50c INCREASE BOOSTS OIL TO $2.25

EVERYONE IS ASKED TO JOIN IN TRADE TRIP

Merchants Leave Tomorrow Morning for All-Day Visit to North.

Tomorrow, Ranger business men will go as far north as Ivan and as far east as Mingus on a trip to advertise the Thursday Trade Days.

All those wishing to accompany the members of the Retail Merchants' association on the trip, which includes portions of Stephens, Palo Pinto and Erath counties, are requested to register at the offices of the association in the Guaranty bank building this afternoon. The association has a plenty of cars arranged for and is desirous of getting Rangerites to fill them. All automobile owners who have not already made arrangements for the trip are also invited.

The party will leave the Guaranty bank building tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock and will be gone the entire day. Lunch will be provided by the association and cigars furnished. A ten-piece band will be taken along and the party expects to have an enjoyable time on the trip as well as to spread the news of the Trade days which start Thursday, and of the big rodeo on Armistice day.

The towns of Lacassa, Frankl, Necessity, Breckenridge, Caddo, Strawn, Mingus and Thurber will be visited on the trip.

STATE SAYS BIG REFINERIES ARE IN COMBINATION

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—That several of the larger oil refining concerns of Texas are exchanging gasoline, kerosene, crude and fuel oil, is stated in a report of the attorney general's department after investigation of alleged violations of the anti-trust laws of Texas.

This exchange means that the same brand of kerosene or gasoline is sold in the filling stations, no matter what companies own them.

In Dallas, it is alleged, the Magnolia company, and in Houston the Humble at one time served the stations in Austin. It is said that these exchanges during the past year amounted to 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline. These exchanges are made for the purpose of saving transportation charges, it was said.

ANOTHER RICH HAUL

TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 7.—Money and jewels valued at nearly $20,000 were stolen by two bandits who this morning held up the National Loan company, in the business district. The bandits bound and gagged Sidney Kayman, brother of the proprietor, after they had tricked him into opening the safe. They stuck the contents of the safe, including a large amount of money and jewels, into their pockets and escaped.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED IN KILLING OF JAP PREMIER

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—Kigoro Hazhimoto, assistant station master at Otuka station, where Premier Hara was assassinated Friday night, has been arrested and charged with complicity in the crime. About twenty other employes at the station were released after being questioned. Ryuchi Nakok, the assassin, insisted, the police say, that he had no accomplice. The police believe, however, that the statesman's death was brought about through a conspiracy.

PHYSICIAN IS KILLED.

COLEMAN, Nov. 7.—Dr. A. F. Upton, formerly of this county, was accidentally shot and killed Saturday while hunting with a friend near Stacy. His body was brought here last night for burial, and his children are gathering here from the different parts of the state, where they reside. He was 61 years old.

SECRET PRISON FOUND.

BELFAST, Nov. 7.—An alleged Sinn Fein prison in the heart of Belfast was discovered in a police raid today and a man who had been sentenced to death by the Sinn Fein was released.

YOU TELL 'EM, BUDDY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Secretary of War Weeks today asked the American Legion to assist in obtaining evidence on charges of Senator Watson of Georgia that private soldiers had frequently been shot by officers overseas and soldiers had been hanged without any form of trial. The request was made in a letter to Hansford McNider, commander of the Legion.

HIS 'CURIOSITY' CAUSES DOUBLE SLAYING IN OHIO

Auto in Front of Vacant House Tempts Man to See What's Going on.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The mysterious murder of Miss Louise Doyle, 19-year-old church worker, and J. W. Newman, father of three children is believed to be solved by the alleged confession of Roy Shamblin, 27, which was given to the sheriff. Plans were for Shamblin to repeat his tale of the murder in a deserted shack near here a week ago, to the grand jury today. He was arrested in Cincinnati yesterday.

Shamblin's curiosity resulted in the double murder, according to the confession given the sheriff.

The night of Oct. 28, Shamblin was on his way to visit relatives in Portsmouth when he passed the deserted house and noticed an automobile standing in front of it. He entered the cottage to investigate, Shamblin's account says. A brick was thrown at him and he opened fire at the silhouetted figures. The first shot struck Newman and dropped him to the floor. When the girl started to run, he seized her and holding the weapon against her bare breast, pulled the trigger, according to his alleged confession.

Then he reloaded the bodies and drove away in Newman's car.

GOOD AMERICAN OBEYS ALL LAWS, PREACHER SAYS

The ideal American is one who recognizes the constitution and laws of the country. One who knowingly violates them—even city ordinances—is an "outlaw," Rev. J. G. Winsett declared last night in a sermon upon "Americanism."

The nation is founded upon the principles of freedom, right and justice, the pastor said, and its citizens must stand by those principles if it is to survive.

He pleaded for the restoration of the home and womanhood to their former high position, saying that where a few years ago, we had the double standard of morals, "we now have the single standard."

"I will not say whether woman has raised man to her level, or man has dragged woman down to his," the pastor continued, "but today we have only one standard."

The Ku Klux Klan was mentioned incidentally, the speaker saying that he had been asked to express his opinion of the clan, which he did, as follows: "When I get to the place where I have no regard for American womanhood and for the laws of our country, I hope the Ku Klux Klan will tar and feather me every morning and every night."

A plea for disarmament, to save the world from barbarism, brought about by confiscatory taxes, was made by Rev. Mr. Winsett at the opening of his sermon, this being a sermon subject all over the nation yesterday. Ninety-two per cent of the world's taxes go to support past, present and future wars, he said, leaving less than 10 per cent for public health, education and advancement.

ANOTHER K. K. K. INQUIRY.

HOUSTON, Nov. 7.—Inquiry into the Ku Klux Klan was ordered today by District Judge C. W. Robinson in charging the grand jury in his court.

BLUEBEARD TRIAL OVERSHADOWS ARMAMENT MEET IN FRENCH MINDS

VERSAILLES, Nov. 7.—Henry Landru, the twentieth century Don Juan, went on trial today.

Known as the "Bluebeard of Gambais Villa," Landru was to plead to the charge of having murdered ten of the 283 women of all ages who had become betrothed to him, and the son of one. The trials, which far overshadow the disarmament conference at Washington in the mind of the French populace, got under way after an investigation of the strange case lasting two and one-half years.

