has served for the third time as chief of police; C. C. Hamilton, former peace officer and local property owner, and P. P. Palmer, local merchant, were not voted upon by the board. The applications of all five contestants for the office were read by City Secretary George Hemmingson preceding the vote. P. P. Palmer tendered his services as a man who would make the Ku Klux unnecessary in Ranger, and Reynolds asked for the office if the commission considered his past services, experience and record deserved it.

The commissioners deadlocked on the name of Davenport, Commissioners Teal and Davenport voting aye and Commissioners Hodges and Terrell voting no. Mayor Gholson cast the deciding vote and Davenport became chief of police of Ranger. A resolution was then passed empowering the mayor to issue a commission to the new chief and to the policemen under him, as hired from time to time, subject to the approval of the next meeting of the board. Another resolution was passed pledging the chief the support of the board. Davenport's election is effective at once.

Status Quo? Mayor Gholson took occasion to state, following the election of chief, that it had been reported to him that certain places around here were going to open under certain circumstances. Commissioner Davenport declared that such conditions would not result. It was thereupon suggested by Dr. Terrell that certain places now open should be closed and when asked to be specific, mentioned a class of rooming houses. To a question, he replied that he could not say on his own knowledge that the places were violating the law, as he never entered them himself. The matter was dropped after desultory discussion.

The mayor later on repeatedly expressed his irritation over certain reports reaching him of lawlessness and from the fact that people circulating such reports did not make complaints to the proper authorities. The mayor also expressed his irritation over the account of the commission meeting last week as published in the Times and declared that the account of his "fall" with Commissioner Hodges had been so colored as to "make it appear that it resulted over matters then before the commission, when as a matter of fact it referred to an old incident of a previous meeting."

Shackelford Health Officer. Dr. J. A. Shackelford was elected health officer of the city, to succeed Commissioner Terrell, by one vote over Dr. Harry Logsdon.

The work of weights and measures inspector was added to the duties of Sanitary Inspector Wade Swift. A number of the commissioners took occasion to commend the work of the inspector.

The commission refused to entertain criticism that had been reported as directed against Chief George Murphy of the fire department. (Continued on Page 2.)

SOLDIERS WILL TESTIFY THEY SAW MEN HUNG?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Senator Tom Watson, Georgia, declared today that he would prove "before the senate and the world" his sensational charges that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France.

Watson said that he would reserve his right "as a senator" to present the proof of his charges against the military authorities in open senate and not before the special committee of five senators appointed to investigate the accusations.

Already, with the matter but twenty-four hours old, said Watson, "I have received telegrams and letters from ex-service men all over the country, volunteering to aid me in proving my case."

"I have written to the men in Georgia who originally gave me the evidence of the gallows on which twenty-one American soldiers were hanged. I can prove it by a score of witnesses."

BIGGEST CORN LIQUOR PLANT IS DISCOVERED

Underground System Worked by Pumps, on Reese Farm, Bendy Says.

Ranger's supply of corn liquor is said to have been tapped yesterday morning when a posse headed by Federal Prohibition Agent T. A. Bendy raided the farm of S. L. Reese, four miles north of the city in Stephens county and partially destroyed with dynamite what is said to have been one of the largest moonshine plants ever uncovered in the state. Three underground tanks, each filled with 2,000 gallons of mash and equipped with the most improved facilities of handling, were located under a portion of the Reese residence and garage, and a short distance away from an outhouse which housed a large boiler, Bendy said.

Reese is said to have been caught by the officers in the act of filling a five-gallon jug of whisky when they arrived, and later some twenty gallons of "black whisky" is said to have been found in cans in the woods some distance from the plant. Reese was brought through Ranger late yesterday afternoon by the officers and carried to Abilene, where he was arraigned before the United States commissioner and released under heavy bond for his appearance in federal court. It is stated that another case is pending against the defendant following the discovery of some fifty gallons of liquor on his premises several months ago.

Other sources of supply of Ranger and Eastland county are under fire of the prohibition agent, who declared on his return to Ranger this morning that he was going to break up the "whisky ring operating here." "I will do it if I have to bring a squad of officers here, put them up at the hotels and patrol the streets of Ranger," Bendy declared. The agent explained that he did not contemplate anything that would reflect on Ranger in any way but that he was determined to break up the liquor traffic in this city.

The discovery of the moonshine plant on Reese's property yesterday morning resulted from suspicions of some plant awakened in Bendy's mind at the time of the discovery of the liquor several months ago, the agent said. He explained that he had gone to the place in company with his son, former assistant County Attorney W. J. Barnes and a Mr. Wilson of Eastland.

Pipe Is Clew. In searching the premises his attention was attracted to a pipe which apparently merely supported an electric wire. Investigation revealed the fact that this pipe connected with a horizontal pipe in the ground. From this source the first tank was discovered and the other two trailed down by the connecting pipes.

In explaining the operation of the plant the agent said that the mash was forced into the tanks by means of a pressure pump found on the premises and forced out of the tanks by gas pressure that was obtained by a pipe line from the fields. The larger boiler, he stated, was apparently used as the still. No coils, however, were found on the premises. Some distance from the house a damaged still was found by the officers, Bendy said, with the sides gashed.

Reese, according to Bendy, took his arrest smilingly and had the officers as his guests at dinner. He was accompanied to Abilene by his father and several friends who volunteered as bondsmen.

Bendy said this morning that he had only blown up one of the tanks with dynamite yesterday and would return today to blow up the other two and to investigate a smaller tank which he believes will yield a quantity of whisky.

LEGION STANDS PAT FOR BONUS ACTION AT ONCE

Wants Debs to Stay in Prison; Modifies Harvey Resolution.

CONVENTION HALL, KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2.—The national convention of the American Legion here this afternoon adopted the reports of its resolutions committee after deleting a section severely arraigning Colonel George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, for a recent speech on the reasons why America went into the war, and substituted a resolution the language of which was less drastic.

It stated that Mr. Harvey's remarks did not represent the sentiment of the American Legion, and recommended on motion of a South Carolina delegate to omit the title "Colonel" in referring to Mr. Harvey.