Not Beautiful.

Landru, 52 years of age, with heavy features and squat figure, shining bald pate and bushy beard; in fact, the exact antithesis of the legendary Don Juan, will be pictured by the prosecution as having lured a veritable army of women, mostly wealthy widows ranging from 20 to 60, for their fortunes. Matrimonial advertisements are alleged to have been the agency through which he worked. He is said to have induced each victim to convert her property into cash. Then he purchased two railroad tickets to Gambais. Always it is alleged, he purchased only one return ticket. Most of the women disappeared.

GEORGE TYREE, TRANSFER MAN, IS DEAD HERE

George W. Tyree, aged 54, died at 7 o'clock this morning at a local hospital. Mr. Tyree was a native of Eldorado, Kan., and had been a resident of Ranger for two years. He was connected here with his brother, H. H. Tyree, in the transfer business and was a member of the Woodmen of the World. He is survived by his brother and two sisters, the latter living in Kansas City.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the chapel of the Milford Undertaking company, Captain Mullins of the Salvation Army officiating. The body will be sent on the Sunshine Special, immediately following the services, to Fort Scott, Kan., for burial.

JAPS RESTLESS: FEAR POLITICAL CHANGES

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—Popular unrest was growing in Japan tonight as leaders of the elder statesmen conferred in the imperial palace regarding a successor to Premier Hara.

This uneasiness is increasing in spite of assurances by Prince Yamagata of the elder statesmen and Marquis Saionji, one of the liberal leaders, that Japan's foreign and domestic policy would not be changed as a result of Hara's assassination.

Should Saionji be named to head the government, it was asserted, little change would be made in the cabinet, but if Yamagata is selected, it was feared the government would become wholly conservative.

VETERAN RAILROAD EMPLOYEE IS KILLED

DENISON, Nov. 7.—C. C. Gordon, 52, railroad employe here, was killed at Whitesboro today while engaged in coupling a caboose to a train. Gordon had been an employe of the road for twenty-two years and was to have shortly been promoted to a passenger run.

WANTS OLD RATES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Repeal of the 6 per cent guaranteed return to railroads and a return to pre-war rates was urged by Clifford Thorne, counsel for the American farm bureau, before the senate interstate commerce committee today.

TRY FATTY NEXT WEEK

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Trial of Roscoe Arubcke, charged with manslaughter today was continued until Monday, Nov. 14. Arubcke is accused of having caused the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, at a party in his rooms at the St. Francis hotel.

The evidence against Landru is circumstantial. Three pounds of charred bones taken from a stove in the villa and alleged to be human, and other portions of anatomy, will be produced in court. The prosecution also will introduce Landru's notebook, which registers minute particulars regarding various fiances. The latest Madame Landru declares her husband is not guilty of the charge and points out that the stove in which the bones were found is too small to admit a woman's body.

Voluninous Testimony.

The prosecution will introduce 130 witnesses and the defense twenty. The various documents total 70,000 pages.

Today is expected to be occupied with empanelling the jury, calling the roll of witnesses and reading the indictment. M. Gafferi, one of the most famous members of the French bar, will then examine Landru, as is customary under the French law. This examination will last through Wednesday and the prosecution will introduce its witnesses the following day. Space for press representatives has been reserved and a detachment of gendarmes is on duty to maintain order among the great crowds, which includes hundreds of women.

BONUS BILL VOTED DOWN BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—After a hot partisan fight, bristling with dramatic clashes, the senate voted down, early Sunday morning, an attempt to tack the soldier bonus feature to the pending tax bill.

By a vote of 28 to 38, the senate rejected an amendment by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, providing for payment of the bonus out of the excess profits taxes.

The defeat of Reed's amendment foreshadowed a similar fate Monday for the Simmons-Walsh and McKellar bonus proposals, which would pay the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt.

U. S. TO INSIST ON 'OPEN DOOR' AS PEACE MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The open door doctrine in the Far East is regarded by the American government as the chief bulwark of Far Eastern peace. For this reason, the American government considers the restoration and strengthening of this policy, which declares that all nations shall have equal rights in trade and industry, as one of the paramount objects of the conference. This statement was made to the United Press today on the highest authority.

Limitation of armament is regarded as dangerous and might breed hate rather than prevent war unless preceded by a definite understanding for commercial freedom, and against political domination which might bring about trade restrictions.

Don't Like Treaty.

Special agreements like the Anglo-Japanese treaty will be regarded unfavorably, and the American delegation will urge the scrapping of that treaty.

The American delegation was again in session today, with all present except Senator Lodge, who was detained at the capital but was expected later in the day.

There is reason to believe that the delegation has now arrived at the suggestions for naval disarmament which it will present to the conference. The absence of naval experts from today's session, with only five days before the conference assembles, tended to strengthen this view.

BLUEBEARDESS TO PEN

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Lydia Southard, found guilty of the murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer, today was sentenced to from ten years to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Boise.

BONUS AGAIN DEFEATED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—After a bitter partisan debate the senate today rejected 42 to 29, the Democrats' second attempt to add the soldiers' bonus to the tax bill.

FOCH ON PEACE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Two short paragraphs in Marshal Foch's last speech in Chicago, epitomizing the peace message of a war leader, are attracting much comment. He said:

"Peace—we shall have it soon on the same conditions that we got war. We must fight for it in the moral sphere, as we did for war in the physical. Peace has been promised for the first night of Christianity only to men of good will.

"Good will must be in the bottom of our hearts. Without it, peace is only a sham."

TAX VALUES OF CITY PROPERTY GO UP $164,000

Equalization Board Meets Tuesday to Make Additional Adjustments.

The city board of equalization adjourned Saturday night until tomorrow after making increases in Ranger property valuations aggregating $180,000 and decreases amounting to $14,000. Approximately 120 property owners of the city appeared before the board during the session Friday and Saturday and almost 100 others have been notified to appear Tuesday, to show why their valuations should not be increased. The board is handling a number of equalizations through the mail.

While the board is greatly interested in bringing about sufficient increases in the various properties to secure a total valuation of $10,000,000, which is needed to provide the necessary funds for the city during the coming year at the present tax rate of 1.75, the primary object of the equalization work is to distribute the burden of taxation equally upon the shoulders of all. Tax Assessor Ringold explained this morning.

In going over the tax rolls of some 3,000 names, he states, some 300 property owners were found to be assessed on a lower scale of valuation than the remaining 90 per cent. Ringold pointed out that it was either a matter of increasing the valuations of the small minority up to the scale of valuations of the other property owners, and keeping the present tax rate, or a matter of reducing the valuations of the great majority of property owners to the lower level of the 10 per cent and increasing the tax rate to one sufficient to yield the $175,000 revenue needed by the city.

FIVE BUILDINGS BURN IN RISING STAR FIRE

RISING STAR, Nov. 7.—Three brick business houses and two frame buildings on North Main street were destroyed by fire Saturday. The blaze started in the Fair clothing store, half way in the block, and worked north, fanned by a strong wind. Lack of water gave it such headway that only destruction of buildings in its path stopped its progress. The loss covered two restaurants, one clothing store, grocery, barber shop and tailor shop.

The buildings were owned mostly by out of town people. The loss will total $25,000 on buildings and $20,000 on stock and fixtures. Only a small amount of insurance was carried.

FOCH IN DETROIT.

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—Detroit was in gala attire today in honor of Marshal Ferdinand Foch, hero of heroes, who is here for an afternoon and evening filled with honors.

TONIGHT

The Law and Order league announces that it will hold an open meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Christian tabernacle. All citizens interested in the work of that organization are invited to attend.

OKLAHOMA - KANSAS CRUDE GETS 25-CENT JUMP AT SAME TIME

Price Now at Level Which Witnessed Ranger Field's Greatest Development; Thirty Days Since Last Increase Was Posted.

After remaining inactive for one month, the price of all North and Central Texas crude took a 50-cent leap this morning, bringing it back to where it started in the rousing days of 1919, under which the greater part of the drilling in this territory was done, before the $3.50 level was reached.

Effective this morning at 7 o'clock the Ranger and Tulsa offices of the Prairie Pipe Line company posted the 50-cent increase over the fields, to be immediately followed by the Sinclair and the Texas company. The Gulf company announced that the increase had been met shortly before 3 o'clock. As an indication of a continued general upward trend of crude prices, it was announced that the Oklahoma and Kansas price had jumped 25 cents, bringing the price in those fields to $2.

First in Month.

The increase posted this morning was the first since Oct. 7, when the series of 25-cent increases came to an end after running up the price from $1 to $1.75 in nine days. The first increase in North and Central Texas was posted on Sept. 28 by the Texas and Prairie companies. On Oct. 1, oil went to $1.50, when the Prairie company posted their new price. On Oct. 7 North and Central Texas crude made a stand at $1.75 following the Texas company's lead, and Oklahoma and Kansas crude went to $1.50. The Oklahoma and Kansas prices later took another jump which brought it to the level of Texas crude. In the latest increase Texas again takes the lead.

Although the leap in crude prices is not expected to bring about an increase in drilling operations until water can be secured, its effects are expected to be noticeable immediately. Old wells are expected to be worked over and small production which failed to pay under the old prices, brought back into operation.

Superintendent Haden of the company in commenting on the ability of another increase of near future declared that the price of oil was one of price fluctuations and that he did not see any reason for the price of crude going down.

EATING INTO SURPLUS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—An increase in crude oil prices is taken here to denote improvement in the petroleum industry. Consumption has again exceeded supply and the margin is widening. For nearly a year the opposite had been the case, resulting in an enormous surplus of crude.

The first change in the situation came in August, when consumption exceeded production by 7,000,000 barrels and last month this figure had been increased. A further evidence of improvement was seen in reports of increased drilling.

UNKNOWN HERO'S BODY WILL LIE IN STATE IN ROTUNDA OF CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The body of the American unknown hero will arrive here Wednesday afternoon or evening and will lie in state in the rotunda of the capitol until Friday, it was announced today.

The police and those official delegations and society which have been given permission to place wreaths on the bier will be admitted to the rotunda between 8 a. m. and 10 p. m. Thursday.

Four American Indian chiefs, each a tribal hero, will pay the unknown dead at the Arlington cemetery next Friday, the highest honors known to their race. The chiefs will wear their war bonnets. Plenty Coos of the Crows, Lone Wolf of the Kiowas, and Amos Red Owl and Stranger Horses of the Sioux, were chosen to confer the decorations by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Burke, because of their prominence in the history of the West. Each is high chief of his tribe and has fought American soldiers.

SPIKES ON TRACK

DENTON, Nov. 7.—As a result of the derailing of a freight engine and a motor car loaded with section men near here late Saturday, county officials are looking for persons, supposed to be youths, who placed bolts and spikes on the rails.

The train and motor car were traveling slowly at the time of the accident and no one was injured.

HEN FIRST, OR EGG?

Ranger at one time had two cotton gins, perhaps more. Also, it handled perhaps 12,000 bales of cotton each season.

A number of persons think a gin would be a good investment; that its mere presence would encourage the raising of cotton.

On the other hand, a guarantee of a sufficient acreage in cotton would unquestionably be the ace in the hole when Ranger went out after a gin.

It is another illustration of the fact that the town and country must work in hand if agriculture is to be established in this section.

The obvious solution is that Ranger must have some sort of farm bureau or federation, wherein town and country can work together and each give the other what it must have in order to prosper.

Let's have the gin, among other things, but let's also have the cotton with which to operate it.

And let's have the proper kind of organization devoted to obtaining both.

FRANCE WILLING TO CONSIDER ANY PLAN FOR PEACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—France is ready to join in every endeavor to avert new wars, "providing she has nothing to fear for her own security, which remains one of the most solid guarantees of the peace of the world," said Premier Aristide Briand in a message to the American people on arrival today to attend the armament conference at Washington.

"Just because she had to suffer from war more than any other nation," he added, "she is ready to approach the program of the conference in the most favorable spirit for the maintenance of peace.

"Between France and the United States of America there is no room for any difference, however slight. Both our countries' only endeavor is to lead our peoples to peaceful and faithful work and to reduce more and more the ravages of war.