The resolution as passed, provided that a copy be sent Mr. Harvey in London. The adoption of the report followed lengthy debates on the original Harvey resolution which was struck out on a roll call vote of 576 to 444, with fifty delegates not voting. After adopting the resolution committee's report, the convention passed up a noon recess and proceeded to transact its other business, which included the election of a national commander and other national officers.

The convention cheered loudly a resolution extending "greetings to the former commander in chief of the American army and navy, wishing him a speedy and complete recovery from an illness incurred in the service of his country."

The first resolution was greeted with cheers and shouts of "you tell 'em."

The convention adopted a resolution reaffirming the attitude taken by the last national convention at Cleveland, relative to adjusted compensation.

The Americanization committee report was adopted section by section, one clause urging that clemency be given Eugene V. Debs, serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta for violation of war time laws, was adopted amid cheers, the convention rising and

By United Press. HOUSTON, Nov. 2.—The issue between striking trainmen and the officials and receiver of the International & Great Northern railway, was to be submitted to Judge J. C. Hutcheson in federal court today, it was stated, following conferences of the two factions last night.

Members of both sides of the controversy still refuse to discuss plans or events of the conference.

'OUCH!' SAYS MENDICANT AS COPPER STICKS PIN INTO HIS WOODEN LEG

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 2.—Something about the architecture of James Mulligan excited the suspicions of Policeman E. K. Coberly, who parked himself inconspicuously behind a pile of baskets in the Allegheny Market tonight and watched Mulligan selling postcards, to busy shoppers.

Mulligan had but one arm and he told prospective patrons that one of his legs was artificial. He was doing a brisk business as he limped along leaning heavily on a cane while he dragged the factory-made leg.

Coberly drew up alongside the cripple and with a quick movement thrust a pin deeply into the "wooden" leg.

"Ouch!" yelled Mulligan. "Come with me," ordered Coberly. Mulligan tried to persuade the officer to listen to a story of misfortune but Coberly was obdurate, and the erstwhile limping mendicant stepped briskly beside him to the Allegheny police station.

Mulligan, charged with having violated a city ordinance, was sentenced to serve ten days in jail by Magistrate E. M. Hough. His "wooden" leg was sore this morning where Coberly had used it for a pincushion.

$10,000 ROBBER CACHE FOUND IN CAVE

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 2.—On information furnished by a confessed member of a gang of burglars and highwaymen, of which five are already in the county jail, three deputy sheriffs went to a lonely spot in the Livermore hills today and recovered a cache of stolen goods valued at approximately $10,000. The loot represented the proceeds of more than a score of robberies perpetrated in the different East Bay cities. Three members of the gang have already confessed seven robberies, and the police are in possession of evidence connecting them with twice as many more.

RANGER NURSE ENLISTS FOR NAVY HOSPITAL WORK

A woman in New York state has killed a total of forty snakes from time to time in her cellar. They come from the near-by woods and there are always two or three on the premises, she says. She hunts them with a rake and has no trouble at all. Her temerity is only less marvellous than her willingness to continue to live in the house.—Providence Journal.

NATION HAS ENOUGH COAL TO RUN TWO MONTHS, U. S. FIGURES SHOW

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—The nation has a reserve supply of coal sufficient to last for three weeks to two months, if production is halted by a big strike, figures obtained today from government sources and national coal associations showed.

With the first touches of winter already here, and the coal reserve situation as summarized by the national coal association as follows:

- 1. Household consumers have not stocked their bins heavily, but there is available in retail yards the country over a sufficient supply to last on an average of three weeks. Taken together, the stocks in bins and yards will average approximately a six-weeks to two months' supply.
- 2. Public utilities have a reserve sufficient to last from two to four months on the average.
- 3. The railroads have approximately a six-weeks' supply, and another week's supply on wheels.

4. Industries have been buying slowly, and have only small reserve supplies.

Consumers Might Suffer. "Taken as a whole," the association said, "the public utilities and the railroad systems are vastly better equipped with coal reserve than are consumers. But the household user is believed to be in a position to augment the stock now without great difficulty, both from supplies in retail yards, and because the public utilities and railroads are so well supplied."

Coal production during the last few weeks has been speeded up considerably, government figures show. The total production for this year, however, is still at a lower point than during any year since 1909, but government officials do not look on this with alarm because of the business depression.

criticism reported included condemnation of the practice runs of the fire department. Commissioner Davenport declared that such runs were necessary from an efficiency standpoint but that if the commission wished the practice stopped, he would issue the necessary orders. No action was taken. The fire and police commission characterized Murphy as the most efficient fire chief that the city has had.

To Protect Contractors.

The matter of Mexican laborers being driven from the excavations for the new Texas & Pacific station on Monday afternoon was discussed by the commission and it was the opinion of the body that adequate protection should be furnished the contractors in their work. There is a federal law against such offenses, the mayor told the board. Commissioner Davenport stated that he had arranged for protection of the contractors. It was brought up in the discussion that the names of three ring leaders in the assault on the "trenches" Monday had been obtained by the construction superintendent, and that one of the three had been given a job there some time ago on receipt of a hard luck tale, but had refused to work after a day or two, with the explanation that he could make more shooting craps.

Logsdon Asks Damages.

The commission heard the complaint of Dr. Harry Logsdon that his automobile had been damaged to the extent of between $250 and $350 by the collision with a fire truck Monday night, but postponed action. The surgeon's version of the accident was declared correct in all details by the fire commissioner. It was the contention of the mayor that the fire department would have to continue their runs over the city streets and that no precedent should be set in cases of such accidents until the law had been looked up and the matter given consideration.

A letter was read from Pat Singleton, former desk police sergeant, in which the ex-officer asked for a hearing in order that he might obtain written reasons for his recent discharge, which he claimed were due him under the state law. The hearing was refused on Commissioner Davenport stating that he would supply the reasons in writing.

A Laugh.

The commission was thrown into laughter by the reading of a telegram from the secretary of state of New Mexico, as published in the Oil Belt News, to the effect that Ove E. Overson, recently appointed county attorney, had been elected to the New Mexico legislature on the Republican ticket in 1917. A local Republican, present in the capacity of a spectator, stated that he had "known that all along" and jokingly inquired if affiliation with the G. O. P. was a crime. He was assured that it was not so considered and that the man not the party counted.