Realities Wanted. "Today the world which is in such need of peace, wants not only soothing words, but realities."

Premier Briand was accompanied by former Premier Rene Viviani, a companion of Marshal Joffre during his visit here in 1917, and Albert Sarraut, French senator and minister of the colonies.

As Briand passed the statue of Liberty, with hat raised high, he said: "This is the greatest moment of my life. The Statue of Liberty has its replica in Paris on the banks of the Seine. Though standing thousands of miles apart, they are a symbol of the friendship existing between the two nations and show the aspirations they have in common."

ASSAY OFFICE BULGES WITH FOREIGN GOLD

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Gold holdings of the United States, the world's sole creditor nation, mounted to a new high record last month, approximately the stupendous sum of $3,500,000,000.

The amount of gold bars now held by the local assay office is not disclosed, but the machinery of that institution has been taxed to capacity recently reducing foreign bullion to requisite fineness for the domestic market.

Bars valued at many millions of dollars have been shipped from this city to the Philadelphia mint in the last few months to be made into coin.

ALASKAN RAILROAD NEARING COMPLETION

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 7.—Completion by the end of this year of track laying on the railroad the United States government is building in Alaska was predicted by Governor Scott C. Bone on his return here recently from an inspection trip over a portion of the line.

The railroad is to cross the Alaska mountains and connect Seward and Anchorage, on the seacoast, with Nenana and Fairbanks, towns on the territory's interior river system.

Miss Thromp hiked her way across the continent, alone, to the Metropolitan city, in order to attend Columbia university, where she will study for a doctor's degree in philosophy.

WILD NIGHTS COULD BE TAMER, IS BELIEF OF HOOCH IMBIBER WHO WAS "SHOT TWICE IN HEAD"

Following the story told by a man found on the streets Sunday morning, under the impression that he had "been shot twice in the head," two others were taken into custody by the police Sunday night for investigation of charges that they had swindled the first man out of some $10.

According to the story told by the alleged victim he was induced by one of the men, while intoxicated on jake, to enter a local drug store Saturday night and play the "strap game." He was allowed to win small amounts but later lost $10, he told the officers, and was taken by one of the men to a rooming house where he claims he was knocked in the head by his escort to silence his claims of having been swindled in the deal.

When found wandering on a downtown street he told a passerby that he had been shot in the head, and had apparently lost all track of time. He was brought to the police station where his injuries were found to be cuts inflicted by blows. Later, when able to talk clearly, he recounted the intricacies of the "strap game" in which he placed bets that he could put the point of a pencil in the loop of an ingeniously rolled strap.

The proprietor of the rooming house, where the man was knocked in the head, told the officers that he himself had struck him over the head with a six-shooter when he came there "drunk and started raising h—." The rooming house in question was one of the Ranger establishments that came in for severe condemnation recently before the city commission.

LANDIS MAY DECIDE WHO OWNS DALLAS CLUB

DALLAS, Nov. 7.—United States District Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, will be asked to settle the affairs and disputed ownership of the Dallas "Marines" baseball club of the Texas league.

Regardless of the outcome of the law suit now on trial in the Forty-fourth district court here, which seeks only that affairs of the club remain unchanged by the present owners, the real issues in the case will be taken to Chicago for final settlement.

This is the assertion of J. Walter Morris, former president of the Texas league, and interested with Ike Sablosky in the purchase of the Dallas franchise.

The announcement was made late Saturday during a recess in the first hearing of the injunction case before Judge E. B. Mose.

Involved in the issues to be settled by Judge Landis is primarily, the sale of the Dallas club to Ike Sablosky, recognized owner, and secondarily, is the ratification of the league's resolution ousting Jess Hassell and Ham Patterson, president and manager, respectively.

CARCASS BEEF BACK TO 1914 PRICE LEVEL

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 7.—The average wholesale price of carcass beef is now back to the level prevailing in 1914, according to figures made public today in a review of the meat and livestock situation during October, issued by the institute of American meat packers.

The average wholesale price of carcass beef in 1914 approximated 12 cents, the report says, while at the end of October, 1921, it was between 11 1/2 cents and 12 cents. Some grades, however, are selling higher and others lower, it is said.

FIVE MEN ARRESTED FOR WHIPPING ANOTHER

AMARILLO, Texas, Nov. 7.—Five men have been arrested and are out on bail and two women are being sought by authorities here on complaints charging whitecapping in connection with an attack on J. M. Dendy, head of a local barber college, when the latter was given a severe beating.

According to the bills of information, the two women are alleged to have persuaded Dendy to accompany them in an automobile, which was later held up by masked men and Dendy taken out and whipped.

TEXAS GINNER WAS AMAZED AT RESULTS

Another well known Texas business man comes forward to testify to the merits of Tanlac. This time it is from James J. Hanus, head of a successful ginning firm of Ennis, Texas. Mr. Hanus says:

"I was in a badly run down condition for several years and my health was gradually getting worse. I was subject at times to attacks of sciatic rheumatism too, and only those who have suffered from this trouble know what I endured.

"I began taking Tanlac with the hope of only getting partial relief, and I was positively amazed at the change it made in me. There is no doubt in my mind that Tanlac gave me a new lease on life. I'm entirely free from rheumatism, I can run and jump like a boy and I feel simply fine."

Tanlac is sold in Ranger by Phillips Bros., and in Eastland by the Palace Drug Store.—Advertisement.

LAW REGULATING GRAIN EXCHANGES TO BE FOUGHT

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Regulation of grain exchanges as provided in the Capper-Tincher law going into effect Dec. 4 is attacked here in a suit for argument before Judge K. M. Landis today.

The bill questioning the constitutionality of the future trading act was filed by John Hill, Jr., a member of the Chicago board of trade, on Oct. 25, and it is the first suit to test the law.

Jeweled Portal to Greet Arms Delegates

Washington will present a brilliant spectacle when illuminated for the arms parley. The most elaborate electrical effects in the night decoration will be the jeweled portal located at Seventh and B streets, in front of the Pan-American Union building, as shown in the above photograph. The two obelisks are eighty-five feet high and finished in travertine. The jeweled necklace, suspended between them, stretched across, takes up eighty-six feet six inches of space. It consists of 37,500 novagen jewels.