STEVEDORE'S STRIKE IS STILL ON AT COAST PORTS

GALVESTON, Nov. 2.—All loading on the deep sea docks here with the exception of sulphur, was stopped today, pending wage agreements. Sulphur is being loaded at the price contracted by the unions. About 1,000 men are affected here, it was reported. Coastwise freight handling is not affected. Approximately 400 men are out at Houston, according to reports here. "There is no strike. Wages shouting its approval. With 528 votes required to elect, Oklahoma today claimed 775 for Brig. General Ray Hoffman, "favorite son" for commander in chief. The Oklahomans claim to have traded with New York delegation on behalf of the West, wherein the great block of New York votes will be thrown to Hoffman this year, and the west next year will support William F. Deegan, state commander of New York.

Hasty caucuses were held today in last minute efforts by backers of other candidates to break the Oklahoma lineup. Hanford McNider, Iowa, was advanced as another opponent of Hoffman as a caucus of the northwestern states early today. Oklahoma, however, claimed the elimination of Milton Foreman, Illinois, and every other candidate. Practically every second state today advanced a "favorite son" candidate for vice commander.

Children Cheer Foch.

Sixty thousand school children lined the city's boulevards this morning as Marshal Foch and General Jacques with their staffs, passed in review in motor cars. Foch had planned to spend the day in meditation—the anniversary of the death of his son in the world war. He consented to forego that plan for the pleasure of Kansas City's "future citizens."

Between 100 and 200 men are idle at Texas City, it was reported.

UTAH LEADS NATION IN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Utah has the distinction of leading all other states in school attendance, with 73 per cent of its "between 5 and 20" population in school, the bureau of census announced today. Louisiana is at the end of the list, with 53 per cent. The number of persons between the ages of 5 and 20 years in the United States, the "school-going population" totals 33,250,870, the bureau stated. Of this number, 21,793,976 attend school. The percentage is 64.3 now, as against 59.2 in 1910. The Texas school census, 5 to 20 years, was 57.7 per cent; 7 to 13 years, 83.7 per cent. Texas' place in the table was not shown.

ENGINEERS' BANK PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Brotherhood's Financial Institution Now Has More Than $10,000,000 on Deposit.

By Associated Press.

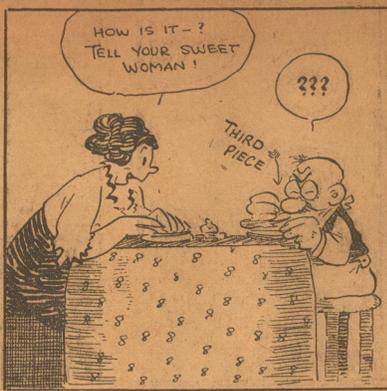

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 2.—The first co-operative national bank to be established in the United States, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Co-operative National Bank of Cleveland—celebrated its first birthday yesterday by distributing to its depositors an extra dividend of one-fourth of one-half of one per cent. This is in addition to the regular 4 per cent paid on their savings.

The success of the institution is attested, according to officials, by the fact that resources have grown in twelve months from $650,971.77 to its opening day to almost $10,250,000.

Warren S. Stone, who, as head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has had a prominent part in the railroad strike situation, is president of the bank. It is controlled exclusively by members of the brotherhood, which holds 51 per cent of the stock. The remainder is owned by industrial members. All its officers belong to the brotherhood. Not all the employees, however, are members.

A general banking business is conducted, considerable being done by mail. Officials of the institution are planning to erect a twenty-one story combined bank and office building on the present site, directly opposite the fourteen-story home of the brotherhood.

HUSBAND GRABS WIFE'S FALSE TEETH WHEN SHE WON'T PART WITH CHILD

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Nov. 2.—Harry S. Wright is in jail, accused by his wife of assault and battery.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright have not lived together for some time, but Wednesday night Wright dropped in to call on his wife. He asked her to come back to him, and she refused. Then he asked her for one of the children. When she opened her mouth to give a sarcastic "Ha! Ha!" he reached in, grabbed her false teeth and ran. He shouted back to her: "When I get one of the children you'll get your false teeth back!"

She then had him arrested.

NEW POLICE CHIEF.

The election of Luther Davenport as chief of police brings to an end one of the most bitterly fought secret scraps that has yet occurred in Ranger's political arena. There has been no open campaign, either for or against him, but ever since the election last May, there has been a duel between those who conceived the idea that Luther Davenport should have the office and those who could see no reason for that idea being born.

That duel ended yesterday. The Davenport faction won. Now the only thing to do, with the assistance of Mr. Davenport, is for all to get together again and let the issue die. It is largely up to him whether that will be done.

It is probably true that there were few real reasons for opposing Mr. Davenport for the office. The main one was the manner of his selection. Many persons were riled at the rumor that a clique had decided he was the man and would put him over without saying anything to the public about it. Others didn't like the idea of importing a man from Eastland. To offset these prejudices, it must be admitted that no statement setting forth any superior qualifications of the new chief was ever made. Thus there was really nothing to allay prejudices previously formed.

However, that's that. It is over and done with. Rangerites who opposed Mr. Davenport can easily forget that opposition if police affairs are conducted in a proper manner. Ranger wants for a police chief a man of honesty and fair dealing and common sense. It wants no extremist who becomes huffed when told the town is too open, and sets out on a big reform campaign which means nothing but the throwing of dust in people's eyes. It wants a town so conducted that there will never be any need for a moral clean-up.

Times believes if Chief Davenport will follow the commission's orders, co-operate with that body, there will be no more need of the flareups which have previously marked each six months of the city's history. These flareups on practically every instance, have been occasioned by failure to carry out instructions given by the commissioners in open meeting. And if he gives this co-operation, Mr. Davenport will find that the entire citizenship is behind him.

As he passes from the head of the department for the third or fourth time, it would not be out of place to express appreciation of the work of Eugene Reynolds. He has stepped in when various crises left the position vacant, and with a steady hand at the helm, has carried on the work of the department in a manner satisfactory to nearly everyone. Why he is never selected officially for the place he fills with better satisfaction than his predecessors is never stated. Certainly it is true that his reputation is clean and nothing has ever been hung on him.

Charles devoted too much time in his retirement to reading that back-from-Elba stuff.—Atlanta Constitution.

WOMEN CLEVER
ROLE IN STORIES

"Lady Dip" Usually Quick to Throw Fit When Caught With Stolen Goods.

There are pickpockets of the fair sex, sometimes known as "lady dips," sometimes as "frisking Janes." The fine flower of their activity begins to bud in October and burst into luxuriant blossom in the feverish weeks that culminate Christmas Eve. If you watch for the "lady dip" at the bargain sales you may have an opportunity to study her extremely efficient methods, says the New York Sun.

The "lady dip" almost always works alone differing in this respect from the man pickpocket, who generally works sociably in a gang consisting of a "wire" and two or three "stalls."

Likely the solitary and independent ways of the "frisky Jane" are the natural consequences of the fact that little ceremony is needed to rob a shopper with her husband's salary in a flimsy bag dangling from her arm and with calculating eyes fastened on a ruffle marked down to 98 cents.

Will Throw a Fit.
When the woman pickpocket is caught with the goods, a detective of long experience said, "she has a great advantage over the male dip because she knows how to throw a fit of hysterics, or 'highstrickers,' as they're commonly called. Just suppose you've been following an old hand at the game through the Christmas crowds, and that you've grabbed her at a bustling bargain counter just as she has lifted a roll out of a woman's handbag. You may feel inclined to say:

"Aha, Highstrike Hannah, I've got the goods on you at last!"
"But you don't get a chance to say much for Highstrike Hannah throws a fit. She screams that her father is a clergyman and her mother was a lady, her husband is dying of consumption, her uncle is a senator and various near relatives will die of shame if she is disgraced."

Pleads for "Children's Sake."
"She foams at the mouth on the subject of her innocent little children crying for their mamma and growing up under a horrible cloud. She swears she is innocent—or, if the case is too clear for that, she attributes this one slip to the anguish of her children crying for food."

"It's all pumped out at high pressure in a torrent of words and sobs, and by that time Highstrike Hannah is rolling on the floor."

"You've caught her and a palpitating crowd of women shoppers look upon you as a murderer. For Hannah is dignified looking, dresses well and makes a good impression."

"Also she throws a first-class fit, and really makes the robbed woman believe that she'll kill herself if she's locked up."
"That's the object of it all, of course, to weaken the principal witness. Sometimes the ruse succeeds in keeping Highstrike Hannah out of jail, sometimes it doesn't, but in any case it makes a thrilling time for that crowd of shoppers."

"A clever woman pickpocket can steal from $500 to $1,000 a week. It's easy for them to open the bags that are just fastened with a pair of little knobs."

LOOTED OF $1,000,000 REGISTERED MAIL

The daring mail robbery committed in New York's downtown section, at 10 o'clock at night, netted the robbers greater loot than was first estimated. It is now practically certain that the booty of the holdup men will exceed a million dollars. Frank Haverank, the driver of the mail truck, shown in the above photograph, was driving through one of the streets, when a touring car containing three men pulled up alongside the mail truck. They drew revolvers and forced Haverank to drive down a dark and lonely street. In the center of the block the driver was ordered to stop, and the holdup men looked over an assortment of fifteen pouches of mail and selected four containing securities and bonds. Postoffice inspectors working on the case are of the belief that it is the same gang, which committed similar robberies in Chicago and Los Angeles.

RANGER PASTORS RETURN FROM
MEXIA; INDOORSE KLAN HERE

While making little comment on the announcement of the Ku Klux on Sunday, Rev. J. G. Winsett of the Christian Tabernacle and Rev. A. N. Stubblebine of the Presbyterian church, indicated in their recent return from Mexia that they appreciated the promise of the Klan to stand behind the ministers of the city in their fight for a clean moral city. The two ministers returned with the avowed intention of taking up with renewed vigor the fight to make Ranger "the city that it can and should be."

Dr. Stubblebine assisted Dr. Winsett, the state evangelist of the Christian church, in organizing a church in Mexia, following a revival there. Thirty-two charter members were secured for the new church as the result of the meetings held in the Central Presbyterian church.
The two ministers found a number of former Ranger residents in Mexia, and like others in the boom town, were called upon to bunk wherever they could find space. On not finding a room, they would make their way to a furniture store and with a number of others bunk on piles of bedding, Dr. Winsett said, and explained that he and Dr. Stubblebine really enjoyed the experience.

Bees Swarm Out of Huge Pumpkin and Rout Housewife From Kitchen

CALDWELL, N. J., Nov. 2.—Being a building inspector, Ted Farrand has time to revel in a truck garden. Ted raised a heap of pumpkins this year and after the frost night before last went out to the patch and brought a sixty-pounder into his kitchen.
"There's a little hole in this one, Mary," he said to his wife. "I'm afraid it won't keep in the cellar. Better make some pies."
It was some hours before Mrs. Farrand got around to it and by that time the big golden bulb had got all warmed up to the temperature of

EGGS TASTE LIKE STRAWBERRIES;
ALSO STORY OF GRATEFUL POLECAT

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The New York World, through information furnished by its farmer friends, gives the following researches into botany and humane treatment of animals, for the benefit of scientists and the edification of city dwellers:
Very few persons are aware of the fact that Robert Adamson, former fire commissioner, was once upon a time a plain, ordinary newspaper man. Do not doubt this. It is true.
Mr. Adamson, by strict attention to business eventually became fire commissioner. Later, he attained a newspaper man's ambition. He became the owner of a farm and went in for simple life.
But did Mr. Adamson forget? No. Mr. Adamson did not forget. And the other day when, in a ramble over his estate in Middletown, N. J., he came upon a nest of "luscious red, wild strawberries," he said to himself: "I shall give this story to the brightest, snappiest, gold darndest, dadburned, most highly scintillating, accurate and entertaining newspaper this side or any other side of the Rocky mountains."