AMERICANS WHO HAVE GAMBLLED IN GERMAN MARKS HAVE LOST 60 CENTS OF EVERY DOLLAR SPENT

"Gamblers and nothing else," is one newspaper's description of Americans who have invested in German marks hoping to reap a rich harvest upon the return of German money to normal exchange level. Speculation in foreign currency bonds, foreign currencies, bills of exchange and deposits of money in foreign banks, declares Thomas B. Pratt in the Analyst, has reached proportions "far beyond that of any similar craze for oil stocks, gold mining or railroad shares, in the palmiest days of gambling in such ventures."

It has reached every class in the population of the United States, "the corporation executive, the clerk, the farmer, the laborer, professional men and women of all classes have succumbed to the arguments and propaganda of the distributors of foreign currency 'investments.'"

And the speculation, we read, "has been all the more insidious because of the plausible arguments that have been advanced about the profits that might be realized when these currencies return to normal or par." Of course there has been no actual fraud in connection with this business. The currency that is sold has a price that is quoted daily, and is as good as the credit of the government issuing it.

Investments Unsound. But investments in it are speculative and unsound, says this writer, who here agrees with many financial authorities, because the buyers do not understand foreign exchange and "because in the cases of many currencies, there is little or no reason to believe that they will ever return to normal, and, in fact, there are plenty of reasons why they should go still lower and stay there."

Not that this applies to all foreign currencies at present depreciated. But there has not been a great deal of speculation in the currencies of such countries as Great Britain, the European neutrals, and the principal South American nations.

Speculation in German marks has been greater than in any other foreign currency, and the recent spectacular drop of the mark is the occasion for a history of this particular speculation by a writer in the New York Times. He notes one banker's guess that a hundred million dollars worth of marks have been sold in the United States since the armistice at a price averaging around 2 1/2 cents. On the basis, and at the present quotation of less than a cent "approximately 60 cents of every American dollar put into marks has been lost."

Another banker, it should be added, is said to place the investment in marks at nearer fifty billions. The story of the buying and selling of marks proceeds as follows: It was not until midsummer, after the armistice was signed, that quotations in the German marks were resumed. They started at 7 1/2 to 8 cents per mark. In the meanwhile many sales of the German currency appeared in the United States, and were sold surreptitiously to those of known German sympathy.

This traffic did not come into the open until the resumption of foreign exchange dealings in the midsummer of 1919.

New York Is Center. New York appeared to be the center of this distribution. Small stores sprang up on prominent corners, where the paper currency of Germany was sold to the extent of thousands of marks. This traffic, too, borrowed into the bank accounts of small investors with but $100, $500 or $1,000 to risk, and which gave him in return for his dollars a few pretty colored pieces of paper, turned out within the month by the overworked printing presses, running unrestricted.

"Foreign exchange" stores began dotting the country as well as the cities. At one time no less than six were running day and night on Broadway.

Peddlers also hawked the paper marks about the streets, selling from one mark up. One enterprising distributor last fall sent a large crew of canvassers over the city, to call from door to door. Even the part-payment system was adopted, in some cases, and many persons today are paying out of their earnings, week by week, agreed sums which eventually will give them ownership of stipulated numbers of German marks.

Bait Too Attractive. The appeal of the traffic in German currency was directed at those familiar with Germany and her industrial and financial efficiency in pre-war days. With the mark selling at 5, 4, 3 or 2 cents, the point was made that the German government would soon be on its feet and that her financiers would quickly bring the mark back to 23.8 cents, its pre-war worth. The bait was attractive.

The bulk of the business in marks, of course, was done through the foreign exchange market. The transaction was simple, after reopening of the exchange market to Germany by the allies. An investor, or speculator, merely went to his banker and procured mark exchange, either securing the bank's voucher for so many marks, to be delivered at a future date, or ordered the transfer of so many marks to his account in a German banking institution.

Some bankers who have dealt heavily in German marks—both the actual currency and in the exchange, for speculation—assert that those who put their money into marks did not do so for a "quick turn," that they have faith in the future of Germany and her industrial and banking recovery and that the mark, ultimately, will return to a price at which they may reap a profit. Between the present quotation for the paper mark—less than 1 cent—and its 23.8 cent nominal value, however, stand the German printing presses, grinding away ceaselessly. Some figures on this tremendous increase in the circulation are timely.

Circulation Increases. Germany's payment of her Sept. 1 installment on reparations was coincident with a renewed outpouring of paper marks which raised the circulation of the reichsbank between Aug. 20 and Sept. 3, 1921, from 68,423,000,000 marks to 1,350,000,000 marks, an increase of 3,500,000,000 marks in two weeks. In the same period the reichsbank gold reserve was reduced from 1,091,543,000 to 1,023,708,000 marks. The gold reserve is microscopic.

But what can the investor in German marks do about it now, how can he make the best of what at present seems to be a bad bargain? In answer to this obvious question, the Times quotes an authority on mark exchange as suggesting that the remedy is for the investor to use his marks or marks credit to purchase German municipal bonds.

The German marks will fall; the increase will be greater than the shrinkage of the foreign exchange value of the German currency.—Literary Digest.

BABY FALLS INTO TROUGH AND DROWNS

FORT WORTH, Nov. 7.—The 17-months-old son of C. G. Bass of Polytchnic was drowned Sunday morning when he fell in a water trough at his home. The baby was playing in the yard near the trough, a barrel sawed in half and filled with water for stock. The other members of the Bass family were in the house and no one saw the baby fall in the water. After the body was discovered a pulmotor was used for thirty minutes without success.

COLDS AND GRIPPE YIELD TO CALOTABS OVER NIGHT

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of gripple, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—Advertisement.

POSITIONS THAT PAY WELL AND ARE ALWAYS TO BE HAD

The perfecting of typesetting keyboards has brought new and unusual opportunities in the printing business. The business that gives development to great minds.

Positions of this kind always have paid well and perhaps always will, and doubtless they will always be plentiful, because the printing business expands as civilization develops. Anybody who could learn to operate a typewriter can learn to operate a typesetting machine. If you want to learn how to do the work of a monotype machinist; if you want to learn to do the work of an intertype or a linotype machinist; if you want to learn to operate any of these machines; if you want to learn the work of the business office—if you want to get into a work that will always pay you well, and if you can spare three to four months for preparation, write for Prospectus to American Publishers' and Southern Publishers' TYPE-SETTING DEPARTMENT OF THE GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.—Adv.

OLD SEA DOGS, REDUCED IN RANK, CHEERFULLY "CARRY ON" AS TIDE OF WORLD'S COMMERCE FALLS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Four captains on one ship, each of them qualified by experience and license to navigate unlimited tonnage in any waters, but three of them serving as mates, is not an uncommon occurrence now, due to the low tide of world ocean commerce.

On a ship which recently sailed from New York for a round trip voyage to the West Indies, the master thereof had under him as mates two men whom he had formerly worked when conditions were reversed. His third mate, during the war, commanded an American ship which made numerous trips through the war zone carrying supplies for the American army in France.

Faithful in Service.

It is to the lasting credit of these American masters, ship owners say, that they accept reduced rank cheerfully and in their service they render a very high degree of allegiance and obedience to the officers temporarily above them. This applies not only to their periods of actual duty but to the traditional sea discipline when off watch.

The laying up of one ship after another until practically one-half of America's post-war fleet of commerce carriers has been relegated to a quiet anchorage, awaiting return of normalcy in world commerce, has put thousands of good American seamen "on the beach" as they term it. Officers suffer with the firemen and the sailors in the enforced idleness. Club rooms of association of officers are always well filled now by licensed men awaiting a possible opening on some ship. When a call for an officer comes in, it is tendered to the man understood to be most in need of work, and by him it is cheerfully accepted regardless of the rank it carries.

Few Are in Need.

The records show that but comparatively few are in actual financial distress through enforced idleness. A man who has reached the bridge through long years of hard work has generally learned to be thrifty and in the good years to lay aside something for the lean ones. Hundreds of American captains are now scattered all over the New England states doing a period of shore duty on farms which they purchased as a safe harbor in which to weather the stormy seas of old age. Generous to the last degree, these men keep track and aid their less fortunate associates.

Sailors, deck hands, fire room forces and stewards to the number of thousands are sharing with the officers the effect of the shipping depression. Many of them have been forced to depend on their unions and semi-charitable institutions for keep.

SUCH A HERO!

TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 7.—Having saved the lives of three young girls, or at least preserved them from serious injury, Jack Thompson, a young man from this city, permitted the trio to get away without ascertaining their names. The girls were excited and hysterical and remembered to tell their rescuer everything save who they were.

Thompson for his share of the enterprise sustained a badly fractured arm and severe bodily injuries which brought him to a hospital for surgical aid. He was hunting in the country when he observed a runaway horse drawing a buggy galloping and charging down the road, three maidens in the buggy letting the world know as they bowled along that they were not content with their situation.

At great personal risk Thompson effected the rescue, but not until the incident had left its painful marks upon him.

YOUR POSTURE DURING SLEEP MAY TWIST FACE

A young woman who has always bemoaned the fact that her eyes slant up and the corners of her mouth droop went to a beauty specialist to see if the fault could be remedied by massage.

"How do you sleep?" asked the specialist. "In what position?"

"Why," answered she in surprise, "on my side."

"With one hand under your cheek," added the beauty doctor. "Now I'll show you something."

She pulled a big couch in front of the pier glass and ordered: "Lie down on your side, facing that mirror. Put your head on the pillow and your hand as you usually do. Now look in the glass."

The girl looked and was astonished to see her cheek flattened out, forcing the outer corner of the eye up and the corner of her mouth down.

"See," said the specialist. "You have been giving yourself the equivalent of six or seven hours a day massage in the wrong direction. Now put your hand a little further back, under your ear. See, the fault is corrected."

And as to wrinkles. The number of ways that the hand under the cheek can make wrinkles is perfectly appalling. If you don't believe it lie down in front of a mirror and see for yourself.

Other examples of deformities produced in sleep are the very stooped individual who invariably sleeps like a letter C, and the woman who always sleeps her head a little to one side and holds on her side with a huge pillow. A certain man who always lies upon his right side has a nose that slopes ever so little to the left, though it is quite certain that he has never seen the connection between his nose and that bed.

However, Dr. Otto R. Eichel of the state department of health, says that from the standpoint of hygiene the man is correct in sleeping always on his right side. When we sleep upon our left side we contract the space in which the heart rests upon the aorta, which is bad for the circulation; the tongue falls back in the mouth, interferes with proper breathing and results in snoring. Sleeping upon the stomach also interferes, he says, with the heart action.

The best position is obtained by lying upon the right side, with the limbs comparatively straight and the head upon a low pillow.

As for himself, the doctor confessed to a superstitious fondness for always sleeping with his head to the north in line with the compass.—New York World.

TRAINMEN OFFICIALS LOSE REINSTATEMENT

HOUSTON, Nov. 7.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen general committee, comprising General Chairman R. D. Frame and local chairmen, J. G. Shepherd, N. K. Bigham, and G. C. Nellis, will not be reinstated or re-employed when striking trainmen are taken back by the International & Great Northern railroad, Nov. 25, James A. Baker, receiver for the road, declared.

"THRILLING SOUL KISSES" FIGURE IN HUSBAND'S SUIT FOR DIVORCE

How a wife, who entered into a loveless marriage, received her first love-kiss when "soul kisses" were bestowed upon her by "another man" was told in the New York supreme court when Joseph LeRoy Ferrotta, a consulting engineer, sued for absolute divorce from Anne Ferrotta, 23. Ferrotta named his own brother, Frank, a musician, as one of two co-respondents.

The Ferrottas are socially prominent in Montreal. Mrs. Ferrotta, who is now in Canada, did not defend the suit. Two diaries and letters written by Mrs. Ferrotta told of the "soul kiss thrills." Frank Ferrotta, her brother-in-law, was the bestower of the kisses, according to the letters submitted as evidence. The photo shows Mrs. Anne Ferrotta.

Under Sheriff Newell said last night he anticipated sporadic troubles to begin at any minute, but asserted "our men are on the job."