Yarns Not Lies.
So he sent it to the World. The World printed it. We didn't know whether it was true or not, that Bob had found this nest of ferocious bloodthirsty wild strawberries. Whether he found it or not, it was a good story and if on the facts we thought Bob shy, we did not give a darn. It might be wrong to tell a lie but not to spin a yarn.
And yesterday, in the mail, we got a letter from a man who admits that his name is Emile W. Voute. This man Voute, by the way, is a sort of newspaper man—that is, he contributes occasional pieces for an evening newspaper in town, the name of which has escaped our mind.
Emile says in his letter that Bob Adamson has his nerve with him, rearing up on his hind legs and pawing the air and snorting and becoming otherwise excited because he happened to find a nest of wild strawberries on his place in Middletown, N. J.

On Oct. 15, says Emile, while strolling through the tortuous windings of Joe Potter's garden patch in Raymond, Me., "large juicy strawberries could be heard ripening on the trees."

You'd think Emile would stop there, but you don't know Emile as well as we do. He was just getting a start. He continued by saying that on that same day, Oct. 15, Joe observed that a hen's egg he was eating as a part of his noon repast was characterized by "a remarkably fruity taste." Joe went out and investigated. He ascertained, Emile says, that his hens had found their way into the wide spreading branches of the lofty strawberry trees and were using the luscious fruit as their chief article of diet.
But you haven't heard the worst. Emile was only breezing around the track to test his speed. After relating that true story, he went to the wire and dashed this off. Listen. It's a beaut.

Friendly Skunk.
It's a story about a little dappled quadruped known and honored as a polecat.

One day last spring, Emile says in his simple, convincing way, one day last spring his friend Joe Potter met a polecat on his way to market. The polecat was in trouble and Joe befriended it in some fashion, after which he left some food for the little animal. He got into the habit after that of leaving food for the polecat on the edge of the wood where his little playmate made its home.

Summer passed. Joe did nothing to prevent it. Autumn came on. The other day Joe and his missus and some dear friends were out for an automobile ride when, on a forest-flanked road, they were stopped by highwaymen. Just as the desperadoes were about to frisk the party, out came the little polecat from the woods and spoiled the parade—that is, the polecat came out and—well, it manifested its friendship for Joe and immediately thereafter the highwaymen went into retirement.

We should think of tales like this when we are tempted to abuse or to be cruel to dumb animals. As Bernard Shaw so truthfully remarked one time: "You never CAN tell."

It required three ceremonies to complete the marriage of young Billie Leeds and Princess Xenia. The royal kinsmen of the Princess want a triple cinch on the fortune of the tin plate king. This acquisition means a new lease of life for impoverished royalty in the Balkans.—Houston Post.

ROAD MATERIALS' RESISTANCE TO WEATHER AND TRAFFIC WILL BE DETERMINED BY ACTUAL TEST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Some time within the next few months a new road two and one-half miles long is to be broken up in what is probably the most extensive study of road service ever undertaken in the United States. The road is located in Illinois, about twelve miles southwest of Springfield.

There are seven general types of paving in the road, the idea being to have represented the chief materials used in road-making so that engineers may study the effect of known and measured traffic of varying degree upon each kind of road. Actual work was begun on the road in June, 1920, and it was finished some time ago. Since its completion the state and federal government engineers, by numerous daily observations, have been measuring the effect of heat, cold, moisture and other elements upon its surface and on the subgrade. These observations have been taken on sixty-three sections and much information has been obtained which will be valuable in building roads in the future.

Thus the road has seasoned. At the proper time, the first motor vehicle will be turned upon it. It is planned to subject the highway to a rigidly-controlled truck traffic. The trucks are to be weighed and the weights will be gradually increased from a light load to one 50 per cent greater than that allowed by Illinois law. The number and weight of loads required to produce failure in the various sections will index the behavior of the various types of pavements when subjected to different kinds of traffic. This information is of the utmost value. Knowing the conditions of traffic which are to be met, it will afford a means by which a proper paving can be selected to meet those conditions. It may lead to the saving of millions of dollars each year by preventing the construction of pavements that are found to be incapable of resisting modern traffic.

POSTOFFICE SAFE IS ROBBED.

SWEETWATER, Nov. 2.—Monday night at McCaulley, about thirty miles north of here, a safe in the State bank was blown open and about $300 in cash and stamps belonging to the local postoffice were stolen. The bank was not molested.

HOMICIDE CHARGE AGAINST MOTORIST WHO RAN OVER GIRL

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 2.—Following an investigation conducted Tuesday afternoon, J. C. Hampton, 28, who gave himself up this morning as the driver of the automobile that killed Onita White, 16, a high school student, Monday night, was put under $5,000 bond on charge of negligent homicide.

The accident occurred while a party of high school students on a Halloween frolic were gathered on the side of the Iowa Park road, a short distance from the city, while a fire was being fixed on the truck on which they were riding. Three other students were injured, but none fatally.

Hampton stated that he stopped as soon as he ran into the crowd of young people, whom he claims not to have seen as he drove around the truck stalled in the road. Other cars stopped, and in the excitement, he said, threats were made against the driver of the car, this causing him to drive off. He surrendered to Chief of Police Morgan.

FORT WORTH CLUB CLAIMS PATE IS NOT SUBJECT TO DRAFT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2.—Paul Lagrave, business manager of the Fort Worth club of the Texas league Tuesday returned to John H. Farrell, secretary of the Association of Minor League Professional Baseball clubs, a check for $1,960 as part payment of a claim by the Philadelphia Americans on Joe Pate, star pitcher of Fort Worth. Lagrave notified Farrell that Pate had been sold to the Toledo club of the American Association.

Pate for two seasons has been the leading winning pitcher of the Texas league and ranks high in earned-run average standing. Bought by the Red Sox last year, he refused to sign a contract and practically forced his return to Fort Worth.

AN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR

Mrs. Sacco & her children.

Bartolemeo Vanzetti.

Nicolo Sacco.

The bombing of Ambassador Herrick's residence in Paris has been laid to the conviction for murder, in Massachusetts, of Bartolemeo Vanzetti and Nicolo Sacco. It is charged that Internationalists and Syndicalists resented the verdict by throwing the bomb, after they had made fruitless appeals to American ambassadors in Europe for the release of the prisoners. The death sentence imposed on the two men has stirred revolutionists all over the world and especially in France, to a high pitch of resentment against Americans and American institutions. The convicted men are charged with shooting and killing a paymaster and special officer of the Slater & Morrell Shoe company, in South Braintree, Mass., and robbing him of an $18,000 payroll. Above are Mrs. Sacco and her children and the convicted men.