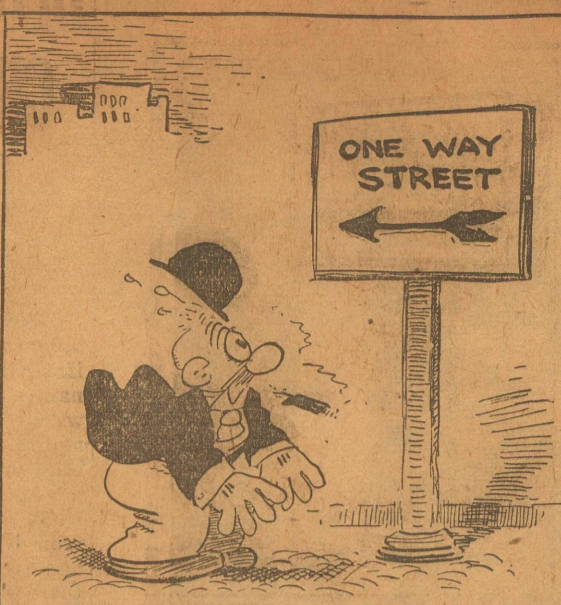

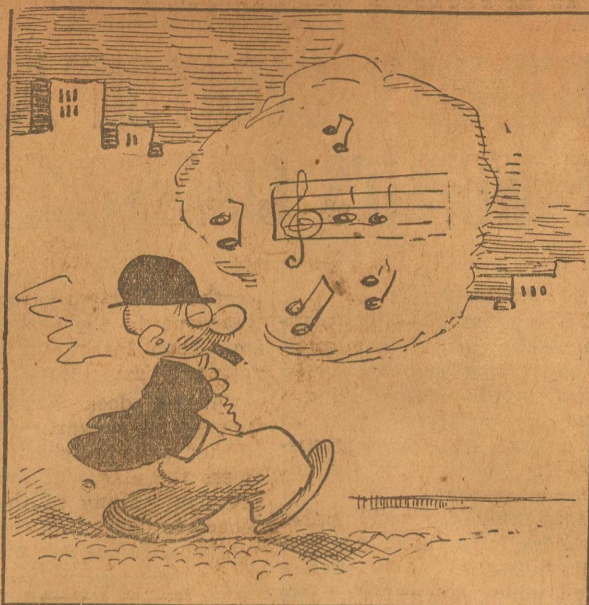

LEAVING OUT SWISHER COUNTY MAY KILL REDISTRICTING BILL

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—Despite all the efforts expended at the regular and two extra sessions of the Texas legislature to reappropriate the state into representative districts, that reappropriation may be declared unconstitutional if it comes to a test. Representative Claude B. Teer, of Williamson county, said while visiting the state capitol. A close examination of the bill as passed shows that Swisher county, in the Panhandle country, has been left without representation. This fact was overlooked in the rush and hurry of the second called session last August, when the legislators' objective was to finish up and get home after spending almost six weeks trying to pass the appropriation bills.

HOT FIGHT FOR NEW YORK MAYOR ENDS TOMORROW

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—New York's mayoralty campaign came to a whirlwind close today. Tomorrow, more than 1,250,000 voters will have the opportunity of going to the polls and casting their votes for one of eight candidates for mayor and other municipal officers:

The candidates for mayor are: Mayor John F. Hylan, Democrat, who seeks re-election; Major Henry H. Curran, Republican-Cohalition; Magistrate Jacob Panken, Socialist; Jerome de Hunt, Farmer-Labor; George K. Hinds, Prohibition; John P. Quinn, Socialist-Labor; Joseph D. Miller, Single Tax, and Benjamin Gitlow, Workers League (Communists).

Gitlow's name was ordered stricken from the ballot because he is serving a sentence in Sing Sing for anarchy. Officials of the Communist party, however, said his name would be written in the ballot.

The main battle, all observers agree, will be between Mayor Hylan and Major Curran. Both have conducted vigorous campaigns, in which the lie has been passed frequently. The mayor has charged his opponent with representing the "plunderbund," "the interests" and "the traction crowd." In denial, Major Curran has accused the mayor of gross inefficiency.

Of all the many issues, the subject most talked about has been the 5-cent fare on the traction lines. Mayor Hylan has claimed he prevented the fare from being raised. Major Curran, asserting that he too is for the nickel fare, has charged that the fare question isn't an issue, that it is a smoke screen fired by the mayor to cover up maladministration.

GOVERNOR WILL OPPOSE CONVICT SHIRT PLANT

AUSTIN, Nov. 7.—Governor Neff announced Saturday afternoon that he is opposed to the consummation of a contract between the penitentiary commission and the Reliance Manufacturing company of Chicago, which involved the establishment of a shirt factory at Huntsville penitentiary to be operated by convict labor. This announcement was made by Governor Neff in a communication to the prison commission. The attorney general's department has recently held that the prison commission had the authority under the law to establish such a plant for the manufacture of work shirts, aprons and children's play suits, and the manufacturing company to buy the finished product from the prison system.

PREPARED FOR TROUBLE IN CALIFORNIA OIL FIELDS

By Associated Press.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 7.—Broad preparations have been made to meet any trouble which may develop in the California oil fields as a result of what workers recently on strike term a lockout, developing when they returned to work last Thursday after a strike of more than six weeks.

Under Sheriff Newell said last night he anticipated sporadic troubles to begin at any minute, but asserted "our men are on the job."

SWISHER COUNTY MAY KILL REDISTRICTING BILL

By Associated Press.

Swisher county was in the One Hundred and Twenty-third representative district and is represented by Burke W. Mathis of Plainview, Hale county. The other counties of that district before reappropriation were Bailey, Lamb, Castro, Farmer, Deaf Smith, Randall and Armstrong. The committee on representative districts found that the population in those counties merited another representative and thus it was divided and in the division Swisher county was omitted.

The legislature passed the bill in one day, suspending the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three separate days. Mr. Teer was of the opinion that it would be unconstitutional as the constitution declares that every county shall have the representation to which it is entitled by population.