NOW IT'S THE HIRED DANCING PARTNERS WHO GO ON STRIKE

PARIS, Nov. 2.—A strike of "gentlemen dancers" is threatened in Paris as the result of the refusal of society women to pay the high tariff demanded by their hired male partners. When the jazz craze hit Paris hundreds of rich and idle women desired to learn, but were prevented by lack of escorts. In the Paris social register there are 68,000 women and only 43,200 men. A new profession quickly sprang up "Dancers for Madame". Run-down noblemen and prepossessing adventurers attached themselves to the lone women as their escorts to dances and social functions, appearing as friends, but really being paid a fixed sum for the evening or so much per dance. Now money tightness has forced the women to reduce expenses and the "jazz lizards" have been the first hit. Refusing to lend their services for less than they have been previously paid, they are threatening to form a union and go on a general strike.

NOVAKOVICH WILL START WAR ON OYSTERS

Ivo N. Novakovich, manager of the City Fish Market, left the city yesterday for an extended trip along the Gulf coast with the avowed intention of resuming the war on oysters, which was terminated by an armistice some time ago as the result of a strike of fishermen at New Orleans. Novakovich explained that his firm had decided to meet the demands of the strikers and that several crews would be put to work at once.

BEAUMONT GIRLS MUST WEAR PLENTY OF CLOTHES

BEAUMONT, Nov. 2.—Police get some queer requests, but Day Sergeant Waldrope, of the local force, thinks one made to him recently takes the cake. It was shortly after a young woman had been arrested for appearing on the street with too little clothing on. The phone at headquarters rang, and a sweet voice said to the sergeant, "Won't you please come up to see me? I just got into town, and I want to be sure I have enough clothes on."

The sergeant pondered a moment and then replied, "You'll have to excuse me, ma'am, I'm a married man."

Women will be eligible to all the awards offered by the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, and judged according to the same standards of merit as men.

HUNTERS SAVE MANY MILLIONS IN LIVESTOCK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Since 1915, when Uncle Sam turned hunter of wild animals that roam the western ranges and prey on the farmer's livestock, he has accumulated a game bag the like of which was never before witnessed in history, according to reports to the biological survey, United States department of agriculture, just made public.

By trap and gun the government hunters have killed a total of 156,150 predatory wild animals. That period represents the time of government activity in that kind of work. The result of this labor is of incalculable benefit to the farmer and stockman. It is estimated that each wolf destroys $1,000 worth of livestock yearly and coyotes $50 each.

Listing the predatory animals which go to make up the kill total, the inventories of the 6-year campaign are as follows: 406 bears, 17,842 bobcats and lynxes, 133,604 coyotes; 668 mountain lions; and 3,630 wolves. The figures represent the total game bag of the government hunters, varying in number from 200 to 500, and the kill of state employees engaged in co-operative campaigns. The total shows the number of scalps taken; it does not include the large number of animals killed by poison. Probably the figures would be doubled if those animals, too, were placed in the list. Many poisoned animals, however, are never found.

Most Wolves in Texas.

Texas leads the sixteen states in number of wolves disposed of, the total being 1,566 during the 6-year campaign, or more than 40 per cent of the total number in all sixteen states. Wyoming ranks second with 480; New Mexico third, with 441; Montana fourth, with 339; Arizona fifth, with 183; and Utah sixth, with 170.

In the number of coyotes Nevada leads with 27,173; Utah is second, with 18,767; Texas third, with 14,830.

The number of bobcats and lynxes disposed of includes: Nevada, 4,864; Utah, 2,669; Texas, 2,199; Oregon, 2,045; Idaho, 1,418, and New Mexico, 1,292.

Arizona and New Mexico account for nearly two-thirds of the total number of mountain lions killed, their totals being 255 and 170, respectively.

RUNAWAY CARS HIT PASSENGER TRAIN; 34 HURT

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 2.—Thirty passengers of the train crew were injured near here Tuesday when a runaway string of eleven loaded coal cars crashed head on into a Big Four passenger train. The "runaways" escaped from a yard crew and ran wild eleven miles before they plunged into the oncoming passenger train. The injured passengers, none fatally hurt, were cared for by railroad physicians. One of the crew, Fireman Charles Copeland, may die. He leaped just before the crash.

Tracks Are Torn Up.

The tracks were torn up for a distance of 100 feet and the "runaways" piled up. Two coaches of the passenger train were thrown off the track. One of the coal cars was thrown on top of the locomotive by the force of the collision.

"CURB BETTORS" WAGER ON PIGEON ON CLOCK

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 2.—Curb gambling has started here. The gamblers stood across the street from the county courthouse. Their wagers were made on the probable time a pigeon, perched on the big minute hand of the courthouse clock, could maintain his lofty perch. The longest guess was five minutes.

But the bird clung fast until twenty minutes later, when the bell tolled five. Soon after the striking ceased the bird returned to the clock and rode the hand fifteen minutes longer.

CAVE MAN GETS PRISON TERM FOR WIFE ATTACK

BASIN, Wyo., Nov. 2.—James H. Smith, who last week tried to abduct his wife, Nellie E. Smith of Greybull, by chloroforming and violence after she had instituted suit for divorce, pleaded guilty to a charge of felonious assault when arraigned before Judge Metz in district court here and was sentenced to serve a term of from eighteen months to seven years in the state penitentiary at Rawlins. Smith made the attempt on failure to effect a reconciliation and was overtaken and arrested on the road north of Greybull when tire trouble forced him to stop. Mrs. Smith suffered no permanent injuries.

MEETING "DADDY" AFTER EIGHT YEARS.—Mrs. Nettie W. Ryan and her daughter, Hilda, eighteen, who were greeted by husband and father when they arrived in New York from Europe. They had not seen him in eight years. Mrs. Wessels recognized her husband without trouble, but Hilda required an introduction. Mr. Wessels came here in 1913 from the West Indies.

DIED IN ACTION.—A bas-relief of Lieutenant Jeff Feigl was unveiled in Victory Hall, N. Y. He was the first New York City soldier to make the supreme sacrifice in the war. Feigl was killed in action March 21, 1918, while directing battery fire against the enemy. Lieutenant Feigl's father, Colonel Frederick Feigl, is shown standing beside the bas-relief of his son. General George W. Wingate, president of Victory Hall Association, accepted the tablet, which was presented by Lieutenant S. J. McTague, representing the Jeff Feigl Post of the American Legion. The ceremonies were impressive.

THE FRUITS OF THE HUNT.—Out in the open, a few miles from the city, David Mohr, of New York, is preparing a meal in which partridge is to be featured. On the first day of the season he bagged the limit before noon. "Dumbie," the setter, is watching for his share. First day hunters report the woods full of birds, which are hard to locate and flush owing to the heavy foliage. "Looks like a good season" was the general verdict.

and had been located in Eugene, Ore., and brought back to San Francisco, appeared before United States Judge Maurice T. Dooling and entered a plea of guilty. The specific charge was transporting liquor on Sept. 4 from a saloon at the corner of Duboce and Sanchez streets to Arbuckle's suite. GEORGE, WHO STOLE BLACK COW MADE HER PEROXIDE BLONDE, PULLS ANOTHER LITTLE JOKE

DENVER, Nov. 2.—George Ryan has pulled another.

George is the only ex-convict in Colorado with a real sense of humor. His first little joke, when he stole a black cow and bleached her to a blonde with peroxide, cost him ten years in the penitentiary.

But what's ten years to a real humorist? George is not the only humorist that has deserved to be given ten years for one of his jokes.

But here's George's latest: as charged by the police, who are holding him in the city jail on a charge of grand larceny.

Sunday, George, who is 65 years old, was leading his horse from pasture to George's home at 3600 Cook street. In front of 5908 East Colfax avenue, he saw a wagon filled with household goods. He didn't know it belonged to Allen Cordrey, who was moving from the country to the Colfax avenue house.

George thought his own horse needed exercise. So he unhitched Cordrey's horse from the wagon, and hitched his own between the shafts. Cordrey saw him, but was so astounded he made no immediate attempt to stop him.

Instead he leaped upon the back of George's own horse, which George had generously left him, and galloped to the Capitol Hill police station. There he was joined by Patrolman Herman on a motorcycle. Together they located George, placidly driving at a slow trot along Cook street. They followed him until he reached his home, when Patrolman Herman placed him under arrest.

George recently was released from the penitentiary, where he has sojourned since his choice bit of humor involving the peroxide blonde bovine. He stole a black Holstein cow, and was caught and charged with the theft.

In the west side court he claimed he didn't have a black cow, but owned a Jersey sow. The court called for the cow. She was led into the courtroom. The owner was astounded to find that she had changed from a glistening black to a golden blonde. He identified her, however, by other marks, and George was convicted and sent to the penitentiary for his joke.

SITS ON SNAKE

CORSICANA, Nov. 2.—The Rev. M. K. Little, pastor of the First Methodist church of Blooming Grove, this county, had a novel and highly interesting experience Friday while out fishing with a number of friends. The fish were biting fast and the preacher decided he would sit down on the grass and rest a while. He selected the spot upon which to rest and with great care eased down on the green. Something began to flounder under him and a rusty whip-lashing object began to lash him. He leaped to his feet and dashed off. According to the other fishermen it was a miraculous get-away and a safe run, for investigation revealed a large moccasin with fangs protruding in a most menacing manner, was the object the minister had selected to rest upon.

NAVY FLIER RISKS LIFE FOR ANOTHER

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 2.—Risking his life in the air by diving with his own airplane under a falling machine, in a futile effort to avoid disaster to a brother airplane, a naval aviator from North Island naval station today crashed hundreds of feet to earth, the two planes spinning over and over before horrified spectators.

Lieut. Eric Blackwell was killed in the crash.

Lieutenant Daniel W. Tomlinson suffered a broken leg and other injuries. Which flier fell first and which came to the rescue may never be known. Navy men were undetermined after watching the crash.

One plane started down out of control. The other dove under him. A second later the two wrecked machines fell. Lieutenant Tomlinson may not recover.

APPEAL IS MADE IN LOCKLEAR WILL CASE

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2.—An appeal from the decision of the Tarrant county probate court denying admission of the late holographic will of Ormer Locklear, stunt aviator, who was killed in Los Angeles last year, was made in the Forty-eighth district court before Judge Bruce Young, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Locklear, parents of the deceased aviator, are asking the admission of a letter from Ormer Locklear in which it is said that he desired certain parts of his estate to go to a certain member of his family, as the holographic will. Judge Hugh L. Small of the probate court held that the alleged will is not in the hand of Locklear and refused to admit it for probate.

BLANTON'S OPPOSITION PASSES BILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Objection from Representative Blanton to unanimous consent for the consideration of a bill offered by Representative Hudspeth of Texas, transferring Pecos county from the jurisdiction of Del Rio to the El Paso division of the United States district court for the western district of Texas, resulted in the immediate passage of that measure under suspension of the rules.

The bill, designed to relieve lawyers of Fort Stockton and that section from the necessity of making a trip of 200 miles or more and permitting them to return processes at Pecos City instead of Del Rio, was deemed of little moment and had received no attention from the Republicans until Blanton interposed his objection. Then a dozen Republicans championed the cause of the astonished congressman from the El Paso district and when they ascertained that the bill did not effect or touch Blanton's district, Floor Leader

Mondell suggested that Representative Hudspeth ask for its passage under suspension of the rules. This was done and, sensing the hostility his objection had aroused, Blanton offered no further obstacles to passage of the measure.

HALLOWEEN BRIDGE PARTY

Honoring her sister, Miss Helen Burke of Las Cruces, N. M., Mrs. Lytton R. Taylor entertained with a bridge party Monday evening at her home on the Strawn road. The guests were met at the door by two tiny Halloween spirits, little Miss Edna Louise Taylor, dressed as a witch, who received the ladies, and Master Raymond Taylor, dressed as a ghost, who received the gentlemen. Festoons of yellow and black crepe paper strung with Halloween emblems, were brought from the chandelier in the dining room to the four corners of the room. The den and living room were attractively decorated in like suggestions, while on each side of the fireplace cornstalks were banded very effectively. The light shades were jack-o-lanterns and all the draperies were strung with tiny Halloween favors.