'JOHN THE BARBER' GETS WALLOPED WHILE OUT WITH HIS SISTER-IN-LAW

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—John Reiser, better known as "John the Barber," because he used to wield the scraping-tool and bean-mower before he got into the more profitable business of managing prize-fighters, in which he now shines, discovered early yesterday morning that not all walloping is done in the prize-ring, nor is it all paid for, nor is it all "a business."

John was on the receiving end of a trimming administered by his brother-in-law, Max Katz, in a lonely spot in Yonkers. It was "no business" at all. He didn't get a nickel for it.

At the same time a woman companion of his—his sister-in-law, Miss Bertie Katz—likewise received an artistic beating, partly from Max, her brother, and partly from Mrs. John Reiser, the "barber's" wife, who is incidentally her sister.

There was a bit of wild commotion at Ludlow street and South Broadway, a call for Yonkers cops, and a violent flow of conversation from every one involved. But no arrests were made. For, as the Yonkers gendarme who sized up the situation later said in his formal report, "This affair seemed to be a squabble between a party of New Yorkers, and I told them to take their troubles to court."

Had Warned Her Sister.

Mrs. Reiser didn't hesitate yesterday to tell what happened.

"For several years now John has been going around with my sister Bertie. She is 26 and a bookkeeper for the Fox Film corporation. I said to her many a time, 'Why don't you get yourself a young fellow, Bertie, and get married and leave my husband alone?' But she paid no attention, and kept running around with John. He spent a lot of money on her and gave me less and less. A year and a half ago he left his home here. For a while he kept on paying the rent, but lately he stopped that."

"Long ago I made up my mind that some night I would stop this foolish business. Last night my brother Max found that John had one of his fighters boxing at the Commonwealth club, and that he and Bertie were there. When the fights were over Max got a taxi for me, and we took my sons, Morris and Joe, along with us, and followed John and Bertie. They were riding in his machine with three men friends of his."

"They went to a cafe in the 50's, and after a while drove up to Yonkers. They saw they were followed, and about 1 o'clock they stopped. Max jumped out of the taxi and said to Bertie: 'What are you doing here? Get out of that man's machine!' But Bertie, the brazen thing, said: 'Who are you, anyhow? I never saw you in my life! Imagine that—to her own brother!'"

"John's three men friends all got out of the car and ran away, leaving him flat. Max pulled Bertie out of the car, and she got so fresh he hit her a couple of times. She was insulting to me, too, and I handed her a couple of punches."

Cop Refuses to Do Anything.

"Then Max and the boys got around John, and somebody—I don't know who, but John said it was Max—punched him. The cop came along (I don't know who sent for him, but I guess John's friends did), and John wanted somebody arrested; but the cop wouldn't do anything."

"What am I going to do? I haven't decided yet. I'm going to wait and see what my husband does. But I've got to be properly supported, and he must stop running around with my sister Bertie."

An alarm reached the Yonkers police headquarters at 1 o'clock that "there is a hold-up at Ludlow street and South Broadway," and Patrolman John Fogarty was sent there. The fuss had quieted down when he arrived, and, anyhow, it was none of Yonkers' business, since the Reisers and Katzes were all New Yorkers.

"John the Barber," he said, wanted Max Katz arrested for assault and pointed out some fist marks on his face, but even that didn't appeal to the Yonkers cop, who told him to tell their difficulties to a magistrate.

Johnnie, the barber's youngest son, Johnnie, is a professional scrapper. He wasn't with the late-night party, but it is awful to contemplate what might have happened had he too decided to shoot a few punches at Pop. The ex-torionist couldn't be found yesterday. But he couldn't have added much to the narrative anyway. He was only the guy that stopped the wallops.

FILM SMILES and so forth By Hi Speed

HOME WAS NEVER LIKE FILM TITLES HAVE IT

Daughter Pays "because 'wives,' foolish, discontented and otherwise, dominate 'A Man's Home' and neglect the children."

"When Youth Rebels" the family slipper can generally be relied upon to quiet the insurrection.

"Yesterday's Wife" is usually considering candidates for tomorrow's husband.

"The Woman Game" is safest when played in the silent drama.

It will be observed that "Society Snobs" like to see their name in newspapers read by the common people.

Dan Cupid will be disguised as Conway Tearle at "Love's Masquerade."

Thousands of people have been soaked because the stock they bought in movie projects was watered.

Owen Moore has discovered that a man is seldom called upon, these days, to apologize for stepping on the bottom of a girl's skirt.

"The Way of a Maid" is in sight upon having "Her Own Way."

"Everything for Sale" sounds like the wail of a man wearied from moving his household effects.

"One Wild Week with Bebe Daniels" is a movie sign less exciting than it reads.

"The Woman He Married" is beating her husband to the movies.

Making "Gas, Oil and Water" mix is the latest screen miracle.

Selznick News is one screen publication that cannot be "entered at the post office as second class matter." It's a first class explosive.

TEMPLE.

The story of "Experience," George Fitzmaurice's production of the famous allegorical play, which will be the feature attraction at the Temple theatre today and Tuesday, is a tale of Youth, a story as old as yesterday's ten thousand years, as new as tomorrow. Richard Barthelmess plays the leading role of Youth, while Marjorie Daw is Love.

Youth is happy in the rose-bowered cottage of his childhood until he meets with Ambition, who tells him of the city beyond with its wonderful opportunities. Then he leaves his mother with Hope and Love and goes forth to meet Experience. In the city Youth first encounters Pleasure. Dazzled by her brilliancy, he asks Opportunity to wait before they discuss his work, but Opportunity does not wait.

At the Primrose Path, Pleasure introduces Youth to Beauty, Wealth, Fashion, Intoxication and Temptation. All are interested in Youth and welcome him into their midst. While at home, Youth's mother dies, and the message that Love sends never reaches; so Love in despair goes in search of him. She is refused admittance to the Primrose Path and has to return home alone.

Youth fast loses his money and Chance directs him to a great gambling hall where he soon goes bankrupt. At the House of Last Resort, Youth applies for work. He is very near to the bottom and the dreags are a bitter draught. How he is finally regenerated and finds happiness with Love, brings this great story to a happy ending.

Indications point to a new high record for marriages in the United States this year, the number probably going as high as 1,500,000 by Dec. 1.