The score cards and place cards and nut cups further carried out the decoration motif. The refreshments of pumpkin pie, served with whipped cream, coffee and salted almonds were in keeping with the season. Miss Marion Stubblebine received the first prize, a box of correspondence cards, and the honoree Miss Burke, the consolation, a deck of cards. Dr. C. C. Craig captured the gentlemen's prize, three nice handkerchiefs. Those enjoying Mrs. Taylor's hospitality were: Messrs. A. N. Harbinder, C. C. Craig, T. L. Lauderdale, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Jones, W. H. Burden, Garrett Bohning, Eben Finney, Mrs. Ralph Stockman, Miss Marion Stubblebine; Messrs. R. B. Waggoner, Wilbur Stubblebine and Lytton R. Taylor.

CHILD'S WELFARE WORK.

The health examination of the school children of the Central school was resumed Tuesday afternoon. About 145 children were examined. With some exceptions the physical condition was very good. Two very distinct cases of trachoma were found. The parents of these children were notified immediately and were advised to put these children under the treatment of a specialist, for trachoma is very infectious and the results are very serious unless corrected. Drs. Holland, Stackable, Buchanan and Terrell were assisted by Misses. Ratliff, Wilson, Terrell, Wier, Johnson and Endicott.

MRS. C. Q. ROGERS ENTERTAINS

Mrs. C. Q. Rogers entertained the schoolmates of Miss Margaret Howells, in honor of Miss Howells, Saturday evening. She was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Wm. Those present were: the honoree, Misses Ernestine Davis, Norine Maxey, Anna Lee Cravy, Dorothy Campbell, Velma Curry, Willie Betise, Imogene Sedburg, Jennie Howells, Mrs. L. R. AT THE McELROY APARTMENTS

A very elaborate party was that given at the McElroy apartments Monday evening, celebrating Halloween. This party was given by the different guests in the apartments and each guest was allowed the privilege of inviting a guest.

At the street door was a gay lantern, typically Halloween. On the first landing of the staircase two skeletons welcomed the guests, while on each newel post a devil's head jack-o-lantern grinned a fiendish welcome. The mezzanine floor was decorated with all the colors and symbols of the day.

There were games of all kinds, even to the never-failing mirth-provoking one of pinning on the cat's tail. Mr. Thomas Cole was successful in this contest.

There was a mystery room, full of cold, bloodless spooks and phantoms, that turned even the stoutest heart cold. There was apple bobbing, cards and dancing.

A buffet luncheon consisting of chicken and pimento sandwiches, cake and hot chocolate were served.

Those enjoying this most delightful party were: Messrs and Mmes. Judson Calhoun, C. A. Berry, G. M. Smith, H. N. Sindrof, Bernard Lippman, J. Godwin Jones, J. W. Garr, R. H. Flaherty, J. C. McElroy, R. A. Albright, J. P. O'Reilly, A. L. Wilson, W. Prosser, F. L. Carroll, T. B. Scott, Thomas Cole, C. Q. Rogers, H. A. Goodwin, Misses Margaret Howells, Mildred Berry, Margaret Calhoun, Martha Carroll; Messrs. J. Kramer, Sam Wasaff, J. Godwin Jones Jr., Lemoin Sindrof, Garrett Calhoun, J. W. Carr, Jr. Billie Wilson, Sturgeon McElroy, Mrs. Hugh Lloyd.

Girls, dressed as ghosts, served the follow-

SOCIETY IN REVOLT, SAYS NEW CORNELL HEAD AT HIS INAUGURATION

Education is the only solution for the economic, political and social ills of the world, Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., declared at his inauguration.

"The spread of knowledge is essential to the survival of our modern democracies," Dr. Farrand declared. "The world is being tried with fire, society is in revolution. Our civilization is not only under indictment, it is fighting for its very existence." Dr. Farrand was formerly president of the University of Colorado and for two years chairman of the American Red Cross.

BACK YARD CATCHES ON FIRE, SOLVES FUEL PROBLEM IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—John Miller, Chicagoan, chewed the end of his cigar meditatively. Winter was coming, and as he gazed out over his back yard the thought of having to lay in a supply of winter fuel at present prices staggered him a bit.

His cigar dropped to the ground. Miller stood looking at it as it lay smoking on the ground.

Then there Miller's problem was solved. The ground under the cigar began to burn. He made an investigation and learned that in his back yard he has a private peat field that would more than supply him with fuel during the winter.

Now the Miller neighborhood has taken on some of the marks of the famous peat bog villages of Ireland. At almost any home you can find the familiar old Irish peat shovel, known in Erin as "slanes."

Results are varied among the "miners." While many have found peat in their yards, others have met with disappointment. One man became enthusiastic when he discovered that his back yard contained a "deposit" of peat that closely resembled coal, being hard and lignite in color. After fourteen vain attempts to build a fire under it, however, he discovered that he had unearthed a quantity of concrete scraps.

BROTHERS IN BANK FACE 325 CHARGES

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2.—Charging theft by bailer and embezzlement of almost $3,000,000, Paul and Peter O'Brien were placed under arrest Monday following the return by the grand jury of 325 indictments. The indictments charge that the O'Brien brothers while in the employ of D. Sullivan & Co., real estate agents, did convert property valued at the above amount to their own use. The defendants are the adopted sons of D. Sullivan Sr., head of the firm, and the property mentioned in the charges is some of the most valuable of the main streets of the city.

Neither of the O'Briens would make a statement following their arrest. It is not known whether or not they will be admitted to bond.

DENVER WOMAN WALKS PART WAY TO COAST TO GET PARDON FOR SON

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—District Attorney Mathew Brady Thursday had under consideration a request that he recommend a parole for Allen McDonald, convicted in connection with the so-called "Howard street gang" a year ago.

McDonald soon will be eligible to apply for parole.

Recently McDonald's mother made her way here from Denver—walking part of the way and accepting free rides at times—and asked Brady to parole her son, it was learned Thursday.

Brady declared he would "do the best he could."
